Women's Studies

School of Women's Studies
Atkinson Coordinator: Ann B. Shteir

The School of Women's Studies offers a consolidated undergraduate program which brings together the women's studies programs from the Faculties of Arts, Atkinson and Glendon College. This merged undergraduate program provides students with increased flexibility and access to a greater number and variety of women's studies courses. Courses offered through the School of Women's Studies will count as in-Faculty courses for Atkinson, Arts, and Glendon students, and will be offered during the day and evening on both the Keele campus and the Glendon campus. Please consult the School of Women's Studies mini-calendar for further information, available at the school's main office, S711 Ross, 416-650-8144 (press 1).

The undergraduate women's studies curriculum is built around four different kinds of courses.

Required Courses

- AK/AS/GL/WMST 2500 6.00 or AK/AS/GL/WMST 2510 9.00: required for all women's studies majors;
- AK/AS/GL/WMST 4500 6.00: required for all women's studies majors in an Honours BA program.

Core Courses

The core courses are offered by the School of Women's Studies and, like the required courses, have the second digit five (5) in the course number, e.g. WMST 2500 6.00. Students are required to select between 12 and 24 credits of core courses depending on their degree program. Core courses cover themes deemed essential to women's studies and will explicitly aim to develop critical reading, writing and oral presentation skills, research skills and more advanced research and theoretical skills as appropriate to the course and year level. The required and core courses will:

- focus primarily on women;
- be taught from feminist perspectives;
- be interdisciplinary;
- address the intersections of race, ethnicity, disability, sexual identity and gender;
- acknowledge the different perspectives on women in a global context;

- explicitly identify the critical skills to be developed in the course.

Non-Core Courses

The School of Women's Studies will offer a small number of non-core courses designed to serve a narrower disciplinary focus than the core courses, meet a particular program need (e.g. independent study or special topics courses), or appeal to non-women's studies majors. These courses will have the second digit 8 in the course number, e.g. WMST 4802 3.00.

Courses Offered by Other Units

Courses offered by other teaching units may be accepted for program credit or cross-listed with the School of Women's Studies. These courses will count towards the major requirements in women's studies. Please consult the School of Women's Studies mini-calendar, available in the school's main office, S711 Ross Building, 416-650-8144 (press 1).

Program Requirements

Note: All courses mounted by the School of Women's Studies with a five (5) as the second digit (e.g. AK/AS/GL/WMST 2501 3.00) are considered core courses.

BA: 90 credits

Major: 30 credits

30 credits in women's studies including: AK/AS/GL/WMST 2500 6.00; at least 12 additional credits chosen from the list of core women's studies course offerings; 12 additional women's studies credits. Overall 18 women's studies credits must be taken at the 3000 or 4000 level.

BA (Specialized Honours): 120 credits

Major: 54 credits

54 credits in women's studies including: AK/AS/GL/WMST 2500 6.00; at least 24 additional credits from the core women's studies course offerings; six additional women's studies credits; at least 18 women's studies credits at the 4000 level including AK/AS/GL/WMST 4500 6.00.

BA (Combined Honours): 120 credits

Major: 60 credits

The Combined Honours degree consists of 60 credits in women's studies and one other discipline including: 42 credits in women's studies including AK/AS/GL/WMST 2500 6.00; at least 18 women's studies credits from the list of core women's studies courses; 12 women's studies credits at the 4000 level, including AK/AS/GL/WMST 4500 6.00; six additional women's studies credits; the remaining 18 credits must be in one other academic discipline including six credits at the 4000 level.

BA (General Honours) (Type A): 120 credits

Major: 66 credits

The General Honours degree consists of 42 credits in women's studies AK/AS/GL/WMST 2500 6.00; at least 18 additional women's studies credits from the list of core women's studies course offerings; 12 women's studies credits at the 4000 level including, AK/AS/GL/WMST 4500 6.00; six additional women's studies credits; the remaining 24 credits, including six credits at the 4000 level, must be in related academic disciplines approved by the undergraduate director of Women's Studies.

Please see the General Certificate Requirements section for information concerning the Certificate in Women's Studies and Certificate in Women's Studies: Theory and Practice.

Programs of Study – Bachelor of Human Resources Management Degree (BHRM)

School of Administrative Studies Coordinator: Steve McKenna

Program Requirements

Note 1: The Human Resources Professionals Association of Ontario (HRPAO) requires AK/ADMS 1500 3.00 or both AK/ADMS 2500 3.00 and AK/ADMS 2510 3.00 in order to be approved as having met the academic requirements for the Certified Human Resources Professional (CHRP).

Note 2: Under the current certification system, which will end in 2004, to get credit for a course towards CHRP, HRPAO requires a minimum grade of 70 per cent, except in finance and accounting, where the minimum is 60 per cent. Under the new certification process, HRPAO requires an average of 70 per cent with the lowest acceptable grade in any required course of 65 per cent.

Note 3: AK/MATH 1710 6.00 (general education course) is required for those students who have not completed prior to admission (new high school curriculum) a grade 12U mathematics course; or, (old high school curriculum) an OAC mathematics course; or equivalent. Students who require AK/MATH 1710 6.00 should complete Atkinson's general education requirements. Students who have been excused from taking AK/MATH 1710 6.00 and wish to follow Atkinson's general education requirements, must replace the course with a six-credit, 1000-level general education modes of reasoning to fulfill Atkinson's general education.

BHRM: 90 credits

1. At least 90 credits including:

(a) General Education: 24 general education credits (see General Education Requirements in the Degree Requirements section).

(b) Major (program core): 48 credits in total, as follows:

- AK/ADMS 1000 3.00*; AK/ADMS 1500 3.00; AK/ADMS 2400 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/PSYC 3570 3.00 (formerly AK/AS/SC/PSYC 3230 3.00); AK/ADMS 2600 3.00 (formerly AK/ADMS 3480 3.00); AK/ADMS 3400 3.00; AK/ADMS 3410 3.00; AK/ADMS 3420 3.00; AK/ADMS 3422 3.00; AK/ADMS 3430 3.00; AK/ADMS 3440 3.00; AK/ADMS 3450 3.00; AK/ADMS 3470 3.00; AK/ADMS 3490 3.00; AK/ECON 3610 3.00** or AS/ECON 3240 3.00.
- At least six credits, (included within the 48 required courses) at the 3000 level from the following courses: AK/ADMS 3120 3.00; AK/ADMS 3320 3.00***; AK/ADMS 3330 3.00***; AK/ECON 3590 3.00; AK/ECON 3600 3.00 or AS/SOSC 3240 3.00; AK/ECON 3620 3.00; AK/ECON 3790 6.00 or AS/SOSC 3190 6.00; AK/HIST 3250 6.00; AK/PHIL 3560 3.00; AK/PHIL 3570 3.00; AK/POLS 3740 6.00; AK/POLS 3761 3.00; AK/POLS 3762 3.00; AK/AS/SC/PSYC 3140 3.00 (formerly AK/PSYC 3215 3.00); AK/AS/SC/PSYC 3410 3.00 (formerly AK/PSYC 3245 3.00); AK/AS/SC/PSYC 3430 3.00; AK/AS/SC/PSYC 3540 3.00; AK/AS/SC/PSYC 3620 3.00 (formerly AK/PSYC 3700G 3.00); AS/SOCI 3610 3.00; AS/SOCI 3620 6.00; AK/SOCI 3860 6.00; AS/SOSC 3210 6.00; AK/SOSC 3300 6.00; AS/SOSC 3311 6.00; AK/SOSC 3350 6.00; AK/SOSC 3380 6.00 or AK/AS/GL/WMST 3510 6.00 or AS/SOSC 3130 6.00; AS/SOSC 3380 6.00; AK/SOSC 3410 6.00; AK/SOSC 3460 6.00; AK/SOSC 3680 6.00.

* Students who have a prior degree in business related programs AK/ADMS 1000 3.00 is waived for program and prerequisite requirements for administrative studies courses and must be replaced from the list of courses above.

*** On management science courses: AK/ADMS 3320 3.00 is not open to students who have taken AK/MATH 2720 3.00, AK/MATH 1720 6.00, AK/ECON 3470 3.00. Students who have completed AK/MATH 1720 6.00 should replace AK/ADMS 3320 3.00 by another three credit 3000-level or 4000-level administrative studies course. AK/AS/SC/MATH 2570 3.00 is equivalent to AK/ADMS 3320 3.00; AK/MATH 2730 3.00 (cross-listed to:

AK/ADMS 3330 3.00). Students are advised when choosing management science courses to consult individual course prerequisites and Honours options. (Students are also advised that only six credits in this area will count in the bachelor of administrative studies (Honours) degree.)

(c) Required courses outside the major program core: 18 credits, including

- AK/AS/SC/PSYC 1010 6.00 (formerly AK/PSYC 2410 6.00); AK/SOCI 2410 and six credits "free choice" that must be taken outside the major program core.

Note: As the BHRM is interdisciplinary, drawing courses from many disciplines, no electives are required.

2. Upper Level Requirements: The above 90 credits required for the degree must include at least 30 credits at the 3000 level or above.

3. Residency Requirement: At least 30 credits not used toward another academic program are to be taken at York University. Half the major credits must be taken through Atkinson.

4. Graduation: Students must successfully complete the above required 90 credits with a minimum overall cumulative grade point average of 5.0 with a major grade point average of 5.0.

BHRM (Honours): 120 credits

1. At least 120 credits including:

(a) General Education: 24 general education credits (see General Education Requirements in the Degree Requirement section).

(b) Major (program core): 66 credits in total including 18 credits at the 4000 level, as follows: the same 48 major credits (program core) as required in the BHRM 90-credit program (see above), plus the following courses:

- AK/ADMS 3320 3.00*; AK/ADMS 3330 3.00*; AK/ADMS 4470 3.00; AK/ADMS 4410 3.00; AK/ADMS 4430 3.00; AK/ADMS 4460 3.00 or AS/SOSC 4315 6.00.

* On management science courses: AK/ADMS 3320 3.00 is not open to students who have taken AK/MATH 2720 3.00, AK/MATH 1720 6.00, AK/ECON 3470 3.00. Students who have completed AK/MATH 1720 6.00 should replace AK/ADMS 3320 3.00 by another three credit 3000-level or 4000-level administrative studies course. AK/AS/SC/MATH 2570 3.00 is equivalent to AK/ADMS 3320 3.00; AK/MATH 2730 3.00 (cross-listed to: AK/ADMS 3330 3.00). Students are advised when choosing management science courses to consult individual course prerequisites and Honours options. (Students are also advised that only six credits in this area will count in the bachelor of administrative studies (Honours) degree.)

(c) Required courses outside the major program core:

- AK/AS/SC/PSYC 1010 6.00 (formerly AK/PSYC 2410 6.00); AK/SOCI 2410 6.00; AK/ADMS 4010 3.00; AK/ADMS 4420 3.00; AK/ADMS 4440 3.00.
- Students may choose the remaining nine credits from the courses listed under the major electives at the 3000 level or above for the BHRM 90 credit program except for AK/ADMS 3320 3.00 Quantitative Methods and AK/ADMS 3330 3.00 Quantitative Methods II (see above), plus the following courses: AK/ADMS 4050 3.00; AK/ADMS 4760 3.00; AK/ECON 4030 3.00; AK/ECON 4090 3.00; AK/ECON 4160 3.00; AK/NURS 4770 3.00; AK/AS/SC/PSYC 4020 3.00 (formerly AK/PSYC 4110 3.00); AK/AS/SC/PSYC 4030 3.00; AK/AS/SC/PSYC 4060 3.00 (formerly AK/PSYC 4210 3.00); AK/AS/SC/PSYC 4230 3.00; AS/SOSC 4210 6.00.

2. Upper Level Requirements: Of the 120 credits required, at least 30 credits must be completed at the 3000 level and 18 credits in the major at the 4000 level.

3. Residency Requirement: At least 30 credits not used toward another academic program are to be taken at York University. Half the major credits must be taken through Atkinson.

4. Graduation: Students must successfully complete the above required 120 credits with a minimum overall cumulative grade point average of 5.0 with a major grade point average of 5.5.

Programs of Study – Bachelor of Health Studies Degree (BHS)

School of Health Policy and Management
Contact: Dennis Raphael

Program Requirements

The school aims to provide co-op placement to suitably qualified students in a health related field during the summer session (May – August). Students who wish to pursue the co-op option must contact the co-op coordinator for further details and deadlines for applications.

AK/MATH 1710 6.00 is required as a general education course for those students who have not completed prior to admission, (new high school curriculum) a grade 12U mathematics course; or, (old high school curriculum) an OAC mathematics course; or equivalent. Students who have been excused from taking MATH 1710 6.00 must replace the course with another 1000-level general education mathematics or modes of reasoning course to fulfill the general education requirement.

BHS (Specialized Honours): 120 credits

1. At least 120 credits including:

(a) General Education: 24 general education credits (see General Education Requirements in the Degree Requirement section).

Note 1: For the Specialized Honours bachelor of health studies degree, the modes of reasoning/mathematics requirement must be satisfied by completion of AK/MATH 1710 6.00 for those students who have not completed (new high school curriculum) a grade 12 mathematics course or (old high school curriculum) an OAC mathematics course or equivalent.

Note 2: Faculty of Arts 9.00 credit 1000-level foundations courses count as 6.00 credits towards fulfilling Faculty general education requirements, and 3.00 credits as elective.

(b) Electives (21 credits): Students may choose their elective courses from the list of allied health related courses listed below or any other courses offered at York University.

(c) Major: 75 credits as described below.

2. Upper Level Requirements: Of the 120 credits a minimum of 36 credits must be taken at the 3000 level or above including at least 18 credits at the 4000 level.

3. Residency Requirement: At least 30 credits not used toward another academic program are to be taken at York University. Half the major credits must be taken through Atkinson.

4. Graduation: Students must successfully complete the above required 120 credits with a minimum overall cumulative grade point average of 5.0.

Major: 75 credits including the following:

School of Health Policy and Management Core Courses

- 45 credits
- AK/ECON 1000 3.00, AK/HLST 1000 6.00 or AK/HLST 1010 3.00 and AK/HLST 1011 3.00, AK/HLST 2020 3.00, AK/HLST 2030 3.00, AK/HLST 2040 3.00, AK/ADMS 2300 6.00, AK/HLST 3010 3.00, AK/HLST 3011 3.00, AK/NURS 3500 3.00 or AK/ADMS 3720 3.00, AK/ECON 3510 3.00, AK/NURS 3740 3.00, AK/ADMS 4740 3.00 or AK/HLST 4000 3.00, AK/HLST 4010 3.00.

Required courses in one of the majors (i, ii, or iii) listed below:

Health Policy Major (30 credits)

- AK/HLST 3015 3.00

The above courses have prerequisites.

Programs of Study – Bachelor of Science Degrees (BSc)

Note: Atkinson offers a bachelor of science degree in the following areas: computer science, general science, mathematics and psychology. Biology, chemistry and physics are offered only in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science and students should consult the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science section for program/course details.

BSc:

1. At least 90 credits including:

(a) General Education:

Computer Science Majors:

- (i) six credits from each of humanities and social science at the 1000 level.
- (ii) AK/MATH 1710 6.00 (or equivalent).
- (iii) The natural science requirement will be satisfied by taking one of SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 or SC/BIOL 1410 6.00, SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, SC/EATS 1010 3.00 and SC/EATS 1011 3.00, SC/PHYS 1010 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1410 6.00.

General Science Majors:

- (i) six credits from each of humanities and social science at the 1000 level.
- (ii) AK/MATH 1710 6.00 (or equivalent).
- (iii) To meet the natural science requirement students must take six credits from the following: SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 or SC/BIOL 1410 6.00.

Mathematics Majors:

- (i) six credits from each of humanities and social science at the 1000 level.
- (ii) AK/MATH 1710 6.00 (or equivalent).
- (iii) The natural science requirement will be satisfied by taking one of SC/BIOL 1010 6.00/SC/BIOL 1410 6.00, SC/CHEM 1000

3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, SC/EATS 1010 3.00 and SC/EATS 1011 3.00, SC/PHYS 1010 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1410 6.00.

Psychology Majors:

- (i) six credits from each of humanities and social science at the 1000 level.
- (ii) AK/MATH 1710 6.00 (or equivalent).
- (iii) The natural science requirement will be satisfied by taking SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 or SC/BIOL 1410 6.00.

(b) Electives:

Required Mathematics Courses

Computer Science Majors:

- AK/AS/SC/MATH 1019 3.00/AK/AS/SC/COSC 1019 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 1090 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 1300 3.00 and AK/AS/SC/MATH 1310 3.00 and AK/AS/SC MATH 2090 3.00.

General Science and Psychology Majors:

- AK/AS/SC/MATH 1300 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 1310 3.00.

Required Science Courses

Computer Science Majors:

- six credits from SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 or SC/BIOL 1410 6.00, SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, SC/EATS 1010 3.00 and SC/EATS 1011 3.00, SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 (preferred) or SC/PHYS 1010 6.00;
- at least three additional credits from 1000-level science courses (excluding SC/CHEM 1500 4.00; AS/SC MATH 1510 6.00; AS/SC MATH 1515 3.00; SC/PHYS 1510 4.00; and all natural science courses);
- at least six additional credits in science at the 2000 level or above.

General Science and Psychology Majors:

- SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00 and SC/PHYS 1010 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1410 6.00.

Mathematics Majors:

- six credits from SC/BIOL 1010 6.00, SC/BIOL 1410 6.00, SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, SC/EATS 1010 3.00 and SC/EATS 1011 3.00 SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 (preferred) or SC/PHYS 1010 6.00;
- at least three additional credits from SC/BIOL 1010 6.00, SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 or SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, SC/EATS 1010 3.00, SC/EATS 1011 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 1020 3.00, SC/PHYS 1070 3.00, SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 (preferred) or SC/PHYS 1010 6.00;
- at least six additional credits in science at the 2000 level or higher.

(c) Major: Please refer to individual programs below.

2. Upper Level Requirements:

Computer Science and Psychology: Of the 90 credits at least 18 credits at the 3000 level or above.

General Science: Of the 90 credits at least 24 credits at the 3000 level or above.

Mathematics: Of the 90 credits at least 12 credits at the 3000 level or above.

3. Residency Requirement: At least 30 credits not used toward another academic program are to be taken at York University. Half the major credits must be taken through Atkinson.

4. Graduation: Students must successfully complete the above required 90 credits with a minimum overall cumulative grade point average of 4.0.

BSc (Honours):1. At least 120 credits including:(a) General Education:

Computer Science Majors:

- (i) six credits from each of humanities and social science at the 1000 level.
- (ii) AK/MATH 1710 6.00 (or equivalent).
- (iii) The natural science requirement will be satisfied by taking one of SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 or SC/BIOL 1410 6.00, SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, SC/EATS 1010 3.00 and SC/EATS 1011 3.00, SC/PHYS 1010 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1410 6.00.

Mathematics Majors:

- (i) six credits from each of humanities and social science at the 1000 level.
- (ii) AK/MATH 1710 6.00 (or equivalent).
- (iii) To meet the natural science requirement students must take six credits from the following: SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 or SC/BIOL 1410 6.00; SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00; SC/EATS 1010 3.00 and SC/EATS 1011 3.00; SC/PHYS 1010 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 (preferred).

(b) Electives:*Required Mathematics Courses

Mathematics Majors:

- AK/AS/SC/MATH 1019 3.00/AK/AS/SC/COSC 1019 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 1090 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 1300 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 1310 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 2030 3.00.

Required Science Courses

Computer Science Majors:

- at least three additional credits from 1000 level science courses (excluding SC/CHEM 1500 4.00; AS/SC/MATH 1510 6.00; AS/SC/MATH 1515 3.00; SC/PHYS 1510 4.00; and all natural science courses).
- at least six additional credits in science at the 2000 level or above.

Mathematics Majors:

- at least three additional credits from SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 or SC/BIOL 1410 6.00; SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 1020 3.00; SC/EATS 1010 3.00 and SC/EATS 1011 3.00; SC/PHYS 1070 3.00; SC/PHYS 1010 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 (preferred).
- at least six additional credits in science at the 2000 level or above.

Mathematics: Of the 120 credits at least 24 credits must be at the 3000 level or above and at least 12 credits at the 4000 level.

3. Residency Requirement: At least 30 credits not used toward another academic program are to be taken at York University. Half the major credits must be taken through Atkinson.

4. Graduation: Students must successfully complete the above required minimum 120 credits with a minimum overall cumulative grade point average of 5.0.

Computer Science*Department of Computer Science and Engineering

Contact: George Turlakis

Prerequisites for the first course in the computer science major: One of (1) – (4) must be met:

1. (New high school curriculum): Advanced functions and introduction to calculus, and geometry and discrete mathematics, with a minimum mathematics average of 75 per cent and no mathematics grade below 65 per cent.
2. (Old high school curriculum): OAC calculus and one other OAC mathematics (normally finite mathematics or algebra and geometry) with an average grade of at least 75 per cent in all OAC mathematics and no grade less than 65 per cent.
3. Completion of six credits from York University mathematics courses (not including AK/MATH 1710 6.00 or courses with second digit 5) or equivalent with a grade of 5.0 (C+) or better over these credits.
4. Completion of AK/MATH 1710 6.00, or six credits from York University mathematics courses whose second digit is 5, with an average grade not below 7.0 (B+).

A maximum of three 2000-, 3000- or 4000-level computer science courses in one term is permitted. In the summer term students are not permitted to take more than six credits in computer science. If any student enrolls in more than the allowed number of courses per term they will be removed from whichever courses the department requires the space. The department also reserves the right to move students from a course in one term to the same course in the next term should such steps be necessary to ensure equitable access to courses. This includes movement from fall to winter or winter to summer.

All degree candidates must also satisfy the general education, elective, and upper-level course requirements of Atkinson, as described.

Program Requirements

AK/MATH 1710 6.00 is required to fulfill the general education requirement. Refer to AK/MATH 1710 6.00 course description notes for further details.

The department general prerequisite cumulative grade point average over all computer science courses must be met to proceed in the program. All 2000 level and above computer science courses have general prerequisite requirements that must be met before proceeding to the next level of study. Please refer to the departmental supplementary calendar for further program details.

2000-Level Courses

General Prerequisites. All 2000-level computer science courses require the following general prerequisites:

- AK/AS/SC/COSC 1030 3.00 with a grade of at least C+, AK/AS/SC/MATH 1019 3.00.

3000-Level Courses

General Prerequisites. Most 3000-level computer science courses require the following general prerequisites, in addition to or including any specifically stated in the course outlines.

- AK/AS/SC/COSC 2011 3.00 at least one of AK/AS/SC/COSC 2001 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 2021 4.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 2031 3.00;
- a cumulative grade point average of 4.5 or better over all completed computer science courses;
- AK/AS/SC/MATH 1300 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 1310 3.00;
- at least one of AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/MATH 1090 3.00.

4000-Level Courses

General Prerequisites. All 4000-level computer science courses require the following general prerequisites, in addition to or including any specifically stated in the course outlines:

- AK/AS/SC/COSC 2001 3.00;
- AK/AS/SC/COSC 2011 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 2021 4.00;
- AK/AS/SC/COSC 2031 3.00;

- AK/AS/SC/MATH 1090 3.00;
- at least 12 credits in computer science at the 3000 level;
- a cumulative grade point average of 4.5 or better over all completed computer science courses.

BSc: 90 credits

Major: 36 credits including:

AK/AS/SC/COSC 1020 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 1030 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 2001 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 2011 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 2021 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 2031 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 3101 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 3221 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 3311 3.00; three credits from courses with second digit 4 (i.e. applications area), and at least six additional credits at the 3000 level.

BSc (Honours): 120 credits minimum (depending on choice of electives, students may be required to complete 122 credits)

Honours degree candidates must complete at least 30 credits which are neither computer science nor mathematics. All degree candidates must also satisfy the general education, elective, upper-level and science course requirements of Atkinson, as described.

Major: 56 credits including:

AK/AS/SC/COSC 1020 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 1030 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 2001 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 2011 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 2021 4.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 2031 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 3002 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 3101 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 3221 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 3311 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 3401 3.00; and at least six additional computer science credits at the 3000 level; AK/AS/SC/COSC 4101 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 4111 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 4115 3.00; nine more computer science credits at the 4000 level; six more computer science credits at either the 3000 or 4000 level.

General Science

School of Analytic Studies and Information Technology
Contact: Ernst Hamm

Program Requirements

AK/MATH 1710 6.00 is required to fulfill the general education requirement. Refer to AK/MATH 1710 6.00 course description notes for further details.

BSc: 90 credits

Major: 48 credits including:

- AK/STS 1010 6.00; AK/STS 2010 6.00;
- 18 credits in science and technology studies at the 3000 level;
- at least 18 credits in two other areas of science. Additional science courses will be taken in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science, or with the approval of the science and technology studies coordinator, in science-related departments of Atkinson.

Please note: All science courses (SC) are offered by the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science.

Mathematics

School of Analytic Studies and Information Technology
Contact: Augustine Wong

Program Requirements

AK/MATH 1710 6.00 is a prerequisite and is required to fulfill the general education requirement. Refer to AK/MATH 1710 6.00 course description notes for further details.

Note 1: Students may also take computer science courses AK/AS/SC/COSC 3121 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 3122 3.00 and AK/AS/SC/COSC 4111 3.00 as major courses in mathematics.

Note 2: Of the 1000 level AK/MATH courses, only AK/MATH 1700 6.00, AK/MATH 1710 6.00 and AK/MATH 1720 6.00 fulfill the general education requirement for mathematics.

Note 3: Students who do not intend to take 2000 level physics courses and/or who do not have any of the OAC calculus or the sequence AK/AS/SC/MATH 1300 3.00 and AK/AS/SC/MATH 1310 3.00, but have taken or are taking AK/MATH 1710 6.00 should take SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 instead of SC/PHYS 1010 6.00.

BSc: 90 credits

Major: 36 credits including:

AK/AS/SC/MATH 1090 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/MATH 1190 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 1300 3.00 and AK/AS/SC/MATH 1310 3.00 or equivalent; AK/AS/SC/MATH 1021 3.00 and AK/AS/SC/MATH 2022 3.00 or equivalent; AK/AS/SC/MATH 2310 3.00 or equivalent; and at least 18 credits in mathematics of which at least 12 must be at the 3000 level or higher.

BSc (Specialized Honours): 120 credits

Major: 66 credits including:

AK/AS/SC/MATH 1090 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/MATH 1190 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 1300 3.00 and AK/AS/SC/MATH 1310 3.00 or equivalent; AK/AS/SC/MATH 1021 3.00 and AK/AS/SC/MATH 2022 3.00 or equivalent; AK/AS/SC/MATH 3010 3.00; six credits chosen from AK/AS/SC/MATH 3210 3.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 3020 6.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 3050 6.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 3190 3.00; 30 additional credits in mathematics; at least 12 credits in mathematics at the 4000 level of which six credits must be chosen from AK/AS/SC/MATH 4010 6.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 4080 6.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 4210 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/MATH 4290 3.00.

Psychology

Department of Psychology
Contact: Ron Okada

Students may choose to major in psychology as part of the requirements for the BA or the BSc degree. The main difference between these two degrees is that for the BSc degree, students must take elective courses in mathematics and the physical sciences. Courses taken for either degree are fully compatible with the requirements for the BA (Honours) degree.

Admission to all 2000, 3000, and 4000 level courses in psychology (with the exception of AK/AS/SC/PSYC 2020 6.00, AK/AS/SC/PSYC 2021 3.00, and AK/AS/SC/PSYC 2022 3.00) is conditional upon satisfactory completion of AK/AS/SC/PSYC 1010 6.00.

Students must obtain a minimum grade of C (4.0) in AK/AS/SC/PSYC 1010 6.00 to be permitted to continue as a major in psychology, as well as to take any further psychology courses for which AK/AS/SC/PSYC 1010 6.00 is a prerequisite.

Under exceptional circumstances, non-majors who have not obtained a minimum grade of C (4.0) in AK/AS/SC/PSYC 1010 6.00 may apply for special consideration to enrol in an upper-level psychology course for which AK/AS/SC/PSYC 1010 6.00 is a prerequisite. This application should be made to the psychology undergraduate program director in the Faculty offering the course.

Program Requirements

AK/MATH 1710 6.00 is a prerequisite and is required to fulfill the general education requirement. Refer to AK/MATH 1710 6.00 course description notes for further details.

BSc: 90 credits

Major: 30 credits including:

- AK/AS/SC/PSYC 1010 6.00 (with a minimum grade of C);
- AK/AS/SC/PSYC 2021 3.00, AK/AS/SC/PSYC 2030 3.00;

- 18 credits in psychology at the 2000/3000 level, including: (i) at least six credits chosen from the AK/AS/SC/PSYC 2100/3100 3.00 series; and (ii) at least six credits chosen from the AK/AS/SC/PSYC 2200/3200 3.00 series;
- at least 12 credits in the major must be at the 3000 level or above.

Programs of Study – Bachelor of Science in Nursing Degree (BScN)

School of Nursing

Undergraduate Program Directors:

Collaborative Program - Eleanor Pask

Post-RN Program - Sue Coffey

There are two routes to the bachelor of science in nursing honours degree: to become a registered nurse or for registered nurses to earn a degree. The bachelor of science in nursing program is offered in two distinct streams. The School of Nursing also offers two certificates: Health Informatics and Primary Health Care Nurse Practitioner.

The BScN (Honours) program focuses on the development of the theoretical, scientific and philosophical knowledge of human caring. The role of nurses, through caring relationships, in promoting and preserving health and healing is emphasized through both theory and self-reflective practice. Graduates will be prepared to practise collaboratively in a variety of settings to enhance individual, family, community and global health.

1. Collaborative BScN Program. This program is for entering the nursing profession. In collaboration with Seneca and Georgian Colleges of Applied Arts and Technology, the first two years of the integrated four-year curriculum are completed at one of the College partners and the last two years are completed at York. For further information, applicants may obtain information from the School of Nursing (York) 416-736-5271, or the Nursing Programs at Seneca College 416-491-5050 ext. 5013, Georgian College 705-728-1968 ext. 1448.

2. Post-RN BScN Program. This program is for Registered Nurses. Information about the BScN program may be obtained from the School of Nursing 416-736-5271 or from the Office of Admissions at 416-736-5000.

3. Health Informatics Certificate. This certificate is open to students who have a health-related college diploma or university degree. Students enrolled in the BScN degree may take the Health Informatics Certificate concurrently. Information can be obtained from the School of Nursing at 416-736-5271.

4. Primary Health Care Nurse Practitioner Certificate. A Primary Care Nurse Practitioner Certificate is also available for Registered Nurses holding a completed baccalaureate degree in nursing or may be completed concurrently with BScN Integrated. This certificate may be taken on a full-time or part-time basis. Information can be obtained from the School of Nursing at 416-736-5271. Please see the Web site: <http://np-education.ca>.

Entry Procedures:

A Supplementary Admission Information Form is mandatory for application to the post-RN nursing program at York.

Collaborative BScN Entry Procedures

1. For applicants to the collaborative program with one of York's two college partners (Seneca and Georgian Colleges), first apply to the Ontario College Application Services (OCAS) via <http://www.ocas.on.ca>.
2. Submit your official transcripts to OCAS.
3. If required, submit your language proficiency test results to OCAS.
4. Visit <http://www.yorku.ca/admissio/index.asp> for detailed information and admission requirements.

Post-RN BScN Entry Procedures

For Post-RN applicants, the self-managed supplementary admission information form is to be completed and submitted in addition to applying to York University. It is available from the Office of Admissions, or the York Web site at <http://www.yorku.ca/admissio/index.asp>.

Entry procedures include the following academic and professional criteria:

1. Current Certificate of Competence as a Registered Nurse from the College of Nurses of Ontario.
2. An overall grade point average of 3.0 (B) from a community college (or equivalent) program for graduation dates within 10 years of application, OR an overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) from a community college or hospital school of nursing (or equivalent) program for graduation dates longer than 10 years prior to application.
3. Applicants must submit: a resume, a personal statement that addresses beliefs about nursing, current practice and professional goals. See self-managed supplementary admission information form.
4. Two letters of reference. See self-managed supplementary admission information form.
5. A personal interview may be required.

Post-RN BScN Integrated Primary Health Care Nurse Practitioner Entry Procedures

Students must satisfy entry procedures for the post-RN BScN (as noted above) and the Integrated Primary Health Care Nurse Practitioner Certificate program as outlined on <http://np-education.ca>.

Program Requirements

Collaborative BScN Program Requirements

1. BScN: 120 credits including:

(a) 60 credits for successful completion of the first two years of the program at an approved collaborative program partner College of Applied Arts and Technology.

(b) Major Requirements:

51 credits including:

(i) AK/NURS 2300 3.00; AK/NURS 3000 3.00; AK/NURS 3040 3.00; AK/NURS 3300 3.00; AK/NURS 3400 3.00; AK/NURS 3410 3.00; AK/NURS 4000 3.00; AK/NURS 4100 3.00; AK/NURS 4110 9.00; AK/NURS 4120 6.00; AK/NURS 4130 6.00; and

(ii) six nursing credits at the 3000 level or higher.

(c) Elective Requirements:

Nine credits including:

(i) nine credits outside nursing at the 3000 level or higher.

2. Upper Level Courses: The above courses must include 57 credits at the 3000 level, or above, with at least 27 at the 4000 level:

(i) 30 credits at the 3000 level (maximum), and

(ii) at least 27 credits at the 4000 level.

3. AK/NURS 4120 6.00 and AK/NURS 4130 6.00 have a practicum component which is graded as: "pass", "fail". The grade of "pass" must be achieved for the practicum component in order to receive a grade for the theoretical component of the course. If the grade for the practicum component is "fail" then the overall final course grade is "F".

4. Students in the nursing practicum course AK/NURS 4110 9.00 do not receive a course grade in the manner described above. Course work is graded as: "pass/fail". Successful completion of the practicum component as indicated by achieving a "pass" grade is a requirement in the BScN program.

5. Residency Requirement: At least 30 credits not used toward another academic program are to be taken at York University. Half the major credits must be taken through Atkinson.

6. Graduation: A cumulative grade point average of 5.0 and a major grade point average of 6.0 (B), including a minimum grade of C (4.0) in all courses used in the major.

Post-RN BScN Program Requirements

1. Post-RN BScN: 120 credits including:

(a) 60 transfer credits for current Certificate of Competence as a Registered Nurse from the College of Nurses of Ontario.

39 credits including:

AK/NURS 2300 3.00; AK/NURS 2730 3.00; AK/NURS 3010 3.00; AK/NURS 3020 3.00 or AK/NURS 3730 3.00 (with permission); AK/NURS 3130 3.00; AK/NURS 3300 3.00; AK/NURS 3400 3.00; AK/NURS 3770 3.00 or AK/NURS 3720 3.00; AK/NURS 4100 3.00 or AK/NURS 4710 3.00 or AK/NURS 4750 3.00; AK/NURS 4140 6.00 and AK/NURS 4150 6.00;

(c) Elective Requirements:

- (i) 21 credits including:
- (ii) six credits outside nursing at the 3000 level or higher,
- (iii) six credits inside or outside nursing at the 3000 level or higher, and
- (iv) nine credits inside or outside nursing at the 4000 level.

2. Upper Level Courses: The courses above must include 54 credits at the 3000 level or above with at least 24 at the 4000 level:

- (i) 30 credits at the 3000 level (maximum), and
- (ii) at least 24 credits at the 4000 level.

3. AK/NURS 4140 6.00 has a practicum component which is graded as: “pass”/“fail”. The grade of “pass” must be achieved for the practicum component in order to receive a grade for the theoretical component of the course. If the grade for the practicum component is “fail” then the overall final course grade is “F”.

4. Students in the nursing practicum course AK/NURS 4150 6.00 do not receive a course grade in the manner described above. Course work is graded as: “pass/fail”. Successful completion of the practicum component as indicated by achieving a “pass” grade is a requirement in the BScN program.

5. Residency Requirement: At least 30 credits not used toward another academic program are to be taken at York University. Half the major credits must be taken through Atkinson.

6. Graduation: A cumulative grade point average of 5.0 and a major grade point average of 6.0 (B), including a minimum grade of C (4.0) in all courses used in the major.

Honours Post-RN BScN Integrated Primary Health Care Nurse Practitioner Program Requirements

1. BScN 120 credits including:

(a) 60 transfer credits for current Certificate of Competence as a Registered Nurse from the College of Nurses of Ontario (59 of which can be applied to the program of study).

(b) Major Requirements:

- (i) 57 credits including:
- (ii) AK/NURS 2300 3.00; AK/NURS 2730 3.00; AK/NURS 3010 3.00; AK/NURS 3130 3.00; AK/NURS 3300 3.00; AK/NURS 3400 3.00; AK/NURS 4140 3.00; and
- (iii) Certificate course requirements for the program include the following: AK/NURS 4520 3.00; AK/NURS 4530 3.00; AK/NURS 4540 4.00; AK/NURS 4541 4.00; AK/NURS 4550 4.00; AK/NURS 4551 4.00; AK/NURS 4560 14.00.

(c) Elective Requirements:

12 credits including:

- (i) six credits outside major at the 3000 level or higher,
- (ii) three credits inside or outside major at the 3000 level or higher, and
- (iii) three credits inside or outside nursing at the 4000 level.

2. Upper Level Courses: The courses above must include 63 credits at or above the 3000 level with at least 42 at the 4000 level:

- (i) 21 credits at the 3000 level (maximum),
- (ii) at least 42 credits at the 4000 level.

3. Residency Requirement: At least 30 credits not used toward another academic program are to be taken at York University. Half the major credits must be taken through Atkinson.

4. Graduation: A cumulative grade point average of 5.0 and a major grade point average of 6.0 (B) including a minimum grade of C (4.0) in all courses used in the major.

School of Nursing: Policy on Involuntary Withdrawal

A student may be required to withdraw involuntarily from a course with a practicum component if:

1. The student fails to meet the requirements of the course with a practicum component, either through unsatisfactory attendance and/or participation in class or practicum settings, or through unprofessional behaviour in fulfilling course requirements; or
2. The student’s performance is judged to disrupt the functioning of the practicum site and/or jeopardize the well-being of clients of the practicum site, and/or demonstrate failure to meet professional standards for practice currently mandated by the College of Nurses of Ontario.

Following a meeting with the student, the decision to require the student to withdraw will be taken by the director of the School of Nursing on the recommendation of the course director and/or practicum coordinator.

Students have access to the usual appeal procedures in such instances.

School of Social Work

Contact: Hugh Shewell

There are two points of admission to the Bachelor of Social Work (BSW) degree: 1) full-time, direct entry and 2) part-time, post degree. Admissions and program required are noted below. If further information is required, students should contact the School of Social Work.

The bachelor of social work program prepares students for professional social work. Successful practice experience is an essential requirement in the social work degree program. The 700 hour practicum, AK/SOWK 4000 6.00, and AK/SOWK 4001 6.00 consists of a field work component in an approved social work setting arranged by the school.

BSW (Honours) (Direct Entry):

Students who wish to complete their degree (Direct Entry) in four years are required to complete 30 credits per year.

Admission Requirements:

- (i) A minimum of six OAC credits or equivalent,
- (ii) Must meet the Atkinson minimum grade requirement for admission (set yearly),
- (iii) Transfer students must satisfy the minimum requirements for admission to Atkinson, and
- (iv) successful completion of the School of Social Work Supplementary Application.

Degree Requirements

1. At least 120 credits including:

(a) General Education: 24 general education requirements. See general education requirements in the Degree Requirements section.

(b) Major: 60 credits including:

- AK/SOWK 1010 6.00
- AK/SOWK 2030 6.00
- AK/SOWK 2050 6.00
- AK/SOWK 3041 3.00
- AK/SOWK 3060 6.00
- AK/SOWK 3070 3.00
- AK/SOWK 3110 3.00
- 12 credits at the 3000 level or above including three credits at the 4000 level chosen from AK/SOWK non-core courses
- AK/SOWK 4020 3.00
- AK/SOWK 4000 6.00 (Practicum course)
- AK/SOWK 4001 6.00 (Practicum course)

At least 18 credits in the major must be at the 4000 level.

- 36 credits electives outside social work, of which 18 credits must be at the 3000 level or above.
2. Residency Requirement: At least 30 credits not used toward another academic program are to be taken at York University. Half the major credits must be taken through Atkinson.
  3. Graduation: A cumulative grade point average of 5.0 (C+) and a major grade point average of 6.0 (B) including a minimum grade of C+ (5.0) in all courses used in the major.

BSW (Honours) (Post Degree):

Students admitted before 2002 will be grandparented through the former BSW Honours degree program.

Students admitted to the BSW (Post Degree) are automatically granted 66 transfer credits.

Normally students have a maximum of five years to complete the BSW (Post Degree).

Admission Requirements:

- (i) A university degree or equivalent,
- (ii) successful completion of the School of Social Work Supplementary Application.

Degree Requirements

1. Major Requirements: 54 credits including:

- AK/SOWK 2030 6.00

- AK/SOWK 3041.3.00
- AK/SOWK 3060 6.00
- AK/SOWK 3070 3.00
- AK/SOWK 3110 3.00
- AK/SOWK 4020 3.00
- AK/SOWK 4000 6.00
- AK/SOWK 4001 6.00
- 12 credits at the 2000 level or above including three credits at the 4000 level chosen from social work non-core courses.

2. Residency Requirement: At least 30 credits not used toward another academic program are to be taken at York University. Half the major credits must be taken through Atkinson.

3. Graduation: A cumulative grade point average of 5.0 (C+) and a major grade point average of 6.0 (B) including a minimum grade of C+ (5.0) in all courses used in the major.

Note 1: Students in the final year of an undergraduate degree program can apply to the School of Social Work; however, the bachelor of social work program cannot be commenced until the first degree has been completed.

Note 2: Students in a BA degree program can take up to 24 social work credits to fulfill their BA degree requirements. The courses available to BA degree students are: AK/SOWK 2000 6.00, AK/SOWK 2030 6.00, AK/SOWK 2050 6.00, AK/SOWK 3060 6.00, AK/SOWK 3070 3.00 and AK/SOWK 3110 3.00. BA degree students cannot take AK/SOWK 3041 3.00 or any 4000 level social work courses.

Note 3: The attention of students is drawn to the BA in sociology with a concentration in the sociology of gender and families.

Students who have completed the sociology major in Atkinson with a concentration in the sociology of gender and families and who are subsequently accepted into the social work program will be eligible to count up to 12 credits in sociology towards the social work major. These courses must be passed at minimum grades of B and shall be selected from: AK/SOCI 3880A 3.00; AK/SOCI 3880 3.00; AK/SOCI 3420 6.00; AK/SOCI 3450 6.00; AK/SOCI 3550 3.00/AK/SOCI 3550 6.00; AK/SOCI 3640C 6.00; AK/SOCI 3820 6.00, AK/SOCI 3830 6.00, AK/SOCI 3850 6.00, AK/SOCI 3860 6.00.

Note 4: Students who have completed the Certificate in Anti-Racist Research and Practice in Atkinson and who are subsequently accepted into the Social Work Program will be eligible to count up to two of the following courses (12 credits) towards the social work major: AK/SOCI 3620 6.00, AK/SOCI 3640C 6.00, AK/SOCI 3640D 6.00, AK/SOCI 3640E 6.00, AK/SOCI 3640G 6.00, AK/SOCI 3640H 6.00, AK/SOCI 3680 6.00. These courses must be passed at minimum grades of B.

School of Social Work Regulation on Involuntary Withdrawal

A student may be required to withdraw from a course if:

1. The student fails to meet the requirements of the course, either through unsatisfactory seminar and/or practicum attendance/participation, or through unprofessional behaviour in fulfilling course requirements; or
2. the student's performance is judged to disrupt the functioning of the practicum site and/or jeopardize the well-being of clients of the practicum site, and/or demonstrates unprofessional behaviour at the practicum site.

The decision to require the student to withdraw will be taken by the Director of the School of Social Work on the recommendation of the course director and/or the Practicum coordinator, following a meeting with the student.

Students will have access to the usual appeal procedures in such instances.

Certificates

A certificate signifies the completion of a coherent grouping of degree credit courses in a particular area of study. Certificates can be completed with, or separate from, a degree program. Certificates appeal particularly to the following people:

1. Those who have not attended university and wish to enter university by taking a certificate in an area of special interest.
2. Those who already possess a degree who wish to pursue a course of study without undertaking a second degree.
3. Those who wish to document for their employers either the acquisition of a specific set of skills or progress towards longer range educational goals.

Any York University student interested in an Atkinson certificate should contact the respective school or unit offering the certificate. Students who are already enrolled in an undergraduate degree program are expected to apply for entry to a certificate program, normally prior to completion of 36 credits of their undergraduate degree program. Applications should be obtained and filed with the school or unit administering the certificate program. Transcript notation will be made once the Registrar's Office has received notice from the unit administering the program that the student has met the requirements. Certificates will not be conferred until the candidates have successfully completed an undergraduate degree program if the student is simultaneously enrolled in a degree and certificate program.

1. Types of Certificates: Atkinson offers three types of certificates: general, professional and advanced. For titles and patterns of study, refer below.
2. Admission: The requirements for admission to a certificate are the same as those for admission to a degree. See certificate descriptions for further details.
3. Standing: Except where otherwise stated, a cumulative grade point average of 4.0 is required to satisfy certificate requirements. (Students planning to complete a degree should note the higher standing required.)
4. Certificate Requirements: Students must complete at least 18 credits at York University from among courses required and/or approved by the certificate program.

(a) A student may repeat a passed course or its equivalent (including prerequisites) once in order to meet certificate requirements, only if the student has failed to achieve sufficient standing to proceed in a core or prerequisite course in the certificate program and if no alternative remedies are provided (e.g. alternative qualifying exam). Students should note that course availability and space considerations may preclude the possibility of repeating a course in the session they choose. Please refer to the Grading section for more information.

(b) Some courses may have prerequisites which will increase the number of courses required for the certificate.

5. General Regulations:

(i) Atkinson students who pursue a certificate as a first option may defer the general education requirements until the certificate is completed.

(ii) All academic regulations applying to degree students in degree programs will apply to students in certificates.

(iii) A student who wishes to change from a certificate to a degree must re-apply to the York University Admissions Office.

(iv) Student who wish to take a certificate concurrently with their degree program, must submit an application to enter the certificate to the school or unit administering the certificate.

(v) Degree courses completed towards a certificate can be credited towards a degree, subject to degree and program requirements.

(vi) A student may acquire as many certificates as desired so long as at least 18 credits in each certificate acquired are unique to the specific certificate.

(vii) Students enrolled in a certificate program and who are not concurrently enrolled in a degree program may take only the courses required for the completion of the certificate.

6. Advanced Standing: Advanced standing may be granted for work above the 18 credit program requirement in accordance with certificate requirements and using the minimum academic standards applied to transfer credits for degrees.

7. Completion: York University students expecting to be awarded an Atkinson certificate submit an Application for the Awarding of the certificate to the school or unit administering the certificate program prior to graduation with a York University degree program. The Faculty does not award certificates retroactively.

8. English Proficiency: (i) New students who wish to proceed to a certificate and whose York English Language Test scores indicate that they need to take an English as a Second Language course shall do so either before or concurrent with the first certificate courses. (ii) Students who wish to proceed to a certificate may take English as a Second Language as an extra course without jeopardizing their status as certificate students.

9. The pass/fail alternative grading option cannot be used for courses taken to satisfy certificate requirements.

Note 2: Under the current certification system, which will end in 2004, to get credit for a course towards CHRP, HRPAO requires a minimum grade of 70 per cent, except in finance and accounting, where the minimum is 60 per cent. Under the new certification process, HRPAO requires an average of 70 per cent with the lowest acceptable grade in any required course of 65 per cent.

Daytime Offering: The certificate may be taken during the day over the course of two terms. Students who have completed 84 credits at York or who hold a university degree, by June 1 of the year in which they hope to enter the certificate, may apply to enrol in this intensive day-time version. Applicants must have a minimum overall grade point average of 5.0 with a major grade point average of 5.5. Successful admission will be based on the applicant's overall grade point average and relevant work experience. Decisions on admissions will be made by the designate of the dean of Atkinson (normally the coordinator of the certificate). The application deadline for admissions will normally be May 31.

General Certificates

Professional Ethics

School of Analytic Studies and Information Technology

Contact: Samuel B. Mallin

Ethical issues are becoming increasingly central to almost all areas of professional and public life. As work becomes faster, more technologically and bureaucratically complex, and evermore economically productive, ethical issues increase in difficulty and seriousness. As a result, the demand for people with qualifications in professional ethics is growing in all sectors. Our especially large range of courses in the area of professional ethics concentrates on real situations and case studies. Almost all of these courses are cross-listed with the relevant professional department or discipline. By taking a number of these courses, students encounter many different concrete ethical issues and learn a variety of perspectives and methodologies for dealing with them. Our style of professional ethics recognizes the diversity of values, traditions and points of view that are brought to bear today on actual current ethical problems. Nonetheless, these courses constantly attempt to integrate this situational approach by means of a search for generally applicable methodologies and ways of theorizing such issues. The certificate therefore gives students a wide range of experience and methodologies for understanding institutional practices that deal with ethical issues in the public and private sectors. They develop capacities to flexibly adapt this knowledge to different institutions and unforeseen ethical problems in such areas as education, business, health, media, government, law, social work, politics and personal life. Because the resolution of concrete ethical issues needs a creative response to the particularities of unforeseen situations, practice on cases in a number of different institutions and professions helps one to prepare for dealing with problems in one's own.

The Certificate in Professional Ethics is based in Atkinson's School of Analytic Studies and Information Technology. It is a direct entry program that is available to any students admitted to Atkinson or the University.

Students wishing to enrol or make inquiries should contact Atkinson's School of Analytic Studies and Information Technology, 2005 Technology Enhanced Learning Building, telephone: 416-736-5232, fax: 416-736-5188, e-mail: akphil@yorku.ca. #### Non-Credit, Non-Degree Programs 2004-2005

The Division of Continuing Education continually introduces new courses and certificates. To receive further information on new offerings and continuing programs please contact our office (107 Atkinson Building), e-mail: DCE@yorku.ca or visit our Web site: <http://www.atkinson.yorku.ca/~dce/>.

Certificate Programs (Non-degree credit)

Certificate in Dispute Resolution

Co-sponsored with the School of Social Work, Atkinson Faculty of Liberal and Professional Studies and La Marsh Research Centre on Violence and Conflict Resolution, York University.

This 132-hour certificate program is designed to provide educational and practical skills training to those interested in acquiring knowledge in the growing field of dispute resolution. The program provides core competencies in dispute resolution for those wishing to bring new skills to their existing jobs, and is the first step leading to professional accreditation as a mediator. The program integrates dispute resolution theory and practical skill development opportunities. Successful completion of the certificate program will satisfy the education component of the Alternative Dispute Resolution Institute of Ontario (ADRIO) and the Alternative Dispute Resolution Institute of Canada (ADRIC). (<http://www.atkinson.yorku.ca/~dce/Programs/Certificates/Disputefolder/Dispute1.html>)

Certificate in Dispute Resolution Internship

These optional, 100-hour internships are available to graduates of the Certificate in Dispute Resolution Program who are interested in practicing their newly-acquired skills under the supervision of experienced dispute resolution professionals. Internships are available in four areas of dispute resolution practice: community mediation, family mediation, organizational dispute resolution and bilingual mediation. Interns develop individualized learning plans, in collaboration with the internship provider, which determine the range of activities and specific outcomes for their internship. (<http://www.atkinson.yorku.ca/~dce/Programs/Certificates/CDRItern/Intern1.html>)

Advanced Certificate in Dispute Resolution

Co-sponsored with the School of Social Work, Atkinson Faculty of Liberal and Professional Studies and La Marsh Research Centre on Violence and Conflict Resolution, York University.

The non-degree credit Advanced Certificate in Dispute Resolution consists of 87 hours of classroom instruction, dispute resolution observation and supervised mediation practice. The program will present participants with a structured and supervised opportunity to apply the theories of dispute resolution "in-the-field". The program explores theoretical constructs of conflict, conflict escalation, and modes of dispute resolution; exposure to and critical analysis of best practices in dispute resolution; skill development opportunities; and development of a model for continued self-education in professional practice in dispute resolution. The program is designed for graduates of the division's Certificate in Dispute Resolution Program and other eligible practitioners who are interested in pursuing advanced-level education and training in the field of dispute resolution practice, so that they can confidently and skilfully offer mediation services to the public, in a variety of settings. The program provides students with a direct link to accreditation and the acquisition of professional designation and membership in dispute resolution associations. Successful completion of the Advanced Certificate in Dispute Resolution will give graduates the educational component needed to apply for the Chartered Mediator (C.MED) designation granted by the ADR Institute of Canada (for more information please check the ADR Institute of Ontario Web site at <http://www.adrontario.ca>). The program provides students with a direct link to accreditation and the acquisition of professional designation and membership in dispute resolution associations. (<http://www.atkinson.yorku.ca/~dce/Programs/Certificates/ADispute/ADisp1.html>)

Professional Development Courses

Assessing/Screening for Domestic Violence and Power Imbalances in Family Mediation

(Three days)

This 21-hour workshop is designed to assist mediators to develop theoretical knowledge and practical skills to recognize domestic violence and to determine if and when mediation is appropriate. Participants will integrate theory and current research on power imbalances and domestic violence, and will be introduced to a risk assessment screening instrument to be used prior to and during divorce mediation. This workshop meets the domestic violence education requirement of Family Mediation Canada and the Ontario Association of Family Mediators.

Professional Effectiveness (COPE) – stand alone courses which may lead to the COPE certificate

COPE is an Internet-based, interactive course designed to assist managers to optimize professional effectiveness by providing anytime, anywhere access to learning to acquire the requisite 'people skills' they are expected to model and to implement in their management roles.

COPE consists of a cluster of award-winning Internet-based NewMindsets© courses designed for professional development for managers. Each 25-hour online course may be considered discrete and "stand alone". Participants may select a course (or courses) that address the particular skill relevant to their own work setting and professional development needs.

Fundraising for Non-Profit Organizations

This 24 hour course is designed to assist staff and volunteers of non-profits to prepare a fundraising plan for their organization and to become familiar with a range of strategies and tools to be put to immediate use to successfully face the realities of today's financial climate. (<http://www.atkinson.yorku.ca/~dce/Programs/Professional/Fundraising/Fund1.html>)

Trauma Response Professional Development Workshops 2004

Co-sponsored with the Department of Psychology, Atkinson Faculty of Liberal and Professional Studies

The Changing Face of Grief: Time Trauma and Transformation

As children and adults confront death, grief and trauma, they work not only to adjust emotionally but also to regenerate a sense of self and to reconstruct their world. This public talk and two, one-day professional development workshops will provide a unique opportunity for psychologists, psychiatrists, counsellors, nurses, social workers, therapists, hospice workers and others to gain insight into the changing face of grief and process of transformation after loss. (<http://www.atkinson.yorku.ca/~dce/Programs/Professional/Grief/Grief1.html>)

Certificate in Dual Diagnosis

Co-sponsored with the School of Social Work, Atkinson Faculty of Liberal and Professional Studies.

This 91-hour certificate program is directed to managers, supervisors, and front-line practitioners working with clients with a dual diagnosis (i.e. developmental delay and mental health issues). It is designed to assist participants to develop networks of partnership and collaboration to develop holistic, client-specific plans of care predicated on respect, empowerment and choice to optimize the quality of life of the individual. Participants will have the opportunity to integrate theoretical knowledge into the development and refinement of client assessment and intervention skills. (<http://www.atkinson.yorku.ca/~dce/Programs/Certificates/DualDiag/Dual1.html>)

Certificate in Infant Mental Health

Co-sponsored with the Infant Mental Health Promotion Project and the Ontario Association for Infant Development.

This 120-hour certificate program is designed to provide front-line service providers with essential knowledge and practical skills to encourage positive parent-infant interactions and promote optimal developmental progress in infants. The program is directed to those interested in working effectively in the field of infant development, prevention and/or early intervention with infants with special needs, and with infants living in high-risk environments. (<http://www.atkinson.yorku.ca/~dce/Programs/Certificates/IMH/IMH1.html>)

Certificate in Professional Effectiveness

This 150-hour certificate program is designed for Human Resources (HR) practitioners and management professionals who are interested in developing the “people skills” and business skills required to master today’s multifaceted and complex work environments. HR practitioners, managers, team/project leaders and consultants will find the program’s courses to be especially beneficial, whether the courses are accessed individually or in combination, leading to a certificate. Each course integrates best-practice principles of effective management and leadership with “hands-on” opportunities to integrate learning to participants’ “real life” work situations. The program has been structured to allow optimum flexibility for participants to tailor learning to their own unique professional development needs and priorities. Designed to promote overall professional effectiveness, the program focuses on key areas of professional practice while building on participants’ existing knowledge and experience.

Each of the program’s 25-hour online courses is offered as “stand alone” learning opportunities enabling participants to focus on the skills they are most interested in developing. Participants may elect to complete a cluster of courses leading to the Certificate in Professional Effectiveness (COPE). Certificate candidates design an individualized study plan by selecting six of the 10 courses offered that are particularly relevant to their professional development needs.

Check the DCE Web site for detailed information and a PDF of the brochure, in spring 2004. COPE is an Internet-based, interactive course designed to assist managers to optimize professional effectiveness by providing anytime, anywhere access to learning to acquire the requisite ‘people skills’ they are expected to model and to implement in their management roles.

Preparatory Programs for Professional Association Examinations

Aviation Program

Flight Dispatcher Program

A flight dispatcher plays a pivotal role in the aviation industry in Canada. As an employee of an airline, the flight dispatcher has overall responsibility for flight planning and air safety. With few and very limited exceptions, aircraft belonging to an airline, carrying passengers and operating from a Canadian airport may not depart without the consent of the flight dispatcher. All flight dispatchers must have passed the generic Transport Canada Flight Dispatcher Examination before being permitted to work in flight dispatch.

This intensive, non-degree credit course was designed to assist flight dispatch candidates to prepare for the Transport Canada Certificate Examination.

Harm Reduction - Theory, Policy and Practice

This 24 hour non-credit course is designed to introduce service providers, administrators and policy makers to the basic principles, philosophy and application of harm reduction. Harm reduction is a term that refers to a specific set of approaches and corresponding policies that underlie those approaches to reduce risks for people who use drugs and/or engage in behaviours that put them “at risk”. Increasingly harm reduction is deemed to be a realistic, pragmatic, humane and successful approach to addressing drug problems of individuals and communities.

Certificate in Interactive Marketing and Online Advertising

The non-credit certificate program consists of 99-hours of classroom instruction commencing with an introductory session and followed by four non-degree credit courses leading to a Certificate in Interactive Marketing and Online Advertising. This applied, skills-based program will provide participants with essential knowledge to fully understand the increasingly important role of interactive marketing and online advertising strategies to reach potential markets in today’s global economy, and practical skills to leverage interactive media and online strategies to achieve business goals.

Upon completion of the program, participants will have demonstrated their understanding of interactive marketing and online advertising strategies, planning, and processes, and skills necessary to develop an effective online and interactive marketing plan.

General Information

Within the broad mandate of the University, York's Faculty of Education offers innovative pre-service, professional development and graduate programs. The Faculty is distinguished by its commitment to exploring ways to address equity, social justice and environmental issues in all of its programs. The Faculty values collaboration and an interdisciplinary orientation to education within an academic framework of inquiry into the interrelatedness of language and culture, teaching and learning. These values are evidenced in our staffing model and in our programs. York's pre-service, professional development and graduate programs are staffed by full-time tenure stream faculty, faculty seconded full-time from local school boards, and faculty cross-appointed from other programs within the University.

The Faculty of Education at York offers concurrent undergraduate programs for students simultaneously enrolled in other undergraduate Faculties and a full- and part-time consecutive undergraduate program for prospective teachers who have already graduated in another discipline. The Faculty's Deaf and Hard of Hearing Education post-baccalaureate program is the only one of its kind in Ontario. Our unique graduate program focus in language, culture and teaching has resulted in interdisciplinary faculty and student collaboration across several departments within the University. Our field development program, offered conjointly with school boards, is based on a teacher-as-researcher model.

Teacher education at York is understood as an intellectual as well as a practical endeavour. Students in the program are exposed to current theory and research in education and education-related fields. As well, students have the opportunity to work in schools and their communities for up to 100 days – more supervised practicum days than offered by any other faculty in the province. This balance between theory and practice is made possible, in part, by York's unique, complementary staffing model which brings together faculty working on on-going research and writing projects with faculty who have extensive and current professional expertise across all aspects of compulsory schooling. Together they are able to provide students with a program which is based on current theory, research and classroom practice. No other Faculty of Education in the province has this complementary staffing model. Boards of education inside and outside the province highly value York's bachelor of education graduates because of their awareness of social justice issues, their knowledge of current theory and research, and their extensive classroom experience.

BEd Degree Programs

In the Concurrent and the Consecutive part-time programs, three basic programs are offered to give certification at the primary/junior, junior/intermediate and intermediate/senior levels. The full-time Consecutive Program offers primary/junior, primary/junior articulated for graduates in early childhood education, junior/intermediate, junior/intermediate in fine arts, junior/intermediate in mathematics/science/technology, intermediate/senior, and intermediate/senior in mathematics/science/technology. Successful completion of any one of these programs leads to recommendation for the basic Ontario Certificate of Qualification with qualifications to teach within the two divisions included in the particular program title.

The divisions of the school system of the province of Ontario are defined as:

- Primary- junior kindergarten to Grade 3
- Junior - Grade 4 to Grade 6
- Intermediate - Grade 7 to Grade 10
- Senior - Grade 11 to Grade 12

Practicum/Seminar Approach

Much of the curriculum for all pre-service programs of the Faculty of Education is based on practicum experiences. The teacher candidate spends extensive time in field settings or practica, which over the course of the degree, equals approximately 100 days in community, school and classroom settings.

In addition to providing direct experience and an opportunity to apply newly acquired skills and knowledge, the practica are a major source of curriculum in the sense that they bring candidates face to face with concrete situations. These situations are related to teaching seminars held at the University. The underlying assumptions of this approach are that teaching can be considered as a form of problem solving and that teacher candidates learn best that which allows them to understand and to master their environment.

Duration of the Academic Year

Students seeking admission to the Faculty of Education should note that the academic year in the Faculty is somewhat longer than is usual in other Faculties. This longer year is owing to the practicum requirements. Consult the Concurrent and Consecutive Program sections below with respect to the specific practicum requirements.

Criminal Background Checks

The bachelor of education program requires successful completion of practice teaching in host schools. School boards require teacher candidates on practice teaching and other assignments in Ontario schools to complete a satisfactory criminal background check screening prior to having direct contact with students. As a result, all teacher candidates in the Faculty of Education consecutive and concurrent programs are required to have completed a satisfactory criminal background check in order to practice teach in a host school. Further information on criminal background checks can be obtained from the Ontario Education Services Corporation.

Medical Tests

All teacher candidates in the Faculty of Education, both consecutive and concurrent candidates, are required by the Ontario College of Teachers to present proof that they are free from active tuberculosis before commencing their work in the schools. Those entering schools for the first time must undergo tuberculin tests or X-rays, and present their documentation to the Office of Student Programs, Faculty of Education, before the first day of class.

The University may, at any time, require a teacher candidate to undergo a medical examination and may appoint a duly qualified medical practitioner to conduct the examination.

Access Initiative

The Faculty of Education Access Initiative is designed to recruit and admit individuals who are from groups which confront or who have themselves confronted identifiable barriers to education. Spaces are set aside in both the Concurrent and Consecutive programs for this purpose. Applicants from the following target groups may choose to apply to the Faculty of Education through this initiative:

- First Nations/Aboriginal Peoples
- people with disabilities
- racial minorities/people of colour
- people whose personal education or career have been affected by the refugee experience

Applicants to the Concurrent Access Initiative are required to have a minimum of 24 credits and be coregistered in another Faculty at York University. Applicants to the Consecutive Access Initiative are required to have completed an acceptable undergraduate degree at an accredited university (as determined by York University). All applicants must meet York Faculty of Education admission requirements.

Information on the Access Initiative may be obtained from the Office of Student Programs, S835 Ross Building, or by calling 416-736-5001.

Teacher Preparation Program in the Education of Deaf and Hard of Hearing Students

The York University Faculty of Education teacher preparation Program in the Education of Deaf and Hard of Hearing Students prepares teachers to work in a variety of educational programs and across the full range of communication/modality options. The program provides the broadest possible base for candidates to learn about the field, and to make decisions about future areas of specialization.

The program requires full-time study for one academic year, as well as a two-week summer orientation session. In addition, a limited number of applicants are accepted each year to a three-year, part-time program.

Program course work deals with areas pertinent to deaf and hard of hearing education. These areas include: introduction to working with deaf and hard of hearing students; language and literacy development; curriculum and instructional methods; deaf and hard of hearing studies; bilingual/bicultural education; American Sign Language; audiology; speech; and auditory/verbal therapy. Candidates also participate in weekly and block placements.

Candidates are considered for admission on the basis of education-related experience, academic achievement, communication abilities and personal characteristics relevant to teaching in the field. Requirements include:

- an undergraduate degree;
- membership in the Ontario College of Teachers or eligibility for membership in the case of out-of-province applicants (usually a Bachelor of Education (BEd) degree or its equivalent);
- BEd with minimum 6.0 (B) average*;
- two courses in American Sign Language*.

* Candidates with lesser qualifications may be considered.

When the program is successfully completed, candidates receive a York Diploma in the Education of Deaf and Hard of Hearing Students. Graduates of the program who hold membership in the Ontario College of Teachers are recommended to the college for Part I and II "Additional Qualification in Deaf Education". Part III (Specialist) is awarded by the college after successful completion of two years of teaching, including one year with deaf and hard of hearing students.

Currently, for eligible Ontario candidates, no tuition fees are charged for the program. Applications are normally due in late January.

For further information, please call the Deaf and Hard of Hearing Program Office at 416-736-5971 or TTY 416-736-5972.

Consecutive BEd Program

The full-time Consecutive BEd Program runs over an extended academic year. Candidates receive an introduction to the teaching profession and are oriented to campus facilities and to their host schools in the last week of August. The practice teaching and course work of the full-time program continue through to the following June. The part-time Consecutive BEd Program runs over a three year period. Teacher candidates take their courses and practicum in two full week days, and complete a one week teaching block in September in years two and three, and a three week teaching block in May of each academic year.

Successful graduates of the full- and part-time programs receive a BEd degree as well as a recommendation for the Ontario Certificate of Qualification.

Standards and Procedures for Admission to the Consecutive Program

Applicants must hold an approved degree from an accredited degree granting institution and must present a GPA of 6.0 (on a York scale or equivalent B or 70 per cent) based on the final 60 credits or equivalent (10 full courses, or final two years of full-time study) in an undergraduate degree program.

Applicants must be able to speak, write, and understand English well in order to be successful in the program. Applicants whose first language is other than English will be required to provide proof of proficiency of English by completing a language proficiency test.

Primary/Junior: Applicants do not choose teaching subjects. Applicants will be given preference if they have completed six credits (one full university course) or equivalent, in English, as well as six credits (one full university course or equivalent) in a curriculum subject area.

Primary/Junior: Articulated for graduates in early childhood education (available to full-time teacher candidates only): In addition to the requirements above, applicants must also hold an ECE Diploma from a College of Applied Arts and Technology. Applicants will be given preference if they have completed six credits (one full university course) or equivalent, in English as well as six credits (one full university course or equivalent) in a curriculum subject area.

Junior/Intermediate: Must choose one teaching subject and must have completed 24 credits in the selected teaching subject. Applicants will be given preference if they have completed six credits (one full university course or equivalent) in English, as well as having a B average on the selected teaching subject courses. Teaching subjects available are: computer science, dance, drama, English, environmental science, French as a second language, geography, history, mathematics, music, physical and health education, religious studies, science, visual arts.

Junior/Intermediate (Mathematics/Science/Technology) (available to full-time teacher candidates only): Must choose one teaching subject and must have completed 24 credits in the selected teaching subject. Applicants will be given preference if they have completed six credits (one full university course or equivalent) in English, as well as having a B average on the selected teaching subject courses. Teaching subjects available are: mathematics and science (general).

Junior/Intermediate (Fine Arts) (available to full-time teacher candidates only): Must have either a degree in fine arts or an undergraduate degree with at least 12 credits in one of the teaching subjects, as well as training and/or professional experience in the field. Teaching subjects available are: dance, drama, music, visual arts.

Intermediate/Senior: Must choose two teaching subjects and must have completed, or be completing, an Honours program with at least 36 credits in the first teaching subject and 18 credits in the second teaching subject. Preference will be given to applicants who have a minimum B average on the courses applicable to each teaching subject. Teaching subjects available are: biology, business studies (accounting, information management, marketing and merchandising), chemistry, computer science, dance, drama, economics, English, environmental science, family studies, French as a second language, geography, German, history, individual and society, international languages, Italian, law, mathematics, music, physical and health education, physics, political science, religious studies, science (general), Spanish, visual arts.

Intermediate/Senior (Mathematics/Science/Technology) (available to full-time teacher candidates only): Must choose two teaching subjects and must have completed, or be completing, an Honours program with at least 36 credits in the first teaching subject and 18 credits in the second teaching subject. Preference will be given to applicants who have a minimum B average on the courses applicable to each teaching subject. Teaching subjects available are: mathematics, biology, chemistry, physics, science (general).

Successful candidates are normally selected on the basis of education-related experience, references, university grade point averages and individual interviews.

Note: an application will not be regarded as complete until all documents and materials have been received by the Faculty of Education.

Procedures

Application forms for the Consecutive Program are available beginning in September through the Ontario Universities' Application Centre (OUAC) at <http://www.ouac.on.ca/teas/>. Supplementary application forms can be downloaded from <http://www.ouac.on.ca/teas> or <http://www.edu.yorku.ca>.

Year Three (under review)

- opening-week block following Labour Day
- one day per week for each week the University is in session
- three week block following end of classes

Concurrent BEd Program

The Faculty of Education also offers a concurrent, coregistered BEd degree. This means that teacher candidates pursuing BEd studies are also working towards the completion of a BA, BES, BSc or BFA degree. The course work of an arts, pure and applied science, environmental studies or fine arts program is spread over an additional year in order that one to two Education courses may be taken in each year of coregistration. The academic bachelor program, normally requiring three years for completion, will require four years when taken concurrently with the education degree. Similarly, an Honours program which usually requires four years for completion could require five years.

Students enrolled in an Honours program in their academic Faculty may register in any one of the three basic programs. Students wishing to graduate with a three-year bachelor program degree from their academic Faculty are eligible to enrol in the primary/junior or junior/intermediate programs only.

In order to coregister, students must apply to be admitted to each Faculty separately. Only those students who are admitted to an undergraduate degree program at York are eligible to be admitted to coregister in education. While coregistered, the combined study program of each candidate is subject to the approval of the two Faculties. The BEd degree is awarded only in conjunction with an academic degree as described above.

Successful graduates receive both a BA degree (or BSc, BES or BFA degree) and a BEd degree, as well as a recommendation for the Ontario Certificate of Qualification.

Note: The Concurrent Program is a three-year program with a practicum to be completed in each year.

Standards and Procedures for Admission to the Concurrent Program

To apply to coregister in the Faculty of Education, a student must:

- have completed by April 30th a minimum of 24 credits of a first year of undergraduate studies or the equivalent,
- or
- have a minimum of 36 credits left to complete their academic degree.

Applicants must have a minimum 5.0 (C+) overall average or Honours standing and be admitted to and continuing in an undergraduate program in one of the Faculties of Arts, Atkinson, Environmental Studies, Fine Arts, Pure and Applied Science or Glendon.

Applicants normally complete both degrees (e.g. BA and BEd) within four years of coregistering, and both degrees must be conferred at the same convocation.

Applicants must attend both education classes and fulfil practicum requirements during the daytime throughout the academic year. A limited number of sections of some courses is offered in the evening.

Applicants must complete at least 12 credits towards their academic degree in each calendar year (i.e. September to August) to comply with the concurrency requirements of the Faculty of Education.

Successful candidates are normally selected on the basis of education-related experience, references, university grade point averages and individual interviews.

Note: An application will not be regarded as complete until all documents and materials have been received by the Faculty of Education. It is the responsibility of applicants to ensure that their file is complete.

Application forms for the Concurrent Program are available in mid-December for admission to the Faculty of Education for the following academic year. Application forms can be downloaded from the Faculty of Education Web site at <http://www.edu.yorku.ca>. For information contact the Office of Student Programs, Faculty of Education, S835 Ross Building, York University, 416-736-5001.

Concurrent Program Practicum

The first year practicum explores schools and their communities. In each of the subsequent years, candidates are normally placed within a single host school. These two practica consist of one regular day per week and a block after final University examinations. The final block is usually three weeks in length. In addition, the Faculty requires that candidates in years two and three spend the opening week of the school year in their host schools. The school opening practicum, which is normally held in the four days following Labour Day, allows candidates to observe and actively participate in the process by which a new class is organized and relationships formed. This long-term association with a school's program allows the candidate to observe the development of the curriculum and pupils over the course of the school year and to acquire an understanding of the school and its community.

In addition to the regular practica described above, the Faculty normally requires that candidates have two experiences of school openings during their years in the education program. This school-opening practicum, which is normally held in the four days following Labour Day, allows one to observe and participate in the process by which a new class is organized and new relationships formed.

Over the three-year period of the program, every attempt is made to familiarize candidates with different boards in the area, pupils of different age levels, a range of school offerings, and a variety of social groups of pupils.

Concurrency

While coregistered in the Faculty of Education, a candidate's combined academic and professional program must meet the following requirements:

1. Candidates may not enrol in courses having a combined weighting of more than the equivalent of 12 credits in the Faculty of Education in any one academic session.

2. Candidates should consult with their adviser or designate about any academic courses which they propose to add or drop, as changes in academic courses may make one ineligible to remain in a program or to qualify for certification. Normally both degrees must be completed within four years of coregistering.

3. Concurrent with their education course work, candidates shall normally be enrolled in the equivalent of at least 12 credits in their academic degree program during the calendar year.

4. Candidates shall normally complete a practicum/seminar in their final year of undergraduate study.

Coregistration in the Faculty of Education makes heavy demands on one's time and energy. Candidates are, therefore, advised to register in no more than a total of 30 credits in the Faculty of Education and their coregistered Faculty during any one academic session. In unusual circumstances, and with the full advance knowledge of one's adviser, a candidate may register in a maximum of 36 credits (combined academic and education course load) in any one academic session.

Primary/Junior Program

The primary/junior program is open to prospective teachers who wish to teach Grades JK to 6.

Teacher candidates should ensure that they complete at least 30 credits with a 6.0 (B) average in their major for salary categorization.

Since the primary/junior teacher must be a generalist, it is strongly recommended that candidates in the primary/junior program take as part of their coregistered program:

- six credits in science (NATS 2700 9.00 is recommended)
- six credits in fine arts
- six credits in history or geography
- six credits in English or humanities
- six credits in mathematics
- six credits in kinesiology and health science

Junior/Intermediate Program

The junior/intermediate program qualifies candidates to teach in Grades 4 to 10 and, like the primary/junior program, may be taken in conjunction with either a bachelor program or an Honours program and over a period of three or four years of coregistration. By current College of Teachers' regulations, all candidates must prepare themselves to teach one subject at the intermediate level as well as to teach at the generalist level all subjects in the junior/intermediate divisions. Candidates may choose their intermediate division subject from the following list:

computer science	mathematics
dance	music
drama	physical and health education
English	religious studies
French as a second language	science (general) geography	visual arts
history

Some of the above subjects (e.g. computer science) depending on numbers, may only be available through independent study courses. Teacher candidates should discuss the possibility and appropriateness of such courses with their advisers by February first of the education year one.

When selecting their teaching subject, candidates should note the academic requirements for each subject and the prerequisites for particular practicum seminars.

For the junior/intermediate program a minimum of 18 credits in a subject must be taken in order to register in that subject practicum/seminar. A candidate requires a minimum of 24 credits in the teaching subject in order to graduate.

Intermediate/Senior Program

The intermediate/senior program qualifies candidates to teach in Grades 7 to 12. It may be taken only in conjunction with an Honours degree academic program, and over a period of three or four years of coregistration. By Ontario College of Teachers' regulations, all candidates in the intermediate/senior program must prepare themselves to teach two subjects at the intermediate/senior levels. Candidates may choose their intermediate/senior division subjects from the following list:

accounting	international language/other biology	Italian
chemistry	law
computer science	marketing and merchandising dance	mathematics
drama	music
economics	physical and health education
English	physics
family studies	political science
French as a second language	religious studies geography	science (general)
history	Spanish
individual and society	visual arts information management

Some of the above subjects (e.g. business studies, computer science, family studies, Spanish) depending on numbers may only be available through independent study courses. Teacher candidates should discuss the possibility and appropriateness of such courses with their advisers by February first of the education year one.

When selecting their two teaching subjects, candidates should note the academic requirements for each subject and the prerequisites for particular practicum seminars. They should also take into account that not all courses are offered every year.

For the intermediate/senior program a minimum of 24 credits in the subject area must be taken in order to register in that subject practicum/seminar. A candidate requires a minimum of 36 credits in one teaching subject area and 24 credits in the other area to graduate.

It is highly recommended by the Qualifications Evaluation Council of Ontario (QECO) and the Ontario Secondary School Teachers Federation (OSSTF) that teacher candidates complete 54 credits in a teaching subject to qualify for the highest pay rate as a teacher.

Academic courses should be taken according to the following patterns. (Note that Glendon, Atkinson or other equivalents may be designated by one's adviser.)

Business Studies

A minimum of six full course equivalents from accounting, information management, and/or marketing and merchandising are required for a first teaching subject. Three full course equivalents must be taken in one of the subject areas listed above and three full course equivalents can be chosen from one, or all of the remaining subject areas listed above. For a second intermediate/senior teaching subject, four full course equivalents are required from accounting, information management, and/or marketing and merchandising. Two full course equivalents must be taken in one of the subject areas listed above and two full course equivalents can be chosen from one, or all of the remaining subject areas. Courses must be chosen in consultation with an education business studies adviser. Teacher candidates may not select two business studies options.

Dance

Courses to be chosen in conjunction with the education dance adviser.

Candidates for junior/intermediate must complete a total of 24 credits:

- FA/DANC 1205 2.25, FA/DANC 1206 2.25, FA/DANC 1215 2.25, FA/DANC 1216 2.25;
- plus 15 credits selected from the following: FA/DANC 2225 3.00, FA/DANC 2226 3.00, FA/DANC 2320 3.00, FA/DANC 2340 3.00, FA/DANC 2355 3.00, FA/DANC 2510 3.00, FA/DANC 2511 3.00, FA/DANC 3321 3.00, FA/DANC 3330 3.00, FA/DANC 3510 3.00, FA/DANC 3511 3.00, FA/DANC 3531 3.00, FA/DANC 3370 3.00, FA/DANC 4375 3.00, FA/DANC 4376 3.00, FA/DANC 4530 3.00, FA/DANC 4531 3.00.
- Candidates for intermediate/senior must complete a total of 36 credits (only 24 if dance is selected as the second teaching subject):
- FA/DANC 2205 2.25, FA/DANC 2206 2.25, FA/DANC 2215 2.25, FA/DANC 2216 2.25;
- plus 27 credits (first teaching subject) or 15 credits (second teaching subject) selected from the following: FA/DANC 2225 3.00, FA/DANC 2226 3.00, FA/DANC 2320 3.00, FA/DANC 2340 3.00, FA/DANC 2355 3.00, FA/DANC 2510 3.00, FA/DANC 2511 3.00, FA/DANC 2540 3.00, FA/DANC 3220 3.00, FA/DANC 3280 3.00, FA/DANC 3321 3.00, FA/DANC 3330 3.00, FA/DANC 3510 3.00, FA/DANC 3511 3.00, FA/DANC 3531 3.00, FA/DANC 4345 3.00, FA/DANC 4375 3.00, FA/DANC 4376 3.00.

Drama

Courses must be chosen in consultation with an education drama adviser.

English

The requirements noted here are for admission to the practicum seminar and separate from the requirement in the English Department in the Faculty of Arts.

Candidates seeking admission to the practicum seminar with the minimum requirement of 24 credits should select from the list a to e, below.

Courses from a) and b) will familiarize students with some of the existing junior/intermediate/senior curricular expectations for teaching literary studies. Courses marked with an asterisk offer candidates theoretical approaches and content that will enable them, as professionals, to more proactively meet the needs of a diverse student body. In support of this commitment, the Faculty requires teaching candidates obtaining a junior/intermediate or intermediate/senior English qualification to graduate with any one of the following courses marked with an asterisk or an equivalent.

24 credits to be chosen in consultation with an education English adviser:

- overview: one of AS/EN 1100 6.00, AS/EN 1200 6.00 or AS/EN 1300 6.00;
- Shakespeare: AS/EN 3190 6.00 or equivalent, AS/EN 3210 6.00, AS/EN 4185 6.00;
- Canadian literature: e.g. AS/EN 2450 6.00, AS/EN 3330 6.00, AS/EN 3340 6.00, AS/EN 3430A 6.00, *AS/EN 3440 6.00, AS/EN 4270C 6.00, AS/EN 4270E 6.00;
- post-colonial and gender studies: e.g. *AS/EN 2371 6.00, AS/EN 2372 6.00, AS/EN 2376 6.00, *AS/EN 2850 6.00, AS/EN 3440 6.00, AS/EN 4210G 3.00, AS/EN 4210J 6.00, AS/EN 4230B 6.00, *AS/EN 4230D 6.00, AS/EN 4265 6.00;
- language and writing: e.g. AS/EN 2060 6.00, AS/EN 2070 6.00, AS/EN 3010 3.00, AS/EN 4110 6.00, a linguistics course.

Environmental Science

Courses, to be chosen in conjunction with the education environmental science adviser, should include as a minimum:

Basic courses:

- one of SC/BIOL 1010 6.00, SC/CHEM 1010 6.00, SC/EATS 1010 6.00 or an approved natural science course.

Environmental Science and Applications:

- ES/ENVS 2500 6.00 or appropriate courses in physical geography or biology.

Environmental Management:

- six credits from ES/ENVS 2400 3.00, ES/ENVS 3110 3.00, ES/ENVS 3120 3.00, ES/ENVS 3440 3.00 or appropriate courses in physical geography.

Energy:

- six credits from ES/ENVS 3130 3.00, SC/NATS 1800H 6.00 or other approved courses.

Family Studies

For a first teaching subject, a minimum of six full course equivalents are required in family studies, or three full course equivalents in psychology or sociology or social science or a combination of these courses and three full course equivalents in any combination from early childhood education, business studies, health studies or fashion studies. For a second teaching subject four full course equivalents are required in family studies, or two full course equivalents in psychology, sociology or social science or a combination of these courses and two full course equivalents in any combination from early childhood education, business studies, health studies or fashion studies. Courses must be chosen in consultation with an education family studies adviser.

French

Courses to be chosen in consultation with an education French adviser. All education candidates registered in French must take the following courses:

Keele Campus

Junior/Intermediate

Language:

- AS/FR 1080 6.00, AS/FR 2080 6.00 (or equivalent), AS/FR 3080 6.00

Linguistics:

- AS/FR 2100 6.00

Intermediate/Senior

Language:

- AS/FR 1080 6.00, AS/FR 2080 6.00, AS/FR 3080 6.00 (or equivalent)

Literature:

- AS/FR 2200 6.00

Linguistics:

- AS/FR 2100 6.00
- plus another course in French linguistics
- AS/FR 4120 6.00 is strongly recommended

Glendon Campus

Language:

- GL/Fran 2240 6.00 or equivalent
- GL/FRLS 2240 6.00 or equivalent

Literature:

- GL/FRAN 2335 6.00 or two third-year half courses

Linguistics:

- GL/FRAN 2220 6.00
- plus one additional half course in linguistics, preferably applied to the teaching of French

Geography

Courses to be chosen in consultation with an education geography adviser.

Bachelor Program:

Two of:

- AS/GEOG 1000 6.00, AS/SC/GEOG 1400 6.00, AS/SC/GEOG 1410 6.00;
- AS/SC/GEOG 2390G 3.00;
- at least three credits (one half course) "regional" above the 1000 level;
- at least three credits (one half course) "systematic" above the 1000 level;
- all other courses to be above the 1000 level.

Honours Program:

- AS/SC/GEOG 1400 6.00, AS/SC/GEOG 1410 6.00, AS/SC/GEOG 2390G 3.00, AS/SC/GEOG 2420 3.00 and AS/SC/GEOG 3420 3.00;
- at least three credits (one half course) "regional" above the 1000 level;
- at least three credits (one half course) "systematic" above the 1000 level;
- all other courses to be above the 1000 level;
- some upper level environmental studies courses may satisfy geography requirements.

History

A minimum of 24 history credits (four full courses), including at least one Canadian history is required. In addition, students are encouraged to include courses reflecting the diverse nature of history and society. Thus, we would recommend social history courses (involving themes such as race, gender, ethnicity and class), and courses reflecting the histories of non-Western nations. A course in historiography is also recommended.

Individual and Society

A minimum of 24 credits from psychology, anthropology, sociology and/or philosophy is required. Students will include at least two of these four fields in their program. Normally this would include basic introductory courses of each of these fields including AK/AS/SC/PSYC 1010 6.00, AS/ANTH 1110 6.00, AS/SOCI 1010 6.00. Some upper-level environmental studies courses may satisfy individual and society requirements. Courses selected should be chosen in consultation with an individual and society adviser.

Italian

Courses to be chosen in consultation with the education Italian adviser. All education candidates registered in Italian must take the following:

- AS/IT 2000 6.00
- AS/IT 3000 6.00
- AS/IT 4000 6.00
- AS/IT 2200 6.00 and
- six credits in Italian linguistics.

Mathematics

Courses are to be chosen in consultation with an education mathematics adviser. The following courses, or approved equivalents, must be included:

- a calculus course, usually: AS/SC/MATH 1000 3.00/1010 3.00 or AS/SC/MATH 1013 3.00/1014 3.00 or AS/SC/MATH 1300 3.00/1310 3.00 or AK/MATH 1410 6.00;
- linear algebra, usually: AS/SC/MATH 1021 3.00/2022 3.00 or AS/SC/MATH 2221 3.00/2222 3.00 or AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00/2222 3.00 or AK/MATH 2220 6.00;
- probability and statistics, usually: AS/SC/MATH 1131 3.00/2030 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/MATH 2030 3.00/2131 3.00 or AS/SC/MATH 2560 3.00/2570 3.00 or AK/MATH 2560 3.00/2570 3.00;
- proof-based mathematics, usually: AS/SC/MATH 1190 3.00/2320 3.00 or AS/SC/MATH 3020 6.00 or AS/SC/MATH 3140 6.00 or AS/SC/MATH 3050 6.00.

