

Introduction

About York University

York University, known for pioneering new directions in postsecondary education, is one of Canada's truly remarkable success stories. At York, faculty and students work together, focused on discovery, learning and ways of applying knowledge that will significantly enhance society's ability to meet the challenges of the future.

Since the University was founded in 1959, York faculty members have worked hard to ensure that they share their research findings with their students and the broader community.

Excellence in teaching, renowned academic scholarship and high quality research programs are three reasons why top scholars from across Canada and around the world study and work at York University.

York University is known for its interdisciplinary approach to research and scholarship. We are home to 20 research centres covering a wide spectrum of interests from Applied Sustainability, and Work and Society, to Earth and Space Science, and Refugee Studies.

York is a community of more than 3,000 full and part-time faculty, 1,800 staff, 40,000 undergraduate and graduate students and 150,000 alumni. The University graduates more than 7,000 student annually from the Faculties of Arts, Education, Environmental Studies, Fine Arts, Graduate Studies, Osgoode Hall Law School, Pure and Applied Science, Schulich School of Business, Atkinson and Glendon.

With its combination of dedicated and talented faculty, opportunities for bright and ambitious students, dynamic curriculum and modern campus set in the heart of one of North America's most influential urban centres, York University -- the University for the Future -- is setting the modern standard for academic excellence.

Important Notice

This Calendar is intended to assist readers to understand the academic and administrative structure and policies and procedures of the University, and to describe the academic programs offered. The material has been submitted by academic units and administrative departments. All general information and course references have been checked for accuracy, but there may be inconsistencies or errors. If you become aware of any, please bring these to the attention of the Registrar. York reserves the right to make changes in the information contained in the Calendar without prior notice.

Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the general information, rules and regulations contained in the Calendar, and with the specific information, rules and regulations of the faculty or faculties in which they are registered or enrolled or seek registration or enrolment, as well as the specific requirements of each degree, diploma or certificate sought. It is the student's responsibility to ensure that the courses chosen are appropriate to the program requirements.

Not every course listed in the Calendar will necessarily be offered in any academic year. York reserves the right to limit the number of students who enrol in any program or course. While reasonable efforts will be made to offer courses and classes as required within programs, admission to a program does not guarantee admission to any given course or class.

If there is an inconsistency between the general academic regulations and policies published in the Calendar and such regulations and policies as established by resolution of a Faculty or of the University Senate, the version of such material as it is established by the Faculty or the University Senate will prevail.

BY THE ACT OF REGISTRATION EACH STUDENT BECOMES BOUND BY THE POLICIES AND REGULATIONS OF YORK UNIVERSITY, INCLUDING THE FACULTY IN WHICH THE STUDENT IS REGISTERED.

York University disclaims all responsibility and liability for loss or damage suffered or incurred by any student or other party as a result of delays in or termination of its services, courses, or classes by reason of force majeure, fire, flood, riots, war, strikes, lock-outs, damage to university property, financial exigency, or other events beyond the reasonable control of the University.

York University disclaims any and all liability for damages arising as a result of errors, interruptions or disruptions to operations or connected with its operations or its campuses, arising out of computer failure or non compliance of its computing systems.