Music

Courses must be chosen in consultation with the education music adviser. The best preparation for teaching music, either in junior/intermediate or as a first or second teachable subject in intermediate/senior, is a BFA or equivalent Honours degree in music. Before taking the practicum-seminar(s), teacher candidates are generally required to have completed the core curriculum as set out by the Music Department, Faculty of Fine Arts (listed below as required).

Required:

- FA/MUSI 1000 6.00
- FA/MUSI 1200 9.00
- FA/MUSI 2200 6.00
- FA/MUSI 2201 3.00
- FA/MUSI 2202 3.00

It is highly recommended that teacher candidates plan to include the following music courses in their course of study:

- FA/MUSI 3000 6.00 and
- FA/MUSI 3470 3.00 and
- FA/MUSI 3450 3.00 or
- FA/MUSI 3460 3.00

Physical Education

If physical education is selected as a teaching subject, the following requirements must be met:

Academic Requirements

- AS/SC/KINE 1000 4.00
- AS/SC/KINE 1020 4.00
- AS/SC/KINE 2020 3.00
- AS/SC/KINE 2031 3.00

12 credits chosen from:

- AS/SC/KINE 3011 3.00
- AS/SC/KINE 3012 3.00
- AS/SC/KINE 3020 3.00
- AS/SC/KINE 3030 3.00
- AS/SC/KINE 3340 3.00
- AS/SC/KINE 3450 3.00
- AS/SC/KINE 4020 3.00
- AS/SC/KINE 4560 3.00
- AS/SC/KINE 4640 3.00

Activity Requirements

A minimum of 18 activity credits.

Two credits must be chosen from each of the following areas:

- dance or gymnastics
- track and field
- emergency care

- aquatics

At least four credits selected from:

- Basketball I, Volleyball I, Soccer I, Football, Field Hockey, Golf, Rugby

At least four credits selected from:

- Tennis, Badminton, outdoor education activities (Cross-country Skiing, Alpine Skiing, Mountain Biking, Outdoor Pursuits – Camping 1), Strength Training

Religious Studies

Religious studies as a teachable subject in the Faculty of Education builds upon the existing strengths of the Religious Studies Program in the Faculty of Arts. Currently, this program offers courses clustered into four main areas: religion and culture, biblical studies, Judaic studies and Christian studies. There are also courses which support students' inquiry into Islam, the religious traditions of Asia and South Asia, and North American First Nations spirituality.

Students wishing to teach religious studies must take six full courses for a first teachable or four full courses for a second teachable from the extensive list of approved courses in the Religious Studies Program. In consultation with the education religious studies adviser, students will be able to design a program of studies that will enable them to teach world religions as a comparative religion course in public schools, Catholic schools or Jewish schools. They will also be able to design a program of studies that will enable them to teach religion classes in Catholic schools, Islamic private schools and a variety of courses related to classical and modern Judaism in Jewish schools.

Academic Requirements:

1. AS/HUMA 2800 9.00 (cross-listed to: AS/SOSC 2600 9.00).
2. One of:
  - AS/HUMA 2830 9.00
  - AS/HUMA 2000C 6.00
  - AS/HUMA 2850 9.00
  - AS/HUMA 2810 6.00
  - AS/HUMA 3420 6.00

All courses will be counted as six credits towards the teachable subject.

3. For a second teachable, two more upper level full courses selected in consultation with a faculty adviser.
4. For a first teachable, four more upper level full courses selected in consultation with a faculty adviser.

All teacher candidates will also take ED/INDS 3900 6.00 Independent Study: Religious Studies, a practicum course with appropriate practicum placement which allows students to teach religious studies in an intermediate and/or secondary school.

Teacher candidates preparing to teach in Jewish day schools should be enrolled in the Jewish Education Program and should be sure to include:

- AS/HEB 3210 3.00
- AS/HEB 3220 3.00
- AS/HEB 3230 3.00

Teacher candidates preparing to teach in Catholic schools should also take ED/EDUC 3000 3.00.

For courses that are weighted 9.00, only 6.00 of the course weighting will be applied to meet the teachable subject requirement.

Science*

Biology

The best preparation for teaching biology as a first teaching subject is a BSc Honours degree in biology. However, Faculty of Pure and Applied Science students who select biology as their first teaching subject and either chemistry, physics or mathematics as their second teaching subject, may wish to consider the Honours Science degree Program which allows for a broader range of courses than in Specialized or Combined Honours. Those wishing to teach biology as a second teaching subject could count:

- SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 or SC/BIOL 1410 6.00; SC/BIOL 2010 4.00 or SC/BIOL 2030 4.00; or SC/KINE 2031 3.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00 and SC/BIOL 2031 3.00; SC/BIOL 2040 4.00; SC/BIOL 2050 4.00; SC/BIOL 3001 3.00 or SC/BIOL 3002 3.00 or SC/BIOL 3003 3.00 or any 3000- and 4000-level course.

Chemistry

The best preparation for teaching chemistry as a first teaching subject is a BSc Honours degree in chemistry. However, Faculty of Pure and Applied Science students who select chemistry as their first teaching subject and either biology, physics or mathematics as their second teaching subject may wish to consider the Honours Science degree Program which allows for a broader range of courses than in Specialized or Combined Honours. Those wishing to teach chemistry as a second teaching subject could complete:

- SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 or SC/CHEM 1500 4.00; SC/CHEM 1001 3.00; SC/CHEM 2010 3.00 or SC/CHEM 2011 3.00; SC/CHEM 2020 6.00; SC/CHEM 2030 4.00; SC/CHEM 2080 4.00; or any 3000- or 4000-level course.

Physics

The best preparation for teaching physics as a first teaching subject is a BSc Honours degree in physics. However, Faculty of Pure and Applied Science students who select physics as their first teaching subject and either biology, chemistry or mathematics as their second teaching subject may wish to consider the Honours Science degree Program which allows for a broader range of courses than in Specialized or Combined Honours. Those wishing to teach physics as a second teaching subject could count:

- SC/PHYS 1010 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1410 6.00; SC/PHYS 1510 4.00; SC/PHYS 2010 3.00; SC/PHYS 2020 3.00 or SC/PHYS 2030 3.00; SC/PHYS 2040 3.00; SC/PHYS 2060 3.00; SC/PHYS 2211 1.00 and 2212 1.00; SC/PHYS 3040 6.00.

Science

- SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00;
- six credits (one full course equivalent) from: SC/BIOL 1010 6.00; SC/BIOL 2010 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00; SC/BIOL 2050 4.00; SC/NATS 1610 6.00; SC/NATS 1620 6.00; SC/NATS 1640 6.00; SC/NATS 1710 6.00; SC/NATS 2700 9.00; SC/KINE 2031 3.00;
- 12 credits from: SC/PHYS 1010 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1410 6.00; SC/EATS 1010 3.00 and SC/EATS 1011 3.00; SC/MATH 1013 3.00/1014 3.00 or six credits of any first year mathematics course(s), SC/NATS 1850 6.00.

* Concurrent teacher candidates may not select two science subjects as teachable options.

Visual Arts

The best preparation for teaching visual arts as a first teaching subject is a BFA degree in visual arts. Those wishing to teach visual arts as a second teaching subject must complete:

- FA/VISA 1110 6.00, AK/VISA 2000 6.00, FA/VISA 1000 3.00 plus nine 2000-level studio credits.

Other Subjects

Other teaching subjects, including Latin and modern languages such as German, Japanese, and Portuguese, may be arranged on an independent study basis. It should be noted that each independent study course requires the approval of the curriculum committee (with regard to academic aspects) and the associate dean (pre-service) with regard to financial and programmatic aspects. Such approval should not be assumed and should be sought during the spring advising period and prior to course enrolment.

Program in Jewish Teacher Education - Concurrent

Candidates in the Faculty of Education's Concurrent Program may pursue the Jewish teacher education option, a course of study designed to prepare teachers of Hebrew language and Judaic studies under guidelines established by the Faculty in consultation with the Board of Jewish Education of Toronto.

Candidates generally enrol in the regular primary/junior program in the Faculty of Education, but it is possible to enrol in the junior/intermediate or intermediate/senior program. During the course of the candidate's professional training, appropriate practicum placements in Hebrew day schools enable candidates to develop teaching skills in Judaic studies leading to certification by the Toronto Board of Jewish Education. Students are also placed in public schools and receive the regular preparation necessary to be recommended for certification by the Ontario Ministry of Education and Training. Teacher candidates in Jewish teacher education under normal circumstances major in religious studies in the Faculty of Arts. Even those students who are not majoring in religious studies are expected to take a coherent program of language and culture courses in Judaica. All students, regardless of major, are expected to qualify for the Advanced Certificate in Hebrew and Jewish Studies (six approved courses with a grade of C+ or higher in each).

Teacher candidates enrolled in the Jewish teacher education program should carefully prepare their academic programs each year in consultation with the program's coordinator in order to be sure that they meet the academic requirements of their chosen programs in the Faculty of Education and the Faculty of Arts.

Stop-Out Year*

Candidates in the Concurrent Program may be eligible to take a stop-out year; that is, a year in which the candidate enrolls in courses in the academic degree, but does not enrol in any education courses.

The stop-out year permits candidates to progress toward completion of the academic degree, while not progressing further toward the education degree. This may be appropriate to permit a candidate a period of concentrated study in the discipline, to extend one's teaching subject academic background prior to an intermediate or senior division practicum seminar, or simply to balance the progress in the two degrees to ensure that concurrency regulations will be fulfilled and both degrees will be completed in the same year.

Stop-out years are normally taken between the education I and education II years but may also be taken between the education II and education III years. Candidates are not eligible to do more than one stop-out year during the course of their BEd program. Regulations governing concurrency must be adhered to by candidates exercising the stop-out option. Stop-out forms are available from the Education Office of Student Programs.

\ Please note that stop-out years are not mandatory and should only be used where necessary to ensure that concurrency is maintained and that both degrees are completed in the same year.*

Evaluation Policy and Procedures

Course Weight

A minimum of 30 credits is required to complete the BEd pre-service degree. A course which is allocated 6.00 credits (ED/xxxx 6.00) is the equivalent of a standard full-year course. Any course which is allocated 3.00 credits (ED/xxxx 3.00) is the equivalent of a half course. Any course which is allocated 1.50 credits (ED/xxxx 1.50) is the equivalent of a quarter course. Candidates are not allowed to enrol in more than the equivalent of 12 credits in the Education Concurrent Program in any one year.

Grade Scales

Refer to Grades and Grading Schemes within the Academic Information section of this Calendar.

Grade Requirements

a. Concurrent Candidates

In order to remain coregistered in the Faculty of Education or to graduate, candidates must maintain a superior standard of performance in both their academic Faculty and in the Faculty of Education. Teacher candidates will be ineligible to continue or to graduate if they fall into any one of the categories listed below:

- Failure to maintain Honours standing in the Faculty of coregistration or to maintain the cumulative grade point average necessary for such Honours standing; candidates who fall below the grade point average for Honours standing but who are declared eligible to continue will not be considered eligible to proceed in education.
- Candidates will be ineligible to continue in the BEd degree program if they receive less than a grade of C+ in any course taken for education credit.
- Candidates are required to complete one practicum seminar during each of the three years of the program. These seminars, which consist of both seminars and placements in a school/community (year one) or in a school/classroom (years two and three) are evaluated on a Pass/Fail basis. Candidates who fail to achieve a Pass in a practicum seminar are ineligible to continue in the program.
- Practicum seminars are co-requisite with appropriate courses.

b. Consecutive Candidates

In order to remain registered in the Consecutive Program and to graduate, candidates must maintain a superior standard of performance in their course work. Teacher candidates will be ineligible to maintain their registration status or to graduate if they receive a grade of C or lower in any half or full education course.

- Candidates are required to complete one practicum seminar during each of the three years of the program. These seminars, which consist of both seminars and placements in a school/community (year one) or in a school/classroom (years two and three) are evaluated on a Pass/Fail basis. Candidates who fail to achieve a Pass in a practicum seminar are ineligible to continue in the program.
- Practicum seminars are co-requisite with appropriate courses.

Evaluation Policies and Procedures

- All evaluation procedures and criteria will be clearly specified in the course outline and made known to the candidate.
- Information in a candidate's permanent file other than confidential letters of reference and other confidential admissions-assessment documents will be freely available to that candidate.
- Information in a candidate's file will be released outside the University only upon the written request of that candidate.
- Candidates will have the opportunity to assess their progress in each practicum/seminar course in consultation with instructors at least once in each term.

It is an important goal of the Faculty of Education that graduates be able to operate as independent problem solvers who have the capacity to evaluate their own performance and to muster evidence of achievements and progress. Thus, while the professional staff of the Faculty bear the ultimate and final responsibility for evaluation, each teacher candidate is also expected to play an important role in self-evaluation.

Withdrawals

Course Withdrawals: Candidates may withdraw from any education course without receiving a grade, if they do so by the published withdrawal dates. Candidates who withdraw from an education practicum/seminar, or from any course in the Consecutive Program, however, should note that they will be required to re-apply for admission to the Faculty of Education if they wish to resume their education program. To withdraw from an education course, candidates must report their intent to the Faculty of Education, Office of Student Programs in accordance with the published withdrawal dates. Those who withdraw from a course after these dates are normally deemed to have failed it and receive a grade of F.

Program Withdrawals: Candidates who withdraw from the Faculty of Education, and who are registered in the Concurrent Program, may transfer their accumulated education credits to their academic Faculty subject to the rules and procedures of that Faculty. Any grades so transferred are then subject to the regulations governing maintenance of standing in their academic Faculty. Candidates must report their intention to withdraw both to the Faculty of Education, Office of Student Programs and their academic Faculty.

Faculty Legislation on Involuntary Withdrawal

A candidate may be required to withdraw from a course if:

- a) the candidate fails to meet the requirements of a course, either through unsatisfactory seminar and/or practicum attendance/participation, or through unprofessional behaviour in fulfilling course requirements; or
- b) the candidate's performance is judged to disrupt seriously the functioning of the host classroom and/or the well-being of the students in that classroom.

The decision to require the candidate to withdraw will be taken by the associate dean on the recommendation of the course director following a meeting with the candidate.

Candidates will have access to the usual appeal procedures in such instances.

Education Program and/or Subject Changes

Candidates are advised that a change in education program (movement among primary/junior, junior/intermediate and intermediate/senior programs) or in teaching subjects at the junior/intermediate and intermediate/senior levels may only be made with the approval of the associate dean. Considerations which may affect the approval of such a change include the year level completed in the education program, standing of the candidate and the adequacy of academic background for the proposed change, and matters having to do with enrolment limits and availability of the education courses which would be required for the candidate to complete the altered program.

Deferred Standing

Deferred standing may be granted through petition, and with the support of the relevant course director, in cases where final grades cannot be assigned because all course requirements have not been completed. The grounds for granting deferred standing are illness or misfortune.

When granted, deferred standing is an interim measure pending completion of regular or alternative assignments.

The granting of a deferral may result in candidates missing June convocation for degree conferral. Deferred Standing Agreement forms may be obtained at Student Client Services or the Office of Student Programs, Faculty of Education. Requests must be accompanied by a medical certificate and other written documentation. Deferred Standing Agreement forms should be completed in consultation with the course director prior to the submission of final grades.

Reappraisal

While all grades and evaluation decisions are carefully assessed, a candidate may request a reappraisal of a grade by making a formal request to the associate dean (pre-service) within three weeks of the release of final grade reports. The request must be in writing and should state clearly why the applicant believes that the grade should be re-evaluated. A reappraisal may result in a lower, higher or unchanged grade. Please note that before submitting a formal request for re-evaluation, candidates must first discuss the assigned grade with the course director. If the candidate is unable to reach the course director before the three-week deadline, a letter of intent to appeal the grade can be submitted to the associate dean's office pending contact with the course director.

Academic Dishonesty

For further information please consult the Senate Policy on Academic Honesty in the University Policy and Regulations section of this Calendar.

Petitions Procedure

Students may petition on reasonable grounds and in writing any of the regulations of the Faculty of Education. Enquiries about procedures should be made to the Office of Student Programs.

Recently approved Senate policies on petitions and grade reappraisals are posted on the Web at http://www.yorku.ca/admin/univsec/sen\_comm/sac/index.htm. Students may contact the Registrar's Office or their Faculty for further information.

Expectations of Catholic School Boards

Many of the Catholic school boards in Ontario require that applicants for teaching positions have completed successfully a course in religious education methods. To help candidates meet this requirement, the Faculty of Education, in cooperation with the Catholic Office of Religious Education (CORE) offers an optional (ED/EDUC 3000 3.00*) credit course in Religious Education Methodology. Those wishing to avail themselves of the option should consult the timetable and register for it during the registration period. Priority enrolment in this course is given to education III candidates (Concurrent Program only).

The Catholic school boards prefer that all applicants for positions have had some experience in Catholic schools. Candidates wishing some practicum experience in Catholic schools should make their wishes known on the practicum request form. Every effort will be made to provide interested candidates with a Catholic school placement during at least one of their practica. Some Catholic school boards also prefer applicants to have had some university-level course work in the area of religious studies.

\ Please note that ED/EDUC 3000 3.00 is a requirement for employment with the Toronto Catholic District School Board. Please check whether this is a requirement for other Catholic boards where employment is being sought.*

Citizenship

Applicants to the Faculty of Education should note that, while there are no citizenship, permanent residency or other requirements for entrance to York University or to the Faculty of Education, the Ontario College of Teachers will grant the Certificate of Registration and the Certificate of Qualification only to individuals who are Canadian citizens, permanent residents or otherwise entitled under Canadian regulations to obtain work as a teacher in Canada.

Ontario Certificate of Qualification

The Ontario Certificate of Registration certifies that the holder is qualified to teach in Ontario elementary and secondary schools. The basic and additional qualifications of the teacher are recorded on a second form, the Certificate of Qualification. The Certificate of Qualification will be updated as the teacher acquires additional qualifications.

The regulations require a candidate to earn basic qualifications in two consecutive divisions during the pre-service teacher education program. To teach in the intermediate division one must have completed courses in one teaching subject, and in the senior division two teaching subjects, selected from an approved list.

Programs of the Faculty of Education provide courses leading to the Ontario Certificate of Qualification and basic qualifications for the primary/junior, junior/intermediate and intermediate/senior divisions.

Certificates to teach in Ontario schools are issued by the Ontario College of Teachers on the recommendation of the dean of the Faculty of Education. All information in this Calendar about regulations with respect to certification is governed by the Ontario College of Teachers.

Please note: Upon successful completion of the Bachelor of Education Program (and an undergraduate degree) the candidates' names, addresses and Social Insurance Numbers are forwarded to the Ontario

College of Teachers for the purpose of certification. Collection of the information is authorized by Regulation 184.

Basic Qualifications

Primary/Junior Program: Qualified to teach classes in the primary and junior divisions (Grades JK to 6).

Junior/Intermediate Program: Qualified to teach classes in the junior division and academic and general subjects in all four years of the intermediate division (Grades 4 to 10).

Intermediate/Senior Program: Qualified to teach academic and general subjects in the senior division and all four years of the intermediate division (Grades 7 to 12).

Note: the divisions of the school are defined as:

Primary:	junior kindergarten to Grade 3
Junior:	Grade 4 to Grade 6
Intermediate:	Grade 7 to Grade 10
Senior:	Grade 11 to Grade 12

For further information, please see the Faculty of Education Pre-Service Teacher Education Handbook.

Student Services

Faculty of Education Resource Centre and Computer Lab

These facilities support students by providing a network of computers and a collection of books, activity files, and other types of educational resources. Computer and circulation staff help students with their computing and resource needs. For further information, please see the Faculty of Education Pre-Service Teacher Education Handbook.

Faculty of Education Students' Association

All undergraduate students registered in the Faculty, including stop-out students, are members of the Faculty of Education Students' Association (FESA). The FESA Council is the official student government of the Faculty, and seeks to represent student opinion and interest within the Faculty and University as a whole. FESA representatives sit on several Faculty committees, on the York Federation of Students, and on the University Senate. Serving pre-service teacher candidates from concurrent and consecutive programs, FESA strives to cultivate a sense of community among over 1600 students, across two campuses and 11 off-campus sites. Among other initiatives, FESA sponsors professional development workshops, social activities, book fairs, and an annual conference. The FESA ombudspersons offer advice and assistance to students experiencing difficulty in their practicum placements. FESA also produces a newsletter, a Teacher Candidates' Rights handbook and a Get-A-Job handbook. The FESA Office is located in N833A Ross (416-736-2100 ext. 88779).

The Bachelor in Environmental Studies

The Faculty of Environmental Studies offers both a Specialized Honours BES program (120 credits) and a bachelor program (90 credits).

The Faculty of Environmental Studies (FES) provides a unique educational experience in an expanding field of study and research. Defined broadly from an interdisciplinary perspective, environmental studies at FES is a combination of core courses and four distinct academic and professional areas of concentration in:

- Environment and Culture: Philosophy, Arts, Technology and Education;
- Environmental Politics: Development, Globalization and Justice;
- Environmental Management: Policy, Resources and Conservation; and
- Urban and Regional Environments: Analysis, Planning and Design.

A coherent set of core courses, area of concentration courses and elective courses provides a well-rounded education in various fields relating to natural, built, organizational and social environments. Faculty members come from a wide range of backgrounds including political science, ecology, planning, philosophy, sociology, geography, economics, education, architecture, and anthropology. All share a commitment to exploring the complex questions and solutions of the human and environmental challenges facing the world.

The BES program introduces students to the links between the exploitation of the natural world and justice issues related to class exploitation, racism, and gender inequity. Fully aware of the growing interdependencies of human and natural life worlds in a globalized environment, the Faculty of Environmental Studies believes that an inclusion of non-Western perspectives is essential to a fruitful discussion of all environmental issues. To that end, faculty members strive to include a broad range of perspectives in their course offerings. York's BES program is designed to equip students with the knowledge and understanding to deal effectively yet sensitively with complex environmental and social problems arising at the local, regional, national or global scale.

In the first two years of the program, students take required courses that introduce them to the wide range of environmental studies while building critical academic and practical knowledge, including research, writing, analytical and communication skills. During the latter half of the first year, students start creating their "Plan of Study", a portfolio-style document, that helps to guide them through the BES program. The plan of study is also initially used to identify an area of concentration, which is designed to give structure and focus to a student's program in the years ahead. The plan of study process is supported by group and individual advising by staff, faculty and teaching assistants in core and foundation courses.

The BES program offers four areas of concentration that reflect the Faculty's broad understanding of environmental studies. Students in the program use these areas of concentration to help them begin to define their own interests within the plan of study. In their second year, each student will take two of the four "foundations courses" which introduce each area of concentration. While students will be required to choose one of the four areas as their "home", they can still change their focus during the second year. Normally, students that switch areas will have to take the foundations course of the area they switch to during the third year (if they have not taken it during their second year).

What the BES program offers:

- interdisciplinary expertise to understand and solve environmental problems;
- opportunities to develop specific skills and in-depth learning;
- a wide range of courses covering the humanities, social sciences and environmental science;
- an outlook that includes local and global, philosophical and applied questions;
- an emphasis on bringing theoretical and practical matters together in the classroom;
- the knowledge and skills needed for environmental careers and graduate studies;
- an atmosphere in which students know that learning matters.

Areas of Concentration

The BES program's four areas of concentration reflect the Faculty's broad understanding of environmental studies. Each area is established with scholarly, professional, and pragmatic considerations in mind. Students use these areas of concentration to help define their own path through the program.

Environment and Culture: Philosophy, Arts, Technology and Education

This area focuses on the conceptual, historical and cultural roots of environmental issues, and on environmental arts, education, policy and cultural organizations as crucial sites of environmental action. A focus in this area leads students to develop both a strong theoretical grasp of complex ecological- environmental relations, and critical and creative skills important in transforming these relations.

Sample topics include:

- environmental ethics and philosophy
- environmental and sustainability education
- environment, media and communication
- human and other animal relations
- science, technology and the environment
- environmental literatures
- community arts

Required course:

- ES/ENVS 2100 6.00 (formerly ES/ENVS 2100 3.00)

Nine credits at the 3000 level from the following list:

- ES/ENVS 3000 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3160 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3110 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3120 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3140 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3150 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3151 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3226 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3230 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3410 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3420 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3450 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3760 3.00

Nine credits at the 4000 level from the following list:

- ES/ENVS 4100 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4110 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4111 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4120 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4140 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4161 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4312 3.00 (formerly ES/ENVS 4311 3.00)
- ES/ENVS 4420 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4430 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4445 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4455 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4520 3.00

- ES/ENVS 4800A 3.00/4411 3.00

Environmental Politics: Development, Globalization and Justice

Communities and environments are being dramatically transformed by the globalization of economies and cultures. This area is concerned with the analysis of these forces and possible responses to them at local, regional, national and international levels. It involves exploring competing approaches to development, politics and justice that are being formulated and put into practice by a variety of social groups, communities, NGOs, governments, corporations and international organizations.

Sample topics include:

- economic globalization
- international development
- sustainable development
- gender and development
- human rights and refugee studies
- social/environmental movements
- climate change
- green international business
- culture and global media

Required course:

- ES/ENVS 2300 6.00 (formerly ES/ENVS 2300 3.00)

Nine credits at the 3000 level from the following list:

- ES/ENVS 3130 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3151 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3160 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3310 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3340 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3420 3.00

Nine credits at the 4000 level from the following list:

- ES/ENVS 4151 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4161 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4210 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4220 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4312 3.00 (formerly ES/ENVS 4311 3.00)
- ES/ENVS 4320 3.00

Environmental Management: Policy, Resources and Conservation

This area examines the origins and nature of environmental challenges facing society through the study of their scientific, socio-economic and political dimensions, and explores ways of addressing these challenges through environmental and natural resource management, conservation and policy approaches. It is concerned with existing and emerging strategies for preventing and managing the impacts of human activities and for conserving the resources of the biosphere in ways that are supportive of sustainable development. It provides concepts, knowledge, and skills that are needed to be effective in environmental management in government, business, and not-for-profit sectors.

Sample topics include:

- ecology and conservation
- environmental assessment
- resource management
- environmental monitoring and auditing
- energy and the environment
- environment and health

Required courses:

- ES/ENVS 2400 6.00 (formerly ES/ENVS 2400 3.00)
- ES/ENVS 2410 3.00 (formerly ES/ENVS 2500 6.00)
- ES/ENVS 2420 3.00 (formerly ES/ENVS 2500 6.00)
- ES/ENVS 3009 3.00

Nine credits at the 3000 level from the following list:

- ES/ENVS 3110 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3130 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3226 3.00

- ES/ENVS 3230 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3520 3.00

- ES/ENVS 4520 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4521 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4800A 3.00/4411 3.00

Urban and Regional Environments: Analysis, Planning and Design

This area of concentration focuses on the interrelationships of the ecological, social, built and organizational environments within urban and regional settings. The intention of this area is to provide the student with a critical understanding of urban and regional environments along with a solutions-based approach to addressing urban and regional issues with an explicitly environmental perspective. Students will thereby attain a thorough knowledge of the theories, histories and current issues of urbanization and regionalization and their effect on environments, and will learn practical methods of analysis and intervention in different human settlements.

Sample topics include:

- migration and settlement
- urbanization and the urban process
- environmental design/landscape design
- urban sustainability
- urban governance and regulation
- global cities and global urbanization
- urban social and environmental movements
- urban and regional planning
- healthy and sustainable community development
- urban social relations (class, race, gender)
- Native/Canadian relations

Required course:

- ES/ENVS 2200 6.00 (formerly ES/ENVS 2200 3.00)

Nine credits at the 3000 level from the following list:

- ES/ENVS 3151 3.00

- ES/ENVS 4800Q 3.00

Academic Advising and the BES Plan of Study

In addition to completing the program credit requirements, all BES students must develop and maintain a plan of study that will be developed in the core and area of concentration courses, and must be approved by the relevant course director and supervisor. The plan of study is centred on a portfolio, which will provide students with an evolving sense of their progress through their program. This is intended to guide second, third and fourth year course selection, to outline future program objectives, and to ensure that the courses chosen keep important options open to each student. The plan of study ensures that both Specialized Honours and bachelors students meet the requirements of their declared area of concentration and the credit requirements of the BES program.

Organized advising sessions in the required courses of the BES program assist students with the development of their plan of study. Plan of study development and academic advising will be incorporated into ES/ENVS 1200 6.00 in the first year of study. In the second year the plan of study will be incorporated into ES/ENVS 2100 6.00, ES/ENVS 2200 6.00, ES/ENVS 2300 6.00, and ES/ENVS 2400 6.00 and students will write a more extensive statement based on a chosen area of concentration. The final plan of study will be produced as part of ES/ENVS 3011 3.0, with students indicating their choice of capstone activities. Students can choose ENVS 4000 6.00 Senior Honours Work Seminar or two three-credit courses at the 4000 level chosen in the context of their area of concentration.

Degree Requirements

Honours BES Degree Course Requirements (120 credits)

Students must pass courses worth a minimum of 120 credits (equivalent to 20 full-year courses) in order to graduate with the Specialized Honours BES degree. At least 60 credits and a maximum of 90 credits shall be environmental studies courses. An overall grade point average of at least 5.0 must be maintained.

Students choose their courses in the Honours BES program according to the following requirements:

General Education (12 credits):

Following York's philosophy of undergraduate education, BES students are required to study in the humanities and natural sciences.

- Humanities requirement: The BES humanities requirement can be satisfied by taking ES/ENVS 1800 6.00 or a 1000-level course (at least six credits) from the following: classical studies; English; French studies; history; humanities; languages, literature and linguistics; or philosophy.
- Science requirement: The science requirement is met by taking ES/ENVS 1500 6.00 Introduction to Science for Environmental Studies or a first-year (six-credit) course from the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science (excluding natural science courses).

Note: Students who declared Environmental Management as their area of concentration are required to take either ES/ENVS 1500 6.00, or SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 to fulfill their natural science requirement.

Required Core Environmental Studies Courses (18 credits):

- ES/ENVS 1000 6.00
- ES/ENVS 1200 6.00
- ES/ENVS 3009 3.00

or

- ES/ENVS 3010 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3011 3.00

Note:

(i) Students choosing the course-based options will take ES/ENVS 3011 3.00 and two three-credit 4000-level BES seminars and/or selected graduate courses at the 5000 level (by permission of the instructor) with paper and/or project outcomes, in addition to their Faculty requirements. The 4000-level courses must be in the student's area of concentration.

(ii) Students enrolled in the Environmental Management area of concentration are required to take ES/ENVS 2410 3.00 and ES/ENVS 2420 3.00; further, they are required to take both ES/ENVS 3009 3.00 and ES/ENVS 3010 3.00.

Area of Concentration Requirement (at least 12 credits):

- ES/ENVS 2100 6.00
- ES/ENVS 2200 6.00
- ES/ENVS 2300 6.00
- ES/ENVS 2400 6.00

Faculty Requirement (27 credits):

A minimum of 27 credits at the 3000 and 4000 level in environmental studies (ENVS) courses in addition to (b) and (c) above. Of these, at least nine credits must be at the 3000 level in the declared area of concentration and at least nine credits must be at the 4000 level in the declared area of concentration. The remaining nine credits will be satisfied by taking ES/ENVS 4000 6.00 and one other three-credit course at the 4000 level. For the course-based option students need to take two three-credit 4000-level courses.

Out-of-Faculty Elective Requirements (24 credits in student area of concentration):

In addition to the general education requirements, students must take 24 credits of electives outside of the Faculty. These courses are selected in the context of the student's area of concentration and plan of study.

Free Electives:

Students must take up to 27 credits from any undergraduate program (including FES). These courses are selected in the context of the student's area of concentration and plan of study.

BES Degree Course Requirements (90 credits)

Students will automatically be placed in the 90-credit bachelor program if they do not achieve or maintain the minimum grade requirements for the Specialized Honours degree program. Students registered for a Specialized Honours degree may choose to graduate with a 90-credit BES if they fulfill that program's requirements.

In order to graduate with a BES degree, a student must successfully complete 90 credits and achieve a satisfactory academic standing, including the requirements as outlined below:

General Education (at least 12 credits):

Following York's philosophy of undergraduate education, BES students are required to study in humanities and the natural sciences.

- Humanities requirement: The BES humanities requirement can be satisfied by taking ES/ENVS 1800 6.00 or a 1000-level course (at least six credits) from the following: classical studies; English; French studies; history; humanities; languages, literature and linguistics; or philosophy.
- Science requirement: The natural science requirement is met by taking ES/ENVS 1500 6.00 Introduction to Science for Environmental Studies or a first-year (six-credit) course from the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science (excluding natural science courses).

Note: Students who declared Environmental Management: Policy, Resources and Conservation as their area of concentration are required to take either ES/ENVS 1500 6.00, or SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 to fulfill their natural science requirement.

Required Core Environmental Studies Courses (15 credits):

- ES/ENVS 1000 6.00
- ES/ENVS 1200 6.00
- ES/ENVS 3009 3.00

or

- ES/ENVS 3010 3.00

Note: Students enrolled in the Environmental Management area of concentration are required to take ES/ENVS 2410 3.00 and ES/ENVS 2420 3.00; further, they are required to take both ES/ENVS 3009 3.00 and ES/ENVS 3010 3.00.

Area of Concentration Requirement (at least 12 credits):

- ES/ENVS 2100 6.00
- ES/ENVS 2200 6.00
- ES/ENVS 2300 6.00
- ES/ENVS 2400 6.00

Faculty Requirement (24 credits):

A minimum of 24 credits at the 3000 or 4000 level in environmental studies (ENVS) courses in addition to (b) and (c) above. Of these, at least 12 credits must be in the declared area of concentration; the remaining 12 credits must be taken in the context of the plan of study.

Out-of-Faculty Elective Requirements (12 credits):

In addition to the general education requirements, students must take 12 credits of electives outside of the Faculty. These courses are selected in the context of the student's area of concentration and plan of study.

Free Electives:

Students must take up to 15 credits from any undergraduate program (including FES). These courses are selected in the context of the student's area of concentration and plan of study.

Students pursuing the 90-credit bachelor in environmental studies are required to declare an area of concentration. Course selection will be determined through the normal academic advising and plan of study processes.

Honours Double Major, Honours Major/Minor, Concurrent Education Program

In addition to taking courses in the BES program, students may decide to specialize in a specific subject or combination of subjects. The area or primary concentration is known as the major. An area of secondary concentration (if any) is known as the minor. In such cases, an application must be made using the application form available through the Current Students Web site. This request is subject to approval by the undergraduate program director and the other academic unit involved. Each program sets the details of the requirements for each double major or minor program in the Faculties of Arts, Fine Arts and Pure and Applied Science. BES students should consult the York University undergraduate calendar or the York University Web site (<http://www.yorku.ca>) for specific program requirements.

General Requirements

All students will have a "home" Faculty; students enrolled in the Faculty of Environmental Studies will receive a BES degree upon successful completion of their program; students in the Faculty of Arts will receive a BA; students in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science will receive a BSc; and students in the Faculty of Fine Arts will receive a BFA or BA.

All students in these programs must maintain Honours standing; for Faculties of Arts, Fine Arts and Pure and Applied Science students that will mean a cumulative grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses including those in environmental studies; for Faculty of Environmental Studies students that will mean a cumulative grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses including those in the Faculties of Arts, Fine Arts or Pure and Applied Science. Students must meet the degree and program requirements of their home Faculty.

Degree Double Major Requirements

For a major in environmental studies, Faculty of Arts students are required to complete seven full courses (42 credits) in environmental studies:

- ES/ENVS 1000 6.00
- two full-courses (12 credits) in the "foundations" series at the 2000 level (2100, 2200, 2300 or 2400)
- ES/ENVS 3009 3.00

or

- ES/ENVS 3010 3.00

- nine credits at the 3000 level
- 12 credits at the 4000 level

Note: Faculty of Arts students in the linked interdisciplinary Science and Society Program are required to complete six full courses (36 credits). Urban studies students who have declared environmental studies as their double major before September 2002 are required to complete 36 credits in environmental studies. Effective September 2002, students who declare environmental studies as a double major with urban studies are required to satisfy the 42 credits requirement listed above.

For further information, please refer to the Faculty of Arts section.

Degree Minor Requirements

For a minor in environmental studies, Faculties of Arts, Fine Arts and Pure and Applied Science students are required to complete five full courses (30 credits) in environmental studies:

- ES/ENVS 1000 6.00
- two full-courses (12 credits) in the "foundations" series at the 2000 level (2100, 2200, 2300 or 2400)
- six credits at the 3000 level or higher
- six credits at the 4000 level

Students should be aware that in order to complete the requirements of the honours double major or honours major/minor programs it may be necessary to complete more than 120 credits.

Faculty of Arts

Students in the BES program may apply to pursue an Honours Double Major program or an Honours Major/Minor program in any discipline in the Faculty of Arts, along with their major in environmental studies. Second major programs are available with any seven- or eight-course major discipline in arts, and the linked interdisciplinary Program in Science and Society. Minors may be pursued in several Faculty of Arts programs. For detailed information on requirements and application forms, please consult the Undergraduate Calendar at: <http://www.registrar.yorku.ca>.

Faculty of Fine Arts

BES students may apply to do a minor in any of the disciplines within the Faculty of Fine Arts with the exception of the Design Program. Students should consult the Undergraduate Calendar and visit the Faculty of Fine Arts for information on specific programs at: <http://www.yorku.ca/finearts/>.

Faculty of Pure and Applied Science

BES students who want to integrate their interest in environmental studies with science may apply to pursue an Honours Minor program with biology, chemistry, earth and atmospheric science, or physics and astronomy disciplines in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science (FPAS). Students who intend to apply to any of these programs must complete relevant science courses in high school and take their University first-year environmental science course from FPAS instead of the ES/ENVS 1500 6.00 course offered in FES. For detailed information, please consult the Undergraduate Calendar at: <http://www.registrar.yorku.ca>.

Faculty of Education Concurrent Education Program

The Faculty of Education at York University offers the BEd degree in both a Consecutive Program (i.e. requiring a one-year period of study after obtaining a bachelor's degree), and a Concurrent Program, where students who are enrolled in the BES program may apply to co-register in the Faculty of Education.

BES students may apply to enter the Concurrent Program after completing one or two years in the BES program. Candidates admitted to the Concurrent Education Program would add a minimum of one year to their undergraduate studies. Successful candidates then work to complete their BES program in addition to completing their education studies for a bachelor of education degree.

Admission Requirements for the Concurrent Education Program:

- completion of a minimum of four full courses of a first year of undergraduate studies or the equivalent, by April 30; and
- a minimum of six full courses left to complete the student's academic degree; and/or

- a minimum C+ overall average or Honours standing and admission and enrolment in an undergraduate program (in this case the BES program).

Successful co-registrants are usually selected on the basis of education-related experience, references, university grade point averages and individual interviews. Applications should be directed to the Faculty of Education, Office of Student Programs, 8th floor, Ross Building. The application deadline is in early March of each year.

For further information, please visit the Faculty of Education Web site, at: <http://www.edu.yorku.ca/academicprograms/>.

BES Certificate Programs

While working towards the completion of their BES degree, students may opt to study towards a York University general or professional certificate in one of three areas: geographic information systems and remote sensing, environmental landscape design or refugee and migration studies. In order to do so, students are required to complete a number of required and elective courses, in addition to completing other degree requirements. Contact the FES Office of Student and Academic Services, room 352 Lumbers Building, for more information on applying to these certificate programs.

Certificate in Geographic Information Systems (GIS) and Remote Sensing

York University degree candidates and non-degree students may earn a Certificate in GIS and Remote Sensing. GIS and Remote Sensing encompasses the art, science and technology involved in collecting and managing geographically-referenced information.

Required Courses (24 credits):

- ES/ENVS 1000 6.00
- ES/ENVS 3009 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3520 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3521 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4520 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4521 3.00

or

- ES/ENVS 4522 3.00

Elective Courses:

- ES/ENVS 4455 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3225 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3226 3.00
- SC/EATS 4220 3.00
- SC/EATS 4230 3.00
- AS/SC/GEOG 2130 3.00
- AS/GEOG 2350 3.00
- AS/GEOG 3140 3.00
- AS/GEOG 4240 3.00

Note: Students intending to pursue the GIS certificate with the Faculty of Environmental Studies should enrol in ES/ENVS 3009 3.00 in their second year of study.

Other Requirements:

Students working towards this certificate must:

- maintain a cumulative grade point average of 6.0 (B) in the certificate required courses and achieve a cumulative grade point average of 5.0 (C+) in all courses; and
- register in the program after completing 24 credits.

Students who have been exempted from any of the required courses or non-degree students who have successfully completed the equivalent of any of the required courses must substitute additional credits from the certificate program elective courses list, for an overall total of 24 credits in the certificate program.

Certificate in Environmental Landscape Design

Undergraduate students may earn a Certificate in Environmental Landscape Design (ELD) as part of their BES Specialized Honours program. Along with the ELD certificate requirements, students must complete the BES Honours degree requirements. The ELD certificate is linked to the area of concentration in urban and regional environments, accordingly, ELD students must enrol in ES/ENVS 2200 6.00 as one of their area of concentration courses. The certificate emphasizes environmental design as an innovative and interactive practice to critically intervene in the social and environmental reclamation of urban landscapes, places, sites and ecologies. Lecture courses, studio workshops and site visits examine the social, experiential, political, ecological, artistic and technological aspects of ELD.

Required Courses (42 credits):

- ES/ENVS 3230 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3700 6.00
- ES/ENVS 3720 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3730 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3740 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3760 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3770 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4225 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4700 6.00
- ES/ENVS 4750 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4760 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4770 3.00

and

- one additional three-credit course at the 3000 level in environmental studies*

Suggested courses:

- ES/ENVS 3226 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3000 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3120 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3140 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3160 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3420 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3430 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3440 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3450 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3520 3.00

* This three-credit environmental studies course will satisfy the core requirement instead of ES/ENVS 3011 3.00.

Academic Standards:

Minimum grade of 5.0 (C+) in each course credited to the ELD certificate and a cumulative grade point average of 5.0 (C+) must be maintained.

Certificate in Community Arts Practice (CAP)

York University students may earn a Certificate in Community Arts Practice (CAP). The certificate focuses on working with communities by using art as a tool to express diverse identities and to explore and take action on social and environmental issues. Students will develop creative artistic skills, expand their social analysis and learn to work collaboratively with groups for social change.

Required Courses (24 credits):

- ES/ENVS 2122 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3122 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4122 6.00
- ES/ENVS 2100 6.00 or FA/VISA 2053 3.00 and FA/VISA 3001B 3.00
- Six credits from the elective list

Information on elective courses is available by contacting the Faculty of Environmental Studies and the Faculty of Fine Arts.

General Certificate in Refugee and Migration Studies

Faculty of Environmental Studies students may earn a General Certificate in Refugee and Migration Studies while, and in addition to, fulfilling the requirements for the BES program. To qualify for the General Certificate, students must complete AS/SOSC 1130 9.00 (International Migration) or AK/SOSC 2000 6.00 (Introduction to Refugee Studies) and three full (or equivalent) courses from a list of approved courses of which at least two will be at the 3000 or 4000 level. The cumulative grade point average in these courses must be 5.0 or higher and BES degree requirements must be met.

FES students must submit a study plan to the education coordinator at the Centre for Refugee Studies (CRS), to ensure that all certificate requirements have been considered. Further information is available from the education coordinator, Centre for Refugee Studies, or the coordinator's academically accredited designate.

Required Courses:

- AS/SOSC 1130 9.00

or

- AK/SOSC 2000 6.00
- three full (or equivalent) appropriate courses

A list of pre-approved environmental studies courses follows. Other relevant courses may be selected and submitted for approval with the student's study plan, which must be reviewed by the education coordinator, Centre for Refugee Studies, or the coordinator's designate.

Environmental studies courses for the Refugee and Migration Studies Certificate:

- ES/ENVS 2200 6.00
- ES/ENVS 2300 6.00
- ES/ENVS 3160 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3310 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4210 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4220 3.00
- ES/ENVS 4312 3.00

Other courses are listed in the Faculties of Arts, Glendon and Atkinson calendars. For more information, please see the CRS Web site at: <http://www.yorku.ca/crs/>.

BES Joint Programs

Joint programs offer students the opportunity to receive a combined university degree and a college diploma from either Seneca College or Sir Sandford Fleming College, and a certificate from Humber College in what would otherwise take seven years. The York-Humber program may be completed in four years, while the York-Seneca and York-Sir Sandford Fleming programs are five years in duration. These accelerated programs can begin either at the respective college or at York University (with the exception of the York-Humber Joint Program), and are then completed at the partner institution. Students enrolled in joint programs must fulfill the joint program requirements of both institutions.

Students who are enrolled in FES are required to complete a minimum of 90 credits within the first three years of the joint program with a 5.0 (C+) grade point average, including core, Faculty, area of concentration and general education requirements. They are also required to submit an application to the joint program at the respective college in October of their third year of study.

With the exception of the York-Humber Joint Program, students who begin their diploma at the college should apply to the Joint Program in Environmental Studies through the normal York admission process in the final year of their diploma. Acceptance is contingent upon students successfully completing the diploma with a minimum 3.0 grade point average at the college. Successful applicants will be awarded 60 block credits toward their BES program. Students who choose to opt out of the Joint Program at York and attend another program will have their advanced standing re-evaluated.

Note: Students enrolled in the 90-credit BES degree program are not eligible to apply to any joint program directly, although they may apply to the respective colleges separately after having completed the 90-credit BES program.

York-Humber College Joint Program in International Project Management

York University students in the BES program may apply to the Joint Program in International Project Management at Humber College at the beginning of their third year of studies. Upon successful completion of the joint program, students receive an Honours BES degree and a post-diploma Certificate in International Project Management.

BES Degree Requirements

Year 1 - (30 credits):

- ES/ENVS 1000 6.00
- ES/ENVS 1200 6.00
- ES/ENVS 1500 6.00
- humanities (six credits)
- electives (six credits)

Year 2 - (30 credits):

- ES/ENVS 3009 3.00

or

- ES/ENVS 3010 3.00
- ES/ENVS 2300 6.00
- ES/ENVS 2400 6.00
- electives (15 credits): recommended to include ANTH 1110 6.00

Year 3 - (30 credits):

- ES/ENVS 3000 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3226 3.00

or

- ES/ENVS 3310 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3340 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3430 3.00
- 18 credits at the 4000 level chosen in the context of area of concentration

Year 4 - At Humber College:

Course selections will be determined by the Humber College program coordinator during an individual advising appointment.

For more information on the Humber College program, visit: <http://business.humberc.on.ca/international-project-management/>.

York-Seneca Joint Program in Urban Sustainability

York University students in the Honours BES program may apply to the Joint Program in Urban Sustainability (JPUS) at Seneca College during their third year of studies, and must maintain a minimum grade point average of 5.0 (C+). After successfully completing the JPUS, students will receive their Honours bachelor in environmental studies degree and their civil engineering technology diploma. Students enrolled in the joint program will take part in a joint colloquium.

BES Degree Requirements

Year 1 - Five full courses (30 credits):

- ES/ENVS 1000 6.00
- ES/ENVS 1200 6.00
- ES/ENVS 1500 6.00 (students may take SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 or SC/BIOL 1410 6.00 instead if they have OACs or equivalents in both chemistry and biology)
- humanities (six credits)
- electives (six credits, recommend SOSC 1730 6.00 Urbanization: A World Perspective or equivalent)

Year 2 - Five full courses (30 credits):

- ES/ENVS 2200 6.00
- ES/ENVS 2410 3.00
- ES/ENVS 2420 3.00
- ES/ENVS 2400 6.00
- AS/SOSC 2710 6.00

or

- AS/SOSC 2730 6.00
- electives (six credits)

Year 3 - Five full courses (30 credits):

- ES/ENVS 3000 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3009 3.00
- six credits at the 3000 level (ES/ENVS 3225 3.00 and ES/ENVS 3226 3.00 required)
- 18 credits at the 4000 level (ES/ENVS 4225 3.00 and ES/ENVS 4226 3.00 required)

Years 4 and 5 - at Seneca College:

Course selections will be determined with the Seneca program coordinator during an individual advising appointment.

Degree Requirements for Students Enrolling at York After Completing their Technologist Program at Seneca College

Year 1 - (30 credits):

- ES/ENVS 1000 6.00
- humanities (six credits)
- 12 credits of foundations courses
- ES/ENVS 2200 6.00
- plus six credits from the following: ES/ENVS 2100 6.00; ES/ENVS 2300 6.00; ES/ENVS 2400 6.00
- electives (six credits)

Year 2 - (30 Credits):

- ES/ENVS 3000 3.00
- nine credits at the 3000 level (ES/ENVS 3225 3.00 and ES/ENVS 3226 3.00 required)
- 18 credits in FES at the 4000 level, including the joint program colloquium (ES/ENVS 4225 3.00 and ES/ENVS 4226 3.00 required)

Degree Credit Exclusions for Seneca Technologist Students at York

Students entering the Joint Program in Environmental Studies from Seneca College will be exempted from the following courses: ES/ENVS 1200 6.00, ES/ENVS 1500 6.00, ES/ENVS 2500 6.00, ES/ENVS 2410 3.00, ES/ENVS 2420 3.00.

For more information on the Seneca College program, visit: <http://www.senecac.on.ca/fulltime/CVTC.html>.

York-Sir Sandford Fleming Joint Program in Ecosystem Management

York University students in the Honours BES program may apply to the Joint Program in Ecosystem Management (JPEM) at Sir Sandford Fleming (SSFC) during their third year of studies, and must maintain a minimum grade point average of 5.0 (C+). After successfully completing the JPEM, students will receive their Honours BES degree and their ecosystem management technologist diploma. Students enrolled in the joint program will take part in a joint colloquium.

Degree Requirements for Students First Enrolling in the BES Program at York

Year 1 - (30 credits):

- ES/ENVS 1000 6.00
- ES/ENVS 1200 6.00
- ES/ENVS 1500 6.00 (students may take SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 or SC/BIOL 1410 6.00 instead if they have OACs or equivalents in both chemistry and biology)
- humanities (six credits)
- electives (six credits: AK/AS/SC/COSC 1520 3.00 and AK/AS/SC/COSC 1540 3.00 recommended)

Year 2 - (30 credits):

- ES/ENVS 2100 6.00
- ES/ENVS 2400 6.00
- ES/ENVS 2410 3.00
- ES/ENVS 2420 3.00
- SC/BIOL 2050 3.00 (students must inquire at the Biology Department for prerequisites)
- electives (nine credits)

Year 3 - (30 credits):

- ES/ENVS 3009 3.00
- ES/ENVS 3010 3.00
- six credits at the 3000 level (chosen in the context of student's area of concentration)
- 18 credits of BES courses at the 4000 level (chosen in the context of student's area of concentration)

Years 4 and 5 - (at SSFC):

Course selections will be determined by the Sir Sandford Fleming program coordinator during an individual advising appointment.

York Degree Credit Exclusions for SSFC

York students who have taken ES/ENVS 3520 3.00 and ES/ENVS 3521 3.00 while in the BES program will be exempted from the introductory course in GIS at SSFC, and will take an elective course instead.

Degree Requirements for Students Enrolling at York After Completing their SSFC Technologist Program

Year 1:

- ES/ENVS 1000 6.00
- humanities (six credits)
- ES/ENVS 2400 6.00
- ES/ENVS 3000 3.00
- electives (nine credits)

Year 2:

- 12 credits in FES at the 3000 or 4000 level (from the area of concentration in Environmental Management and Policy)
- 18 credits in FES at the 4000 level from the area of concentration in Environmental Management and Policy)

Degree Credit Exclusions for SSFC Technologist Students

Students entering the Joint Program in Environmental Studies from SSFC will be exempted from the following courses: ES/ENVS 1200 6.00, ES/ENVS 1500 6.00, ES/ENVS 3009 3.00, ES/ENVS 2410 3.00, ES/ENVS 2420 3.00. Degree credit exclusions may apply to ES/ENVS 3520 3.00 (GIS), ES/ENVS 3521 3.00 (Remote Sensing), ES/ENVS 4442 3.00 (Environmental Monitoring), ES/ENVS 4520 3.00 (GIS Applications), depending on the courses students have taken at SSFC.

For more information on the SSFC program, visit: <http://www.flemingc.on.ca>.

Academic Honours

The Faculty recognizes the academic excellence of its students in appropriate ways. The following honours will be recorded on a student's transcript.

Scholarships and Merit Awards

These include FES Awards and Scholarships, Merit Awards, Entrance Scholarships, Renewable Scholarships and In-Course Scholarships.

Sessional Dean's Honour Roll

The Dean's Honour Roll recognizes a student's academic achievements in a given session based on the following criteria:

- Students taking 12 to 17 credits in a given session who have attained a sessional grade point average of 8.00.
- Students taking 18 or more credits in a given session who have attained a sessional grade point average of 7.50.

Graduating Honours

Students with high grade point averages are eligible for the following honours upon graduation from the Faculty:

Honours BES Degree (120 credits)

- Summa cum laude: 8.00 or above cumulative grade point average.
- Magna cum laude: 7.80 - 7.99 cumulative grade point average.
- Cum laude: 7.50 - 7.79 cumulative grade point average.

- Dean's Graduating Honour Roll: 7.00 cumulative grade point average.
- Dean's Sessional Honour Roll: 8.00 sessional cumulative grade point average on 12 to 17 credits or 7.50 sessional cumulative grade point average on 18 or more credits.

BES Degree (90 credits)

- With Distinction: 8.00 or above cumulative grade point average.
- With Merit: 7.50 - 7.99 cumulative grade point average.
- Dean's Graduating Honour Roll: 7.00 -7.49 cumulative grade point average.
- Dean's Sessional Honour Roll: 8.00 sessional cumulative grade point average on 12 to 17 credits or 7.50 sessional cumulative grade point average on 18 or more credits.

Grading and Academic Standards

The Faculty of Environmental Studies follows the York University undergraduate grading scheme which awards letters ranging from A+ to F and assigns a point value from 0 to 9 to each letter grade. The various grades that may be awarded in satisfying the requirement of a BES course or assignment are outlined in the BES Supplemental Calendar, available at the Office of Student and Academic Services in 352 Lumbers Building.

BES Term Work, Tests and Examinations

Term Work: Term work includes reports, assignments, essays, tests, and other written and oral work assigned in a course, with the exception of final examinations, as outlined in the approved course syllabus. Course directors set the deadlines for submission of term work. All term work must be submitted by the last day of classes of the term in which the course ends. Term work submitted after the last day of classes of the term in which the course ends will not be accepted for grading. Students will be penalized one-half grade point per day that their assignments are late. Exceptions to the lateness policy for valid reasons such as illness, compassionate grounds etc. will be entertained by the course director only when supported by written documentation (e.g. a doctor's letter).

Examinations: Examinations may be held in any BES course in such form and manner as decided by the course director and as described in the approved course syllabus. Examinations are an essential part of the learning and evaluation process. They must be conducted under fair conditions which allow students to analyze, synthesize, and demonstrate what they have learned. Disruptions or attempts to obtain an unfair advantage are offences against due academic processes and carry severe penalties.

End of Term Restrictions: The total value of any test(s) or examination(s) given during the last two weeks of classes in a term must carry a combined weighting of no more than 20 per cent of the final mark for the course.

Scheduling of Tests: Except where testing is conducted during individual appointments which accommodate a student's schedule (for example, individually scheduled make-up tests), tests or examinations given during the term must be held within the hours regularly scheduled for the course in question.

Students' Rights of Refusal: Students who are asked to write tests or examinations in contravention of the preceding two regulations may refuse to do so without academic penalty. They also have the right to raise the matter with the undergraduate program director.

General Regulations for Tests and Examinations

Identification: Students who are being tested or examined are required to present their sessional validation card and an acceptable form of photographic identification when asked to do so by an instructor or invigilator. Acceptable forms of photographic identification include a valid driver's license with photograph attached, a valid passport or other certificate of citizenship with photograph attached.

Formally Scheduled Examinations

Final Examination Period: There is a final examination period at the end of each term, as published in the York University Undergraduate Lecture Schedule.

Examination Schedules: The dates, times and places of formally scheduled examinations are published each term on the Current Student's Web site (<http://www.yorku.ca>, click on Current Students). Examinations may last two or three hours. Students are responsible for making themselves aware of the appropriate examination details.

Missed Examinations: A student who misses an examination must contact the Office of Student and Academic Services or the Registrar's Office within 48 hours of the examination. A student who wishes to write a make-up examination must petition for deferred standing in the course.

Rewriting of Examinations: There shall be no rewriting of a final examination to improve a mark.

Assessment of Students in BES Courses

The course director shall assess students enrolled in each BES course in light of the requirements set at the beginning of the course as articulated in the course syllabus. These assessments shall be based on a combination of tests or formal examination(s), participation in classes, term work submitted, and other evidence as determined by the course director.

Marking scheme:

- Announcement in class: The means of determining the final grade in a course shall be provided to students by the course director. Such information must include the types of assignments, essays, examinations, and other components, which make up the grade, their relative weight(s), and any other procedures, which enter into the determination of the final grade.
- Subsequent changes: In exceptional circumstances, a previously announced marking scheme for a course may be changed, but only with the consent of all students and the approval of the undergraduate program director. The course director must distribute the new marking scheme in written form to the students.
- Feedback during course: Instructors are obliged to provide a mechanism by which students can be apprised of their progress in a course. Students must be able to make an informed decision on whether to withdraw from a course within the university's official deadline. Students will receive some graded feedback on work for all courses prior to the final deadline for withdrawing from a course without receiving a grade. Instructors are urged to provide more feedback where possible. Under normal circumstances, graded feedback worth at least 15 per cent of the final grade for fall, winter, or summer term, and 30 per cent for full year courses offered in the fall/winter term must be received by students. Exceptions include: graduate or upper level courses with course work consisting of a single piece of work and/or are based predominantly on student presentations; practicum courses; ungraded courses; courses in Faculties where the drop date occurs within the first three weeks of classes; and, compressed courses (where academic credits of work are accomplished at a rate of more than one credit hour per two calendar weeks).

Alternate Grading Method

Pass/Fail:

Students in the Faculty of Environmental Studies can request a pass/fail option only after completing 24 credits. Courses taken under the pass/fail option will be annotated on their transcript as "Pass" or "Fail." Neither of these grades will be calculated into their grade point average. The following rules apply to the pass/fail option:

- Only students who have good academic standing may choose this option (i.e. above 4.0 or 5.0 grade point average, depending on degree program);
- Students are required to have completed 24 credits before requesting this option;
- Courses taken under this option may not be used to satisfy major, minor, general education or certificate requirements or 1000-level science courses;
- Students in the Honours BES program can take a maximum of 12 credits on the pass/fail option;
- Students in the 90-credit BES program may take a maximum of six credits on the pass/fail option;

- Students who intend to take a course on the pass/fail option must request to do so within the first two weeks of classes in the term in which the course is being offered;
- Students are required to fill out an application form - available at Student Client Services or online at the Current Students Web site. The student will return the completed form with the course director's approval to Student Client Services;
- Students who select the pass/fail grading option can switch back to a graded option without academic penalties until the last day to drop the course.

Repeated Courses

Students are allowed to retake a failed course once for academic degree or certificate credit. Students are allowed to retake a passed course once for academic degree or certificate credit, only if the student has failed to achieve sufficient standing to proceed in a core or prerequisite course in a degree or certificate program and if no alternative remedies are provided (e.g. alternative qualifying examination). Students should note that course availability and space considerations may preclude the possibility of repeating a course in the session they choose.

When a student is allowed to repeat a course for academic degree or certificate credit, the second grade will be the grade of record and the only grade calculated in the student's grade point average (major, cumulative, sessional and overall). In the rare circumstance that a course is retaken more than once, the second grade remains the grade of record, regardless of the numbers of times the student retakes the course. A course can be credited only once towards satisfaction of degree or certificate academic credit requirements.

The record of both the first and second time the course was taken will appear on the student's transcript, with the first course designated as "No Credit Retained" (NCR). A student must be declared eligible to proceed in degree or certificate program in order to be eligible to repeat a course. That is to say, when a student fails to achieve sufficient standing to proceed in a degree or certificate program, or when they are required to withdraw, they would not be eligible to repeat a course or courses.

Grade Reappraisals

Reappraisal of Final BES Course Grades:

A student may, with sufficient grounds, request that a final course grade be reappraised. Such requests must be submitted on the approved form (which is available from the respective office) to the departmental office responsible for offering the course within 21 calendar days of the release of the final grade in the course. The course director shall do the reappraisal personally, or recommend a qualified person to do so to the undergraduate program director (e.g. a teaching assistant from the same course or a faculty member familiar with the course material). A reappraisal may result in a lower, higher, or unchanged grade. Whenever the grade reappraisal reflects a grade change it will be annotated on the student's transcript.

Further Appeal for Reappraisal of a Final BES Course Grade:

If the student is not satisfied with a reappraised final course grade, the procedure shall be as follows:

- The course director and the student shall discuss the matter with the undergraduate program director, who may or may not arrange another reappraisal;
- If the matter remains unresolved, the student may appeal the grade by petition on the appropriate form provided by the Office of Student and Academic Services to the BES Program and Admissions Subcommittee, clearly stating the grounds for appeal;
- The decision of the BES Program and Admissions Subcommittee shall be final, and may be appealed to the FES Appeals Committee only on grounds of procedural irregularity.

Reappraisal of Grades Other Than Final Course Grades:

If a student is not satisfied with any grade — other than a final course grade — received from an instructor or teaching assistant, the student is expected to discuss the matter (and at such time may request a reappraisal) with the person from whom the student received the grade, normally within two weeks. A reappraisal may result in a lower, higher, or unchanged grade. If the student is not satisfied with the result of the reappraisal, the instructor or teaching assistant (where appropriate) shall discuss the matter with the course director. The course director shall decide whether or not to reappraise the student's work, and his/her decision is final for all grades other than final course grades.

Deferred Standing

In some cases, students may be eligible for deferred standing (an extension) to write a test or final examination or to complete an assignment after the Faculty's deadline for submission of term work. Senate policy states that students must request deferred standing through the department responsible for the course within one week following a missed examination or the last day to submit course work.

Students are responsible for ensuring that full documentation (medical or other) is provided in support of a petition for deferred standing. Application forms are available at Student Client Services or online at the Current Students Web site, or from the FES Office of Student and Academic Services.

Aegrotat Standing

In cases where a student cannot be expected to complete the work for a course, the phrase "aegrotat standing" (from the Latin for "she/he is ill") is substituted for a grade on the transcript. Aegrotat standing is seldom granted, and only in exceptional circumstances where deferred standing is inappropriate. For more information, please contact your course director.

Academic Penalties

Students whose academic record does not meet Faculty standards are subject to the academic penalties of academic warning, required withdrawal, debarment warning, debarment and academic probation.

Academic Warning

Students whose cumulative grade point average falls below 4.0 (C) at the end of any session, or who enter the Faculty with a grade point average equivalent to less than 4.0 (C) on the York University undergraduate grading scheme, receive an academic warning. Students who receive an academic warning must achieve a cumulative grade point average of at least 4.0 (C) within the next 24 credits taken, or must earn a sessional grade point average of at least 5.0 (C+) in the session in which the 24th credit is completed and in each subsequent session until the cumulative average reaches 4.0 (C), or be required to withdraw.

Required Withdrawal

Students whose academic record show marked weaknesses may be required to withdraw from their studies for one year, during which time they are encouraged to identify and remedy any problems which may have contributed to their failure to perform up to their potential, and to reflect on their reasons for pursuing a university education. The following regulations apply to required withdrawals:

Grade Point Average Below 3.0 (D+)

Grade Point Average Below 4.0 (C) and Greater than 3.0 (D+)

Students who have received an academic warning for a cumulative grade point average below 4.0 (C) must achieve a cumulative grade point average of at least 4.0 (C) within their next 24 credits taken or earn a sessional grade point average of at least 5.0 (C+) in the session in which the 24th credit is completed and in each subsequent session until the cumulative average reaches 4.0 (C); otherwise, they must withdraw for 12 months. Should the student's cumulative grade point average fall below 3.0 (D+) at any time after completion of 24 credits, they will be required to withdraw.

Petition to Continue Without Interruption

Students who have been required to withdraw may submit a petition to the Faculty of Environmental Studies Petitions (BES Program and Admissions) Committee requesting permission to continue their studies without interruption. For further information, contact the undergraduate program administrative and records assistant in the Office of Student and Academic Services, 352 Lumbers Building.

Reactivation After Required Withdrawal

Students who have been required to withdraw may apply for reactivation (to continue their studies) after the requisite period of absence by submitting a form obtainable from Student Client Services or online at the Current Students Web site. Students who return to their studies after such a required withdrawal (as well as those who have been allowed to continue their studies by virtue of a petition to the FES Petitions Committee) will receive a debarment warning.

Debarment Warning

Students who have been required to withdraw from the Faculty of Environmental Studies or from another Faculty at York or elsewhere receive will a debarment warning upon returning or continuing their studies in the Faculty of Environmental Studies. Students on a debarment warning must achieve a cumulative grade point average of at least 4.0 (C) within the next 24 credits taken or earn a sessional grade point average of at least 5.0 (C+) in the session in which the 24th credit is completed and in each subsequent session until their cumulative average reaches 4.0 (C), and must then maintain this average. Students who do not fulfill these conditions will be debarred from the University. Students whose cumulative grade point average falls below 3.0 (D+) at any time while on a debarment warning will be debarred.

Debarment

Students who have already been required to withdraw because of their unsatisfactory academic record and whose record does not show improvement will be debarred from the University. Debarment, the minimum period for which is normally two years, means that a student is no longer a student at York University.

Petition to Continue Without Interruption

Students who have been debarred may submit a petition to the Faculty of Environmental Studies Petitions Committee requesting permission to continue their studies without interruption. For further information, contact the undergraduate program administrative and records assistant in the Office of Student and Academic Services, 352 Lumbers Building.

Reapplying After Debarment

Students who have been debarred and who wish to resume their studies must apply for admission through the Admissions Office and must provide persuasive evidence that they are ready and able to complete a degree program.

Academic Probation

Students who have been debarred and who subsequently resume their studies in the Faculty of Environmental Studies—whether by petitioning to continue without interruption or by reapplying for admission—will receive an academic probation. The conditions for continuing on an academic probation are the same as those for a debarment warning.

Breach of Academic Honesty

Conduct that violates the ethical or legal standards of the University community is a serious matter. In particular, any breach of academic honesty is a most serious offence to both the University community and the academic enterprise. Therefore, all faculty members are required to treat any breach of academic honesty, no matter how small the breach may appear, as a most serious matter demanding most thorough investigation. The rules embodied in the University Senate Policy on Academic Honesty and the Procedures Governing Breach of Academic Honesty apply to all BES students and are described in the University Policies section of this Calendar.

In the Faculty of Environmental Studies it is a serious offence against academic honesty, among other things, to cheat, to impersonate, to plagiarize or misappropriate the work of others, to practice improper research procedures, to be dishonest in publication, to aid and abet academic misconduct, or to undertake any other action that runs counter to academic honesty. In addition, some forms of breach of academic honesty might constitute offences under the Criminal Code of Canada. While the pressures of school may be such that a student may feel pressured to breach academic honesty, students must completely resist such pressures. Students who are unsure of what may constitute a breach of academic honesty should consult with the Senate Policy on Academic Honesty (in the University Policies and Regulations section of this Calendar), or with the Faculty of Environmental Studies Office of Student and Academic Services. Copies of the FES Academic Regulations are available at the Office of Student and Academic Services, 352 Lumbers Building.

Academic Standing

Academic standing depends on several factors, including the number of courses a student has passed, the grade point average achieved during a particular session (sessional grade point average) and the overall grade point average (cumulative grade point average).

BES Honours Degree

Qualifying for Honours: Students with no Previous Postsecondary Education

Students who enter the Faculty of Environmental Studies with no prior experience at a postsecondary educational institution (such as a university or college) are automatically enrolled in an Honours program.

Transfer Students

Students who enter with prior experience at a postsecondary educational institution are enrolled in an Honours program if their prior cumulative grade point average (including failed courses) is at least the equivalent of 5.0 (C+) on the York scale. (Note: Courses taken at other postsecondary institutions are not calculated as part of the student's grade point average at York, nor do they appear on the York University transcript.)

Continuing in Honours

To continue in an Honours program, students must maintain a cumulative grade point average of at least 5.0 (C+).

Graduating in Honours

To graduate from an Honours program, students must successfully complete (pass) at least 120 credits which meet the Faculty of Environmental Studies' program requirements. The cumulative grade point average for all courses taken must be at least 5.0 (C+).

Courses taken Beyond the Normal Maximum

Students in an Honours BES program who successfully complete more than 120 credits and whose cumulative grade point average is at least 5.0 (C+) will have all credits counted towards their Honours BES and their cumulative grade point average.

Opting to Graduate in the BES Program (90 credit)

Students registered in the 120-credit Honours program may opt to graduate with a 90-credit degree if they fulfill those program requirements. Students who wish to take advantage of this option should complete the relevant form at the Office of Student Academic Services, 352 Lumbers Building, by early December for graduation the following spring, or by mid-August for graduation the following fall (refer to the 90 credit program requirements).

Students registered in an Honours BES program whose cumulative grade point average after completion of 90 credits falls below 5.0 (C+), but remains 4.0 (C) or above, may request to graduate with a 90-credit BES degree if they fulfill the degree requirements, or may continue in the program until the requirements for the 90-credit degree are fulfilled. They may not continue in an Honours program and they may not take extra courses in a subsequent session in an effort to raise their cumulative grade point average to re-enter the Honours program.

Ineligibility to Continue in Honours

Students whose cumulative grade point average falls below 5.0 (C+) may continue their studies only in the BES 90-credit degree program.

Re-entering Honours

Students who are ineligible to continue in the Honours program because their cumulative grade point average has fallen below 5.0 (C+) may re-enter the BES Honours program only if they raise their cumulative grade point average to 5.0 (C+) or above by the time they have successfully completed their 90th credit.

BES Degree

Students must successfully complete (pass) courses for at least 90 credits which meet the bachelor of environmental studies program requirements. The cumulative grade point average for all courses taken must be at least 4.0 (C).

Courses taken Beyond the Normal Maximum—in Order to Raise Cumulative Grade Point Average

Students in the BES program who have passed 90 credits in accordance with the Faculty of Environmental Studies program requirements, but whose cumulative grade point average is below 4.0 (C), may attempt to raise their average to 4.0 (C) by taking up to 12 additional credits, to a maximum of 102 credits. These courses must be above the 1000 level and a minimum of six credits must be taken in FES; regulations on equivalent and excluded courses apply.

Courses taken Beyond the Normal Maximum

Students in the BES program who successfully complete more than 90 credits and whose cumulative grade point average is at least 4.0 (C) and less than 5.0 (C+) will have all credits counted towards their BES degree and their cumulative grade point average.

Transferring to Honours

Students in the BES program who become eligible for Honours will automatically be transferred to the Honours BES degree program. Students who have graduated from the Faculty of Environmental Studies with a BES degree and whose record makes them eligible for an Honours BES may apply to the Faculty to pursue the Honours degree.

General Information

The Faculty is committed to excellence in the fine arts and defines its role and mission as follows:

- To prepare and encourage critically informed practitioners, scholars and teachers of the fine and performing arts, who will make new and significant contributions in Canada and internationally.
- To offer comprehensive training that integrates practical, critical, historical and theoretical approaches toward understanding and innovation in the context of a broad university experience.
- To offer undergraduate and graduate programs in six major disciplines of the fine and performing arts: dance, design, film and video, music, theatre and visual arts, as well as interdisciplinary courses and programs leading to the degrees of BA, BA Honours, BFA Honours, BDes Honours, and in specified areas, MA, MFA and PhD.
- To build, maintain and sustain a faculty complement of high quality, a community of scholars and practitioners in all disciplines.
- To provide education in the fine arts to the larger University community and to advance the teaching of the arts at all levels.
- To investigate, enliven and promote the fine arts in Canadian society while serving the varied constituencies of the community, locally, regionally, nationally and internationally.

Academic Advising and Student Responsibility

The information contained in this Calendar and other publications is designed to be self-explanatory. The Faculty recognizes, however, there may be specific questions about regulations which are not answered here. Those questions should be addressed to one of the following sources of information given below.

The Registrar's Office

The Registrar's Office administers most of the academic regulations contained in the Faculty of Fine Arts section (416-736-5440; <http://www.registrar.yorku.ca>). This office provides a wide range of administrative services to students, staff and faculty members, including:

- performing general registrarial functions relating to enrolment and record-keeping;
- applying the Faculty's rules on academic standing, including eligibility to graduate;
- reporting final grades to students;
- producing official university transcripts;
- advising students about petitions and receiving petitions for exemptions from academic regulations.

Student and Academic Services

Student service/guidance personnel, prospective and current students and other interested persons wishing further information about the Faculty, the University and its programs or who wish to arrange a visit to the campus may contact the Student and Academic Services office, 201 Joan and Martin Goldfarb Centre for Fine Arts, at 416-736-5135. This office also coordinates academic and peer advising programs for new students and provides information and advice to undergraduates and faculty concerning admission, degree programs and their requirements, academic regulations and procedures and convocation.

Department Offices

Enquiries regarding auditions and evaluations, course offerings and faculty should be addressed to the various department offices. Office locations and telephone numbers are listed in the departmental sections of this Calendar.

Advising

The Faculty of Fine Arts considers academic advising an important responsibility. The Student and Academic Services area in the Faculty of Fine Arts provides assistance and support to students in the following areas:

- interpretation and application of the Faculty's academic regulations;
- selecting a major and courses;
- academic planning.

The above functions may vary in their significance to students at different times of the academic year and at different points in a student's academic career. Non-academic advising and counselling is offered by Career Services, the Counselling and Development Centre and the Office of Student Affairs.

Advising students is a shared responsibility of the Student and Academic Services office and the departments of the Faculty. Students should contact department offices throughout the year for advice and information related to their academic career including academic performance, degree programs and requirements.

Student Responsibilities

Every effort is made to ensure that students in the Faculty of Fine Arts have access to accurate information and individual advice and guidance. Within this context, and within the framework of Faculty and program regulations, students are responsible for making their own choices regarding courses and programs. Students should take special care to:

- ensure the courses they choose meet all the requirements for graduation;
- ensure the courses they choose meet prerequisites and are not exclusions or equivalents of other courses already taken;
- ensure the times of the courses they choose do not conflict;
- ensure the accuracy of their registration records, including all changes;
- note and observe deadlines and procedures, especially deadlines for adding and dropping courses;
- ensure full documentation is provided in support of petitions and other requests for special consideration;
- keep themselves informed about their academic progress, including their performance in individual courses. It is incumbent on faculty members to make available to their students assessments of their work and, if requested, to discuss students' progress with them.

Letters of Permission

Letters of permission allow Faculty of Fine Arts students to receive credit at York for courses taken at other universities. In order to receive credit for such courses, a letter of permission must be obtained prior to enrolling. Application forms for letters of permission are available at Student Client Services or on the Current Students Web site at <http://www.yorku.ca>, click on Current Students.

Courses which students propose to take on a letter of permission must be acceptable to the Faculty of Fine Arts teaching unit best able to judge their academic merit. The Faculty is under no obligation to accept courses taken without its permission.

Students must be in good academic standing to be eligible for a letter of permission; students under academic warning or debarment warning are not eligible.

In order to receive credit for courses taken on a letter of permission, students must arrange for the host institution to submit an official transcript to the Registrar's Office, Student Services Centre. A minimum grade of C as understood by the Faculty of Fine Arts is required for credit to be granted. Grades earned in courses taken at other postsecondary institutions are not part of the student's York transcript and are not incorporated into the student's grade point averages in the Faculty of Fine Arts.

Should a student leave York University to pursue study at another postsecondary institution without a letter of permission, upon return to York, a new application to York is required and all previous transfer credit will be reassessed.

Undergraduate Degree Programs

The Faculty of Fine Arts believes in an interdisciplinary education integrated with pre-professional and professional work in the arts. The curriculum is designed to acquaint students with contemporary knowledge in the humanities, the social sciences and the natural sciences, as well as in the fine arts. In all programs, students pursue both theory and practice in the arts, in one or more fields, according to their artistic and scholarly needs and abilities.

The Faculty of Fine Arts offers four undergraduate degrees: the BA, the Honours BA, the Honours BFA, and, in partnership with Sheridan Institute of Technology and Advanced Learning, the Honours BDes. In general, students who concentrate in fine arts history, theory and/or criticism graduate with either a BA or BA Honours degree, and students concentrating in studio, performance and/or production work graduate with a BFA Honours or BDes Honours degree. Upon admission to the Faculty, students select a degree program which may be changed during subsequent registration periods with the approval of the related department.

Specialized Honours Program

The Specialized Honours program is designed for students who wish to concentrate in a particular discipline within a university context and obtain an intensive experience in that discipline. Specialized Honours programs are available in dance, design, film and video, music, theatre and visual arts.

General Honours Program

The General Honours Program in Fine Arts Cultural Studies is multidisciplinary, with an emphasis on the study of cultural, critical and historical issues. Students combine studies in the Fine Arts Cultural Studies Program with studies in one or more of the other fine arts departments.

BA Program

The BA in fine arts with majors in dance, film and video, fine arts cultural studies, music, theatre, and visual arts is designed to provide students with a further range of options, including preparation for a number of professional careers such as: creative arts therapy, arts administration, arts journalism, arts marketing, cultural tourism, community arts and cultural management.

Honours Double Major Program

The Honours Double Major program allows students to combine a major in dance, film and video, fine arts cultural studies, music, theatre or visual arts with a second major offered through the Faculty of Arts. Fine arts students in the Honours Double Major program must satisfy the basic degree requirements of the Faculty of Fine Arts and graduate with either a BA Honours or BFA Honours degree from the Faculty of Fine Arts. Some Honours Double Major combinations may require more than 120 credits.

Honours Major/Minor Program

The Honours Major/Minor program is designed for students who wish to combine a primary concentration in dance, film and video, fine arts cultural studies, music, theatre or visual arts with a secondary concentration in the Faculty of Arts, the Faculty of Environmental Studies, the Faculty of Fine Arts, or the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science. Fine arts students in the Honours Major/Minor program must satisfy the basic degree requirements of the Faculty of Fine Arts and graduate with either a BA Honours or BFA Honours degree from the Faculty of Fine Arts. Some Honours Major/Minor combinations may require more than 120 credits.

Honours Double Major Interdisciplinary BA Program

Fine arts cultural studies or film and video (film studies) majors may pursue an Honours Double Major Interdisciplinary BA with a major in communication studies in the Faculty of Arts. Students complete the requirements for the second major within the context of their degree requirements. Please see the Programs of Study section in the Faculty of Arts portion of this Calendar for details.

Coregistration in the Faculty of Education

Students registered in the Faculty of Fine Arts may apply for admission to the Concurrent Program of the Faculty of Education. Coregistered students work towards the separate degree requirements of both Faculties concurrently and if successful are awarded two degrees: the BA or the Honours BA or the Honours BFA from the Faculty of Fine Arts, and the BEd from the Faculty of Education.

A Faculty of Fine Arts Honours degree which normally takes four years to complete, will take five years when pursued concurrently with the bachelor of education degree. For those students interested in teaching at the primary, junior and intermediate levels, a BA degree and a BEd could be completed in four years. For further information, please consult the Faculty of Education section of this Calendar.

Graduate Studies in Fine Arts

York University's Faculty of Graduate Studies offers several programs in fine arts. Programs leading to the MA degree include art history, dance, historical, critical and theoretical studies in film and video, and ethnomusicology and musicology. Programs leading to the MFA degree include film and video, theatre, and visual arts. It is also possible to obtain the MA or MFA in combination with an MBA degree. A PhD Program in Ethnomusicology and Musicology is also available.

Applicants should be aware that application deadlines and admission requirements vary from program to program. For further information, please consult the Faculty of Graduate Studies Calendar.

Admission

Please refer to the Admission section of this Calendar for general information on admission requirements and procedures.

Applicant Evaluation Procedures

In addition to the regular requirements for admission to the University, the Faculty of Fine Arts requires an evaluation of an applicant's suitability for many of its programs. The requirements for each department are detailed below. In order to be evaluated, a candidate must have applied for admission to the Faculty of Fine Arts.

For details on the process leading to an appointment for an evaluation interview/audition and for further information regarding the evaluation procedures, refer to the Faculty of Fine Arts Web site: <http://www.yorku.ca/finearts/>. Invitations to attend an evaluation interview/audition may be contingent on an applicant's previous or current year's grade point average. For general information concerning the Faculty of Fine Arts, contact Student and Academic Services, 201 Joan and Martin Goldfarb Centre for Fine Arts, 416-736-5135.

Applicants who reside outside the Greater Toronto Area should contact the department or Student and Academic Services to enquire about alternate arrangements for the audition/evaluation. Several departments hold auditions in selected major cities across Canada, appointments and details for which can be obtained by contacting the department offices.

Program in Fine Arts Cultural Studies

Applicants are required to complete a questionnaire designed to demonstrate their general background, various interests in the fine arts disciplines and writing ability. An interview is not required, but may be granted if requested.

For an evaluation/application questionnaire, please visit the Fine Arts Web site at <http://www.yorku.ca/finearts> or contact the Fine Arts Cultural Studies Program Office at 416-736-5822 (facs@yorku.ca).

Department of Dance

BFA applicants are required to audition for the department. The audition consists of a short class in modern dance, ballet and improvisation taught by dance faculty followed by a personal interview. Out-of-town applicants unable to attend an audition may be evaluated by submitting a video in VHS format and three letters of reference.

Admission to the BA in dance is based on grades alone. No supplemental evaluation is required.

For further information visit the Fine Arts Web site at <http://www.yorku.ca/finearts> or contact the Department of Dance, 416-736-5137 (dance@yorku.ca).

Department of Design

The final selection of qualified candidates is based on the ranking of three criteria: overall academic results, a questionnaire and a portfolio. Questionnaires will be provided to all applicants to the program. Selected candidates invited to an interview must bring a portfolio of creative work, with detailed documentation. Specific requirements will be forwarded to the selected candidates. The interviews will focus upon the applicants' understanding of communications design and their conceptual, visual and communications abilities. For further information, please visit the Fine Arts Web site at <http://www.yorku.ca/finearts> or contact the Department of Design, 416-736-5885 (ysdn@yorku.ca).

Department of Film & Video

All BFA applicants will be mailed a supplementary application package, including a questionnaire. Applicants will be asked to complete the questionnaire which is designed to assess suitability for the program. Selected candidates will then be asked to attend a personal interview. For a supplementary application package and/or further information, please contact the Department of Film & Video, 416-736-5149 (flmvideo@yorku.ca). An early application is strongly recommended. For further information, please visit the Fine Arts Web site at <http://www.yorku.ca/finearts/>.

Admission to the BA in film history, criticism and theory is based on grades alone. No supplemental evaluation is required.

Department of Music

All applicants will be mailed an evaluation package including written instructions, a brief theory test, and a copy of the department handbook. Applicants are asked to submit a recording of two contrasting pieces, demonstrating their abilities and interests on the instrument(s) of choice. One piece on a secondary instrument is recommended but not required. Recordings or scores of original compositions or arrangements are also welcome. Recordings may be submitted on audio, videotape or DAT. Applicants will be asked to submit a 500-word letter of intent outlining their reasons for applying, future plans, and commenting on two of their favourite music recordings. For further information, please contact the Department of Music, 416-736-5242 (musicprg@yorku.ca) or visit the Fine Arts Web site at <http://www.yorku.ca/finearts/>.

Department of Theatre

All applicants will automatically be mailed an evaluation package to help prepare for the evaluation appointment. Applicants are evaluated on the basis of the following:

- A questionnaire focusing on their background in theatre. This is not a theatrical skills assessment, but rather an opportunity for applicants to express themselves and exhibit their interest in theatre.
- A public oral presentation of no more than three minutes. This presentation could take many forms: for instance, a monologue from a play; or a talk about a production recently seen, directed or designed; or information about a play written by the applicant, or a reading from it giving the background to the work. The Department of Theatre needs to ascertain how applicants present themselves in public, how they perform, or how they speak about some aspect of theatre. All applicants — no matter what their area of prime interest — must be prepared to make this public presentation. Therefore, this should be planned in advance.

- A brief personal interview. Normally the questionnaire/presentation/interview process will take place during a half-day visit to the Keele campus or in another location closer to the applicant's home town. If there are significant reasons that an applicant cannot attend a personal interview/evaluation, the applicant should discuss with the department other evaluation methods, such as video auditions, portfolio or written submissions and/or telephone interviews.

Successful applicants will be expected to complete a medical questionnaire prior to beginning classes.

If further information is required, please contact the Department of Theatre at 416-736-5172 (theatre@yorku.ca) or visit the Fine Arts Web site at <http://www.yorku.ca/finearts/>.

Department of Visual Arts

All BFA applicants will automatically be sent an evaluation package. This provides applicants with an opportunity to outline related background and interests. Selected studio applicants will be invited to show a portfolio of six pieces including a sketchbook, idea-book or journal. Applicants are encouraged to show variety in their work; no fewer than two different media should be represented. There will also be a personal interview with one of the department's instructors. Art history applicants are not required to submit a portfolio but have the option of a personal interview.

Admission to the BA in art history is based on grades alone. No supplemental evaluation is required.

For information about the departmental evaluation process please visit the Faculty of Fine Arts Web site: <http://www.yorku.ca/finearts> or contact the Department of Visual Arts, 416-650-8191 (visarts@yorku.ca).

Second Degree Candidates

Students who hold a degree from an accredited institution may apply to the Faculty of Fine Arts to obtain a second undergraduate degree in a different discipline. Students who hold a BA degree (not an Honours degree) from another accredited institution may apply to the Faculty of Fine Arts to obtain an Honours degree in the same discipline. In all cases, second degree candidates are required to:

- complete a minimum of 30 additional credits at York University in accordance with the Faculty of Fine Arts residency requirement (courses taken as part of the first degree cannot be used to satisfy this requirement);
- fulfill all the requirements of the new major and minor programs; general education and elective requirements are waived.

The in-Faculty requirement should be regarded as the minimum number of additional courses; depending on the program selected and the amount of credit awarded for previous studies, the actual number of courses required for a second degree may well exceed that number.

No student will be permitted to pursue a second Honours degree in the same discipline.

Degree Reclassification

A student who has completed a York University BA degree (90 credit program) in the Faculty of Fine Arts may continue, after graduation, in a BFA Honours or BA Honours program in the same subject area or in an Honours Double Major or Honour Major/Minor program including the same subject area, provided the cumulative and major grade point averages are those required for the Honours program.

A student who wishes to pursue a second BFA Honours or BA Honours in a different field of study must apply to the Admissions Office for admission as a second degree candidate. The deadline to apply for fall admission is June 1.

General Regulations

The academic regulations of the Faculty of Fine Arts have been carefully prepared to outline for students the specific demands and expectations of a fine arts degree program. Students are expected to familiarize themselves with the rules and regulations of the Faculty and the University, and to abide by them. All students are subject to changes in regulations and requirements made after their first registration unless, in the opinion of the Faculty Council, undue hardship is involved.

Advising and Enrolment

Students newly admitted to the Faculty of Fine Arts will attend both an advising enrolment and fine arts orientation session at Student and Academic Services. Continuing students are encouraged to seek advising from their major departments prior to the summer and fall/winter enrolment periods. Students wishing to drop major courses during the term should check with an adviser first, as special permission may be required.

Maximum Course Load

Full-time students are those registered in 24 or more credits during the fall/winter academic session. 36 credits are allowed during the fall/winter session and 15 credits in the summer session for students majoring in dance, film and video, fine arts cultural studies, music, theatre and visual arts.

Auditing

Students who wish to attend (audit) a course in the Faculty of Fine Arts on a non-credit basis must obtain written permission from the course instructor and the department Chair. For further information on courses available and course fees, please contact the fine arts department offering the course.

Residence Requirement

While allowing students to take a certain number of courses at other universities and in other Faculties of York University, in order to meet the residence requirement, the Faculty of Fine Arts requires that students complete a portion of their courses as follows:

- A minimum of 30 credits must be taken at York University.

Furthermore:

- no fewer than half of the credits required for the fine arts major must be taken in the Faculty of Fine Arts (i.e. courses with the prefix FA), including at least 12 credits at the 3000 or 4000 level, subject to any further prescriptions of the major department.

For students completing a minor in the Faculty of Fine Arts, no fewer than half of the credits required for the minor must be in-Faculty courses, i.e. courses with the prefix FA.

Academic Withdrawal

Before withdrawing from the University, students are encouraged to request an interview with the associate dean. In order to avoid receiving failing grades students must drop their courses by the published deadline.

Reactivation

Students who have been absent from the University for one or more academic sessions may apply to the Registrar's Office for reactivation, provided that they left their fine arts degree program in good standing and have not attended another postsecondary institution without a letter of permission. Information concerning reactivation can be obtained from the Current Students Web site. Students who were ineligible to continue in the Faculty of Fine Arts at the time of their leaving must apply for re-admission.

Petitions

Petitions for Exemptions from the Regulations

The purpose of academic regulations is to allow students to develop their interests and talents to the fullest in ways consistent with the philosophy and standards of the Faculty. In establishing academic regulations, the Faculty also recognizes that instances will arise where it makes sense, in the context of a student's academic career, to petition or request a waiver of an academic regulation or deadline.

Petitions to waive internal departmental regulations should be submitted directly to the Chair/coordinator of the academic unit concerned. In consultation with appropriate faculty members, the Chair will determine whether the request is valid, and relay the decision in writing to the student and to the Registrar's Office where appropriate.

Committee on Administrative Affairs

Academic petitions from fine arts students for exceptions to all Faculty regulations, including petitions to continue their studies without interruption from students who have been required to withdraw or are debarred, are adjudicated by the Fine Arts Committee on Administrative Affairs during the fall/winter academic session. During the summer months, petitions are heard by summer authority as designated by the dean.

Note on Grade Reappraisals

Requests for the reappraisal of final grades are not petitions in the formal sense. Such requests should be directed to the teaching unit offering the course in question.

Right to Petition

Students in the Faculty of Fine Arts have the right to petition on reasonable grounds for special consideration. It should be noted, however, that a petition is a request for the waiver of a regulation; it cannot be used to create legislation (e.g. a degree program) that does not exist. Normally, petitions will not be considered by the Committee on Administrative Affairs more than one year beyond the date of the release of grades for the session to which the petition relates.

Petitions Procedure

Students shall petition all matters to their home Faculty with the exception of grade reappraisals, which are considered by the department/Faculty offering the course. Petitions are held in the strictest confidence. The committee considers the petition itself, any supporting documents (from professors or medical practitioners) and other relevant information contained in the student's record. Students and/or their representatives may appear before a committee only at the discretion or invitation of the committee. Appeals to decisions rendered on petitions are heard by the committee solely on the grounds of either new evidence or evidence of procedural irregularity. Appeals should be directed to the Adviser, Academic Services and Petitions, in Student and Academic Services, Fine Arts.

Initiating a Petition

To initiate a petition, a student must complete an undergraduate academic petition package. Petition packages are available from Student Client Services, 416-736-5440 or online at the Current Students Web site.

Petitions relating to a student's enrolment status or academic standing must be submitted within 30 days of the release of grade reports for the session. Such petitions may be considered for a period of up to one year if they are based on special circumstances.

Advice on petitioning is available from the Registrar's Office and from Student and Academic Services, Fine Arts, 201 Joan and Martin Goldfarb Centre for Fine Arts, 416-736-5135. Petitions should be brought or mailed to the appropriate committee in care of the Registrar's Office, Student Services Centre.

Grading and Academic Standards

Refer to section on Grades and Grading Schemes within the Academic Information section of this Calendar for general information.

Alternative Grading Option (Pass/Fail)

Students in good standing may, after successfully completing 24 credits, enrol in up to 12 credits on an ungraded (pass/fail) basis. Courses taken on an ungraded basis may not be used to satisfy major, minor, general education or certificate requirements. Courses taken on an ungraded basis are recorded as P (pass) or F (fail), and neither grade is included in the calculation of grade point averages.

To designate a course as ungraded, a student must complete an application form available at Student Client Services, and submit it to that office before the end of the second week of classes in the course.

It is possible to revert to the regular grading scheme after choosing the alternative grading option. The Registrar's Office must be notified of this decision no later than the last day to withdraw from the course without academic penalty.

Grading Policy

- Within the first two classes, a written course outline must be provided to each student. Such an outline should announce the means of determining the final grade in a course. Such information must include the kinds of assignments, essays, examinations and other components which make up the grade; their relative weights; and any other procedures which enter into the determination of the final grade.
- In exceptional circumstances, a previously announced marking scheme for a course may be changed; the new marking scheme must also be distributed in written form. Any changes to a previously announced marking scheme must have the consent of all students registered in the course, such consent to be signified by their signatures.
- Feedback during course: Instructors are obligated to provide a mechanism by which students can be apprised of their progress in a course; in particular, students must be able to make an informed decision on whether to withdraw from a course. This will normally mean that students will receive graded feedback on work worth at least 15 per cent of the course grade before the deadline to withdraw from that course.
- No examination or test worth more than 20 per cent of the course grade may be scheduled during the last two weeks of class time, but must be scheduled during the formal exam period.
- Grades submitted by an instructor are subject to review by the teaching unit in which the course is offered, and by the Faculty of Fine Arts Committee on Administrative Affairs.

Grade Reappraisals

Students may, with sufficient academic grounds, request that a final grade in a course be reappraised. Further information may be obtained from the Student and Academic Services Office, Faculty of Fine Arts or from the unit offering the course. Students applying to have a grade reappraised in a Faculty of Fine Arts course should note the following:

- Deadlines: Requests for reappraisal must be filed within three weeks of the release of grade reports for the term.
- Reassessable Work: Students may question the overall course grade or the marking of the specific pieces of work. For reassessment of specific projects or assignments, tangible evidence of the original submitted work must be provided. Written, graphic, modelled, video recording or audio recording are acceptable formats for reassessment.
- Possible Grade Changes: When a student asks for a reappraisal of a grade or assignment, an original grade may be raised, lowered or confirmed.
- Faculty Appeal Procedures: The decision of the department or division may be appealed to the Faculty of Fine Arts Committee on Administrative Affairs only on grounds of procedural irregularity or new evidence. Appeals to CAA must be submitted to Student and Academic Services, Faculty of Fine Arts.

Deferred Standing

Deferred standing may be recorded and in effect in the following cases:

- If a student has missed an examination, or has not completed the course work due to sickness or other misfortune, it is the student's responsibility to make arrangements with the instructor to complete the course and to file a deferred standing agreement with the department by the specified deadline.
- If the nature of the academic exercise precludes the completion of certain course requirements before the grading deadlines, it is the instructor's responsibility to provide a written rationale to the Committee on Administrative Affairs.

Aegrotat Standing

In cases where deferred standing is not possible, students may be granted aegrotat standing (AEG) on the grounds of sickness, accident or family misfortune. Aegrotat standing excuses students from completing the remaining and required work for a course or courses although course credit is granted. The notation AEG is recorded on the transcript in place of a final grade. Aegrotat standing is normally dependent upon the student's having completed 75 per cent of the required course work at a minimum C+ level. Requests for aegrotat standing will not be considered before the final date for withdrawal from a course.

Petitions for aegrotat standing must be submitted to the Registrar's Office with documentation substantiating the misfortune and written support from the instructor(s). The petition will then be considered by the Faculty Committee on Administrative Affairs.

Aegrotat standing is seldom granted and will not be granted for more than one academic session prior to the completion of a degree.

Academic Standing

Academic standing depends on several factors including the number of courses a student has completed, the overall grade point average, the sessional grade point average and the major grade point average.

Grade reports include notice of academic standing and eligibility to proceed in Honours or BA programs.

Note: Advancement into second-year and upper-year studio/performance course in some programs may be determined by the designated departmental committee.

Grade Point Average Calculations

There are three different grade point averages (GPAs) calculated for Faculty of Fine Arts students:

- Overall grade point average: Includes all courses (passed and failed) that the student has completed at York.
- Sessional grade point average: Includes all courses (passed and failed) that the student has completed in the current session at York.
- Major grade point average: Includes all courses (passed and failed) which count towards the major that the student has completed at York.

All courses taken at York, including failures, are included in grade point average calculations. Course completed outside York University are not included in grade point averages at York.

Honours BA, Honours BFA and Honours BDes

The following minimum grade point averages are required to continue and graduate with an Honours degree in the Faculty of Fine Arts:

- An overall grade point average of 5.0 (C+);
- A major grade point average of 5.0 (C+);
- To graduate, students must also have successfully completed (passed) at least 120 credits which meet the Faculty of Fine Arts and program requirements.

Admission to an Honours BA, Honours BFA and Honours BDes

Students With No Previous Postsecondary Education: Students who enter the Faculty of Fine Arts with no prior experience at a postsecondary educational institution (such as university and college) are automatically admitted to an Honours program.

Transfer Students: Students who enter with prior experience at a postsecondary educational institution are admitted to an Honours program if their prior overall grade point average (including failed courses) is at least the equivalent of 5.0 (C+) on the York scale.

Transferring from an Honours BA, Honours BFA to a BA Program

Ineligibility to Continue in Honours: Students whose overall and/or major GPA falls below 5.0 (C+) may continue their studies only in a BA degree program. Honours BA students will automatically be placed in the BA program. Honours BFA students must fill out a change of degree form if they wish to continue their studies.

Re-entering Honours: Students who have been transferred to the BA program because of a GPA below 5.0 (C+) may re-enter Honours if they raise their overall and major grade point averages to 5.0 (C+) or above by the session in which they have successfully completed their 90th credit. Students who have not reached 5.0 (C+) in the session in which they successfully complete their 90th credit may request to graduate with a BA degree if they fulfill the BA degree requirements, or may continue in a BA program until those requirements are fulfilled. They may not continue in an Honours program and they may not take extra courses in a subsequent session in an effort to raise their overall and/or major averages. Students in this situation may petition for an honours waiver.

BA Degree

Graduating with a BA

The following minimum grade point averages are required to graduate with a BA in the Faculty of Fine Arts:

- An overall grade point average of 4.0 (C);
- A major grade point average of 4.0 (C);
- To graduate, students must also have successfully completed (passed) at least 90 credits which meet the Faculty of Fine Arts and program requirements.

Opting to Graduate in a BA program: Students who are eligible for Honours may opt to graduate in a BA program in the session in which they have completed their final course(s). This should be indicated on the application to graduate form.

Admission to a BA

Transfer Students: Students who enter with prior experience at a postsecondary educational institution are admitted to a BA program if their prior overall grade point average (including failed courses) is at least the equivalent of 4.0 (C) on the York scale.

Transferring/Re-applying to Honours

Continuing Students: Students in a BA program whose overall and major GPAs are at least 5.0 (C+) are automatically transferred to a BA Honours program. Students who wish to transfer from the Honours BA to the Honours BFA must apply on a change of degree form.

Graduating Students: Students who have graduated from the Faculty of Fine Arts with a BA degree and whose record makes them eligible for an Honours BA are automatically allowed to continue in an Honours BA. Students who wish to transfer from the Honours BA to the Honours BFA must apply on a change of degree form.

Courses taken Beyond the Normal Maximum – in Order to Raise Cumulative and/or Major Grade Point Average

Students in a BA program who have passed 90 credits in accordance with Faculty and program requirements, but whose overall and/or major grade point average is below 4.0 (C) may attempt to raise their average to 4.0 (C) by taking up to 12 additional credits, to a maximum of 102 credits. These courses must be above the 1000 level and must be taken at York; regulations on equivalent and excluded courses apply.

Dean's Honour Roll

The Dean's Honour Roll recognizes the academic achievements of the following:

- Students who have taken 12 to 17 credits in a given session who have achieved a sessional overall grade point average of 8.0 (A) or higher;
- Students who have taken 18 or more credits in a given session who have achieved a sessional overall grade point average of 7.5 or higher;
- Graduating students who have achieved a overall and major grade point averages of 7.0 (B+) or higher.

Graduation Honours

Students who graduate with cumulative grade point averages as specified below, both in their major discipline and overall, will have their degrees classified as follows:

Honours BA, Honours BFA and Honours BDes:

7.50	Cum laude
7.80	Magna cum laude
8.00	Summa cum laude

BA Degree:

7.00	Dean's Honour Roll
7.50	With merit
8.00	With distinction

Academic Penalties

Students whose academic record does not meet Faculty or program standards are subject to the academic penalties of academic warning, major warning, required withdrawal, debarment warning, debarment and academic probation.

Academic Warning

Students whose overall grade point average falls below 4.0 (C) at the end of any session, or who enter the Faculty with a grade point average equivalent to less than 4.0 (C) on the Faculty of Fine Arts scale, receive an academic warning. Students on academic warning must earn a sessional grade point average of at least 5.0 (C+) in each session until the overall GPA reaches 4.0 (C). Students who do not meet these conditions will be required to withdraw.

Major Warning

Students whose major grade point average falls below 4.0 (C) at the end of any session receive a major warning. Students on major warning must earn a sessional major grade point average of at least 5.0 (C+) in each session until the major average reaches 4.0 (C). Students who do not meet these conditions will be required to withdraw.

Required Withdrawal

Students whose academic record shows marked weakness may be required to withdraw from their studies for one year, during which they are encouraged to identify and remedy any problems which may have contributed materially to their failure to perform up to their potential, and to reflect on their reasons for pursuing a university education. The following regulations apply to required withdrawals:

Overall Grade Point Average Below 4.0 (C): Students who have received an academic warning for an overall grade point average below 4.0 (C) and who do not meet the conditions outlined in the academic warning section must withdraw for 12 months.

Major Grade Point Average Below 4.0 (C): Students who have received a major warning for a major grade point average below 4.0 (C) and who do not meet the conditions outlined in the major warning section must withdraw for 12 months.

Grade Point Average Below 3.0 (D+): Students whose overall and/or major grade point averages have dropped below 3.0 (D+) must withdraw for 12 months.

Petition To Continue Without Interruption: Students who have been required to withdraw may submit a petition to the Faculty of Fine Arts Committee on Administrative Affairs requesting permission to continue their studies without interruption. For further information see the section on Petitions.

Reactivation after Required Withdrawal: Students who have been required to withdraw must apply for reactivation after the requisite period of absence by submitting a reactivation form to Student Client Services (form is available on the Web at <http://www.yorku.ca>, then click Current Students). Students who return to their studies after such a required withdrawal (as well as those who have been allowed to continue their studies by virtue of a petition to the Committee on Administrative Affairs) receive a debarment warning.

Debarment Warning

Students who have been required to withdraw from the Faculty of Fine Arts or from another Faculty at York or another postsecondary institution, receive a debarment warning upon continuing their studies in the Faculty. Students on debarment warning, upon continuing their studies in the Faculty, must earn a sessional grade point average of at least 5.0 (C+) in each subsequent session until the overall and/or major average reaches 4.0 (C), and must then maintain this average. Students who do not fulfill these conditions will be debarred from the University. Students whose cumulative average fall below 3.0 (D+) while on debarment warning will be debarred.

Debarment

Students who have already been required to withdraw because of their unsatisfactory academic record and whose record does not show improvement are debarred from the University. Debarment, the minimum period for which is normally two years, means that the student is no longer a student at York University.

Petition to Continue Without Interruption: Students who have been debarred may submit a petition to the Faculty of Fine Arts Committee on Administrative Affairs requesting permission to continue their studies without interruption. For further information see the section on Petitions.

Re-applying After Debarment: Students who have been debarred and who wish to resume their studies must apply for admission through the Admissions Office, 150 Atkinson Building, and must provide persuasive evidence that they are ready and able to complete a degree program.

Debarment Warning Remains in Effect: Students who have been debarred and who subsequently resume their studies in the Faculty of Fine Arts, whether by petition to continue without interruption or by reapplying for admission, receive an academic probation.

Scholarships, Awards and Bursaries

Full-time and part-time students in the Faculty of Fine Arts are eligible for a variety of in-course scholarships and bursaries awarded by the Faculty. Some are available to all Faculty of Fine Arts students regardless of major; others are department-specific. Fine arts awards are offered in fall and spring of the academic year. A special notice will be posted or otherwise communicated to students in the departments to solicit applications for the relevant awards, outlining eligibility and selection criteria and the application deadline. Nominations and applications are handled by the student's major department, which provides the necessary application forms. Awards with financial need criteria require completion of a bursary application in addition to the award application.

The Faculty of Fine Arts Committee on Awards adjudicates applications and approves nominations. Departments post the names of recipients of all awards after the nominations have been duly confirmed.

In addition to department and Faculty-based awards, fine arts students are eligible for some other scholarships and bursaries that are offered University-wide. Please refer to the Financial Services, Scholarships, Bursaries, Awards and Prizes section of this Calendar for additional information about scholarships, awards and bursaries available at York University.

Policy on Academic Honesty

Definitions

Student Work:

Fine arts student work covered by rules regarding academic honesty includes papers, research, tests, examinations and all forms of studio and production work as practised within the Faculty.

Breaches of academic honesty:

Please consult the Senate Policy on Academic Honesty for a discussion of academic honesty and definitions of breach of academic honesty. Among other things the senate policy discusses offences such as cheating; submission of one piece of work in satisfaction of two assignments without prior informed consent; impersonation; plagiarism and other misappropriation of the work of another; abuse of confidentiality; falsification or forgery of documents; obstruction of the academic activities of another; aiding or abetting academic misconduct; failure to divulge previous attendance at another postsecondary educational institution on an admissions application, etc. In particular, students taking courses in the Faculty of Fine Arts should be mindful of the dangers of misappropriation and misrepresentation which are breaches of academic honesty.

Misappropriation of another's work:

In the creation and presentation of all studio and performance work, and all other artistic and technical works, students who use the work of others must clearly state the extent and nature of the appropriation to their instructor. Failure to do so shall constitute a breach of academic honesty.

Misrepresentation of collaborative projects:

Failure to give appropriate credit to collaborators, or the listing of others as collaborators who have not contributed to the work, shall constitute a breach of academic honesty.

Procedures

- The Senate Policy on Academic Honesty governs the procedure of the Faculty in cases of alleged breaches of academic honesty.
- Any faculty member suspecting that a student has engaged in a breach of academic honesty shall notify the associate dean who shall in turn assist the faculty member in following the procedures provided in the senate policy.
- The associate dean of the Faculty shall be the Faculty person responsible for the carriage of all cases of breaches of academic honesty.
- The Committee on Administrative Affairs shall be the body responsible for hearing cases of breaches of academic honesty and imposing penalties.

Procedural Guidelines

- If an instructor believes an offence has occurred, the student should be sent a notice in writing from the instructor or course director that an offence is suspected, and that the instructor or course director wishes to meet with the student. The student will be informed that a representative may accompany her/him and that the meeting will be on the record. A deadline for responding of no less than seven calendar days will be imposed. The student will also be informed that the course in question may not be dropped (as per Senate Policy, E 4). Further procedures as defined in the Senate Policy, item D 3, a and b will apply.

b. Following the meeting, the instructor or course director who decides to pursue the matter will send the following material to the associate dean's office:

- i. the contested piece of work, (if possible);
- ii. the evidence supporting the alleged offence;
- iii. the record of the meeting;
- iv. the course syllabus and relevant assignment sheets;
- v. any handout on academic offences;
- vi. record of student's performance in the course to date;
- vii. student's written admission of guilt and joint recommendation of instructor and student as to penalty, if applicable;
- viii. any other relevant materials.

If the student chooses not to attend the aforementioned meeting, this material will be sent after the time limit for arranging that meeting has expired.

c. The associate dean will present the case to the Committee on Administrative Affairs, which is the relevant committee empowered to hear such cases and to impose penalties. All further procedures as defined in the senate policy will be followed.

Penalties

When a student has been found to have committed a breach of academic honesty, without limiting the ultimate discretion of the Faculty committee to impose any or all of the penalties set out in the senate policy as may be warranted in the circumstances, the committee may impose any or all of the following penalties:

- a. a failure in the course;
- b. failure in the course and a notation of breach of academic honesty on the transcript;
- c. suspension.

Degree Requirements

Candidates for a BA or Honours degree in the Faculty of Fine Arts degree must pass at least the respective 90 or 120 credits, chosen in conformity with curriculum requirements and in consultation with an adviser. The chart on the following page is a synopsis of degree requirements.

Course Types

Degree requirements in the Faculty of Fine Arts refer to the following categories of courses:

General Education Courses

Six credits in each of the general areas of the humanities, the social sciences and the natural sciences must be completed within the first 90 credits. Courses may be selected from the following departments:

Humanities	Natural Science	Social Science
Classical Studies	Biology	Anthropology
English	Chemistry	Economics
French Studies	Earth and Atmospheric Science	Geography
History	Environmental Studies ES/ENVS 1500 6.00	Political Science
Humanities	Natural Science	Psychology
Languages and Linguistics	Physics and Astronomy	Social Science
Modes of Reasoning	Science and Technology Studies (AK/STS)	Sociology
Philosophy

Faculty of Fine Arts students may also satisfy the humanities general education requirement by taking either FA/FACS 1900 6.00 or FA/FACS 2900 6.00. However, if either course is counted as a humanities course, it cannot also be counted in another category.

Non-Fine Arts Electives

In addition to the general education courses, most fine arts students are required to complete additional courses outside the fine arts disciplines. The number of non-fine arts electives required varies according to the major and degree program. Courses taken towards a major or a minor program in the Faculties of Arts, Environmental Studies or Pure and Applied Science will satisfy this requirement.

Fine Arts Electives

All students in a fine arts degree program or an Honours Major/Minor program must complete at least 12 credits in fine arts outside their major discipline. Courses completed as part of a minor program in the Faculty of Fine Arts will satisfy this requirement. Fine arts electives are not required in any Honours Double Major program.

The following creative writing workshop courses may be counted as either fine arts electives, or as non-fine arts electives, but not as both:

- AS/HUMA 2900 9.00
- AS/EN 3240 6.00
- AS/HUMA 3640 6.00
- AS/HUMA 3645 6.00
- AS/HUMA 4630 6.00
- AS/HUMA 4640 6.00

Degree Requirements

The following requirements are in effect for 2004-2005. Students admitted to a fine arts program prior to 2004-2005 should consult previous Calendars for a synopsis of requirements.

	BA - 90 credits 18 credits in general education; 12 credits in fine arts outside the major department; 36-45 credits in the major department including at least 12 credits at the 3000 or 4000 level; 15-24 additional credits, which may be taken inside or outside the major department; a minimum of 18 credits (including the 12 major credits) must be at the 3000 or 4000 level.	BA Honours - 120 credits At least 24 fine arts major credits must be at the 3000 or 4000 level, including at least 12 credits in studies/history/theory/criticism, subject to any further prescriptions of the major department.	BFA Honours - 120 credits At least 24 fine arts major credits must be at the 3000 or 4000 level, including at least 12 credits in practicum/studio/performance/production, subject to any further prescriptions of the major department.	BDes Specialized Honours - 120 credits This is a Specialized Honours program only. There is no Double Major or Major/Minor program with a design major.
Fine Arts Cultural Studies	18 credits in general education; 48 credits in fine arts; 24 additional credits	18 credits in general education; 60 credits in fine arts (of which 30 are in FACS); 18 credits outside fine arts; 24 additional credits	N/A	N/A
Dance	18 credits in general education; 45 credits in dance; 12 credits in fine arts outside of dance*; 15 additional credits	18 credits in general education; 48 credits in dance; 12 credits in fine arts outside dance*; 12 credits outside fine arts; 30 additional credits	18 credits in general education; 81 credits in dance; 12 credits in fine arts outside dance*; nine additional credits	N/A
Design	N/A	N/A	N/A	18 credits in general education; 78 credits in design; 12 credits in fine arts outside design; 12 additional credits
Film & Video	18 credits in general education; 42 credits in film & video; 12 credits in fine arts outside of film & video*; 18 additional credits	18 credits in general education; 48 credits in film & video; 12 credits in fine arts outside film & video*; 18 credits outside fine arts 24 additional credits	18 credits in general education; 60 credits in film & video; 12 credits in fine arts outside film & video*; six credits outside fine arts 24 additional credits	N/A
Music	18 credits in general education; 45 credits in music; 12 credits in fine arts outside of music*; 15 additional credits	18 credits in general education; 57 credits in music; 12 credits in fine arts outside music*; 33 additional credits	18 credits in general education; 57 credits in music; 12 credits in fine arts outside music*; 33 additional credits	N/A
Theatre	18 credits in general education; 42 credits in theatre; 12 credits in fine arts outside of theatre*; 18 additional credits	18 credits in general education; 48 credits in theatre; 12 credits in fine arts outside theatre*; 18 credits outside fine arts 24 additional credits	18 credits in general education; 60 credits in theatre; 12 credits in fine arts outside theatre*; six credits outside fine arts 24 additional credits	N/A
Visual Arts	18 credits in general education; 42 credits in visual arts; 12 credits in fine arts outside of visual arts*; 18 additional credits	18 credits in general education; 54 credits in visual arts; 12 credits in fine arts outside visual arts*; 12 credits outside fine arts 24 additional credits	18 credits in general education; 66 credits in visual arts; 12 credits in fine arts outside visual arts*; 12 credits outside fine arts 12 additional credits	N/A

Students enrolled in the concurrent BEd program are required to take 66 dance credits. Please contact the Dance Department for further information.

* Note 1: FA/FACS 1900 6.00 is required for all Faculty of Fine Arts degrees. This course may be used to satisfy either the humanities general education requirement or a fine arts requirement (i.e. a fine arts elective, or a major or minor requirement in fine arts cultural studies), but not both. For students admitted to the Faculty of Fine Arts with a minimum of 54 transfer credits, FACS 1900 6.00 is optional.

* Note 2: Fine arts credits outside the major are not required in the Honours Double Major program. They are required in the Honours Major/Minor program; students with a fine arts minor will automatically satisfy the requirement.

Major and Minor Courses

The specific course requirements for fine arts major and minor programs are outlined in the section following. A department may set further prescriptions, such as the requirement of a major thesis or production to be completed in conjunction with final courses.

Upper-level Courses

In all fine arts Honours programs, at least 24 credits in the major discipline must be at the 3000 or 4000 level. In the fine arts BA programs, at least 12 credits in the major discipline must be at the 3000 or 4000 level. Specific programs and streams may have additional upper-level requirements.

Double Major and Major/Minor Programs

BA Honours or BFA Honours students in the Faculty of Fine Arts may pursue a second Honours Major in the Faculty of Arts, in any program or department offering a 42 or 48 credit Honours Major. Students may not pursue two major programs within the Faculty of Fine Arts. Students complete the program requirements for the second major within the context of their fine arts degree requirements. Please see the Programs of Study section in the Faculty of Arts portion of this Calendar for details. Some Honours Double Major combinations may require more than 120 credits.

BA Honours and BFA Honours students in the Faculty of Fine Arts may pursue an Honours Minor in the Faculty of Arts, the Faculty of Environmental Studies, the Faculty of Fine Arts or the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science. Program requirements for specific Honours Minors in Arts, Fine Arts and Pure and Applied Science are listed in the Programs of Study sections of the appropriate Faculty portions of this Calendar. For the minor in environmental studies, fine arts students must complete 30 credits in environmental studies, including six credits at the 1000 level and six credits at the 4000 level, and normally including three credits in the foundations series at the 2000 level.

Note: Faculty of Arts Honours degree students may pursue a second major or a minor in the Faculty of Fine Arts. Students in the Faculty of Environmental Studies or the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science may also pursue an Honours Minor in the Faculty of Fine Arts. The requirements of specific minor programs are outlined in the Programs of Study sections.

Certificate Programs

Cross-Disciplinary Certificate in Digital Media

York University students may work towards a Cross-Disciplinary Certificate in Digital Media in addition to fulfilling the requirements for a bachelor's degree.

Students must successfully complete 24 credits as follows:

- FA/FACS 2930 6.00;
- Plus an additional 18 credits selected from the approved list of courses vetted by the Faculty of Fine Arts, Arts and Technology Committee, meeting the following requirements:
  - six credits in a department(s)/unit(s) outside the student's major;
  - six credits at the 4000 level;
  - six credits of electives.

Students must declare their intention to pursue the Cross-Disciplinary Certificate in Digital Media prior to the completion of 10 credits that are applicable to the certificate. They must submit an application with evidence of satisfactory academic standing. Applications will be reviewed and accepted by a sub-committee of the Arts and Technology Committee. No more than three credits from outside York University will be accepted as transfer credits for this certificate.

In order to be awarded the Cross-Disciplinary Certificate in Digital Media, students must obtain a 5.0 (C+) overall GPA in the 24 required credits.

Application forms and the list of approved courses for this certificate are available through the Faculty of Fine Arts Office of Student and Academic Services, 201 Joan and Martin Goldfarb Centre for Fine Arts, 416-736-5135.

Professional Certificate in Digital Design

Students may elect to complete the Professional Certificate in Digital Design concurrently with the 120-credit Honours BDes. The BDes is offered through the York/Sheridan Joint Program in Design. The Professional Certificate in Digital Design recognizes a unique grouping of courses within this Joint Program: Interactive Design.

Students must successfully complete 36 credits from the approved list of courses, vetted by the Faculty of Fine Arts, Arts and Technology Committee, as follows:

- six credits outside the Department of Design (YSDN), e.g. FA/FACS 2930 6.00;
- nine credits in YSDN at any level;
- 18 credits in YSDN at the 3000-4000 level;
- three credits of electives chosen from the list vetted by the Arts and Technology Committee.

Students must declare their intention to pursue the Professional Certificate in Digital Design prior to the completion of 10 credits that are applicable to the certificate. They must submit an application with evidence of satisfactory academic standing. Applications will be reviewed and accepted by a sub-committee of the Arts and Technology Committee.

No more than six credits from outside York University will be accepted as transfer credits for this certificate.

Students must obtain a 5.0 (C+) overall GPA in the 36 required credits.

Application forms and the list of approved courses for this certificate are available through the Faculty of Fine Arts Office of Student and Academic Services, 201 Joan and Martin Goldfarb Centre for Fine Arts, 416-736-5135.

Certificate in Community Arts Practice (CAP)

York University students may earn a Certificate In Community Arts Practice (CAP). The certificate focuses on working with communities by using art as a tool to express diverse identities and to explore and take action on social and environmental issues. Students will develop creative artistic skills, expand their social analysis and learn to work collaboratively with groups for social change.

York-Sheridan Joint Program in Film & Video and Media Arts

Film and video students concentrating in production may study towards an Honours BFA degree and a diploma in one of five areas of study in the Media Arts Program at Sheridan Institute of Technology and Advanced Learning. The joint program allows a full-time student to complete an Honours BFA degree in film and video at York and a three-year diploma in Sheridan's Media Arts Program, normally in five years of study. Participants must successfully complete 90 credits (15 full course equivalents) at York University comprising years one, two and three of the Film & Video Production Stream before enrolling at Sheridan Institute of Technology and Advanced Learning. During years four and five, students take the equivalent of years two and three of Sheridan's Media Arts Program. Sheridan Media Arts offers specialization in audio, multimedia, television and film. In addition, York students will participate in Sheridan's 12-week field placement program.

Admission Requirements and Procedures

Students who wish to enter the joint degree/diploma program must submit an application to both the York joint program coordinator and the Sheridan College joint program coordinator by February 15th of their third academic year at York. Minimum academic standing for applicants is a 6.0 (B) cumulative grade point average. Applicants must have successfully completed:

- the Faculty of Fine Arts general education requirements;
- 12 fine arts elective credits outside film and video;
- six non-fine arts elective credits;
- a minimum of 42 film and video credits including FA/FILM 1010 3.00, FA/FILM 1020 3.00, FA/FILM 1400 6.00, FA/FILM 2010 6.00, FA/FILM 2020 3.00, FA/FILM 2170 3.00, FA/FILM 2400 6.00, FA/FILM 3010 6.00 and FA/FILM 3020 6.00.

Information and application materials may be obtained from 225 Centre for Film and Theatre, 416-736-5149. Applications must include two letters of reference to be sent directly to the York coordinator by the referees. Prospective candidates will be interviewed by the York and Sheridan Selection Committees. Programs will be tailored to each student through discussion with the coordinators.

Glendon College

Glendon is York's bilingual liberal arts Faculty. It is the only institution in southern Ontario where university programs are offered in both French and English. Glendon offers a superior environment for pursuing undergraduate studies. Situated in a park-like setting, bordering the glen of the Don Valley river, the Glendon campus is an oasis of peace and beauty. Considering its small size, the student/teacher ratio is one of the best.

Glendon is also dedicated to the proposition that an undergraduate liberal arts education is more relevant today than ever before. Upon graduation, students must be prepared to evolve in society and understand its workings in order to get involved and contribute in a constructive and positive manner. A good liberal arts curriculum imparts basic skills of study, thought and expression, and stimulates individual curiosity and exploration, both of the inner personality and of the external environment. Glendon is proud of its quality programs that prepare students for interesting careers in fields as diverse as business, commerce, finance, public administration, education, computer science and translation. Glendon offers 20 programs leading to a bachelor's degree, a master's degree in translation and a master's degree in études françaises. Prerequisite courses are offered for the BBA, MBA and LLL programs.

Glendon is unique because students may take university-level courses in both of Canada's official languages which are integrated into bilingual programs. Students do not have to be bilingual to be admitted to Glendon. However, they can of course choose the number of courses they take in their second language according to their own linguistic goal. Anglophones and francophones from Canada and other parts of the world all find what they are looking for in a home at Glendon: a solid, liberal arts education and a thorough knowledge of Canadian French and English language and culture.

With its small size and ideal location in the heart of Toronto, Glendon, operating within the ambit of a big University, can offer students the best of both worlds. The size and cohesiveness of the college mean that students have direct and ready access to professors, fellow students and administrators. In a college of about 2,000 students, relations can be more personal and informal — less bureaucratic. The quality of education is enhanced, as well as professional scholarship and research, which in turn contributes to enriching teaching. Glendon students also have the opportunity to study abroad in their third year of an Honours program, at French Canadian universities or universities around the world, thanks to an exchange program at Glendon. Glendon has negotiated formal exchange agreements with l'Université libre de Bruxelles in Belgium, l'Université de Rouen in France, l'Université de Montréal in Québec and all French Canadian universities outside Québec. York University's program, in which Glendon also participates, is even larger and includes agreements with more than 20 countries such as Mexico, Sweden, Israel, Japan and Hong Kong.

At Glendon, students may study part time or full time, primarily during the day. Students who are interested in education may coregister with the Faculty of Education to complete concurrent degrees in arts and education. Glendon has also negotiated an agreement with the Faculty of Education of the University of Ottawa and students from the centre-south-west region may now be registered at the University of Ottawa and attend their BEd program on the Glendon campus.

Student life at Glendon is full of extracurricular activities organized by and for students on campus, e.g. Theatre Glendon productions, the winter carnival, the musical ensemble, poetry nights etc. Students come from all parts of the world to benefit from Glendon's academic excellence, reputation and bilingual culture, and in turn offer us the cultural richness and different viewpoints of more than 50 countries.

Regulations for the Bachelor of Arts Degree

Introductory note: In these regulations the term academic session refers to the period from the beginning of instruction in September until the end of the annual examinations in the spring; academic year refers to the period from September 1 to August 31; year of study refers to the division of degree studies according to the number of courses already satisfactorily completed.

1. All candidates for the BA degree are subject to changes in regulations and requirements made after their first registration unless, in the opinion of the Faculty Council, undue hardship is involved. All inquiries about regulations and requirements shall be addressed to the Office of Student Programs.

Bilingual Program

Bilingual Requirement

2. i) All students admitted to a bachelor of arts degree program at Glendon must satisfy the bilingual requirement.

ii) All students must take a language placement assessment to determine their appropriate level of French and/or English.

iii) In order to satisfy the bilingual requirement, students must successfully complete at least six credits in each official language (French and English) at Glendon from the following two categories:

a) Courses at the second-year level and above in French as a second language and/or in English as a second language;

b) Courses in any discipline which are designated as satisfying the bilingual requirement. A student who wants to satisfy the bilingual requirement with courses other than FRLS and ENSL must submit to the Office of Student Programs a statement signed by the course instructor stating that they completed all of the required course work, tests and exams in the language of instruction of the course.

(iv) The following courses are not eligible for the bilingual requirement:

FRLS 0400 6.00

All FRLS 1000 level courses

All ENSL 1000 level courses

All SP courses

HUMA 2500 6.00

HUMA 3400 6.00

All courses taught in two languages or in any language other than English and French.

Note:

Students admitted to the unilingual stream (prior to 1987-1988) must successfully complete six credits taught in English focusing on French Canada or equivalent.

A course taken to satisfy the unilingual stream requirement cannot be counted toward any other college requirement.

Certificate of Bilingualism – French and English

To receive the Certificate of Bilingualism, students must successfully complete at least 18 credits in their second language with a minimum grade of C in each course. These courses must be at the second-year level and above in French as a second language or any courses at any level in another discipline of the college which are designated as satisfying the bilingual requirements.

Certificate of Bilingual Excellence

3. i) A Certificate of Bilingual Excellence is awarded to graduating students who successfully pass the Glendon examination of bilingual excellence.

ii) Course Requirements:

To sit for this exam, students must fulfill the following requirements:

a) English-speaking students must have obtained or be reasonably certain of obtaining a minimum grade of B in 18 credits taken in French. Courses which are acceptable are: GL/FRLS 2240 6.00, GL/FRLS 3240 3.00, GL/FRLS 3241 3.00; French literature courses at any level, and any courses at any level from another discipline of the college which are designated as satisfying the bilingual requirements.

b) The following courses in translation are also acceptable:

GL/TRAN 2210 3.00GL/TRAN 3270 3.00

GL/TRAN 2220 3.00GL/TRAN 4210 3.00

GL/TRAN 2250 3.00GL/TRAN 4225 3.00

GL/TRAN 3210 3.00GL/TRAN 4230 3.00

GL/TRAN 3220 3.00

iii) Examination Procedures:

a) Information about registering for this exam is available from the Office of Student Programs. The Glendon examination of bilingual excellence is held once a year in the winter term. To become candidates, students must be in their final year and must submit an application by the annually announced deadline.

b) Eligible candidates take a written and an oral examination which assess their comprehension and expression proficiency in both languages.

c) Candidates who pass both the written and oral sections of the examination are awarded a Certificate of Bilingual Excellence in addition to the bachelor of arts degree.

New Regulation

For students who have transferred to Glendon from another university or who are enrolled in another Faculty of York University, courses credited which meet the above criteria will be considered acceptable for the purpose of sitting for the Glendon examination of bilingual excellence, or to qualify for the Certificate of Bilingualism, if they graduate from Glendon.

Language Credit

4. i) A language credit, equal to six credits, will be awarded on application to English-speaking students who obtain a minimum grade of C in 12 credits taken entirely in French.

ii) Courses designated as language training courses will not count in satisfaction of the course requirements. Courses given partly in one language and partly in the other will not be counted. Where a course has the main lectures in French with the option of a seminar in English afforded, the course is excluded if students take the English seminar. All written work submitted in connection with the course must be done in the language of the course, with the exception of non-take-home examinations.

iii) Courses taken in the Department of French by English-speaking students doing a major in French will not be counted for purposes of the award of a language credit. In this context major means the 36 credits in the department required for a bachelor of arts degree, the 60 credits in the department prescribed for Specialized Honours, both the 42 credit and the 24 credit component in Combined Honours, the 42 credit component in General Honours and Honours Double Major.

iv) If students complete, with the appropriate standing, only six of the 12 credits required, they will be eligible to receive one-half of a language credit.

v) Though a language credit will be equivalent to six credits and will enable students who obtain such a credit to graduate with 84 credits instead of 90 credits for a bachelor of arts degree and 114 credits instead of 120 credits for an Honours degree, it will allow students to be exempted only from a free elective. They will still have to do the number of courses in their major prescribed for a bachelor of arts program or for any Honours program and they will also have to satisfy the general education requirements.

vi) The language credit will not be shown on students' cumulative records and it will not be counted in the academic average they are required to maintain. It will be shown only on the final transcript when students graduate. Until graduation, the official record of students who have earned a language credit will show an apparent deficiency of one course. Students who wish to earn a language credit should pay careful attention to this procedure because it means that the language credit will count towards degree requirements only if students graduate from Glendon. If students transfer to another Faculty of York University or to another university, their language credit will not be shown on their transcript and therefore will not count in any way towards the degree program to which they transfer.

vii) English-speaking students who intend to earn a language credit should, in most cases, take a normal course load in their first two years, including the required French language training course in each of those years. If they are Honours students they should normally plan to take a course in French in third year and another in fourth year. This would give them the option of taking a 27 credit load in each of the two upper years, or a 24 credit load in one of the two years and a 30 credit load in the other, depending on their estimate of the point at which their course load needs to be lightened to enable them to devote the necessary extra time to the courses they are taking in French. Bachelor of arts degree students should aim at earning only one half of a language credit by taking a course in French in their third year, unless they are proficient enough in French to have been exempted from first year language training or to be able to carry 12 credits in French in their third year.

viii) Some graduate schools do not recognize the language credit as equivalent to a course. Students contemplating enrolling at a graduate school who wish to take courses in French are therefore strongly advised not to seek a language credit.

Note: Students in the Translation Program are not eligible to receive the language credit. However, anglophone students who complete TRAD II in a francophone university may receive a credit or a half-credit at the discretion of the director of the school depending on the number of courses completed and the grades obtained.

Study in a Francophone University

5. Students in the Honours degree program, with an adequate knowledge of French, may receive credit towards a Glendon degree for a year's study in a francophone university in Canada or abroad. Enquiries should be addressed to the Subcommittee on Study in a Francophone University (SSFU), c/o the Office of Student Programs. Students re-entering Glendon after such a year of study, approved by the SSFU, need not make formal re-application, but should inform the Office of Student Programs of their intention to return and arrange to have transcripts forwarded to that office as early as possible.

English as a Second Language

6. All students admitted to the college whose mother tongue is a language other than English are required to take an English language placement test before registering. Continuing students who are non-native speakers of English should meet with the director of English as a second language or the English as a second language adviser before choosing their courses.

General Education Requirement

7. Every student in the college shall complete before graduation the equivalent of at least six credits in each of three of the four General education divisions: humanities, modes of reasoning, natural science, social science. At least six of the 18 credits taken in fulfillment of the above prescription must be at the 3000 or 4000 level. For detailed information about these divisions, see the description under multidisciplinary studies.

BA Degree With Honours

Specialized Honours Program

8. i) Specialized studies for the Honours BA degree may be taken in business economics, Canadian studies, drama studies, economics, English, études françaises, history, information technology, international studies, mathematics, multidisciplinary studies, philosophy, political science, psychology, sociology, translation and women's studies. Students who wish to obtain a Specialized Honours BA shall become a candidate for the degree in one of these areas.

ii) A detailed description for the Specialized Honours program in each discipline can be found at the beginning of the schedule of courses offered in that discipline.

Combined Honours Program

iii) Candidates for a Honours BA degree may, with the approval of the departments concerned, divide their studies between two of the disciplines offered in the college. They will then become candidates for Combined Honours, and take at least 60 credits in the two areas concerned. Information concerning the courses required or recommended for different combinations can be found at the beginning of the schedule of courses offered in the disciplines of their choice.

General Honours Program

iv) Studies in this program typically require the same calibre of work as required for Combined or Specialized Honours and will entail at least 36 credits in one area of study. For a specific description of course requirements for General Honours in each discipline, students should consult the program description found at the beginning of the schedule of courses offered in the various disciplines.

Honours Double Major Program

v) Studies in this program typically require the same calibre of work as required for Combined or Specialized Honours, and will entail at least 36 credits in each area of study. For a specific description of course requirements for Honours Double Major, students should consult the program description found at the beginning of the schedule of courses offered in the various disciplines.

BA Honours Degree Requirements

9. i) For graduation with an Honours degree students must have the equivalent of 120 credits and must have obtained the requisite cumulative average in the major and overall. Honours students are eligible to enrol in a year according to the number of credits they have obtained (see below):

Year	Credits
Year 1	Fewer than 24 credits
Year 2	Fewer than 54 credits
Year 3	Fewer than 84 credits
Year 4	At least 84 credits

ii) Subject to the selection criteria of the major department(s), students will be registered in the Honours program who, upon completion of each academic session, have a cumulative average as follows:

Year	Cumulative major average	Cumulative overall average
1	-	4.0
2	-	4.4
3	4.5	4.7

Students who have taken 84 credits, and who wish to proceed in an Honours program must have a cumulative grade point average of 5.0 in their major and 5.0 overall.

iii) Students whose averages do not meet these requirements at the end of an academic session may be given special permission by their Honours departments to continue as Honours students. Otherwise such students will be reclassified as bachelor of arts degree students. No student, however, may graduate with an Honours degree if the student's cumulative overall and major averages do not meet the fourth year requirements.

iv) Authorization of Advising Documents: All second-, third- and fourth-year candidates shall arrange their study plan before the registration period with the department in which they intend to take their Honours subject.

v) Candidates who fail to meet the cumulative overall or major averages for an Honours program will be allowed to continue in bachelor of arts degree studies or to qualify for the bachelor of arts degree provided that their standing is sufficient to warrant this; or they may petition to have their session counted as a failure and excluded from their cumulative overall average. They will then be placed on academic probation (see Regulation 32).

vi) Candidates who successfully completed the third year of Honours degree studies, and who have fulfilled the requirements for the bachelor of arts degree or who expect to have done so on completion of the current session, may be awarded the bachelor of arts degree by applying to the Office of Student Programs not later than January 31.

vii) Candidates who have been permitted to take the bachelor of arts degree in accordance with Regulation 9 (vi) may apply for re-admission to fourth-year Honours studies in the Honours subject(s) previously carried in third year and, if re-admitted, will have their BA degree reclassified with Honours upon successful completion of their fourth-year program.

BA Degree, Bachelor Program

10. The BA degree requires completion of 90 credits and normally consists of three years of satisfactory study. Programs leading to a BA degree are offered in Canadian studies, computer science, drama studies, economics, English, études françaises, Hispanic studies, history, information technology, mathematics, mathematics for commerce, multidisciplinary studies, philosophy, political science, psychology, sociology and women's studies. The detailed description for the bachelor program in each discipline can be found at the beginning of the schedule of courses offered in that discipline.

Bachelor of Arts Degree Requirements

11. i) For graduation with a bachelor of arts degree students must have 90 credits and must have obtained the requisite cumulative average in the major and overall. Bachelor of arts degree students are eligible to enrol in a year according to the number of credits they have obtained (see below):

Year	Credits
Year 1	Fewer than 24 credits
Year 2	Fewer than 54 credits
Year 3	At least 54 credits

ii) Students enrolled in a bachelor of arts degree program must maintain a cumulative average as follows:

Year	Cumulative major average	Cumulative overall average
1	-	3.6

iii) A major in the bachelor program shall consist of 30 or more credits in the discipline chosen. (For specific requirements in each discipline, candidates should consult the schedule of courses offered in that discipline.)

iv) Authorization of advising documents: All second- and third-year candidates shall arrange their advising documents before the registration period with the department in which they intend to take their major subject.

v) Transfer from the bachelor to the Honours program: Students in the third year of a bachelor of arts degree program who have achieved Honours standing will be permitted to transfer to the Honours program. Students who have graduated in the bachelor of arts degree program may apply for admission to fourth year of an Honours program and, if re-admitted will be eligible to have their degree reclassified with Honours if their cumulative overall and major averages meet the fourth-year requirements.

vi) Students who fail to meet graduation requirements for the bachelor of arts degree or Honours degree may take up to 12 additional credits above the 2000 level, selected with the approval of the major department, for the purpose of raising their cumulative grade point average to the level required for graduation.

Number of Courses Required for a Second or Subsequent BA Degree

12. Students who have completed an undergraduate degree or equivalent at an accredited postsecondary institution, and who wish to earn a BA through Glendon in a different subject may be admitted to the BA program on the following conditions:

- i) They must have achieved a cumulative grade point average of 5.0 on all previous courses for admission to an Honours program or a cumulative grade point average of 4.0 on all previous courses for admission to a bachelor program;
- ii) They must satisfy the following in-Faculty requirements (courses taken in fulfillment of the first degree may not be used to meet this requirement): a minimum of 30 new credits at York, including at least 50 per cent of the credits required in their major and minor within the Faculty of Glendon;
- iii) They must also satisfy all the requirements in the major/minor subject(s);
- iv) The in-Faculty requirements must be regarded as the minimum number of additional courses; if the department does not award credit towards the major/minor for courses taken in fulfillment of the previous degree, the required number of courses may well exceed that number;

v) All other applicable requirements of the University must be fulfilled.

Changes in Program

13. Students may change their degree program or major or Honours subject, providing they have the required standing and approval of the department(s) concerned, by notifying the Office of Student Programs no later than October 30.

Number of Courses Required for a First BA Degree

14. No student may receive a BA degree through Glendon unless the student has completed at least 30 credits of the program within York, including at least 50 per cent of the credits required in their major and minor within the Faculty of Glendon.

Transfer Credit

15. i) Students who, prior to entering Glendon, have attended an accredited postsecondary institution must arrange to have an official transcript of their records mailed directly to the Admissions Office at York University. Students who have successfully completed courses with a grade of C/60 per cent at another accredited postsecondary institution may be considered for transfer credits. (Applicants presenting credentials from a CAAT may be eligible for advanced standing if they complete two full years of study with an average of 3.0.)

ii) Students transferring to Glendon with a bachelor of arts degree from another accredited postsecondary institution and wishing to obtain a York Honours degree through Glendon must complete a program which meets the following conditions: completion of a minimum of 30 new credits at York, including at least 50 per cent of the credits required in their major and minor within the Faculty of Glendon. In addition to the above, students must also satisfy any further requirements of the major/minor department(s).

iii) Glendon students pursuing a York degree must seek a letter of permission (LOP) in advance from the Office of Student Programs for courses to be taken outside of York. Should a student leave York University to pursue study at another postsecondary institution without a letter of permission, upon return to York, a new application to York is required and all previous transfer credit will be reassessed.

iv) Courses taken at an accredited postsecondary institution other than York may be credited as courses taken and passed, provided that a grade of C/60 per cent or better is obtained. Actual grades will not be included in the cumulative averages. Transcripts should be submitted to the Office of Student Programs.

v) Credit for courses taken at other York Faculties is granted on the same basis as for courses taken at Glendon.

Interfaculty Transfer

Note: Students seeking information about inter-Faculty transfer should contact the Office of Student Programs of the Faculty to which they wish to transfer.

Class Hours

16. Unless otherwise noted, all courses meet for three hours per week.

Course Numbering System

17. i) Glendon courses are denoted by the Faculty prefix GL. The year of study in which a course is normally offered is indicated by the first digit (1, 2, 3, 4). (0 is used as a first digit for language-training introductory courses only.)

ii) Full courses are indicated by 6.00 following the course number. Half courses, offered in the fall or in the winter term, are distinguished by 3.00 following the course number.

Cross-Listed Courses

- 18. i) A course which is cross-listed in more than one department or division usually has the second digit 6 or 9 and is described only under the department or division by which the course is given.
- ii) A general education course cross-listed as a departmental course may be used to satisfy both the general education and the departmental requirements.
- iii) A course cross-listed in two or more departments may be used to satisfy the requirement of one department only.

Exemption from Curricular Requirements

19. Students may fulfill curriculum requirements with passed courses for which they did not receive credit and which were excluded from their cumulative total of courses. A grade of D in a second language or unilingual course taken at Glendon, or C in any other course or in any course taken elsewhere than at Glendon, will be acceptable.

Enrolment in Courses

- 20. i) Full-time students register in 24 to 36 credits each term and have grades recorded for a total of 24 to 36 credits during an academic session.
- ii) Students who are on probation may not take more than 30 credits during a session. Waiver of this regulation can only be granted under extenuating circumstances by petition.
- iii) Part-time students will take no more than 21 credits in one academic session.
- iv) Enrolment is permitted in full and half courses within the deadlines published in the Lecture Schedule. Enrolments at later dates will be made only with the written permission of all course directors and Chairs of the departments involved. Withdrawals are permitted as outlined in Regulation 21.
- v) At the time of registration, all students, except those in first year, must register in a major discipline or disciplines.
- vi) Students wishing to take courses more than one year above or below their year must secure approval of the department or division offering the course.
- vii) First year students may be admitted to second-year courses where indicated in the Calendar. To be admitted to other second-year courses, first year students must secure approval of the department or division offering the course.
- viii) These regulations are subject to the provision that a course may be closed by departments and divisions when its enrolment ceiling is reached.
- ix) All students who are permitted to register in courses offered in a year below their own year should take note that the standards employed in assigning and assessing their work in these courses will be such as are generally appropriate for courses in their own year.
- x)
  - a) Students are allowed to retake a failed course once for academic degree or certificate credit.
  - b) Students are allowed to retake a passed course once for academic degree or certificate credit, only if the student has failed to achieve sufficient standing to proceed in a core or prerequisite course in a degree or certificate program and if no alternative remedies are provided.
  - c) When a student is allowed to repeat a course for academic degree or certificate credit, the second grade will be the grade of record and the only grade calculated in the student's grade point average (major, cumulative, sessional and overall). A course can be credited only once towards satisfaction of degree or certificate academic credit requirements.
  - d) The record of both the first and second time the course was taken will appear on the student's transcript, with the first course designated as "No Credit Retained".
- xi) Courses which are offered on an ungraded pass/fail basis only and where the fail grade is to count as zero in the grade point average, will be designated as credit/no credit courses.

Withdrawal from Courses

- 21. Students may withdraw from a course before the deadline to receive a grade. The dates are published in the Lecture Schedule.
- Students who withdraw after the published dates will receive a grade of F for the course.

Withdrawal from Glendon

- 22. i) Students may withdraw from the college before the deadlines outlined in Regulation 21 without incurring any academic penalty.
- ii) If a student withdraws after the deadlines without approval of the petitions committee, grades will be entered on the student's official record. The student will be placed on academic probation and will be required to apply for re-admission if the student wishes to resume studies at Glendon in some subsequent session.
- iii) First-year students or students on probation who obtain an average of less than 3.0 in two or more courses at the end of the first term will be required to discuss their situation with a Faculty adviser and may be advised to withdraw from the college.
- iv) Under some circumstances the college may require students to withdraw involuntarily.

Auditing Students

- 23. i) Full-time students of York University may audit a course without an additional tuition fee. Other auditors must pay the regular fee for each full or half course.
- ii) No academic credit will be granted to students who audit a course. Before attending classes, auditors must obtain permission of the instructor and notify the Office of Student Programs.

Standing

24. Students shall obtain a standard of work in their courses of instruction satisfactory to the departments or divisions concerned, and they shall attend examinations, unless prevented by illness or by some other special circumstance.

Grading System

25. i) All courses at Glendon are graded on the following system:

Letter	Point Value	Percentage Grade	Definition
A+	9	90-100	Exceptional
A	8	80-89	Excellent
B+	7	75-79	Very Good
B	6	70-74	Good
C+	5	65-69	Competent
C	4	60-64	Fairly Competent
D+	3	55-59	Passing
D	2	50-54	Barely Passing
E	1	40-49	Marginally Failing
F	0	0-39	Failing

P	Ungraded	Pass
F	Ungraded	Fail

ii) Pass/Fail Alternative Grading Option

Students may take a limited number of courses for full degree credit on an ungraded (pass/fail alternative grading option) basis. Courses taken on this basis are listed on the transcript as P for pass or as F for fail. Neither of these two grades is calculated into the student's grade point averages.

The following regulations apply to courses to be taken on an ungraded (pass/fail alternative grading option) basis:

Academic Standing: Only students who are in good standing, (i.e. not on temporary probation, academic warning or debarment warning) are allowed to take such courses.

Prerequisite: Students may apply to take such courses only after they have successfully completed 24 credits.

Elective Courses Only: Courses taken on an ungraded (pass/fail alternative grading option) basis cannot be used to satisfy major, minor, general education, certificate requirements or 1000-level science courses.

Maximum Number of Ungraded Courses:

a) Honours Program: Students registered in an Honours program are allowed to take up to 12 credits on an ungraded (pass/fail alternative grading option) basis.

b) Bachelor Program: Students registered in a bachelor program are allowed to take up to six credits on an ungraded (pass/fail alternative grading option) basis.

Deadline: Students who wish to designate a course as ungraded must do so within the first two weeks of the term in which the course begins; they must first obtain the signature of the course director on the form available for this purpose from the Office of Student Programs. The completed form should then be returned to the Office of Student Programs by the deadline date.

Changing from Ungraded to Graded: With the permission of the course director, students may change the designation of a course from ungraded to graded until the last day to withdraw from that course without academic penalty. Formal notification of such a change must be received by the Office of Student Programs by the deadline date.

Definitions of Standing

26. The following definitions will apply.

Exceptional: Thorough knowledge of concepts and/or techniques and exceptional skill or great originality in the use of those concepts, techniques in satisfying the requirements of an assignment or course.

Excellent: Thorough knowledge of concepts and/or techniques together with a high degree of skill and/or some elements of originality in satisfying the requirements of an assignment or course.

Very Good: Thorough knowledge of concepts and/or techniques together with a fairly high degree of skill in the use of those concepts, techniques in satisfying the requirements of an assignment or course.

Good: Good level of knowledge of concepts and/or techniques together with considerable skill in using them to satisfy the requirements of an assignment or course.

Competent: Acceptable level of knowledge of concepts and/or techniques together with considerable skill in using them to satisfy requirements of an assignment or course.

Fairly Competent: Acceptable level of knowledge of concepts and/or techniques together with some skill in using them to satisfy the requirements of an assignment or course.

Passing: Slightly better than minimal knowledge of required concepts and/or techniques together with some ability to use them in satisfying the requirements of an assignment or course.

Barely Passing: Minimum knowledge of concepts and/or techniques needed to satisfy the requirements of an assignment or course.

Cumulative Overall Average: The sum of the point value of all courses taken (including those failed) divided by the number of courses. For purposes of computing averages, half courses receive half the weight of a full course.

Cumulative Major Average: The sum of the point value of all courses taken in the major (including those failed) divided by the number of courses. Major indicates the area of concentration which students must select in one of four programs: (a) Specialized Honours, (b) Combined Honours, (c) General Honours, (d) bachelor.

Credit: is given for all York University courses in which a D or better is achieved.

First Class Standing: Awarded on graduation to students with a cumulative overall average of at least 7.5. All students with a cumulative overall average of 7.5 are eligible for inclusion in the Dean's Honour Roll.

First Term Progress Reports

27. Course directors are required to report to the Office of Student Programs the names of any students who are obtaining less than 3.0 (D+) in the following categories:

- a) Students on probation (Reg. 32 (viii))
- b) First year students (See also Reg. 22 (iii))

Submission of Term Work

28. Term work in half courses given in the first term shall be submitted by the end of the December examination period. Term work in all other courses shall be submitted by the Friday of the first week of the annual examination period unless an earlier date has been set by the instructor in consultation with the students. Where there is no final examination in a course, no students may be required to submit their last piece of term work before the first day of the examination period.

Examinations

29. i) Final examinations are held during December for half courses offered in the first term and in April or May for half courses offered in the second term and for full courses. Examinations for students who have successfully petitioned for deferment on the grounds of illness or misfortune will be scheduled by instructors and will take place before the middle of March (in fall term courses) and before the middle of July (in winter term and full courses). Deferred assignments must be handed in no later than the middle of March (for fall term courses) and the middle of July (for winter term and full courses). Petitions for deferred standing must be initiated by the student not later than five working days after the end of examination period for the appropriate term. Faculty legislation specifies that no test or examination worth more than 20 per cent of the final grade will be given in the final two weeks of classes in a term with the exception of classes which regularly meet Friday evenings or the weekend (Saturday and Sunday at any time). Tests or examinations scheduled during the term must be held within the hours regularly scheduled for that course; such tests or examinations may be held in other hours only if no students' obligations are infringed upon. Students have the right to refuse, without penalty, an exam held in contravention of this regulation.

ii) Departments and divisions may waive final examinations by substituting a variety of written and oral tests in courses that do not require the evaluation of a final examination.

iii) All written work, including examinations, may be done in English or French at the candidate's option, except in cases where the use of the language constitutes an integral and essential part of the course concerned. Students will be duly notified of any restrictions concerning the use of either language.

iv) Students should report any conflicts, i.e. two or more examinations scheduled for the same time, without delay to the Office of Student Programs.

Final Grades

30. All final grades are calculated on the basis of a specific weighting scale set by the department or division concerned and may or may not include a final examination (written or oral). Students will be notified by their instructors shortly after the commencement of classes of the weighting scale and grading system assigned to each course.

Reappraisal of Final Grades

31. i) Examination scripts and class records of students are carefully assessed, especially in marginal cases, and there is little likelihood of the original standing being changed on appeal. However, a written request for reappraisal may be made to the Chair of the department or division in which the course is offered within three weeks of the release of the final grades in any term. Applicants must state clearly in the petition the reasons why they believe that their work in the course deserves a higher rating.

ii) Reappraisals are dealt with by the Chair of the department, or course director, in consultation with members of the staff. The student and the Office of Student Programs will be notified in writing of the results within three weeks of the appeal.

Academic Probation

32. i) The academic records of all students are reviewed at the end of each year of study.

ii) Students are placed on probation when they: a) are admitted with a marginal academic record; b) fail to obtain the required cumulative overall average for their year level.

iii) They are removed from probation when they obtain the required cumulative overall average for their year level.

iv) They may proceed on probation in the bachelor program if they maintain a 4.4 average on the courses taken while on probation, even if their cumulative average is below the minimum to be removed from probation.

v) Similarly, they may proceed on probation in the Honours program if they maintain a 6.0 average on the courses taken while on probation.

vi) They are debarred from further registration if they do not satisfy (iii) or (iv) above.

vii) Students who fail to obtain the cumulative average for their year and whose average for the current year is below 3.0, will have failed the year, and will receive no credit for courses taken in that year. The grades will appear on their record but will not enter into the calculation of their cumulative averages. If they wish to continue their studies at Glendon, they must apply for re-admission, and, if accepted, will be placed on academic probation.

viii) Students who are not debarred may petition by the closing date for registration of the next academic session in which they register to have their last year (or equivalent) counted as a failed year. The students would be placed on probation.

ix) Students on probation may not take more than 30 credits in an academic session.

x) Students on probation who do not attain at the end of the first term a cumulative average of more than 3.0 (D+) are required to discuss the situation with their adviser.

Debarment

33. i) Students on probation will be debarred from the University if they fail to satisfy (iii) or (iv) of Regulation 32.

ii) Students who have been debarred, whether at York or another university, may be re-admitted in some subsequent session only if they give convincing evidence that they can profit from university work. Application for re-admission will not be entertained in less than two years from date of debarment.

Special Provisions for Illness and Misfortune

34. Students who suffer unforeseeable hardship during an academic session, which makes it impossible to complete assigned work in the allotted time, may receive special consideration. The recognized categories of hardship are:

- illness
- personal misfortune
- unforeseeable economic hardship
- academic misfortune (unforeseeable inability to obtain necessary research materials or a confirmed error on the part of the institution).

Students may petition through the Office of Student Programs, if they have appropriate evidence, for:

i) Withdrawal from any number of courses without penalty. Normally petitions for late withdrawal from a course will only be considered if they are submitted within three weeks of the release of final grades in any term. Such petitions may be considered for a period of up to one year if they are based on special circumstances.

ii) Deferred standing in one or more courses, for work expected to be in progress during the period of hardship.

iii) Aegrotat standing in one or more courses. Aegrotat standing shall not be granted in more than one year of study and will seldom be granted in any but the final year.

There are deadlines for all petitions. Check with the Office of Student Programs.

Breach of Academic Honesty

35. i) Definitions

Consult the definitions contained in the Senate Policy on Academic Honesty, in the University Policy and Regulations section of this Calendar. For further clarification, contact the Office of Student Programs, C105 York Hall.

ii) Procedures

See also detailed description of Senate procedures.

Note: Once the process outlined in Sections B and D has begun, a student accused of academic dishonesty may not drop or be deregistered from the course in question until a final decision is reached. Requests for transcripts made during the process will be treated in accordance with the Senate Policy on Academic Honesty. A student who is suspended and is otherwise eligible to graduate may not apply to graduate until a suspension expires or is lifted.

A. If, in the instructor's informed view, the case may be dealt with informally by the instructor and the student involved, the two parties agree on the adopted measure. In any event, a document is signed by the instructor and the student, stating the measure adopted to remedy the situation and the reasons that motivated the measure. The document is then sent to the Office of Student Programs. This record is strictly confidential and can be cited only in the case of determining penalty in the event of a subsequent offence(s) of a breach of academic honesty.

B. Cases in which the course director/instructor decides to proceed with an allegation of plagiarism, cheating or other form of academic dishonesty,

Step 1

He/she shall provide the Chair with a written summary of the circumstances and all evidence, i.e.:

- in cases involving cheating in an exam, the confiscated material;
- in cases involving plagiarism, the work in question, all sources/books from which student has allegedly copied.

Step 2

Once Step B.1. has begun, the student involved may not drop or be deregistered from the course in question until a final decision is reached.

Step 3

The Chair of the department will arrange to meet with the student and the course director/instructor in the presence of the associate principal, student services (or delegate) - as a neutral third party, and will for this purpose notify the student programs director who will inform the student, by registered letter, with at least seven calendar days notice, with a copy to the student's file:

- a) of the date, time and place of the meeting;
- b) of the reason for such a meeting;
- c) that the student may be accompanied by a representative at the meeting.

Step 4

At the meeting with the student, the course director/instructor shall:

- a) outline the alleged offence to the student;
- b) ask student to respond to the allegation.

Step 5

a. No Breach

If following the above meeting, the Chair and course director/instructor are satisfied that there has been no breach of academic honesty, the Chair notifies the student of the decision in writing. All evidence submitted will then be destroyed and no record will be kept in the student's academic file.

or

b. Breach

If following the above meeting, the Chair and course director/instructor are of the belief that there has been a breach of academic honesty, the Chair asks the student if she/he will plead guilty or not guilty to the offence.

Step 6

Plea

a. Guilty Plea

If student pleads guilty to a breach of academic honesty:

- the Chair prepares a document to be signed by the student and the course director/instructor, in the presence of the associate principal, enrolment and student affairs (or delegate), outlining the nature of the offence, the penalty agreed upon by the student and the instructor (not to exceed failure on the assignment or in the test or exam) and the student's admission to the charge. (If the instructor seeks a more severe penalty, then a hearing before the Committee on Academic Standards, Teaching and Learning (CASTL) must be held, as indicated in 7 below.)

Note:

The following penalties may be imposed singularly or in combination (but only a, b and c may be the subject of a joint recommendation):

- a) oral or written disciplinary warning or reprimand;
  - b) a make-up assignment or examination;
  - c) lower grade or failure on the assignments or examination;
  - d) failure in the course;
  - e) suspension from the University for a definite period;
  - f) notation on transcript;
  - g) withholding or rescinding a York degree, diploma or certificate.
- A permanent record of the offence will be placed in the student's academic file, but this record is strictly confidential and can be cited only in the case of determining penalty in the event of a subsequent offence(s) of a breach of academic honesty.
- the Chair sends a copy of the signed document and the documents indicated in B.1. above to:
    - i) CASTL for review, and;
    - ii) the Office of Student Programs (OSP) for student's academic file. (Note: This record is for internal academic purposes only.)

In the absence of endorsement of the signed document, CASTL will call a hearing.

b. Not Guilty Plea - preparation for hearing

If student pleads not guilty to the alleged offence, or if the course director/instructor seeks a penalty which exceeds failure in assignment/test/exam, or if CASTL does not approve the joint recommendation as to penalty, then a hearing will be scheduled. The course director/instructor submits to the secretary of CASTL, a report outlining:

- the alleged offence and relevant circumstances
- the meeting with the student and its outcome
- all documents relating to the case.

The secretary of CASTL will then arrange a hearing that will take place before CASTL. The student will be notified of the hearing by registered letter and will be given at least 21 calendar days' notice of the hearing with copies to the Chair of the department, the course director/instructor, the principal and all members of CASTL. The student will also be sent a written copy of the charge, a copy of the procedures to be followed and copies of all materials submitted by the faculty member and be informed that he/she may be accompanied by a representative and may call witnesses. The student may submit a written response.

Step 7

Hearing

A hearing shall take place before CASTL to consider the charges. At that hearing the principal (or designate) shall act as presenter. The hearing shall be conducted according to the procedures mandated by the Senate Policy on Academic Honesty.

Step 8

If the student is found guilty, CASTL shall proceed to consider submissions as to the appropriate penalty.

Step 9

The secretary of CASTL shall inform the student by registered mail of the committee's decision, and, in the case of a guilty verdict, of appeal procedures; a copy will also be sent to the department concerned and to the Office of Student Programs.

A permanent record of the offence will be placed in the student's academic file. This record is for internal academic purposes only.

Step 10

Appeal Procedures

The decision of the committee may be appealed to the Senate Appeals Committee on grounds of either new evidence (i.e. evidence which could not be presented at the Faculty level) or on procedural irregularity in the Faculty's consideration of the case.

Part-time Studies

Part-time studies are particularly convenient for students who wish to combine University work with employment or personal commitments. They also provide a stepping stone to full-time studies for students who have been away from formal education for a few years and wish to try out University before committing themselves to a full-time program.

One of the advantages of Glendon's part-time day studies program is the availability of some block-scheduled courses, classes which meet one day a week, cutting down on commuting time and allowing for ease in scheduling other commitments around University work.

About a third of Glendon students are pursuing their degrees on a part-time basis, taking from six to 21 credits per session. They enjoy the same privileges and freedoms as full-time students in terms of course choice, accessibility of resources and participation in campus life, and are subject to the same regulations.

General Information

Recruitment and Liaison Office

The Recruitment and Liaison Office is the welcome centre of the campus, responsible for promoting Glendon to prospective students, providing admissions information organizing open house events etc. In addition, it publishes promotional materials, participates in career fairs, creates partnership programs with high schools, supports French language and other special events, and visits high schools and colleges across Canada and abroad.

Telephone: 416-487-6710

Fax: 416-487-6813

E-mail: liaison@glendon.yorku.ca

Web site: <http://www.glendon.yorku.ca/liaison>

Library

The Leslie Frost Library's collection of approximately 250,000 monographs, 1,000 paper and 18,000 electronic journals and 20,000 government documents are available on open stacks. The language ratio is approximately 70 per cent English, 30 per cent French. Instruction is available on a variety of topics: general research methods, Internet searching, database searching. Students and faculty of Glendon have full privileges at all the York libraries, giving them access to Canada's third largest academic collection. Most material from the other York libraries can be sent to Frost on a day's notice.

Bookstore

The bookstore is located in the basement of York Hall. All required textbooks for courses are stocked. All books are priced at the Canadian publishers' or distributors' recommended list price. Any book not in stock may be special ordered. The bookstore also carries stationery, Glendon and York clothing, confectionary, and a selection of other items. The Glendon Bookstore has access to the large stock of the Keele campus bookstore.

Glendon Gallery

The Glendon Gallery is a public art gallery located on the Glendon campus. The gallery presents a program of monthly exhibitions. Emphasis is placed on the educative function and contemporary art.

Literature in French and English, as well as guided tours, lectures by artists, curators complement the exhibition program. Additional information is available in the gallery or by calling 416-487-6859.

Theatre Glendon

Theatre Glendon, in York Hall, is a fully equipped theatrical performance space with a professional technical director and a technical assistant. It annually houses a full season of in- course and extracurricular student productions, and hosts visiting professional companies as well. The theatre is the second home of everyone enrolled in drama studies. Additional information is available at the Theatre or by calling 416-269-6641.

Residence

Glendon has two residences, Wood and Hilliard, which together house 401 students in comfortably furnished single, small single and double rooms. There is a large proportion of single rooms open to students in all years of study. Residence is guaranteed to first-year students who meet the application deadline. Applicants who apply early in the summer have a better choice of accommodation.

Each residence is divided into houses of 30 to 45 students; some are designated to be exclusively for women, while others are coed. Please note that all members of the house share all facilities in a house, including its washroom(s).

Residence rooms are carpeted and completely furnished with beds, desks, dressers, clothes cupboards, bookshelves, chairs, drapes and recycling baskets. Please note that linen is available upon special request. The rooms are designed to encourage personal additions such as posters, wall hangings, plants and the like. Due to a lack of storage space, however, all university furnishings must remain in the rooms. For the safety of all residents, microwave ovens, toasters, pets, waterbeds and air conditioners are among some of the items not permitted in residence rooms.

The residences have kitchen facilities available for a limited number of senior students. Most residents eat in the Cafeteria or the Sports Bar at the Proctor Field House. Please see the Meal Plan section for details.

Each residence house has a common room with cable television. Students also have access to vacuum cleaners, irons, video cassette recorders, pool and billiard equipment and a study room. A resident may have his or her own phone but must arrange installation and billing directly with York Telecom or Bell Canada. Card operated laundry facilities are located in the basement of each residence.

Applications to residence are made through Glendon Student Affairs and Housing Services, 416-487-6844. In the residences themselves, a team of housing professionals endeavour to enrich the experience of residence life, including administrators, night porters, caretakers and dons who act as resource people while helping to foster a sense of community on each house.

Residence students are at the heart of the academic, social, artistic and athletic life of the campus. Here, the opportunity for building lasting friendships and communicating with students from all over the world allows residents to practice both of Canada's official languages in a friendly environment. Suggestions and concerns are brought to the Residence Council which is composed of student representatives living in residence.

Summer residence accommodation is also available for students and visitors.

Glendon also offers limited accommodation for visiting parents and friends during the school year.

Meal Plan

All students living in residence are required to purchase a meal plan. This plan enables students to retain the responsibility for satisfying their own dietary needs within the range of available à la carte selections.

The residence fee includes the cost of the meal plan. A debit card, the YorkCard, is issued to each resident student as per the meal plan and can be spent at any University-controlled food service outlet on food and non-alcoholic beverages. At Glendon, the outlets are the Cafeteria Glendon, Mr Sub, an on- campus variety store and the Sports Bar at the Proctor Field House. The card system allows for flexibility and choice, and it allows for students to spend as little or as much as they like at each meal. Suggestions and concerns are brought to the Food Services Committee which is composed of student representatives living in residence.

It is unlikely that the amount of meal plan money included in the residence fee will purchase 100 per cent of the resident's food requirements for eight months unless he or she is a very light eater or plans to dine frequently off-campus. Thus, residents will generally need to supplement the meal plan with cash purchases.

Residence Fees

The residence fees for the 2004-2005 academic sessions are as follows (subject to change):

	Single	Small Single	Double
Room	$3,855.00	$3,687.00	$3,455.00

Athletics

The Glendon Athletic Club is situated in the Proctor Field House, located on the lower level of the campus. Facilities include international squash courts, a Spinning studio, a gymnasium, 24-yard indoor pool, an indoor golf driving range, a fitness room, and a weight room equipped with free weights, universal and top-of-the-line cardio equipment. In addition, chiropractic services, physiotherapy, nutritional counselling and orthotic therapy are available on a fee-for- service basis. Outdoors you will find a soccer pitch, tennis courts, baseball diamond and cricket pitch. Change areas and day-use lockers are provided.

Most of the facilities and programs are offered for a nominal charge. Special services and instructional programs such as Spinning classes, tennis and squash lessons, karate, hiphop, pilates, yoga and Latin Dancing, bear a cost. Glendon students are encouraged to play an active role in the York Student Intramural Recreation Council (SIRC), where policy and regulations govern inter-college athletics. For more information regarding The Glendon Athletic Club call 416-487-6717.

Counselling and Career Centre

The Counselling and Career Centre offers a wide variety of bilingual counselling and career services to Glendon students. To make an appointment you can either drop by the centre, located in E103 Glendon Hall, or phone 416-487-6709.

Personal Counselling

Students come to the Counselling and Career Centre with a diversity of problems and needs. Some common concerns experienced by students at university are: living away from home for the first time, work pressures, forming new relationships and confusion over goals and identity. At the Counselling and Career Centre you will find professionally trained counsellors who will listen to your concerns and help you sort things out. All matters discussed at the centre are strictly confidential.

Career Counselling

Career issues are a major concern for everyone. While some students have clear career goals, the majority are not yet sure which career path suits them. The centre offers individual and group career planning sessions to help you explore your interests, abilities and values. Interest tests are also available to assist you with your career planning. In addition there are career information days and employment fairs held during the year.

Group Programs

The Counselling and Career Centre offers workshops on many topics including: avoiding procrastination, stress management, communication skills, weight management, increasing self-confidence, relaxation training, career options, job search strategies, resume writing and interview preparation. In addition, there is a support group for students who have been out of school for a period of time.

Learning Skills

Students often lack a systematic approach to studying and therefore feel overwhelmed by their studies. Throughout the year, the Counselling and Career Centre offers workshops on study skills which include time management, note taking, reading a textbook and exam preparation strategies. You can also make an individual appointment with a counsellor to discuss any of your study problems.

Services for Students with Disabilities

The Counselling and Career Centre has a comprehensive support program for students with disabilities. The program includes individual consultations, a peer tutoring program for help with learning strategies and adaptive technology. The Centre also arranges with faculty for special accommodations needed for course evaluations and examinations.

Sexual Harassment Complaint Centre

The Counselling and Career Centre acts as a liaison to the Sexual Harassment Education and Complaint Centre located on the Keele campus.

Resource Centre

There is an excellent resource library in the Counselling and Career Centre, where you are welcome to drop in and browse. It contains educational and occupational information, career planning reference guides, as well as self-help materials on personal issues, job search techniques, resume writing, job interview tips and study skills. In addition, you can access volunteer positions and job postings, an Internet employment site.

Writing Workshop

Academic writing is a challenging, complex task which can present numerous difficulties for students. The Writing Workshop provides services in French and English to help students improve their writing skills. It offers short, workshops covering the elements of essay writing: argumentation, organization and development, editing and revising. Students who desire help with their work in progress may book appointments for individual tutoring.

For further information, please visit the Writing Workshop Web site located under Quicklinks on the MyGlendon site.

Students With Disabilities

The Counselling and Career Centre, 416-487-6709 acts as a liaison office for students with disabilities at Glendon, working in conjunction with the coordinator of the York Centre for Persons with Disabilities 416-736-5140. Most of the buildings and rooms at Glendon are accessible to disabled persons; however students wishing to study at the college or live in residence are encouraged to contact either of the offices mentioned, to discuss their own particular situation.

Off-Campus Housing

Glendon runs an off-campus housing service for students. Housing lists can be mailed to out-of-town students for a small fee. The lists are also available online at <http://www.studentaffairs.yorku.ca/offcampushousing/>. During the school year, all listings received are posted on the notice boards. The telephone number for enquiries is 416-487-6844.

International Students

The Office of Student Affairs, 416-487-6844, in conjunction with York International 416-736-5177, acts as an information centre for international students at Glendon. International students with questions, comments or problems are encouraged to contact the Glendon office at any time. Senior international students are often available to help new students in their adjustment to life at Glendon.

Inter-Campus Bus Service

York University Parking and Transportation Services provide a complimentary intercampus shuttle service between the Glendon and Keele campuses. The shuttle offers six intercampus trips daily between 7:20am and 10:45pm on weekdays, with a reduced schedule on Fridays. The Glendon shuttle stop is located outside C-Wing York Hall, facing Hilliard Residence. The Keele shuttle stop is on the north side of the Student Centre.

For further information, please call 416-736-2100, ext. 22541 (or 416-736-5454 from 6pm until 12am). You can also visit the Web site at: <http://www.csbo.yorku.ca/transportation/>.

Glendon Parking

Students, faculty and staff parking vehicles on University property are required to register them with the Glendon Parking Office, abide by the Parking and Traffic Regulations and pay a parking fee. Application forms for parking space are available from the Parking Office, the Greenhouse, Glendon. The Parking Office is open during business hours Monday to Friday (416-487-6788).

Public Transit

The Toronto Transit Commission has two bus routes which service Glendon College: Bayview 11 and the 124 Sunnybrook. For information about schedules and times please call TTC Information at 416-393-4636 or view their Web site <http://www.ttc.ca>.

Glendon Security

In an emergency, call ext. 33333 (or 416-736-5333) for police/fire/ambulance response. Emergency agencies request that 911 calls come directly from Security Services. This enables York Security to meet and escort emergency vehicles directly to the location of the emergency so that valuable time is not lost searching for a particular building or residence.

For non-emergencies, or if you are not sure what to do about a particular crime, concern, or problem, call ext. 66808 (or 416-487-6808).

Glendon Student Security and Escort Service

Student security officers will meet you at parking lots, bus stops, buildings and residences, and escort you to your campus destination. The Student Security Escort Service operates seven days a week, all year round (except for the university winter closure). Hours of operation are: September to April from 6pm to 2am and May to August from 8pm to 2am. Call the Student Security Office at ext. 66799 (or 416-487-6799) during hours of operation. You can call free of charge from any pay phone located on campus.

Lost and Found

Enquiries should be directed to the Glendon Security Office, the Greenhouse, call ext. 66808 (or 416-487-6808).

The University regrets that it cannot be responsible for items of personal property left unattended on the grounds or within the buildings.

You can find more information about the Department of Safety, Security and Parking Services at our Web site <http://www.csbo.yorku.ca>.

Student Government

The Glendon College Student Union is the social and political expression of students at Glendon. The union executive consists of a president, a vice-president and six directors (cultural affairs, bilingual affairs, academic affairs, clubs and services, communications, and external affairs) elected during the spring election along with six councillors.

Fall elections are held to elect four more councillors, as well as part-time student representatives and first year student representatives. The Glendon Alumni Association also sends an elected representative.

The two main purposes of the union are, first, to protect the interests of students in the academic and administrative affairs of the college and, second, to coordinate and promote student participation in cultural, intellectual and social activities such as dances, clubs, union meetings and colloquia. The three major events of the year are orientation week (at the beginning of September), the Snow Ball (early in December) and the winter carnival (first week of February).

Please get in touch with us and participate in the union. Student solidarity. Our office is in 175 York Hall, opposite the Cafeteria, 416-487-6720.

Faculty Council and Committees

Faculty Council is the highest academic body governing Glendon and includes membership of students, staff and faculty. It meets regularly to deliberate on academic issues which concern the college. These may range from policies and planning for the future to academic standards and student petitions.

Most of the committees of the council are composed of an equal number of faculty and students, including those which handle student petitions, the tenure and promotion of faculty, bilingualism and the screening of all curriculum proposals. Student representation on council comprises up to 15 per cent of the total membership. Elections for these positions are held in March of each year.

Clubs and Organizations

There is a wide variety of formal and informal groups on the campus, with interests ranging from poetry to politics. Students and members of the faculty and staff are encouraged to participate in existing activities, and to start new clubs to meet their interests. The Glendon College Students' Union (GCSU) will act as a centre of information and support.

Collège universitaire Glendon

Le Collège universitaire Glendon est la faculté bilingue de sciences humaines et de lettres de l'Université York. C'est le seul établissement universitaire du sud de l'Ontario à offrir des programmes à la fois en anglais et en français. Compte tenu de sa petite taille le rapport professeurs/étudiants y est des plus favorables.

La philosophie éducative de Glendon repose sur le constat que l'enseignement des sciences humaines et des lettres est plus pertinent que jamais. Une fois diplômés, les étudiants doivent être prêts à évoluer dans la société ; ils doivent être en mesure d'en comprendre les fondements afin de mieux s'y insérer et de contribuer de manière constructive à l'améliorer. Un bon programme d'étude en humanités affine leur aptitude à apprendre, à penser, à s'exprimer ; il éveille leur curiosité et les lance à la découverte de soi et du monde extérieur. Glendon est fier de ses programmes de qualité qui préparent ses étudiants à des carrières intéressantes dans des domaines aussi divers que l'administration des affaires, le commerce, la finance, la fonction publique, les communications et les relations publiques, l'enseignement, l'informatique ou encore la traduction. Le Collège universitaire Glendon offre vingt programmes de baccalauréat, ainsi que deux programmes de maîtrise, l'un en traduction et l'autre en études françaises. On peut aussi y suivre des cours en vue de l'admission aux programmes de BBA, MBA et LLB.

Le Collège universitaire Glendon doit en grande partie son caractère unique au fait que les cours y sont offerts dans les deux langues officielles du Canada et ce, dans le cadre de programmes intégralement bilingues. Toutefois, être bilingue n'est pas un préalable pour être admis à Glendon. En outre, les étudiants choisissent eux-mêmes le nombre de cours qu'ils suivront dans leur deuxième langue officielle canadienne, en fonction de leurs propres objectifs linguistiques. Les anglophones et francophones du Canada et d'ailleurs trouvent à Glendon ce qu'ils viennent y chercher — en l'occurrence, une solide éducation en humanités, conjugée à la possibilité d'acquérir ou d'approfondir une connaissance des langues et des cultures canadienne-anglaise et canadienne-française.

De plus, l'environnement de Glendon convient parfaitement à la poursuite d'études de premier cycle. Situé sur un escarpement dominant la vallée de la rivière Don, son très beau campus est une véritable oasis de paix. Par sa petite taille et sa situation avantageuse au cœur de Toronto, le Collège Glendon, qui fait néanmoins partie d'une grande université, peut offrir à ses étudiants le meilleur de deux mondes. Ainsi, sa taille modeste et la cohésion de ses programmes, tout autant que la situation privilégiée de son campus, favorisent les contacts personnels entre les étudiants, les professeurs et le personnel administratif. Dans un établissement dont l'effectif total est d'environ 2000 étudiants, les relations peuvent être plus personnelles, plus directes et moins bureaucratiques. La qualité des études s'en trouve rehaussée, de même que la recherche et le travail intellectuel des professeurs — ce qui, en retour, contribue encore à enrichir l'enseignement. Étudier à Glendon, c'est aussi avoir la possibilité de faire sa troisième année d'un programme spécialisé dans une université canadienne-française ou dans une université étrangère grâce au réseau d'échanges de Glendon d'une part, et de l'Université York d'autre part. Le programme d'échange de Glendon, qui lui est spécifique, comprend des ententes avec l'Université libre de Bruxelles (Belgique) ; l'Université de Rouen (France) ; l'Université de Montréal (Québec), ainsi que toutes les universités canadiennes-françaises hors Québec. Le programme de l'Université York, auquel Glendon souscrit également, est encore plus vaste et comprend des ententes avec plus de 20 pays, comme le Mexique, la Suède, Israël, le Japon ou Hong Kong par exemple.

Glendon offre la possibilité de poursuivre des études à plein temps ou à temps partiel, principalement durant le jour. Les étudiants de Glendon qui se destinent à l'enseignement peuvent suivre en parallèle leur programme en humanités et le programme de la Faculté des sciences de l'éducation afin d'obtenir un double baccalauréat. Par ailleurs, Glendon a signé un accord avec la Faculté des sciences de l'éducation de l'Université d'Ottawa, afin que les étudiants qui y sont inscrits et qui résident dans la région du Centre-sud-ouest de l'Ontario puissent suivre leur programme de baccalauréat à Glendon.

Règlements gouvernant l'obtention du baccalauréat ès arts

Remarques explicatives : Le terme "session scolaire" s'applique à la période de cours commençant en septembre et s'étendant jusqu'à la fin des examens au printemps ; "année universitaire" désigne la période du 1er septembre au 31 août ; "année d'études" indique la division des études selon le nombre de cours déjà réussis.

1. Les changements apportés aux règlements et aux exigences s'appliquent également à tous les candidats au BA - à moins que le Conseil de la Faculté ne décide qu'ils représentent une épreuve excessive. Prière d'adresser toute demande de renseignement concernant les règlements et les exigences au Bureau des programmes scolaires.

Programme Bilingue

Exigences en matière de bilinguisme

- i) Tous les étudiants admis à un programme de baccalauréat ès arts au Collège universitaire Glendon doivent satisfaire aux exigences du Collège en matière de bilinguisme.
- ii) Tous les étudiants doivent passer un test linguistique afin de déterminer leur niveau de français et d'anglais.
- iii) Pour satisfaire aux exigences en matière de bilinguisme, tous les étudiants doivent obtenir au moins six crédits dans chaque langue officielle (français et anglais) au Collège universitaire Glendon dans les deux catégories suivantes :

a) des cours de 2<sup>e</sup> année ou d'un niveau supérieur en Français langue seconde ou en Anglais langue seconde:

b) des cours dans une discipline qui respecte les exigences en matière de bilinguisme du Collège. Tous les étudiants qui préfèrent suivre des cours autres que les cours de Français langue seconde ou d'Anglais langue seconde pour respecter les exigences en matière de bilinguisme doivent soumettre au Bureau des programmes scolaires une attestation signée par le professeur du cours indiquant que tous les travaux, tests et examens ont été réalisés dans la langue d'instruction du cours.

iv) Les cours suivants ne sont pas admissibles pour satisfaire aux exigences de bilinguisme du Collège :

FRLS 0400 6.00

tous les cours FRLS de niveau 1000

tous les cours ENSL de niveau 1000

tous les cours SP

HUMA 2500 6.00

HUMA 3400 6.00

tous les cours enseignés dans deux langues ou dans une langue autre que le français ou l'anglais.

Remarque :

Tous les étudiants admis au programme unilingue (avant 1987-1988) doivent obtenir six crédits pour des cours enseignés en anglais axés sur le Canada français ou l'équivalent.

Un cours suivi pour satisfaire aux exigences du programme unilingue ne peut servir à respecter toute autre exigence du Collège universitaire Glendon.

Certificat de bilinguisme – Français et Anglais

Pour l'obtention du Certificat de bilinguisme il faut avoir réussi, avec une note minimum de C, à au moins 18 crédits dans sa langue seconde : cours de 2<sup>e</sup> année ou au-dessus en Anglais langue seconde ou tout cours, à tous les niveaux, dans une autre discipline du collège qui sont désignés comme satisfaisant à l'exigence de bilinguisme.

Certificat d'excellence bilingue

3. i) Les étudiants en dernière année d'études et qui ont subi avec succès l'examen d'excellence bilingue de Glendon, se voient décerner un certificat d'excellence bilingue.

ii) Cours requis :

Pour pouvoir se présenter à l'examen, les étudiants doivent satisfaire aux prérequis suivants :

a) L'étudiant francophone doit avoir reçu, ou être raisonnablement assuré de recevoir, une note minimum de B dans 18 crédits suivis en anglais; cours ENSL à partir de la 2<sup>e</sup> année et cours EN à tous les niveaux ou tout cours en anglais, à tous les niveaux, dans une autre discipline qui sont désignés comme satisfaisant à l'exigence de bilinguisme.

b) Les étudiants francophones en Traduction peuvent utiliser les cours suivants comme prérequis à l'inscription :

TRAN 2210 3.00TRAN 3270 3.00

TRAN 2220 3.00TRAN 4210 3.00

TRAN 2250 3.00TRAN 4225 3.00

TRAN 3210 3.00TRAN 4230 3.00

TRAN 3220 3.00

iii) Déroulement de l'examen :

a) Pour s'inscrire à l'examen, les étudiants sont priés de s'adresser au Bureau des programmes scolaires. Ils doivent remplir un formulaire d'inscription à l'examen avant la date limite annoncée chaque année. L'examen d'excellence bilingue de Glendon a lieu une fois par an, au trimestre d'hiver.

b) Les candidats éligibles passent un examen écrit et un examen oral destinés à évaluer leur compréhension et leur expression dans les deux langues.

- c) Les candidats ayant réussi l'examen oral et l'examen écrit reçoivent un certificat d'excellence bilingue qui leur est décerné avec leur diplôme de baccalauréat ès arts.

Crédit linguistique

4. i) L'équivalent de six crédits, sera décerné, sur demande, à l'étudiant francophone qui reçoit une note minimum de C dans 12 crédits suivis entièrement en anglais.

ii) Les cours décrits comme cours d'apprentissage de langue ne comptent pas en vue de l'obtention du Crédit. Les cours donnés, moitié dans une langue et moitié dans l'autre, ne comptent pas non plus. Si le cours magistral est donné en anglais, et le séminaire au choix, le cours ne compte pas si l'étudiant choisit le séminaire français. Tous les travaux écrits relevant du cours doivent être rédigés dans la langue du cours, exception faite des examens.

iii) Les cours suivis dans le Département d'anglais par les étudiants francophones qui suivent un programme d'études avec concentration en anglais ne comptent pas en vue de l'obtention d'un crédit linguistique. Dans ce contexte "concentration" veut dire les 30 crédits dans la discipline exigés pour le baccalauréat, les 60 crédits requis pour le baccalauréat spécialisé, les groupements de 36 crédits et de 24 crédits dans le programme spécialisé bidisciplinaire, le groupement de 36 crédits dans les programmes spécialisé général et spécialisé avec double majeure.

iv) Un demi-crédit linguistique sera attribué à celui qui réussit 6 des 12 crédits requis avec une note minimum de C.

v) Le crédit linguistique étant équivalent à six crédits, cela permettra à son détenteur d'obtenir le baccalauréat avec 84 crédits au lieu de 90 crédits, et le baccalauréat spécialisé avec 114 crédits au lieu de 120 crédits. Cependant, le crédit linguistique ne dispensera que d'un cours facultatif. L'étudiant devra de toute façon suivre le nombre de cours exigé dans le champ de concentration du baccalauréat auquel il est inscrit, et il sera également tenu de satisfaire aux exigences du programme de formation générale.

vi) Le dossier scolaire de l'étudiant ne portera la mention "crédit linguistique" que lors de l'attribution du diplôme de baccalauréat, et le crédit n'entrera pas dans le calcul de la moyenne scolaire. Jusqu'à la remise du diplôme le dossier de l'étudiant ayant obtenu un crédit linguistique indiquera un cours de moins que la norme. L'étudiant qui aimerait obtenir un crédit linguistique devrait garder à l'esprit que le crédit ne comptera en vue de l'obtention du Baccalauréat que si l'étudiant termine son diplôme à Glendon. S'il change de faculté à l'Université York, ou d'université, son crédit linguistique n'apparaîtra pas dans son dossier et ne comptera pas dans le programme d'études de l'institution où il s'inscrira.

vii) L'étudiant francophone qui n'est pas très fort en anglais devrait profiter de la possibilité d'obtenir plus tard un crédit linguistique en suivant 24 crédits ou 27 crédits en première année au lieu de 30 crédits. Mais il doit tenir compte des faits suivants : a) il sera tenu de faire tous ses travaux écrits en anglais dans les 12 crédits qu'il désignera pour le crédit ; b) il devra recevoir une note d'au moins C dans ces 12 crédits ; c) le crédit linguistique ne comptera que s'il termine son Baccalauréat à Glendon.

viii) Certaines facultés de 2e et 3e cycles ne reconnaissent pas le crédit linguistique comme l'équivalent d'un cours. On conseille donc aux étudiants qui pensent poursuivre des études avancées de ne pas demander de crédit linguistique mais plutôt de suivre un cours de composition avancée du Département d'anglais s'ils désirent améliorer leur anglais écrit.

Année d'études dans une université francophone

5. Un étudiant inscrit dans un programme spécialisé, s'il possède une assez bonne connaissance du français, peut demander à passer une année dans une université francophone, au Canada ou à l'étranger, et recevoir des crédits pour l'obtention de son diplôme à Glendon. Pour de plus amples renseignements, prière de s'adresser au Sous-Comité des études dans des universités francophones ou au Bureau des programmes scolaires. Un étudiant revenant à Glendon après son année d'études approuvée par le SCEUF n'a pas à refaire une demande d'admission mais il doit informer le Bureau des programmes scolaires de son retour et doit s'occuper de faire transmettre à ce bureau le relevé de ses notes le plus tôt possible.

Anglais comme langue seconde

6. Tous les étudiants qui entrent au Collège Glendon et dont la langue maternelle n'est pas l'anglais doivent, avant même de s'inscrire, passer un test de classement. Chaque année, les étudiants dont la langue maternelle n'est pas l'anglais devraient, avant de choisir leurs cours, avoir un entretien avec le directeur ou le conseiller du Programme d'anglais langue seconde.

Formation générale

7. Avant de pouvoir obtenir son diplôme, chaque étudiant du Collège doit avoir obtenu l'équivalent d'au moins six crédits dans trois des quatre divisions du programme en études générales : humanités, logique, sciences naturelles, sciences sociales. Six crédits au moins doivent être au niveau de troisième ou de quatrième année. Pour de plus amples renseignements sur ces divisions, veuillez voir la description sous Études Pluridisciplinaires.

Baccalauréat ès arts spécialisé

Programme spécialisé

8. i) On peut suivre un programme spécialisé dans une des disciplines suivantes : Économie et commerce, études internationales, études anglaises, études canadiennes, études d'arts dramatiques, études des femmes, études françaises, études hispaniques, études pluridisciplinaires, histoire, mathématiques, philosophie, psychologie, science économique, science politique, sociologie, technologie de l'information et traduction.

ii) La description détaillée du programme spécialisé pour chaque discipline se trouve en tête de la liste des cours offerts par le département intéressé.

Programme spécialisé bidisciplinaire

iii) Les candidats à un baccalauréat ès arts spécialisé peuvent, avec l'assentiment des départements intéressés, répartir leurs études entre deux des matières offertes au Collège. Ces étudiants sont considérés comme candidats au diplôme spécialisé bidisciplinaire et ils sont tenus de suivre au moins 60 crédits dans les deux domaines choisis. Les départements intéressés sont à la disposition des étudiants pour de plus amples renseignements sur les cours exigés ou recommandés pour les différentes combinaisons.

Programme spécialisé général

iv) Les exigences générales dans ce programme ressemblent aux exigences des programmes spécialisés et spécialisés bidisciplinaires, à la différence qu'il suffit d'obtenir un minimum de 36 crédits dans une seule discipline. Pour obtenir plus de renseignements sur les cours exigés dans chaque discipline pour ce type de programme, les étudiants doivent consulter la section décrivant les programmes, au début de la partie traitant des différentes disciplines.

Programme spécialisé avec double majeure

v) Les exigences générales dans ce programme ressemblent aux exigences des programmes spécialisés et spécialisés bidisciplinaires, à la différence qu'il suffit d'obtenir un minimum de 36 crédits dans chacune des deux disciplines. Pour obtenir plus de renseignements sur les cours exigés dans chaque discipline pour ce type de programme, les étudiants doivent consulter la section décrivant les programmes, au début de la partie traitant des différentes disciplines.

Conditions pour l'obtention du baccalauréat spécialisé

9. i) Pour l'obtention d'un baccalauréat spécialisé, un étudiant doit avoir obtenu l'équivalent de 120 crédits et posséder la moyenne cumulative exigée dans ses cours de spécialisation et dans ses autres cours. Un étudiant du programme de spécialisation s'inscrit à une année d'études comme suit :

1ère année	Moins de 24 crédits
2e année	Moins de 54 crédits
3e année	Moins de 84 crédits
4e année	Au moins 84 crédits

ii) Un étudiant qui satisfait aux critères de sélection du département de spécialisation choisi peut demeurer inscrit au programme de baccalauréat spécialisé si sa moyenne cumulative s'établit ainsi à la fin de chaque année :

Année	Moyenne cumulative des cours de spécialisation	Moyenne cumulative
1ère		4,0
2e		4,4
3e	4,5	4,7
4e	5,0	5,0

Les étudiants qui ont obtenu 84 crédits ou plus et qui désirent poursuivre leurs études dans un programme spécialisé doivent avoir une moyenne cumulative minimum de 5,0 dans leur sujet de spécialisation et également de 5,0 dans l'ensemble de leurs cours.

iii) À la fin d'une session, l'étudiant qui n'a pas obtenu ces résultats peut recevoir la permission du département de sa spécialisation de continuer le programme de baccalauréat spécialisé. Dans le cas contraire, l'étudiant sera reclassé dans un programme de baccalauréat. Aucun étudiant ne peut obtenir un baccalauréat spécialisé si sa moyenne cumulative à la fin de la quatrième année n'atteint pas le niveau requis.

iv) Confirmation des Programmes scolaires : Avant l'inscription, chaque candidat à la 2e, 3e ou 4e année est tenu d'établir son programme scolaire en consultation avec le département offrant la spécialisation de son choix.

v) Un candidat qui n'obtient pas la moyenne cumulative au cours d'un programme de baccalauréat spécialisé peut obtenir la permission de poursuivre un programme de baccalauréat à condition que ses notes soient suffisantes ; sinon il peut soumettre une pétition en vue de classer sa session comme échec et de la faire exclure de la moyenne cumulative. Dans ce cas, il se verra imposer le régime de la probation (voir le règlement 32).

vi) Un candidat qui a réussi sa 3e année d'études dans un programme spécialisé et qui remplit les conditions nécessaires à l'obtention d'un baccalauréat, ou compte les remplir à la fin de la session courante, peut obtenir le BA sur demande auprès du Bureau des programmes scolaires, déposée au plus tard le 31 janvier.

vii) Un candidat qui a obtenu la permission de suivre un programme de baccalauréat (voir le règlement 9 (vi)) peut se présenter à la quatrième année du programme de la ou des spécialisations suivies en troisième année. Après avoir réussi sa quatrième année, il peut demander la reclassification de son diplôme avec spécialisation.

Baccalauréat ès arts

10. Le baccalauréat ès arts exige 90 crédits et comprend normalement trois ans d'études. On offre des programmes de baccalauréat en études anglaises, études canadiennes, études d'arts dramatiques, études des femmes, études françaises, études hispaniques, études pluridisciplinaires, histoire, informatique, mathématiques, philosophie, psychologie, science économique, science politique, sociologie et technologie de l'information. La description détaillée du programme pour chaque discipline se trouve en tête de la liste des cours offerts par le département intéressé.

Conditions pour l'obtention du baccalauréat

11. i) Pour l'obtention d'un baccalauréat, un étudiant doit avoir obtenu l'équivalent de 90 crédits et posséder la moyenne cumulative exigée dans ses cours de spécialisation et dans ses autres cours. Un étudiant du programme s'inscrit à une année d'études comme suit :

1ère année	Moins de 24 crédits
2e année	Moins de 54 crédits
3e année	Au moins 54 crédits

ii) Un étudiant inscrit au programme de baccalauréat doit maintenir une moyenne cumulative comme suit :

Année	Moyenne cumulative des cours de spécialisation	Moyenne cumulative
1ère		3,6
2e		3,8
3e	4,0	4,0

iii) Un programme de baccalauréat comprend un minimum de 30 crédits dans l'option choisie. (Consultez la liste de cours de chaque discipline pour avoir plus de précisions sur les conditions.)

iv) Confirmation des Programmes scolaires : Avant l'inscription, tout candidat à la 2e ou 3e année doit établir son programme scolaire en accord avec le département offrant l'option de son choix.

v) Changement de programme : Un étudiant en troisième année d'un baccalauréat peut, si ses résultats atteignent la moyenne requise, s'inscrire à un programme de baccalauréat spécialisé. Un étudiant qui a obtenu son baccalauréat peut se faire admettre en quatrième année d'un programme de baccalauréat spécialisé et faire changer la catégorie de son diplôme s'il a atteint la moyenne requise pour la quatrième année.

vi) Les étudiants qui ne satisfont pas aux exigences du BA ou du BA spécialisé pourront suivre jusqu'à 12 crédits supplémentaires au niveau de la troisième ou quatrième année, choisis en accord avec le département de spécialisation, en vue de porter leur moyenne cumulative au niveau exigé pour l'obtention du diplôme.

Nombre de cours exigés pour un second diplôme ou diplôme ultérieur

12. Les étudiants déjà titulaires d'un Baccalauréat ou l'équivalent d'un établissement post-secondaire accrédité et qui désirent obtenir un Baccalauréat dans une autre discipline au Collège universitaire Glendon peuvent être admis au programme de Baccalauréat sous les conditions suivantes :

a) Dans tous les cours antérieurement suivis, les étudiants devront avoir obtenu une moyenne de 5 points pour l'admission à un programme de baccalauréat spécialisé, et une moyenne de 4 points pour l'admission à un programme de baccalauréat ;

b) Ils doivent satisfaire aux conditions particulières de la faculté (ne pourront être retenus pour satisfaire à ces conditions les cours suivis pour l'obtention du premier diplôme) : au minimum 30 nouveaux crédits doivent provenir de cours suivis à York et au moins 50% des crédits exigés dans la majeure et la mineure doivent provenir de cours suivis à Glendon ;

c) Doivent aussi être satisfaites les conditions particulières à la majeure/mineure ;

d) Les exigences particulières à la faculté ne constituent qu'un nombre minimum de cours supplémentaires. En effet, si le département n'accorde aucun crédit pour les cours suivis pour l'obtention du premier diplôme, le nombre total des cours requis pourra être sensiblement plus élevé ;

e) Toutes les autres conditions exigées par l'Université sont à remplir, le cas échéant.

Changements de programme

13. Les étudiants peuvent changer leur programme de baccalauréat ou leur option à condition d'avoir les notes requises et l'autorisation du ou des départements intéressés. Ils doivent en aviser le Bureau des programmes scolaires avant le 30 octobre.

Nombre de cours exigés pour un premier diplôme de Baccalauréat

14. Pour recevoir un diplôme de Baccalauréat au Collège universitaire Glendon, un étudiant doit avoir obtenu au moins 30 crédits d'un programme à York et 50% des crédits exigés dans la majeure et la mineure doivent provenir de cours suivis à Glendon.

Octroi d'équivalences

15. i) Les étudiants qui, avant de s'inscrire à Glendon, ont fréquenté un établissement post-secondaire accrédité doivent faire parvenir un bulletin officiel de leur notes directement au Service des admissions de l'Université York. Les cours suivis dans un autre établissement post-secondaire accrédité et auxquels l'étudiant a réussi avec une note de C/60% peuvent être considérés en vue de l'octroi d'équivalences. (Les candidats en provenance d'un Collège d'arts appliqués et de technologie peuvent recevoir des crédits s'ils ont complété deux années d'études avec une moyenne d'au moins 3.0).

ii) Les détenteurs d'un Baccalauréat décerné par un autre établissement post-secondaire accrédité, s'inscrivant à Glendon en vue de l'obtention d'un Baccalauréat spécialisé de York doivent satisfaire aux conditions suivantes : obtenir au moins 30 nouveaux crédits à York ; 50% des crédits exigés dans leur majeure et leur mineure doivent provenir des cours suivis à Glendon. De plus, les étudiants doivent satisfaire à toutes les autres exigences des départements de la majeure/mineure.

iii) Les étudiants inscrits à Glendon en vue de l'obtention d'un Baccalauréat de l'Université York, désireux de suivre un cours ailleurs qu'à York, doivent demander une lettre de permission du Bureau des programmes scolaires.

iv) Les cours suivis dans un établissement post-secondaire accrédité autre que York peuvent être crédités comme des cours réussis, pourvu que l'étudiant ait reçu la note de C/60% ou plus. La note ne sera pas incluse dans sa moyenne cumulative. Les bulletins doivent être soumis au Bureau des programmes scolaires.

v) Les crédits pour les cours suivis dans une autre faculté de l'Université York sont accordés sur la même base qu'à Glendon.

Changement de faculté

Heures de classe

16. Sauf avis contraire, tout cours comprend trois heures de classe par semaine.

Numérotage des cours

17. i) Les cours de Glendon sont identifiés par le préfixe GL. L'année d'études pour laquelle un cours est conçu est indiquée par le premier chiffre (1,2,3,4). (0 est utilisé uniquement pour les cours élémentaires d'apprentissage de langue.)

ii) Les cours complets sont identifiés par 6.00 après le numéro de cours. Les demi-cours, offerts soit au premier, soit au deuxième trimestre, sont indiqués par 3.00 après le numéro du cours.

Cours interdépartementaux

18. i) Ces cours portent normalement le deuxième chiffre 6 ou 9. Leur description se trouve seulement sous la rubrique du département ou de la division qui les offre.

ii) Un cours de formation générale inscrit aussi sous la rubrique d'un département compte en vue de l'exigence du département en plus de celle de formation générale.

iii) Un cours inscrit sous la rubrique de deux ou plusieurs départements compte en vue de l'exigence d'un seul département.

Exemption d'exigences du programme

19. Un étudiant peut satisfaire aux exigences du programme d'études grâce à des cours réussis pour lesquels il n'a pas obtenu de crédit et qui étaient exclus de son total cumulatif de cours. Une note de D dans un cours de langue (ou un cours requis pour le programme unilingue) suivi à Glendon, ou une note de C dans tout autre cours, ou dans tout cours suivi ailleurs qu'à Glendon, sera suffisante.

Inscription aux cours

20. i) Les étudiants à plein temps s'inscriront à un minimum de 24 crédits et à un maximum de 36 crédits par trimestre, ou l'équivalent, et leur dossier contiendra des notes pour un total de 24 crédits à 36 crédits pour chaque session scolaire.

ii) Les étudiants en probation ne peuvent pas suivre plus de 30 crédits pendant une session. Il ne sera dérogé à ce règlement que par pétition pour des circonstances exceptionnelles.

iii) Les étudiants à temps partiel suivront un maximum de 21 crédits dans une session scolaire.

iv) L'inscription à des cours complets ainsi qu'à des demi-cours est permise jusqu'aux dates limites publiées dans l'horaire des cours. Après ces dates, les inscriptions ne seront autorisées que sur la permission écrite de tous les directeurs des cours et des départements intéressés. L'abandon des cours est autorisé selon le règlement 21.

v) Au moment de l'inscription, tous les étudiants, sauf ceux de première année, doivent choisir un ou plusieurs sujets de spécialisation.

vi) Les étudiants désireux de suivre des cours séparés de plus d'une année de leur propre niveau doivent obtenir la permission du département ou de la division offrant le cours.

vii) Les étudiants de première année peuvent être admis aux cours de deuxième année autorisés dans l'annuaire. Pour être admis aux autres cours de deuxième année, les étudiants de première année doivent obtenir la permission du département ou de la division offrant ces cours.

viii) Ces règlements peuvent être annulés quand le département ou la division déclare que la limite d'inscriptions à un cours a été atteinte.

ix) Tous les étudiants qui ont obtenu la permission de s'inscrire à un cours d'un niveau inférieur sont avisés que les critères utilisés pour juger leur travail sont ceux qu'on appliquerait normalement à un cours de leur propre niveau.

x) a) Les étudiants ont le droit de redoubler une fois seulement un cours auquel ils ont échoué pour obtenir des crédits universitaires en vue d'un diplôme ou d'un certificat.

b) Les étudiants ont le droit de redoubler une fois seulement un cours auquel ils ont réussi pour obtenir des crédits universitaires en vue d'un diplôme ou d'un certificat, s'ils n'ont pas obtenu la note requise pour pouvoir suivre un cours de base ou un cours exigé dans leur programme et s'il n'existe aucune autre option.

c) Lorsqu'un étudiant est autorisé à redoubler un cours pour l'obtention d'un diplôme ou d'un crédit de certificat, la note enregistrée sera la seconde et la seule qui entrera dans le calcul de la moyenne générale cumulative de l'étudiant (majeure, cumulative, session et générale). Pour respecter les règles d'obtention d'un diplôme ou d'un certificat, un cours ne peut faire l'objet d'un crédit qu'une seule fois.

d) Les deux cours figureront sur le relevé de notes de l'étudiant, le premier portant la mention "aucun crédit."

xi) Les cours qui sont offerts sous l'option réussite/échec seulement, et dans lesquels la note "échec" compte pour zéro dans la moyenne, seront identifiés comme cours crédité/cours non crédité.

Abandon de cours

21. Il est possible d'abandonner des cours avant les dates limites sans obtenir de note jusqu'aux dates limites publiées dans l'horaire des cours.

Un étudiant qui abandonne ses cours après les dates limites publiées recevra une note d'échec dans son cours.

Abandon complet

22. i) Un étudiant peut quitter le Collège sans encourir de sanction jusqu'à la date limite indiquée dans l'article 21 du règlement.

ii) Si un étudiant quitte le Collège après la date limite, sans l'autorisation du comité de pétitions, des notes seront inscrites à son dossier. Il sera mis en probation académique et sera tenu de faire une nouvelle demande d'admission s'il désire reprendre ses études au Collège Glendon plus tard.

iii) Un étudiant de première année ou un étudiant en probation qui obtient une moyenne de moins de 3,0 dans deux ou plusieurs cours à la fin du premier trimestre sera tenu de discuter son cas avec un professeur-conseil. Il peut se voir encourager à quitter le Collège.

iv) Dans certains cas, le Collège peut exiger d'un étudiant qu'il quitte le Collège.

Auditeurs libres

ii) Il ne sera pas accordé de crédit à l'auditeur libre. Avant d'assister aux classes, l'auditeur doit obtenir la permission du professeur et aviser le Bureau des programmes scolaires.

Normes scolaires

24. Les étudiants devront obtenir des résultats qui satisfassent aux exigences des départements et divisions intéressés et ils devront passer les examens à moins de maladie ou d'autre circonstance extraordinaire.

Système de notation

25. i) Tous les cours du Collège Glendon sont évalués selon le système suivant :

Lettre	Valeuren points	Pourcentage	Explications
A+	9	90-100	Exceptionnel
A	8	80-89	Excellent
B+	7	75-79	Très bon
B	6	70-74	Bon
C+	5	65-69	Compétent
C	4	60-64	À peine compétent
D+	3	55-59	Suffisant
D	2	50-54	À peine suffisant
E	1	40-49	Échec de peu
F	0	0-39	Échec

P	Option réussite/échec	Pass
F	Option réussite/échec	Échec

ii) Option réussite/échec

Les étudiants peuvent suivre un nombre limité de cours et obtenir des crédits universitaires sous l'option "réussite" ou "échec". Les cours suivis sous cette option figureront sur le bulletin avec la lettre de "P" pour réussite et "F" pour échec. Ces "notes" ne seront pas incluses dans le calcul des moyennes de l'étudiant.

Les règlements suivants s'appliquent aux cours que l'étudiant a l'intention de suivre sous l'option réussite/échec :

Statut universitaire : Seuls les étudiants dont le statut universitaire est en règle, (c.à.d. ceux qui ne sont pas sous le régime de probation, d'avertissement universitaire ou de renvoi) auront la permission de suivre des cours sous l'option réussite/échec.

Condition préalable : Les étudiants doivent avoir déjà réussi à 24 crédits afin de pouvoir faire une demande pour suivre des cours sous l'option réussite/échec.

Cours aux choix seulement : Les cours suivis sous l'option réussite/échec ne pourront pas satisfaire aux exigences de la majeure, de la mineure, des études générales, des certificats ou ne pourront pas être des cours de Sciences au niveau 1000.

Nombre maximum de cours sous l'option réussite/échec :

a) Programme de baccalauréat spécialisé : Les étudiants inscrits dans un programme de baccalauréat spécialisé auront la permission de suivre jusqu'à 12 crédits sous l'option réussite/échec.

b) Programme de baccalauréat : Les étudiants inscrits dans un programme de baccalauréat auront la permission de suivre jusqu'à six crédits sous l'option réussite/échec.

Date limite : Les étudiants qui désirent suivre un cours sous l'option "réussite/échec" doivent signaler leur intention durant les deux premières semaines du trimestre durant lequel le cours commence ; ils doivent d'abord obtenir la signature du Directeur du cours sur le formulaire approprié, disponible au Bureau des programmes scolaires. Ces formulaires doivent parvenir au Bureau des programmes scolaires avant la date limite.

Changement de l'option "réussite/échec" au système de notation en lettre : Avec la permission du Directeur du cours, les étudiants peuvent changer de l'option "réussite/échec" dans un cours au système de notation en lettre jusqu'à la date limite pour abandonner un cours sans pénalité universitaire. Une demande officielle pour un tel changement doit être soumise au Bureau des programmes avant la date limite.

Explications des cotes

26. Définitions des cotes.

Exceptionnel : Connaissance approfondie des concepts ou des techniques, et compétence exceptionnelle ou très grande originalité dans le maniement de ces concepts et techniques et pour leur utilisation dans les travaux exigés pour le cours.

Excellent : Connaissance approfondie des concepts ou des techniques, associée à une grande compétence ou originalité dans le maniement de ces concepts et techniques et pour leur utilisation dans les travaux exigés pour le cours.

Très Bon : Connaissance approfondie des concepts ou des techniques et très bonne compétence dans le maniement de ces concepts et de ces techniques et bonne originalité pour leur utilisation dans les travaux exigés pour le cours.

Bon : Bon niveau de connaissance des concepts ou des techniques et bonne compétence pour leur utilisation dans les travaux exigés pour le cours.

Compétent : Niveau acceptable de connaissance des concepts ou des techniques et compétence acceptable pour leur utilisation dans les travaux exigés pour le cours.

À peine compétent : Niveau acceptable de connaissance des concepts ou des techniques ainsi qu'une certaine compétence pour leur utilisation dans les travaux exigés pour le cours.

Suffisant : Quelque peu supérieur à la connaissance minimum exigée des concepts ou des techniques ainsi que certaines compétences pour leur utilisation dans les travaux exigés pour le cours.

À peine suffisant : Connaissance minimum des concepts ou des techniques pour satisfaire aux exigences du cours.

La moyenne cumulative est le total de la valeur en points de tous les cours déjà suivis (échecs inclus), divisé par le nombre de cours. Dans ces calculs, un demi-cours compte pour la moitié d'un cours entier.

La moyenne cumulative des cours de spécialisation est le total de la valeur en points de tous les cours déjà suivis pour la spécialisation (échecs inclus), divisé par le nombre de cours. Par cours de spécialisation, on entend ceux que l'étudiant doit choisir dans un des cinq programmes suivants : (a) le BA spécialisé ; (b) le BA spécialisé bidisciplinaire ; (c) le BA spécialisé général ; (d) le BA spécialisé avec double majeure et (e) le BA.

Les étudiants peuvent obtenir des crédits pour tous les cours réussis à l'université York avec une cote d'au moins D.

La mention d'honneur est accordée à un étudiant dont la moyenne cumulative s'élève à au moins 7,5 points. Tout étudiant qui obtient une moyenne générale cumulative de 7,5 est automatiquement candidat à l'inscription au Tableau d'honneur du doyen.

Notes du premier trimestre

27. Les directeurs de cours sont tenus de soumettre au Bureau des programmes scolaires le nom de tout étudiant dont la moyenne s'élève à moins de 3,0 (D+) si ce dernier se trouve dans un des cas suivants :

- a) en probation (Règlement 32(viii)) ;
- b) en première année (Règlement 22(iii)).

Remise des travaux

28. La date limite pour la remise de travaux dans les demi-cours du premier trimestre est la fin de la période d'examens de Noël. La date limite pour la remise des travaux de tous les autres cours est le vendredi de la première semaine des examens finals à moins que le professeur, après avoir consulté les étudiants, fixe une date plus avancée. Dans les cours où il n'y a pas d'examen final, aucun étudiant ne peut être tenu de remettre son dernier travail avant le premier jour de la période des examens.

Examens

29. i) Les examens finals ont lieu en décembre pour les demi-cours offerts pendant le premier trimestre et en avril-mai pour les demi-cours offerts pendant le deuxième trimestre et pour les cours entiers. Les examens des étudiants qui ont obtenu la permission de les ajourner, pour cause de maladie ou de malchance, auront lieu avant le milieu de mars (dans les cours du trimestre d'automne) et le milieu de juillet (dans les cours du trimestre d'hiver dans les cours complets). Les travaux différés doivent être remis avant le milieu de mars (pour les cours du trimestre d'automne) et le milieu de juillet (pour les cours du trimestre d'hiver) et pour les cours complets. Une première pétition en vue d'obtenir un sursis doit être présentée dans un délai de cinq jours ouvrables après la période des examens pour le trimestre en question. Les règlements de la faculté stipulent qu'aucun test ou examen, comptant pour plus de 20% de la note globale, ne peut être donné durant les deux dernières semaines de cours d'un trimestre, sauf dans les cours dont les classes ont lieu durant la fin de la semaine (samedi ou dimanche à n'importe quelle heure). Les tests et examens prévus durant le trimestre doivent être fixés aux heures régulières du cours ; ces tests ou examens ne peuvent être fixés à d'autres heures qu'à condition qu'aucune obligation d'un étudiant ne soit enfreinte. Un étudiant a le droit de refuser de se présenter à un examen qui contreviendrait à ce règlement, sans encourir de pénalités.

ii) Les départements et les divisions peuvent remplacer les examens finals par une variété de tests écrits et oraux dans les cours qui ne requièrent pas une évaluation au moyen d'un examen final.

iii) Tout travail écrit, y compris les examens, peut être rédigé soit en français, soit en anglais, au choix de l'étudiant, exception faite des cas où l'usage de la langue constitue une part essentielle et intégrante du cours. Les étudiants seront avertis en temps utile de toute clause restrictive que pourrait comporter l'usage de l'une ou l'autre langue.

iv) Les étudiants doivent immédiatement avvertir le Bureau des programmes scolaires de tout conflit d'horaire concernant les examens.

Notes finales

30. Toutes les notes finales sont calculées sur la base d'une échelle de valeurs établie par le département ou la division intéressé, avec ou sans examens finals (écrits ou oraux). Peu après le début des classes, les professeurs annonceront aux étudiants l'échelle et le système de notes qui s'appliquent au cours.

Révision des notes finales

31. i) Les copies d'examens et les travaux de classe des étudiants sont soigneusement évalués, particulièrement dans les cas douteux et il est peu probable qu'une révision ait lieu en appel. Un étudiant peut toutefois en faire la demande par écrit au directeur du département ou de la division offrant le cours, dans les trois semaines qui suivent la publication des notes finales de tout trimestre. Il doit indiquer sans ambiguïté les raisons pour lesquelles il pense que son travail mérite une meilleure note.

ii) Les révisions sont du ressort du directeur du département ou du cours, en consultation avec les membres du corps enseignant. L'étudiant sera avisé des résultats de la révision dans les trois semaines qui suivent sa demande.

Probation scolaire

32. i) Le dossier de tout étudiant est revu à la fin de chaque année d'études.

ii) La probation est imposée à l'étudiant qui : a) est admis avec des notes basses ; b) n'atteint pas la moyenne cumulative requise pour son niveau.

iii) Le régime de probation sera levé quand il aura obtenu la moyenne cumulative requise pour son niveau.

iv) Il peut continuer ses études en probation, dans le programme de baccalauréat, à la condition de maintenir une moyenne de 4,4 dans les cours suivis, même si sa moyenne cumulative est inférieure au minimum nécessaire pour sortir du régime de la probation.

v) De même, il peut continuer ses études en probation dans le programme de baccalauréat spécialisé, à la condition de maintenir une moyenne de 6,0 dans les cours suivis sous ce régime.

vi) Il est renvoyé définitivement s'il ne remplit pas les conditions iii) ou iv) ci-dessus.

vii) Un étudiant qui n'atteint pas la moyenne cumulative requise pour son niveau, et dont la moyenne n'atteint pas 3,0 pour l'année en cours, aura échoué à cette année et ne pourra obtenir de crédits pour aucun des cours suivis pendant cette année. Ses notes figureront dans son dossier mais n'entreront pas dans le calcul de sa moyenne cumulative. S'il veut continuer ses études à Glendon, il doit faire une nouvelle demande d'admission et s'il est accepté il se verra imposer le régime de probation.

viii) Un étudiant qui n'est pas renvoyé peut faire une pétition avant la date limite pour son inscription à la session scolaire suivante en vue de faire classer sa dernière année (ou l'équivalent) selon le règlement 32 (vii), et il sera alors soumis au règlement 32 (iii) ou (iv).

ix) Un étudiant en probation ne peut pas suivre plus de 30 crédits pendant une session scolaire.

x) Un étudiant en probation qui n'atteint pas à la fin du premier trimestre une moyenne de plus de 3,0 (D+) est tenu de discuter son cas avec son conseiller scolaire.

Renvoi

33. i) Un étudiant placé sous le régime de probation sera renvoyé de l'Université s'il ne satisfait pas aux exigences iii) ou iv) du règlement 32.

ii) Un étudiant renvoyé, soit de cette Université, soit d'une autre, ne sera réadmis à une autre session qu'à la condition de démontrer de façon convaincante qu'il pourra tirer profit d'études universitaires. Les demandes de réadmission ne seront pas prises en considération avant deux ans à partir de la date du renvoi.

Dispositions spéciales en cas de maladie ou de malchance

34. Les étudiants qui subissent au cours de la session scolaire des épreuves inattendues les empêchant d'accomplir le travail requis à temps peuvent demander une considération spéciale. Les cas suivants sont reconnus : 1) maladie, 2) malchance personnelle, 3) difficultés financières inattendues, 4) malchance scolaire (impossibilité inattendue d'obtenir le matériel de recherche nécessaire, ou preuve d'une erreur imputable à l'institution). Un étudiant, avec pièces à l'appui, peut présenter une pétition au Bureau des programmes scolaires pour obtenir :

i) l'abandon sans sanction d'un ou plusieurs cours. Normalement, les pétitions en vue d'un abandon d'un cours après la date limite d'abandon seront traitées si elles sont soumises durant les trois semaines suivant l'envoi des notes finales de tout trimestre. De telles pétitions pourraient être traitées jusqu'à un an après la fin du cours dans des cas spéciaux.

ii) la cote différée pour un ou plusieurs cours pour le travail à faire pendant la période couverte par la pétition.

iii) la cote "aegrotat" dans un ou plusieurs cours. La cote "aegrotat" ne sera accordée qu'une fois, en général en dernière année, à moins de cas exceptionnel. Pour tout renseignement concernant les dates limites, veuillez contacter le Bureau des programmes scolaires.

Atteinte à l'honneur universitaire

35. i) Définitions

Veuillez consulter les définitions contenues dans le livret des règlements du Sénat sur l'honneur universitaire. Pour plus de renseignements, contacter le Bureau des programmes scolaires, C105 pavillon York.

ii) Règlements

Veuillez consulter les définitions contenues dans le Règlement du Sénat sur l'honneur universitaire, dans la section "Politiques et règlements."

Remarque : Une fois que les procédures indiquées dans les sections B et D ont été entamées, un étudiant accusé d'atteinte à l'honneur universitaire dans un cours ne peut plus abandonner le cours en question ni faire annuler son inscription tant qu'une décision n'a pas été prise sur son cas. Les demandes de relevé de notes effectuées alors qu'une procédure est en cours seront traitées selon les règlements du Sénat sur l'honneur universitaire. Un étudiant suspendu et qui serait par ailleurs en position de recevoir son diplôme ne pourra pas demander à le recevoir tant que la suspension n'aura pas expiré ou n'aura pas été levée.

A. Si, selon l'avis raisonnable de l'enseignant, le cas peut être réglé sans formalité, l'enseignant et l'étudiant en cause doivent s'entendre sur les mesures adoptées. Dans tous les cas, un document signé du professeur et de l'étudiant, précisant les mesures adoptées pour remédier à la situation et les raisons qui les ont motivées doit être envoyé au Bureau des programmes scolaires. Ce document est strictement confidentiel et ne peut être cité que dans le cas d'une infraction subséquente à l'honneur universitaire et uniquement au moment de décider de la sanction à adopter.

B. Les cas dans lesquels l'enseignant décide qu'il y a matière à allégation de plagiat, de tricherie ou d'une autre forme d'atteinte à l'honneur universitaire seront traités de la façon suivante :

Étape 1

L'enseignant doit fournir au directeur de son département ou programme un résumé écrit donnant tous les renseignements nécessaires sur l'incident ainsi que les pièces pertinentes, soit :

- les documents confisqués, dans les cas de tricherie pendant un examen ;
- le travail incriminé, ainsi que les sources et livres que l'étudiant est soupçonné d'avoir copiés dans les cas de plagiat.

Étape 2

Une fois que l'étape B.1. est enclenchée, l'étudiant ne peut plus abandonner le cours en question ou être enlevé du cours tant qu'une décision n'a pas été rendue sur son cas.

Étape 3

Le directeur du département doit convoquer à une réunion l'étudiant, l'enseignant et le/la principal(e) adjoint(e), recrutement et affaires étudiantes (ou son délégué) qui agit comme tierce partie neutre. Pour ce faire, il passe par le responsable des programmes scolaires qui informe, par lettre recommandée, l'étudiant de la réunion, avec un préavis d'au moins 7 jours civils. Une copie de la lettre est versée dans le dossier scolaire de l'étudiant. La lettre doit indiquer :

- la date, le lieu et l'heure de la réunion,
- le motif de la réunion,
- que l'étudiant peut être accompagné par un délégué à cette réunion.

Étape 4

À la réunion avec l'étudiant, l'enseignant doit :

- présenter l'infraction que l'étudiant est censé avoir commise,
- demander à l'étudiant de répondre à cette allégation.

Étape 5

a. PAS D'INFRACTION

Si, à la suite de la réunion, le directeur et l'enseignant sont convaincus qu'il n'y a pas eu d'infraction à l'honneur universitaire, le directeur informe par écrit l'étudiant de la décision. Toutes les preuves soumises sont alors détruites et aucune mention de l'incident n'est conservée dans le dossier scolaire de l'étudiant.

b. INFRACTION

Si, à la suite de la réunion, le directeur et l'enseignant sont d'avis qu'il y a suffisamment de preuves qu'il y a eu infraction à l'honneur universitaire, le directeur demande à l'étudiant s'il désire plaider coupable ou non coupable.

Étape 6

PLAIDOYER

a. Plaidoyer de culpabilité

Si l'étudiant plaide coupable d'atteinte à l'honneur universitaire :

- le directeur prépare un document qui devra être signé par l'étudiant et l'enseignant, en présence du/de la principal(e) adjoint(e), recrutement et affaires étudiantes (ou de son délégué), indiquant la nature de l'infraction, la sanction acceptée par l'étudiant et l'enseignant (sanction maximale : échec au travail, au test ou à l'examen en cause) et l'aveu de la faute de la part de l'étudiant. [Si l'enseignant désire appliquer une sanction plus sévère, une audience doit être fixée devant le Comité des normes académiques et pédagogiques (CNAP) ; voir en 7. ci-dessous.]

REMARQUES

Les sanctions suivantes peuvent être imposées seules ou combinées, mais seules les sanctions indiquées en a, b, et c peuvent faire l'objet d'une recommandation adoptées conjointement par l'étudiant et le professeur.

- avertissement oral ou écrit ou réprimande
- obligation de refaire le devoir ou l'examen
- diminution de la note reçue ou note d'échec au devoir ou à l'examen
- échec au cours
- suspension de l'Université pour une période définie
- inscription dans le relevé de notes
- non-délivrance ou annulation du diplôme ou certificat de York

Les sanctions suivantes peuvent être imposées seules ou combinées, mais seules les sanctions indiquées en a, b, et c peuvent faire l'objet d'une recommandation adoptée conjointement par l'étudiant et le professeur :

- Le directeur envoie une copie signée de cette lettre ainsi que des documents indiqués dans B.1. ci-dessus aux deux destinataires suivants :
  - CNAP pour examen
  - Bureau des programmes scolaires pour insertion dans le dossier scolaire de l'étudiant. (N.B. : ce dossier scolaire est pour usage interne seulement.)

Si l'un des partis refuse de signer le document, le CNAP doit convoquer une audience.

b. Plaidoyer de non culpabilité - préparation à l'audience

Une audience doit être fixée si l'étudiant plaide non coupable d'atteinte à l'honneur universitaire, ou si l'enseignant demande une sanction plus sévère que la sanction maximale prévue, à savoir échec au travail, au test ou à l'examen en cause, ou si le CNAP n'approuve pas la recommandation conjointe de sanction. L'enseignant soumet au secrétaire du CNAP un rapport indiquant :

- l'infraction prétendue et les circonstances qui l'entourent
- le compte rendu de la réunion avec l'étudiant
- tous les documents pertinents.

Le secrétaire du CNAP fixe une audience qui se tiendra en présence des membres du comité. L'étudiant doit être informé de l'audience par lettre recommandée avec un préavis d'au moins 21 jours civils et une copie de la lettre de convocation est envoyée au directeur du département, à l'enseignant, au principal et à tous les membres du CNAP. L'étudiant doit également recevoir par écrit le texte de l'accusation, un exemplaire des règlements et procédures en vigueur, copie de tous les documents soumis par l'enseignant. Il doit aussi être informé qu'il peut être accompagné d'un représentant et qu'il peut convoquer des témoins. L'étudiant peut renvoyer une réponse écrite.

AUDIENCE

Une audience doit être tenue en présence du CNAP pour instruire la plainte. Pendant l'audience, le principal (ou son délégué) agit en tant que présentateur. L'audience doit être instruite selon l'ordonnance fixée par le règlement du Sénat sur l'honneur universitaire.

Étape 8

Si l'étudiant est trouvé coupable, le CNAP doit délibérer pour proposer la sanction qu'il juge appropriée.

Étape 9

Le secrétaire du comité doit informer l'étudiant par lettre recommandée de la décision du comité, et, dans le cas d'un verdict de culpabilité, des procédures d'appel. Une copie de la lettre est également envoyée au département concerné et au Bureau des programmes scolaires.

Une mention permanente de l'infraction est inscrite dans le dossier scolaire de l'étudiant. Ce dossier est pour usage scolaire interne seulement.

Étape 10

PROCÉDURES D'APPEL

On peut faire appel de la décision du comité auprès du Comité d'appel du Sénat soit sur la foi de nouvelles preuves (c.-à-d. de preuves qui n'avaient pas pu être présentées au niveau de la faculté), soit pour des raisons d'irrégularité de procédure dans l'examen du cas par la faculté.

Études à temps partiel

Les études à temps partiel conviennent tout particulièrement aux étudiants qui désirent combiner des études universitaires avec un emploi ou des responsabilités d'ordre personnel. Ce genre d'études sert aussi de tremplin pour faciliter la transition à ceux qui ont arrêté leurs études pendant plusieurs années et désirent savoir ce qu'ils peuvent faire à l'université avant de s'engager dans un programme complet.

Un des avantages des études à temps partiel offertes le jour à Glendon réside dans la possibilité de suivre des cours regroupés un seul jour par semaine. Cela permet de passer moins de temps à se déplacer et d'organiser son emploi du temps en fonction des autres engagements en dehors de l'université.

Environ un tiers des étudiants de Glendon sont inscrits comme étudiants à temps partiel et suivent de 6 à 21 crédits par session. Ils ont droit aux mêmes avantages et privilèges que les étudiants à plein temps en ce qui concerne le choix des cours, l'accès aux installations et la participation à la vie du campus, et ils sont soumis aux mêmes règlements.

Renseignements généraux

Service de liaison et de recrutement

Le Service de liaison et de recrutement est le premier contact avec le campus pour la promotion de Glendon, obtenir de l'information au sujet de l'admission, l'organisation des activités portes-ouvertes, etc. De plus, le bureau s'occupe de la production du matériel promotionnel, participe à des foires de carrière, crée des partenariats avec des écoles secondaires, soutient des activités spéciales dont certaines de langue française, et visite des écoles secondaires et des collèges à travers le Canada et le monde.

Bibliothèque

La collection de la bibliothèque Leslie Frost compte environ 250,000 monographies, 18,000 abonnements (sur papier ou support électronique) et 20,000 documents gouvernementaux. Cette collection reflète la nature bilingue de Glendon. Au début de chaque trimestre, les nouveaux étudiants sont invités à participer à des cours de formation documentaire dans le but de les familiariser avec l'organisation des ressources de la bibliothèque et de ses règlements. Tout étudiant et professeur du collège a automatiquement accès à la collection entière de York, la troisième plus grande bibliothèque universitaire du pays. Les articles peuvent être transférés d'un campus à l'autre en 24 heures.

Librairie

La librairie est située dans le Pavillon York. Elle vend tous les livres exigés et la plupart des livres recommandés dans les cours. Les livres sont vendus au prix suggéré par la maison d'édition ou de distribution canadienne. Les livres qui ne se trouvent pas en rayon peuvent être commandés spécialement. La librairie vend également de la papeterie et des articles divers. La librairie de Glendon a accès au fonds important de la librairie du campus York.

La Galerie Glendon

La Galerie Glendon est une galerie publique située sur le campus de Glendon. Elle se spécialise dans l'art contemporain et offre un programme d'expositions mensuelles. Sa mission est d'ordre éducatif.

Outre son programme d'expositions, la Galerie Glendon offre de la documentation en français et en anglais, ainsi que des visites guidées et des conférences données par des artistes et des commissaires d'expositions. Pour de plus amples renseignements, s'adresser à la galerie ou téléphoner au 416-487-6859.

Théâtre Glendon

Le Théâtre Glendon, situé dans le pavillon York, est un lieu de représentations théâtrales complètement équipé et qui a son propre directeur et assistant technique professionnel. Le Théâtre présente tout au long de l'année des productions étudiantes ainsi que des pièces de théâtre professionnelles. Pour de plus amples renseignements, s'adresser au théâtre au 416-269-6641.

Résidences

Le Collège Glendon dispose de deux résidences, les résidences Wood et Hilliard qui peuvent loger 401 étudiants dans des chambres simples ou doubles, ou de petites chambres simples meublées. Il y a une grande proportion de chambres simples à la disposition des étudiants de tous les niveaux. Ceux qui font leur demande tôt en été disposent d'un meilleur choix.

Chaque résidence est divisée en "maisons" de 30 à 45 étudiants. Certaines maisons sont réservées exclusivement aux femmes, d'autres sont mixtes. Il faut noter que tous les services communs d'une maison, y compris les toilettes, sont partagés par tous les résidents.

Il y a de la moquette dans chaque chambre, et le mobilier comprend lit, bureau, commode, penderie, étagères, fauteuils, rideaux et un panier de recyclage. La literie est disponible si une demande est faite. Les étudiants peuvent apporter à leur chambre une touche personnelle en ajoutant affiches, tableaux, plantes vertes, à leur goût. Par manque d'espace d'entreposage, tout le mobilier fourni par l'université doit demeurer dans les chambres. Pour la sécurité des étudiants, il est important de savoir qu'il est interdit de cuisiner dans les chambres, d'y garder un animal, d'avoir un matelas d'eau ou un climatiseur parmi d'autres politiques de résidence.

Il existe dans les résidences des cuisines qui sont à la disposition d'un nombre limité d'étudiants avancés. La majorité des étudiants prennent leur repas à la Cafétéria Glendon, ou au restaurant au pavillon Proctor. Pour plus de détails, veuillez vous référer à la section "Les divers plans-repas". Chaque maison est équipée d'une salle commune avec télévision. Les étudiants ont aussi accès à des aspirateurs, fers à repasser, magnétoscopes, équipements de ping-pong et de billard et salle d'études. Chaque étudiant peut se faire installer un téléphone personnel en s'adressant directement à la compagnie Bell ou à York Telecom. Une buanderie automatique se trouve au sous-sol de chaque résidence.

Les demandes de résidence doivent être faites auprès du Bureau des résidences et affaires étudiantes de Glendon, tél. 416-487- 6844. Dans les pavillons résidentiels, une équipe de professionnels incluant les administrateurs, les portiers de nuit et le personnel d'entretien s'efforce d'enrichir l'expérience de vie en résidence alors que dans chaque maison, les Dons agissent comme personnes-ressources et aident à promouvoir un sens de vie communautaire en résidence. Lorsqu'on habite en résidence, on est au centre de la vie sociale, culturelle, sportive et universitaire du campus. L'environnement bilingue permet d'approfondir sa connaissance des deux langues officielles du Canada dans une ambiance amicale et chaleureuse. Toutes suggestions et commentaires sont discutés au Conseil des résidences qui est composé d'étudiants demeurant en résidence.

Les étudiants et les visiteurs peuvent aussi loger en résidence pendant l'été.

Il existe également un nombre limité de chambres disponibles aux parents, amis et connaissances pendant l'année scolaire.

Les divers plans-repas

Tous les étudiants qui habitent en résidence doivent souscrire à un plan-repas. Ce plan permet à chaque étudiant de conserver sa propre responsabilité dans le choix de son alimentation en fonction de ses besoins et des plats disponibles.

Les frais de résidence comprennent l'achat d'un plan-repas. Une carte-débit est remise à chaque résident, selon le plan auquel il a souscrit, et peut être utilisée pour acheter de la nourriture et des boissons non alcoolisées dans tous les points de vente de nourriture sous le contrôle de l'université. À Glendon, ces points de vente sont la Cafétéria Glendon, l'Arcade, le petit dépanneur du campus et le restaurant au pavillon Proctor. Le système de carte-débit permet choix et flexibilité, et permet aussi de dépenser la somme qu'on veut pour chaque repas. Toutes les suggestions et commentaires sont discutés au Comité de services de restauration qui est composé d'étudiants demeurant en résidence.

Il est très improbable que le montant du plan-repas inclus dans les frais de résidence suffise à couvrir tous les repas au Collège pendant huit mois, à moins qu'on soit un petit mangeur ou qu'on prenne beaucoup de repas hors du campus. La plupart des étudiants auront donc à compléter leur plan-repas.

Sports et activités récréatives

C'est au Pavillon des sports Proctor, situé dans la partie basse du campus, et aux alentours que s'exercent les activités du programme de sport et de loisirs de Glendon. On y trouve des courts de squash internationaux, une salle de Spinning®, un grand gymnase, une piscine intérieure de 23 mètres, une salle de musculation équipée de poids et haltères et d'appareils d'exercices cardiovasculaires haut-de-gamme, ainsi que des vestiaires munis de casiers. De plus, le bar des Sports, détenteur d'un permis d'alcool, vous permettra de vous restaurer et de vous Le centre sportif de Glendon se trouve dans le Pavillon Proctor Field situé dans la partie basse du campus. Les installations comprennent des courts de squash détenteur. Des courts de tennis, des terrains de soccer, de baseball et de cricket extérieurs sont également à votre disposition. D'autres services sont aussi offerts tels que la thérapie orthèse, la physiothérapie et la chiropractie.

La plupart des installations et des programmes sont offerts à un coût minimal. À des coûts additionnels, nous offrons aussi des services spéciaux et certains programmes tels que des classes de Spinning®, karaté, hiphop, pilates, yoga, danse latino-américaine, ainsi que des cours de tennis et de squash. Nous encourageons fortement les étudiants de Glendon à s'impliquer dans le "Intramural Recreation Council" (SIRC) de l'Université York, qui gouverne la politique et les règlements des sports inter-collégiaux. Pour de plus amples renseignements sur le centre sportif de Glendon, appelez au 416-487-6717.

Centre de consultation psychologique et d'orientation professionnelle

Le Centre de consultation psychologique et d'orientation professionnelle (CCPOP) offre une vaste gamme de services bilingues de consultation psychologique et d'orientation professionnelle. Pour prendre rendez-vous, il suffit de passer au Centre situé dans la salle E103 du manoir Glendon ou de téléphoner au 416-487-6709.

Consultation psychologique

Les étudiants qui s'adressent au CCPOP le font pour toutes sortes de raisons et de problèmes. Parmi les difficultés courantes que connaissent les étudiants à l'université, citons notamment l'éloignement pour la première fois du foyer familial, la pression exercée par le travail, l'établissement de nouvelles relations, et l'incertitude qui plane sur les objectifs et l'identité. Au Centre de consultation psychologique et d'orientation professionnelle, les étudiants trouvent des conseillers qui, grâce à leur formation professionnelle, sont capables de les écouter et de les aider à y voir clair. Toutes les questions abordées au Centre sont tenues strictement confidentielles.

Orientation professionnelle

La question du choix de la carrière est un très grand sujet d'inquiétude pour tout un chacun. Certains étudiants peuvent avoir des objectifs très clairs pour leur carrière, mais la majorité ne savent même pas dans quelle direction aller. Le CCPOP organise des séances individuelles ou de groupe axées sur l'orientation professionnelle afin d'aider les étudiants à préciser leurs intérêts, à déterminer leurs compétences et à définir leurs valeurs. On organise aussi des tests portant sur les intérêts qui permettent de planifier sa carrière. Il y a en outre pendant toute l'année des journées d'information sur les professions et des Foires aux emplois.

Programme de groupe

Le Centre de consultation psychologique et d'orientation professionnelle organise des ateliers sur divers sujets, notamment : comment éviter la procrastination, gestion du stress, aptitude à communiquer, prise de confiance, savoir se relaxer, choix de carrière, stratégies de recherche d'emploi, rédaction du C.V. et préparation aux entretiens d'embauche. On a en outre un groupe de soutien pour les étudiants qui ont interrompu leurs études un certain temps.

Aptitude aux études

Les étudiants manquent souvent de méthode rigoureuse pour mener leurs études à bien et ils se sentent alors complètement dépassés. Le Centre de consultation psychologique et d'orientation professionnelle organise tout au long de l'année des ateliers sur les compétences à acquérir pour faire des études, notamment savoir gérer son temps, prendre des notes, lire un manuel ou connaître les stratégies de préparation aux examens. Il est également possible de prendre un rendez-vous personnel avec un conseiller ou une conseillère pour examiner des problèmes particuliers à ce sujet.

Programme pour les troubles d'apprentissage

Le Centre de consultation psychologique et d'orientation professionnelle a un programme intégré de soutien et de formation qui s'adresse aux étudiants ayant des troubles d'apprentissage. Le programme offre de la consultation psychologique dans le domaine personnel, de l'emploi et des aptitudes aux études. Il comprend aussi un programme de tuteurs et des technologies d'adaptation. De concert avec les membres du corps enseignant, le Centre prend les dispositions nécessaires pour les évaluations et les examens.

Centre de plaintes sur le harcèlement sexuel

Le Centre de consultation psychologique et d'orientation professionnelle agit à titre d'intermédiaire avec le Centre d'information et de plaintes sur le harcèlement sexuel situé au campus de Keele.

Étudiants ayant un handicap

Le Centre de consultation psychologique et d'orientation professionnelle, 416-487-6709, en collaboration avec le Coordinateur du Centre de York pour les personnes ayant un handicap (416-736-5140), agit à titre de bureau de coordination pour les étudiants de Glendon ayant un handicap. La plupart des bâtiments de Glendon sont accessibles aux personnes handicapées. Il est cependant recommandé aux étudiants ayant un handicap qui souhaitent faire des études à Glendon ou vivre en résidence de se mettre en relation avec les bureaux susmentionnés pour examiner leur situation particulière.

L'Atelier de rédaction

La dissertation est un travail complexe qui présente souvent de nombreuses difficultés pour les étudiants. L'Atelier de rédaction est là pour les aider à maîtriser les techniques d'expression propres à ce genre de travail en français ou en anglais.

L'atelier propose des ateliers traitant de l'argumentation, de l'élaboration d'un plan et de la rédaction proprement dite. Les étudiants pourront aussi bénéficier de consultations individuelles pour discuter de leurs travaux "en chantier". Pour de plus amples renseignements, veuillez voir le site de l'Atelier sous "Liens rapides" de la page Mon Glendon.

Étudiants handicapés

Le Centre de consultation psychologique et d'orientation professionnelle, 416-487-6709, en conjonction avec le coordonnateur du Centre pour les handicapés de York 416-736-5140, est le centre de liaison pour les étudiants handicapés de Glendon. La plupart des bâtiments et des salles de Glendon sont accessibles aux personnes handicapées. Cependant, les étudiants qui désirent suivre leurs études à Glendon, ou vivre en résidence, devraient contacter l'un des services mentionnés ci-dessus pour discuter de leur situation particulière.

Logement à l'extérieur du campus

Le Bureau des affaires étudiantes organise un service de logement à l'extérieur du campus. On peut envoyer par la poste des listes de logements disponibles aux étudiants pour un coût minime. La liste est aussi disponible sur le Web au <http://www.studentaffairs.yorku.ca/offcampushousing/>. Durant l'année scolaire, toute annonce nouvelle est affichée sur les panneaux d'affichage. Pour de plus amples informations, le numéro de téléphone est le suivant : 416-487-6844.

Étudiants internationaux

Le Bureau des Affaires étudiantes 416-487-6844, en collaboration avec York International 416-736-5177, offre aux étudiants internationaux de Glendon tous les renseignements nécessaires pour faciliter leurs études. Les étudiants peuvent contacter ces deux bureaux pour répondre à leurs questions, entendre leurs suggestions et résoudre certains de leurs problèmes. En cas de besoin, des étudiants internationaux qui ont déjà une expérience de la vie au Canada peuvent aider les nouveaux venus à s'adapter.

Navette inter-campus

Le Département des transports et du stationnement de l'Université York offre un service de navette gratuit entre le campus de Glendon et celui de Keele. De lundi à jeudi (service réduit le vendredi) entre 7 h 20 et 22 h 30, la navette fait quatre voyages journaliers entre les deux campus. L'arrêt de la navette qui part de Glendon est situé au coin de l'aile C du pavillon York, en face de la résidence Hilliard. L'arrêt de la navette qui part de Keele est situé sur le côté sud du Centre des étudiants.

Pour de plus amples renseignements, veuillez appeler au 416-736-2100, poste 22541 ou visitez le site Web : <http://www.csbo.yorku.ca/parkingservices/>.

Stationnement Glendon

Toutes les voitures stationnant sur le domaine de l'Université doivent être immatriculées au Service de stationnement. Leurs propriétaires sont tenus d'observer les règlements sur le stationnement et le contrôle de la circulation, et de payer les frais de stationnement. On peut se procurer des formulaires de demande de stationnement auprès du Bureau des services de stationnement, Les Serres. Le bureau est ouvert durant la semaine aux heures régulières de bureau (416-487-6788).

Sécurité Glendon

En cas d'urgence, faites le 33333 (ou 416-736-5333) pour appeler la police, les pompiers ou les services d'ambulance.

Pour tout renseignement non urgent, ou si vous ne savez pas que faire à propos d'une inquiétude que vous avez concernant la sécurité des personnes ou des biens, appelez le 66808 (ou 416-487-6808).

Le Service d'escorte de sécurité étudiante

Sur simple appel de votre part, des agents de la sécurité étudiante iront vous chercher au terrain de stationnement, à l'arrêt de bus, à la porte du bâtiment ou de la résidence et vous accompagneront jusqu'à votre destination sur le campus. Le service d'escorte de sécurité étudiante fonctionne tous les jours, durant toute l'année, aux heures suivantes : septembre à avril 18h – 2 h et mai à août – 20 h – 2 h. Appelez le bureau de la sécurité étudiante, poste 66799 (ou 416-487-6799) durant les heures indiquées ci-dessus.

Objets perdus

Sur le campus de Glendon, prière de s'adresser au bureau des services de sécurité, au pavillon des serres, appelez le 66808 (ou 416-487-6808).

L'Université rejette toute responsabilité en cas de perte d'articles personnels non surveillés laissés dans les bâtiments ou à l'extérieur.

Si vous désirez de plus amples renseignements sur les services de sécurité et de stationnement, consultez notre site Web : <http://www.csbo.yorku.ca>.

L'association des étudiants

L'Association des étudiants du Collège universitaire Glendon est le porte-parole des étudiants pour les affaires sociales et politiques. Le comité exécutif se compose d'un président, d'un vice-président et de six directeurs (affaires culturelles, affaires bilingues, affaires universitaires, clubs et services, affaires externes, communications) élus en même temps que six conseillers à l'élection du printemps.

Chaque automne, on procède à des élections pour nommer quatre autres conseillers, ainsi que les représentants des étudiants à temps partiel et les représentants des étudiants de première année. L'Association des Anciens de Glendon délègue également un représentant élu.

Les deux principaux objectifs de l'Association des étudiants sont, premièrement, de protéger les intérêts des étudiants en participant aux affaires scolaires et aux affaires étudiantes et, deuxièmement, de promouvoir et de coordonner la participation aux activités culturelles, intellectuelles et sociales (bals, clubs, réunions de cours et conférences). Les trois événements majeurs de l'année sont la semaine d'orientation (début septembre), le banquet de Noël (début décembre), et le carnaval d'hiver (première semaine de février).

N'hésitez pas à nous contacter car, ne l'oublions pas, "solidarité étudiante". Nos bureaux sont situés au 175 pavillon York, face à la cafétéria (tél. 416-487-6720).

Le conseil de la faculté et ses comités

Le Conseil de la Faculté est la plus haute instance académique du Collège universitaire Glendon. Il est constitué de représentants des étudiants, des membres du personnel et du corps professoral. Il se réunit régulièrement pour étudier des questions touchant à la direction et à la planification, à la qualité de l'enseignement, aux pétitions des étudiants etc.

La plupart des comités du Conseil sont formés d'un nombre égal de professeurs et d'étudiants : aussi bien le comité chargé d'examiner les pétitions des étudiants que celui qui étudie les dossiers des professeurs pour les questions de promotion et de permanence, ainsi que celui traitant du bilinguisme ou celui revoyant toutes les propositions de cours et de programmes. Les étudiants représentent jusqu'à 15% des membres du Conseil de la faculté. Les élections pour siéger au conseil ont lieu en mars.

Clubs et organisations

Il existe sur le campus une grande variété de groupes, structurés ou non, qui se réunissent pour des activités aussi diverses que la poésie ou les débats politiques. Étudiants, professeurs, employés sont les bienvenus dans ces clubs, ou sont invités à en créer d'autres dans les activités qui les intéressent. L'Association des étudiants du collège (AECG) peut servir de centre de renseignements et de base de support.

Glendon – Programs of Study / Programmes d'Études

Canadian Studies/Études canadiennes

Students may design interdisciplinary programs in Canadian studies in consultation with the coordinator of Canadian studies.

BA Degree Requirements

Students in all of the programs, except those in the Combined Honours degree program who choose Canadian studies as a minor component, must obtain six credits in each of the three areas listed below:

- language, literature and culture
- the structures of society
- the economy and the environment

Specialized Honours Program

48 credits chosen from the list of Canadian studies courses, including GL/CDNS 1920 6.00, GL/CDNS 2930 3.00, GL/CDNS 3621 3.00 and GL/CDNS 4200 6.00. 24 of the required credits must be at the 3000 or 4000 level.

In addition, students must obtain the Certificate of Bilingualism. See "Certificate of Bilingualism" at the end of this section.

General Honours in Program

36 credits chosen from the list of Canadian studies courses, including GL/CDNS 1920 6.00, GL/CDNS 2930 3.00, GL/CDNS 3621 3.00 and GL/CDNS 4200 6.00. 18 of the required credits must be at the 3000 or 4000 level.

In addition, students must obtain the Certificate of Bilingualism. See "Certificate of Bilingualism" at the end of this section.

Honours Double Major Program

Students may choose Canadian studies as part of an Honours Double Major program. They must take at least 36 credits from the list of Canadian studies courses, including GL/CDNS 1920 6.00, GL/CDNS 2930 3.00, GL/CDNS 3621 3.00 and GL/CDNS 4200 6.00. 18 of the required credits must be at the 3000 or 4000 level.

Students must consult the York University Calendar for the degree requirements of the other discipline in which they wish to major.

In addition, students must obtain the Certificate of Bilingualism. See "Certificate of Bilingualism" at the end of this section.

Combined Honours in Program

Canadian studies may be combined with any other discipline taught at Glendon. Students may choose Canadian studies as their major or minor.

Canadian studies as the major component: Students must take at least 36 credits from the list of Canadian studies courses, including GL/CDNS 1920 6.00, GL/CDNS 2930 3.00, GL/CDNS 3621 3.00 and GL/CDNS 4200 6.00. 18 of the required credits must be at the 3000 or 4000 level.

Canadian studies as the minor component: Students must take at least 24 credits from the list of Canadian studies courses, including GL/CDNS 1920 6.00, GL/CDNS 2930 3.00 and GL/CDNS 3621 3.00.

Note: Students who take Canadian studies as a minor component are exempted from the requirement to take six credits in each of the three designated areas.

In addition, students must obtain the Certificate of Bilingualism. See "Certificate of Bilingualism" at the end of this section.

Bachelor Program

30 credits from the list of Canadian studies courses, including GL/CDNS 1920 6.00, GL/CDNS 2930 3.00, GL/CDNS 3621 3.00. 12 of these credits must be at the 3000 or 4000 level.

In addition, students must obtain the Certificate of Bilingualism. See "Certificate of Bilingualism" at the end of this section.

Certificate of Bilingualism

In order to graduate with a degree in Canadian studies, students must obtain the Certificate of Bilingualism. To receive the Certificate of Bilingualism, students must successfully complete at least 18 credits in their second language with a minimum grade of C in each course. These courses must be at the second- year level and above in French as a second language or any courses at any level in another discipline of the college which are designated as satisfying the bilingual requirements.

Exigences du Programme

Les étudiants peuvent se bâtir des programmes interdisciplinaires en Études canadiennes en consultation avec le coordonnateur du programme.

Les étudiants de tous les programmes, sauf le programme de mineure, doivent obtenir un minimum de six crédits dans chacun des trois domaines suivants :

- Langue, littérature et culture
- Structures de la société
- L'économie et l'environnement

Baccalauréat spécialisé

48 crédits choisis parmi les cours reconnus par le programme, y compris GL/CDNS 1920 6.00, GL/CDNS 2930 3.00, GL/CDNS 3621 3.00 et GL/CDNS 4200 6.00. 24 crédits doivent être au niveau 3000 ou 4000.

Baccalauréat spécialisé général

36 crédits choisis parmi les cours reconnus par le programme, y compris GL/CDNS 1920 6.00, GL/CDNS 2930 3.00, GL/CDNS 3621 3.00 et GL/CDNS 4200 6.00. 18 crédits doivent être au niveau 3000 ou 4000.

Baccalauréat spécialisé avec double majeure

Les étudiants peuvent choisir Études canadiennes dans un programme spécialisé avec double majeure. Ils doivent obtenir au moins 36 crédits choisis parmi les cours reconnus par le programme, y compris GL/CDNS 1920 6.00, GL/CDNS 2930 3.00, GL/CDNS 3621 3.00 et GL/CDNS 4200 6.00. 18 crédits doivent être au niveau 3000 ou 4000.

Baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire

Les Études canadiennes peuvent être combinées à n'importe quelle autre discipline enseignée au collège. Les étudiants peuvent choisir soit Études canadiennes, soit l'autre discipline comme majeure.

Majeure en Études canadiennes : 36 crédits choisis parmi les cours reconnus par le programme, y compris GL/CDNS 1920 6.00, GL/CDNS 2930 3.00, GL/CDNS 3621 3.00 et GL/CDNS 4200 6.00. 18 crédits doivent être au niveau 3000 ou 4000.

Mineure en Études canadiennes : 24 crédits choisis parmi les cours reconnus par le programme, y compris GL/CDNS 1920 6.00, GL/CDNS 2930 3.00, et GL/CDNS 3621 3.00.

N.B. : Les étudiants qui font une mineure en Études canadiennes sont dispensés de l'obligation de suivre six crédits dans chacun des trois domaines indiqués.

Baccalauréat ès arts

30 crédits choisis parmi les cours reconnus par le programme, y compris GL/CDNS 1920 6.00, GL/CDNS 2930 3.00, et GL/CDNS 3621 3.00. 12 crédits doivent être au niveau 3000 ou 4000.

Certificat de bilinguisme

L'obtention du Certificat de bilinguisme est exigée pour le diplôme en Études canadiennes. Pour obtenir le Certificat de bilinguisme, il faut avoir obtenu, avec une note minimum de C, à au moins 18 crédits dans sa langue seconde : cours de 2e année ou au-dessus en anglais langue seconde ou tout cours, à tous les niveaux, enseigné en anglais dans une autre discipline du Collège qui sont désignés comme satisfaisant à l'exigence de bilinguisme.

Canadian Studies Courses/Cours reconnus par le programme d'études canadiennes

It should be noted that the courses listed below may vary from year to year. Students must refer to the program mini-calendar./La liste des cours peut varier d'année en année. Prière de consulter le mini-annuaire du programme.

Computer Science in Liberal Arts/Informatique dans un milieu d'arts libéraux

BA Degree Requirements

The objective of the Computer Science Program is to prepare graduates to work in a wide range of computer environments, both traditional and non-traditional. To that end, students are encouraged to combine specialization in computer science with specialization in another discipline. Ideally, on graduation, they will be qualified for positions in both fields, able to work comfortably within an information processing environment, in their professional field, or in both.

General Honours Program

Students must complete at least 48 credits in computer science including GL/CSLA 1925 3.00 and GL/CSLA 1927 3.00, GL/CSLA 1620 3.00 and GL/CSLA 1630 3.00 and the core courses (GL/CSLA 2001 3.00 and GL/CSLA 3215 3.00, GL/CSLA 2620 3.00 and GL/CSLA 3411 3.00, GL/CSLA 3610 3.00 and GL/CSLA 3830 3.00), plus six more credits at the 3000 or 4000 level and six more credits at the 4000 level. In addition, students must complete GL/MATH 2650 3.00 and GL/MODR 1610 3.00 before enrolling in any 3000- or 4000-level courses.

Honours Double Major Program

Students may complete an Honours Double Major Program in Computer Science. Students must complete at least 36 credits in computer science including GL/CSLA 1925 3.00, GL/CSLA 1927 3.00, GL/CSLA 1620 3.00, GL/CSLA 1630 3.00, and the core courses (GL/CSLA 2001 3.00, GL/CSLA 3215 3.00, GL/CSLA 2620 3.00, GL/CSLA 3411 3.00, GL/CSLA 3610 3.00, GL/CSLA 3830 3.00) and at least six credits at the 4000 level. In addition, students must complete GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00 and GL/MODR 1610 3.00. Candidates must check the Calendar for the requirements of the other discipline in which they wish to major.

Combined Honours Program

Computer science may be combined with any other discipline taught at Glendon. Students must complete at least 60 credits in the two disciplines. When computer science is the major discipline, students must take at least 36 credits in computer science including GL/CSLA 1925 3.00, GL/CSLA 1927 3.00, GL/CSLA 1620 3.00, GL/CSLA 1630 3.00, and the core courses (GL/CSLA 2001 3.00 and GL/CSLA 3215 3.00, GL/CSLA 2620 3.00 and GL/CSLA 3411 3.00, GL/CSLA 3610 3.00 and GL/CSLA 3830 3.00) and at least six credits at the 4000 level. In addition, students must complete, GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00 and GL/MODR 1610 3.00.

When computer science is the minor discipline, students must complete 24 credits in computer science including 12 credits chosen from among the core courses.

Bachelor Program

Students in the bachelor program must take at least 42 credits in computer science including GL/CSLA 1925 3.00, GL/CSLA 1927 3.00, GL/CSLA 1620 3.00, GL/CSLA 1630 3.00, and the core courses (GL/CSLA 2620 3.00, GL/CSLA 3411 3.00, GL/CSLA 3610 3.00 and GL/CSLA 3830 3.00). 18 additional credits at the 3000 level or the 4000 level should be chosen in consultation with the department. In addition, students must complete GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00 and GL/MODR 1610 3.00.

Note: Courses GL/CSLA 1960 3.00 and GL/CSLA 1970 3.00 cannot be used to meet the minimum requirements. These courses are aimed primarily at students not intending to take additional computer science courses. GL/MATH 1650 3.00 is a prerequisite for GL/CSLA 1927 3.00 and cannot be counted in the minimum requirements.

Exigences du Programme

L'objectif du programme d'informatique est de préparer les futurs diplômés à travailler avec des ordinateurs dans une grande variété de postes, traditionnels et non-traditionnels. Pour atteindre cet objectif, les étudiants combineront une spécialisation en informatique et une spécialisation dans une autre discipline. Idéalement, à la fin de leurs études, ces étudiants posséderont les qualifications requises pour obtenir des postes dans leurs deux domaines de spécialisation, et seront parfaitement capables de travailler dans le traitement de l'information, dans leur domaine professionnel.

Baccalauréat spécialisé général

Les étudiants doivent suivre au minimum 48 crédits en Informatique parmi lesquels doivent figurer GL/CSLA 1925 3.00, GL/CSLA 1927 3.00, GL/CSLA 1620 3.00, GL/CSLA 1630 3.00 et les cours de base (GL/CSLA 2001 3.00 et GL/CSLA 3215 3.00, GL/CSLA 2620 3.00, GL/CSLA 3411 3.00, GL/CSLA 3610 3.00, GL/CSLA 3830 3.00), et au moins six crédits au niveau 4000. En outre, les étudiants doivent suivre GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00 et GL/MODR 1610 3.00.

Baccalauréat spécialisé avec double majeure

Les étudiants peuvent choisir Informatique dans un Baccalauréat spécialisé avec double majeure. Ils doivent obtenir au moins 36 crédits en Informatique parmi lesquels GL/CSLA 1925 3.00, GL/CSLA 1927 3.00, GL/CSLA 1620 3.00, GL/CSLA 1630 3.00 et les cours de base (GL/CSLA 2001 3.00 et GL/CSLA 3215 3.00, GL/CSLA 2620 3.00, GL/CSLA 3411 3.00, GL/CSLA 3610 3.00, GL/CSLA 3830 3.00), et au moins six crédits au niveau 4000. En outre, les étudiants doivent suivre, GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00, et GL/MODR 1610 3.00.

Baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire

L'Informatique peut être combinée à n'importe quelle autre discipline enseignée à Glendon. Les étudiants doivent suivre au minimum 60 crédits au total dans les deux disciplines. Lorsque l'Informatique constitue la majeure, les étudiants devront suivre au minimum 36 crédits en Informatique, parmi lesquels doivent figurer GL/CSLA 1925 3.00, GL/CSLA 1927 3.00, GL/CSLA 1620 3.00, GL/CSLA 1630 3.00, et les cours de base (GL/CSLA 2001 3.00 et GL/CSLA 3215 3.00, GL/CSLA 2620 3.00, GL/CSLA 3411 3.00, GL/CSLA 3610 3.00, GL/CSLA 3830 3.00) et au moins six crédits au niveau 4000. En outre, les étudiants doivent suivre GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00 et GL/MODR 1610 3.00. Lorsque l'Informatique constitue la mineure, les étudiants devront suivre 24 crédits en Informatique, parmi lesquels doivent figurer 12 crédits choisis parmi les cours de base.

Baccalauréat ès arts

Les candidats à un baccalauréat doivent suivre un minimum de 42 crédits en Informatique parmi lesquels doivent figurer GL/CSLA 1925 3.00, GL/CSLA 1927 3.00, GL/CSLA 1620 3.00, GL/CSLA 1630 3.00 et les cours de base (GL/CSLA 2620 3.00, GL/CSLA 3411 3.00, GL/CSLA 3610 3.00 et GL/CSLA 3830 3.00). Les 18 autres crédits doivent être choisis en consultation avec le département au niveau 3000 ou au niveau 4000. En outre, les étudiants doivent suivre GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00, et GL/MODR 1610 3.00.

Remarque : Les cours GL/CSLA 1960 3.00 et GL/CSLA 1970 3.00 ne comptent pas comme cours de spécialisation. Ce sont des cours destinés principalement aux étudiants qui n'ont pas l'intention de suivre d'autres cours d'informatique. Le cours GL/MATH 1650 3.00 est une condition préalable pour le cours GL/CSLA 1927 3.00 et ne compte pas pour la spécialisation.

General Certificate in Refugee and Migration Studies

York students may earn a General Certificate in Refugee and Migration Studies in addition to fulfilling the requirements for the degree of bachelor of arts. To qualify for the General Certificate in Refugee and Migration Studies, students must complete AS/SOSC 1130 6.00 or AK/SOSC 2000 6.00 and 18 additional credits from the list of refugee and migration studies courses of which at least 12 credits will be at the 3000 or 4000 level. The cumulative grade point average in these courses must be 5.0 (C+) or higher and other relevant Glendon's residence requirements must be fulfilled. Further information is available from the Centre for Refugee Studies.

Certificat général d'études sur la migration et sur les réfugiés

En satisfaisant aux exigences requises pour l'obtention du baccalauréat ès arts, les étudiants de l'université York peuvent également obtenir un certificat général d'études sur la migration et sur les réfugiés. Pour obtenir ce certificat, il faut avoir réussi au cours AS/SOSC 1130 6.00 (International Migration) ou au cours AK/SOSC 2000 6.00 (Introduction to Refugee Studies), ainsi que 18 crédits choisis parmi la liste des cours approuvés, dont 12 crédits doivent être du niveau 3000 ou 4000. La moyenne cumulative dans tous ces cours doit être égale ou supérieure à 5,0 (C+) et les autres exigences universitaires habituelles du collège doivent être respectées. Pour tout renseignement complémentaire sur ce certificat, s'adresser au Centre d'études sur les réfugiés.

Les étudiants devront avoir suivi avec succès les cours GL/MODR 1930 3.00 et GL/MODR 1940 3.00 avant d'entamer leur troisième année d'études. Il est vivement recommandé aux étudiants de suivre les cours GL/ECON 3670 3.00 et GL/ECON 4260 3.00. Leurs programmes de deuxième, troisième et quatrième années seront établis en consultation avec le département.

Baccalauréat spécialisé avec double majeure

Les étudiants à un baccalauréat spécialisé avec double majeure en Science économique doivent obtenir au moins 48 crédits en Science économique parmi lesquels GL/ECON 2500 3.00, GL/ECON 2510 3.00, GL/ECON 3230 6.00, et GL/ECON 3240 6.00. Pour ce programme, les cours GL/ECON 3670 3.00 (Mathematical Statistics) et GL/ECON 4260 3.00 (Econometrics) sont fortement recommandés. Le choix des cours doit être soumis à l'approbation du département au moment de l'inscription du candidat en deuxième, troisième et quatrième années.

Baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire

Les candidats à un baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire devront obtenir un minimum de 60 crédits dans les deux départements choisis. Dans le cas d'une majeure en Science économique, les étudiants devront suivre les cours GL/ECON 2500 3.00 et GL/ECON 2510 3.00, plus 30 autres crédits en Science économique (dont, obligatoirement, GL/ECON 3230 6.00 et GL/ECON 3240 6.00). Les étudiants doivent avoir suivi les cours de logique GL/MODR 1930 3.00 et GL/MODR 1940 3.00 avant la fin de leur deuxième année. Il est vivement recommandé aux étudiants de suivre les cours GL/ECON 3670 3.00 et GL/ECON 4260 3.00. Dans le cas d'une spécialisation bidisciplinaire avec mineure en Science économique, les étudiants devront suivre les cours GL/ECON 2500 3.00, GL/ECON 2510 3.00 et obtenir un minimum de 18 autres crédits en Science économique (dont, obligatoirement, GL/ECON 3230 6.00 et GL/ECON 3240 6.00). Les étudiants doivent inclure GL/MODR 1610 3.00 et GL/MODR 1620 3.00 dans leur programme. Pour plus de détails concernant les cours requis ou recommandés pour un regroupement particulier, s'adresser au département. Tous les étudiants préparant une spécialisation bidisciplinaire doivent établir leurs programmes de deuxième, troisième et quatrième années d'études en consultation avec les deux départements intéressés.

Baccalauréat ès arts

Les candidats à un baccalauréat en Science économique devront suivre les cours GL/ECON 2500 3.00, GL/ECON 2510 3.00, GL/ECON 3230 6.00, GL/ECON 3240 6.00 (18 crédits au total) et, au moins, 18 autres crédits de Science économique choisis en consultation avec le département. En outre, les étudiants devront avoir suivi avec succès, soit GL/MODR 1610 3.00 et GL/MODR 1620 3.00 ou GL/MODR 1930 3.00 et GL/MODR 1940 3.00 avant d'entamer leur troisième année d'études. Il est fortement recommandé aux étudiants qui choisissent cette dernière option d'inclure les cours GL/ECON 3670 3.00 et GL/ECON 4260 3.00 dans leur programme.

Combinaisons de cours à des fins déterminées

Parmi tous les programmes susmentionnés, des cours d'économie peuvent être combinés pour former des programmes s'adaptant à des fins déterminées pour les étudiants qui se dirigent vers des professions telles que le droit, l'administration des affaires, la fonction publique, le commerce international et l'économie professionnelle à plein temps. Le département publie chaque année un mini-annuaire qui contient une description plus détaillée des cours offerts pour l'année académique à venir. On y trouve également quelques combinaisons de cours qui peuvent intéresser les étudiants qui se destinent à diverses carrières qu'on peut poursuivre après l'obtention d'un baccalauréat en Science économique.

Business Economics/Économie et commerce

The Business Economics Program is an Honours program, the object of which is to provide students interested in business as a career with an opportunity to combine business-oriented courses with an economics degree. Students may enrol in a General Honours, a Combined Honours (major only) or a Specialized Honours program. Note that not all courses listed below will be offered in any one year; students are advised to consult the department.

Students are expected to be familiar with standard computer applications programs, including word processing, spreadsheet, database, presentation software and Web browsers.

Students should seek the advice of a member of the department before choosing their courses.

BA Degree Requirements

Specialized Honours Program

Candidates for Specialized Honours must take 78 credits in the program, including 48 credits from the list of core courses and an additional 30 credits from the list of elective courses.

General Honours Program

Candidates for General Honours must complete 66 credits in the program, including 48 credits from the list of core courses and an additional 18 credits from the list of elective courses.

Combined Honours Program (Major only)

 GL/CSLA/ITEC 4625 3.00
 GL/CSLA/ITEC 4630 3.00
 GL/ITEC 4640 3.00

and must take 15 credits chosen from outside the departments of Economics and Computer Science, of which at least six credits must be at the 3000 or 4000 level.

General Education and Bilingual Requirements

Every student at Glendon shall complete before graduation the equivalent of at least six credits in each of three of the four general education divisions: humanities, modes of reasoning, natural science, social science. At least six of these 18 credits must be at the 3000 or 4000 level. For detailed information about these divisions, see the description under multidisciplinary studies.

Students can minimize the total number of credits required to graduate in this program by choosing courses in their third and fourth year that are also cross-listed into natural science, social science or humanities; such courses will simultaneously meet GL/BU EC/ITEC and general education requirements. Nevertheless, students registering in the double major should be aware that they will probably need to take more than the normal 120 credits required for an Honours degree in order to complete the double major.

In addition to the 117 credits required by the joint program, Glendon regulations require students to take courses in English and/or French as a second language. Students capable of doing so may be able to meet these requirements by taking a sufficient number of either business economics or information technology courses in their second language.

Students are strongly advised to consult both the departments of Economics and Computer Science while planning their program.

Économie et Commerce/Technologie de l'information

Le Département de science économique et le Département d'informatique offrent conjointement un diplôme spécialisé avec double majeure en Économie et commerce et en Technologie de l'information. Ce programme exigeant offrira cependant aux diplômés la combinaison des compétences en affaires et des compétences techniques fort en demande de nos jours sur le marché du travail.

Les étudiants doivent obtenir un total de 117 crédits distribués comme suit :

Mathématiques

Tous les étudiants doivent obtenir les 18 crédits suivants en mathématiques :

GL/MATH/CSLA/MODR 1650 3.00 or
GL/MATH/MODR 1650 3.00
GL/MATH/MODR 1930 3.00 or
GL/MATH 1940 3.00
GL/MATH 2650 3.00
GL/MATH 2680 6.00

Science économique et Économie et commerce :

Tous les étudiants doivent obtenir 42 crédits en cours de base en Économie et commerce, comme suit :

36 crédits en :

GL/ECON 2300 6.00
GL/ECON 2500 3.00
GL/ECON 2510 3.00

GL/ECON 4310 3.00
GL/ECON 4315 3.00

Technologie de l'information

Tous les étudiants doivent obtenir 42 crédits en cours de base en Technologie de l'information:

GL/ITEC 1010 3.00
GL/ITEC 1011 3.00
GL/CSLA/ITEC 1620 3.00
GL/CSLA/ITEC 1630 3.00

GL/CSLA/ITEC 4625 3.00
GL/CSLA/ITEC 4630 3.00
GL/ITEC 4640 3.00

et doivent obtenir 15 crédits choisis en dehors des départements de Science économique et d'Informatique, dont au moins six doivent être au niveau de la troisième ou quatrième année.

Exigences en éducation générale et de bilinguisme

Avant de pouvoir obtenir son diplôme, chaque étudiant du Collège doit avoir obtenu l'équivalent d'au moins six crédits dans trois des quatre divisions du programme en études générales : humanités, logique, sciences naturelles, sciences sociales. Au moins six de ces 18 crédits doivent être au niveau de la troisième ou de la quatrième année. Pour de plus amples renseignements sur ces divisions, veuillez voir la description sous Études pluridisciplinaires.

Les étudiants peuvent minimiser le nombre total de crédits exigés pour obtenir un diplôme dans ce programme en choisissant, en troisième et quatrième année, des cours jumelés avec les sciences naturelles, sciences sociales ou humanités ; de tels cours satisferont en même temps les exigences de GL/BU EC/ITEC et celles de la formation générale. Néanmoins, les étudiants inscrits pour la double majeure devraient être conscients qu'ils auront probablement besoin pour compléter cette double majeure d'obtenir plus de crédits que les 120 normalement exigés pour un diplôme spécialisé.

En plus de 117 crédits exigés pour le programme conjoint, les règlements de Glendon stipulent que les étudiants doivent suivre des cours en Anglais et/ou en Français langue seconde. Les étudiants qui en sont capables pourraient satisfaire à ces exigences en suivant un nombre suffisant de cours dans leur langue seconde soit en Économie et commerce, soit en Technologie de l'information.

Il est fortement conseillé aux étudiants de consulter à la fois les départements de Science économique et d'Informatique pour la planification de leur programme.

Education/Sciences de l'éducation

Note: In addition to the following information on the BEd program and Glendon, full statements on the Faculty of Education appear in the Faculty of Education section of this Calendar.

Avis : En plus des renseignements suivants portant sur le programme de BEd à Glendon, on trouvera dans la page de cet annuaire une description complète de la Faculté des sciences de l'éducation.

Coregistration in the Faculty of Education and the Glendon Campus

The Faculty of Education offers concurrent undergraduate programs on the Keele campus for students simultaneously enrolled in other undergraduate Faculties (including Glendon) leading to the bachelor of education degree (BEd). Generally, students are coregistered over a period of three years during which they take 30 credits in the Faculty of Education to earn the BEd degree.

The Faculty also offers a full- and part-time consecutive undergraduate program (BEd) at several on and off-campus sites (including Glendon) for prospective teachers who have already graduated or are about to graduate, in another discipline.

Students interested in the Concurrent or Consecutive BEd programs will find complete information on eligibility, procedures, standards and other relevant matters in the Faculty of Education section of this Calendar.

Co-inscription à la Faculté des Sciences de l'éducation

La Faculté des Sciences de l'éducation offre des programmes menant au baccalauréat en Sciences de l'éducation (BEd) au campus de York. Le programme de BEd exige que l'étudiant soit simultanément inscrit à deux programmes de baccalauréat, de façon à suivre l'équivalent du nombre de cours normalement requis pour un programme de BA pendant chaque année. La durée de la période de co-inscription est de trois ans, à la fin de laquelle le candidat aura suivi 30 crédits dans la Faculté des Sciences de l'éducation en vue de l'obtention de son BEd.

La Faculté offre également des programmes à temps plein et à temps partiel (BEd) à plusieurs succursales (Glendon inclus) à l'intention des enseignants potentiels qui détiennent déjà un baccalauréat ou qui sont sur le point de recevoir un baccalauréat, dans une autre discipline.

Les étudiants désirant se co-inscrire à la Faculté des sciences de l'éducation trouveront toutes les informations sur les conditions et les modalités d'inscription, les exigences etc., sous la rubrique de cette faculté dans l'annuaire combiné.

English

BA Degree Requirements

Students taking a degree in English, whether BA or Honours BA (General, Combined, or Specialized) must take the following foundation set:

Foundation Set:

- GL/EN 1520 6.00
- GL/EN 2510 6.00 or six credits in literature written before 1660 and six credits in literature written between 1660 and 1900.

and six credits in linguistics selected from:

- GL/EN 2608 6.00
- GL/EN 2605 6.00

These requirements will normally be satisfied before proceeding to upper-level (third- or fourth-year) courses. The requirements are in effect for students commencing their first year of University in Fall/Winter 2004-2005 or thereafter.

No more than the equivalent of six English as a second language credits at the 3000 level may be counted towards a major or minor in English. For details see below under the Courses in English as a Second Language section.

Note: Students with a focal interest in linguistics and language studies should consult that section in the Calendar.

Specialized Honours Program

Students in Specialized Honours must take 60 credits - the above foundation set and 42 other credits, including (a) six credits in pre-1660 literature (selected from GL/EN 3210 6.00, GL/EN 3220 6.00, GL/EN 3250 6.00, GL/EN 3620 6.00, GL/EN 3625 3.00, GL/EN 3630 3.00, GL/EN 4680 6.00) and (b) six credits in literature written between 1660 and 1900

(selected from GL/EN 2580 6.00, GL/EN 3230 6.00, GL/EN 3330 6.00, GL/EN 3470 6.00). For both (a) and (b), students could select from GL/EN 4010 3.00/4010 6.00, GL/EN 4100 3.00/4100 6.00, GL/EN 4240 3.00/4240 6.00, GL/EN 4250 3.00/4250 6.00 depending on the subjects covered. All students taking a major in the English Department must have their program approved by a faculty member of the department.

General Honours Program

Students in General Honours must take 36 credits composed of the above foundation set, 12 credits at the 3000 or 4000 level and six other credits in English.

Honours Double Major Program

Students in an Honours Double Major Program in English must take at least 36 credits in English including the foundation set (see above) and 12 credits at the 3000 or 4000 level.

Combined Honours Program

Students in the Combined Honours program must take at least 60 credits in the two departments concerned and must arrange their second- to fourth-year study lists with both departments. Those who are seeking Combined Honours with major emphasis in English must take 36 credits in English composed of the foundation set, at least 12 credits at the 3000 or 4000 level and six other credits in English. Those who are seeking Combined Honours with minor emphasis in English must take 24 credits in English chosen in consultation with the department.

Bachelor Program

Students in the bachelor program must take 30 credits in English, composed of the above foundation set and 12 credits at the 3000 or 4000 level.

English as a Second Language

Students wishing or required to take English as a second language (ENSL) courses must meet with an adviser in ENSL before enrolling. Native users of English are not eligible to enrol in ENSL courses except under special circumstances (e.g. English as a second dialect) and with the permission of the director of the ENSL Program. Advanced students at the 3000 level normally take a minimum of three ENSL credits and a maximum of 12 ENSL credits.

ENSL in the English major: No more than six ENSL credits, to be taken at the 3000 level, may be counted towards a major in English. These ENSL credits may be counted as part of the 3000-4000 level requirement in the bachelor of arts degree program but not in the Honours BA.

Certificate Program in the Discipline of Teaching English as an International Language (D-TEIL)

The English Department offers a Certificate in the Discipline of Teaching English as an International Language.

Admission Requirements

Candidates must:

- be enrolled at Glendon or another Faculty of York University or
- have completed a university degree at an accredited institution.

Note: You may be granted advanced standing for 2000- and 3000-level equivalent courses taken elsewhere.

Applicants without a university degree may apply as provisional students.

Note: If, at a later date, students opt to pursue a degree, it may be possible to apply these credits to a degree.

Program Requirements

This certificate consists of 24 credits to be taken from the following:

Mandatory courses

GL/EN 2608 6.00
GL/EN 3603 3.00
GL/EN 3500 3.00
GL/EN 4690 6.00
GL/EN 4695 3.00

Three credits to be chosen from:

GL/EN 3632 3.00
GL/EN 3604 3.00
GL/EN 3650 6.00

Note: A minimum grade of C+ is required in each of the above courses. Not every course is offered every year. Please refer to the English Department mini- calendar for current offerings.

Certificat en rédaction professionnelle

Le Certificat en rédaction professionnelle du Département d'études françaises vise à former des rédacteurs et des rédactrices polyvalents, qui puissent être reconnus comme rédacteurs professionnels. À ce titre, il vise autant les personnes déjà engagées dans des activités professionnelles où la rédaction occupe une place importante, que des étudiants désirant se diriger vers ce secteur d'activités.

Conditions d'admission*1. Conditions générales

Avoir terminé une année d'université ou posséder une expérience professionnelle d'au moins deux ans dans un domaine pertinent (tout domaine dans lequel l'écriture occupe une place importante).

Les candidats internes doivent être admissibles à un diplôme de baccalauréat ès arts spécialisé et avoir conservé une moyenne de 5,0 (C+) pendant leurs études à l'Université York. Les candidats externes doivent remplir les conditions générales d'admission de l'Université York.

2. Compétences langagières

1) Être de langue maternelle française ou avoir une compétence équivalente.

2) Démontrer une compétence rédactionnelle générale suffisante pour pouvoir suivre avec profit une formation en rédaction professionnelle. Cette compétence sera jugée sur dossier soumis par les candidats au coordonnateur du Certificat. Les candidats internes doivent également avoir été classés au niveau 2000 (ou plus) au test de classement pour francophones.

Le dossier (à déposer au secrétariat du Département d'études françaises) doit comprendre des travaux scolaires ou des échantillons de travaux de rédaction ainsi que tout document que les candidats jugeront pertinent : lettre d'intention, curriculum vitae, etc.). En l'absence d'un dossier suffisant, un examen de qualification sera proposé.

3. Connaissances informatiques

Connaître au moins un logiciel de traitement de texte. Être prêt à essayer différents logiciels d'aide à la rédaction, d'édition et de gestion de l'information et de documents.

Exigences du Programme

Le Certificat en rédaction professionnelle compte 30 crédits, répartis comme suit :

Neuf crédits en rédaction générale (cours obligatoires)

GL/FRAN 2210 3.00
 GL/FRAN 2212 3.00

 GL/Fran 3214 3.00
 GL/Fran 4212 3.00
 GL/Fran 4214 3.00

(Ces cours de spécialisation sont ouverts aux étudiants qui ne suivent pas le Certificat dans la mesure des places disponibles.)

Trois crédits en documentation (cours obligatoire)

GL/TRAN 3260 3.00

Six crédits de cours optionnels à choisir en consultation avec le coordonnateur du Certificat

N.B. : Voir les descriptions des cours dans les programmes appropriés.

Pour recevoir le Certificat, il faut obtenir une note d'au moins 4,0 (C) dans chacun des cours et une moyenne de 5,0 (C+) pour l'ensemble des cours du programme. L'obtention du Certificat n'est pas liée à celle d'un diplôme de baccalauréat.

Voir le mini-annuaire du Département d'études françaises pour de plus amples renseignements sur le Certificat.

Certificate in English/Spanish, Spanish/English Translation*Admissions Requirements

Applicants to the certificate must successfully complete an entrance exam before engaging in their course of study.

Applicants to the certificate must (a) have completed, by September, a minimum of one year of university or equivalent including GL/SP/LIN 2610 6.00 (see Glendon, Hispanic Studies Department section) or AS/SP 3000 6.00 (see Faculty of Arts, Department of Languages, Literatures and Linguistics) or the equivalent; and (b) present a 5.0 (C+) average to be eligible for admission.

Internal applicants (i.e. students currently enrolled in a BA program at York University) who will not graduate prior to entering into the Certificate program must be eligible to proceed in an Honours BA program in combination with the certificate.

External applicants must meet the Glendon/York University admission requirements and must be enrolled in a BA program in combination with the certificate.

Applicants, who will have completed or who have already completed a BA at York University or at another university before entering the certificate program, will be admitted as direct entry candidates, provided all other certificate entry requirements are met.

Program Requirements

Students must complete 33 credits, at least 27 of which must be at the 2000 level or higher, in the appropriate stream of the Certificate in Spanish-English/English-Spanish Translation. There are two streams in this program: the Anglophone stream for students whose mother tongue is English and the Hispanophone stream for students whose mother tongue is Spanish. Students whose mother tongue is neither Spanish nor English must choose a stream in collaboration with the coordinator of the Certificate in Translation program.

GL/HIST 3275 6.00	GL/HIST 4620 6.00
GL/HIST 3350 6.00

L'exigence d'un cours dans un groupe donné peut être satisfaite si l'étudiant suit un cours comportant un mémoire ou une thèse. Un cours inscrit sous plus d'une rubrique satisfera à l'exigence de l'un ou de l'autre groupe, mais pas de plus d'un. Quand on ajoutera de nouveaux cours au programme du département, et à mesure qu'on offrira des cours spéciaux, ces cours pourront être inscrits sous une ou plusieurs rubriques. Pour obtenir de plus amples renseignements sur les cours requis ou recommandés pour les différentes combinaisons, l'étudiant se mettra en rapport avec la direction du département.

Baccalauréat spécialisé

Les étudiants qui se destinent à un baccalauréat spécialisé en Histoire doivent obtenir un minimum de 48 crédits en histoire, dont Historiography (GL/HIST 3500 6.00) et six crédits au niveau 4000. Les étudiants doivent obtenir l'approbation du département pour établir leur programme de cours de deuxième, troisième et quatrième année.

Baccalauréat spécialisé général

Les étudiants qui se destinent à un baccalauréat spécialisé général avec concentration en histoire doivent obtenir au moins 36 crédits en histoire dont au moins 12 crédits au niveau 3000 ou 4000, choisis en consultation avec le département. Ils doivent obtenir l'approbation du département pour établir leur programme de cours de deuxième, troisième et quatrième année.

N.B. : Voir les exigences du programme ci-dessus.

Baccalauréat spécialisé avec double majeure

Les étudiants peuvent choisir l'histoire dans un programme spécialisé avec double majeure. Ils doivent obtenir au moins 36 crédits en histoire dont au moins 12 crédits au niveau 3000 ou 4000. Ils doivent obtenir l'approbation du département pour établir leur choix de cours de deuxième, troisième et quatrième année.

Les étudiants doivent consulter l'annuaire des programmes du premier cycle pour se renseigner sur les exigences de l'autre discipline dans laquelle ils désirent se spécialiser.

Baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire

Les étudiants inscrits au baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire obtiendront un minimum de 60 crédits dans les deux départements intéressés. Ceux qui optent pour un baccalauréat spécialisé avec majeure en histoire doivent obtenir au moins 36 crédits en histoire dont au moins 12 crédits au niveau 3000 ou 4000, choisis avec l'approbation du département et ceux qui optent pour une mineure en histoire doivent obtenir au moins 24 crédits en histoire.

Tous les étudiants ayant opté pour un programme d'études spécialisées bidisciplinaires doivent obtenir l'approbation des deux départements intéressés pour établir leur programme de cours de deuxième, troisième et quatrième année.

Baccalauréat ès arts

Tous les étudiants inscrits au baccalauréat doivent obtenir un minimum de 36 crédits en histoire, choisis avec l'accord du département, dont au moins 12 crédits au niveau 3000 ou 4000.

N.B. : Voir les exigences du programme ci-dessus.

N.B. : Certains cours figurant dans l'annuaire ne seront offerts que s'il y a suffisamment d'inscriptions et si les professeurs sont disponibles. Les étudiants sont priés de consulter le mini-annuaire du département d'histoire lorsqu'ils préparent leur programme d'études.

Information Technology

The Information Technology Program is a multidisciplinary program combining applied computer science with the social and economic issues arising from the use of information technology. To this end, a pattern of courses are offered which will enhance the students' reading, writing and critical skills while providing them with skills in applying information technology in a variety of different circumstances. The program offers Combined and Specialized Honours, in addition to the standard BA. Not all courses listed below are offered every year; all students proposing to register in information technology should discuss their course choices with the program coordinator.

Please refer to the current departmental/divisional mini-calendar for updated program/major requirements.

Program Core

Note: Students without OAC mathematics must complete GL/MODR 1670 6.00 during their first year and all mathematics requirements before enrolling in 3000- and 4000-level courses.

All students must take a total of 54 credits distributed as follows:

General Education Requirements

There is a rich menu of courses available to students in meeting their general education requirements. Note that GL/ITEC 2960 3.00 and GL/ITEC 2970 3.00 also count as modes of reasoning courses, as do the mathematics and statistics courses. Additional courses recommended as particularly applicable to information technology include:

GL/HUMA 2400 6.00
 GL/HUMA 3700 6.00
 GL/MODR1710 6.00
 GL/MODR 1711 6.00
 GL/MODR 1712 6.00
 GL/MODR 1713 6.00
 GL/MODR 1714 6.00
 GL/NATS 1720 3.00
 GL/NATS 1870 6.00
 GL/NATS 2910 6.00
 GL/NATS 3970 6.00

Note that students may take only one of the GL/MODR 17xx 6.00 series.

Specialized Honours Program

Students must complete at least 78 credits consisting of:

- (i) the program core
- (ii) the mathematics requirements
- (iii) nine credits from the following:
  - GL/ITEC 3610 3.00
  - GL/ITEC 3800 3.00
  - GL/ITEC 4030 3.00
- (iv) and an additional 15 credits from groups B and C

Note: Students must take a minimum of 36 credits at the 3000 or 4000 level including 18 credits at the 4000 level.

Of the 18 credits at the 4000 level, students must take at least six credits in information technology (ITEC designation) and six credits from groups B and C.

Honours Double Major Program

Students must complete at least 66 credits consisting of:

- (i) the program core
- (ii) the mathematics requirements
- (iii) nine credits from the following:
  - GL/ITEC 3610 3.00
  - GL/ITEC 3800 3.00
  - GL/ITEC 4030 3.00
- (iv) and an additional three credits from groups B and C.

Note: Students must take a minimum of 36 credits at the 3000 or 4000 level including 18 credits at the 4000 level.

Of the 18 credits at the 4000 level, students must take at least six credits in information technology (ITEC) and six credits from groups B and C.

Bachelor of Arts Program

Students must complete at least 54 credits including the program core and the mathematics requirements. Of these 54 credits at least 12 credits must be at the 3000 or 4000 level.

Note: Students may take courses through the Faculty of Arts or Atkinson (subject to degree credit exclusion and in-Faculty regulations). Please consult with the program director.

Technologie de L'Information

Le programme de Technologie de l'information est un programme pluridisciplinaire qui combine l'étude de l'informatique à l'étude des questions d'ordre philosophique, politique, social et économique que soulève la technologie de l'information. Les cours de ce programme permettent aux étudiants d'améliorer leurs compétences en lecture et en rédaction, de développer leur esprit critique, tout en acquérant dans ce domaine des connaissances pratiques qui leur seront utiles dans toutes sortes de circonstances.

Il est recommandé aux étudiants qui veulent se spécialiser en Technologie de l'information de consulter un membre du corps professoral dès le début de leur première année. En attendant, ils peuvent toujours choisir des cours dans la liste qui suit.

Consulter le mini-annuaire du Programme pour connaître les exigences à jour du programme ou de la spécialisation.

Programme de base

N.B. : Les étudiants qui n'ont pas de CPO de mathématiques (ou l'équivalent) doivent suivre le cours GL/MODR 1670 6.00 Fundamentals of Mathematics et toutes les exigences de mathématiques avant de s'inscrire dans des cours au niveau de 3000 ou 4000.

Tous les étudiants inscrits dans ce programme doivent suivre au moins 54 crédits choisis parmi la liste de cours de base suivante :

Exigences en éducation générale

Il existe un grand choix de cours qui permettent aux étudiants de respecter les exigences en éducation générale. Il est à noter que les cours GL/ITEC 2960 3.00 et GL/ITEC 2970 3.00 comptent aussi comme cours de Logique, tout comme les cours de Mathématiques et de Statistique. Voici une liste de cours particulièrement conseillés pour le programme de Technologie de l'information:

GL/HUMA 2400 6.00
 GL/HUMA 3700 6.00
 GL/MODR 1710 6.00

 GL/NATS 1870 6.00
 GL/NATS 2910 6.00
 GL/NATS 3970 6.00

Il est à noter que les étudiants ne peuvent suivre qu'un des cours de la série GL/MODR 17xx 6.00.

Exigences du Programme

Baccalauréat spécialisé

Les étudiants doivent obtenir au moins 78 crédits incluant :

- (i) les cours de base
- (ii) les exigences en mathématiques
- (iii) neuf crédits choisis parmi les cours suivants :
  - GL/ITEC 3610 3.00
  - GL/ITEC 3800 3.00
  - GL/ITEC 4030 3.00
- (iv) plus 15 crédits additionnels des cours des groupes B et C

De ces 18 crédits au niveau 4000, il en faut au moins six en Technologie de l'information (désignés par le préfixe ITEC), et six hors du Département d'informatique.

Baccalauréat spécialisé avec double majeure

Les étudiants doivent obtenir au moins 66 crédits incluant :

- (i) les cours de base
- (ii) les exigences en mathématiques
- (iii) neuf crédits parmi les cours suivants :
  - GL/ITEC 3610 3.00
  - GL/ITEC 3800 3.00
  - GL/ITEC 4030 3.00
- (iv) plus trois crédits des cours offerts par d'autres départements.

Remarque : Les étudiants doivent obtenir au moins 36 crédits au niveau 3000 ou 4000, dont la moitié au niveau 4000, soit 18.

De ces 18 crédits au niveau 4000, il en faut au moins six en Technologie de l'information (désignés par le préfixe ITEC), et six hors du Département d'informatique.

Baccalauréat ès arts

Les étudiants doivent obtenir au moins 54 crédits en Technologie de l'information, qui doivent inclure les neuf crédits de mathématiques, les cours de base. Parmi ces 54 crédits au moins 12 crédits doivent être au niveau 3000 ou 4000.

International Studies/Études internationales

The Program

This is a bilingual program that provides core and elective courses in key areas of international relations, notably the theoretical strategic, economic and cultural dimensions. The program aims to develop a systematic understanding of the problems and potentialities of international society. Students are equipped with the required analytic tools and are challenged to think constructively towards the creation of a more peaceful, humane and just world order. Due consideration is paid to the role of Canada and the francophone and anglophone cultures in this process. Particularly significant, in this era of globalization, is the program's emphasis on a broad interdisciplinary and multicultural conception of international society. Students are also actively encouraged to acquire proficiency in several foreign languages as well as relevant international experience, through inter-university exchanges and professional internships.

Program Requirements

Note that not all courses listed below will be offered in any one year. Students should consult with the program coordinator before choosing their courses.

All students majoring in international studies must take the following 21 credits of core courses and seminars:

Core Courses

GL/ILST 2200 6.00
 GL/ILST 2300 3.00
 GL/ILST 3250 3.00
 GL/ILST 3650 3.00
 GL/ILST 4500 6.00

Specialized Honours Program

Candidates for a Specialized Honours in international studies will take 21 credits of core courses and seminars and the equivalent of at least 39 more credits (for a total of 60 credits), selected from the list of international studies courses. Among the 39 credits they must take the following compulsory courses accounting for 18 credits:

GL/ECON 2500 3.00
 GL/ECON 2510 3.00
 GL/ILST 2920 6.00
 GL/ILST 2930 6.00

and an additional six credits from the following:

GL/ILST 4000 6.00
 GL/ILST 4300 6.00

General Honours Program

Candidates for a General Honours in international studies will take 21 credits of core courses and seminars and the equivalent of at least 21 more credits (for a total of 42 credits), selected from the program's list of approved courses.

Honours Double Major Program

Candidates for an Honours Double Major will take 21 credits of core courses and seminars and the equivalent of at least 21 more credits (for a total of 42 credits), selected from the list of international studies courses.

Candidates must check the Calendar for the requirements of the other discipline in which they wish to major.

Combined Honours (Major only) Program

Candidates for a Combined Honours (major only) in international studies will take 21 credits of core courses and seminars and the equivalent of at least 21 more credits (for a total of 42 credits), selected from the program's list of approved courses.

Candidates must check the Calendar for the requirements of the other discipline in which they wish to minor.

Le Programme

Ce Programme bilingue offre des cours de base et des cours au choix dans les principaux domaines des relations internationales, notamment les domaines stratégique, économique et culturel. Il vise à faire comprendre de façon méthodique et approfondie les problèmes et le potentiel de la société internationale. Il fournit aux étudiants les instruments d'analyse voulus et amène chacun à réfléchir d'une manière constructive à la création d'un monde plus pacifique, plus humain et plus juste. Il considère le rôle du Canada et des cultures francophones et anglophones dans ce processus. Surtout, à l'âge de la mondialisation, il met l'accent sur une vision plus interdisciplinaire et multiculturelle de la société internationale. Il encourage aussi les étudiants à maîtriser plusieurs langues étrangères et à acquérir des expériences internationales précieuses, grâce aux échanges inter-universitaires et au stage professionnel.

Exigences du Programme

Il faut noter que tous les cours indiqués dans la liste ci-dessous ne sont pas nécessairement offerts chaque année. Les étudiants devraient consulter le coordonnateur du programme au moment de la sélection de leur cours.

Tous les étudiants qui préparent une spécialisation en études internationales doivent obtenir 21 crédits de cours de base et de séminaires :

Cours de base

GL/ILST 2200 6.00
GL/ILST 2300 3.00
GL/ILST 3250 3.00
GL/ILST 3650 3.00
GL/ILST 4500 6.00

Baccalauréat spécialisé

Les étudiants inscrits au Baccalauréat spécialisé doivent obtenir 21 crédits de cours de base et de séminaires et un minimum de 39 crédits supplémentaires (pour un total général de 60 crédits), choisis parmi la liste des cours reconnus par le Programme. Ils peuvent également, avec l'autorisation du coordonnateur, suivre des cours relevant du domaine, offerts par d'autres facultés de York. Parmi ces 39 crédits supplémentaires, ils doivent obligatoirement suivre les cours suivants comptant pour 18 crédits :

GL/ECON 2500 3.00
GL/ECON 2510 3.00
GL/ILST 2920 6.00
GL/ILST 2930 6.00

ainsi que l'un des cours suivants comptant pour six crédits :

GL/ILST 4000 6.00
GL/ILST 4300 6.00

Baccalauréat spécialisé général

Les étudiants inscrits au Baccalauréat spécialisé général doivent suivre les 21 crédits de cours de base et de séminaires et un minimum de 21 crédits supplémentaires (pour un total général de 42 crédits), choisis parmi la liste des cours reconnus par le Programme.

Baccalauréat spécialisé avec double majeure

Les étudiants inscrits au Baccalauréat spécialisé avec double majeure doivent suivre 21 crédits de cours de base et de séminaires et un minimum de 21 crédits supplémentaires (pour un total général de 42 crédits), choisis parmi la liste des cours reconnus par le Programme.

Baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire (majeure seulement)

Les étudiants inscrits au Baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire (majeure seulement) doivent suivre 21 crédits des cours de base et de séminaires et un minimum de 21 crédits supplémentaires (pour un total général de 42 crédits), choisis parmi la liste des cours reconnus par le Programme.

Les étudiants doivent consulter l'annuaire des programmes du premier cycle pour se renseigner sur les exigences de l'autre discipline dans laquelle ils désirent faire leur mineur.

Linguistics and Language Studies Program/ Programme de Linguistique et Sciences du Langage

Linguistics is the study of language in general. It is divided into several sub-disciplines, each of which is concerned with a particular aspect of language.

Phonetics is the study of the sound properties of language; phonology studies how sounds pattern to make meaning in specific languages. morphology explores patterning at the word level, while syntax does so at the level of sentence. Semantics is the study of meaning in general, while pragmatics is the study of speaker meaning. Historical linguistics explores the evolution of languages over time, while typology compares and categorizes languages. Sociolinguistics deals with the relationships between language-in-use and social contexts, whether in face-to-face situations or at the macro, societal level. Psycholinguistics explores how first-and second-languages are acquired, and the study of bilingualism includes the study of individuals and contact situations involving two or more languages, such as Glendon College itself.

The Glendon Linguistics and Language Studies Program/Programme de Linguistique et Sciences du Langage is a bilingual program which invites students to explore this rich menu of Linguistics sub-disciplines. All students must begin with the foundation course – Introduction to Linguistics or Introduction à la linguistique – after which they will choose, according to their LIN degree type, credits from the seven categories of courses which constitute the program's curriculum.

These categories are:

- I. Introduction to Linguistics/Introduction à la linguistique
- II. Phonetics/Phonology
- III. Morphology/Syntax
- IV. Studies of Meaning
- V. Historical Linguistics and Typology
- VI. Language and Society
- VII. Other courses

Specialized Honours

Candidates for a Specialized Honours in Linguistics and Language Studies must take 60 credits from the following categories: six credits from category I, six credits in category II, 12 credits in category III, six credits in category IV, six credits in category V, 12 credits in category VI, and 12 credits from any category, including category VII.

General Honours or Honours Double Major

Candidates for a General Honours or Honours Double Major must take 42 credits from the following categories:

Six credits must be chosen from each category (I-VI), plus six credits from any category.

Combined Honours – LIN Major

Candidates for a Combined Honours must obtain a total of 60 credits in their two combined programs. For the LIN major, the 42 credits must be chosen as for the General Honours or Double Major (see above).

Combined Honours – LIN minor

For the LIN minor, students must choose 24 credits as follows: six credits from category I, three credits in category II, six credits from category III, three credits from category IV, and six credits from categories V and VI.

Bachelor

Students must take 33 credits as follows: six credits from category I, six credits from category II, six credits from category III, three credits from category IV, six credits chosen from categories V and VI, and six credits chosen from any category.

Programme de Linguistique et Sciences du Langage

La linguistique est l'étude scientifique du langage humain. Elle est divisée en plusieurs domaines correspondant chacun à un aspect particulier du langage.

La phonétique étudie les propriétés physiques des sons du langage, alors que la phonologie étudie comment ces sons se combinent dans les différentes langues pour produire des énoncés qui font sens. La morphologie explore la forme des mots d'une langue, tandis que la syntaxe s'intéresse aux combinaisons de mots qui aboutissent des phrases. La sémantique est l'étude du sens en général ; la pragmatique est celle, plus particulière, du sens que les énoncés ont en situation de communication. La linguistique historique explore l'évolution des langues au cours du temps ; la typologie compare les langues entre elles et les classifie. La sociolinguistique s'intéresse aux relations entre langage et société, telles qu'elles se manifestent dans les échanges conversationnels ou dans des contextes sociaux plus larges. La psycholinguistique étudie, entre autres, la façon dont on acquiert une langue maternelle, seconde ou étrangère. Quant à l'étude de bilinguisme, elle concerne les locuteurs parlant deux ou plusieurs langues ainsi que les diverses situations de contact entre les langues – situations qu'on rencontre quotidiennement au Collège Glendon.

Le Programme de linguistique et sciences du langage de Glendon est un programme bilingue qui offre des cours dans tous les domaines décrits ci-dessus. Les étudiants doivent commencer par suivre le cours de base, à savoir Introduction à la linguistique à la suite duquel ils sont libres de choisir, dans les sept catégories qui constituent le programme d'études, les cours nécessaires à l'obtention du diplôme de linguistique qu'ils ont choisi.

Ces catégories de cours sont les suivantes :

- I. Introduction à la linguistique
- II. Phonétique/Phonologie
- III. Morphologie/Syntaxe
- IV. Études portant sur la signification
- V. Linguistique historique et typologie
- VI. Langues et sociétés
- VII. Autres cours

Baccalauréat spécialisé

Les étudiants inscrits au baccalauréat spécialisé en Linguistique et Sciences du Langage devront réussir 60 crédits parmi les catégories suivantes : six crédits de la catégorie I, six crédits de la catégorie II, 12 crédits de la catégorie III, six crédits de la catégorie IV, six crédits de la catégorie V, 12 crédits de la catégorie VI et 12 crédits de n'importe quelle catégorie (y compris la catégorie VII).

Programme spécialisé général ou double majeure spécialisé

Les étudiants inscrits au baccalauréat spécialisé général ou spécialisé avec double majeure doivent réussir 42 crédits parmi les catégories suivantes : six crédits doivent être choisis de chaque catégorie (I à VI), plus six crédits de n'importe quelle catégorie.

Programme spécialisé bidisciplinaire, majeure en LIN

Les étudiants inscrits au baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire doivent obtenir un total de 60 crédits dans leurs deux disciplines, et 42 crédits dans la majeure. Les 42 crédits de la majeure en LIN doivent être choisis à titre de Programme spécialisé général ou de Double majeure (voir ci-dessus).

Mineure en LIN

Les étudiants qui veulent faire une mineure en LIN doivent choisir 24 crédits comme suit : six crédits de la catégorie I, trois crédits de la catégorie II, six crédits de la catégorie III, trois crédits de la catégorie IV et six crédits des catégories V et VI.

Baccalauréat ès arts

Les étudiants inscrits au baccalauréat ès arts doivent réussir 33 crédits. Les 33 crédits doivent être choisis comme suit : six crédits de la catégorie I, six crédits de la catégorie II, six crédits de la Catégorie III, trois crédits de la catégorie IV, six crédits des catégories V et VI, et six crédits de n'importe quelle catégorie.

Mathematics/Mathématiques

BA Degree Requirements

Specialized Honours Program

Students must complete at least 60 credits in mathematics, including GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 1940 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00, GL/MATH

2660 3.00, GL/MATH 2670 6.00, GL/MATH 3650 6.00 and at least 12 credits at the 4000 level.

General Honours Program

Students must complete at least 36 credits in mathematics, including GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 1940 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00, GL/MATH 2660 3.00, GL/MATH 2670 6.00 and at least 12 credits at the 4000 level.

Combined Honours Program

Mathematics may be combined with all other subjects taught at Glendon. Students must complete at least 36 credits in mathematics, including GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 1940 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00, GL/MATH 2660 3.00, GL/MATH 2670 6.00. The total program must include at least 12 credits at the 3000 or higher level and, when mathematics is the major subject at least six of these credits must be at the 4000 level. When mathematics is the minor subject, the requirements are the same except that a 4000-level course in mathematics need not be included.

Honours Double Major Program

Candidates may complete an Honours Double Major Program in Mathematics. Candidates must complete at least 36 credits in mathematics including GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 1940 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00, GL/MATH 2660 3.00, GL/MATH 2670 6.00 and 12 credits at 3000 or higher level including one at 4000 level.

Candidates must check the Calendar for the requirements of the other discipline in which they wish to major.

Bachelor of Arts Program

Students must complete at least 30 credits in mathematics, including GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 1940 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00, GL/MATH 2660 3.00, GL/MATH 2670 3.00. The total program must include at least 12 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Bachelor Program in Mathematics For Commerce

Students are required to take the following 42 credits: one introductory course in computer science (GL/CSLA 1960 3.00 and GL/CSLA 1970 3.00 or, preferably, GL/CSLA 1620 3.00 and GL/CSLA 1630 3.00), one course in introductory statistics (GL/MODR 1610 3.00 and GL/MODR 1620 3.00 or, preferably, GL/MATH 2630 6.00), GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 1940 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00, GL/MATH 2660 3.00, GL/MATH 2680 6.00, GL/MATH 3500 6.00 and GL/MATH 3660 6.00. Note that the program is almost entirely mathematics and contains only a small amount of commerce. It contains the mathematics intended for applications to commerce.

Exigences du Programme

Le Département de mathématiques offre maintenant six programmes conduisant à l'obtention de baccalauréats avec concentration en Mathématiques.

Baccalauréat spécialisé

Les étudiants doivent suivre un minimum de 60 crédits en Mathématiques, parmi lesquels doivent figurer GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 1940 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00, GL/MATH 2660 3.00, GL/MATH 2670 6.00, GL/MATH 3650 6.00, et au moins 12 crédits de niveau 4000.

Baccalauréat spécialisé général

Les étudiants doivent obtenir un minimum de 36 crédits en Mathématiques, parmi lesquels doivent figurer GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 1940 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00, GL/MATH 2660 3.00, GL/MATH 2670 6.00 et 12 crédits de niveau 4000.

Baccalauréat spécialisé avec double majeure

Les étudiants peuvent obtenir les Mathématiques dans un programme spécialisé avec double majeure. Ils doivent obtenir au moins 36 crédits en Mathématiques parmi lesquels GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 1940

3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00, GL/MATH 2660 3.00, GL/MATH 2670 6.00, et 12 crédits au niveau 3000 ou 4000 dont au moins six crédits au niveau 4000.

Baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire

Les mathématiques peuvent être combinées à tout autre discipline enseignée à Glendon. Les étudiants devront obtenir un minimum de 36 crédits en Mathématiques, parmi lesquels doivent figurer GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 1940 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00, GL/MATH 2660 3.00 et GL/MATH 2670 6.00. En outre, le programme doit aussi inclure au moins 12 crédits au niveau 3000 ou 4000. Lorsque les mathématiques sont la majeure, six crédits doivent être de niveau 4000. Lorsque les mathématiques constituent la mineure, six crédits de niveau 4000 n'est pas obligatoire.

Baccalauréat ès arts

Les étudiants inscrits au baccalauréat ordinaire avec concentration en Mathématiques devront obtenir un minimum de 30 crédits en Mathématiques, parmi lesquels doivent figurer GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 1940 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00, et GL/MATH 2660 3.00, GL/MATH 2670 6.00. En outre, ces étudiants devront suivre au moins 12 crédits au niveau 3000 ou 4000.

Programme général du baccalauréat en Mathématiques pour le commerce

Les étudiants doivent obtenir les 42 crédits suivants : un cours d'introduction à l'informatique (GL/CSLA 1960 3.00 et GL/CSLA 1970 3.00 ou, de préférence, GL/CSLA 1620 3.00 et GL/CSLA 1630 3.00), un cours de statistique (GL/MODR 1610 3.00 et GL/MODR 1620 3.00 ou, de préférence, GL/MATH 2630 6.00), GL/MATH 1930 3.00, GL/MATH 1940 3.00, GL/MATH 2650 3.00, GL/MATH 2660 3.00, GL/MATH 2680 6.00, GL/MATH 3500 6.00, et GL/MATH 3660 6.00. À noter que ce programme est presque entièrement mathématiques et contient très peu de matières commerciales. Il se propose de donner aux étudiants la formation mathématique adéquate pour des études de commerce.

Multidisciplinary Studies and General Education/Études pluridisciplinaires et formation générale

Multidisciplinary Studies

The Department of Multidisciplinary Studies enables students to pursue degree programs that go beyond traditional departmental disciplinary boundaries. Students who major or minor in multidisciplinary studies may (in consultation with the department Chair) construct programs of their own that draw on the courses and resources of the various departments of the college (including, of course, multidisciplinary studies itself). Some of the most successful areas of concentration in recent years have been comparative literature, medieval and Renaissance studies, religious studies, social and political thought, 19th century studies, and language and society. In addition to these wholly individualized programs, the department currently offers one formalized program of study: Environmental and Health Studies.

For detailed descriptions and specific program requirements, students must consult the departmental brochure available in the Multidisciplinary Studies Office, 162 York Hall. The Department of Multidisciplinary Studies also houses the four divisions of general education:

- humanities
- modes of reasoning
- natural science
- social science

Humanities courses generally combine the subject matter and/or methodologies of at least two of the "humane" disciplines taught at Glendon: literature, philosophy and history; social science courses do the same for the “social sciences”: economics, linguistics, psychology, sociology and also history. Natural science courses draw from the physical and biological sciences; our courses often demonstrate the interrelationship of science and other disciplines, and some of them focus specifically on the history or philosophy or social context of science. Modes of reasoning focuses principally on the forms of reasoning and inquiry, on deductive and inductive logic. It invites reflection on these forms of thought and investigates their interconnections.

The Department of Multidisciplinary Studies offers students the opportunity to engage their intellectual curiosity by drawing upon a variety of academic resources. It is worth noting that one does not create a multidisciplinary approach merely by juxtaposing individual courses from two or more disciplines. Rather, what is sought is a true integration or synthesis of methodologies and knowledge from separate academic areas to create a program which is at once critical and innovative.

Specialized Honours Program

48 credits in an approved Program in Multidisciplinary Studies, of which 24 must be at the 3000 or 4000 level. 24 of the 48 credits must be core courses, as defined in the department's programs of study brochure.

General Honours Program

36 credits in an approved Program in Multidisciplinary Studies, of which 18 must be at the 3000 or 4000 level. 18 of the 36 credits must be core courses, as defined in the department's programs of study brochure.

Honours Double Major Program

Candidates may complete an Honours Double Major Program in Multidisciplinary Studies. Candidates must complete at least 36 credits in an approved program within multidisciplinary studies. 18 of the required 36 credits must be at the 3000 or 4000 level. 18 of the 36 credits must be core courses, see the mini-calendar of the department.

Candidates must check the Calendar for the requirements of the other discipline in which they wish to major.

Combined Honours Program

Multidisciplinary studies may form the major, the minor, or both components in a Combined Honours program.

Major component: 36 credits in an approved Program in Multidisciplinary Studies, of which 18 must be at the 3000 or 4000 level. 18 of the 36 credits must be core courses as defined in the department's programs of study brochure.

Minor component: 24 credits in an approved Program in Multidisciplinary Studies, of which 12 must be at the 3000 or 4000 level. 12 of the 24 credits must be core courses as defined in the department's programs of study brochure.

Bachelor Program

30 credits in an approved Program of Multidisciplinary Studies, at least 18 of which must be at the 3000 or 4000 level. 18 of the 30 credits must be core courses as defined in the department's programs of study brochure.

Études pluridisciplinaires

Les étudiants qui font une majeure ou une mineure en Études pluridisciplinaires peuvent (après avoir consulté le directeur du département) proposer un programme de leur choix qui combine des cours et des ressources offerts par les différents départements du collège (y compris bien sûr le département d'Études pluridisciplinaires). Au cours des dernières années, des programmes en littérature comparée, études médiévales et de la Renaissance, études religieuses et pensée politique et sociale ont été populaires auprès des étudiants. En plus de ces programmes personnalisés, le département offre un programme spécifique de spécialisation : Études de l'environnement et de la santé.

Les étudiants intéressés, désireux d'obtenir des précisions sur les exigences et les descriptions de ces programmes peuvent consulter la brochure du département, disponible au secrétariat : bureau 162, pavillon York.

Le département d'Études pluridisciplinaires abrite également les quatre divisions qui composent le programme d'Études générales :

- humanités
- logique
- sciences naturelles
- sciences sociales

Les cours d'humanités en général combinent l'objet d'étude et/ou la méthodologie d'au moins deux des disciplines humaines enseignées à Glendon : littérature, philosophie et histoire; les cours de sciences sociales font de même dans le domaine des “sciences de la société” : science économique, linguistique, psychologie, sociologie et également histoire. Les cours de sciences naturelles font appel aux sciences physiques et biologiques. Nos cours mettent souvent en valeur les liens qui unissent la science et les autres disciplines, et certains s'attachent plus particulièrement à explorer l'histoire, la philosophie ou le contexte social de la science. La logique étudie principalement les formes du raisonnement et de la recherche, ainsi que la logique déductive et inductive. Elle invite à réfléchir sur ces formes de pensée et explore leurs rapports.

Le Département d'études pluridisciplinaires permet aux étudiants de satisfaire leur curiosité intellectuelle en abordant des domaines très divers. Il faut toutefois remarquer que l'approche pluridisciplinaire ne consiste pas à juxtaposer des cours relevant de disciplines différentes, bien au contraire : elle vise à intégrer — ou à effectuer une synthèse — des méthodologies et des connaissances appartenant à divers domaines d'investigation de façon à créer un programme qui soit à la fois critique et innovateur.

Baccalauréat spécialisé

48 crédits répondant aux exigences du programme d'Études pluridisciplinaires, dont 24 crédits au niveau 3000 ou 4000. 24 de ces 48 crédits doivent être des “cours de base”, selon la description du mini-annuaire du département.

Baccalauréat spécialisé général

36 crédits répondant aux exigences du programme d'Études pluridisciplinaires, dont 18 crédits au niveau 3000 ou 4000. 18 de ces 36 crédits doivent être des “cours de base”, selon la description du mini-annuaire du département.

Baccalauréat spécialisé avec double majeure

Les étudiants peuvent choisir Études pluridisciplinaires dans un programme spécialisé avec double majeure. Ils doivent obtenir au moins 36 crédits en Études pluridisciplinaires ; 18 de ces 36 crédits doivent être au niveau 3000 ou 4000. 18 de ces 36 crédits doivent être des “cours de base”, selon la description du mini-annuaire du département.

Baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire

Majeure : 36 crédits répondant aux exigences du programme d'Études pluridisciplinaires, dont 18 crédits au niveau 3000 ou 4000. 18 de ces 36 crédits doivent être des “cours de base”, selon la description du mini-annuaire du département.

Mineure : 24 crédits répondant aux exigences du programme d'Études pluridisciplinaires, dont 12 crédits au niveau 3000 ou 4000. 12 de ces 24 crédits doivent être des “cours de base”, selon la description du mini-annuaire du département.

Baccalauréat ès arts

30 crédits répondant aux exigences du programme d'Études pluridisciplinaires, dont 18 crédits au niveau 3000 ou 4000. 18 de ces 30

crédits doivent être des "cours de base", selon la description du mini-annuaire du département.

Philosophy/Philosophie

BA Degree Requirements

Note: All philosophy majors must also successfully complete either a modes of reasoning course with a 7 as the second number in the Calendar listing (e.g. GL/MODR 1710 6.00) or GL/PHIL/MODR 2640 6.00.

Specialized Honours Program

Candidates for Specialized Honours in philosophy must successfully complete 48 credits in philosophy. Of these 48 credits, six credits must have a clear orientation toward the history of philosophy and six credits must have a clear orientation toward the discussion of philosophical problems. At least 18 of the 48 credits required in philosophy must be at the upper level (third- and fourth-year courses).

General Honours Program

Candidates for General Honours with a focal interest in philosophy must successfully complete 36 credits in philosophy. Of these 36 credits, six must have a clear orientation toward the history of philosophy and six must have a clear orientation toward the discussion of philosophical problems. At least 18 of the 36 required credits must be at the upper level (third- and fourth-year courses).

Honours Double Major Program

Candidates may complete an Honours Double Major Program in Philosophy. Candidates must complete at least 36 credits in philosophy. Of these 36 credits, six credits must have a clear orientation toward the history of philosophy, six must have a clear orientation toward the discussion of philosophical problems and at least 18 credits must be at the upper level (third- and fourth-year courses).

Candidates must check the Calendar for the requirements of the other discipline in which they wish to major.

Combined Honours Program

Candidates for Combined Honours will take a minimum of 60 credits in the two departments concerned. Those who are seeking Combined Honours with major emphasis in philosophy must successfully complete 36 credits in philosophy. Of these 36 credits, six credits must have a clear orientation toward the history of philosophy and six must have a clear orientation toward the discussion of philosophical problems. At least 18 of the 36 credits required in philosophy must be at the upper level (third- and fourth-year courses).

Students wishing to do a major in another department and a minor in philosophy, must take a minimum of 24 credits in philosophy.

Note: The department recommends that all students who hope or intend to proceed to an advanced degree in philosophy should take General or Combined Honours.

Bachelor Program

Candidates in the bachelor program must take 30 credits in philosophy. For those students in the bachelor program who are considering transferring to an Honours Program in Philosophy, it is recommended that the student's selection of courses take into account those which are required for an Honours degree in philosophy.

Exigences du Programme

N.B. : Tout étudiant inscrit à un programme spécialisé de Philosophie doit également compléter avec succès soit un cours de logique identifié par une cote dont le second chiffre est un 7 (p. ex. GL/MODR 1710 6.00), soit le cours GL/PHIL/MODR 2640 6.00.

Baccalauréat spécialisé

Les candidats qui se destinent à un baccalauréat spécialisé en Philosophie doivent réussir 48 crédits de Philosophie. Parmi ces 48 crédits, six crédits doivent s'orienter nettement vers l'histoire de la philosophie, et six crédits doivent s'orienter nettement vers la discussion de problèmes philosophiques. Sur ces 48 crédits exigés, au moins 18 crédits doivent être au niveau avancé (cours de troisième ou de quatrième année).

Baccalauréat spécialisé général

Les étudiants qui se destinent à un baccalauréat spécialisé général, et qui désirent choisir la philosophie comme concentration, doivent réussir 36 crédits de Philosophie. Parmi ces 36 crédits, six crédits doivent s'orienter nettement vers l'histoire de la philosophie, et six crédits doivent s'orienter nettement vers la discussion de problèmes philosophiques. Sur ces 36 crédits exigés, au moins 18 crédits doivent être au niveau avancé (cours de troisième ou de quatrième année).

Baccalauréat spécialisé avec double majeure

Les étudiants qui choisissent la Philosophie dans un programme spécialisé avec double majeure doivent réussir au moins 36 crédits de Philosophie comprenant au moins six crédits sur l'histoire de la philosophie, six crédits traitant des problèmes relatifs à la philosophie, et au moins 18 crédits de niveau 3000 et 4000.

Baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire

Les étudiants inscrits au baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire doivent réussir un minimum de 60 crédits dans les deux départements intéressés. Ceux qui optent pour un baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire avec majeure en Philosophie, doivent réussir 36 crédits de philosophie. Parmi ces 36 crédits, six crédits doivent s'orienter nettement vers l'histoire de la philosophie, et six crédits doivent s'orienter nettement vers la discussion de problèmes philosophiques. Des 36 crédits exigés, au moins 18 crédits doivent être de niveau avancé (cours de troisième ou de quatrième année).

Les étudiants dont le programme comporte la philosophie comme mineure, doivent compléter 24 crédits de philosophie au minimum.

N.B. : Le département recommande à tous ceux qui pensent poursuivre leurs études en Philosophie après le baccalauréat de suivre le programme spécialisé général ou bidisciplinaire.

Baccalauréat ès arts

Les candidats inscrits au baccalauréat devront réussir 30 crédits de Philosophie. Ceux qui pensent éventuellement changer de programme pour s'inscrire à un baccalauréat spécialisé en Philosophie doivent choisir des cours qui satisfassent aux exigences de ce programme.

General Certificate in Law and Social Thought

The Philosophy Department offers a Certificate in Law and Social Thought.

This program places the study of law in the context of a liberal arts education; that is, the law will be studied within both a humanities and a social science context. Some course offerings emphasize the moral and philosophical dimensions that inform legal life and link the study of law with social and political thought. Others focus on legal institutions: how they yield regulation and socially sanctioned force, how they interact with society.

Program Requirements

There are two required courses for the certificate:

GL/PHIL 2923 3.00

GL/PHIL 2925 3.00

In order to receive the certificate, candidates must be registered simultaneously in a degree program at York University and present a cumulative grade point average of 4.0 (C) on the courses taken to satisfy the requirements of the certificate. 24 credits must be taken at York University to obtain the certificate.

To enrol in the Certificate in Law and Social Thought, please register at the Office of Student Programs, Glendon, C105 York Hall, telephone 416-487-6715.

Certificat général en droit et pensée sociale

Le Département de philosophie est heureux d'offrir un Certificat en Droit et pensée sociale.

Ce programme aborde l'étude du droit dans le contexte d'une formation en arts libéraux, et plus précisément en sciences humaines et sociales. Les cours du programme abordent le droit sous son angle évolutif, angle sous lequel l'argumentation morale, les pratiques d'interprétation qui lui sont spécifiques et l'emploi de la force contribuent à l'organisation de la vie en société. Certains cours mettent l'accent sur les dimensions morale et philosophique qui sous-tendent le droit et lient son étude à la pensée politique et sociale. D'autres s'intéressent aux institutions légales : à leur façon d'élaborer la réglementation et à donner lieu à l'usage sanctionné de la force, ainsi qu'aux modes de leur interaction dans la société.

Pour s'inscrire veuillez vous adresser au Bureau des programmes scolaires, Glendon, Bureau C105 pavillon York, tél. 416-487-6715.

Pour des renseignements, veuillez contacter le Département de Philosophie, Glendon, Bureau C221 pavillon York, tél. 416-487-6733.

BA Degree Requirements

Specialized Honours Program

All candidates for an Honours BA in political science must take at least 48 credits in political science chosen under the guidance of the department. Of the 48 credits required, 12 credits must be at the second-year level and 30 credits at the third- and fourth-year levels with at least 12 credits at the 4000 level. Students who wish to pursue graduate studies in political science are advised to take 60 credits, even though it is not required for the degree.

General Honours Program

Candidates for General Honours with a focal interest in political science will take at least 36 credits in political science chosen under the guidance of the department. Of these 36 required credits, six credits must be at the second-year level and 18 credits at the third- and fourth-year study levels with at least six credits at the 4000 level. Students must arrange their second-, third- and fourth-year study lists in consultation with the department.

Honours Double Major Program

Candidates may complete an Honours Double Major Program in Political Science. Candidates must complete at least 36 credits in political science including 12 credits at the second-year level and 18 credits at the third- and fourth-year levels, at least six of which must be at the fourth-year level. They must arrange their second-, third- and fourth-year courses in consultation with the department.

Candidates must check the Calendar for the requirements of the other discipline in which they wish to major.

Combined Honours Program

Candidates for Combined Honours will take a minimum of 60 credits in the two departments concerned. Those who are seeking Combined Honours with a major emphasis in political science will normally take 36 credits in political science chosen under the guidance of the department. Of the 36 credits required, six credits must be at the second-year level and 18 credits at the third- and fourth-year levels with at least six credits at the 4000 level. If the minor is in political science, 12 credits out of the 24 required must be at the third- and/or fourth-year levels. All students enrolled in Combined Honours program must arrange their second-, third- and fourth year study lists in consultation with both the departments concerned.

Bachelor Program

All candidates in the bachelor of arts program are required to take a minimum of 30 credits in political science chosen under the guidance of the department. Of the 30 credits required, six credits must be at the second-year level and 12 credits at the third- and/or fourth-year levels.

Note 1: All political science majors and minors are required to take at least six credits from the following list of courses before proceeding to higher level courses:

GL/POLS 1400 6.00
 GL/POLS 2430 6.00
 GL/POLS 2480 6.00
 GL/POLS 2490 6.00
 GL/POLS/CDNS 2600 6.00
 GL/POLS/ILST 2920 6.00

Note 2: (Field requirement) In addition to the above requirement, students wishing to major in political science must take at least six credits in three of the four fields of Canadian politics, comparative politics, international politics and political theory.

Note 3: While GL/POLS 1400 6.00 satisfies the requirement of a second year introductory course (under #2), majors taking it must still take, in addition, 18 additional credits in three different fields to satisfy the field requirement. Minors taking GL/POLS 1400 6.00 need take only 12 other credits in two different fields.

Note 4: Methods courses are extremely desirable as a background for graduate programs which focus on quantitative analysis of political behaviour, international relations and public policy.

Exigences du Programme

Programme Spécialisé

Les étudiants inscrits au baccalauréat spécialisé en Science politique doivent s'inscrire à un minimum de 48 crédits de Science politique choisis en accord avec le département. Sur les 48 crédits requis, 12 crédits doivent être au niveau de la deuxième année et 30 crédits au niveau de la troisième ou quatrième année, dont 12 crédits au niveau de la quatrième année. Il est conseillé aux étudiants ayant l'intention de faire leur maîtrise en Science politique de suivre 60 crédits, même si ce nombre de cours n'est pas exigé pour le baccalauréat.

Baccalauréat spécialisé général

Les étudiants inscrits au baccalauréat spécialisé général et qui désirent choisir la Science politique comme concentration doivent obtenir au moins 36 crédits de Science politique choisis en accord avec le département. Sur ces 36 crédits, six crédits doivent être au niveau de la deuxième année, et 18 crédits au niveau de la troisième ou quatrième année dont au moins six crédits de quatrième année. Les étudiants doivent obtenir l'assentiment du département pour établir leur programme de cours de deuxième, troisième et quatrième années.

Baccalauréat spécialisé avec double majeure

Les étudiants peuvent choisir la Science politique dans un programme spécialisé avec double majeure. Ils doivent obtenir au moins 36 crédits en Science politique dont 12 crédits au niveau 2000 et 18 crédits aux niveaux 3000 et 4000 (au moins six crédits au niveau 4000). Les étudiants doivent obtenir l'approbation du département quant au choix des cours dans leur deuxième, troisième et quatrième années.

Baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire

Les étudiants inscrits au baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire doivent obtenir un minimum de 60 crédits dans les deux départements intéressés. Ceux qui désirent obtenir un baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire avec majeure en Science politique obtiendront en général 36 crédits de Science politique choisis en accord avec le département. Sur ces 36 crédits, six crédits doivent être au niveau de la deuxième année et 18 crédits doivent être au niveau de la troisième ou quatrième année dont au moins six crédits de quatrième année. Pour une mineure en Science politique, 12 des 24 crédits exigés doivent être au niveau de la troisième ou quatrième année. Tous les étudiants ayant opté pour un programme d'études spécialisées bidisciplinaire doivent obtenir l'assentiment des deux départements intéressés.

Baccalauréat ès arts

Tous les étudiants inscrits au baccalauréat devront obtenir un minimum de 30 crédits de Science politique choisis en accord avec le département. Sur ces 30 crédits, six crédits doivent être au niveau de la première ou deuxième année et 12 crédits au niveau de la troisième ou quatrième année.

N.B. 1 : Tous les étudiants faisant une majeure ou une mineure en Science politique doivent, pour accéder aux cours de niveau supérieur, obtenir au moins six crédits parmi les cours de la liste ci-dessous :

GL/POLS 1400 6.00
GL/POLS 2430 6.00
GL/POLS 2480 6.00
GL/POLS 2490 6.00
GL/POLS/CDNS 2600 6.00
GL/POLS/ILST 2920 6.00

N.B. 2 : (Exigence de domaine) En plus des exigences mentionnées ci-dessus, les étudiants faisant une majeure doivent obtenir au moins six crédits dans trois des quatre domaines suivants : politique comparative, politique canadienne, théorie politique et politique internationale (voir, ci-dessous, en 4, exception pour étudiants de mineure).

N.B. 3 : Le cours GL/POLS 1400 6.00 satisfait à l'exigence d'un cours d'introduction de deuxième année (voir, ci-dessus, no 2), mais les étudiants de majeure qui le suivent doivent obtenir, en plus, 18 autres crédits dans trois domaines différents pour satisfaire à l'exigence de cette majeure. Les étudiants de mineure qui suivent le cours GL/POLS 1400 6.00 ne doivent obtenir que 12 autres crédits dans deux domaines différents.

Bilingual Certificate in Public Administration and Public Policy

Admission Requirements

Students will normally register for the certificate in their second year of study toward a York degree. Students are required to have completed 24 credits with a GPA of at least 5.0 (C+) prior to admission to the certificate program. These 24 must include six credits chosen from group A and six credits chosen from group B as follows:

Group A: six credits chosen from:

GL/ECON 2500 3.00
GL/ECON 2510 3.00

Psychology/Psychologie

BA Degree Requirements

Specialized Honours Program

Candidates for an Honours BA in psychology must take at least 48 credits in psychology, chosen under the guidance of the department, including GL/PSYC 2510 6.00, GL/PSYC 2520 3.00, GL/PSYC 2530 3.00, GL/PSYC 3525 3.00, GL/PSYC 4000 6.00, GL/PSYC 4230 3.00 and GL/PSYC 4240 3.00. In addition, students must complete a course in the MODR 17xx 6.00 series and/or MODR 2640 6.00. They must arrange their second-, third- and fourth-year study lists in consultation with the department.

General Honours Program

Candidates for General Honours with a focal interest in psychology will take at least 36 credits in psychology chosen under the guidance of the department, including GL/PSYC 2510 6.00, GL/PSYC 2520 3.00, GL/PSYC 2530 3.00, GL/PSYC 3525 3.00 and GL/PSYC 4230 3.00. In addition, students must complete a course in the MODR 17xx 6.00 series and/or MODR 2640 6.00. They must arrange their second-, third- and fourth-year study lists in consultation with the department.

Honours Double Major Program

Candidates may complete an Honours Double Major Program in Psychology. Candidates must complete at least 36 credits in psychology including GL/PSYC 2510 6.00, GL/PSYC 2520 3.00, GL/PSYC 2530 3.00, GL/PSYC 3525 3.00, GL/PSYC 4230 3.00 and six credits from GL/MODR 17xx 6.00 series and/or MODR 2640 6.00. They must arrange their second, third- and fourth-year courses in consultation with the department.

Candidates must check the Calendar for the requirements of the other discipline in which they wish to major.

Combined Honours Program

Candidates for Combined Honours must take a minimum of 60 credits in the two departments concerned. Those who are seeking Combined Honours with major emphasis in psychology will normally take 36 credits in psychology chosen under the guidance of the department, including GL/PSYC 2510 6.00, GL/PSYC 2520 3.00, GL/PSYC 2530 3.00, GL/PSYC 3525 3.00 and GL/PSYC 4230 3.00. In addition, students must complete a course in the MODR 17xx 6.00 series and/or MODR 2640 6.00. Those who are seeking Combined Honours with minor emphasis in psychology will normally take 24 credits in psychology under the guidance of the department, including GL/PSYC 2510 6.00 and GL/PSYC 2520 3.00. Details of the courses recommended for particular combinations can be obtained from the department. All students enrolled in Combined Honours programs must arrange their second, third- and fourth-year study lists in consultation with both departments concerned.

Bachelor Program

Candidates in the bachelor of arts program must take at least 30 credits in psychology chosen in consultation with the department, including GL/PSYC 2510 6.00, GL/PSYC 2520 3.00 and GL/PSYC 2530 3.00. In addition, students must complete a course in the MODR 17xx 6.00 series and/or MODR 2640 6.00.

Note: It is advisable that students wishing to major in psychology should have achieved at least a C+ in the introductory course (PSYC 2510 6.00). Any third- year student who intends to continue to the Honours program must make application to, and be accepted by, the department before registration. Application forms for this purpose are obtainable from the departmental office. Study lists for fourth-year Honours students must be approved by the department Chair. Normally, to be deemed acceptable for the Specialized Honours program, a student should have attained an average grade of B in the psychology courses previously taken.

Baccalauréat spécialisé

Tous les étudiants qui se destinent à un baccalauréat spécialisé en Psychologie doivent s'inscrire à un minimum de 48 crédits de psychologie, y compris GL/PSYC 2510 6.00, GL/PSYC 2520 3.00, GL/PSYC 2530 3.00, GL/PSYC 3525 3.00, GL/PSYC 4000 6.00, GL/PSYC 4230 3.00 et GL/PSYC 4240 3.00. Les étudiants doivent aussi compléter un cours de logique dans la série MODR 17xx 6.00 et/ou MODR 2640 6.00.

Baccalauréat spécialisé général

Les étudiants qui se destinent à un baccalauréat spécialisé général et qui désirent choisir la Psychologie comme concentration doivent suivre au moins 36 crédits de Psychologie choisis en accord avec le département, y compris GL/PSYC 2510 6.00, GL/PSYC 2520 3.00, GL/PSYC 2530 3.00, GL/PSYC 3525 3.00, et GL/PSYC 4230 3.00. Les étudiants doivent aussi compléter un cours de logique dans la série MODR 17xx 6.00 et/ou MODR 2640 6.00.

Ils doivent obtenir l'assentiment du département pour établir leur programme de cours de deuxième, troisième et quatrième années.

Baccalauréat spécialisé avec double majeure

Les étudiants peuvent choisir Psychologie dans un programme spécialisé avec double majeure. Ils doivent obtenir au moins 36 crédits parmi lesquels GL/PSYC 2510 6.00, GL/PSYC 2520 3.00, GL/PSYC 2530 3.00, GL/PSYC 3525 3.00, GL/PSYC 4230 3.00, et six crédits choisis parmi les cours GL/MODR 17xx 6.00 et/ou MODR 2640 6.00. Les étudiants doivent obtenir l'approbation du département quant au choix des cours dans leur deuxième, troisième et quatrième années.

Les étudiants doivent consulter l'annuaire des programmes du premier cycle pour se renseigner sur les exigences de l'autre discipline dans laquelle ils désirent se spécialiser.

Baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire

Les étudiants inscrits au baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire doivent suivre un minimum de 60 crédits dans les deux départements intéressés. Ceux qui optent pour un baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire avec majeure en Psychologie doivent normalement suivre 36 crédits de psychologie choisis avec l'assentiment du département, y compris GL/PSYC 2510 6.00, GL/PSYC 2520 3.00, GL/PSYC 2530 3.00, GL/PSYC 3525 3.00, et GL/PSYC 4230 3.00. Les étudiants doivent aussi compléter un cours de logique dans la série MODR 17xx 6.00 et/ou MODR 2640 6.00.

Ceux qui optent pour un baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire avec mineure en Psychologie doivent normalement suivre 24 crédits de psychologie choisis avec l'assentiment du département, y compris GL/PSYC 2510 6.00 et GL/PSYC 2520 3.00. Pour avoir de plus amples renseignements sur les cours requis ou recommandés pour les différentes combinaisons, l'étudiant doit se mettre en rapport avec la direction du département. Tous les étudiants ayant opté pour un programme d'études spécialisées bidisciplinaire doivent obtenir l'assentiment des deux départements intéressés pour établir leur programme de cours de deuxième, troisième et quatrième années.

Baccalauréat ès arts

Tous les étudiants inscrits au baccalauréat ès arts doivent suivre un minimum de 30 crédits de Psychologie choisis en accord avec le département, y compris GL/PSYC 2510 6.00, GL/PSYC 2520 3.00 et GL/PSYC 2530 3.00. Les étudiants doivent aussi compléter un cours de logique dans la série MODR 17xx 6.00 et/ou MODR 2640 6.00.

N.B. : Les étudiants qui désirent continuer dans le programme de psychologie doivent obtenir un minimum de C+ dans le cours d'introduction à la psychologie (PSYC 2510 6.00). Les étudiants de 3ème année qui ont l'intention de poursuivre le baccalauréat spécialisé en psychologie doivent en faire la demande au département et être acceptés par le département avant de pouvoir s'inscrire. Les formulaires sont disponibles au secrétariat du département. Les programmes de cours des étudiants immatriculés dans le programme du baccalauréat spécialisé doivent être approuvés et signés par le directeur du département. Normalement, pour poursuivre leurs études dans le cadre d'un baccalauréat spécialisé, les étudiants doivent obtenir une moyenne de B dans les cours de psychologie afin d'être acceptés dans le programme spécialisé.

York-Seneca Joint Program in Psychology and Early Childhood Education

York University and Seneca College of Applied Arts and Technology jointly sponsor a program whereby students interested in becoming preschool or early childhood education (ECE) specialists can concurrently pursue both a BA in psychology at Glendon of York University and an ECE diploma at Seneca.

The BA/ECE program normally requires four years of study. During the first two years the student will complete at least 60 credits at York including a first-year general education requirement, Introduction to Psychology (GL/PSYC 2510 6.00), Introduction to Development: Infancy and Childhood (GL/PSYC 3300 3.00) and at least three more credits in psychology. Application to the program is made in January of the second year and, if accepted, the student spends the following two years completing (a) requirements for the bachelor of arts program on a part-time basis at York, (b) professional ECE courses with Seneca College, (c) approximately 600 hours of supervised field-work in Toronto-area day-care centres. The student finishes with both a bachelor degree and an ECE diploma recognized by the Province of Ontario. For an Honours BA, the BA/ECE program normally requires five years of study. The student will complete 90 credits including the above before entering the program. For the two years spent in the program students are required to select courses from a series of lists, including courses in psychology, sociology and physical education. Seneca courses are all prescribed for the two years.

For further information contact the program coordinator, Dr. E. Bialystok, at 416-736-5118. Information brochures are available in the Student Programs Office, C105 York Hall.

Programme commun York-Seneca en Psychologie et en sciences de l'éducation au niveau préscolaire

L'Université York et le Collège Seneca d'arts appliqués et de technologie offrent conjointement un programme qui permet aux étudiants désireux de se spécialiser en éducation préscolaire de préparer concurrentement un BA en psychologie au Collège Glendon de l'Université York et un diplôme d'éducation au niveau préscolaire (ENP) à Seneca. Le programme BA/ENP demande normalement quatre années d'études. Pendant les deux premières années, les étudiants doivent compléter au moins 60 crédits de York, comportant obligatoirement six crédits de formation générale, Introduction à la psychologie (GL/PSYC 2510 6.00), Introduction au développement de l'enfant (GL/PSYC 3300 3.00) et au moins trois autres crédits de psychologie.

Les candidatures doivent se faire en deuxième année, au mois de janvier. En cas d'admission, pendant les deux années suivantes, les étudiants : (a) suivent à temps partiel à York les cours requis pour un BA, (b) suivent les cours professionnels de ENP à Seneca College, (c) effectuent sous supervision un stage pratique d'environ 600 heures dans des garderies de la région de Toronto.

Pour un BA spécialisé, le programme BA/ENP exige normalement cinq années d'études. Pour entrer dans le programme, les étudiant(e)s doivent avoir terminé 90 crédits, dont les cours mentionnés ci-dessus. Pendant les deux ans du programme, ils choisissent des cours de psychologie, sociologie et éducation physique parmi ceux figurant sur une liste préétablie. Les cours de Seneca, quant à eux, sont tous des cours obligatoires pendant les deux ans du programme.

En fin de programme, les étudiants reçoivent à la fois un BA et un diplôme d'ENP reconnu par la province de l'Ontario.

Pour de plus amples renseignements, veuillez contacter la coordonnatrice du programme, E. Bialystok, au 416-736-5118. Vous pouvez vous procurer des brochures d'information au Bureau des programmes scolaires, C105, Pavillon York.

Le cours obligatoire GL/SOCI 2510 6.00 doit avoir été suivi avec succès avant la fin de la deuxième année.

Translation/Traduction

Translation Degree

The School of Translation offers an Honours BA in translation in collaboration with other departments in the College (Études françaises, English, Hispanic studies). The bachelor of arts program trains translators toward either English or French as the target language. The degree will therefore bear either an English or français specialization according to the student's first language. Both specializations may be awarded to a qualified student under rare conditions. Both full-time and part-time students are welcome in the program.

The prerequisite for admission to the school is a minimum of one full year of university studies. The program itself normally consists of an additional 90 credits of which 60 are required courses: a total of 120 credits for the degree.

The purpose of the 60 required credits is to improve written performance in the student's target language (first language) and competence in the source language (second language). They are designed to familiarize the student with the practical problems of translation and the range of reference works available, as well as to provide training in translation procedures.

The 30 remaining credits are college requirements and free electives which the student should choose in consultation with the director of the school in order to acquire as much personal and professional experience as possible from the wide range of bilingual courses available.

Every student should consider the advantages of taking a minor subject, especially in a field which may be useful for a translation career such as Hispanic studies, economics, the social sciences or computer science.

Conditions of Admission

The School of Translation accepts only a limited number of students. Admission is based on the following criteria:

1. All applicants to the School of Translation must have successfully completed or be currently completing one year of university studies or the equivalent. For more information concerning what constitutes one year of university, please contact the Student Programs Office, C105 York Hall, 416-487-6715.
2. Internal applicants (i.e. students who are now in a bachelor of arts program at Glendon) must be eligible to proceed in an Honours bachelor of arts program. External applicants (i.e. students applying from outside Glendon) must meet the college's general admission requirements. External applicants seeking more information concerning admission procedures and requirements should contact the Admissions Office, 416-736-5000.
3. Candidates to the School of Translation must successfully complete the school's competitive entrance examination. Information concerning the entrance examination (i.e. dates, time etc.) may be obtained from the School of Translation, 241 York Hall, 416-487-6742.

Honours Double Major Program

Candidates may complete an Honours Double Major Program in Translation. Candidates must take all courses required for the Specialized Honours Program in Translation.

Candidates must check the Calendar for the requirements of the other discipline in which they wish to major.

Combined Honours

Translation may form the major component of a Combined Honours degree. Candidates for Combined Honours must take all courses required for the Specialized Honours Program in Translation and must select the minor component (normally 24 credits) in consultation with the School of Translation as well as obtaining the approval from the department or program in which they are minoring.

Diplôme et mentions

L'École de traduction, en collaboration avec d'autres départements du Collège (Études françaises, Études hispaniques, English), offre un BA spécialisé en traduction. Conçu pour former des traducteurs vers le français et vers l'anglais, ce diplôme est soumis aux règlements généraux du Collège et de l'Université et portera la mention "English" ou "français" suivant la langue première de l'étudiant. Le cumul des deux mentions sera possible quoique rare. On peut être admis à titre d'étudiant à plein temps ou d'étudiant à temps partiel.

Le programme comporte trois années de spécialisation après une première année d'études universitaires générale : soit 90 crédits en plus des 30 crédits normalement crédités au terme de la première année, pour un total de 120 crédits. Sur les 90 crédits suivis pendant ces trois années, 60 crédits sont obligatoires.

Ces cours obligatoires visent, avant tout, à améliorer la performance écrite en langue d'arrivée (langue première) et la compétence en langue de départ. Ils visent aussi à familiariser l'étudiant avec les problèmes pratiques de la traduction, à lui faire connaître et utiliser les ouvrages de référence indispensables, à lui apprendre à bien se documenter et à travailler avec méthode.

Les 30 crédits restants sont des cours requis par le Collège ou des cours facultatifs à choisir en consultation avec le conseiller ou la conseillère pédagogique de manière à ce que l'étudiant puisse, selon ses goûts et ses projets, tirer le meilleur parti des ressources de notre Collège bilingue.

L'attention de tout étudiant est particulièrement attirée sur le fait qu'un sujet mineur, surtout dans un domaine qui offre un débouché sur le marché de la traduction (Espagnol, Sciences économiques, Sciences sociales, Informatique) lui est vivement conseillé.

Conditions d'admission

L'École de traduction n'accepte qu'un nombre limité d'étudiants. Les critères d'admission sont les suivants :

1. Tous les candidats doivent avoir accompli (ou être en train d'accomplir) un an d'études universitaires (ou l'équivalent). Pour plus de renseignements sur ce qui constitue une année d'études universitaires, veuillez consulter le Bureau des programmes scolaires, C105 Pavillon York, 416-487-6715.

2. Les candidats internes (c'est-à-dire ceux qui suivent actuellement un programme de BA à Glendon) doivent avoir eu l'autorisation de suivre un programme de BA spécialisé. Les candidats externes (c'est-à-dire ceux qui ne viennent pas de Glendon) doivent remplir les conditions générales d'admission au Collège Glendon. Les candidats externes qui désirent de plus amples renseignements sur les formalités et les conditions d'admission doivent s'adresser au Bureau des admissions, 416-736-5000.

3. Les candidats à l'École de traduction doivent subir avec succès les épreuves du concours d'entrée de l'École. Pour vous renseigner sur le concours d'entrée (date, durée des épreuves etc.), adressez-vous à l'École de traduction, 241 Pavillon York, 416-487-6742.

De plus, une moyenne de C+ est requise dans chaque paire de cours suivants :

TRAN 2210 3.00 and TRAN 2220 3.00

TRAN 3210 3.00 and TRAN 3220 3.00

TRAN 4210 3.00 and TRAN 4250 3.00

N.B. : Un étudiant peut se voir dispensé de certains cours en fonction de ses études antérieures.

Baccalauréat spécialisé avec double majeure

Les étudiants peuvent choisir Traduction dans un programme spécialisé avec double majeure. Les étudiants doivent suivre tous les cours obligatoires du programme spécialisé en Traduction.

Pour les exigences de l'autre majeure, les étudiants doivent se référer à l'annuaire du Département concerné.

Baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire

La traduction peut constituer la majeure d'un programme spécialisé bidisciplinaire. Les candidats doivent alors suivre tous les cours obligatoires du programme spécialisé en Traduction, et choisir leur mineure (normalement 24 crédits) en accord avec l'École de traduction et avec le département ou le programme dans lequel ils ont choisi leur mineure.

Certificate Program in Technical and Professional Writing

In addition to the BA in translation, the School offers a Proficiency Certificate in Technical and Professional Writing.

Admission Requirements

Applicants must a) be enrolled in the third year of a degree program at York University in a relevant discipline; or b) have completed a university degree in a related discipline; or c) have recent work experience in an administrative or a technical field which requires writing.

Program Requirements

The program requires a total of 18 credits:

- 12 credits in professional writing and documentation

GL/TRAN 3310 3.00

GL/TRAN 4310 3.00

GL/TRAN 4320 3.00

GL/TRAN 4330 3.00

- Plus any six credit computer science course.

To remain in the program, a student must achieve a minimum grade of C+ in each course.

In addition to the course requirements, there is a final comprehensive examination.

General Certificate in Work and Study/ Certificat général en travail et études

The Work and Study Program provides students with the opportunity to obtain a General Certificate in Work and Study and a bachelor's degree simultaneously. It gives them the opportunity to gain workplace experience, allowing them to choose a work placement according to their individual aspirations and aptitudes.

Working with a traditionally bilingual liberal arts institution, the General Certificate in Work and Study is unique, both in its objectives and in its structure. Work and study does not aim to introduce students to a specific discipline. Focusing on changes in the working world and providing students with the opportunity for unique professional experience, the program is designed to complement or even provide a new dimension to the student's undergraduate study program.

The General Certificate in Work and Study requires 24 credits, 15 of which are offered within the program and nine of which are offered by other programs and departments of Glendon and recognized by the program.

Students enrolled in the Work and Study Program may only receive their certificate on the condition that they complete the requirements for their bachelor's degree.

Admission Requirements

To be eligible for admission to the work and study, students must be enrolled in a degree program at York University and must:

- have completed 24 credits or the equivalent;
- have achieved Honours standing;
- apply for admission to the program.

Students who have already obtained a BA from York University or from another university, with a 5.0 (C+) average, may also apply for admission to the program. To obtain their certificate, these students will be required to take the 15 credits offered by the program.

Program Requirements

Work and Study Program students must take 24 credits, chosen in consultation with the work and study coordinator including GL/WKST 2500 3.00, GL/WKST 2510 3.00, GL/WKST 3200 6.00, GL/WKST 3205 3.00 and nine credits chosen from the list of work and study courses.

To remain in the Work and Study Program and to be eligible for the certificate, students must maintain an average of 5.0 (C+) as is required for Honours standing.

Le programme Travail et études offre à des étudiants, engagés dans des études de baccalauréat, la possibilité de mener, simultanément, des études pour l'obtention du Certificat général en travail et études. Il les invite à vivre une expérience de travail, tenant compte de leurs aspirations et aptitudes, dans une activité de leur choix.

Issu d'un milieu universitaire de tradition bilingue voué à l'enseignement des lettres et des sciences humaines, le Certificat général en travail et études est unique de par sa nature et ses intentions. Il n'a pas à initier des étudiants à une discipline précise mais, en mettant l'accent sur les mutations du monde du travail et en leur permettant de vivre une expérience professionnelle unique, il entend ainsi leur offrir un complément, voire une nouvelle dimension d'une formation déjà en cours.

Le Certificat général en travail et études comprend 24 crédits dont 15 sont pris à l'intérieur du programme et neuf parmi des cours retenus par le programme et offerts au sein de différents départements et programmes du Collège universitaire Glendon.

Les étudiants inscrits au programme Travail et études ne pourront recevoir leur Certificat que s'ils ont rempli toutes les conditions nécessaires à l'obtention de leur Baccalauréat.

Conditions d'admission

Pour être admissibles au Certificat général en travail et études, les étudiants doivent être inscrits dans un programme de BA à l'Université York et doivent :

- avoir obtenu 24 crédits ou l'équivalent ;
- avoir obtenu la moyenne exigée pour le BA spécialisé ;
- faire la demande d'admission au programme.

Les détenteurs d'un baccalauréat de l'Université York ou d'une autre institution universitaire, qui ont obtenu une moyenne de 5,0 (C+), peuvent être considérés comme candidats admissibles au programme. Pour l'obtention du Certificat, ces étudiants sont tenus d'obtenir les 15 crédits de cours offerts à l'intérieur du programme.

Exigences du Programme

Les étudiants inscrits au Programme travail et études doivent obtenir l'équivalent de 24 crédits, y compris GL/WKST 2500 3.00, GL/WKST 2510 3.00, GL/WKST 3200 6.00, GL/WKST 3205 3.00 et neuf crédits choisis en consultation avec le coordonnateur du programme dans la liste ci-dessous.

Pour demeurer inscrit au programme Travail et études, et obtenir le Certificat, les étudiants doivent maintenir une moyenne de 5,0 (C+), soit la moyenne exigée pour l'obtention d'un baccalauréat spécialisé.

School of Women's Studies/École des études des femmes

Women's Studies

Women's studies is both a complement and a corrective to established fields at York and a new academic discipline of its own. Until recently, both the humanities and the social sciences reflected predominantly male perspectives. Women have been largely invisible in literature, art, history, philosophy, politics, social sciences and law. Through cross-cultural and disciplinary assessment, women's studies exposes misconceptions about women expressed through myth, ideologies, teachings and writings. It replaces negative cultural images of women with visions that reaffirm women's strength, capability and intelligence.

The School of Women's Studies unites academic resources at York University in women's studies, bringing together the undergraduate and graduate programs, the non-credit Bridging Program and the Centre for Feminist Research/Le centre de recherches féministes à York.

A feature which distinguishes the Glendon Women's Studies Program from the other two undergraduate programs offered at York is its bilingual focus. Non-parallel courses are offered in both languages. As a result, a genuine dialogue develops between the approaches of anglophones and francophones to theory, philosophy, literature, legal structures and language.

Specialized Honours Program

Students will take at least 54 credits in women's studies. Of these, students must take WMST 2500 6.00 or WMST 2510 9.00 and WMST 4500 6.00 and at least 24 additional credits from the core course offerings. Overall, 12 women's studies credits must be taken at the 4000 level.

General Honours Program

Students will take at least 42 credits in women's studies. Of these, students must take WMST 2500 6.00 or WMST 2510 9.00 and WMST 4500 6.00 and at least 18 additional credits from the core course offerings. Overall, 12 women's studies credits must be taken at the 4000 level.

Honours Double Major Program

The Honours program described above may be pursued jointly with any other Glendon Honours program.

Combined Honours Major Program

The Honours program described above may be pursued jointly with any other Glendon Honours program.

Combined Honours Minor Program

Students will take at least 30 credits in women's studies. Of these, students must take WMST 2500 6.00 or WMST 2510 9.00 and at least 12 additional credits from the core course offerings. Overall, 12 women's studies credits must be taken at the 3000 or 4000 level, including six credits at the 4000 level.

Bachelor Program

Students will take at least 30 credits in women's studies. Of these, students must take WMST 2500 6.00 or WMST 2510 9.00 and at least 12 additional credits from the core course offerings. Overall, 12 women's studies credits must be taken at the 3000 or 4000 level.

Études des femmes

Les Études des femmes, qui sont à la fois un complément et un prolongement des domaines établis à York, n'en constituent pas moins une nouvelle discipline universitaire en soi. Tout récemment encore, les humanités et les sciences sociales reflétaient surtout le point de vue masculin. Les femmes sont quasiment absentes de la littérature, des arts, de l'histoire, de la philosophie, de la politique, des sciences sociales et du droit. Les Études des femmes se fondent sur l'évaluation interculturelle et interdisciplinaire pour exposer les idées fausses sur les femmes qui sont véhiculées dans les mythes, les idéologies, l'enseignement et les écrits. Les stéréotypes culturels négatifs sont remplacés par des points de vue qui réaffirment la force, la vitalité et l'intelligence des femmes.

L'École des études des femmes regroupe les programmes de premier, deuxième et troisième cycles, le programme de mise à niveau non crédité, et le Centre de recherches féministes.

Le programme de Glendon se distingue par son caractère bilingue. Des cours différents sont offerts dans les deux langues et abordent les réalités propres aux anglophones et aux francophones, de sorte qu'il est possible de comparer leurs analyses respectives de la théorie, de la philosophie, de la littérature, des structures juridiques et de la langue.

Exigences du Programme

Baccalauréat spécialisé

Les étudiantes et étudiants doivent obtenir au moins 54 crédits en Études des femmes, parmi lesquels obligatoirement WMST 2500 6.00 ou WMST 2510 9.00 et WMST 4500 6.00, et au moins 24 crédits additionnels choisis parmi les cours de base. Il faut obtenir au total 12 crédits en Études des femmes au niveau 4000.

Baccalauréat spécialisé général

Les étudiantes et étudiants doivent obtenir au moins 42 crédits en Études des femmes, parmi lesquels obligatoirement WMST 2500 6.00 ou WMST 2510 9.00 et WMST 4500 6.00, et au moins 18 crédits additionnels choisis parmi les cours de base. Il faut obtenir au total 12 crédits en Études des femmes au niveau 4000.

Baccalauréat spécialisé avec double majeure

Le programme spécialisé décrit ci-dessus peut être suivi en combinaison avec tout autre programme spécialisé Glendon.

Baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire (majeure)

Le programme spécialisé décrit ci-dessus peut être suivi en combinaison avec tout autre programme spécialisé Glendon.

Baccalauréat spécialisé bidisciplinaire (mineure)

Les étudiantes et étudiants doivent obtenir au moins 30 crédits en Études des femmes, parmi lesquels obligatoirement WMST 2500 6.00 ou WMST 2510 9.00, et au moins 12 crédits additionnels choisis parmi les cours de base. Il faut obtenir au total 12 crédits en Études des femmes au niveau 3000 ou 4000, dont six au niveau 4000.

Baccalauréat ès arts

Les étudiantes et étudiants doivent obtenir au moins 30 crédits en Études des femmes, parmi lesquels obligatoirement WMST 2500 6.00 ou WMST 2510 9.00, et au moins 12 crédits additionnels choisis parmi les cours de base. Il faut obtenir au total 12 crédits en Études des femmes au niveau 3000 ou 4000.

I. Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs

Undergraduate Degree Programs

Honours Bachelor of Applied Science (Honours BASc) Program, which requires at least four years of full-time study and at least 120 credits, and involves study in one of four Engineering Streams: computer engineering, engineering physics, geomatics engineering or space engineering.

Honours Bachelor of Science (Honours BSc) Programs, which are usually completed in four years of full-time study, require at least 120 credits and may involve varying degrees of concentration in one or two declared subject areas:

- Specialized Honours with one declared major in applied mathematics, biochemistry, biology, chemistry, computational mathematics, computer science, earth and atmospheric science, environmental science, geography, kinesiology and health science, mathematics, physics and astronomy, psychology or statistics;
- Honours Double Major (intra-Faculty) with declared science majors in two of applied mathematics, biology, chemistry, computer science, earth and atmospheric science, geography (in combination with earth and atmospheric science only), kinesiology and health science, mathematics, physics and astronomy, psychology, statistics; (Note: some combinations may require more than 120 credits.)
- Honours Double Major (Science/Arts inter-Faculty) with a declared science major in earth and atmospheric science or physics and astronomy; and a declared arts major in one of anthropology, classical studies, classics, cognitive science, creative writing, criminology, East Asian studies, economics, English, French studies, German, German studies, Greek, health and society, Hellenic studies, history, humanities, international development studies, Italian, labour studies, Latin, linguistics, philosophy, political science, professional writing, religious studies, Russian, science and society, sociology, Spanish, urban studies, women's studies; (Note: choice of majors is subject to timetabling constraints. Some combinations may require more than 120 credits.)
- Honours Major/Minor (intra-Faculty) with a declared science major in one of applied mathematics, biology, chemistry, computer science, earth and atmospheric science, geography, kinesiology and health science, mathematics, physics and astronomy, psychology, statistics; and a declared science minor in one of applied mathematics, biology, chemistry, computer science, earth and atmospheric science, kinesiology and health science, mathematics, physics and astronomy, psychology, statistics; (Note: major/minor combinations with the major and minor in the same subject area are not permitted.)
- Honours Major/Minor (Science/Arts inter-Faculty) with a declared science major in one of biology, chemistry, earth and atmospheric science, physics and astronomy; and a declared arts minor in one of African studies, anthropology, classical studies, classics, creative writing, East Asian studies, economics, English, European studies, French studies, German, German studies, Greek, health and society, Hellenic studies, history, humanities, international development studies, Italian, labour studies, Latin, Latin American and Caribbean studies, linguistics, philosophy, political science, religious studies, Russian, Russian studies, science and society, social and political thought, sociology, South Asian studies, Spanish, urban studies, women's studies; (Note: choice of major and minor is subject to timetabling constraints.)

- Honours Major/Minor (Science/Environmental Studies inter-Faculty) with a declared science major in one of biology, chemistry, earth and atmospheric science, physics and astronomy; and a declared minor in environmental studies;
- Honours Major/Minor (Science/Fine Arts inter-Faculty) with a declared science major in one of biology, chemistry, computer science, earth and atmospheric science, kinesiology and health science, mathematics, physics and astronomy; and a declared fine arts minor in one of dance, film and video, fine arts cultural studies, music, theatre, visual arts; (Note: choice of major and minor is subject to timetabling constraints.)
- Honours Science with no declared major, for the student who wishes to enrol in a broader range of courses at the 3000 and 4000 levels than can normally be undertaken in Specialized Honours, Honours Double Major or Honours Major/Minor programs.

Bachelor of Science (BSc) Programs, which are usually completed in three years of full-time study, require at least 90 credits and usually involve limited concentration in only one declared subject area:

- Bachelor with one declared major in applied mathematics, biology, chemistry, computer science, earth and atmospheric science, geography, mathematics, physics and astronomy, psychology or statistics.
- Bachelor with no declared major for the student who wishes to enrol in a broader range of courses at the 3000 and 4000 levels than can normally be undertaken in B.Sc. programs.

Joint Study Programs

Science and Arts

The Faculty of Pure and Applied Science and the Faculty of Arts jointly offer Honours Double Major and Honours Major/Minor programs where the major is from one Faculty and the second major or the minor from the other Faculty.

A student in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science who has completed 24 credits in a BSc Honours program and satisfies the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science academic standards to proceed in Honours may combine the study of a science major and an arts major or minor in a BSc Honours Double Major or Honours Major/Minor program. Corresponding programs involving an arts major and a science major or minor lead to BA Honours Double Major or Honours Major/Minor degrees in the Faculty of Arts. All Honours programs require a minimum of 120 credits which can normally be completed in four years of full-time study.

For a list of possible subject combinations for the BSc Honours degree programs, see Undergraduate Degree Programs above. For details of the science major and minor requirements in specific subject areas, see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar. For details of the arts major and minor requirements in specific subject areas, and for the requirements for BA Honours programs, see the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Science and Education

A student wishing to obtain the professional certification required to teach in Ontario schools may take both teacher training and an undergraduate academic program concurrently. This does not shorten the time required to gain the qualification but provides a better chance for the student to relate theory and practice and to have more opportunity to gain practical experience than is possible in a one-year program.

A student in science who has completed a first-year BSc or BSc Honours program with an overall standing of at least 5.0 (C+) may apply to coregister in the Faculty of Education. A coregistered student normally takes one and a half or two full courses in the Faculty of Education in an academic year concurrent with courses for the BSc or BSc Honours. The specific study program of each student is subject to the approval of both Faculties.

Upon successful completion of the course requirements for a BSc or BSc Honours, and of the required education courses, a coregistered student is awarded a BSc or BSc Honours and a BEd.

Science and Environmental Studies

The Faculty of Pure and Applied Science and the Faculty of Environmental Studies jointly offer Honours Major/Minor programs where the major is from one Faculty and the minor from the other Faculty.

A student in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science who has completed 24 credits in a BSc Honours program and satisfies the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science academic standards to proceed in Honours may combine the study of a science major and an environmental studies minor in a BSc Honours Major/Minor degree program. A corresponding program including a major in environmental studies and a science minor leads to a BES Honours Major/Minor degree in the Faculty of Environmental Studies. Both programs require a minimum of 120 credits which can normally be completed in four years of full-time study.

For a list of possible science majors for the BSc Honours degree program, see the Undergraduate Degree Programs section above. For details of the science major and minor requirements in specific subject areas, see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar. For details of the requirements for a minor in environmental studies within the BSc Honours degree program, and for the requirements for BES Honours programs, see the Faculty of Environmental Studies Degree Requirements section of this Calendar.

Science and Fine Arts

The Faculty of Pure and Applied Science and the Faculty of Fine Arts jointly offer Honours Major/Minor programs where the major is from one Faculty and the minor is from the other Faculty.

A student in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science who has completed 24 credits in a BSc Honours program and satisfies the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science academic standards to proceed in Honours may combine the study of a science major and a fine arts minor in a BSc Honours Major/Minor degree program. A corresponding program including a fine arts major and a science minor leads to a BA or BFA Honours Major/Minor degree in the Faculty of Fine Arts. All Honours programs require a minimum of 120 credits which can normally be completed in four years of full-time study.

For a list of possible subject combinations for the BSc Honours degree program, see the Undergraduate Degree Programs section above. For details of the science major and minor requirements in specific subject areas, see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar. For details of the fine arts minor and major requirements in specific subject areas, and for the requirements for Fine Arts BA Honours and BFA Honours degree programs, see the Faculty of Fine Arts Degree Requirements and Programs of Study sections of this Calendar.

Science and Seneca College

Rehabilitation Services

The Department of Psychology of York University and the Continuing Education Division of Seneca College of Applied Arts and Technology jointly offer a two-year certificate program in Rehabilitation Services. This program combines the last 30 credits for a York BSc Honours or BSc (or BA Honours or BA) in psychology with appropriate courses in rehabilitation services offered by Seneca College and 800 hours of supervised field placement. For more information, see the Certificate Programs section below.

Certificate Programs

York University undergraduate certificate programs are open to all undergraduate students, subject to student eligibility and course availability. The following certificates are offered by departments affiliated with the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science and can be taken concurrently with a BSc Honours degree program. Several of the certificates can also be taken concurrently with a BSc degree program. Some are open to visiting students. See information below.

Certificate in Athletic Therapy

Candidates registered in BSc Honours programs, who are interested in the field of athletic injury prevention, management and therapy and who meet the certificate program admission requirements, may work towards a Certificate in Athletic Therapy offered by the School of Kinesiology and Health Science. Candidates majoring in kinesiology and health science normally do this concurrently with their BSc Honours studies by enrolling in the Applied Certificate Stream of Specialized Honours - see the kinesiology and health science program requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar. The certificate requires specific courses offered by the School of Kinesiology and Health Science plus extensive practical and clinical field placement experience. It will satisfy many of the requirements for those who plan to subsequently seek certification by the Canadian Athletic Therapists Association and/or the National Athletic Trainers' Association (USA). For admission requirements and additional information, consult the School of Kinesiology and Health Science.

Certificate in Coaching

Candidates registered in degree programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science, who satisfy the certificate program admission requirements, may work toward a Certificate in Coaching offered by the School of Kinesiology and Health Science. Candidates majoring in kinesiology and health science normally do this concurrently with their BSc Honours studies by enrolling in the Applied Certificate Stream of Specialized Honours - see the kinesiology and health science program requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar. Certificate program admission requirements are publicized and administered by the School of Kinesiology and Health Science.

Certificate in Fitness Assessment and Exercise Counselling

Candidates registered in degree programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science, and visiting students, who satisfy the certificate program admission requirements, may work towards a Certificate in Fitness Assessment and Exercise Counselling offered by the School of Kinesiology and Health Science. Candidates majoring in kinesiology and health science normally do this concurrently with their BSc Honours studies by enrolling in the Applied Certificate Stream of Specialized Honours - see the kinesiology and health science program requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar. Certificate program admission requirements are publicized and administered by the School of Kinesiology and Health Science.

Certificate in Geographic Information Systems (GIS) and Remote Sensing

Registered BSc Honours and BSc candidates, and visiting students, may work towards a Certificate in Geographic Information Systems (GIS) and Remote Sensing, offered jointly by the Department of Earth and Space Science and Engineering of the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science, the Department of Geography of the Faculty of Arts, and the Faculty of Environmental Studies. The certificate program includes three streams, one offered through each of the three units above. BSc Honours or BSc candidates majoring in earth and atmospheric science, environmental science or geography can work concurrently towards the certificate and a BSc Honours or BSc degree.

The certificate requirements for BSc and BSc Honours candidates are as follows.

Earth and Atmospheric Science Stream

SC/EATS 1010 3.00; SC/EATS 1011 3.00; SC/GEOG 2420 3.00; SC/EATS 3300 3.00; AS/GEOG 3440 3.00; SC/EATS 4220 3.00; SC/EATS 4400 3.00; three credits (approved by the Department of Earth and Space Science and Engineering) chosen from the following courses: SC/EATS 4230 3.00, ES/ENVS 3011 3.00, SC/GEOG 2130 3.00, AS/GEOG 3140 3.00, SC/GEOG 3421 3.00, AS/GEOG 4240 3.00.

Geography Stream

SC/GEOG 1400 6.00 or AS/GEOG 1410 6.00; SC/GEOG 2420 3.00; SC/GEOG 3180 3.00; AS/GEOG 3440 3.00; SC/GEOG4340 3.00; AS/GEOG 4440 3.00; three credits (approved by the Department of Geography) chosen from the following courses: SC/EATS 4220 3.00, SC/EATS 4230 3.00, ES/ENVS 3011 3.00, SC/GEOG 2130 3.00, AS/GEOG 3140 3.00, SC/GEOG 3421 3.00, AS/GEOG 4240 3.00.

For the requirements for the Environmental Studies Stream, refer to the environmental studies section of the Undergraduate Programs Calendar.

To be eligible to receive the certificate, students must achieve a minimum credit-weighted grade point average of 6.0 (B) over the 24 York University credits required for the certificate in one of the three streams. Degree candidates must also achieve and maintain honours standing in their academic degree program.

For additional information, consult on the three units mentioned above.

Certificate in Meteorology

Registered BSc Honours candidates and visiting students, who are interested in careers in atmospheric science (meteorology) and who satisfy the certificate program admission requirements may work towards a Certificate in Meteorology offered by the Department of Earth and Space Science and Engineering. Normally, a student registered in the Atmospheric Science Stream of the department works concurrently towards a certificate and a BSc Honours degree. However, the program is open to any student who satisfies the program admission requirements. Entrance to the program requires the candidate to have successfully completed at least 54 approved credits (nine approved full courses) in the areas of physical science and mathematics.

The certificate requirements are as follows: SC/EATS 3030 3.00; SC/EATS 3040 3.00; SC/EATS 4050 3.00; SC/EATS 4051 3.00; SC/EATS 4120 3.00; SC/EATS 4140 3.00; 12 credits chosen from the following courses: SC/EATS 3130 3.00, SC/EATS 3280 3.00, SC/EATS 4020 3.00, SC/EATS 4130 3.00, SC/EATS 4150 3.00, SC/EATS 4160 3.00, SC/EATS 4220 3.00, SC/EATS 4230 3.00, SC/EATS 4240 3.00, SC/GEOG 4205 3.00, SC/GEOG 4210 3.00, SC/GEOG 4310 3.00, SC/MATH 4141 3.00, SC/MATH 4142 3.00, SC/PHYS 4120 3.00.

In order to receive the certificate, the student must achieve a minimum credit-weighted grade point average of 4.0 (C) or better over the 30 credits required for the certificate.

For additional information, consult the Department of Earth and Space Science and Engineering.

Certificate in Rehabilitation Services

Registered BSc Honours and BSc candidates in psychology, who are interested in rehabilitation services and who satisfy the certificate program admission requirements stated below, may work toward a Joint York/Seneca Certificate in Rehabilitation Services concurrently with their final 30 credits for a York University BSc Honours or BSc degree in psychology. A full-time student will normally require four years to complete the certificate and a BSc in psychology or five years for the certificate and a BSc Honours in psychology.

Certificate admission requirements for BSc Honours and BSc candidates include the following:

- a minimum credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over 60 credits (towards a BSc in psychology) or 90 credits (towards a BSc Honours in the Specialized Honours program in psychology), including SC/PSYC 1010 6.00 with a minimum grade of C;
- emotional stability and a strong interest in working with individuals with disabilities;
- previous employment or volunteer work in the field of rehabilitation.

Interested students should apply to the program coordinator in the Department of Psychology by March of the year in which they expect to complete the admission requirements.

Candidates will complete their BSc Honours or BSc requirements by taking SC/PSYC 2130 3.00, SC/PSYC 2230 3.00, SC/PSYC 3140 3.00, AK/AS/PSYC 3430 3.00, AS/SOCI 3820 6.00, SC/PSYC 4030 6.00, and SC/PSYC 4060 6.00, as required for the certificate. In addition, the certificate will require specific Seneca courses and 800 hours (the equivalent of two full days per week for two years) of supervised field placement. BSc Honours candidates should take six credits from the above courses (preferably SC/PSYC 2130 3.00 and either SC/PSYC 2230 3.00 or SC/PSYC 3140 3.00) before entering the program to allow time for SC/PSYC 4000 6.00 or SC/PSYC 4170 6.00 (either one of these courses is required for a Specialized Honours Program in Psychology).

For more information, students should consult the Department of Psychology supplemental calendar or the York/Seneca rehabilitation services program coordinator in the Department of Psychology.

Certificate in Sport Administration

Candidates registered in BSc Honours programs who meet the certificate program admission requirements may work towards a Certificate in Sport Administration offered by the School of Kinesiology and Health Science. Candidates majoring in kinesiology and health science normally do this by taking the courses required for the certificate as non-science electives within their BSc Honours degree program. More than 120 credits may be required to complete both the certificate and the BSc Honours degree requirements. For admission requirements and additional information, consult the School of Kinesiology and Health Science.

II. Advising, Enrolment, Registration, Graduation and Other Administrative Procedures

Student Responsibility

Every effort is made in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science to ensure that each student receives academic advice and sufficient information to guide in course selection and program choice. Within this context, the student is solely responsible for the following:

- ensuring that the courses chosen in consultation with an adviser meet all program (refer to the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar) and degree (refer to the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) requirements for graduation;
- ensure the courses they choose meet prerequisites and are not exclusions or equivalents of other courses already taken;
- verifying the accuracy of registration records, including all course changes;
- fulfilling the requirements and being aware of academic progress in all registered courses;
- noting and abiding by the sessional deadline dates published on the Current Students Web page each year, especially course change deadline dates.

Advising

Before each academic session begins, every science student can meet with an adviser to discuss program and degree requirements. However, it is the responsibility of all students to familiarize themselves with both the requirements of their individual programs of study (refer to the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar) and the regulations governing their BSc or BSc Honours degree requirements (refer to the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar).

In preparation for enrolment, and at the advising appointment, the following should be considered:

- Choice of subject area(s). Every student must choose one or two subject area(s) according to personal interests and career goals. First-year students must do this at the time of their advising appointment.
- Choice of program. All students who have completed 24 or more credits must choose a program (Bachelor, Specialized Honours, Honours Double Major or Honours Major/Minor) in accordance with general regulation 3 in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar. Minimum grade point average requirements for Honours programs are detailed under Academic Standards for BSc and BSc Honours Degree Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Examinations and Academic Standards section of this Calendar and in the program of study requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar. See also Designation of Honours or Bachelor Program in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Examinations and Academic Standards section of this Calendar.

- Faculty of Pure and Applied Science degree requirements and regulations. Refer to the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar.
- Course selection at the 1000 level. For first-year students, the 1000-level (entry-level) BSc and BSc Honours program is a multidisciplinary one. Students take introductory courses, consistent with their levels of background preparation, which are planned to prepare them well for more advanced study in the subject areas of their choice. Most introductory courses carry prerequisites, normally at the OAC or 12U level.

The course requirements at the 1000 level are governed by Faculty general regulation 4 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) and are outlined in items i) and ii) under the program of study requirements for each subject area and applied science stream in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar. These Faculty regulations ensure that students' choices from the roster of introductory offerings provide an adequate and appropriate breadth in science, help students to develop basic computational, mathematical and laboratory skills, and also an appreciation of the humanities and social sciences.

Unless stated otherwise in the program of study requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar, Honours Double Major candidates are expected to complete all 1000-level requirements for both majors, excepting degree credit exclusions.

Unless stated otherwise in the program of study requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar, the 1000-level science requirements for Honours Major/Minor programs are those of the major subject, plus or including any required 1000-level courses in the minor subject and any 1000-level courses which are required as prerequisites or corequisites for required courses in the minor, excepting degree credit exclusions.

Since the normal yearly full-time credit load for BSc and BSc Honours candidates is 30 credits (somewhat higher for BASc Honours candidates), it will not be possible for the student to complete all the 1000-level requirements for any degree program in year one. Certain specific courses should be taken in year one as prerequisites for required 2000-level courses or as an introduction to the major or minor subject area. It is advisable to complete as many of the other required 1000-level science courses as possible in year one to avoid timetable conflicts in later years.

In some circumstances, equivalent courses approved in writing by the major program(s) may be substituted for the courses listed.

- Course selection above the 1000 level. Complete details of the course requirements for all BSc and BSc Honours subject areas and programs are found in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar. Degree checklists for all BSc and BSc Honours programs/subject areas are available from the Office of Science Academic Services.
- Prerequisites/corequisites. Most science courses have prerequisite and/or corequisite requirements. These may be specific courses (indicating specific required background knowledge) or they may be general prerequisites (indicating a required level of maturity in university studies in the subject area or overall).

As indicated in general regulation 2 in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar, it is the student's responsibility to enrol in only those courses for which the student has successfully completed all designated prerequisites and to take concurrently all specified corequisites not already completed successfully. Students who lack the stated prerequisites but have reason to believe that they can succeed in a course must obtain written permission of the department concerned (consult the departmental undergraduate office regarding the procedure to be followed) before enrolling.

- Degree credit exclusions. Students should avoid enrolling in any two courses which are designated as degree credit exclusions of one another, since, in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science, degree credit will be given for only one. For more information regarding degree credit exclusions, see Degree Credit Exclusions in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar.
- Scheduling. All information regarding courses to be offered in each session, times, places etc. is found on the York University Current Students Web site.

Enrolment

Students enrol in courses offered by the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science through the Web enrolment system. Information on how to use the system is provided on the Current Students Web site. Access to the system is granted to newly admitted students only after the advising document has been signed.

Advanced Standing

Advanced standing credit towards a York University BSc or BSc Honours may be granted for courses taken at other accredited postsecondary institutions prior to registration at York University.

Advanced standing assessments for the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science are specific to the program and subject area(s) in which the student plans to enrol at York University. If the student does not enrol in the program(s) and subject area(s) specified on the admission application or, subsequent to first registration, changes subject area(s) and/or program(s), the advanced standing must be reassessed.

Changes in Program/Subject Area(s)

Candidates may change their degree programs and/or subject area(s) from the time of their advising sessions in the spring until the tenth class day of the fall term, provided their standing, prescription of studies and timetable arrangements permit the proposed changes, and provided they are supported in writing by the academic advisers concerned. All program and subject area changes must be effected through the Registrar's Office by completion of the relevant form (available on the Current Students Web site at <http://www.yorku.ca>, then click Current Students), signed by the new department(s). Advanced standing assessments must be reviewed after any change in program/subject area.

Course Changes

Course changes are permitted, but only for limited periods of time, and in accordance with the sessional dates in the Lecture Schedules. Written permission of the course instructor(s) may be required. Students should consult their advisers regarding the effect course changes may have on the fulfilment of program and degree requirements, but it is the responsibility of the student alone to recognize the consequences of course changes on academic progress. Students are responsible for verifying their enrolment during each academic session.

Courses Taken Outside the Faculty / Letters of Permission

A maximum of 12 credits in total may be taken during a summer session at York University and/or at another institution, a maximum of 33 credits during a fall/winter session towards a BSc or BSc Honours.

Students should note that some departments have specific limits on the number of out-of-department or out-of-Faculty courses which may be taken for credit towards a BSc or BSc Honours.

York University

The student is responsible for ensuring that courses taken in another Faculty at York University fulfill program and degree requirements, are eligible for BSc or BSc Honours credit, and observe prerequisite, corequisite and degree credit exclusion restrictions. Information regarding Atkinson Faculty of Liberal and Professional Studies courses can be found in the Office of Science Academic Services after March 1 each year.

Other Institutions

A student wishing to take a course at an external accredited institution at any time for credit towards a York University BSc or BSc Honours is required to obtain a letter of permission from York University prior to taking the course.

Request forms for letters of permission are available from Student Client Services or on the Current Students Web site at <http://www.yorku.ca>. The letter of permission request form, with course description(s), must be submitted to the appropriate departmental office to have the course(s) assessed for equivalents/exclusions. The completed form must then be returned to Student Client Services.

At the conclusion of the session for which a letter of permission was granted, the student must arrange for the host institution to submit either an official transcript for consideration for transfer credit, or official notice of withdrawal/non-enrolment to the Registrar's Office.

The student must obtain a grade of C or higher in the course for which a letter of permission has been granted in order to receive credit for the course in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science. Passed courses, as well as failed courses completed on letters of permission are included in the student's cumulative record, although grades from such courses are not listed on York University transcripts and are not included in the calculation of York grade point averages.

Should a student leave York University to pursue study at another postsecondary institution without a letter of permission, upon return to York, a new application to York is required and all previous transfer credit will be reassessed.

Reactivation

A student who has been absent from the University for one or more session(s) must apply to the Registrar's Office (form available on the Current Students Web site at <http://www.yorku.ca>) to be reactivated.

Note: This does not apply to students who have failed to gain standing or have been debarred from York University or to students who have taken postsecondary courses at another institution during their absence from York University; all such students must apply, through the Admissions Office, to be re-admitted to York University.

Graduation

Students should apply to graduate in the calendar year in which they expect to qualify for the BSc or the BSc Honours degree, irrespective of whether or not they plan to attend the graduation ceremony. The application to graduate form can be found on the Current Students Web site at <http://www.yorku.ca>.

The deadline dates for spring and fall graduation ensure that all potential graduates' records are assessed with care. No late applications are accepted for any reason.

A student registered in a BSc Honours program may apply to graduate with a BSc degree, provided bachelor program requirements are met.

Degree Reclassification

A student who has completed a York University BSc degree (bachelor program) in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science may continue, after graduation, in a Specialized Honours program in the same subject area or in an Honours Double Major or Honours Major/Minor program including the same subject area, provided the grade point average is that required for the Honours program.

A student who has completed a BSc Honours degree in an Honours Double Major or Honours Major/Minor program may apply for admission to a BSc Specialized Honours program in one of the (science) subject areas included in the Honours Double Major or Honours Major/Minor program. Applications for this reclassification are available from the Registrar's Office.

A student who wishes to pursue a second BSc or BSc Honours in a different field of study must apply to the Admissions Office for admission as a second degree candidate. The deadline to apply for fall admission is May 1.

III. Regulations Governing Examinations and Academic Standards

Grading System

Refer to Grades and Grading Schemes within the Academic Information section of this Calendar.

Pass/Fail Grading Option

A pass/fail grading option is available to Faculty of Pure and Applied Science students under the following guidelines.

Academic Standing. This option is available only to students who are in good standing (i.e. not under academic or debarment warning).

Minimum Number of Courses Completed. Students must have successfully completed at least 24 credits before they may apply to take a course under this option.

Elective Courses Only. The following types of courses may not be taken on a pass/fail basis: courses in the major and minor subject area(s), general education courses, 1000-level science courses required to satisfy the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general regulation 4 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar), non-major courses required to satisfy program requirements.

Maximum Number of Pass/Fail Credits.

- Honours program: a maximum of 12 (passed) credits from pass/fail graded courses may be counted towards a BSc Honours degree.
- Bachelor program: a maximum of six (passed) credits from pass/fail graded courses may be counted towards a BSc degree.

Grade Point Average Calculations. The grade obtained (passed or failed) in a pass/fail graded course is not included in grade point average calculations in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science.

Deadline to Select Pass/Fail Option. Eligible students may exercise the option within the first two weeks (10 class days) of the term in which the course begins. They must obtain the signature of the course director on a form to be made available from (available on the Current Students Web site at <http://www.yorku.ca>), and returned to, Student Client Services.

Deadline to Change from Pass/Fail back to the Letter-Grade System.

At the student's request, the student may change the designation of a course from pass/fail back to the letter-grade system until the last day for withdrawal without academic penalty from the term in which the course is offered. Formal notification, with the student's and course director's signatures, must be received by the Registrar's Office by this deadline.

Repeated Courses

Students are allowed to retake a failed course once for academic degree or certificate credit. Students are allowed to retake a passed course once for academic degree or certificate credit, only if the student has failed to achieve sufficient standing to proceed in a core or prerequisite course in a degree or certificate program and if no alternative remedies are provided (e.g. alternative qualifying examination). Students should note that course availability and space considerations may preclude the possibility of repeating a course in the session they choose.

When a student is allowed to repeat a course for academic degree or certificate credit, the second grade will be the of record and the only grade calculated in the student's grade point average (major, cumulative, sessional and overall). A course can be credited only once towards satisfaction of degree or certificate academic credit requirements.

The record of both the first and second time the course was taken will appear on the student's transcript, with the first course designated as "No Credit Retained".

A student must be declared eligible to proceed in a degree or certificate program in order to be eligible to repeat a course. That is to say, when a student fails to achieve sufficient standing to proceed in a degree or certificate program, or when they are required to withdraw, they would not be eligible to repeat a course or courses.

Academic Standards for BSc and BSc Honours Programs

Bachelor Programs (BSc)

To Graduate in a Bachelor Program. For students admitted to York University for 2001-2002 and subsequent years, the Senate of York University requires a minimum overall grade point average of 4.0 (C) in order to be eligible to graduate in an undergraduate bachelor program.

Students in a bachelor program who have passed 90 credits in accordance with Faculty and program requirements, but whose cumulative overall grade point average is below 4.0 (C), may attempt to raise their average by taking up to 12 additional credits, to a maximum of 102 credits. These courses must be above the 1000 level and must be taken at York University. Regulations on equivalent and excluded courses apply.

Honours Programs (BSc Honours)

To declare Honours requires successful completion of at least 24 credits and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To proceed in each year of an Honours program requires a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To graduate in an Honours program requires successful completion of all Faculty requirements and departmental required courses and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

Notes:

1. Some programs may require a higher standard - consult the program of study requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar.
2. Students admitted to York University prior to 1999-2000 may declare Honours and proceed and graduate in Honours programs according to the academic standards of the year in which they were admitted.

Designation of Honours or Bachelor Program

Automatic Honours Designation. Students are automatically considered to be in an Honours program provided they achieve and maintain the minimum grade requirements for Honours described under the Academic Standards for BSc and BSc Honours Programs section above.

Automatic Bachelor Designation. Students are automatically considered to be in a bachelor program if they fail to achieve or maintain the minimum grade requirements for Honours described under the Academic Standards for BSc and BSc Honours Programs section above.

Option to Graduate with a BSc Degree (Bachelor Program). Students registered for a BSc Honours degree may opt to graduate with a BSc degree if they fulfill bachelor program requirements. See Graduation in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Advising, Enrolment, Registration, Graduation and Other Administrative Procedures section of this Calendar for details.

Examinations

Most courses in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science schedule three-hour final examinations. Examinations are scheduled during day and evening hours.

Students are admitted to the examination hall five minutes before the scheduled start time and are required to present their sessional identification cards and acceptable photo identification cards when writing final examinations. Unauthorized aids may not be taken into the examination halls. No student may leave the examination hall within 15 minutes of the end of the scheduled examination period. All students must remain seated at the conclusion of the examination period until all examination answer sheets/booklets have been collected by the invigilators. Examination booklets, used and unused, must be submitted intact, with no insertions and no pages removed.

A student observed deriving assistance from any unauthorized source is subject to the procedures and penalties defined under the Senate regulations regarding academic honesty (see the University Policies and Regulations section of this Calendar).

Students must maintain a standard of work in their courses of instruction satisfactory to the departments or divisions concerned, and must attend the required examinations, unless prevented by illness or by some other special circumstance.

A student who writes a final examination under duress, or who is prevented from attending an examination by illness or by some other special circumstance, must file a request for a deferred examination within the stated time limits and provide appropriate written evidence for consideration (see Deferred Examinations below).

Final examination answer sheets/booklets become the property of the teaching unit. Students have the right to review their graded tests and examinations once the grades have been published by the Registrar's Office. Students may request a copy at cost from the teaching unit.

Deferred Examinations / Aegrotat Standing

A student may request aegrotat standing, permission to write deferred examinations (in respect of final examinations only), or permission to submit a final assignment after the Faculty's deadline for submission of term work, on the grounds of sickness or misfortune.

It is the responsibility of the student to ensure that full documentation (medical or other) is provided in support of requests for deferred standing or aegrotat standing. A request submitted on the grounds of illness must include the attending physician's statement form completed by the petitioner's physician. Appropriate forms and guidelines are available from Student Client Services or the Current Students Web site.

Deferred Standing Agreement. In the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science, deferred standing may be arranged with the course director by means of a form called a deferred standing agreement (DSA). The DSA form and supporting documentation must normally be submitted within one week following a missed examination or the last day to submit coursework.

Deferred Standing Petition. A petition for deferred standing may be submitted if the course director indicates on the DSA form a refusal to approve deferred standing. The petition application, together with other written evidence to be taken into consideration, must normally be submitted to the Registrar's Office within one week following a missed examination or the last day to submit coursework.

Aegrotat Standing Petition. In exceptional circumstances, a petition for aegrotat standing may be submitted in cases where a student cannot be expected to complete coursework. If granted, the phrase AEG aegrotat standing is substituted for the grade on the transcript. Aegrotat standing is seldom granted in respect of final examinations; instead, the student may be granted permission to write deferred examination(s).

Term Work

All final grades, including those assigned after deferred examinations, are calculated in a way which assigns a specific weighting to the term work done in addition to the final (or deferred) examination. The weighting is set by the course director and must be announced and available in writing within the first two weeks of classes. If possible, information about assignments and grades for all courses should be made known to students at or before the first class meeting. A previously announced marking scheme for a course may be changed by the course director with the consent of students enrolled in the course; the new marking scheme must also be distributed in written form.

Prior to the final date to withdraw from a course without receiving a grade, some graded feedback worth at least 15 per cent of the final grade for Fall,

Winter or Summer Term and 30 per cent for 'full year' courses offered in the Fall/Winter Term is received by students in all courses (excepting the following: those senior undergraduate courses, such as honours theses, where course work consists of a single piece of work, practicum courses, ungraded courses, courses in Faculties where the drop date occurs within the first 3 weeks of classes, courses which run on a compressed schedule). Students who, in the absence of recognized extenuating circumstances, fail to complete such course work cannot use the lack of feedback as grounds for withdrawal.

The total value of any in-class test(s) or in-class examination(s) given in the last two weeks of classes in a term cannot be greater than 20 per cent of the final mark for the course.

All tests in a given section of a course must be given during the class or tutorial times listed in the Lecture Schedule for that section of the course. If a course director chooses to administer a test at a different time (i.e. during the class time of a different section of the course) special provisions will have to be made for students who have conflicts with the new time.

Term work in any course may not be submitted later than the first day of the final examination period for the course. Earlier final dates for the submission of term work may be set at the discretion of the department/division concerned.

The student is responsible for ensuring that all written term work is received by the instructor concerned.

Reappraisal of Final Grades

Examination scripts and class records of students are carefully assessed, especially in marginal cases, and there is little likelihood of the original standing being changed on appeal. In the case of final examinations, however, a formal written request for recalculation or reappraisal of a final grade may be made to the academic department/division which offers the course. Requests for grade reappraisals must be submitted within three weeks of the release of final grade reports in any term, and must state clearly why the student believes that the final grade deserves a higher rating. Recalculations and reappraisals are dealt with by the Chair/director of the department/division in consultation with faculty members.

Recognition of Excellence

Dean's Honour Roll

The annual Dean's Honour Roll recognizes academic excellence by assigning the notation "Member of Dean's Honour Roll" to the grade report and transcript of a student who achieves a sessional credit-weighted grade point average of 7.5 or higher on a minimum of 24 credits, or, in the final year of study, a minimum of 18 credits.

BSc and BSc Honours candidates coregistered in the Faculty of Education, who are registered in a minimum of 24 credits overall (of which at least 18 credits are for the BSc or BSc Honours) and who achieve a sessional credit-weighted grade point average of 7.5 or higher on their credits for the BSc or BSc Honours, are also eligible to be on the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Dean's Honour Roll.

First-Class Degrees

The Faculty of Pure and Applied Science rewards exceptional students by designating their BSc or BSc Honours degrees "first class" or "first class with distinction".

First-class standing is normally awarded to students whose cumulative credit-weighted grade point average is 7.5 or higher overall and in the science major subject area(s).

With distinction is normally added to the first class BSc or BSc Honours degree of students whose cumulative credit-weighted grade point average is 8.0 (A) or higher overall and in the science major subject area(s).

Warnings and Sanctions

Note: The following applies to students admitted to York University for Fall 2001 and subsequent sessions. Students admitted before Fall 2001 should consult the Undergraduate Programs Calendar of the year in which they were admitted for information regarding warnings and sanctions which apply to them.

Academic Warning

Students whose cumulative overall grade point average falls below 4.0 (C) at the end of any session or who enter the Faculty with a grade point average equivalent to less than 4.0 (C) receive an academic warning. Students on academic warning must achieve a cumulative overall grade point average of at least 3.5 by the end of the next 30 credits in order to continue; otherwise they will have failed to gain standing.

Failure to Gain Standing

Students are said to have failed to gain standing if their cumulative overall grade point average falls below 2.5 at any time after completion of 24 credits or if they were on academic warning and did not achieve the cumulative overall grade point average of at least 3.5 by the end of the next 30 credits. Students who have failed to gain standing may not register for any courses unless they are re-admitted to the University. Applications for re-admission, not normally considered within one year from the date of failure to gain standing, should be made to the director of admissions.

Debarment Warning

Students who have failed to gain standing in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science, or the equivalent in another Faculty at York University or elsewhere, receive a debarment warning upon continuing their studies in the Faculty. Students on debarment warning must achieve a cumulative overall grade point average of at least 3.5 within the next 24 credits taken in order to continue. Students who do not fulfill these conditions will be debarred from the University.

Debarment

Students who have been debarred may be re-admitted in some subsequent session only if they give convincing evidence that they can profit from university work. Applications for re-admission are not normally entertained in less than two years from the date of debarment.

Academic Dishonesty

See the York University Senate regulations regarding academic honesty in the University Policies and Regulations section of this Calendar. For further information contact the Office of Science Academic Services.

Note: Students cannot drop any courses in which they have been penalized for a breach of academic honesty.

Petitions

Students may petition on reasonable grounds, in writing, any Faculty of Pure and Applied Science regulation. In some instances, circumstances affecting a student's performance in initial University course work will be accepted as grounds for petition. All enquiries about regulations and petition procedures should be addressed to the Registrar's Office. For information regarding petitions for deferred examinations, see Deferred Examinations in this section of the Calendar. Petition forms must be submitted to Student Client Services.

Normally petitions for late withdrawal from a course will only be considered if they are submitted within three weeks of the release of final grades. Such petitions may be considered for a period of up to one year if they are based on special circumstances.

Appeals Procedures

Appeals by students and/or faculty members against rulings of the Petitions Committee and/or the Committee on Examinations and Academic Standards of the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science (with the exception of appeals on academic dishonesty rulings - see below) must be filed in writing with the secretary of the Executive and Planning Committee in the Office of the Dean, 1012M Computer Science and Engineering Building, within 15 calendar days of the date of notification of the decision.

Appeals against rulings of the petitions committee and/or the committee on examinations and academic standing will be heard by a panel of two faculty members of the executive and planning committee and one student member selected from student members of the Faculty council. In the rare event that a decision of a panel of the executive and planning committee, or of the Senate Appeals Committee, requires a completely new (de novo) hearing, the matter will be heard by a panel of three faculty members of the executive and planning committee and one student member selected from student members of the Faculty council. These panels will be constituted, as required, from available members, by the secretary of the executive and planning committee.

Members shall disqualify themselves if they are involved as a party or witness in the case, or believe that they could not be impartial. Where members disqualify themselves, alternate members will replace them.

Appeals are heard only on the following grounds:

- a) new evidence; i.e. evidence that, through no fault of the appellant, could not reasonably have been presented at an earlier level; (As a guide, events or performance subsequent to the decisions of the petitions committee and/or the committee on examinations and academic standing are not to be construed as new evidence.)
- b) evidence of procedural irregularity in the previous consideration of the case by the petitions committee and/or the committee on examinations and academic standing. This may be understood to include actions taken by the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science, its officers, committees or members with respect to the case which would violate or nullify any of the following:
  - normal and written procedures of the Faculty;
  - recognized custom of the Faculty;
  - the principles of natural justice and fairness.

Students and faculty members have the right to represent themselves at appeal hearings to hear and answer allegations and to present their arguments. Appeal hearings are not open to anyone not directly involved in the case being considered. The committee's decision is taken in camera.

All appeal decisions are reported in writing to the students and the faculty members concerned, the Office of Science Academic Services, the home Faculty and the Registrar's Office.

Further appeals may be made to the Senate Appeals Committee. Enquiries about these appeals, and the grounds upon which they may be filed, should be directed to the Senate Office, S833 Ross.

Appeals on academic dishonesty rulings are also made directly to the Senate Appeals Committee. Appeals are heard only on the same grounds as cited above.

IV. Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements

The Credit System

The Faculty of Pure and Applied Science operates under a credit system in which a prescribed number of credits, intended to reflect total workload, is associated with each course offered by the University. One lecture hour per week per term is defined as one academic credit as is one laboratory session per week per term. For York University courses (excepting some courses offered by the Faculty of Education), the number of credits in each course is indicated by the number which follows the four-digit course number. (Note: practicum credits are defined differently - see Kinesiology and Health Science in the Courses of Instruction section of this Calendar.)

Year of Study Equivalents

When it is necessary to equate credits earned with year level, the following guidelines are used:

- fewer than 24 credits earned - study level one;
- more than or equal to 24 and fewer than 54 credits earned - study level two;
- more than or equal to 54 and fewer than 84 credits earned - study level three;

- more than or equal to 84 credits earned - study level four (with the exception that bachelor programs never go beyond study level three, regardless of the number of credits earned).

Residence Requirement

In order to qualify for a York University BSc or BSc Honours degree in any bachelor or Honours program, a student must have successfully completed a minimum of 30 credits at York University and at least half (50 per cent) of the requirements in each science major/minor must be taken in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science.

Time Limit

There is no time limit for completion of degree requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science. Students taking a normal full-time load of approximately 30 credits per fall/winter session can expect to complete a BSc degree in three fall/winter sessions or a BSc Honours degree in four fall/winter sessions. A limited number of courses are also available during the summer session; a maximum of 12 credits can be taken in that session.

Although there is no minimum number of credits in which a student must enrol in any session, students who do not enrol in any courses in a fall/winter session must formally apply to have their files reactivated before resuming their studies in a subsequent session (see Reactivation in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Advising, Enrolment, Registration, Graduation and Other Administrative Procedures section of this Calendar).

Since science curriculum is constantly evolving through the introduction of new course requirements and/or prerequisites, students are strongly advised to complete their degree requirements in as short a period of time as their personal circumstances and university schedules permit, in order to minimize the impact of such changes.

Degree Credit Exclusions

The University offers some courses in which at least part of the content is similar to that presented in other courses. To ensure that degree credit is not granted more than once for similar content, the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science and the Faculty of Arts designate such courses as degree credit exclusions (usually called exclusions). The exclusion(s) for a particular course are listed at the end of the course outline in this Calendar. (Note that the courses within such a list may not be exclusions of one another - e.g. two courses may have nothing in common with each other yet may both overlap a third course.)

If a student in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science enrolls in and successfully completes two courses which are designated as exclusions of each other, degree credit is given for only one. Both courses appear on the student's official York University transcript, and are included in grade point average calculations (except in the case of pass/fail graded courses) and in the total number of credits taken (for determination of status regarding academic warning and failure to gain standing).

For information regarding Atkinson Faculty of Liberal and Professional Studies courses as exclusions for science courses in this Calendar, science students must refer to the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science degree credit exclusion/equivalent tables which are available in the Office of Science Academic Services beginning in March each year.

A course (or combination of courses) designated as an exclusion for another course may be substituted for the latter (for the purposes of satisfying prerequisite and/or degree requirements) only with Faculty/department/division/program approval. Information regarding approved substitute courses may be found in the program of study requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar, in the prerequisite requirements listed for courses in this Calendar, in the departmental supplementary calendars, or in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science degree credit exclusion/equivalent tables.

References to discontinued courses are retained in the exclusion listings in Calendar copy for only a limited number of years. Written permission of the department(s) to take both courses for credit is advisable before enrolling in a course which may overlap a discontinued course taken previously which is no longer listed as an exclusion. Such permission should be added to the student's file in the Registrar's Office.

College Courses

Regulations governing college courses vary from Faculty to Faculty. The following regulations apply to BSc and BSc Honours candidates:

- College courses not cross-listed with humanities or social science cannot fulfill general education requirements;
- a maximum of six credits from 1000-level college courses may be counted towards a BSc or BSc Honours degree.

Courses Taken Elsewhere

See Advanced Standing and Courses Taken Outside the Faculty/Letters of Permission in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Advising, Enrolment, Registration, Graduation and Other Administrative Procedures section of this Calendar.

General Education Requirements

General education courses are required within all BSc, BSc Honours and BASc Honours degree programs. These non-science courses provide a broad perspective on current scholarship and the diversity of human experience. The courses are also expected to enhance students' critical skills in reading, writing and thinking, and contribute to their preparation for post-university life.

All BSc and BSc Honours candidates must complete a minimum of 12 credits from two different areas of study, including at least three credits from each area, subject to the restrictions noted below. For the purposes of this regulation "different area" means offered by different academic units such as divisions, departments or Faculties and excluding courses offered by similar departments in different Faculties (such as English in the Faculty of Arts and the Atkinson Faculty of Liberal and Professional Studies). Subject to the restrictions listed below, courses in the following areas may be taken in the Faculty of Arts, the Atkinson Faculty of Liberal and Professional Studies or Glendon.

classical studies * economics
English
French studies *
geography **
history
humanities languages, literature and linguistics *
philosophy political science social science sociology
women's studies ***

The following courses offered by the Faculty of Environmental Studies may be taken to satisfy Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education requirements: ES/ENVS 1000 6.00, ES/ENVS 2150 3.00.

The following courses offered by the Faculty of Fine Arts may be taken to satisfy Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education requirements: FA/DANC 1340 3.00, FA/DANC 2340 3.00, FA/FACS 1900 6.00, FA/FACS 2900 6.00, FA/FILM 1400 6.00, FA/FILM 2401 6.00, FA/MUSI 1510 6.00, FA/MUSI 1520 6.00, FA/MUSI 1530 6.00, FA/THEA 1500 6.00, FA/THEA 2210 3.00, FA/VISA 1110 6.00, FA/VISA 1340 6.00, FA/VISA 2110 6.00, FA/VISA 2540 6.00, FA/VISA 2550 6.00, FA/VISA 2560 6.00, FA/VISA 2620 6.00, FA/VISA 2680 3.00.

General education courses are normally taken at the 1000 or 2000 level, but higher-level courses are acceptable, subject only to prerequisites and course access specifications for enrolment.

Permission may be granted by the Office of Science Academic Services, on an individual basis, for a student to take a course outside the areas and Faculties listed above for general education credit, subject to the course fulfilling the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science breadth and critical skills requirements for general education courses, the student having the appropriate prerequisites and the course access specifications permitting enrolment. A student who is in doubt regarding whether or not any specific course will fulfill the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education requirements should consult the Office of Science Academic Services.

Restrictions

1. Courses which are cross-listed as SC courses or which are eligible for SC credit cannot count as general education courses.
2. Courses whose major focus is increased facility in the use of a language cannot count as general education courses. Such courses are offered in the departments marked with an * above.
3. Quantitative courses focusing on techniques of mathematics or statistics cannot count as general education courses. For example, this applies to some economics courses.
4. ** Geography courses cannot be used to satisfy general education requirements for BSc or BSc Honours candidates majoring in geography.
5. *** excluding women's studies courses which are cross-listed with natural science courses.

Note: 1. General education courses may not be taken on a pass/fail basis (see Pass/Fail Grading Option in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Examinations and Academic Standards section of this Calendar).

2. Students may not take for credit any more than three Humanities/Social Science Foundations courses (27 credits).

General Regulations

1. All students are required to observe the regulations of the University. Unless otherwise stated, any changes in regulations become effective as announced. This policy is not meant to disadvantage students as they proceed through their studies, including those who have completed a number of courses. It is intended to ensure that their preparation for courses is appropriate and current. Students should consult closely with departments and the Faculty through the advising process.

2. It is the student's responsibility to enrol in only those courses for which the student has successfully completed all designated prerequisites and to take concurrently all specified corequisites not already completed successfully. See also prerequisites/corequisites under Advising in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Advising, Enrolment, Registration, Graduation and Other Administrative Procedures section of this Calendar.

3. All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates are required to indicate a choice of degree program (bachelor, Specialized Honours, Honours Double Major or Honours Major/Minor) upon successful completion of 24 credits. A minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed is required for Honours programs (see Academic Standards for BSc and BSc Honours Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Examinations and Academic Standards section of this Calendar). See also Designation of Honours or Bachelor Program in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Examinations and Academic Standards section of this Calendar. See the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Advising, Enrolment, Registration, Graduation and Other Administrative Procedures section of this Calendar for information about changing degree programs.

4. All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates in bachelor and Honours programs must successfully complete the following minimum requirements, normally at the 1000 level:

- at least 24 science credits, excluding SC/CHEM 1500 4.00, SC/MATH 1510 6.00, SC/MATH 1515 3.00, SC/PHYS 1510 4.00 and all natural science courses, and including at least two credits in introductory computer science, six credits in approved mathematics courses, and 12 credits in courses with laboratories;
- 12 general education credits (see General Education Requirements in this section of the Calendar).

5. Bachelor Programs. All BSc degree candidates in all bachelor programs must, through registration in courses at York University or elsewhere deemed creditable towards the BSc degree,

- a) satisfy regulations 2, 3 and 4;
- b) present a total of at least 90 passed credits of which

- a minimum of 66 must be earned in science courses,
  - a minimum of 24 must be earned in one major science subject area,
  - a minimum of 18 must be earned in courses at the 3000 or higher level;
- c) satisfy the Senate academic standards for bachelor programs - see Academic Standards for BSc and BSc Honours Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Examinations and Academic Standards section of this Calendar;
- d) satisfy the program of study requirements specified in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar for the bachelor program declared.
6. Honours Programs. All candidates for the BSc Honours degree in all Honours programs must, through registration in courses at York University or elsewhere deemed creditable towards the BSc Honours degree,
- a) satisfy regulations 2, 3 and 4;
- b) present a total of at least 120 passed credits of which;
- a minimum of 90 must be earned in science courses (or a minimum of 66 for BSc Honours Double Major and Major/Minor programs where the second major or the minor is taken in a non-science subject area),
  - a minimum of 54 must be earned in the major science subject area (BSc Specialized Honours programs); a minimum of 36 in (each of) the major subject area(s) (BSc Honours Double Major and Honours Major/Minor programs); a minimum of 30 in the minor subject area (BSc Honours Major/Minor programs),
  - a minimum of 42 must be earned in courses at the 3000 or higher level.
- c) satisfy the Faculty and Senate academic standards for Honours programs - see Academic Standards for BSc and BSc Honours Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Examinations and Academic Standards section of this Calendar;
- d) satisfy the program of study requirements specified in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar for the declared Honours program and major and minor subject area(s).

Faculty of Pure and Applied Science – Programs of Study

V. Programs of Study

Applied Mathematics

See the Mathematics and Statistics section.

Atmospheric Chemistry (Applied Science Streams)

The Department of Chemistry and the Department of Earth and Space Science and Engineering offer degree program Streams in Atmospheric Chemistry. Both programs of study are particularly demanding and will be of interest to students with academic performances of B grade or better.

i) All BSc Honours degree candidates must complete the program core (normally before proceeding to 3000- or higher-level courses): SC/CHEM 1000 3.00; SC/CHEM 1001 3.00; SC/CHEM 2010 3.00; SC/CHEM 2011 3.00; SC/CHEM 2020 6.00; SC/CHEM 2030 4.00; SC/CHEM 2080 4.00; SC/EATS 2010 3.00; SC/MATH 2015 3.00; SC/MATH 2270 3.00.

ii) All BSc Honours degree candidates must comply with general regulation 4 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) by completing the following (in addition to SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00 from the program core):

- SC/COSC 1540 3.00;
- SC/EATS 1011 3.00 (Honours Double Major stream only);
- SC/MATH 1013 3.00; SC/MATH 1014 3.00; SC/MATH 1025 3.00;
- SC/PHYS 1010 6.00*;
- 12 general education credits (see General Education Requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar).

*Note: SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 with a minimum grade of C may replace SC/PHYS 1010 6.00.

iii) All BSc Honours degree candidates, in accordance with their declared programs, must comply with general regulation 6 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) and, in so doing, must also satisfy the course, credit and standing requirements specified below.

Honours Programs

To declare Honours requires successful completion of at least 24 credits and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exception in the note below.

To proceed in each year of an Honours program requires a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exception in the note below.

To graduate in an Honours program requires successful completion of all Faculty requirements and departmental required courses and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exception in the note below.

Note: students admitted to York University prior to 1999-2000 may declare Honours and proceed and graduate in Honours programs according to the academic standards of the year in which they were admitted.

Specialized Honours Program in Chemistry: Atmospheric Chemistry Stream

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/CHEM 3011 4.00; SC/CHEM 3020 4.00; SC/CHEM 3030 4.00; SC/CHEM 3060 3.00; SC/CHEM 3080 4.00;
- SC/EATS 3030 3.00;

- SC/CHEM 4060 4.00; SC/CHEM 4061 4.00; SC/CHEM 4000 8.00;
- four additional credits chosen from 3000- and 4000-level chemistry courses or from 3000- or 4000-level earth and atmospheric science courses chosen in consultation with the Department of Chemistry;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits.

Honours Double Major Program in Chemistry and Earth and Atmospheric Science: Atmospheric Chemistry Stream

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/EATS 2470 3.00;
- SC/CHEM 3011 4.00; SC/CHEM 3080 4.00;
- SC/CHEM 3060 3.00 or SC/EATS 3130 3.00;
- SC/EATS 3030 3.00; SC/EATS 3040 3.00;
- SC/CHEM 4060 4.00;
- SC/CHEM 4061 4.00;
- SC/CHEM 4000 4.00 or SC/EATS 4000 3.00;
- SC/EATS 4050 3.00; SC/EATS 4120 3.00;
- SC/MATH 3241 3.00;
- at least 12 additional credits (including at least three credits in earth and atmospheric science) from the following: SC/EATS 4051 3.00, SC/EATS 4130 3.00, SC/EATS 4140 3.00, SC/EATS 4150 3.00, SC/EATS 4160 3.00, SC/EATS 4230 3.00, SC/CHEM 3010 4.00, SC/CHEM 3020 4.00, SC/CHEM 3021 4.00, SC/CHEM 3030 4.00, SC/CHEM 3031 4.00, SC/PHYS 2020 3.00.

Biochemistry

The Department of Biology and the Department of Chemistry offer jointly a Specialized Honours Program in Biochemistry.

Specialized Honours Program

i) All BSc Honours degree candidates must complete the program core: SC/BIOL 1010 6.00, SC/CHEM 1000 3.00, SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1010 6.00, SC/BCHM 2020 4.00, SC/BCHM 2021 4.00, SC/BIOL 2040 4.00, SC/CHEM 2011 3.00, SC/CHEM 2020 6.00, SC/CHEM 2030 3.00.

ii) All BSc Honours biochemistry degree candidates must comply with general regulation 4 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section (IV) of this Calendar) by completing:

- SC/MATH 1013 3.00 and SC/MATH 1014 3.00;
- SC/COSC 1520 3.00, SC/COSC 1530 3.00, or SC/COSC 1540 3.00.

iii) 12 general education credits.

iv) All BSc Honours degree candidates must comply with general regulation 6 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section (IV) of this Calendar) and, in so doing, must also satisfy the course, credit and standing requirements specified below.

Honours Programs

To declare Honours requires successful completion of at least 24 credits, a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.5 (B) over all science (SC) courses completed, and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed.

To proceed in each year of the Honours program requires a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.5 (B) over all science (SC) courses completed, and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed.

To graduate in Specialized Honours Biochemistry requires successful completion of all Faculty requirements and all required program courses, a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.5 (B) over all science (SC) courses completed, and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed.

Specialized Honours Biochemistry Program

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/BCHM 3010 3.00, SC/BCHM 3110 3.00, SC/BCHM 3130 3.00, SC/BCHM 3140 4.00, SC/BCHM 3051 3.00, SC/CHEM 3020 4.00, SC/BCHM 4290 4.00, SC/BCHM 4000 8.00, SC/BCHM 4050 3.00, nine credits from any other 3000- or 4000-level biochemistry, biology or chemistry courses;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits.

Biology

i) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates (except those in Honours Double Major programs) must complete the program core: SC/BIOL 1010 6.00; and any five of SC/BIOL 2010 4.00, SC/BIOL 2020 4.00, SC/BIOL 2021 4.00, SC/BIOL 2030 4.00, SC/BIOL 2040 4.00, SC/BIOL 2050 4.00, SC/BIOL 2060 3.00, SC/CHEM 2020 6.00.

ii) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates must comply with general regulation 4 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) by completing the following (in addition to SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 from the program core):

- SC/COSC 1520 3.00 or SC/COSC 1530 3.00 or SC/COSC 1540 3.00;
- SC/MATH 1505 6.00, or six credits from SC/MATH 1013 3.00, SC/MATH 1014 3.00, SC/MATH 1025 3.00; (Note: students intending to combine biology with applied mathematics, chemistry, computer science, earth and atmospheric science, mathematics, physics and astronomy or statistics should not take SC/MATH 1505 6.00.)
- six credits from SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00 (prerequisites for SC/BIOL 2020 4.00 and SC/CHEM 2020 6.00), SC/EATS 1010 3.00 and SC/EATS 1011 3.00, SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1010 6.00;
- a minimum of three additional credits from SC/BC 1800 3.00, SC/CHEM 1000 3.00, SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, SC/EATS 1010 3.00, SC/EATS 1011 3.00, SC/MATH 1025 3.00, SC/MATH 1190 3.00, SC/PHYS 1070 3.00, SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1010 6.00; (Note: SC/PSYC 1010 6.00 may be included in this section for Honours Double Major and Honours Major/Minor combinations of biology and psychology.)
- 12 general education credits (see General Education Requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar).

iii) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates, in accordance with their declared programs, must comply with general regulation 5 or 6 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) and, in so doing, must also satisfy the course, credit and standing requirements specified below.

Bachelor Program

To Graduate in a Bachelor Program. For students admitted to York University for 2001-2002 and subsequent years, the Senate of York University requires a minimum overall grade point average of 4.0 (C) in order to be eligible to graduate with a BSc degree (bachelor program).

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- additional credits from biology courses, as required for an overall total of at least 46 credits from biology courses;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 90 credits, including at least 66 credits from science courses and at least 18 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Honours Programs

To declare Honours requires successful completion of at least 24 credits, a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 6.0 (B) over all science (SC) courses completed, and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To proceed in each year of an Honours program requires a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 6.0 (B) over all science (SC) courses completed, and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To graduate in an Honours program requires successful completion of all Faculty requirements and departmental required courses, a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 6.0 (B) over all science (SC) courses completed, and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

Notes:

1. The minimum 6.0 (B) science grade point average is not required where biology is the minor in an Honours Major/Minor program. Only the minimum 5.0 (C+) overall grade point average is required in that case.
2. Students admitted to York University prior to 1999-2000 may declare Honours and proceed and graduate in Honours programs according to the academic standards of the year in which they were admitted.

Specialized Honours Program

Students may follow a Stream in Biology, Biotechnology or Conservation Ecology.

Biology Stream

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/BIOL 3100 2.00; SC/BIOL 4000 8.00 or SC/BIOL 4000 3.00;
- additional credits from biology courses, as required for an overall total of at least 68 credits from biology courses;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits from science courses and at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Biotechnology Stream

- the program core, as specified in i) above, including SC/BIOL 1010 6.00, SC/BIOL 2020 4.00, SC/BIOL 2021 4.00, SC/BIOL 2040 4.00, SC/BIOL 2060 3.00 and SC/CHEM 2020 6.00;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above, including the following:
  - 12 general education credits, including AS/ECON 1000 3.00, AS/ECON 1010 3.00 and either AS/PHIL 2070 3.00 or AS/PHIL 2075 3.00;
  - SC/COSC 1520 3.00 or SC/COSC 1530 3.00 or SC/COSC 1540 3.00;
  - SC/MATH 1505 6.00, or six credits from SC/MATH 1013 3.00, SC/MATH 1014 3.00, SC/MATH 1025 3.00;
  - SC/CHEM 1000 3.00; SC/CHEM 1001 3.00; SC/PHYS 1410 6.00;
- SC/CHEM 2080 4.00; SC/CHEM 3070 3.00 or SC/CHEM 3071 3.00; SC/CHEM 3080 4.00;
- SB/BFND 3100 3.00; SB/BFND 3200 3.00;
- SC/BIOL 3110 3.00; SC/BIOL 3130 3.00; SC/BIOL 3140 4.00; SC/BIOL 3150 3.00;
- SC/BIOL 4000 8.00; SC/BIOL 4290 4.00;
- a minimum of 12 credits chosen from the following courses in lists A and B, with a minimum of six credits chosen from list A. List A: SC/BIOL 3010 3.00, SC/BIOL 3120 3.00, SC/BIOL 3155 3.00, SC/BIOL 4061 3.00, SC/BIOL 4110 4.00, SC/BIOL 4280 3.00, SC/BIOL 4285 3.00; List B: SC/BIOL 3160 4.00 (SC/BIOL 2010 4.00 is a prerequisite), SC/BIOL 4040 3.00, SC/BIOL 4150 3.00, SC/BIOL 4151 3.00, SC/BIOL 4270 3.00, SC/BIOL 4370 3.00, SC/BIOL 4510 3.00;

- additional elective credits as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits.

Conservation Ecology Stream

- the program core, as specified in i) above, including SC/BIOL 1010 6.00, SC/BIOL 2010 4.00, SC/BIOL 2030 4.00, SC/BIOL 2040 4.00, SC/BIOL 2050 4.00 and SC/BIOL 2060 3.00;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above, including the following:
  - 12 general education credits (see General Education Requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar); (AS/PHIL 2075 3.00 and ES/ENVS 1000 6.00 are recommended.)
  - SC/COSC 1520 3.00 or SC/COSC 1530 3.00 or SC/COSC 1540 3.00;
  - SC/CHEM 1000 3.00; SC/CHEM 1001 3.00;
  - SC/MATH 1505 6.00, or six credits from SC/MATH 1013 3.00, SC/MATH 1014 3.00, SC/MATH 1025 3.00;
  - SC/EATS 1010 3.00, SC/EATS 1011 3.00;
- SC/BIOL 3001 2.00 or SC/BIOL 3001 3.00; SC/BIOL 3170 3.00; SC/BIOL 3200 3.00;
- SC/BIOL 4000 8.00; SC/BIOL 4095 3.00; SC/BIOL 4245 3.00; SC/BIOL 4255 3.00; SC/BIOL 4265 3.00; at least seven additional credits from biology courses at the 4000 level, chosen in consultation with the department;
- additional credits from biology courses, as required for an overall total of at least 68 credits from biology courses;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits from science courses and at least 42 credits from courses at the 3000 or higher level.

Honours Double Major Program

All BSc Honours degree candidates should consult departmental advisers as early as possible concerning course requirements for particular Honours Double Major programs. The following are the normal minimum requirements, but some subject combinations require more than the minimum number of biology credits and/or specific biology courses (consult the departmental undergraduate handbook for details). Possible subject combinations for BSc Honours Double Major degree programs are listed under Undergraduate Degree Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

- SC/BIOL 1010 6.00;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above and including courses appropriate for the second major;
- at least 12 credits from 2000-level biology courses in the program core (see i) above);
- at least 12 credits from biology courses at the 3000 or higher level;
- additional credits from biology courses, as required for an overall total of at least 36 credits from biology courses;
- the course requirements for the second major;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits from science courses and at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Honours Major/Minor Program

An Honours major in biology may be combined with an Honours minor in another subject area in a BSc Honours Major/Minor degree program. Possible subject combinations are listed under Undergraduate Degree Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above and including courses appropriate for the minor;
- the biology Honours major requirements below;
- the course requirements for the minor;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Honours Major (for Honours Major/Minor Programs)

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- SC/BIOL 4000 3.00 or SC/BIOL 4000 8.00;
- additional credits from biology courses, as required for an overall total of at least 51 credits from biology courses.

Note: both SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00 are required as prerequisites for SC/BIOL 2020 4.00 and SC/CHEM 2020 6.00 in the program core.

Honours Minor

- SC/BIOL 1010 6.00;
- at least 12 credits from biology courses at the 2000 level;
- at least nine credits from biology courses at the 3000 or higher level;
- additional credits from biology courses at the 2000 or higher level, as required for an overall total of at least 30 credits from biology courses.

Note: it is recommended that students interested in cell biology, genetics, molecular biology and biochemistry take the following courses: SC/BIOL 1010 6.00, SC/CHEM 1000 3.00, SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, SC/BIOL 2020 4.00, SC/BIOL 2021 4.00, SC/BIOL 2040 4.00 and SC/CHEM 2020 6.00, plus a minimum of nine additional credits from biology courses at the 3000 or higher level. For other areas of interest, students are advised to choose their 2000-level biology courses wisely, based on the prerequisites for the courses they wish to take at the 3000 or higher level. Check the course outlines in this Calendar for course prerequisites.

Chemistry

i) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates (exception noted below) must complete the program core (normally before proceeding to 3000- or higher- level courses): SC/CHEM 1000 3.00; SC/CHEM 1001 3.00; SC/CHEM 2010 3.00; SC/CHEM 2011 3.00; SC/CHEM 2020 6.00; SC/CHEM 2030 4.00.

ii) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates must comply with general regulation 4 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) by completing the following (in addition to SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00 from the program core):

- SC/COSC 1540 3.00 or SC/COSC 1020 3.00 or SC/COSC 1520 3.00 or SC/COSC 1530 3.00;
- SC/MATH 1013 3.00; SC/MATH 1014 3.00;
- SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1010 6.00 (not necessarily in year one);
- for bachelor and Specialized Honours programs (except in the Pharmaceutical and Biological Chemistry Stream): three credits from SC/MATH 1021 3.00, SC/MATH 1025 3.00, SC/MATH 2015 3.00, SC/MATH 2221 3.00, SC/MATH 2310 3.00; for Specialized Honours Stream in Pharmaceutical and Biological Chemistry: SC/BIOL 1010 6.00; for Honours Double Major and Honours Major/Minor programs: at least three credits from SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 (strongly recommended for students lacking OAC biology), SC/EATS 1010 3.00, SC/EATS 1011 3.00, SC/MATH 1025 3.00, or from other 1000-level science courses required for the second major or the minor;
- additional 1000-level science credits (excluding SC/CHEM 1500 4.00, SC/MATH 1510 6.00, SC/MATH 1515 3.00, SC/PHYS 1510 4.00 and all natural science courses), if required, for an overall total of at least 24 credits from 1000-level science courses; (SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 is strongly recommended for students lacking OAC biology.)
- 12 general education credits (see General Education Requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar).

iii) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates, in accordance with their declared programs, must comply with general regulation 5 or 6 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) and, in so doing, must also satisfy the course, credit and standing requirements specified below.

Bachelor Program

To Graduate in a Bachelor Program. For students admitted to York University for 2001-2002 and subsequent years, the Senate of York University requires a minimum overall grade point average of 4.0 (C) in order to be eligible to graduate with a BSc degree (bachelor program).

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/CHEM 2080 4.00;
- at least 21 credits from chemistry courses at the 3000 level, for an overall total of at least 47 credits from chemistry courses; (Note: SC/CHEM 3080 4.00 is strongly advised.)
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 90 credits, including at least 66 credits from science courses.

Honours Programs

To declare Honours requires successful completion of at least 24 credits and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To proceed in each year of an Honours program requires a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To graduate in an Honours program requires successful completion of all Faculty requirements and departmental required courses and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

Notes:

1. In addition, a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 6.0 (B) over all science (SC) courses completed is required to declare, proceed and graduate in (i) the Honours Double Major program where biology is the other major, and (ii) the Honours Major/Minor program where biology is the major. (The minimum 6.0 (B) science grade point average is not required where biology is the minor.)

2. Students admitted to York University prior to 1999-2000 may declare Honours and proceed and graduate in Honours programs according to the academic standards of the year in which they were admitted.

Specialized Honours Program

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/CHEM 2080 4.00;
- SC/CHEM 3010 4.00 or SC/CHEM 3011 4.00; SC/CHEM 3020 4.00; SC/CHEM 3030 4.00; SC/CHEM 3080 4.00;
- SC/CHEM 4000 8.00;
- a minimum of 18 additional credits from chemistry courses at the 3000 or 4000 level, of which at least 10 must be at the 4000 level, for an overall total of at least 68 credits from chemistry courses;
- additional science credits, as required for an overall total of at least 90 credits from science courses;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits.

In the applied chemistry area, the Department of Chemistry offers a Specialized Honours Program Stream in Atmospheric Chemistry (see separate entry in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar) and a Specialized Honours Program Stream in Pharmaceutical and Biological Chemistry.

In addition, students may develop a concentration in analytical chemistry, or materials chemistry, for which they should consult the Department of Chemistry on course selection.

Specialized Honours Program Stream in Pharmaceutical and Biological Chemistry

A degree program stream of interest as an entry into the field of pharmaceutical (medicinal) chemistry, or for those wishing to explore biologically relevant topics and issues from a chemical perspective. It is suitable for employment in the pharmaceutical and related industries, and in government laboratories, as well as for graduate work in areas of biological chemistry, including medicinal chemistry and structural biology.

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above (SC/MATH 1013 3.00 and SC/MATH 1014 3.00 may be replaced by SC/MATH 1505 6.00 with a minimum grade of B);
- SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00; SC/BIOL 2040 4.00; SC/CHEM 2080 4.00;
- SC/CHEM 3011 4.00; SC/CHEM 3020 4.00; SC/CHEM 3030 4.00; SC/CHEM 3050 3.00; SC/CHEM 3051 3.00; SC/CHEM 3071 3.00; SC/CHEM 3080 4.00;
- SC/CHEM 4000 8.00; SC/CHEM 4050 3.00; SC/CHEM 4051 3.00 or SC/CHEM 4021 3.00;
- at least three additional credits chosen from SC/CHEM 3021 3.00, SC/CHEM 4021 3.00 (if not already taken), SC/CHEM 4023 3.00, SC/CHEM 4051 3.00 (if not already taken), SC/BIOL 3110 3.00, SC/BIOL 4151 3.00;
- additional elective credits, as required, for an overall total of at least 120 credits including at least 90 credits from science courses.

Honours Double Major Program

Possible subject combinations are listed under Undergraduate Degree Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

Students should consult the departmental undergraduate handbook or a departmental adviser to plan their studies in order to meet the requirements for both majors and their prerequisites. The following are minimum chemistry requirements:

- SC/CHEM 1000 3.00, SC/CHEM 1001 3.00;
- any four of SC/CHEM 2010 3.00, SC/CHEM 2011 3.00, SC/CHEM 2020 6.00, SC/CHEM 2030 4.00 and SC/CHEM 2080 4.00;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- 18 chemistry credits at the 3000 and 4000 levels, including at least two four-credit 3000-level courses and including at least six credits at the 4000 level;
- SC/CHEM 4000 4.00 or SC/CHEM 4000 8.00 or an equivalent research project course in second major;
- the course requirements for the second major;
- additional elective credits, as required, for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits in science courses and at least 42 science credits at the 3000 or 4000 levels.

Honours Double Major programs are necessarily highly demanding and should not be considered by any student without an average academic performance of B grade or better.

In the applied chemistry area, the Department of Chemistry and the Department of Earth and Space Science and Engineering offer an Honours Double Major Program Stream in Atmospheric Chemistry (see separate entry in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar).

Honours Major/Minor Program

An Honours major in chemistry may be combined with an Honours minor in another subject area in a BSc Honours Major/Minor degree program. Possible subject combinations are listed under Undergraduate Degree Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

- the program core as specified in i) above;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above and including courses appropriate for the minor;
- SC/CHEM 2080 4.00;
- a minimum of 22 credits from chemistry courses at the 3000 or 4000 level, including a minimum of 16 credits from the following: SC/CHEM 3010 4.00, SC/CHEM 3011 4.00, SC/CHEM 3020 4.00, SC/CHEM 3021 4.00, SC/CHEM 3030 4.00, SC/CHEM 3031 4.00, SC/CHEM 3080 4.00;

- a minimum of nine additional credits from chemistry courses at the 4000 level, for an overall total of at least 57 credits from chemistry courses;
- the course requirements for the minor;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Note: The following courses are required as prerequisites or corequisites for the chemistry courses above: SC/MATH 1013 3.00; SC/MATH 1014 3.00; SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1010 6.00.

Honours Minor

- SC/CHEM 1000 3.00; SC/CHEM 1001 3.00;
- at least 24 additional credits from chemistry courses at the 2000 or higher level, for an overall total of at least 30 credits from chemistry courses.

Note: Some 2000-level chemistry courses require mathematics and physics courses as prerequisites or corequisites. Careful planning is required to ensure that prerequisites for the 2000- and higher-level chemistry courses in which the student is interested are completed.

Computer Science

i) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates must complete the program core: SC/COSC 1020 3.00; SC/COSC 1030 3.00; SC/COSC 2001 3.00; SC/COSC 2011 3.00; SC/COSC 2021 4.00; SC/COSC 2031 3.00; SC/COSC 3101 3.00; SC/COSC 3221 3.00; SC/COSC 3311 3.00; SC/MATH 1019 3.00; SC/MATH 1090 3.00; SC/MATH 1300 3.00; SC/MATH 1310 3.00; (see Note 2 below).

ii) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates must comply with general regulation 4 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) by completing the following (in addition to the computer science and mathematics courses from the program core):

- six credits from SC/BIOL 1010 6.00, SC/BIOL 1410 6.00, SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, SC/EATS 1010 3.00 and SC/EATS 1011 3.00, SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1010 6.00; (Note: in this context, SC/COSC 1020 3.00 and SC/COSC 1030 3.00 satisfy the other half of the 1000-level science requirement for courses with laboratories.)
- 12 general education credits (see General Education Requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar).

iii) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates, in accordance with their declared programs, must comply with general regulation 5 or 6 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) and, in so doing, must also satisfy the course, credit and standing requirements specified below.

iv) All BSc Honours degree candidates with a major in computer science must complete at least 30 credits which are neither computer science nor mathematics.

Note 1: See the general prerequisites for 2000-, 3000- and 4000-level computer science courses (under Courses of Instruction section of this Calendar) for information about cumulative grade point average requirements in completed computer science courses.

Note 2: To satisfy computer science degree requirements, SC/MATH 1000 3.00 or SC/MATH 1013 3.00 may be taken in lieu of SC/MATH 1300 3.00; SC/MATH 1010 3.00 or SC/MATH 1014 3.00 may be taken in lieu of SC/MATH 1310 3.00; SC/MATH 1021 3.00 or SC/MATH 2221 3.00 may be taken in lieu of SC/MATH 1025 3.00.

Bachelor Program

To Graduate in a Bachelor Program. For students admitted to York University for 2001-2002 and subsequent years, the Senate of York University requires a minimum overall grade point average of 4.0 (C) in order to be eligible to graduate with a BSc degree (bachelor program).

- the program core, as specified in i) above;

- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- at least nine additional credits from computer science courses at the 3000 level, including at least three credits from courses with second digit 4 (i.e. applications area), for an overall total of at least 37 credits from computer science courses;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 90 credits, including at least 66 credits from science courses.

Honours Programs

To declare Honours requires successful completion of at least 24 credits and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To proceed in each year of an Honours program requires a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To graduate in an Honours program requires successful completion of all Faculty requirements and departmental required courses and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

Notes:

1. In addition, a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 6.0 (B) over all science (SC) courses completed is required to declare, proceed and graduate in (i) the Space and Communication Sciences Stream of Specialized Honours (applies to students admitted prior to 2002-2003), (ii) the Honours Double Major program where biology is the other major, and (iii) the Honours Major/Minor program where biology is the major. (The minimum 6.0 (B) science grade point average is not required where biology is the minor.)

2. Students admitted to York University prior to 1999-2000 may declare Honours and proceed and graduate in Honours programs according to the academic standards of the year in which they were admitted.

Specialized Honours Program

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/MATH 1025 3.00; SC/MATH 2030 3.00;
- SC/COSC 3002 1.00, SC/COSC 3401 3.00; at least six additional credits from computer science courses at the 3000 level;
- at least 12 credits from computer science courses at the 4000 level, including SC/COSC 4101 3.00 or SC/COSC 4111 3.00 or SC/COSC 4115 3.00;
- at least six additional credits from computer science courses at the 3000 or 4000 level, for an overall total of at least 56 credits from computer science courses;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits from science courses, at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level, and at least 30 credits which are neither computer science nor mathematics.

Honours Double Major and Honours Major/Minor Programs

An Honours major in computer science may be combined with an Honours major in another subject area in a BSc Honours Double Major degree program, or with an Honours minor in another subject area in a BSc Honours Major/Minor degree program. Possible subject combinations are listed under Undergraduate Degree Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above and including choices appropriate for the second major or the minor;
- the computer science Honours major requirements below;
- the course requirements for the second major or the minor;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90* credits from science courses, at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level, and at least 30 credits which are neither computer science nor mathematics.

* or at least 66 credits from science courses if the minor is in a fine arts subject area

Honours Major

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- SC/MATH 2030 3.00;
- SC/COSC 3002 1.00, SC/COSC 3401 3.00;
- at least 12 credits from computer science courses at the 4000 level, for an overall total of at least 44 credits from computer science courses.

Honours Minor

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- SC/MATH 2030 3.00;
- SC/COSC 3002 1.00, SC/COSC 3401 3.00;
- six credits from computer science courses at the 4000 level, for an overall total of at least 38 credits from computer science courses.

It is recommended that students in Honours Double Major or Honours Major/Minor programs take a linear algebra course such as SC/MATH 1025 3.00 among their electives.

Earth and Atmospheric Science

Note: The following BSc and BSc Honours degree requirements do not apply to students in the Space and Communication Sciences Stream of Specialized Honours in earth and atmospheric science (see Space and Communication Sciences in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar) or the Atmospheric Chemistry Stream of Honours Double Major in earth and atmospheric science and chemistry (see Atmospheric Chemistry in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar).

i) With the exceptions noted above, all BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates must complete the EATS program core: SC/COSC 1540 3.00; SC/EATS 2030 3.00; SC/EATS 2470 3.00; SC/MATH 1013 3.00; SC/MATH 1014 3.00; SC/MATH 1025 3.00; SC/MATH 2015 3.00; SC/MATH 2270 3.00; SC/PHYS 1010 6.00; SC/PHYS 2020 3.00; SC/PHYS 2211 1.00.

ii) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates must comply with general regulation 4 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) by completing the following (in addition to the EATS program core):

- 12 general education credits (see General Education Requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar).

iii) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates, in accordance with their declared programs, must comply with general regulation 5 or 6 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) and, in so doing, must also satisfy the course, credit and standing requirements specified below.

Bachelor Program

To Graduate in a Bachelor Program. Students who were admitted to York University for 2001-2002 and subsequent years are required to have a minimum overall grade point average of 4.0 (C) in order to be eligible to graduate with a BSc degree (bachelor program).

- the EATS program core, as specified in i) above;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/EATS 1010 3.00, SC/EATS 1011 3.00, SC/CHEM 1000 3.00, SC/CHEM 1001 3.00; SC/EATS 2010 3.00 (for those wishing to emphasize Atmospheric Science) or SC/EATS 2050 4.00 (for those wishing to emphasize Earth Science); SC/MATH 2560 3.00 or SC/GEOG 2420 3.00, SC/EATS 3300 3.00;

- nine credits from SC/EATS 3010 2.00 and SC/EATS 3011 1.00, SC/EATS 3020 3.00, SC/EATS 3030 3.00, SC/EATS 3040 3.00, SC/EATS 3180 3.00, SC/MATH 3241 3.00, SC/PHYS 3050 3.00;
- nine additional credits from earth and atmospheric science courses at the 3000 or higher level;
- additional elective credits, approved by the Department of Earth and Space Science and Engineering, as required for an overall total of at least 90 credits, including at least 66 credits from science courses.

Honours Programs

To declare Honours requires successful completion of at least 24 credits and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To proceed in each year of an Honours program requires a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To graduate in an Honours program requires successful completion of all Faculty requirements and departmental required courses and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

Notes:

1. In addition, a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 6.0 (B) over all science (SC) courses completed is required to declare, proceed and graduate in (i) the Space and Communication Sciences Stream of Specialized Honours, (ii) the Honours Double Major program where biology is the other major, and (iii) the Honours Major/Minor program where biology is the major. (The minimum 6.0 (B) science grade point average is not required where biology is the minor.)

2. Students admitted to York University prior to 1999-2000 may declare Honours and proceed and graduate in Honours programs according to the academic standards of the year in which they were admitted.

Honours Cores

The atmospheric science Honours core requires the following in addition to the EATS program core: SC/EATS 1011 3.00; SC/EATS 2010 3.00; SC/EATS 3030 3.00; SC/EATS 3040 3.00; SC/EATS 4050 3.00; SC/EATS 4051 3.00; SC/EATS 4120 3.00; SC/EATS 4130 3.00; SC/EATS 4140 3.00; SC/EATS 4230 3.00; SC/MATH 3241 3.00.

The earth science Honours core requires the following in addition to the EATS program core: SC/EATS 1010 3.00; SC/EATS 2050 4.00; SC/EATS 3010 2.00; SC/EATS 3011 1.00; SC/EATS 3020 3.00; SC/EATS 3180 3.00; SC/EATS 3300 3.00; SC/EATS 4010 6.00; SC/EATS 4020 3.00; SC/EATS 4220 3.00; SC/MATH 2560 3.00 or SC/GEOG 2420 3.00.

Specialized Honours Program

- the EATS program core, as specified in i) above;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- all obligatory courses in one of the following streams:

Atmospheric Science Stream

- the atmospheric science Honours core;
- SC/EATS 1010 3.00; SC/EATS 3020 3.00; SC/EATS 3280 3.00; SC/EATS 3300 3.00; SC/EATS 4160 3.00; SC/MATH 2560 3.00 or SC/GEOG 2420 3.00; SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 or SC/CHEM 1001 3.00;
- at least three science credits chosen from SC/CHEM 2011 3.00, SC/CHEM 2030 4.00, SC/MATH 2222 3.00;
- 15 credits (to include at least three credits from earth and atmospheric science courses), chosen from the following: SC/EATS 3130 3.00, SC/EATS 4000 3.00, SC/EATS 4000 6.00, SC/EATS 4020 3.00, SC/EATS 4220 3.00, SC/EATS 4240 3.00, SC/GEOG 2400 6.00, SC/GEOG 4210 3.00, SC/GEOG 4310 3.00, SC/MATH 3242 3.00, SC/MATH 3271.30, SC/MATH 4141 3.00, SC/MATH 4142 3.00, SC/PHYS 2060 3.00, SC/PHYS 3050 3.00;
- additional elective credits, approved by the Department, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits.

Earth Science Stream

- the earth science Honours core;
- SC/EATS 1011 3.00; SC/EATS 2010 3.00;
- SC/CHEM 1000 3.00; SC/CHEM 1001 3.00; SC/EATS 2060 3.00; SC/EATS 2610 2.00 or SC/EATS 2620 4.00;
- SC/EATS 3140 3.00; SC/EATS 3280 3.00; SC/MATH 3241 3.00;
- SC/EATS 4230 3.00; SC/EATS 4400 3.00;
- at least nine credits from SC/EATS 4000 3.00, SC/EATS 4000 6.00, SC/MATH 3242 3.00, SC/MATH 3271 3.00, SC/MATH 3410 3.00; SC/PHYS 3020 3.00; SC/PHYS 3050 3.00; SC/PHYS 3150 3.00, for an overall total of at least 42 credits from earth and atmospheric science courses;
- additional elective credits, approved by the Department, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits.

The Department of Earth and Space Science and Engineering also offers a BSc Specialized Honours degree Stream in Space and Communication Sciences whose degree requirements are specified in a separate entry in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Honours Double Major Program and Honours Major/Minor Programs

An Honours major in earth and atmospheric science may be combined with an Honours major in another subject area in a BSc Honours Double Major degree program, or with an Honours minor in another subject area in a BSc Honours Major/Minor degree program. Possible subject combinations are listed under Undergraduate Degree Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar. Further information on course selection for various Honours Double Major programs is detailed in the departmental handbook.

All degree candidates should contact departmental advisers as early as possible regarding course requirements for particular Honours Double Major and Honours Major/Minor programs. Early planning of courses is strongly advised so that the necessary prerequisites for courses in both departments are met.

- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education requirement, as specified in ii) above;
- the earth and atmospheric science Honours major requirements below;
- the course requirements for the second major or the minor;
- additional elective credits, approved by the Department, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

In cooperation with the Department of Chemistry, the department offers an Honours Double Major program stream in the applied science area of atmospheric chemistry - see separate entry in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Honours Major

An Honours major in earth and atmospheric science may be taken in either the Atmospheric Science Stream or the Earth Science Stream.

Atmospheric Science Stream

- the atmospheric science Honours core, including the EATS program core, as specified above;

Earth Science Stream

- the earth science Honours core, including the EATS program core, as specified above.

Honours Minor

- SC/EATS 1010 3.00; SC/EATS 1011 3.00;
- SC/EATS 2010 3.00; SC/EATS 2030 3.00; SC/EATS 2050 4.00;
- at least 14 credits from the following courses: SC/EATS 2470 3.00, SC/EATS 3010 2.00, SC/EATS 3011 1.00, SC/EATS 3020 3.00, SC/EATS 3030 3.00, SC/EATS 3040 3.00, SC/EATS 3140 3.00, SC/EATS 3180 3.00, SC/EATS 3300 3.00.

Note: The following courses are required as prerequisites or corequisites for the courses listed above: SC/COSC 1540 3.00; SC/MATH 1013 3.00; SC/MATH 1014 3.00; SC/MATH 1025 3.00; SC/MATH 2015 3.00; SC/MATH 2270 3.00; SC/MATH 2560 3.00 or SC/GEOG 2420 3.00; SC/PHYS 1010 6.00; SC/PHYS 2010 3.00; SC/PHYS 2020 3.00.

Concurrent Certificate in Geographic Information Systems (GIS) and Remote Sensing

See Certificate Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

Concurrent Certificate in Meteorology

See Certificate Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

Engineering

Commencing in the Fall of 2001, the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science offered a new Engineering Program, leading to an Honours Bachelor of Applied Science (BASc [Honours]) degree. The first year of the program was offered for the first time in 2001-2002, the second year in 2002-2003, the third year in 2003-2004 and the fourth year will be offered in 2004-2005. After completion of a common first-year program, students will choose one of four streams: computer engineering, engineering physics, geomatics engineering or space engineering.

i) All BASc (Honours) degree candidates must complete the Engineering Program core: SC/CHEM 1000 3.00; SC/COSC 1020 3.00; SC/COSC 1030 3.00; SC/EATS 1010 3.00; SC/ENG 1000 6.00; SC/ENG 2000 6.00; SC/ENG 3000 3.00; SC/ENG 4000 6.00; SC/MATH 1013 3.00; SC/MATH 1014 3.00; SC/MATH 1019 3.00; SC/MATH 1025 3.00; SC/MATH 2015 3.00; SC/PHYS 1010 6.00; SC/PHYS 2020 3.00; SC/PHYS 3050 3.00.

ii) All BASc (Honours) degree candidates must complete twelve non-science general education credits (see General Education Requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar). Three of these credits must be ES/ENVS 2150 3.00.

iii) All BASc (Honours) degree candidates, in accordance with their declared stream, must satisfy the academic standing and course requirements below.

To proceed in each year of the BASc (Honours) program requires a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed.

To graduate in the BASc (Honours) program requires successful completion of all Faculty requirements and program and stream required courses and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed.

Computer Engineering Stream

- the Engineering Program core;
- SC/COSC 2001 3.00; SC/COSC 2011 3.00; SC/COSC 2021 4.00; SC/COSC 2031 3.00;
- SC/MATH 1090 3.00; SC/MATH 2030 3.00;
- At least six additional credits from SC/BIOL 1010 6.00, SC/BIOL 1410 6.00, SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, SC/CHEM 2011 3.00, SC/EATS 1011 3.00, SC/PHYS 1070 3.00, SC/PHYS 2010 3.00, SC/PHYS 2040 3.00, SC/PHYS 2060 3.00;
- SC/COSC 3101 3.00; SC/COSC 3201 4.00; SC/COSC 3213 3.00; SC/COSC 3215 4.00; SC/COSC 3221 3.00; SC/COSC 3311 3.00; SC/COSC 3451 3.00; SC/COSC 3900 0.00;
- three additional credits from computer science courses at the 3000 or 4000 level;
- SC/PHYS 3150 3.00;
- SC/COSC 4201 3.00; SC/COSC 4214 3.00; SC/COSC 4312 3.00;
- 12 credits from: SC/COSC 4211 3.00; SC/COSC 4213 3.00; SC/COSC 4313 3.00; SC/COSC 4352 3.00; SC/COSC 4421 3.00; SC/COSC 4422 3.00; SC/COSC 4431 3.00; SC/COSC 4441 3.00.

A non-credit, four-16 month internship program is required between third and fourth year.

Engineering Physics Stream

- the Engineering Program core;
- SC/COSC 2011 3.00; SC/COSC 2021 4.00;
- SC/CHEM 2011 3.00 SC/EATS 2470 3.00; SC/PHYS 2040 3.00; SC/PHYS 2211 1.00;
- SC/MATH 2270 3.00; SC/MATH 3271 3.00;
- SC/PHYS 3010 3.00; SC/PHYS 3020 3.00; SC/PHYS 3030 3.00; SC/PHYS 3040 6.00; SC/PHYS 3150 3.00; SC/PHYS 3210 6.00;
- SC/PHYS 4010 3.00; SC/PHYS 4020 3.00; SC/PHYS 4050 3.00; SC/PHYS 4060 3.00; SC/PHYS 4211 3.00;
- six additional credits from courses in engineering design; six additional credits from engineering courses.

Note: The Faculty of Pure and Applied Science will not be accepting applicants for the Engineering Physics stream in 2004-2005.

Space Engineering Stream

- the Engineering Program core;
- SC/COSC 2011 3.00; SC/COSC 2031 3.00; SC/COSC 2501 1.00;
- SC/MATH 2270 3.00;
- SC/EATS 2030 3.00; SC/EATS 2470 3.00; SC/ENG 2110 2.00; SC/ENG 2120 4.00;
- SC/PHYS 2030 3.00;
- SC/PHYS 3150 3.00; SC/PHYS 3250 3.00; SC/PHYS 3280 3.00; SC/ENG 3310 3.00; SC/ENG 3320 3.00; SC/ENG 3330 3.00;
- SC/EATS 3020 3.00; SC/ENG 3110 4.00;
- SC/COSC 4421 3.00; SC/ENG 4350 2.00; SC/ENG 4360 3.00; SC/PHYS 4110 3.00; SC/PHYS 4250 3.00;
- three of SC/EATS 4220 3.00, SC/EATS 4230 3.00, SC/ENG 4110 3.00, SC/ENG 4330 3.00, SC/PHYS 3070 3.00.

Geomatics Engineering Stream

- the Engineering Program core;
- SC/COSC 2011 3.00; SC/COSC 2031 3.00; SC/COSC 2501 1.00;
- SC/EATS 2030 3.00; SC/EATS 2470 3.00; SC/ENG 2110 2.00; SC/ENG 2140 4.00; SC/ENG 2130 3.00; SC/GEOG 2420 3.00;
- SC/MATH 2270 3.00;
- SC/EATS 3020 3.00; SC/EATS 3300 3.00; SC/ENG 3110 4.00; SC/ENG 3120 4.00; SC/ENG 3130 4.00; SC/ENG 3140 4.00; SC/ENG 3150 4.00; SC/ENG 3160 4.00;
- SC/EATS 4020 3.00; SC/EATS 4220 3.00; SC/EATS 4400 3.00; SC/ENG 4110 3.00; SC/ENG 4120 3.00; SC/ENG 4130 3.00; SC/ENG 4140 3.00; SC/ENG 4150 3.00 or SC/ENG 4160 3.00.

Environmental Science

Specialized Honours Program

i) All BSc Honours degree candidates must complete the program core: SC/GEOG 1400 6.00; SC/GEOG 2400 6.00; SC/GEOG 2500 3.00 or SC/GEOG 2600 3.00; six credits from SC/GEOG 2610 3.00; SC/GEOG 3200 3.00, SC/GEOG 3500 3.00, SC/GEOG 4180 4.00, SC/GEOG 4200 3.00, SC/GEOG 4500 3.00; six credits from SC/GEOG 4205 3.00, SC/GEOG 4210 3.00, SC/GEOG 4310 3.00, SC/GEOG 4400 3.00, SC/GEOG 4600 3.00; 12 additional credits from science geography courses (including three credits in statistics for students in the Physical Sciences Stream).

ii) All BSc Honours degree candidates must comply with general regulation 4 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) by completing the following (in addition to SC/GEOG 1400 6.00 from the program core):

- 12 general education credits (see General Education Requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar).

Life Sciences Stream

- SC/COSC 1520 3.00 or SC/COSC 1540 3.00;

- SC/MATH 1505 6.00, or both SC/MATH 1013 3.00 and SC/MATH 1014 3.00;
- SC/BIOL 1010 6.00; SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, or SC/EATS 1010 3.00 and SC/EATS 1011 3.00;

Physical Sciences Stream

- SC/COSC 1540 3.00;
- SC/MATH 1013 3.00; SC/MATH 1014 3.00; SC/MATH 1025 3.00;
- SC/CHEM 1000 3.00; SC/CHEM 1001 3.00; SC/PHYS 1010 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1410 6.00.

iii) All BSc Honours degree candidates, in accordance with their declared program, must comply with general regulation 6 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) and, in so doing, must satisfy the course, credit and standing requirements specified below.

To declare Honours requires successful completion of at least 24 credits and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exception in the note below.

To proceed in each year of an Honours program requires a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exception in the note below.

To graduate in an Honours program requires successful completion of all Faculty requirements and program required courses and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exception in the note below.

Note: students admitted to York University prior to 1999-2000 may declare Honours and proceed and graduate in Honours programs according to the academic standards of the year in which they were admitted.

Additional Course Requirements

All obligatory courses in one of the following streams:

Life Sciences Stream

- SC/BIOL 2010 4.00; SC/BIOL 2030 4.00; SC/BIOL 2050 4.00; SC/BIOL 2060 3.00;
- one ecology field course (SC/BIOL 3001 3.00 or SC/BIOL 3001 2.00);
- 15 additional credits chosen from the following: a second ecology field course (SC/BIOL 3002 3.00 or SC/BIOL 3002 2.00), SC/BIOL 3170 3.00, SC/BIOL 4000 8.00, SC/BIOL 4020 3.00, SC/BIOL 4070 3.00, SC/BIOL 4080 3.00, SC/BIOL 4090 4.00, SC/BIOL 4095 3.00, SC/BIOL 4100 3.00, SC/BIOL 4120 3.00, SC/BIOL 4130 3.00, SC/BIOL 4230 4.00, SC/BIOL 4240 4.00, SC/BIOL 4245 3.00, SC/BIOL 4250 3.00, SC/BIOL 4255 3.00, SC/BIOL 4260 3.00, SC/BIOL 4265 3.00, SC/BIOL 4340 3.00, SC/BIOL 4400 3.00, SC/BIOL 4420 3.00;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Physical Sciences Stream

- SC/EATS 2010 3.00; SC/EATS 2470 3.00;
- SC/CHEM 2030 4.00; SC/PHYS 2020 3.00;
- SC/MATH 2015 3.00; SC/MATH 2270 3.00;
- SC/EATS 3030 3.00; SC/EATS 3130 3.00; SC/EATS 4220 3.00;
- six additional credits chosen from SC/EATS 3040 3.00, SC/EATS 4050 3.00, SC/EATS 4051 3.00, SC/EATS 4120 3.00, SC/EATS 4130 3.00, SC/EATS 4140 3.00, SC/EATS 4150 3.00, SC/EATS 4160 3.00, SC/EATS 4230 3.00, SC/EATS 4240 3.00, SC/EATS 4300 3.00 (atmospheric science topics), SC/MATH 3241 3.00;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Concurrent Certificate in Geographic Information Systems (GIS) and Remote Sensing

Environmental Science Courses

The following list includes required and elective courses in the BSc Specialized Honours Program in Environmental Science.

Geography

SC/GEOG 2400 6.00
 SC/GEOG 2500 3.00
 SC/GEOG 2600 3.00
 SC/GEOG 2610 3.00
 SC/GEOG 3200 3.00
 SC/GEOG 3500 3.00 (cross-listed to: SC/BIOL 3500 3.00)
 SC/GEOG 4180 4.00
 SC/GEOG 4200 3.00
 SC/GEOG 4205 3.00
 SC/GEOG 4210 3.00
 SC/GEOG 4310 3.00
 SC/GEOG 4400 3.00
 SC/GEOG 4500 3.00
 SC/GEOG 4600 3.00

Biology

SC/BIOL 2010 4.00
 SC/BIOL 2030 4.00
 SC/BIOL 2050 4.00
 SC/BIOL 2060 3.00
 SC/BIOL 3001 3.00 (ecology sections)
 SC/BIOL 3001 2.00 (ecology sections)
 SC/BIOL 3002 3.00 (ecology sections)
 SC/BIOL 3002 2.00 (ecology sections)
 SC/BIOL 3170 3.00
 SC/BIOL 4000 8.00
 SC/BIOL 4020 3.00
 SC/BIOL 4070 3.00
 SC/BIOL 4080 3.00
 SC/BIOL 4090 4.00
 SC/BIOL 4095 3.00
 SC/BIOL 4100 3.00
 SC/BIOL 4120 3.00
 SC/BIOL 4130 3.00
 SC/BIOL 4230 4.00
 SC/BIOL 4240 4.00
 SC/BIOL 4245 3.00 (cross-listed to: ES/ENVS 4110 3.00)
 SC/BIOL 4250 3.00
 SC/BIOL 4255 3.00 (cross-listed to: ES/ENVS 4111 3.00)
 SC/BIOL 4260 3.00
 SC/BIOL 4265 3.00
 SC/BIOL 4340 3.00
 SC/BIOL 4400 3.00
 SC/BIOL 4420 3.00

Earth and Atmospheric Science

SC/EATS 2010 3.00
 SC/EATS 2470 3.00
 SC/EATS 3030 3.00 (cross-listed to: SC/PHYS 3080 3.00)
 SC/EATS 3040 3.00
 SC/EATS 3130 3.00 (cross-listed to: SC/CHEM 3060 3.00)
 SC/EATS 4050 3.00
 SC/EATS 4051 3.00
 SC/EATS 4120 3.00
 SC/EATS 4130 3.00
 SC/EATS 4140 3.00
 SC/EATS 4160 3.00
 SC/EATS 4220 3.00
 SC/EATS 4230 3.00
 SC/EATS 4240 3.00

Geography

i) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates must complete the program core: SC/GEOG 1400 6.00; AS/GEOG 1410 6.00; SC/GEOG 2400 6.00; SC/GEOG 2420 3.00; SC/GEOG 2500 3.00 or SC/GEOG 2600 3.00 or both SC/GEOG 4205 3.00 and SC/GEOG 4210 3.00. (Note: Both SC/GEOG 2600 3.00 and SC/GEOG 2610 3.00 are required for Honours Double Major in geography and earth science; SC/GEOG 4205 3.00 and

SC/GEOG 4210 3.00 are required for Honours Double Major in geography and atmospheric science.)

ii) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates must comply with general regulation 4 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) by completing the following (in addition to SC/GEOG 1400 6.00 from the program core):

- SC/COSC 1520 3.00 or SC/COSC 1530 3.00 or SC/COSC 1540 3.00;
- six credits from SC/MATH 1505 6.00, SC/MATH 1013 3.00, SC/MATH 1014 3.00, SC/MATH 1025 3.00;
- 12 credits from SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 or SC/BIOL 1410 6.00, SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, SC/EATS 1010 3.00 and SC/EATS 1011 3.00, SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1010 6.00;
- 12 general education credits (see General Education Requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar).

iii) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates, in accordance with their declared programs, must comply with general regulation 5 or 6 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) and, in so doing, must satisfy the course, credit and standing requirements specified below.

Bachelor Program

To Graduate in a Bachelor Program. For students admitted to York University for 2001-2002 and subsequent years, the Senate of York University requires a minimum overall grade point average of 4.0 (C) in order to be eligible to graduate with a BSc degree (bachelor program).

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- at least six credits from science geography courses at the 3000 or 4000 level, for an overall total of at least 30 credits from geography courses;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 90 credits, including at least 66 credits from science courses and at least 18 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Honours Programs

To declare Honours requires successful completion of at least 24 credits and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exception in the note below.

To proceed in each year of an Honours program requires a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exception in the note below.

To graduate in an Honours program requires successful completion of all Faculty requirements and departmental required courses and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exception in the note below.

Note: Students admitted to York University prior to 1999-2000 may declare Honours and proceed and graduate in Honours programs according to the academic standards of the year in which they were admitted.

Specialized Honours Program

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/GEOG 3420 3.00;
- at least 33 additional credits from science geography courses at the 3000 or 4000 level, for an overall total of at least 54 credits from science geography courses (at least 60 from geography courses);
- at least six credits from non-geography science courses at the 2000 or higher level;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits from science courses and at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Honours Double Major Programs

BSc Honours Double Major programs are offered in geography and earth and atmospheric science (in either the Atmospheric Science Stream or the Earth Science Stream).

- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above and including courses appropriate for the second major;
- for the Geography and Atmospheric Science Stream: at least 36 credits from geography courses, including the program core (see i) above), SC/GEOG 3420 3.00, and at least three credits from the following courses: SC/GEOG 4000 6.00, SC/GEOG 4310 3.00; (Note: If only three credits are chosen from the list above, three additional credits from geography courses at the 3000- or 4000-level are required.)

or for the Geography and Earth Science Stream: at least 36 credits from geography courses, including the program core (see i) above), SC/GEOG 3420 3.00, and at least nine credits selected from the following courses: SC/GEOG 4000 6.00, SC/GEOG 4180 4.00, SC/GEOG 4200 3.00, SC/GEOG 4205 3.00, SC/GEOG 4210 3.00, SC/GEOG 4310 3.00, SC/GEOG 4400 3.00, SC/GEOG 4600 3.00;

- the course requirements for the second major;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits from science courses and at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Honours Major/Minor Program

An Honours major in geography may be combined with an Honours minor in another subject area in a BSc Honours Major/Minor degree program. Possible subject combinations are listed under Undergraduate Degree Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above and including courses appropriate for the minor;
- the geography Honours major requirements below;
- the course requirements for the minor;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Honours Major (for Honours Major/Minor Programs)

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- SC/GEOG 3420 3.00;
- at least 15 additional credits in science geography courses at the 3000 or 4000 level, for an overall total of at least 42 credits in geography courses.

Honours Minor

- SC/GEOG 1400 6.00;
- SC/GEOG 1410 6.00;
- six credits in science geography courses at the 4000 level;
- at least 12 credits from science geography courses for an overall total of at least 30 credits from geography courses.

Concurrent Certificate in Geographic Information Systems (GIS) and Remote Sensing

See Certificate Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

Kinesiology and Health Science

All BSc Honours degree candidates must complete a specified core of academic and practicum courses, and, depending on individual interests, personal objectives and the stream selected, complement the designated requirements with optional courses from within and outside the kinesiology and health science curriculum. The streams available for proceeding towards a BSc Honours in the Specialized Honours program are a) health and kinesiology and b) applied certificate. The Health and Kinesiology Stream is particularly suited to students aspiring to careers related to teaching or recreation or for those desiring a generalized approach to kinesiology and health science. The Applied Certificate Stream focuses on specific professionally related areas; a student in this stream graduates with a certificate as well as a BSc Honours.

Kinesiology and health science may also be combined with the study of another science major or a minor within the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science in a BSc Honours Double Major or Honours Major/Minor program.

On entering the University and selecting kinesiology and health science as a major, first-year BSc Honours students are automatically enrolled in the Health and Kinesiology Stream of Specialized Honours. Students who hope to proceed in Honours Double Major or Honours Major/Minor programs select 1000-level science and mathematics options (within this stream) which are appropriate for the second major or the minor. After successful completion of 24 academic credits with a cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of at least 5.0 (C+), students declare their choice of program and stream. Entrance into the Applied Certificate Stream requires an application at this time - contact the School of Kinesiology and Health Science regarding application requirements and procedures.

Note: Students may only be enrolled in one certificate stream at a time.

Honours Programs

Note: Academic courses in kinesiology and health science have the prefix "KINE". Practicum courses have the prefix "PKIN".

i) All BSc Honours degree candidates must complete the kinesiology and health science core which includes an academic core: SC/KINE 1000 4.00; SC/KINE 1020 5.00; SC/KINE 2000 3.00; SC/KINE 2020 3.00; SC/KINE 2031 3.00; SC/KINE 2049 3.00; SC/KINE 2050 3.00; SC/KINE 3011 3.00; SC/KINE 3012 3.00; SC/KINE 3020 3.00; SC/KINE 3030 3.00; SC/KINE 4010 3.00; SC/KINE 4020 3.00; and a practicum core: SC/PKIN 7500 2.00; and at least two practicum credits in each of the following practicum areas: gymnastics/dance, aquatics, team sports, individual and dual sports, and track and field.

ii) All BSc Honours degree candidates must comply with general regulation 4 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) by completing the following (in addition to the Kinesiology and Health Science core):

- SC/COSC 1520 3.00;
- six credits from SC/MATH 1505 6.00, SC/MATH 1013 3.00 or SC/MATH 1300 3.00, SC/MATH 1014 3.00 or SC/MATH 1310 3.00, SC/MATH 1025 3.00;
- six credits from SC/BIOL 1010 6.00, SC/BIOL 1410 6.00, SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, SC/EATS 1010 3.00 and SC/EATS 1011 3.00, SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1010 6.00; (Note: Required kinesiology and health science core courses satisfy the other half of the 1000-level science requirement for courses with laboratories.)
- SC/PSYC 1010 6.00;
- 12 general education credits (see General Education Requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar).

iii) All BSc Honours degree candidates, in accordance with their declared Honours program, must comply with general regulation 6 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) and, in so doing, must also satisfy the course, credit and standing requirements specified below.

To declare Honours requires successful completion of at least 24 credits and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To proceed in each year of an Honours program requires a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To graduate in an Honours program requires successful completion of all Faculty requirements and departmental required courses and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

Notes:

1. In addition, a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 6.0 (B) over all science (SC) courses completed is required to declare, proceed and graduate in (i) the Honours Double Major program where biology is the other major, and (ii) the Honours Major/Minor program where biology is the major. (The minimum 6.0 (B) science grade point average is not required where biology is the minor.)

2. Students admitted to York University prior to 1999-2000 may declare Honours and proceed and graduate in Honours programs according to the academic standards of the year in which they were admitted.

Specialized Honours Program

Health and Kinesiology Stream

- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- at least 54 academic credits from kinesiology and health science courses, including the kinesiology and health science academic core (see i) above) and at least six additional academic credits from kinesiology and health science courses at the 4000 level;
- additional academic elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits from science courses and at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level;
- the practicum core (see i) above) and a minimum of six additional practicum (PKIN) credits, for an overall total of at least 18 practicum credits.

Students in the Health and Kinesiology Stream can use the available non-science elective credits in that stream to take courses towards a Certificate in Sport Administration. More than 120 credits may be required to complete both the certificate and the degree requirements. Consult the kinesiology and health science mini-calendar for details.

Applied Certificate Stream

Note: Students may only be enrolled in one certificate stream at a time.

- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- at least 66 academic credits from kinesiology and health science courses, including the kinesiology and health science academic core (see i) above) and all obligatory courses for one of the following certificates:
  - Certificate in Athletic Therapy: SC/KINE 2490 3.00; SC/KINE 3450 3.00; SC/KINE 3585 3.00; SC/KINE 3600 3.00; SC/KINE 4570 3.00; SC/KINE 4580 3.00; SC/KINE 4590 6.00;
  - Certificate in Coaching: SC/KINE 2475 3.00; SC/KINE 3450 3.00 or AS/KINE 3580 3.00; SC/KINE 3570 3.00; SC/KINE 3610 3.00; SC/KINE 4550 6.00; SC/KINE 4600 3.00; SC/KINE 4610 3.00;
  - Certificate in Fitness Assessment and Exercise Counselling: SC/KINE 3400 3.00; SC/KINE 3450 3.00; SC/KINE 3640 3.00; SC/KINE 4400 6.00; AS/KINE 4430 3.00; SC/KINE 4460 3.00; SC/KINE 4900 3.00;
- additional academic elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits from science courses and at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level;
- the practicum core (see i) above) and a minimum of four additional practicum (PKIN) credits, for an overall total of at least 16 practicum credits. Specific practicum courses are required for each certificate as follows: Certificate in Athletic Therapy: SC/PKIN 7600 2.00; Certificate in Coaching: SC/PKIN 4600 2.00 and all PKIN courses in the sport specialty; Certificate in Fitness Assessment and Exercise Counselling: SC/PKIN 8060 4.00.

Honours Double Major and Honours Major/Minor Programs

An Honours major in kinesiology and health science may be combined with an Honours major in another subject area in a BSc Honours Double Major degree program, or with an Honours minor in another subject area in a BSc Honours Major/Minor degree program. Possible subject combinations are listed under Undergraduate Degree Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above and including courses appropriate for the second major or the minor;
- the kinesiology and health science Honours major requirements below;
- the course requirements for the second major or the minor;
- additional academic elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90* credits from science courses and at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

* or at least 66 credits from science courses if the minor is in a fine arts subject area

Honours Major

- the kinesiology and health science core (see i) above), including the academic core and the practicum core;
- at least six additional academic credits from kinesiology and health science courses at the 4000 level, for an overall total of at least 48 academic credits from kinesiology and health science courses;
- at least six additional practicum (PKIN) credits, for an overall total of at least 18 practicum credits.

Note: SC/PSYC 1010 6.00 is required as a prerequisite for one core course.

Honours Minor

- the kinesiology and health science core (see i) above), including the academic core and the practicum core, for a total of at least 42 academic credits from kinesiology and health science courses;
- at least six additional practicum (PKIN) credits, for an overall total of at least 18 practicum credits.

Note: SC/PSYC 1010 6.00 is required as a prerequisite for one core course.

Mathematics and Statistics

The Department of Mathematics and Statistics offers BSc and BSc Honours degree programs in four subject areas:

- applied mathematics
- computational mathematics (BSc Honours only)
- mathematics
- statistics

The BSc and BSc Honours degree programs in each subject area are listed separately below. A student should choose one of these subject areas based on interest and employment goals, but it is possible to change subject areas provided the requirements of the desired subject area can be met.

i) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates must complete a program core (see program specifications below).

ii) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates must comply with general regulation 4 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) by completing the following (in addition to the 1000-level COSC and MATH requirements specified for their program):

- 12 credits from SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 or SC/BIOL 1410 6.00, SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, SC/EATS 1010 3.00 and SC/EATS 1011 3.00, SC/MATH 2041 3.00 and SC/MATH 2042 3.00, SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1010 6.00;
- additional 1000-level science credits (excluding SC/CHEM 1500 4.00, SC/MATH 1510 6.00, SC/MATH 1515 3.00, SC/PHYS 1510 4.00 and all natural science courses) - as required for a total of at least 24 1000-level science credits;
- 12 general education credits (see General Education Requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar).

iii) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates, in accordance with their declared programs, must comply with general regulation 5 or 6 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) and, in so doing, must satisfy the course, credit and standing requirements specified below.

Bachelor Programs

To Graduate in a Bachelor Program. For students admitted to York University for 2001-2002 and subsequent years, the Senate of York University requires a minimum overall grade point average of 4.0 (C) in order to be eligible to graduate with a BSc degree (bachelor program).

Honours Programs

To declare Honours requires successful completion of at least 24 credits and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To proceed in each year of an Honours program requires a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To graduate in an Honours program requires successful completion of all Faculty requirements and departmental required courses and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

Notes:

1. In addition, a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 6.0 (B) over all science (SC) courses completed is required to declare, proceed and graduate in (i) the Honours Double Major program where biology is the other major, and (ii) the Honours Major/Minor program where biology is the major. (The minimum 6.0 (B) science grade point average is not required where biology is the minor.)

2. Students admitted to York University prior to 1999-2000 may declare Honours and proceed and graduate in Honours programs according to the academic standards of the year in which they were admitted.

Additional Notes:

1. For the purpose of satisfying departmental degree requirements, the following minimum numbers of credits must be completed within the Department of Mathematics and Statistics: 18 for the bachelor program, 21 for the Honours Double Major program, 30 for the Specialized Honours program.

2. For BA and BA Honours degree programs in mathematics and statistics, see the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

I. Applied Mathematics Programs

All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates must complete the program core: SC/COSC 1540 3.00 or SC/COSC 2031 3.00; SC/MATH 1013 3.00; SC/MATH 1014 3.00; SC/MATH1016 1.00; SC/MATH 1017 1.00; SC/MATH 1021 3.00; SC/MATH 2015 3.00; SC/MATH 2018 1.00; SC/MATH 2041 3.00; SC/MATH 2270 3.00; SC/MATH 3241 3.00.

In addition, all degree candidates must select a number of credits (depending on their program) from science mathematics courses without second digit 5 at the 3000 level or higher.

Bachelor Program

- the program core;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- one of SC/MATH 2022 3.00, SC/MATH 2030 3.00, SC/MATH 2222 3.00, SC/MATH 2320 3.00;
- at least 12 credits selected from science mathematics courses without second digit 5 at the 3000 level or higher, for an overall total of at least 39 credits from major science mathematics courses;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 90 credits, including at least 66 credits from science courses and at least 18 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Specialized Honours Program

- the program core;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/MATH 2022 3.00; SC/MATH 2030 3.00;
- SC/MATH 3110 3.00; SC/MATH 3210 3.00; SC/MATH 3242 3.00; SC/MATH 3410 3.00;
- at least 21 additional credits selected from science mathematics courses without second digit 5 at the 3000 level or higher (these 21 credits must include SC/MATH 3260 3.00 or SC/MATH 3170 6.00, and at least 12 credits at the 4000 level), for an overall total of at least 63 credits from major science mathematics courses;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits from science courses and at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level

Honours Double Major and Honours Major/Minor Programs

An Honours major in applied mathematics may be combined with an Honours major in another subject area in a BSc Honours Double Major degree program or with an Honours minor in another subject area in a BSc Honours Major/Minor degree program. Possible subject combinations are listed under Undergraduate Degree Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above and including courses appropriate for the second major or the minor;
- the applied mathematics Honours major requirements below;
- the course requirements for the second major or the minor;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits from science courses and at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Honours Major

- the program core;
- SC/MATH 3242 3.00 or SC/MATH 3170 6.00;
- 12 credits at the 4000 level, selected from science mathematics courses without second digit 5, for an overall total of at least 39 credits from major science mathematics courses.

Honours Minor

- SC/COSC 1540 3.00;
- SC/MATH 1013 3.00; SC/MATH 1014 3.00; SC/MATH 1021 3.00;
- SC/MATH 2015 3.00; two of SC/MATH 2041 3.00, SC/MATH 2222 3.00 (or SC/MATH 2022 3.00), SC/MATH 2270 3.00;
- at least nine more credits, including at least one of SC/MATH 3170 6.00 or SC/MATH 3241 3.00 or SC/MATH 3260 3.00, and the remaining credits from science mathematics courses without second digit 5 at the 3000 level or higher, for an overall total of at least 30 credits from major science mathematics courses, including SC/COSC 1540 3.00.

II. Computational Mathematics Program

Specialized Honours Program

- SC/COSC 1020 3.00; SC/COSC 1030 3.00; SC/COSC 2031 3.00; SC/MATH 2041 3.00
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/MATH 1013 3.00; SC/MATH 1014 3.00; SC/MATH 2015 3.00 or approved equivalents
- SC/MATH 1021 3.00; SC/MATH 2022 3.00;
- SC/MATH 2030 3.00; SC/MATH 1131 3.00;
- SC/MATH 1016 1.00; SC/MATH 1017 1.00; SC/MATH 2018 1.00; or SC/MATH 2131 3.00; or SC/MATH 1190 3.00
- SC/MATH 3090 3.00; SC/MATH4090 3.00;

- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits from science courses and at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

In addition, students must choose from one of three areas of concentration, and in each case complete the courses listed:

Applied and Industrial Mathematics

- SC/MATH 2270 3.00; SC/MATH 2042 3.00; SC/MATH 3241 3.00; SC/MATH 3242 3.00; SC/MATH 4141 3.00; SC/MATH 4142 3.00.

Financial Mathematics

- SC/MATH 2280 3.00; SC/MATH 3170 6.00;
- AS/ECON 1000 3.00; AS/ECON 1010 3.00;
- three credits from 4000-level science mathematics courses in financial mathematics.

Actuarial Mathematics

- SC/MATH 2280 3.00; SC/MATH 3280 3.00; SC/MATH 3033 3.00; SC/MATH 4280 3.00; SC/MATH 4430 3.00; or SC/MATH 4431 3.00; three credits from 4000-level science mathematics courses in financial mathematics.

III. Mathematics Programs

Bachelor Program

- SC/COSC 1520 3.00; SC/COSC 1530 3.00 or SC/MATH 2041 3.00; or equivalents;
- SC/MATH 1021 3.00; SC/MATH 1300 3.00 and SC/MATH 1310 3.00, or equivalents;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/MATH 1090 3.00 or SC/MATH 1190 3.00 or SC/MATH 2090 3.00 or SC/MATH 2320 3.00;
- SC/MATH 2022 3.00; SC/MATH 2310 3.00;
- at least 12 credits from major (i.e. without second digit 5) science mathematics courses, or approved or equivalent courses, at the 3000 level or higher, for a total of at least 30 credits from major science mathematics courses;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 90 credits, including at least 66 credits from science courses and at least 18 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Note: Mathematics Honours core courses SC/MATH 1000 3.00, SC/MATH 1010 3.00 may replace SC/MATH 1300 3.00, SC/MATH 1310 3.00 respectively.

Honours Programs

Mathematics Honours Core

The core courses below are required in all Honours mathematics programs:

- SC/MATH 1000 3.00; SC/MATH 1010 3.00;
- SC/MATH 1021 3.00; SC/MATH 2022 3.00;
- SC/MATH 1090 3.00 or SC/MATH 1190 3.00 or SC/MATH 2090 3.00 or SC/MATH 2320 3.00;
- SC/MATH 2310 3.00; SC/MATH 3010 3.00;
- SC/MATH 3020 6.00, or both SC/MATH 3131 3.00 and SC/MATH 3132 3.00;
- SC/MATH 3210 3.00;
- six credits from SC/MATH 4000 3.00/4000 6.00 (projects in pure mathematics), SC/MATH 4010 6.00, SC/MATH 4020 6.00, SC/MATH 4030 3.00, SC/MATH 4080 6.00, SC/MATH 4110 3.00, SC/MATH 4120 3.00, SC/MATH 4130 3.00, SC/MATH 4140 3.00, SC/MATH 4150 3.00, SC/MATH 4160 3.00, SC/MATH 4170 6.00, SC/MATH 4230 3.00, SC/MATH 4250 6.00, SC/MATH 4280 3.00, SC/MATH 4290 3.00, SC/MATH 4430 3.00, SC/MATH 4630 3.00, SC/MATH 4730 3.00.

Note: Students may substitute non-Honours versions of the sequence SC/MATH 1000/1010, but any student who does not complete SC/MATH 1010 3.00 must take SC/MATH 3110 3.00 above and beyond the normal Honours requirements. If one or more of SC/MATH 1021 3.00 or SC/

MATH 2022 3.00 is replaced by other linear algebra courses and if the grades obtained were less than A, then SC/MATH 2090 3.00 or SC/MATH 2320 3.00 must be taken above and beyond the normal Honours requirements.

Specialized Honours Program

- the mathematics Honours core;
- SC/COSC 1520 3.00; SC/COSC 1530 3.00 or SC/MATH 2041 3.00; or equivalents;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- at least six additional credits from major science mathematics courses at the 4000 level (these must include either SC/MATH 4010 6.00 or SC/MATH 4020 6.00 if neither was taken as part of the mathematics Honours core);
- at least 24 additional credits from major (i.e. without second digit 5) science mathematics courses, or approved or equivalent courses, for a total of at least 66 credits from major science mathematics courses;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits from science courses and at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Honours Double Major and Honours Major/Minor Programs

An Honours major in mathematics may be combined with an Honours major in another subject area in a BSc Honours Double Major degree program or with an Honours minor in another subject area in a BSc Honours Major/Minor degree program. Possible subject combinations are listed under Undergraduate Degree Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

- SC/COSC 1520 3.00; SC/COSC 1530 3.00 or SC/MATH 2041 3.00; or equivalents;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above and including courses appropriate for the second major or the minor;
- the mathematics Honours major requirements below;
- the course requirements for the second major or the minor;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90* credits from science courses and at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

* or at least 66 credits from science courses if the minor is in a fine arts subject area

Honours Major

- the mathematics Honours core;
- at least six additional major (i.e. without second digit 5) science mathematics credits at the 4000 level, for a total of at least 42 credits from major science mathematics courses.

Honours Minor

- SC/MATH 1300 3.00; SC/MATH 1310 3.00;
- SC/MATH 1021 3.00; SC/MATH 2022 3.00;
- SC/MATH 1090 3.00 or SC/MATH 1190 3.00 or SC/MATH 2090 3.00 or SC/MATH 2320 3.00;
- SC/MATH 2310 3.00;
- at least 12 credits from major (i.e. without second digit 5) science mathematics courses, or approved or equivalent courses, at the 3000 or higher level, for an overall total of at least 30 science mathematics credits.

Note: Mathematics Honours core courses SC/MATH 1000 3.00 and SC/MATH 1010 3.00 may replace SC/MATH 1300 3.00 and SC/MATH 1310 3.00 respectively.

IV. Statistics Programs

Bachelor Program

- SC/COSC 1520 3.00 and SC/COSC 1530 3.00, or SC/COSC 1540 3.00, or SC/COSC 1020 3.00 and SC/COSC 1030 3.00, or equivalents;
- six credits from 1000-level major (i.e. without second digit 5) science mathematics courses in calculus;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/MATH 1021 3.00*; SC/MATH 2022 3.00*;
- SC/MATH 1131 3.00; SC/MATH 2030 3.00; SC/MATH 2131 3.00;
- SC/MATH 2310 3.00 or SC/MATH 2015 3.00
- SC/MATH 3033 3.00 or SC/MATH 3330 3.00; SC/MATH 3131 3.00;
- at least three additional credits from 3000- or 4000-level science mathematics courses with third digit 3 for a total of at least 33 credits from major science mathematics courses;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 90 credits, including at least 66 credits from science courses and at least 18 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

*Note: SC/MATH 1025 3.00, SC/MATH 2221 3.00 and SC/MATH 2222 3.00 will be accepted in this program, but are not recommended.

Specialized Honours Program

- SC/COSC 1520 3.00 and SC/COSC 1530 3.00, or SC/COSC 1540 3.00, or SC/COSC 1020 3.00 and SC/COSC 1030 3.00, or equivalents;
- SC/MATH 1000 3.00; SC/MATH 1010 3.00; SC/MATH 1021 3.00; SC/MATH 1131 3.00;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/MATH 2022 3.00; SC/MATH 2310 3.00
- SC/MATH 2030 3.00; SC/MATH 2131 3.00;
- SC/MATH 3010 3.00; SC/MATH 3210 3.00;
- SC/MATH 3033 3.00 or SC/MATH 3330 3.00; SC/MATH 3034 3.00; SC/MATH 3131 3.00; SC/MATH 3132 3.00; SC/MATH 3430 3.00;
- 12 credits from 4000-level science mathematics courses with third digit 3;
- nine additional credits from major (second digit not 5) science mathematics courses, for a total of at least 66 credits from major science mathematics courses;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits from science courses and at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Honours Double Major Program

An Honours Major in statistics may be combined with an Honours Major in another subject area in a BSc Honours Double Major degree program. Possible subject combinations are listed under Undergraduate Degree Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above and including courses appropriate for the second major;
- the statistics Honours Major requirements (for BSc Honours Double Major programs) below;
- the course requirements for the second major;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits from science courses and at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Honours Major (BSc Honours Double Major Programs)

- SC/COSC 1520 3.00 and SC/COSC 1530 3.00, or SC/COSC 1540 3.00, or SC/COSC 1020 3.00 and SC/COSC 1030 3.00, or equivalents;
- six credits from 1000-level major (i.e. without second digit 5) science mathematics courses in calculus;
- SC/MATH 1021 3.00*; SC/MATH 2022 3.00*;
- SC/MATH 1131 3.00; SC/MATH 2030 3.00; SC/MATH 2131 3.00;
- SC/MATH 2015 3.00, or SC/MATH 2310 3.00;

- SC/MATH 3033 3.00 or SC/MATH 3330 3.00; SC/MATH 3131 3.00;
- nine additional credits from 3000- or 4000-level science mathematics courses with third digit 3 for an overall total of at least 39 credits from major science mathematics courses.

*Note: SC/MATH 1025 3.00, SC/MATH 2221 3.00 and SC/MATH 2222 3.00 will be accepted in this program, but are not recommended.

Honours Major/Minor Programs

An Honours major in statistics may be combined with an Honours minor in another subject area in a BSc Honours Major/Minor degree program. Possible subject combinations are listed under Undergraduate Degree Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above and including courses appropriate for the minor;
- the statistics Honours major requirements (for BSc Honours Major/Minor programs) below;
- the course requirements for the minor;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits from science courses and at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Honours Major (for BSc Honours Major/Minor Programs)

- SC/COSC 1520 3.00 and SC/COSC 1530 3.00, or SC/COSC 1540 3.00, or SC/COSC 1020 3.00 and SC/COSC 1030 3.00, or equivalents;
- SC/MATH 1000 3.00*; SC/MATH 1010 3.00*;
- SC/MATH 1021 3.00*; SC/MATH 2022 3.00*;
- SC/MATH 1131 3.00; SC/MATH 2030 3.00; SC/MATH 2131 3.00;
- SC/MATH 2015 3.00 or SC/MATH 2310 3.00;
- SC/MATH 3033 3.00 or SC/MATH 3330 3.00; one of SC/MATH 3034 3.00 or SC/MATH 3430 3.00;
- SC/MATH 3131 3.00; SC/MATH 3132 3.00;
- 12 credits from 4000-level science mathematics courses with third digit 3, for an overall total of at least 48 credits from major science mathematics courses.

*Note: For calculus and linear algebra, the courses SC/MATH 1013 3.00, SC/MATH 1014 3.00, SC/MATH 1300 3.00, SC/MATH 1310 3.00, SC/MATH 1025 3.00, SC/MATH 2221 3.00 and SC/MATH 2222 3.00 will be accepted in this program, but are not recommended.

Honours Minor

- first-year calculus (six credits at the 1000 level without second digit 5);
- SC/MATH 1021 3.00*; SC/MATH 2022 3.00*;
- SC/MATH 1131 3.00; SC/MATH 2030 3.00; SC/MATH 2131 3.00;
- nine additional credits from 2000- or higher-level science mathematics courses with third digit 3, for an overall total of at least 30 science mathematics credits.

* Note: SC/MATH 1025 3.00, SC/MATH 2221 3.00 and SC/MATH 2222 3.00 will be accepted in this program, but are not recommended.

Physics and Astronomy

Note: The following BSc and BSc Honours degree requirements do not apply to students in the Space and Communication Sciences Stream of Specialized Honours physics and astronomy - for requirements for that stream, see Space and Communication Sciences in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

- With the exception noted above, all BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates must complete the program core: SC/PHYS 1010 6.00; SC/PHYS 2010 3.00; SC/PHYS 2020 3.00; SC/PHYS 2040 3.00; SC/PHYS 2060 3.00; SC/PHYS 2211 1.00; SC/PHYS 3040 6.00. (Note: All program core courses require mathematics prerequisites or corequisites.)
- All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates must comply with general regulation 4 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) by completing the following (in addition to SC/PHYS 1010 6.00 from the program core):

- SC/COSC 1540 3.00 or SC/COSC 1020 3.00;
- SC/MATH 1013 3.00; SC/MATH 1014 3.00; SC/MATH 1025 3.00;
- SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00 (or six credits from course(s) with laboratories required for the second major or the minor in BSc Honours Double Major or Honours Major/Minor programs - see departmental mini-calendars or Faculty checklists);
- 12 general education credits (see General Education Requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar).

iii) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates, in accordance with their declared programs, must comply with general regulation 5 or 6 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) and, in so doing, must also satisfy the course, credit and standing requirements specified below.

Bachelor Program

To Graduate in a Bachelor Program. For students admitted to York University for 2001-2002 and subsequent years, the Senate of York University requires a minimum overall grade point average of 4.0 (C) in order to be eligible to graduate with a BSc degree (bachelor program).

Students may follow a stream emphasizing physics or astronomy.

Students in both streams must take the following courses:

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/MATH 2015 3.00; SC/MATH 2270 3.00;
- six credits from SC/PHYS 3010 3.00, SC/PHYS 3020 3.00, SC/PHYS 3030 3.00.

In addition, there are the following stream-dependent course requirements:

Physics Stream

- SC/PHYS 2212 1.00; SC/PHYS 3210 6.00;
- SC/CHEM 2011 3.00 or SC/PHYS 2030 3.00;
- at least three additional credits from 3000- or 4000-level science courses;
- additional elective credits, chosen in consultation with the Department of Physics and Astronomy, as required for an overall total of at least 90 credits.

Astronomy Stream

- SC/PHYS 1070 3.00; SC/PHYS 2070 3.00; SC/PHYS 4270 4.00;
- SC/PHYS 3220 3.00;
- additional elective credits, chosen in consultation with the Department of Physics and Astronomy, as required for an overall total of at least 90 credits.

Honours Programs

To declare Honours requires successful completion of at least 24 credits and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To proceed in each year of an Honours program requires a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To graduate in an Honours program requires successful completion of all Faculty requirements and departmental required courses and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

Notes:

1. In addition, a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 6.0 (B) over all science (SC) courses completed is required to declare, proceed and graduate in (i) the Space and Communication Sciences Stream of Specialized Honours, (ii) the Honours Double Major program where biology is the other major, and (iii) the Honours Major/Minor program where biology is the major. (The minimum 6.0 (B) science grade point average is not required where biology is the minor.)

2. Students admitted to York University prior to 1999-2000 may declare Honours and proceed and graduate in Honours programs according to the academic standards of the year in which they were admitted.

Specialized Honours Program

Students may follow a stream emphasizing physics, applied physics or astronomy.

Students in all three streams must take the following courses:

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/CHEM 2011 3.00 (may be taken in Year 3) or SC/PHYS 2030 3.00; SC/MATH 2015 3.00; SC/MATH 2270 3.00; SC/PHYS 2212 1.00;
- SC/MATH 3271 3.00; SC/MATH 3410 3.00; SC/PHYS 3010 3.00; SC/PHYS 3020 3.00; SC/PHYS 3030 3.00; SC/PHYS 3210 6.00; SC/PHYS 4020 3.00.

In addition, there are the following stream-dependent course requirements:

Physics Stream

- SC/PHYS 4010 3.00; two of SC/PHYS 4011 3.00, SC/PHYS 4040 3.00, SC/PHYS 4050 3.00;
- either SC/PHYS 4210 3.00 and SC/PHYS 4211 3.00; or SC/MATH 3241 3.00, one of SC/MATH 3242 3.00 or SC/MATH 4270 3.00, and one of SC/PHYS 4210 3.00 or SC/PHYS 4211 3.00;
- three additional credits in PHYS courses at the 3000 level or higher;
- additional elective credits, chosen in consultation with the Department of Physics and Astronomy, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits.

Applied Physics Stream

- SC/PHYS 3050 3.00; SC/PHYS 3150 3.00; SC/PHYS 4050 3.00; SC/PHYS 4210 3.00; SC/PHYS 4211 3.00; SC/PHYS 4310 3.00;
- six credits from SC/MATH 3241 3.00, SC/MATH 3242 3.00, SC/PHYS 3250 3.00, SC/PHYS 3280 3.00, SC/PHYS 4120 3.00, SC/PHYS 4250 3.00, SC/PHYS 4450 3.00;
- additional credits from 3000- and 4000-level science courses, chosen in consultation with the Department of Physics and Astronomy, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits.

Astronomy Stream

- SC/PHYS 1070 3.00; SC/PHYS 2070 3.00; SC/PHYS 3070 3.00; SC/PHYS 4070 3.00; SC/PHYS 4270 4.00;
- SC/MATH 3241 3.00; SC/MATH 3242 3.00 or SC/PHYS 4210 3.00 or SC/PHYS 4211 3.00; SC/PHYS 4010 3.00; one of SC/PHYS 4011 3.00, SC/PHYS 4040 3.00, SC/PHYS 4050 3.00;
- three additional credits from PHYS courses at the 3000 level or higher;
- additional elective credits, chosen in consultation with the Department of Physics and Astronomy, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits.

The Department of Physics and Astronomy also offers a BSc Specialized Honours degree Stream in Space and Communication Sciences whose degree requirements are specified in a separate entry in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Honours Double Major and Honours Major/Minor Programs

An Honours major in physics and astronomy may be combined with an Honours major in another subject area in a BSc Honours Double Major degree program, or with an Honours minor in another subject area in a BSc Honours Major/Minor degree program. Possible subject combinations are listed under Undergraduate Degree Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

Early planning of courses in all combined programs is strongly advised so that the necessary prerequisites for courses in both departments are met.

- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above and including courses appropriate for the second major or the minor;
- the physics and astronomy Honours major requirements below;
- the course requirements for the second major or the minor;
- additional elective credits, chosen in consultation with the Department of Physics and Astronomy, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Honours Major

Students may follow a stream emphasizing physics or astronomy.

Students in both streams must take the following courses:

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- six credits from SC/PHYS 3010 3.00, SC/PHYS 3020 3.00, SC/PHYS 3030 3.00.

Note: The following courses are required as prerequisites or corequisites for the courses above: SC/MATH 1013 3.00; SC/MATH 1014 3.00; SC/MATH 1025 3.00; SC/MATH 2015 3.00; SC/MATH 2270 3.00. SC/MATH 3271 3.00 is a prerequisite or corequisite for SC/PHYS 3020 3.00.

In addition, there are the following stream-dependent course requirements:

Physics Stream

- SC/PHYS 2212 1.00; SC/PHYS 3210 6.00;
- at least six credits from PHYS courses at the 4000 level, for an overall total of at least 44 credits from PHYS courses;

Astronomy Stream

- SC/PHYS 1070 3.00; SC/PHYS 2070 3.00; SC/PHYS 3220 3.00; SC/PHYS 4270 4.00; for an overall total of at least 44 credits from PHYS courses.

Honours Minor

Students may follow a Stream in Physics or a Stream in Astronomy in the minor subject area.

Students in both streams must take the following courses:

- the program core, as specified in i) above;
- three credits from SC/PHYS 3010 3.00, SC/PHYS 3020 3.00, SC/PHYS 3030 3.00.

Note: The following courses are required as prerequisites or corequisites for the courses above: SC/MATH 1013 3.00; SC/MATH 1014 3.00; SC/MATH 1025 3.00; SC/MATH 2015 3.00; SC/MATH 2270 3.00. SC/MATH 3271 3.00 is a prerequisite or corequisite for SC/PHYS 3020 3.00.

In addition, there are the following stream-dependent course requirements:

Physics Stream

- SC/PHYS 2212 1.00; SC/PHYS 3220 3.00; for an overall total of 32 credits from PHYS courses;

Astronomy Stream

- SC/PHYS 1070 3.00; SC/PHYS 2070 3.00; SC/PHYS 3070 3.00 or SC/PHYS 4270 4.00; for an overall total of at least 37 credits from PHYS courses.

Psychology

i) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates must complete SC/PSYC 1010 6.00. (Note: Students must obtain a minimum grade of C (4.0) in SC/PSYC 1010 6.00 to be permitted to pursue a degree in psychology as well as to take psychology courses for which SC/PSYC 1010 6.00 is a prerequisite.)

ii) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates must comply with general regulation 4 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) by completing the following (in addition to SC/PSYC 1010 6.00):

- SC/COSC 1520 3.00 or SC/COSC 1540 3.00;
- six credits from SC/MATH 1505 6.00, SC/MATH 1013 3.00, SC/MATH 1014 3.00, SC/MATH 1025 3.00;
- 12 credits from SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 or SC/BIOL 1410 6.00, SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, SC/EATS 1010 3.00 and SC/EATS 1011 3.00, SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1010 6.00; (Note: Only six credits are required in this category for Honours Double Major and Honours Major/Minor combinations of psychology and kinesiology and health science.)
- 12 general education credits (see General Education Requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar).

iii) All BSc and BSc Honours degree candidates, in accordance with their declared programs, must comply with general regulation 5 or 6 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) and, in so doing, must also satisfy the course, credit and standing requirements specified below.

Bachelor Program

To Graduate in a Bachelor Program. Students who were admitted to York University for 2001-2002 and subsequent years are required to have a minimum overall grade point average of 4.0 (C) in order to be eligible to graduate with a BSc degree (bachelor program).

- SC/PSYC 1010 6.00 with a minimum grade of C;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/PSYC 2021 3.00 (or SC/PSYC 2020 6.00); SC/PSYC 2030 3.00;
- three credits from the following courses: SC/PSYC 2110 3.00, SC/PSYC 2120 3.00, SC/PSYC 2130 3.00, SC/PSYC 3140 3.00, SC/PSYC 3170 3.00;
- three credits from the following courses: SC/PSYC 2210 3.00, SC/PSYC 2220 3.00, SC/PSYC 2230 3.00, SC/PSYC 2240 3.00, SC/PSYC 3260 3.00, SC/PSYC 3265 3.00;
- at least 12 additional credits from psychology courses (including at least six credits from science psychology courses), for an overall total of at least 30 credits from psychology courses (including at least 12 credits at the 3000 level);
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 90 credits, including at least 66 credits from science courses and at least 18 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Note: At least half (50 per cent) of the psychology requirements above must be satisfied by psychology courses offered by the Psychology departments at York (Faculties of Arts, Atkinson, Glendon).

Honours Programs

To declare Honours requires successful completion of at least 24 credits and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To proceed in each year of an Honours program requires a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

To graduate in an Honours program requires successful completion of all Faculty requirements and departmental required courses and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exceptions in the notes below.

Notes:

1. In addition, a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 6.0 (B) over all science (SC) courses completed is required to declare, proceed and graduate in (i) the Honours Double Major program where biology is the other major, and (ii) the Honours Major/Minor program where biology is the major. (The minimum 6.0 (B) science grade point average is not required where biology is the minor.)

2. Students admitted to York University prior to 1999-2000 may declare Honours and proceed and graduate in Honours programs according to the academic standards of the year in which they were admitted.

Specialized Honours Program

- SC/PSYC 1010 6.00 with a minimum grade of C;
- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above;
- SC/PSYC 2020 6.00, or SC/PSYC 2021 3.00 and SC/PSYC 2022 3.00, or SC/MATH 1131 3.00 and SC/MATH 2570 3.00, or SC/MATH 2560 3.00 and SC/MATH 2570 3.00;
- SC/PSYC 2030 3.00;
- one of SC/PSYC 3010 3.00, SC/PSYC 3030 6.00, SC/PSYC 3090 3.00, or alternate courses approved by the Department of Psychology;
- six credits from the SC/PSYC 21XX/31XX series;
- six credits from the SC/PSYC 22XX/32XX series;
- SC/PSYC 4000 6.00 or SC/PSYC 4170 6.00; six additional credits from psychology courses at the 4000 level;
- additional credits from psychology courses, as required for an overall total of at least 54 credits from psychology courses;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits from science courses and at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Notes:

1. The statistics courses listed above as acceptable substitutes for SC/PSYC 2020 6.00 are counted as psychology course credits.
2. At least half (50 per cent) of the psychology requirements above must be satisfied by psychology courses offered by the Psychology departments at York (Faculties of Arts, Atkinson, Glendon).

Honours Double Major and Honours Major/Minor Programs

An Honours major in psychology may be combined with an Honours major in another subject area in a BSc Honours Double Major degree program, or with an Honours minor in another subject area in a BSc Honours Major/Minor degree program. Possible subject combinations are listed under Undergraduate Degree Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

- the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general education and 1000-level science requirements, as specified in ii) above and including courses appropriate for the second major or the minor;
- the psychology Honours major requirements below;
- the course requirements for the second major or the minor;
- additional elective credits, as required for an overall total of at least 120 credits, including at least 90 credits from science courses and at least 42 credits at the 3000 or higher level.

Honours Major

- SC/PSYC 1010 6.00 with a minimum grade of C;
- SC/PSYC 2020 6.00, or SC/PSYC 2021 3.00 and SC/PSYC 2022 3.00, or SC/MATH 1131 3.00 and SC/MATH 2570 3.00, or SC/MATH 2560 3.00 and SC/MATH 2570 3.00;
- SC/PSYC 2030 3.00;
- three credits from the following courses: SC/PSYC 2110 3.00, SC/PSYC 2120 3.00, SC/PSYC 2130 3.00, SC/PSYC 3140 3.00, SC/PSYC 3170 3.00;
- three credits from the following courses: SC/PSYC 2210 3.00, SC/PSYC 2220 3.00, SC/PSYC 2230 3.00, SC/PSYC 2240 3.00, SC/PSYC 3260 3.00, SC/PSYC 3265 3.00;
- SC/PSYC 4000 6.00 or SC/PSYC 4170 6.00; six additional credits from psychology courses at the 4000 level;
- at least nine additional credits from psychology courses, for an overall total of at least 42 credits from psychology courses.

Notes:

1. The statistics courses listed above as acceptable substitutes for SC/PSYC 2020 6.00 are counted as psychology course credits.

2. At least half (50 per cent) of the psychology requirements above must be satisfied by psychology courses offered by the Psychology departments at York (Faculties of Arts, Atkinson, Glendon).

Honours Minor

- SC/PSYC 1010 6.00 with a minimum grade of C;
- six credits from psychology courses at the 4000 level;
- at least 18 additional credits from psychology courses, for an overall total of at least 30 credits from psychology courses.

Note: At least half (50 per cent) of the psychology requirements above must be satisfied by psychology courses offered by the Psychology departments at York (Faculties of Arts, Atkinson, Glendon).

Joint York/Seneca Certificate Program in Rehabilitation Services

See Certificate Programs in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

BSc Honours Science and BSc Science

The BSc Honours Science and the BSc Science programs have no declared major. These programs are appropriate for a student who wishes to enrol in a broader range of courses at the 3000 and 4000 levels than can normally be undertaken in Honours or BSc programs.

To declare Honours Science or BSc Science requires successful completion of at least 24 credits and permission of the Faculty honours and BSc science adviser. The candidate is expected to provide a rationale for this choice of program and a study plan. The study plan must conform to Faculty of Pure and Applied Science general regulations.

To proceed in each year of the Honours Science Program requires a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed (subject to the exception in the note below), and permission of the Faculty honours and BSc science adviser.

To graduate in the Honours Science Program requires successful completion of the Faculty 1000-level requirements (see general regulation 4 in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) and the Faculty Honours requirements (see general regulation 6 in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) excluding the major requirement, and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exception in the note below.

To graduate in the BSc Science program requires successful completion of the Faculty 1000-level requirements (see general regulation 4 in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) and the Faculty bachelor program requirements (see general regulation 5 in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) excluding the major requirement, and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 4.0 (C) over all courses completed, subject to the exception in the note below.

Note: Students admitted to York University prior to 1999-2000 may declare Honours and proceed and graduate in Honours programs according to the academic standards of the year in which they were admitted.

Space and Communication Sciences (Applied Science Streams)

Each of the departments of Earth and Space Science and Engineering, and Physics and Astronomy offers a Specialized Honours degree Stream in Space and Communication Sciences.

- i) All BSc Honours degree candidates must complete the space and communication sciences core: SC/COSC 1020 3.00; SC/COSC 1030

3.00; SC/MATH 1013 3.00; SC/MATH 1014 3.00; SC/MATH 1025 3.00; SC/MATH 1090 3.00; SC/PHYS 1010 6.00; SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, or SC/EATS 1010 3.00 and SC/EATS 1011 3.00; SC/COSC 2011 3.00; SC/COSC 2021 4.00; SC/MATH 2015 3.00; SC/MATH 2090 3.00; SC/MATH 2270 3.00; SC/PHYS 2010 3.00 or SC/EATS 2470 3.00; SC/PHYS 2020 3.00; SC/PHYS 2040 3.00; SC/PHYS 2211 1.00; SC/COSC/EATS/PHYS 3001 1.00; SC/COSC 3121 3.00; SC/COSC 3213 3.00; SC/EATS/PHYS 3280 3.00; SC/PHYS 3050 3.00; SC/PHYS 3250 3.00; SC/COSC/EATS/PHYS 4001 6.00.

ii) All BSc Honours degree candidates must comply with general regulation 4 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) by completing the following (in addition to the 1000-level courses specified in the program core):

- 12 general education credits (see General Education Requirements in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar).

iii) All BSc Honours degree candidates, in accordance with their declared program, must comply with general regulation 6 (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Regulations Governing Undergraduate Degree Requirements section of this Calendar) and, in so doing, must also satisfy the course, credit and standing requirements specified below.

iv) All BSc Honours degree candidates must complete a non-credit industrial internship (normally salaried) approved by the departmental space and communication sciences coordinator. The minimum experience requirement is a four-month placement, normally after the third year of study, though terms of eight, 12 or 16 months are preferred.

Honours Programs

To declare Honours requires successful completion of at least 24 credits, a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 6.0 (B) over all science (SC) courses completed, and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exception in the note below.

To proceed in each year of an Honours program requires a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 6.0 (B) over all science (SC) courses completed, and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exception in the note below.

To graduate in an Honours program requires successful completion of all Faculty requirements and departmental required courses, a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 6.0 (B) over all science (SC) courses completed, and a minimum cumulative credit-weighted grade point average of 5.0 (C+) over all courses completed, subject to the exception in the note below.

Note: Students admitted to York University prior to 1999-2000 may declare Honours and proceed and graduate in Honours programs according to the academic standards of the year in which they were admitted.

Specialized Honours in Earth and Atmospheric Science

- the space and communication sciences core, including SC/EATS 2470 3.00;

Osgoode Hall Law School - Keele Campus

About Osgoode

Osgoode Hall Law School of York University is committed to setting the standard for excellence in legal education and legal scholarship. We take pride in our internationally renowned faculty, outstanding students, dedicated staff and dynamic alumni. Our innovative teaching program fosters a strong foundation in legal reasoning, diverse perspectives on law, and an understanding of law's transformative role in promoting a just society. Osgoode produces original and significant legal scholarship, and prepares its graduates for leadership and service within the profession and beyond.

Per legem ad justitiam: Through law to justice.

The Faculty

Osgoode students have the opportunity to work with some of Canada's brightest and most distinguished legal minds. Many of Osgoode's full-time faculty members have achieved national and international distinction. Renowned as productive and innovative scholars, they are also frequently called upon for public service, as members of public commissions and tribunals, and as advisers on vital and challenging issues. Members of faculty are committed teachers and have developed innovative teaching programs, providing students with a wide range of challenging learning experiences. The teaching program is enriched by the participation of more than 40 part-time faculty, drawn from other disciplines and from the Bench and Bar, who contribute their specialized expertise and applied lawyering skills.

The Student Body

The law school attracts a large, diverse and exceptionally talented student body, not only from Ontario, but from all regions of Canada and beyond. Through its regular admissions program, the law school accepts students with excellent academic records, many of whom have graduate degrees in other disciplines. In recent years, this group of students has become increasingly diverse, reflecting the changing demographic makeup of Canadian society. In addition, the law school offers special admission programs, providing a more comprehensive assessment of an applicant's capability to benefit from a legal education. The law school's admissions programs, supported by substantial entrance scholarships and bursaries, ensure excellence and rich diversity among our student body and among our graduates, who bring their varied backgrounds and experience to diverse careers in the legal profession, government, business and academe.

The Curriculum

The law school's size enables it to offer an exceptionally rich and varied curriculum with opportunities to explore theoretical and policy perspectives integrated with substantive law, legal analysis and lawyering skills in a wide range of subject areas. With more than a hundred courses, seminars and special programs available, students can select an academic program substantially tailored to their own academic interests and career aspirations. The law school offers a number of special academic programs. The Intensive Program in Poverty Law at Parkdale Community Legal Services enables students to spend a term studying and working under the supervision of a team of academics, practising lawyers and community workers within a community clinic oriented to law reform. The law school also offers advanced intensive programs with clinical placements in criminal law, in immigration and refugee law, and in lands, resources and First Nations governments. As well, the school offers the Advanced Business Law Workshop and clinical programs in Trial Advocacy, Appellate Mooting, Legal Drafting and Negotiation. Other clinical opportunities include the Small Business Law Clinic (providing advice and assistance to referred individuals who are establishing small businesses), the Innocence Project (providing assistance to the wrongfully convicted) and the Mediation Project (training students who provide mediation services at the Small Claims Court). Students who seek to study the law in action, to develop lawyering skills, to engage in law reform and to understand the law from a theoretical and policy perspective, will find unique learning opportunities at Osgoode Hall Law School.

Joint Programs and Exchanges

Osgoode offers joint degree programs with other Faculties at York University: the LLB/MBA with the Schulich School of Business and the LLB/MES with the Faculty of Environmental Studies. In addition, an exchange program with the Faculté de droit, Université de Montréal enables Osgoode students to study at Montréal for one semester, which is credited to the student's program at Osgoode, or for one year, following graduation, to qualify for a civil law degree. Various international exchange programs, including with law schools in Australia, China, France, Japan, England, Ireland, Germany, Copenhagen and Italy, enable Osgoode faculty and students to study or visit abroad.

Research

Members of the Osgoode faculty are among the most productive and distinguished legal scholars in Canada, pursuing ambitious and diverse research programs. Students are instructed in the special techniques of legal research and writing which are essential to the educated lawyer. There are opportunities to undertake research in satisfaction of some course requirements as well as opportunities for qualified students to engage in intensive supervised research programs. Students also participate in the editing of the Osgoode Hall Law Journal and act as research assistants to members of faculty. The research enterprise of faculty and students is supported by the largest law library in the Commonwealth, equipped with a computer laboratory and drawing increasingly on new technology. Four research centres at the law school provide a focus for collaborative research: the York University Centre for Public Law and Public Policy, the Institute for Feminist Legal Studies, the Refugee Law Unit of the Centre for Refugee Studies and the newly-endowed Nathanson Centre for the Study of Organized Crime and Corruption.

Technology

Osgoode Hall Law School is at the leading edge in the development and use of technology in teaching, learning and researching the law. Osgoode has four new electronic classrooms, complete with video and audio conferencing capabilities. All students receive a personalized Osgoode e-mail address, which remains with them even after graduation. As well, students have access to the My Osgoode portal, which connects them to course Web sites, and makes course outlines, schedules and materials available electronically, together with chat rooms and workspace. A number of the Law School's administrative services, including Career Services, are available via the Web through the portal. Much of the Law Library and student areas within the Law School feature wireless Internet connectivity for students with laptop computers. Two computer labs, with a total of 80 computer stations, are available to students in the Library. In 2003-2004, Osgoode launched a comprehensive E-exam Program, in which students could elect to either handwrite or type their exams on their personal laptop computers or using one of the computers in Osgoode's computer labs. Technology is changing the way lawyers work. An Osgoode legal education prepares students to learn and work effectively in the information age.

Extracurricular Programs

Much of the life of the law school is focused on extra-curricular programs. Osgoode is fortunate each year to attract visitors distinguished in public, professional and academic life who address the law school community in endowed lectureships and in programs organized by student groups. There is substantial representation of students in the decision making processes of the law school through the Student Caucus, and an active student government known as the Legal and Literary Society. One third of the student body lives on campus, providing a strong base for participation in a broad range of extracurricular programs. More than 300 students contribute as volunteers in CLASP, the student-run legal aid clinic, operating at the school. Others speak to community groups and high school students on legal issues. The student newspaper, Obiter Dicta, is published weekly. Talented students write, perform and produce an annual musical review, the Mock Trial. Students assist in editing the Osgoode Hall Law Journal, a distinguished academic journal. Through competition, students are selected to represent Osgoode in interschool mooting competitions in which Osgoode students excel. In fact, this year Osgoode's Mooting Team won 1st place in the Vis International Commercial Arbitration Mooting Competition, over 135 other teams from 42 different countries.

There is a full range of athletic teams and activities including the Touch Football League which attracts broad participation. As well, there is a variety of organizations such as the Black Law Students Association, the Business Law Society, the Health Law Society, the Environmental Law Society, the First Nations Law Students Association, the Law Union, the International Law Society, Women's Caucus and a variety of political and other clubs. These varied activities enrich students' experience by providing opportunities for personal growth, community outreach and collegial activity. Osgoode Hall Law School thus provides a multi-faceted educational environment in which students with an aptitude for the study of law may test and develop their intellectual powers, their understanding and their skills to prepare for a broad range of stimulating careers, whether in private practice, policy development, public administration, business, government, politics, social activism, the judiciary or the university.

Schulich School of Business - Keele Campus

Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) / International Bachelor of Business Administration (iBBA)

Our two undergraduate programs offer students a challenging and rewarding full-time course of study. Our students develop critical and analytical skills and acquire a solid foundation in business concepts. Admission to the BBA and iBBA programs requires both high academic achievement and demonstrated leadership in extra-curricular activities.

BBA: A Business Degree with the Option to Specialize

At Schulich, the four-year Honours BBA degree involves an essential base of management studies that encompasses more than the traditional focus on commerce and economics. Students study business from day one with first-year courses in applied business ethics, business history, financial accounting, microeconomics, and macroeconomics. By carefully selecting management elective courses, you can specialize in one or more areas of business.

iBBA: A Business Degree with a Global Perspective

The iBBA lets you immerse yourself in international business studies and travel. In addition to studying a broad base of business courses, iBBA students include three year of language study, region study courses, and an exchange term to their academic experience.

The Learning Environment

Our programs are limited in size so that you will receive the attention necessary to fully realize your potential. We use a variety of teaching methods including case studies, small group discussions, and lectures.

Study Abroad

In the BBA program you will have the option of studying abroad for one or two semesters during your third or fourth year. For iBBA students, an international exchange is a required part of the program. All exchanges are at one of our partner institutions.

The Schulich Career Development Centre

The centre provides career days, workshops, and company information sessions. It also posts openings for part-time, summer and full-time employment on its Web site.

Careers

94 per cent of our 2003 graduates were employed within six months of graduation. Here are just some of the careers you can pursue after graduating with a BBA or iBBA.

The interdisciplinary program in African Studies provides students with the opportunity to pursue their interest in Africa in conjunction with another discipline. Students can double major or minor in African studies and an Honours BA program in the Faculty of Arts, or they can take a series of courses that complement their specialization in another subject area.

Students in the program usually take an interest not only in the broad range of thematic academic issues of the program, but also in the wider issues which have an impact upon Africa and its peoples. This interest is represented through a newsletter, events mounted by the program in conjunction with students, faculty and often the community and outside institutions. Because African studies has a commitment to both the intrinsic benefits of academic inquiry and to the well being of the peoples of Africa, the program can therefore equip students seeking to do graduate work, work with African communities within Canada and work abroad.

The African Studies Program is designed to give graduates a broad theoretical framework and a set of highly-developed analytical skills. The career and employment opportunities for our graduates are potentially excellent, in view of society's growing awareness of the importance of international, gender and equity issues. Prospective employers welcome employees who are sensitive to international issues and comfortable with the emerging diversity of Canadian society. Alumni from our program have found work in a wide range of fields, including government, education, law, social work, public service, business and media. A degree in African studies will offer you the challenge of personal and political insight, and it will encourage you to grow intellectually beyond the confines of traditional academic learning.

The Department of Anthropology concentrates on change in the contemporary world, especially in relation to new and emerging social challenges. Our courses deal with how people live their lives, as they do so often at the edge of political, social and cultural stability. As anthropologists, we are interested in exploring how people are subjected to, participate in and contest the processes of living in a world that is now interconnected by new and powerful economic, cultural and technological forces. Consideration is given to how class, race, gender and ethnic identity politics are produced and expressed in shifting local and global contexts of power. These themes are explored in a wide variety of courses that engage such topics as: development and the environment; media and popular culture; health, illness and disability; gender and sexualities; tourism, religion and science; diasporic communities and displaced peoples; violence and conflict; and the colonial process. Other courses focus on processes of change in the prehistoric and historic past. Our overall goal is to prepare students to ask critical questions about contemporary, past and future social life, and to provide students with the critical analytic tools required to understand our place in the social and cultural diversity of the world, past and present.

For specific program requirements, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Courses in Anthropology

AS/ANTH 1110 6.00 Introduction to Social Anthropology. An introduction to anthropology from the perspectives acquired through comparative study of primitive and complex societies. The course illustrates both the diversity and the recurring principles of social behaviour. Topics include economic organization, kinship patterns, political and legal systems, and ritual and religion.

AS/ANTH 2100 6.00 One World, Many Peoples. A fundamental change in recent history has been the formation of an increasingly interdependent world amidst widespread diversity of societies and cultures. This course surveys the possibilities and problems of implementing programs of social, economic and cultural development within this context.

AS/ANTH 2120 6.00 Visualizing Ourselves, Visualizing Others: Media, Representation and Culture. This course interrogates the relationship between media and culture. It focuses on media representations in different cultural contexts in order to develop critical analytical skills for understanding the processes through which identities and social inequalities are produced, contested and transformed.

AS/ANTH 2140 6.00 Introduction to Archaeology and Palaeoanthropology. This course explores the biological evolution of human beings and historical development of human societies; the methods that palaeoanthropologists and archaeologists use to study the past; and the social context of such endeavours to know the past.

AS/ANTH 2150 6.00 Early Civilizations: Complex Societies of the New and Old Worlds. This course introduces students to anthropological archaeology's view of ancient civilizations and illuminates the web of connections that links them to 21st century global civilization.

AS/ANTH 2160 6.00 Native Peoples of North America. This course examines the origins and diversity of Canadian First Nations culture types prior to and during the historical period of contact, as well as discussion and analysis of legal, political, economic and cultural issues during the later years of Euro-Canadian influence.

AS/ANTH 2170 6.00 Sex, Love and Marriage: Cross-Cultural Approaches to the Body, Gender, Sexuality and Kinship. This course critically examines popular explanations of what is considered natural (and what is not) about sex, gender, emotions and the family. Through a cross-cultural approach, biological models of natural gender roles, as well as sexual and familial relations, are explored and questioned.

AS/ANTH 2180 3.00 Social Anthropology of the Middle East. Despite the many sociocultural differences in the Middle East, there is, nevertheless, a sense of unity in diversity. Using anthropological concepts, such similarities and differences in religion, politics, the family, urban, rural and tribal life and modernization are explored.

AS/ANTH 2190 6.00 Perspectives in Feminist Anthropology. This course examines gender as a category of anthropological analysis. As well as exploring the relationship between feminism and anthropology, topics such as gender and violence, transnational feminisms, globalization and resistance are considered through ethnographic examples and a variety of theoretical approaches.

AS/ANTH 2210 6.00 Public Anthropology. This course engages directly with contemporary events and issues, bringing anthropology into the public sphere. Combining academic and applied anthropology in a larger context, public anthropology illuminates and addresses contemporary problems, including inequality, cultural appropriation, land claims and human suffering. Degree credit exclusion: AS/ANTH 2110 6.00.

AS/ANTH 3020 6.00 Race, "Racism" and Popular Culture. This course concentrates on race and racism as a major source of conflict, particularly in Canadian, British and American societies. The theoretical literature on racism as well as applied models developed to reduce racial conflict will be studied in depth.

AS/ANTH 3030 3.00 Discourses Of Colonialism. This course explores the cultural and political significance of colonial discourse in the past and in the present, including an examination of the construction of Euro-American forms of knowledge about other peoples and how these understandings continue to shape global relations of power. Degree credit exclusion: AS/ANTH 3030 6.00.

AS/ANTH 3050 3.00 Disabling Lives: Anthropological Interpretations of Disability through Autobiography. After considering approaches that are distinctive to the interpretation of disability, this course considers autobiographical interpretations from social science perspectives. The above perspectives will then be combined by asking students to consider disability biographies. Degree credit exclusions: AS/ANTH 3000G 3.00, AS/ANTH 3080 6.00.

AS/ANTH 3070 3.00 Psychics, Sceptics and Pseudoscience: A Cultural Critique of New Age. This course views the cacophony of ideas surrounding New Age and the attempt to justify various beliefs by pseudoscience/science. A cultural critique of New Age includes an analysis of technology, science and skepticism in various social and political contexts. Degree credit exclusion: AS/ANTH 3000A 3.00 (Fall/Winter 1997-1998 to Fall/Winter 2001-2002).

AS/ANTH 3080 6.00 Modes of Enablement: A Cultural Perspective on Physical Disability. A comparative look at visible and non-visible disabilities, the relationship between the disabled and others. Topics include the symbolic and behavioural correlates of physical disability, relationships between the disabled, their support persons and the health professionals. Degree credit exclusions: AS/ANTH 3000G 3.00, AS/ANTH 3050 3.00.

AS/ANTH 3090 6.00 Gender, Science and Society. This course focuses on a critical study of the biomedical sciences, especially the role of women in science, interpretations of their social and reproductive roles and an assessment of major concepts in the representation of gender and visible minorities in medicine.

AS/ANTH 3110 6.00 Acquiring Research Skills. This introduction to research focuses on learning both qualitative and quantitative research skills within the context of a project designed and implemented by the class. Fieldwork, survey design and data analysis are covered, all within the context of using a computer. Prerequisite: AS/ANTH 1110 6.00.

AS/ANTH 3120 6.00 The Anthropology of Tourism. This course explores the sites/sights of tourist practice. Beginning with an historical analysis of tourism in relationship to European colonial expansion, we then consider the cultural significance of contemporary tourism both at home and abroad.

AS/ANTH 3130 3.00 Archaeology and Society: Local Pasts in a Global Present. Archaeology and society are intertwined, locally and globally. This course interrogates those connections, examining the role of archaeological heritage and investigation within contemporary society, as well as the influence of social and political forces on archaeological interpretation, governance and practice.

AS/ANTH 3140 6.00 Archaeological Research Techniques: York University – MTRCA Summer Archaeological Field School. The course introduces students to basic methods of archaeological field work and laboratory analysis through the excavation of a late Iroquoian site in Ontario. Students will integrate the data derived from their investigations with what is known about the culture and history of the people under study. Prerequisite: Any one of AS/ANTH 2140 6.00, AS/ANTH 2150 6.00, or AS/ANTH 2160 6.00.

AS/ANTH 3150 6.00 Culture, Evolution and Ecology. The course begins with a discussion of Darwinian evolution and moves on to consider how global ecology alters these conventional views. Ideas about the interlinkage between evolution and ecology, and aspects of the new naturalistic approach are considered.

AS/ANTH 3160 6.00 Family and Kinship in Comparative Perspective. This course seeks to develop cross-cultural perspectives on such topics as marriage and mating, the formation of domestic groups, extended kinship ties and social networks, the kindred and various forms of descent groups, the family as a pathway to madness and many other topics. The stress will be on the importance of kinship as an ideology and set of symbols for ordering human relationships.

AS/ANTH 3170 6.00 Historical Anthropology and the Politics of History. This course examines (a) how and why anthropologists have incorporated history into their ethnographic work and (b) the ways in which the past is perceived and used, both by anthropologists and the people amongst whom they study.

AS/ANTH 3180 6.00 Human Evolution and Physical Anthropology. An introduction to physical anthropology within the perspective of evolutionary theory. Topics include: the modern evolutionary synthesis; the primate fossil record; human physical evolution: ethnology and the evolution of behaviour; human biology in respect to adaptation and natural selection.

AS/ANTH 3190 3.00 Nutritional Anthropology: Food and Eating in Cross-Cultural Perspective. This course examines nutritional anthropology from a biocultural perspective, stressing the social and cultural determinants of food use in industrial and developing societies. It examines the linkages between food, health and ethnic identity in the context of globalization. Degree credit exclusion: AS/ANTH 3190 6.00.

AS/ANTH 3190 6.00 Nutritional Anthropology: Food and Eating in Cross-Cultural Perspective. This course examines nutritional anthropology from a biocultural perspective, stressing the social and cultural determinants of food use in industrial and developing societies. It examines the linkages between food, health and ethnic identity in the context of globalization. Degree credit exclusion: AS/ANTH 3190 3.00.

AS/ANTH 3200 3.00 The Anthropology of International Health. Emphasizing the interplay of culture, history and political economy, this course explores health problems in the developing world. Topics include analyses of international health development ideology and practice, and case studies in infectious diseases, maternal mortality, child survival, hunger and malnutrition.

AS/ANTH 3220 6.00 Greed, Globalization and the Gift: The Culture of Capitalism. This course examines capitalist enterprise historically and ethnographically. It focuses upon forms of corporate capitalism; the historic spread of capitalism and the world system; globalization; and the failure of neo-liberal development to deliver economic prosperity.

AS/ANTH 3230 6.00 Women, Culture and Society. This course examines the contribution of anthropology to women's studies, including the relationship between biology and culture, the evolution and learning of sex roles, and the roles and status of women in comparative perspective.

Cross-listed to: AS/ANTH 3230 6.00 and AS/SOSC 3180 6.00

AS/ANTH 3240 6.00 Sexing the Subject: Sexuality from a Cross-Cultural Perspective. This course examines sexuality from a cross-cultural perspective in order to better understand how sexual practices, moralities and identities are constructed, contested and transformed in relation to cultural, political and economic forces. Degree credit exclusion: AS/ANTH 3000M 3.00.

AS/ANTH 3280 6.00 Psychiatric Anthropology and Social Stress. This course is concerned with furthering the mutual relevance of social anthropology and psychiatry, and with developing a true anthropology of suffering. It integrates theories and findings from the fields of medical anthropology, transcultural psychiatry, psychosomatic medicine, in its focus on psychosocial stress research.

AS/ANTH 3320 3.00 Religious Ritual and Symbolism. This course explores anthropological approaches to the study of religion, including symbolic theory, ethnographic examples and materials on ritual events. Topics may include shamans, sorcery and witchcraft, and specific examples of Asian and European religions and New Age religious movements. Degree credit exclusion: AS/ANTH 3320 6.00.

AS/ANTH 3320 6.00 Religious Ritual and Symbolism. This course explores anthropological approaches to the study of religion, including symbolic theory, ethnographic examples and materials on ritual events. Topics may include shamans, sorcery and witchcraft, and specific examples of Asian and European religions and New Age religious movements. Degree credit exclusion: AS/ANTH 3320 3.00.

AS/ANTH 3330 6.00 Health and Illness in Cross-Cultural Perspective. Comparative perspectives on health, illness and medical systems are studied from the viewpoint of anthropology and related disciplines. Emphasis is placed on understanding the roles of the practitioner and patient in their social and cultural contexts and the importance of applied medical anthropology to the wider community. Degree credit exclusion: AS/ANTH 4330 6.00.

AS/ANTH 3350 3.00 Culture as Performance. This course covers expressive aspects of culture including cultural performance forms, the visual arts, cultural spectacles, dance, ritual, narrative and other forms are considered in terms of contemporary anthropological theory. Degree credit exclusion: AS/ANTH 3350 6.00.

AS/ANTH 3350 6.00 Culture as Performance: The Anthropology of the Arts. This course covers expressive aspects of culture: ritual, drama, the visual arts, dance and oral literature, in the framework of contemporary anthropological theories. Degree credit exclusion: AS/ANTH 3350 3.00.

AS/ANTH 3360 6.00 The Politics of Power: Sexuality, Violence and Property in Everyday Life. This course focuses on the interconnections among three key sites of the everyday politics of power - sexuality (the body), violence and property - in a wide variety of different societies and cultures.

AS/ANTH 3370 6.00 Power and Violence: The Making of "Modernity". This course examines the creation and perpetuation of the so called modern world modernity as a dominant socio-cultural system through its increasing proliferation and use of extreme forms of organized violence. It also examines the existence and possibilities of non-violent alternatives.

AS/ANTH 3400 6.00 Altering States: Citizenship and Civil Society in a Globalizing World. The idea of civil society has stirred social imaginations and political aspirations across the globe in recent years. This course analyzes those contexts where debates over civil society, citizenship, power and the state are located and contested.

AS/ANTH 3410 6.00 Ethnicity and Nationalism. This course examines the significance and perception of ethnicity and of class, both as concepts and as modes of establishing or of manipulating identity and of organizing social life in non-Western societies.

AS/ANTH 3420 3.00 Indigenous Minorities and Human Rights. This course focuses on how nation states define majorities and minorities, and how such definitions are contested by populations striving for cultural, political and human rights. Questions include: How do people get classified as indigenous or aboriginal? How has globalization enhanced awareness of human rights? Degree credit exclusion: AS/ANTH 3420 6.00.

AS/ANTH 3420 6.00 Indigenous Minorities and Human Rights. This course focuses on how nation states define majorities and minorities, and how such definitions are contested by populations striving for cultural, political and human rights. Questions include: How do people get classified as indigenous or aboriginal? How has globalization enhanced awareness of human rights? Degree credit exclusion: AS/ANTH 3420 3.00.

AS/ANTH 4010 3.00 Directed Reading. A student may take an independent, individually supervised directed reading course, provided that the student and the course meet the requirements as set out by the Faculty of Arts and those established by the department. Note: Directed reading courses require a signed agreement between the student and faculty member, as well as the approval of the undergraduate director.

AS/ANTH 4010 6.00 Directed Reading. A student may take an independent, individually supervised directed reading course, provided that the student and the course meet the requirements as set out by the Faculty of Arts and those established by the department. Note: Directed reading courses require a signed agreement between the student and faculty member, as well as the approval of the undergraduate director.

AS/ANTH 4030 6.00 Intercultural Training Skills. The purpose of this course is to offer students a body of theoretical knowledge and a repertoire of tools and skills that can be applied to training in intercultural communication, anti-racism, educational and employment equity and organizational development.

AS/ANTH 4110 6.00 Development of Theory in Social Anthropology. Starting from the major scholars of the last century, the course of anthropology is critically traced through the present century, with the ultimate aim of assessing the contemporary condition of social anthropology. Prerequisites: AS/ANTH 1110 6.00, AS/ANTH 3110 6.00.

AS/ANTH 4220 6.00 The Cultures of the Web. This course applies anthropological concepts of community and culture to the Internet. Beginning with the cultural context of virtual communication, students experience fieldwork within a virtual culture and relate this experience to current research. Degree credit exclusions: AS/ANTH 4200H 6.00, AS/ANTH 4210H 3.00.

AS/ANTH 4250 6.00 Religious Movements in Global Perspective. Within a framework of the politics of identity, this course explore the tension between religious and national identities, the character and scope of transnational religious communities, and takes up fundamentalism as one response to developments in cosmopolitan modern societies. Degree credit exclusion: AS/ANTH 4200J 6.00 (from Fall/Winter 1997-1998 to Fall/Winter 2001-2002).

AS/ANTH 4260 6.00 Social and Cultural Change. Critical considerations of the theoretical dimensions in this field of anthropology (concepts, models, methodologies, explanations) leads to study of the causes, processes and effects of social change in a range of developed and Third World societies. Particular and contrasting case studies are examined in detail.

AS/ANTH 4330 6.00 Health and Illness in Cross-Cultural Perspective. Comparative perspectives on health, illness and medical systems are studied from the viewpoint of anthropology and related disciplines. Emphasis is placed on understanding the roles of the practitioner and patient in their social and cultural contexts and the importance of applied medical anthropology to the wider community. Degree credit exclusion: AS/ANTH 3330 6.00.

AS/ANTH 4340 6.00 Advocacy and Social Movements. This course examines how modern forms of communication have totally transformed the nature of advocacy and the social construction of knowledge in modern society. Specifically, it examines ways in which cultural norms are modified by the activities of social movements.

Arabic – Department of Languages, Literatures and Linguistics, Arts

Note: For general regulations and enrolment information please see Languages, Literatures and Linguistics in the Courses of Instruction section of this Calendar.

AS/ARB 1000 6.00 Introduction to Modern Standard Arabic. This course is an introduction to standard written and formal spoken Arabic for true beginners.

Language of Instruction: Arabic/English

AS/ARB 2000 6.00 Intermediate Arabic. This course focuses on the acquisition of more complex grammatical structures, expanding vocabulary and discourse skills, and on developing competence in a wide range of communicative situations in Arabic. Prerequisite: AS/ARB 1000 6.00, or permission of the department.

Language of Instruction: Arabic

AS/ARB 2700 6.00 An Introduction to Arabic Culture. This course presents textual sources in Arabic literature, philosophy and scripture, and is designed to introduce students to major aspects of Arabic and Islamic culture from the classical to the modern period. Note: Knowledge of Arabic is desirable, but not required.

Science Courses

SC/BC 1800 3.00 First-Year University Seminar in Science. Each seminar course is a small group (25 student) in-depth exploration of a topic of current scientific interest, led by a faculty member actively interested in the area. The aim is to introduce students to university scholarship in science. One and one-half hours per week for two terms. Three credits. Prerequisite: Open only to students in their first year of university studies in science or by permission of the instructor.

SC/BC 1850 6.00 Biomedical Ethics and the New Genetics. Recent developments in genetics and biotechnology are rapidly generating both medical breakthroughs and societal dilemmas. This course provides an understanding of basic principles of molecular biology and human genetics, and examines societal and bioethical implications of the new genetics. Three lecture/seminar hours. Two terms. Six credits. Degree credit exclusions: SC/NATS 1680 6.00, SC/NATS 1850 6.00. Not open to students enrolled in Biology programs.

Cross-listed to: SC/BC 1850 6.00 and SC/NATS 1850 6.00

SC/BC 3030 3.00 Technical and Professional Writing. This writing-intensive course is for upper-year Science students and others in related fields. Students develop confidence and competence in professional and technical writing. Focus is on communication of complex information in a clear, sensible style. Three hours per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: At least six non-science general education credits. Corequisite: Concurrent enrolment in at least one 3000- or 4000-level science course (or course which is cross-listed with a science course), or permission of the instructor. Degree credit exclusions: SC/BC 3050 3.00, AS/SC/COSC 3530 3.00.

Faculty of Arts Foundations Courses

Listed below are the 1000- and 2000-level nine-credit foundations courses which are part of the Faculty of Arts general education requirement and are affiliated with Norman Bethune College. These courses introduce students to interdisciplinary study, emphasize critical thinking, reading and writing skills at the university level, and reflect the academic mandate of the college.

AS/HUMA 1905 9.00 Dangerous Visions, Brave New Worlds: The Science Fiction Culture and Our Scientific Age. This course explores how the medium of science fiction has given cultural expression to changing attitudes towards modern science and technology. Topics include science fiction and the computer, relativity and quantum theory, religious belief, genetics and potential apocalypses. (This course is affiliated with Bethune College.)

AS/HUMA 1910 9.00 Science and the Humanities: Nature and Human Nature. This course investigates how scientific thinking about the place of human beings in nature involves humanistic thinking about the place of nature in being human. (This course is affiliated with Bethune College.) Degree credit exclusion: AS/HUMA 1910 6.00.

AS/HUMA 2915 9.00 Darwin, Einstein and the Humanities. This course is concerned with the origins and impact of the ideas of two of the most significant scientists of the modern era, Charles Darwin and Albert Einstein. (This course is affiliated with Bethune College.) Degree credit exclusion: AS/HUMA 2915 6.00.

AS/HUMA 2920 9.00 Spreading the Word: Knowledge, Technology and Culture. This course explores technologies of knowledge in social and cultural context, examining histories of classification, ethical and political concerns about information, debates over artificial intelligence and artificial life, and the social impact of technologies like the book, telegraph and computer. (This course is affiliated with Bethune College.)

AS/SOSC 2040 9.00 Nature and Human Nature. An enquiry into the biological dimensions of human culture with emphasis on findings of evolutionary theory, zoology and primate studies in order to understand the evolutionary determinants of "primitive" and "modern" societies. (This course is affiliated with Bethune College.) Degree credit exclusion: AS/SOSC 1040 6.00.

Biochemistry– Pure and Applied Science

Biochemistry, the chemistry of life, underpins much of biological, biotechnological and biomedical research today. As a biochemistry major, you will explore the structure and function of molecules in organisms, genomic research with cutting-edge DNA technology, and investigate the cell's proteomes. Biochemists are employed in the rapidly expanding biotechnology and pharmaceutical industries, in academic or hospital research centres, as well as in teaching at schools, colleges and universities. A biochemistry degree is also an entry into professional schools in medicine and other health professions, business and law.

SC/BCHM 2020 4.00 Cell Biology and Biochemistry I. A study of the cell biology and biochemistry of biomolecules. Topics include intermediary metabolism related to bioenergetics, including the biology of mitochondria and chloroplasts, protein structure and function, nucleic acid replication, gene expression, chromosome organization and recombinant DNA technology. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 1010 6.00; both SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, or SC/CHEM 1000 6.00. Corequisite: SC/CHEM 2020 6.00 or SC/CHEM 2020 5.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 2020 4.00 and SC/BIOL 2020 4.00

SC/BCHM 2021 4.00 Cell Biology and Biochemistry II. A study of those aspects of cell biology and biochemistry not included in SC/BIOL 2020 4.00. Topics include membranes, the endomembrane system, the cytoskeleton, cellular motility, the extracellular matrix, intercellular communication and intracellular regulation. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2020 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 2021 4.00 and SC/BIOL 2021 4.00

SC/BCHM 3010 3.00 Advanced Biochemistry. A detailed discussion of enzyme structure and function. The chemistry and metabolism of biological molecules. Metabolic regulation at the level of enzyme activity. Knowledge of general concepts of metabolism and of basic aspects of enzyme structure and function is assumed. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2020 4.00; SC/CHEM 2020 6.00. Prerequisite or corequisite: Three additional chemistry credits at the 2000 or 3000 level (e.g. SC/CHEM 2011 3.00) are strongly recommended.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 3010 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3010 3.00 and SC/CHEM 3050 3.00

SC/BCHM 3051 3.00 Macromolecules of Biochemical Interest. A discussion of the structures and functions of naturally occurring macromolecules, including nucleic acids, proteins, polysaccharides and related macromolecular conjugates. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/CHEM 2020 6.00. Prerequisite or corequisite: SC/CHEM 3020 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 3051 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3051 3.00 and SC/CHEM 3051 3.00

SC/BCHM 3071 3.00 Pharmaceutical Discovery. A practical look into the pharmaceutical industry, providing an overview of the drug discovery process. Topics include choosing disease states to study, pharmacological assays, rational drug design, synthetic and analytical chemistry, toxicology, drug metabolism and clinical trials. Three hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 2020 6.00; SC/BIOL 2020 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2020 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 3071 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3071 3.00 and SC/CHEM 3071 3.00

SC/BCHM 3110 3.00 Molecular Biology I: Nucleic Acid Metabolism. Discussion of the metabolism of DNA and RNA, including the physical-chemical properties of nucleic acids; DNA-protein interactions; chromosome structure; nucleic acid replication, repair and recombination; recombinant DNA technology. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2021 4.00; SC/BIOL 2040 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 3110 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3110 3.00

SC/BCHM 3130 3.00 Molecular Biology II: Regulation of Gene Expression. Gene structure and function. Mechanisms of gene expression in prokaryotes and eukaryotes. Storage and retrieval of genetic information; transcription, translation and their control. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 3110 3.00 or SC/BCHM 3110 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 3130 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3130 3.00

SC/BCHM 3140 4.00 Advanced Biochemistry and Molecular Genetics Laboratory. Research techniques used in biochemistry and molecular biology, including recombinant DNA technology are illustrated. Purification of a restriction endonuclease; isolation and mapping of bacterial plasmids, bacteriophage and recombinant molecules; polymerase chain reaction (PCR); nucleic acid hybridization. Enrolment restricted. One lecture hour, six laboratory hours two days per week, plus additional laboratory hours throughout the week. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite or corequisite: SC/BIOL 3110 3.00. SC/BIOL 3130 3.00 strongly recommended as a prerequisite or corequisite.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 3140 4.00 and SC/BIOL 3140 4.00

SC/BCHM 4050 3.00 Bioanalytical Chemistry. This course describes modern methods of bioanalytical chemistry in their application to the analysis of biological polymers: proteins, nucleic acids, carbohydrates and lipids. Analytical aspects of genomics and proteomics are considered. Three lecture hours per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 2020 6.00; SC/BIOL 2020 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2020 4.00 and SC/BIOL 2021 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2021 4.00

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 4050 3.00 and SC/BIOL 4051 3.00 and SC/CHEM 4050 3.00

SC/BCHM 4051 3.00 Biological Chemistry. Bio-organic and bio-inorganic topics: active sites in enzymes and metalloproteins, coenzymes; abiotic models; aromatic natural products, terpenoids and some alkaloid classes. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 2020 6.00; SC/CHEM 2030 4.00 is strongly recommended.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 4051 3.00 and SC/CHEM 4051 3.00

SC/BCHM 4061 3.00 Cell and Molecular Biology of Development. This course presents a genetic and molecular biological approach to the field of developmental biology. Topics range from unicellular systems, both prokaryotic and eukaryotic, to more complex, multicellular systems. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00; SC/BIOL 2040 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 4061 3.00 and SC/BIOL 4061 3.00

SC/BCHM 4150 3.00 Cellular Regulation. A detailed examination of molecular, cellular and physiological processes associated with the action of peptide hormones, neuro-transmitters and growth factors. Emphasis is on cell receptors and signal transduction mechanisms involving cyclic nucleotides and calcium. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00; SC/BIOL 3010 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3110 3.00 strongly recommended as prerequisites or corequisites.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 4150 3.00 and SC/BIOL 4150 3.00

SC/BCHM 4151 3.00 Membrane Transport. The fundamental properties of solute transport are presented by discussing active ion pumps, passive transporters and ion channels of bacteria, plants and animals. The role of transport in regulating the intracellular environment in animals and plants is emphasized. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00; SC/BIOL 3010 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3110 3.00 strongly recommended as prerequisites or corequisites.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 4151 3.00 and SC/BIOL 4151 3.00

SC/BCHM 4160 3.00 Photosynthesis. A study of the process of photosynthesis at the biochemical, organelle and whole-organism levels, including structure of the photosynthetic apparatus, primary light-harvesting processes, electron transport, photophosphorylation, mechanism of carbon dioxide fixation in higher plants and algae, photorespiration. Two lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 3160 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 4160 3.00 and SC/BIOL 4160 3.00

SC/BCHM 4290 4.00 Biotechnology. This laboratory course covers some of the methods currently in use in biotechnology research in industry and academia. Emphasis is placed on methods for transforming eukaryotes with marker genes. Advanced methods used in molecular biology are also covered. Two lecture hours, six laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 3110 3.00 or SC/BCHM 3110 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 4290 4.00 and SC/BIOL 4290 4.00

Biology is the science of life. It is concerned with structure, function, evolution and distribution of all living organisms. The Department of Biology is sufficiently large and its faculty members sufficiently varied in research interests to offer undergraduate instruction in all the major areas of biology. It specializes, however, in four areas: physiology, cell biology, molecular biology and population biology. Specialized programs in biology (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar) require completion of a prescribed core of courses which expose the student to general areas of biology, but also give the student wide flexibility in selecting courses.

Courses in Biology

Biology courses whose numbers begin with the digit 4 are normally offered in alternate years —with the exception of SC/BIOL 4000 3.00/4000 8.00, SC/BIOL 4040 3.00, SC/BIOL 4200 3.00, SC/BIOL 4290 4.00, SC/BIOL 4245 3.00, SC/BIOL 4255 3.00 and SC/BIOL 4370 3.00, which have been offered annually in recent years.

The contact hour information in the course outlines below specifies the number of hours per week when the course is taught in the daytime in a fall/winter session. If the course is offered in the evening and/or in a summer session, the format and scheduling may be different, though equivalent in credit value.

SC/BIOL 1010 6.00 Biological Science. A course for biology students examining unifying concepts and fundamental principles of biology. The course offers an introduction to cell and molecular biology, genetics, ecology and evolution. The laboratory exercises are an integral component, therefore, students must pass the laboratory section in order to pass the course. Three lecture hours, two lecture hours per week in alternate weeks; one tutorial hour per week; 12 three-hour laboratories. Two terms. Six credits. Prerequisite: OAC chemistry or 12U chemistry or SC/CHEM 1500 4.00. Degree credit exclusions: SC/BIOL 1410 6.00, AK/NATS 1910 6.00.

SC/BIOL 1410 6.00 Principles and Processes in Biology. Emphasizing fundamental biological principles and processes of both plants and animals, this course examines aspects of the evolution and diversity of life, cell structure and function, heredity and ecosystems. For science students who do not plan to continue in biology. Because laboratory exercises are an integral component of the course, students must pass the laboratory section of the course in order to pass the course. Three lecture hours, two lecture hours per week in alternate weeks; one tutorial hour per week; 12 three-hour laboratories. Two terms. Six credits. Prerequisite: OAC chemistry or 12U chemistry or SC/CHEM 1500 4.00. Degree credit exclusions: SC/BIOL 1010 6.00, AK/NATS 1910 6.00.

SC/BIOL 2010 4.00 Plant Biology. Current advances in plant biology research, highlighting plant structure, physiology, development and diversity. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 1010 6.00.

SC/BIOL 2020 4.00 Cell Biology and Biochemistry I. A study of the cell biology and biochemistry of biomolecules. Topics include intermediary metabolism related to bioenergetics, including the biology of mitochondria and chloroplasts, protein structure and function, nucleic acid replication, gene expression, chromosome organization and recombinant DNA technology. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 1010 6.00; both SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00, or SC/CHEM 1000 6.00. Corequisite: SC/CHEM 2020 6.00 or SC/CHEM 2020 5.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 2020 4.00 and SC/BIOL 2020 4.00

SC/BIOL 2021 4.00 Cell Biology and Biochemistry II. A study of those aspects of cell biology and biochemistry not included in SC/BIOL 2020 4.00. Topics include membranes, the endomembrane system, the cytoskeleton, cellular motility, the extracellular matrix, intercellular communication and intracellular regulation. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2020 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 2021 4.00 and SC/BIOL 2021 4.00

SC/BIOL 2030 4.00 Animals. (formerly SC/BIOL 2030 5.00 - before 2000-2001) A study of the diversity of animals, their structure, physiology and evolution. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 1010 6.00. Degree credit exclusions: SC/BIOL 2030 5.00, SC/BIOL 2031 4.00, SC/BIOL 2031 3.00.

SC/BIOL 2040 4.00 Genetics. (formerly SC/BIOL 2040 5.00 - before 2000-2001) A study of the organization and behaviour of genes and chromosomes and their roles in cells, organisms, populations and evolution. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 1010 6.00. Degree credit exclusion: SC/BIOL 2040 5.00.

SC/BIOL 2050 4.00 Ecology. (formerly SC/BIOL 2050 3.00 - before 2000-2001) A study of the interactions between organisms and their abiotic environments, presented in an evolutionary context. Includes processes of evolution, ecosystems and communities, competition, predation, population ecology and current environmental problems such as habitat loss and extinction. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 1010 6.00. Prerequisite or corequisite: SC/BIOL 2060 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: SC/BIOL 2050 3.00.

SC/BIOL 2060 3.00 Statistics for Biologists. (formerly SC/BIOL 3090 3.00 - before 2000-2001) Statistical problem solving for biologists. Basic theory for the analysis of parametric and non-parametric data. A project period is devoted to discussion and solving of statistical problems. Two lecture hours, one project period. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: AK/AS/SC/COSC 1520 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 1530 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 1540 3.00; AS/SC/MATH 1014 3.00 or AS/SC/MATH 1505 6.00 or both AS/SC/MATH 1013 3.00 and AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00 or equivalents. Degree credit exclusions: SC/BIOL 3090 3.00, AS/ECON 2500 3.00, AS/ECON 3210 3.00, AK/ECON 3470 3.00, AK/ECON 3480 3.00, AS/ECON 3500 3.00, ES/ENVS 2010 6.00, ES/ENVS 2010 3.00, AS/SC/ GEOG 2420 3.00, AS/SC/KINE 2050 3.00, AS/SC/KINE 3150 3.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 1131 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 1132 3.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 2560 3.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 2570 3.00, AS/POLS 3300 6.00, AK/AS/SC/PSYC 2020 6.00, AK/AS/SC/PSYC 2021 3.00, AK/AS/SC/PSYC 2022 3.00, AK/PSYC 2510 3.00, AK/PSYC 3110 3.00, AS/SOCI 3030 6.00.

SC/BIOL 3001 2.00 Field Course. A course given at one of several biological stations, the objective of which is to give the student the opportunity to study plants and animals in their natural surroundings. The departmental brochure should be consulted for further details. One-week field course. Two credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2010 4.00; one of SC/BIOL 2030 4.00 or SC/BIOL 2031 3.00; plus special prerequisites where specified for some modules. Note: Students must be manually enrolled in this course through the Biology Department early in the January prior to the session in which the course is offered. Enrolment is not possible at any other time of year. In addition to the tuition fee levied by the University, each student must pay for transportation, room and board.

SC/BIOL 3001 3.00 Field Course. A course given at one of several biological stations, the objective of which is to give the student the opportunity to study plants and animals in their natural surroundings. The departmental brochure should be consulted for further details. Two-week field course. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2010 4.00; one of SC/BIOL 2030 4.00 or SC/BIOL 2031 3.00; plus special prerequisites where specified for some modules. Note: Students must be manually enrolled in this course through the Biology Department early in the January prior to the session in which the course is offered. Enrolment is not possible at any other time of year. In addition to the tuition fee levied by the University, each student must pay for transportation, room and board.

SC/BIOL 3002 2.00 Field Course. This is a second field course, which may be taken for credit, the contents of which must differ materially from SC/BIOL 3001 2.00/3001 3.00 as determined by the course director. The departmental brochure should be consulted for further details. One-week field course. Two credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 3001 2.00 or SC/BIOL 3001 3.00 or permission of the course director; plus special prerequisites where specified for some modules. Note: Students must be manually enrolled in this course through the Biology Department early in the January prior to the session in which the course is offered. Enrolment is not possible at any other time of year. In addition to the tuition fee levied by the University, each student must pay for transportation, room and board.

SC/BIOL 3002 3.00 Field Course. This is a second field course, which may be taken for credit, the contents of which must differ materially from SC/BIOL 3001 2.00/3001 3.00 as determined by the course director. The departmental brochure should be consulted for further details. Two-week field course. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 3001 2.00 or SC/BIOL 3001 3.00 or permission of the course director; plus special prerequisites where specified for some modules. Note: Students must be manually enrolled in this course through the Biology Department early in the January prior to the session in which the course is offered. Enrolment is not possible at any other time of year. In addition to the tuition fee levied by the University, each student must pay for transportation, room and board.

SC/BIOL 3003 2.00 Field Course. This is a third field course, which may be taken for credit, the contents of which must differ materially from SC/BIOL 3001 2.00/3001 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3002 2.00/3002 3.00, as determined by the course director. The departmental brochure should be consulted for further details. One-week field course. Two credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 3002 2.00 or SC/BIOL 3002 3.00 or permission of the course director; plus special prerequisites where specified for some modules. Note: Students must be manually enrolled in this course through the Biology Department early in the January prior to the session in which the course is offered. Enrolment is not possible at any other time of year. In addition to the tuition fee levied by the University, each student must pay for transportation, room and board.

Enrolment is not possible at any other time of year. In addition to the tuition fee levied by the University, each student must pay for transportation, room and board.

SC/BIOL 3010 3.00 Advanced Biochemistry. A detailed discussion of enzyme structure and function. The chemistry and metabolism of biological molecules. Metabolic regulation at the level of enzyme activity. Knowledge of general concepts of metabolism and of basic aspects of enzyme structure and function is assumed. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2020 4.00; SC/CHEM 2020 6.00. Prerequisite or corequisite: Three additional chemistry credits at the 2000 or 3000 level (e.g. SC/CHEM 2011 3.00) are strongly recommended.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 3010 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3010 3.00 and SC/CHEM 3050 3.00

SC/BIOL 3030 4.00 Physiology of the Invertebrates. A treatment of the physiology of major invertebrate phyla with emphasis on interphyletic relationships. Laboratory exercises address the diversity and physiology of invertebrates. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 2030 4.00.

SC/BIOL 3051 3.00 Macromolecules of Biochemical Interest. A discussion of the structures and functions of naturally occurring macromolecules, including nucleic acids, proteins, polysaccharides and related macromolecular conjugates. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/CHEM 2020 6.00. Prerequisite or corequisite: SC/CHEM 3020 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 3051 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3051 3.00 and SC/CHEM 3051 3.00

SC/BIOL 3060 4.00 Animal Physiology I. Fundamental concepts in sensory, neural and behavioural physiology. The biochemical mechanisms whereby nerve cells detect and transmit information and the processes whereby information is integrated in the nervous system and gives rise to the outputs of behaviour. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 2030 4.00, SC/BIOL 2020 4.00, SC/BIOL 2021 4.00.

SC/BIOL 3070 4.00 Animal Physiology II. The processes of digestion, osmoregulation and excretion, circulatory systems and gaseous exchange, metabolism, growth and reproduction are considered. The course adopts a comparative approach, first analyzing the basic principles underlying physiological activities, then examining the means whereby different organisms perform them. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 2030 4.00, SC/BIOL 2020 4.00, SC/BIOL 2021 4.00.

SC/BIOL 3071 3.00 Pharmaceutical Discovery. A practical look into the pharmaceutical industry, providing an overview of the drug discovery process. Topics include choosing disease states to study, pharmacological assays, rational drug design, synthetic and analytical chemistry, toxicology, drug metabolism and clinical trials. Three hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 2020 6.00; SC/BIOL 2020 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2020 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 3071 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3071 3.00 and SC/CHEM 3071 3.00

SC/BIOL 3100 2.00 Current Topics in Biological Research. A review of the research in progress by members of the Department of Biology. This course is designed to prepare Honours students for SC/BIOL 4000 8.00 and SC/BIOL 4000 3.00. Two lecture hours per week in the fall term, assignments due in the winter term. Two credits. Prerequisite: Open only to students registered in an Honours Program in Biology, normally in the year prior to that in which they will undertake their Honours thesis work.

SC/BIOL 3110 3.00 Molecular Biology I: Nucleic Acid Metabolism. Discussion of the metabolism of DNA and RNA, including the physical-chemical properties of nucleic acids; DNA-protein interactions; chromosome structure; nucleic acid replication, repair and recombination; recombinant DNA technology. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2021 4.00; SC/BIOL 2040 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 3110 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3110 3.00

SC/BIOL 3120 3.00 Immunobiology. The biology and chemistry of the immune response. Structure and function of antibodies; antibody diversity; anatomy and development of the immune system; cellular interactions; immunological responses in disease. Production and use of monoclonal and polyclonal antibodies. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00.

SC/BIOL 3130 3.00 Molecular Biology II: Regulation of Gene Expression. Gene structure and function. Mechanisms of gene expression in prokaryotes and eukaryotes. Storage and retrieval of genetic information; transcription, translation and their control. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 3110 3.00 or SC/BCHM 3110 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 3130 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3130 3.00

SC/BIOL 3140 4.00 Advanced Biochemistry and Molecular Genetics Laboratory. Research techniques used in biochemistry and molecular biology, including recombinant DNA technology, are illustrated. Purification of a restriction endonuclease; isolation and mapping of bacterial plasmids, bacteriophage and recombinant molecules; polymerase chain reaction (PCR); nucleic acid hybridization. Enrolment restricted. One lecture hour, six laboratory hours two days per week, plus additional laboratory hours throughout the week. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite or corequisite: SC/BIOL 3110 3.00. SC/BIOL 3130 3.00 strongly recommended as a prerequisite or corequisite.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 3140 4.00 and SC/BIOL 3140 4.00

SC/BIOL 3150 3.00 Microbiology. Fundamentals of microbiology; microbial organisms; microbe-host interactions; microbial genetics and evolution; microorganisms and human disease; environmental and applied microbiology. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00; SC/BIOL 2040 4.00.

SC/BIOL 3155 3.00 Virology. An in-depth examination of cellular, molecular and structural aspects of virology. Molecular processes and concepts are emphasized using examples from current research literature. Virus-host interactions are investigated in various systems. Three lecture hours per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00.

SC/BIOL 3160 4.00 Plant Physiology. Basic physiological processes of plants and plant cells, including photosynthesis, respiration, nitrogen metabolism, water relations, solute uptake and translocation. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2010 4.00; SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00.

SC/BIOL 3170 3.00 Concepts in Animal Ecology. Current major topics in ecology with special emphasis on animals. Lecture material is based on primary sources and includes population growth, productivity, predation and optimization, community ecology and conservation. The laboratory material stresses field studies and quantitative approaches to related questions. Two lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: One of SC/BIOL 2030 4.00 or SC/BIOL 2031 3.00; SC/BIOL 2050 4.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 1520 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 1530 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 1540 3.00. Prerequisite or corequisite: SC/BIOL 2060 3.00.

SC/BIOL 3200 3.00 Processes of Evolution. The process and principles of evolution, the mechanisms by which genetic change occurs, the patterns of genetic variation and molecular studies that relate the structure of organisms to their evolution are examined. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 2040 4.00.

SC/BIOL 3500 3.00 Plant Geography. An analysis of the geography of higher plants, emphasizing processes that operate at the species population level, the origin and diversity of higher plant life, geographic patterns of diversity and floras, and dynamics of species populations at local and continental scales. Two lecture hours, two laboratory hours. One term. Prerequisite: AS/SC/GEOG 2500 3.00 or SC/BIOL 2050 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BIOL 3500 3.00 and AS/GEOG 3500 3.00 and SC/GEOG 3500 3.00

SC/BIOL 4000 3.00 Honours Thesis. A substantial review essay based on library investigations under the supervision of a faculty member. Rules governing this course are outlined in the Department of Biology undergraduate handbook. Only open to Honours students majoring in biology and environmental science students (life sciences stream). One term. Three credits. Note: Students who take SC/BIOL 3100 2.00 as a degree requirement will take it as a prerequisite for SC/BIOL 4000 3.00. In exceptional circumstances, SC/BIOL 3100 2.00 may be taken as a corequisite with the permission of the BIOL 4000 course director.

SC/BIOL 4000 8.00 Honours Thesis. A research thesis based on laboratory and/or field investigations under the supervision of a faculty member. Rules governing this course are outlined in the Department of Biology undergraduate handbook. Only open to Honours students majoring in biology and environmental science students (life sciences stream). Two terms. Eight credits. Note: Students who take SC/BIOL 3100 2.00 as a degree requirement will take it as a prerequisite for SC/BIOL 4000 8.00. In exceptional circumstances, SC/BIOL 3100 2.00 may be taken as a corequisite with the permission of the BIOL 4000 course director.

SC/BIOL 4040 3.00 Genetic Stability and Change. Stability and flexibility of the genomes of prokaryotic and eukaryotic cells. Genetic recombination, DNA repair, mutation inductions; genome rearrangement and the transposition of DNA. The roles of these processes in evolution and in the induction of human disease. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 3110 3.00; SC/BIOL 3130 3.00 strongly recommended as prerequisite or corequisite.

SC/BIOL 4050 3.00 Plant Development. Physiological processes controlling the growth, differentiation and reproduction of plants. Two lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2010 4.00; SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00; or by permission of the course director.

SC/BIOL 4051 3.00 Bioanalytical Chemistry. This course describes modern methods of bioanalytical chemistry in their application to the analysis of biological polymers: proteins, nucleic acids, carbohydrates and lipids. Analytical aspects of genomics and proteomics are considered. Three lecture hours per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 2020 6.00; SC/BIOL 2020 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2020 4.00 and SC/BIOL 2021 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2021 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 4050 3.00 and SC/BIOL 4051 3.00 and SC/CHEM 4050 3.00

SC/BIOL 4061 3.00 Cell and Molecular Biology of Development. This course presents a genetic and molecular biological approach to the field of developmental biology. Topics range from unicellular systems, both prokaryotic and eukaryotic, to more complex, multicellular systems. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00; SC/BIOL 2040 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 4061 3.00 and SC/BIOL 4061 3.00

SC/BIOL 4080 3.00 Methods in Aquatic Ecology. Lake morphometry; water movement; temperature effects; water chemistry; freshwater flora and fauna; productivity. The laboratory deals with the taxonomy of freshwater organisms, the use of limnological equipment and the practical aspects of energy flow. Six hours per week (including lectures, laboratories and field experience). Two weekend field trips. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2010 4.00; one of SC/BIOL 2030 4.00, SC/BIOL 2031 3.00; SC/BIOL 2050 4.00; SC/BIOL 2060 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 1520 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 1530 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 1540 3.00. Note: An additional fee will be charged for room and board while at the field site.

SC/BIOL 4090 4.00 Plant Ecology. This course reflects the diversity of topics that make up the field of plant ecology: ecosystems, plant population ecology, physiological and evolutionary ecology, plant-herbivore interactions and applied ecology. Laboratories cover field and laboratory techniques, including sampling methods. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2010 4.00; SC/BIOL 2050 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4095 3.00 Applied Plant Ecology. This course concentrates on how pollution, including acid precipitation and climatic change, and activities such as overgrazing have affected plant growth and productivity. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 2050 4.00 or permission of the instructor; SC/BIOL 4090 4.00 is recommended.

SC/BIOL 4120 3.00 Phycology. Classification and phylogeny of the algae; life cycles and reproduction; some aspects of algal physiology. Two lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 2010 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4140 3.00 Advanced Cell Biology I. Selected topics in cell biology, such as the principles of microscopy, cell motility. Restricted laboratory enrolment. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4140 4.00 Advanced Cell Biology I. Selected topics in cell biology, such as the principles of microscopy, cell motility. Restricted laboratory enrolment. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4141 3.00 Current Topics and Methods in Cell Biology. Selected topics in cell biology, such as membrane dynamics, cell cycle control, apoptosis, signal transduction and cellular rhythmicity. Presentation and critical discussion of recent research papers, emphasizing current methods and experimental design. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00; or equivalent. Degree credit exclusions: SC/BIOL 4140 3.00 from Fall/Winter 2002-2003 only.

SC/BIOL 4150 3.00 Cellular Regulation. A detailed examination of molecular, cellular and physiological processes associated with the action of peptide hormones, neuro-transmitters and growth factors. Emphasis is on cell receptors and signal transduction mechanisms involving cyclic nucleotides and calcium. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00; SC/BIOL 3010 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3110 3.00 strongly recommended as prerequisites or corequisites.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 4150 3.00 and SC/BIOL 4150 3.00

SC/BIOL 4151 3.00 Membrane Transport. The fundamental properties of solute transport are presented by discussing active ion pumps, passive transporters and ion channels of bacteria, plants and animals. The role of transport in regulating the intracellular environment in animals and plants is emphasized. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00; SC/BIOL 3010 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3110 3.00 strongly recommended as prerequisites or corequisites.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 4151 3.00 and SC/BIOL 4151 3.00

SC/BIOL 4160 3.00 Photosynthesis. A study of the process of photosynthesis at the biochemical, organelle and whole-organism levels, including structure of the photosynthetic apparatus, primary light-harvesting processes, electron transport, photophosphorylation, mechanism of carbon dioxide fixation in higher plants and algae, photorespiration. Two lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 3160 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 4160 3.00 and SC/BIOL 4160 3.00

SC/BIOL 4190 3.00 Advanced Cell Biology II. A discussion course emphasizing the relationships between ultrastructure, function and development, especially processes involving the cytoskeleton. Restricted laboratory enrolment. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4190 4.00 Advanced Cell Biology II. A discussion course emphasizing the relationships between ultrastructure, function and development, especially processes involving the cytoskeleton. Restricted laboratory enrolment. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4200 3.00 Selected Readings in Biology. A reading course offered by special arrangement between an individual student and a faculty supervisor which focuses on a specialized area of biology of mutual interest. The subject matter must be significantly different from that of the student's honours thesis. A student may take this course only once for credit. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: Students can be in any program in biology, but must have a science grade point average equal to or greater than 6.0.

SC/BIOL 4220 4.00 Histology. Structure and function of tissues in vertebrates, with special emphasis on human histology. The laboratory deals with basic histological and histochemical techniques, such as tissue sectioning and staining, and localization of enzymes. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4230 4.00 General Entomology. The distinguishing characteristics, biology and economic importance of the major orders and families of insects. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 2030 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4240 3.00 Mammalian Systematics and Ecology (Mammology). The systematics, life history and ecology of mammals. Emphasis is on North American genera and the species of eastern Canada. Field and laboratory techniques are an integral part of the course. Two lecture hours and three laboratory hours per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2030 4.00; SC/BIOL 2050 4.00. Degree credit exclusion: SC/BIOL 4240 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4245 3.00 Conservation Biology. This course explores the role of biological science in efforts to conserve natural resources, systems and the organisms therein. Two lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2010 4.00; one of SC/BIOL 2030 4.00, SC/BIOL 2031 3.00; SC/BIOL 2040 4.00; SC/BIOL 2050 4.00; or permission of the instructor. Degree credit exclusion: ES/ENVS 4110 3.00.

SC/BIOL 4250 3.00 Ornithology. A review of the adaptations of birds, including flight, physiology, behaviour and ecology, and their taxonomic diversity and evolution. Laboratories include field trips, a study of bird anatomy and examination of museum specimens. Two lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: One of SC/BIOL 2030 4.00, SC/BIOL 2031 3.00.

SC/BIOL 4255 3.00 Biodiversity. We do not know the number of species on Earth, even to the nearest order of magnitude. This course discusses the factors that influence the number of species in an area and the importance of biodiversity to humanity. Two lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: Completion of 60 credits towards a degree in biology or environmental science or environmental studies, or permission of the instructor.

Cross-listed to: SC/BIOL 4255 3.00 and ES/ENVS 4111 3.00

SC/BIOL 4260 3.00 Systematic Biology in Theory and Practice. Systematics is the science of describing and categorizing biological diversity at all levels. It is central to most areas of biological inquiry. This course teaches students the history of systematics, its methods and their applications throughout biology. Two lecture hours, one three-hour laboratory/computer session. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2010 4.00; one of SC/BIOL 2030 4.00, SC/BIOL 2031 3.00.

SC/BIOL 4265 3.00 Pollutants, Invaders and Global Change. This course summarizes our progress in conceptualizing, understanding and in solving large-scale ecological problems caused by the introduction of pollutants and exotic species to the environment. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: One of SC/BIOL 2030 4.00, SC/BIOL 2031 3.00; SC/BIOL 2050 4.00 or permission of the instructor.

SC/BIOL 4270 3.00 Reproduction. Molecular, genetic, cytological and evolutionary aspects of sexual reproduction. Comparison of the regulatory genes and proteins of sexual differentiation in Saccharomyces, Drosophila, Caenorhabditis elegans, mice, human and plants. Evolutionary advantages and disadvantages of sexual reproduction; asexual reproduction through parthenogenic mechanisms. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00; SC/BIOL 2040 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4280 3.00 Plant Molecular Biology. This course covers the uses of genetically engineered plants in basic research and industry. Emphasis is placed on methods for isolating higher plant genes and elucidating regulatory mechanisms. The agronomic potential of plant genetic engineering is discussed. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 3110 3.00; SC/BIOL 3160 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4285 3.00 Human Molecular Genetics. The course covers the application of genetic and molecular biological techniques to study human diseases and other related areas, and discusses ethical concerns that might arise from this research. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite or corequisite: SC/BIOL 3130 3.00.

SC/BIOL 4290 4.00 Biotechnology. This laboratory course covers some of the methods currently in use in biotechnology research in industry and academia. Emphasis is placed on methods for transforming eukaryotes with marker genes. Advanced methods used in molecular biology are also covered. Two lecture hours, six laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 3110 3.00 or SC/BCHM 3110 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 4290 4.00 and SC/BIOL 4290 4.00

SC/BIOL 4300 3.00 Origins and Development of Biological Theories. An analysis of some central ideas in the philosophy of science. The origins and expansion of biological theories, with emphasis on Darwinism, the gene concept, the new synthesis, and the reinterpretation of these theories in molecular biological terms. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: Open only to students in the final year of an Honours program in biology, or with permission of the instructor.

SC/BIOL 4305 3.00 Controversies in the Modern Life Sciences. The study of past and contemporary controversies in genetics, evolutionary theory and ecology. The focus is on analyzing the diverse aims, concepts, theories, techniques and institutional strategies which have shaped the development of modern biology. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 2040 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4310 3.00 Biological Timekeeping. An examination of the biological rhythms of cells, tissues and whole animals; the mechanisms of biological timekeeping and how those clocks interact with each other to coordinate physiological events within an animal and with the environment. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00; one of SC/BIOL 2030 4.00, SC/BIOL 2031 3.00.

SC/BIOL 4320 3.00 Vertebrate Endocrinology. Vertebrate endocrine structure and function; synthesis and regulation of hormones; mechanisms of hormone actions; and hormonal integration of physiological processes. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00; one of SC/BIOL 2030 4.00, SC/BIOL 2031 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AS/SC/KINE 4448 3.00.

SC/BIOL 4330 3.00 Invertebrate Endocrinology. An examination of the hormonal control of processes in selected invertebrates, particularly those involved in the control of postembryonic development. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 2030 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4340 3.00 Fish Biology. A study of fish biology (ichthyology), including anatomy, systematics, physiology, behaviour and ecology of freshwater and marine fishes. Special emphasis is placed on the unique features of fishes and their functional adaptation to aquatic environments. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 2030 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4350 4.00 Comparative Chordate Anatomy. A comparative study of the biology of chordate animals in which the evidence of their evolutionary relationships is emphasized. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 2030 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4360 4.00 Parasitology. Biology of animal parasites; developmental, structural and functional adaptations to the parasitic environments; immune and other responses of hosts; parasitic diseases. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 2030 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4370 3.00 Neurobiology. An analysis of recent advances in neurobiology, particularly information processing and storage in nervous systems and the biochemical basis of learning, memory and behaviour. The neurobiology of addiction, diseases of the nervous system and regeneration are also discussed. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00; SC/BIOL 2021 4.00; SC/BIOL 3060 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4380 3.00 Systems Neuroscience. This course investigates the neural basis of visual and auditory perception, echolocation, smell, short- and long-term memory, and motor control. Emphasis is on understanding how neural interactions analyze sensory information and control complex behaviour. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/BIOL 3060 4.00.

SC/BIOL 4410 3.00 Advanced Drosophila Genetics. A study of recent advances in Drosophila genetics. The course addresses techniques such as chromosomal analysis, lethal tagging, genetic dissection, mosaic analysis, genetic screens, transposon tagging, enhancer trapping, methods for manipulating genes in transgenic flies and genetic ablation. The Business and Society (BUSO) Program is a liberal arts degree program that provides students with the tools needed to study and research the relationship between business and society. The Honours BA and BA degree programs in business and society represent innovative multidisciplinary degree programs that provide students with the opportunity to study the relationship between business and society in a variety of new forms. The core courses, which include a second-year foundations course (AS/SOSC 2340 9.00), provide students with basic analytical tools to study business and society. In addition to the core, both Honours BA and BA students will choose two of the nine following streams to focus their studies in: economics, environmental studies, geography, history, mathematics, political science, psychology, sociology and social science (labour studies).

Some students in the program may also wish to pursue basic courses in business skills in order to prepare for employment. Students interested in enhancing their business related skills are eligible to enrol in one of the professional certificates offered by the Faculty of Arts: the Certificate in Business Fundamentals or the Certificate in Non-profit Management. These certificates provide an additional avenue for students to develop business-related skills.

For specific program requirements and the list of program courses, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Certificate in Business Fundamentals – Arts

Certificate Office:

S740 Ross Building, 416-736-2100, ext. 77805

Certificate Coordinator:

R. Wellen, Social Science

York University students may earn a Certificate in Business Fundamentals concurrent with fulfillment of the requirements for an Honours undergraduate BA degree. This certificate is open to students in all undergraduate faculties except for students enrolled in the Schulich School of Business bachelor of business administration program or the Atkinson bachelor of administrative studies program. Students may not earn both a Certificate in Business Fundamentals and a Certificate in Non-profit Management.

To qualify for possible admission to the Certificate in Business Fundamentals, students must complete 30 credits from a list of approved courses and the cumulative grade point average in these 30 credits must be 5.0 (C+). There are a limited number of spaces available in the Certificate in Business Fundamentals and therefore meeting the minimum requirements for application will not guarantee admission to the certificate program. In order to be granted the Certificate in Business Fundamentals upon graduation, students must be qualified to graduate with an Honours BA (120 credits) and must therefore maintain an overall grade point average of 5.0 (C+) in all courses completed.

Application to the Certificate in Business Fundamentals may be made only after successfully completing at least 54 credits and the successful completion of the following requirements with a minimum overall grade point average of 5.0 (C+).

For specific certificate requirements and the list of certificate courses, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Listed below are required courses for the Certificate in Business Fundamentals offered by the Schulich School of Business.

SB/BFND 3100 3.00 Management and Business: An Introduction.

This course will provide an intensive introduction to the nature and role of business organizations. The role of business organizations in the political economy of Canada will be described. Management functions including planning, decision making and control will be examined, and the major specialized management roles (operations management, finance and accounting, marketing/sales, human resources) will be introduced.

SB/BFND 3200 3.00 Finance and Accounting.

Managers in business, as in all formal organizations, need to interpret and use financial information. This course will provide students with the fundamental conventions, standards and basic techniques used in collecting and using financial information in organizations. Degree credit exclusions: AS/ECON 3580 3.00 Financial Accounting and AS/ECON 3590 3.00 Managerial Accounting. Students who have successfully completed AS/ECON 3580 3.00 and AS/ECON 3590 3.00 may not enrol in SB/BFND 3200 3.00, and are therefore exempt from this requirement.

SB/BFND 4100 3.00 Markets and Marketing.

This course examines the relationship between the business and a key component of its environment – the individuals or organizations to which it sells products and services. The primary focus of this course is how businesses learn about the markets they deal in, and how they act so as to be effective in attracting and keeping customers and clients.

SB/BFND 4200 3.00 Management Strategy and Implementation.

Businesses exist in changing multi-dimensional environments. As social inventions, businesses in such environments need explicit strategy to survive and succeed. This course will identify different strategic options and the environment situations that make those options preferable. It will also examine the organizational design and human resource management implications of various strategic choices.

Prerequisite: Six credits in political science or philosophy or sociology. Degree credit exclusions: GL/POLS 3011 3.00(EN) (1991), GL/POLS 4011 3.00 (1999) and GL/CDNS/POLS 3014 3.00(EN) (Fall 2002).

Cross-listed to: GL/CDNS 3663 3.00 and GL/POLS 3663 3.00 and GL/SOCI 3663 3.00

GL/CDNS 3670 6.00 Le multiculturalisme et l'ethnicité au Canada. L'objectif du cours est de comprendre la notion de l'ethnicité et du multiculturalisme et leurs implications pour le Canada. Après un examen historique des fondements de l'ethnicité, le cours étudiera les politiques gouvernementales vis-à-vis l'immigration et le racisme. Enfin, nous examinerons par quels moyens les communautés ethno-culturelles s'organisent aujourd'hui et les implications pour l'avenir du Canada.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CDNS 3670 6.00 and GL/HUMA 3670 6.00 and GL/SOSC 3670 6.00

GL/CDNS 3675 6.00 Images du Canada. Selon une perspective pluridisciplinaire, ce cours cherche à élucider le sens et le contenu de l'idée "Canada" dans ses variations temporelles et spatiales. Nous chercherons à examiner les problèmes généraux de définition d'un pays et les diverses perspectives utilisées. Pendant la première session nous porterons notre attention sur les définitions et les idéologies proposées à travers notre histoire par divers groupements. Dans la deuxième session, nous examinerons les images du Canada à travers certains thèmes du Canada contemporain. Cours incompatibles : GL/SOSC/HUMA 3015F 3.00 (Hiver 1995), 3014F 3.00 (Automne 1995), 3015F 3.00 (Hiver 1996), 3010C 3.00 (Automne 1996) et 3010B 3.00 (Hiver 1997).

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CDNS 3675 6.00 and GL/HUMA 3675 6.00 and GL/SOSC 3675 6.00

GL/CDNS 3680 3.00 Logic of Social Inquiry: Qualitative Methods. An examination of how theories influence the logic of inquiry and research designs. Assumptions concerning objectivity and values are discussed and problems of operationalization are analyzed. Prerequisite: A course in Canadian studies or political science or sociology.

Cross-listed to: GL/CDNS 3680 3.00 and GL/POLS 3680 3.00 and GL/SOCI 3680 3.00

GL/CDNS 3680 3.00 La logique de l'enquête : méthodes qualitatives. Une étude des relations entre la théorie et la pratique de la recherche. Les questions d'objectivité et l'intrusion des valeurs. Le cours se préoccupera de la recherche qualitative. Condition préalable : Un cours en Études canadiennes, Science politique ou Sociologie.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CDNS 3680 3.00 and GL/POLS 3680 3.00 and GL/SOCI 3680 3.00

GL/CDNS 3690 3.00 The Logic of Social Inquiry: Quantitative Methods (Data Collection and Analysis). The course concentrates first on questionnaire design and interview procedures and extrapolates from these techniques the general problems of data collection. Secondly, it examines the logic of research procedures used in assessing and interpreting data. Prerequisite: A course in Canadian studies or political science or sociology.

Cross-listed to: GL/CDNS 3690 3.00 and GL/POLS 3690 3.00 and GL/SOCI 3690 3.00

GL/CDNS 3690 3.00 La logique de l'enquête : méthodes quantitatives. Le cours examinera d'abord la construction de questionnaire et de cédules d'interview pour illustrer les problèmes qu'implique la collecte des données sociales. Ensuite il considérera l'interprétation des statistiques sociales.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CDNS 3690 3.00 and GL/POLS 3690 3.00 and GL/SOCI 3690 3.00

GL/CDNS 4000 6.00 Honours Thesis. This course permits students enrolled in an Honours program to pursue in depth a particular topic of interest with the assistance of a qualified faculty member. The subject has to be chosen by the student in conjunction with and be approved by the faculty member. Proposals must be approved by the supervising faculty member and the program coordinator. Prerequisite: GL/CDNS 1920 6.00.

AK/CDNS 4100 6.00 Directed Reading. This course is designed to enable the student to conduct a detailed independent study of his or her own choosing. The student will undertake intensive reading and writing in one or two selected areas. Specific areas are to be selected in consultation with the coordinator of the program and members of the Canadian Studies Committee. Prerequisites: 78 credits and permission of the coordinator of Canadian studies. Note: Students must be accepted by a faculty supervisor before they can register in 4000-level directed reading courses. The course transaction form for such courses must be submitted with a note from the supervisor stating his/her willingness to perform this task. Permission of the program coordinator is also required.

GL/CDNS 4200 6.00 Séminaire de recherche en études canadiennes/ Research Seminar in Canadian Studies. Cours à la fois théorique et pratique sur les approches en études canadiennes. Après un survol de l'évolution des études canadiennes, les étudiants explorent, par le biais de lectures et de discussions, les perspectives disciplinaire, pluridisciplinaire et interdisciplinaire. Ils mettent en pratique ces approches en effectuant des exercices portant sur des thèmes reliés à l'identité canadienne et en rédigeant un travail de recherche sur un sujet de leur choix./A practical as well as theoretical study of the various approaches to Canadian studies. Following a survey of the evolution of this discipline, students will investigate, through readings and discussion, its disciplinary, multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary perspectives. The students will then put into practice their understanding of these three approaches by preparing short papers on the theme of Canadian identity, and submitting a major research paper on a subject of their choice. Condition préalable : 12 credits on Canadian subjects recognized by the Canadian Studies Program or permission of the instructor/12 crédits sur des sujets canadiens reconnus par le programme en Études canadiennes ou la permission du professeur.

Language of Instruction: English/French

GL/CDNS 4625 3.00 Littérature franco-ontarienne. Études d'oeuvres de tous genres (littérature intimiste, essai, roman, théâtre, poésie, conte et nouvelle) qui illustrent les temps forts de la littérature franco-ontarienne : prise de conscience; enrâchement (fidélité ou retour au passé); déracinement (séparation, voyage, émigration, évasion).

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CDNS 4625 3.00 and GL/Fran 4625 3.00

GL/CDNS 4655 6.00 Selected Themes in Canadian Political History 1867 - 1984. This course examines the development of Canadian political parties in their historical context. Prerequisite: A course in either Canadian history or Canadian studies or Canadian politics or permission of instructor. Degree credit exclusions: GL/HIST 4010 6.00(EN) (1996-1997, 2000-2001) and GL/HIST/POLS 4010 6.00(EN) (2001-2002).

Cross-listed to: GL/CDNS 4655 6.00 and GL/HIST 4655 6.00 and GL/POLS 4655 6.00 and GL/SOSC 4655 6.00

The Centre for Academic Writing assists students to become effective independent writers, within both their academic life and elsewhere. The primary means of achieving this objective is through the centre's individualized tutoring program. All Faculty of Arts students are eligible to enrol in this program and take advantage of the opportunity to work on their writing with one of the centre's experienced faculty. The centre also regularly offers mini-courses on various issues related to writing effectively in university.

The Centre for Academic Writing offers the following courses for degree credit.

AS/CAW 1100 3.00 Studies in the University: Higher Education at York University. This course introduces students to the theory and practice of university education. It combines an examination of York University as an institution in its historical, political and social context with instruction in reading, thinking and writing at the university level.

AS/WRIT 1000 3.00 Academic Writing in the Social Sciences. The course examines the process of reading and writing academic papers with emphasis on the latter. Topics considered include writing as a learning process, developing academic ideas, using and documenting academic sources, planning and organizing a paper, revising and editing. Degree credit exclusions: AS/CAW 1000 3.00, AS/CAW 1200 3.00, AS/WRIT 1200 3.00.

AS/WRIT 1200 3.00 Academic Writing in the Humanities. This course examines the process of reading and academic writing with emphasis on the latter. Topics include writing as a learning process, developing academic ideas, using and documenting academic sources, planning and organizing a paper, revising and editing. Degree credit exclusions: AS/CAW 1200 3.00, AS/CAW 1000 3.00, AS/WRIT 1000 3.00.

AS/WRIT 1300 3.00 Theories of Writing. Students in this course explore, and learn to apply, some of the recent research on the act of writing from a variety of disciplines including cognitive psychology, linguistics, communications studies and education.

AS/WRIT 1310 3.00 Writing Strategies for Nonfiction. This course analyzes the elements found in successful examples of nonfiction prose, professional and technical writing in order that students may apply these principles to their own writing. Note: Internet access is required for this course.

AS/WRIT 1500 3.00 Writing and Computers. This course explores some of the recent research on the act of writing and on writing with computers. Students learn how to apply the findings of this research to their own writing with computers. Note: This course meets in a computer lab; computer use is required.

AS/WRIT 1600 3.00 Academic Writing: Developing Sentence Sense. This course examines current theory on the role of grammar and style in the writing process and provides students with strategies for constructing clear, readable sentences in the context of academic writing. Degree credit exclusion: AS/EN 2910 6.00.

AS/WRIT 1980 9.00 Professional Writing: Process and Practice. This course considers a wide range of written expression including fiction, nonfiction, poetry and technical/business writing, with an emphasis on the theory and practice of writing. (This course is affiliated with Founders College.)

Cross-listed to: AS/HUMA 1980 9.00 and AS/WRIT 1980 9.00

AS/WRIT 2100 3.00 The Essay: Rhetoric and Writing. This course teaches academic writing in the historical and generic context of the essay. The rhetorical strategies of argumentative writing are examined through the reading and analysis of essays, and by writing short weekly assignments in a computer lab. Note: Internet access is required for this course.

AS/WRIT 2200 3.00 New Challenges in Academic Writing. This course explores the range of voices students are likely to encounter in their course readings in an increasingly inclusive university setting, and the corresponding changes in the expectations, difficulties and possibilities they may face in their writing assignments.

AS/WRIT 2300 3.00 A Writer's Introduction to Research. A practical introduction to strategies for using library, online and other resources, this course develops students' abilities to formulate research plans, to evaluate and organize information, and to present it effectively and responsibly. Note: Lectures and labs will be offered in alternate weeks.

AS/WRIT 2400 3.00 Writing History. This course explores different modes of historical writing and conflicting, critical interpretations of the past. Students apply what they are learning to various writing assignments, focusing on both an appreciation of different historical genres and critical skills development.

Chemistry is the study of the structure and properties of matter including the energy changes that accompany chemical reactions. The understanding gained from these studies is applied in the prediction of the behaviour of matter and in the interpretation of a wide variety of phenomena. Chemistry is linked closely with a number of other subjects, ranging from astrophysics and earth science to the biological and medical sciences, which involve matter at various levels of complexity.

The Department of Chemistry offers undergraduate courses in all the major sub-disciplines of the subject, including physical, theoretical, analytical, inorganic, organic and biological chemistry. Specialized programs in Chemistry (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar) include a required core of courses to ensure that the student acquires a broad knowledge of the subject, but also provide opportunities for the student to concentrate on areas of particular interest. In the applied chemistry area the Department of Chemistry also offers specialization in atmospheric chemistry (see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar).

Courses in Chemistry

The contact-hour information in the course outlines below specifies the number of hours per week when the course is taught in the daytime in a fall/winter session. If the course is offered in the evening and/or in a summer session, the format and scheduling may be different, though equivalent in credit value.

SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 Chemical Structure. (formerly half of SC/CHEM 1000 6.00 - before 2001-2002). Introduction to chemistry with emphasis on physical and electronic structure of matter, including gases, liquids and solids. Topics include behaviour of gases; thermochemistry; atomic structure and periodic table; chemical bonding and architecture; structure of liquids and solids; frontiers of chemistry. Two and one-half lecture hours per week, one tutorial hour per week, six three-hour laboratory sessions. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: OAC chemistry, 12U chemistry or SC/CHEM 1500 4.00 or equivalent. Degree credit exclusions: SC/CHEM 1000 6.00, SC/CHEM 1010 6.00, AK/CHEM 2000 6.00.

SC/CHEM 1001 3.00 Chemical Dynamics. (formerly half of SC/CHEM 1000 6.00 - before 2001-2002). This course complements SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 - with emphasis on chemical change and equilibrium. Topics include chemical kinetics; chemical equilibrium; entropy and free energy as driving forces for chemical change; electrochemistry; frontiers in chemistry. Two and one-half lecture hours per week, one tutorial hour per week, six three-hour laboratory sessions. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: OAC chemistry, 12U chemistry or SC/CHEM 1500 4.00 or equivalent. Degree credit exclusions: SC/CHEM 1000 6.00, SC/CHEM 1010 6.00, AK/CHEM 2000 6.00.

SC/CHEM 1500 4.00 Introduction to Chemistry. An introductory course in chemistry for students needing an adequate preparation for SC/CHEM 1000 6.00. Topics include basic atomic theory, stoichiometry, the periodic table, chemical bonding, equilibria, acids and bases, oxidation-reduction and organic chemistry. Each student is counselled by a faculty adviser to enrol either in this course or in SC/CHEM 1000 6.00 depending on previous chemistry experience. Three lecture hours per week, three laboratory hours and two tutorial hours in alternate weeks. One term. Four credits. Degree credit exclusions: SC/CHEM 1520 4.00. May not be taken by any student who has taken or is currently taking another university course in chemistry.

SC/CHEM 1509 0.00 Compulsory Tutorial for SC/CHEM 1500 4.00. Students enrolled in SC/CHEM 1500 4.00 must also enrol in this mandatory tutorial. Not open to other students. Two tutorial hours in alternate weeks.

SC/CHEM 2010 3.00 Symmetry, Electronic Structure and Bonding. An introduction to elementary group theory and wavefunctions for atoms and molecules. Topics include descriptions of bonding and the use of symmetry in the construction of molecular orbitals and in the derivation of selection rules for electronic and vibrational spectroscopy. Three lecture hours, one tutorial hour. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: Both SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00; AS/SC/MATH 1013 3.00; AS/SC/MATH 1014 3.00. Prerequisite or corequisite: SC/PHYS 1410 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1010 6.00.

SC/CHEM 2011 3.00 Introduction to Thermodynamics. This course is an introduction to equilibrium chemical thermodynamics. The three laws of thermodynamics and the thermodynamic state functions are described. Many applications are considered, including the operation of heat engines, phase transformations, thermochemistry and chemical reaction equilibria. Three lecture hours, one tutorial hour. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: AS/SC/MATH 1013 3.00; AS/SC/MATH 1014 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: SC/CHEM 2050 3.00.

SC/CHEM 2020 6.00 Organic Chemistry. (formerly SC/CHEM 2020 5.00 - before Summer 2000) Structure including stereochemistry, physical and chemical properties of simple organic compounds; methods in structure determination; introductory concepts of reaction mechanisms and methods for determination of mechanisms. Two and one-half lecture hours per week, three laboratory hours every second week, one tutorial hour every week. Two terms. Six credits. Prerequisites: Both SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00 Degree credit exclusion: SC/CHEM 2020 5.00.

SC/CHEM 2030 4.00 Basic Inorganic Chemistry. The descriptive chemistry of the more common elements is discussed within the context of qualitative inorganic analysis. Principles of ionic equilibria in aqueous solution, elementary coordination chemistry and electrochemical potentials are presented. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours, one tutorial hour. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: Both SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00.

SC/CHEM 2080 4.00 Analytical Chemistry. Introduction to quantitative chemical analysis and the analytical method; errors and statistical analysis of data; gravimetric and volumetric methods of analysis including acid-base, precipitation, complexation and redox titrimetry, the effect of equilibria on chemical analysis; introduction to potentiometry and spectrophotometry. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: Both SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00. Degree credit exclusions: SC/CHEM 2110 5.00, SC/CHEM 2110 4.00.

SC/CHEM 3010 4.00 Physical Chemistry. An introduction to spectroscopy and statistical thermodynamics for atoms and small molecules. Determination and applications of enthalpies of formation, reaction and solution for different systems. Three lecture hours per week, five three-hour laboratories. First term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 2010 3.00; SC/CHEM 2011 3.00.

SC/CHEM 3011 4.00 Physical Chemistry. This is an introductory course in chemical kinetics as applied primarily to reactions in the gas phase but also in solution and at electrode surfaces. Three lecture hours per week, five three-hour laboratories. Second term. Four credits. Prerequisite: SC/CHEM 2011 3.00.

SC/CHEM 3020 4.00 Organic Chemistry II. A course organizing structural organic chemistry on a mechanistic basis and applying these mechanisms to synthesis and degradation. The application of spectroscopic methods is also incorporated where appropriate. Three lecture hours per week, seven three-hour laboratories. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 2020 6.00 or SC/CHEM 2020 5.00; SC/CHEM 2030 4.00.

SC/CHEM 3021 4.00 Organic Chemistry III. A course building on SC/CHEM 3020 4.00 and introducing methods for probing mechanisms, base-catalyzed reactions, rearrangements, cyclization, strain, pericyclic reactions and other topics. Three lecture hours per week, eight three-hour laboratories. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite: SC/CHEM 3020 4.00.

SC/CHEM 3030 4.00 Transition Metal Chemistry. The chemistry of the transition metals is discussed from an historical perspective and within the context of modern theories of bonding, structure and spectroscopy. Topics include classical coordination compounds, organometallics, metallocenes, metal carbonyls and bioinorganic chemistry. Three lecture hours per week, seven three-hour laboratories. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 2010 3.00; SC/CHEM 2020 6.00; SC/CHEM 2030 4.00.

SC/CHEM 3031 4.00 Physical Inorganic Chemistry. An introduction to physical and theoretical methods in inorganic chemistry. Topics are selected from the following: atomic structure and spectra, molecular orbital and ligand field theory, bonding, electronic spectroscopy, magnetism of metal complexes, photochemistry, electrochemistry, solid state chemistry, metal-metal bonding. Three lecture hours per week, eight three-hour laboratories. One term. Four credits. Prerequisite: SC/CHEM 3030 4.00.

SC/CHEM 3040 3.00 Computational Chemistry. An introduction to numerical methods for modelling reaction kinetics, thermodynamics and molecular spectra and structure. Operating system commands, symbolic algebra and molecular modelling software are used for computing exercises. Molecular orbitals, the Born-Oppenheimer approximation, and potential energy surfaces are discussed. Two lecture hours, three computer laboratory hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites or corequisites: SC/CHEM 2010 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 1540 3.00.

SC/CHEM 3050 3.00 Advanced Biochemistry. A detailed discussion of enzyme structure and function. The chemistry and metabolism of biological molecules. Metabolic regulation at the level of enzyme activity. Knowledge of general concepts of metabolism and of basic aspects of enzyme structure and function is assumed. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/BIOL 2020 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2020 4.00; SC/CHEM 2020 6.00. Prerequisite or corequisite: Three additional chemistry credits at the 2000 or 3000 level (e.g. SC/CHEM 2011 3.00) are strongly recommended.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 3010 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3010 3.00 and SC/CHEM 3050 3.00

SC/CHEM 3051 3.00 Macromolecules of Biochemical Interest. A discussion of the structures and functions of naturally occurring macromolecules, including nucleic acids, proteins, polysaccharides and related macromolecular conjugates. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/CHEM 2020 6.00. Prerequisite or corequisite: SC/CHEM 3020 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 3051 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3051 3.00 and SC/CHEM 3051 3.00

SC/CHEM 3060 3.00 Introductory Atmospheric Chemistry. An introductory course linking chemistry and atmospheric science. Topics include atmospheric evolution; biogeochemical cycles; sources, transformations and sinks of atmospheric species; human impacts such as acid rain, photochemical smog and depletion of the ozone layer. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: Both SC/CHEM 1000 3.00 and SC/CHEM 1001 3.00; one of AS/SC/MATH 1010 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 1014 3.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 1310 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 1505 6.00. Degree credit exclusions: SC/CHEM 3160 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/CHEM 3060 3.00 and SC/EATS 3130 3.00

SC/CHEM 3070 3.00 Industrial Chemistry and the Environment. The chemistry of industrial processes is studied together with the impact of their products on the environment. Topics include petroleum refining, the petrochemical industry, polymers, pesticides, dyes and pharmaceuticals. Molecular aspects of toxicology and pharmacology are discussed. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/CHEM 2020 6.00.

SC/CHEM 3071 3.00 Pharmaceutical Discovery. A practical look into the pharmaceutical industry, providing an overview of the drug discovery process. Topics include choosing disease states to study, pharmacological assays, rational drug design, synthetic and analytical chemistry, toxicology, drug metabolism and clinical trials. Three hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 2020 6.00; SC/BIOL 2020 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2020 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 3071 3.00 and SC/BIOL 3071 3.00 and SC/CHEM 3071 3.00

SC/CHEM 3080 4.00 Instrumental Methods of Chemical Analysis. The theory and application of a variety of modern instrumental methods. Topics include basic electronics, signal processing, electroanalytical methods, optical spectroscopy, atomic absorption and emission spectroscopy, chromatography and mass spectrometry. This course covers applications relevant to modern chemical analysis. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 2080 4.00; SC/PHYS 1010 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1410 6.00. Degree credit exclusion: SC/CHEM 3110 4.00.

SC/CHEM 3090 3.00 Introduction to Polymer Chemistry. Classification and structure of polymers: molecular weights, synthesis, kinetics, statistics, characterization techniques and thermodynamics. Polymers in the solid state, crystallinity and advanced materials. Three lecture hours per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/CHEM 2020 6.00.

SC/CHEM 4000 4.00 Research Project. An original laboratory or theoretical project, supported by studies of the relevant scientific literature. Detailed guidelines are given in the departmental handbook. Six tutorial hours. One term or equivalent. Four credits. Prerequisites: Only open to Honours students in the final year of study, with permission of the department.

SC/CHEM 4000 8.00 Research Project. An original laboratory or theoretical project, supported by studies of the relevant scientific literature. Detailed guidelines are given in the departmental handbook. 12 tutorial hours. Two terms or equivalent. Eight credits. Prerequisites: Only open to Honours students in the final year of study, with permission of the department.

SC/CHEM 4010 3.00 Introductory Quantum Chemistry. The theory of electronic structure and bonding in molecules in terms of Schroedinger wave mechanics; Pauli exclusion principle; Slater determinants; Born-Oppenheimer separation; variation principle; methods of constructing electronic wave functions for molecules; Hartree-Fock and configuration interaction methods. Three lecture hours. First term. Three credits. Prerequisites: AS/SC/MATH 2015 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 2270 3.00.

SC/CHEM 4021 3.00 Synthetic Organic Chemistry. A course concentrating on strategies of synthesizing complex molecules, with emphasis on carbon-carbon bond-forming reactions, blocking groups, regioselectivity and stereochemical methods. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/CHEM 3021 4.00.

SC/CHEM 4023 3.00 Physical Organic Chemistry. Advanced topics, including methods for determining mechanisms, the study of reactive intermediates (carbocations, carbanions, carbenes, carbon radicals), acid catalysis and other aspects of mechanistic organic chemistry. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/CHEM 3021 4.00.

SC/CHEM 4025 3.00 Organometallics. Organic synthesis using main group metal-based reagents and transition metal-based catalysts, by surveying recent literature. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 3021 4.00, SC/CHEM 3030 8.00 or SC/CHEM 3031 4.00.

SC/CHEM 4030 3.00 Instrumental Methods in Inorganic Chemistry. Theory and applications of instrumental methods for investigating the structure and properties of inorganic and organometallic compounds. Magnetic resonance techniques (NMR and ESR), ultraviolet-visible, infrared, Raman and resonance Raman spectroscopy are introduced and discussed. Three lecture hours. First term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/CHEM 3031 4.00.

SC/CHEM 4031 3.00 Advanced Inorganic Chemistry. (formerly SC/CHEM 4130 3.00 - before Summer 1998) Advanced topics in inorganic chemistry, including ligand field theory, magnetism in dilute and coupled spin systems, NMR of paramagnetic molecules, electron spin resonance spectroscopy, space groups and crystal structure determination, photoelectron and x-ray spectra of inorganic molecules and ions. Three lecture hours. Second term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/CHEM 3031 4.00. Degree credit exclusion: SC/CHEM 4130 3.00.

SC/CHEM 4050 3.00 Bioanalytical Chemistry. This course describes modern methods of bioanalytical chemistry in their application to the analysis of biological polymers: proteins, nucleic acids, carbohydrates and lipids. Analytical aspects of genomics and proteomics are considered. Three lecture hours per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 2020 6.00; SC/BIOL 2020 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2020 4.00 and SC/BIOL 2021 4.00 or SC/BCHM 2021 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 4050 3.00 and SC/BIOL 4051 3.00 and SC/CHEM 4050 3.00

SC/CHEM 4051 3.00 Biological Chemistry. Bio-organic and bio-inorganic topics: active sites in enzymes and metalloproteins, coenzymes; abiotic models; aromatic natural products, terpenoids and some alkaloid classes. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 2020 6.00; SC/CHEM 2030 4.00 is strongly recommended.

Cross-listed to: SC/BCHM 4051 3.00 and SC/CHEM 4051 3.00

SC/CHEM 4060 4.00 Chemistry of the Natural and Polluted Atmosphere. A detailed study of the chemistry of atmospheric trace gases, including stratospheric ozone, tropospheric oxidants, photochemical smog and acid deposition. Computer simulation of chemical reaction mechanisms is used throughout the course. Three lecture hours, two computer laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 3011 4.00; SC/CHEM 3060 3.00 or SC/EATS 3130 3.00.

SC/CHEM 4061 4.00 Transport and Chemistry of Atmospheric Trace Gases. A study of the processes that affect the composition of the atmosphere and the methods used to include these in numerical models. Included are sources, transport, deposition, photochemistry, biogeochemical cycles, one-dimensional computer models and analysis of atmospheric data sets. Three lecture hours, two computer laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 3060 3.00 or SC/EATS 3130 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 1540 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 2270 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: SC/EATS 4170 4.00.

SC/CHEM 4080 3.00 Advanced Analytical Separation Methods. (formerly SC/CHEM 4200D 3.00 - before 2001-2002). Advanced theory and practice of high-resolution separation techniques, especially high-resolution chromatography and capillary electrophoresis, with emphasis on the practical application of advanced theories and the problem of optimizing separation procedures. Analytical procedures as integrated methods. Possibilities and limitations of interfacing sample injection, separation method and detection. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/CHEM 3080 4.00. Degree credit exclusion: SC/CHEM 4200D 3.00.

SC/CHEM 4090 3.00 Topics in Materials Sciences. Exploring the chemistry behind novel materials relevant to electronics, alternative energy sources, life sciences and polymer sciences. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 3010 4.00, SC/CHEM 3030 8.00 or SC/CHEM 3031 4.00.

SC/CHEM 4091 3.00 Frontiers in Electrochemistry. This course will present selected aspects surface electrochemistry, electrocatalysis and electroanalysis. It will introduce new methods and instrumentation employed to understand electrochemical processes at the molecular and atomic levels. This will include scanning probe methods (STM and AFM), IR spectroscopy and x-ray diffraction. Three lecture hours that will include demonstrations when appropriate (no lab required). One term. Three credits. Prerequisites or corequisites: SC/CHEM 3030 4.00; SC/CHEM 3080 4.00 or SC/CHEM 3120/3110 4.00. SC/CHEM 3011 4.00 and SC/CHEM 3031 4.00 are strongly recommended.

SC/CHEM 4092 3.00 X-ray Crystallography. Principles, practical details and computational methods of X-ray crystallographic structure determination. Students carry out an original structure determination from raw reflection data. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 3030 8.00 or SC/CHEM 3031 4.00.

SC/CHEM 4300 3.00 Selected Topics in Chemistry. (formerly SC/CHEM 4060 3.00 - before Summer 1998) By special arrangement through the Chair of the chemistry department, a student may enrol in a reading course under the direction of a member of the chemistry faculty to study in a special area of chemistry. Regular meetings. One term. Three credits.

SC/CHEM 4300 6.00 Selected Topics in Chemistry. (formerly SC/CHEM 4060 6.00 - before Summer 1998) By special arrangement through the Chair of the chemistry department, a student may enrol in a reading course under the direction of a member of the chemistry faculty to study in a special area of chemistry. Regular meetings. Two terms. Six credits.

Chinese – Department of Languages, Literatures and Linguistics, Arts

Note: For general regulations and enrolment information please see Languages, Literatures and Linguistics in the Courses of Instruction section of this Calendar.

AS/CH 1000 6.00 Elementary Modern Standard Chinese. Introductory course for English speakers who have no knowledge of Chinese. Students are expected to learn to carry on simple everyday conversations in the national language and to read and write approximately 500 Chinese characters. Pattern drills are used primarily in addition to grammatical analysis. Note: Students whose native dialect is Cantonese are directed to AS/CH 3010 6.00.

Language of Instruction: Chinese

AS/CH 2000 6.00 Intermediate Modern Standard Chinese. Continues the work of AS/CH 1000 6.00 so that students can hold discussions on contemporary China and can read and write approximately 1100 characters. Prerequisite: AS/CH 1000 6.00.

Language of Instruction: Chinese

AS/CH 2010 6.00 Chinese for Beginners with Background. Presents three aspects of Modern Standard Chinese - pronunciation, grammar, writing system - lectures, drills, audio tapes and interactive computer programs. Pinyin (Chinese romanization) is used in teaching. Students learn approximately 1,000 characters by the end of the course. Prerequisite: Permission of the department.

Language of Instruction: Chinese

AS/CH 2700 6.00 Introduction to Chinese Literature. Surveys the many genres of Chinese literature from its origins to the present to show the evolution of the literary tradition and its interplay with history, philosophy and politics. Focus is on major works and how to discover their meaning.

Language of Instruction: Chinese/English

AS/CH 2730 6.00 Modern Chinese Fiction. A brief survey of popular traditional narrative and an examination of 20th-century stories and novels from the end of the Qing dynasty through the Republican era. This includes the beginning and the end of bourgeois fiction in China as well as the continuation of more popular traditions. Readings, discussions and term work are in English.

AS/CH 3000 6.00 Advanced Modern Standard Chinese. Reading, writing, discussion, use of dictionaries and translation practice. The student should, with the aid of dictionaries, be able to read and translate newspaper articles from the People's Republic, modern fiction and non-specialist articles. Prerequisite: AS/CH 2000 6.00 or AS/CH 2010 6.00.

Language of Instruction: Chinese

AS/CH 3010 6.00 Modern Standard Chinese for Speakers of Cantonese or Other Dialects. Training in the standard pronunciation, phonetic system and simplified script, and discussions of the debate on language reform and style as embodied in the classics of modern vernacular literature. Prerequisite: Permission of the department; not open to speakers of Mandarin.

Language of Instruction: Chinese

AS/CH 3600 6.00 Lu Xun: Representative Works. This course deals with the creative works of Lu Xun, China's leading 20th-century writer. It focuses on textual analysis of his short stories, prose poems and selected satirical essays. Modern Standard Chinese (Mandarin) is used in class. Prerequisites: AS/CH 3010 6.00 or AS/CH 3000 6.00 plus any of the 2000-level Chinese literature courses.

Language of Instruction: Chinese

AS/CH 3710 6.00 Women Writers in Modern China (in translation). A study of the fiction of the major women writers from the literary revolution of the early 1920s to the present, the development of themes, forms and styles seen in the context of modern Chinese literature and against the background of China's patriarchal tradition. Prerequisite: Any 2000-level Chinese literature course, or AS/HUMA 2930 9.00 or AS/SOSC 2180 9.00 or AK/AS/GL/WMST 2510 9.00.

Language of Instruction: Chinese/English

AS/CH 3790 6.00 Contemporary Chinese Culture Through Literary Texts and Film. Primarily concentrating on representative new wave written works and films, this course explores the relationship between ideology and art in Post-Modern China and stresses new literary/cinematic sensibilities in contemporary Chinese culture.

AS/CH 4700 6.00 Tales of the Outside(rs). This course examines the range of imaginative Chinese literature about the outside(rs) - foreign lands and foreign peoples (including the overseas Chinese communities).

Classical Studies – Arts

The Classical Studies Program offers a broad range of exciting courses in Greek and Roman history, Greek and Roman literature and culture, Greek and Roman art and architecture, Greek philosophy, and in Greek and Latin language. Students normally enter the program by taking AS/HUMA 1100 9.00 or AS/HUMA 1105 9.00 and/or AS/HIST 2100 6.00 and/or AS/LA 1000 6.00 or AS/GK 1000 6.00. (For purposes of meeting program requirements, all foundations courses will count as six credits towards the major or minor.) Students in classical studies are strongly advised to make Greek or Latin a component of their degree program, especially if they are even mildly contemplating graduate studies in classics or ancient history.

For specific program requirements and the list of program courses, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Cognitive science is the scientific study of the mind and its processes. What is especially exciting about cognitive science is its nature of interdisciplinary cooperation involving psychologists, philosophers, computer scientists, neuroscientists, anthropologists, biologists and linguists. Though researchers from each of these fields have long been studying the nature of thought, emotion, perception, memory, language and other aspects of cognition, cognitive science allows them to take advantage of the strengths and research in other disciplines. Different methodologies, intellectual histories and disciplinary divisions often isolate those with similar goals, and cognitive science aims to bring researchers back together. By approaching questions from a variety of perspectives, the cognitive scientist has a greater chance of finding answers to questions about cognition.

For specific program requirements and the list of program courses, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

AS/COGS 3750 3.00 Foundations of Artificial Intelligence. This course examines artificial intelligence (AI) as a framework for modeling and analyzing fundamental ideas about the nature of intelligence and cognition in general. Topics include the exploration of computer models for concepts such as remembering, learning, inference and affect. Prerequisite: At least six credits in philosophy, or permission of the instructor. Note: This course is not open to any student who has successfully completed or who is taking AK/AS/SC/COSC 3402 3.00, AK/

AS/SC/COSC 4401 3.00, or AK/AS/SC/COSC 4402 3.00. Note: Internet access is required for this course.

Communication Studies – Arts

Program Office:

3063 Technology Enhanced Learning Building, 416-736-5057

Web Address:

<http://www.yorku.ca/artscomn/>

Program Coordinator:

K. Dowler, Social Science

Affiliated Faculty:

R. Bowman, Fine Arts/Music; R. Coombe, Social Science; M-L. Craven, Social Science; B. Crow, Social Science; K. Dowler, Social Science, J. Durlak, Social Science; S. Feldman, Fine Arts/Film & Video; F. Fletcher, Environmental Studies/Political Science; D. Hogarth, Social Science; D. Kehoe, Social Science; P. Roosen-Runge, Computer Science; R. Schlesinger, Social Science; B. Seaton, Social Science; A. Siegel, Social Science; D. Skinner, Social Science

Communication studies is offered as an Honours Double Major Interdisciplinary BA program and as a Specialized Honours BA program. The Specialized Honours BA program is a delayed-entry program; admission to the program requires that students achieve a 6.0 (B) average in AS/SOSC 1310 9.00 and at least six other communication studies credits and a cumulative grade point average of at least 5.0 (C+).

The communication studies curriculum consists of four sub-fields that are considered the main themes of the program: interpersonal and organizational communication; critical technology studies; politics and policy; and media, culture and society. The emphasis of the program is academic rather than technical; the aim of the program is to produce graduates who have acquired skills in communications analysis and a synthesis of knowledge in the increasingly complex field of communications.

For specific program requirements and a list of program courses, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

The program also offers a Specialized Honours BA in information technology and communication studies. For details, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Lecturer:

M. Baljko

Computer science is the study of processes involving the storage, transmission and transformation of information in the context of modern electronic technology. Both theoretical and applied areas of computer science are represented in the courses offered by the department. The introductory courses (two for majors, three for non-majors) are concerned largely with programming as the primary tool used for understanding and controlling computation. The higher-level courses deal with theoretical concerns, the practical design of hardware and software, and a variety of application areas.

For specific requirements of programs offered by this department, see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar for BSc and BSc Honours programs and the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar for BA and BA Honours programs. For degree programs offered through the Atkinson Faculty of Liberal and Professional Studies, see the Calendar of that Faculty.

Courses in Computer Science

A supplemental calendar detailing courses and topics to be offered in the next year is available from the department office in March.

For the purpose of satisfying departmental degree requirements, the number of computer science credits taken outside the Department of Computer Science and Engineering may not exceed six credits in core areas (here defined to be 1000- and 2000-level computer science courses, 3000-level computer science courses satisfying the breadth requirement and, for Specialized Honours students, any required 3000- and 4000-level computer science courses) and 12 credits in total.

Course numbering. Computer science courses with 5 as the second digit of the course number may be used to satisfy Faculty degree requirements but do not count as computer science major credits. 3000- and 4000-level computer science courses are divided by number into four areas as follows: theory and numerical computation (second digit is 1), systems (second digit is 2), software development (second digit is 3) and applications (second digit is 4).

Courses in computer science have three class hours a week for one term (three credits - course numbers end in 3.00), unless otherwise indicated.

The Department of Computer Science and Engineering will not permit any student to take more than 12 computer science credits per term in the fall and winter terms and six computer science credits in the summer term. Students who work full-time are strongly advised to take no more than six credits in any term.

For prerequisite purposes, AS/SC/MATH 1000 3.00 or AS/SC/MATH 1013 3.00 may be substituted in lieu of AK/AS/SC/MATH 1300 3.00; AS/SC/MATH 1010 3.00 or AS/SC/MATH 1014 3.00 in lieu of AK/AS/SC/MATH 1310 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 1021 3.00 or AS/SC/MATH 2021 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/MATH 2221 3.00 in lieu of AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00.

General Prerequisites

All 2000-level computer science courses require the following general prerequisites:

- AK/AS/SC/COSC 1030 3.00 with a grade of at least C+;
- AK/AS/SC/MATH 1019 3.00;

All 3000-level computer science courses require the following general prerequisites:

- AK/AS/SC/COSC 2011 3.00;
- one of AK/AS/SC/COSC 2001 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 2021 4.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 2031 3.00;
- a cumulative grade point average of 4.5 or better over all completed computer science courses;
- AK/AS/SC/MATH 1300 3.00 and AK/AS/SC/MATH 1310 3.00;
- at least one of AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 1090 3.00.

All 4000-level computer science courses require the following general prerequisites:

- AK/AS/SC/COSC 2001 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 2011 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 2021 4.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 2031 3.00;
- at least 12 credits at the 3000-level in computer science courses;
- a cumulative grade point average of 4.5 or better over all completed computer science courses;
- AK/AS/SC/MATH 1090 3.00.

Note 1: All computer science Honours BA programs, except the Honours Minor BA program, require the successful completion of at least 30 credits which are neither computer science nor mathematics courses.

Note 2: To satisfy computer science degree requirements, AS/MATH 1000 3.00 or AS/MATH 1013 3.00 may be taken instead of AS/MATH 1300 3.00; AS/MATH 1010 3.00 or AS/MATH 1014 3.00 may be taken instead of AS/MATH 1310 3.00; AS/MATH 1021 3.00 or AS/MATH 2221 3.00 may be taken instead of AS/MATH 1025 3.00.

AK/AS/SC/COSC 1019 3.00 Discrete Mathematics for Computer Science. Introduction to abstraction. Use and development of precise formulations of mathematical ideas. Informal introduction to logic; introduction to naïve set theory; induction; relations and functions; big O-notation; recursive definitions, recurrence relations and their solutions; graphs and trees. Three lecture hours per week. Plus drop-in optional problem sessions as well as instructor office hours, as these are announced in each term. Prerequisites: AK/AS/SC/MATH 1190 3.00, or both of 12U advanced functions and introductory calculus and 12U geometry and discrete mathematics. Degree credit exclusions: AK/AS/SC/MATH 2320 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 1019 3.00 and AS/COSC 1019 3.00 and SC/COSC 1019 3.00 and AK/MATH 1019 3.00 and AS/MATH 1019 3.00 and SC/MATH 1019 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 1020 3.00 Introduction to Computer Science I. Conceptual foundations of object-oriented programming, including data types, control structures, class library usage, encapsulation, inheritance and other abstractions; the software development process, specification and implementation, with emphasis on software engineering principles. Three lecture hours and weekly laboratory sessions. Three credits. Prerequisites: One of (1) - (4) below must be met: (1) (New high school curriculum): Advanced functions and introductory calculus, and geometry and discrete mathematics with minimum mathematics average of 75 per cent on the two courses, and no mathematics grade below 65 per cent. (2) (Old high school curriculum): OAC calculus and one other OAC in mathematics (normally finite mathematics or algebra and geometry) with an average grade of 75 per cent in all OAC mathematics and no grade less than 65 per cent. (3) Completion of 6.00 credits from York University mathematics courses (not including AK/MATH 1710 6.00 or courses with second digit 5) with a grade point average of 5.0 (C+) or better over these credits; (4) Completion of AK/MATH 1710 6.00, or 6.00 credits from York University mathematics courses whose second digit is 5, with an average grade point not below 7.0 (B+). Degree credit exclusions: AK/COSC 2200B 3.00, AK/COSC 2410 6.00, AK/COSC 2411 3.00, AK/AS/ITEC 1020 3.00, AK/AS/ITEC 1620 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 1020 3.00 and AS/COSC 1020 3.00 and SC/COSC 1020 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 1030 3.00 Introduction to Computer Science II. This course builds on AK/AS/SC/COSC 1020 3.00 covering class implementation and system design in object-oriented programming, including composition, inheritance, polymorphism and exception handling. Other topics include recursion, searching and sorting and introductory data structures. Prerequisite: AK/AS/SC/COSC 1020 3.00 or AK/COSC 2411 3.00 or AK/AS/ITEC 1020 3.00. Degree credit exclusions: AK/COSC 2410 6.00, AK/COSC 2412 3.00, AK/AS/ITEC 1030 3.00, AK/AS/ITEC 2620 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 1030 3.00 and AS/COSC 1030 3.00 and SC/COSC 1030 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 1520 3.00 Introduction to Computer Use I. An introduction to the use of computers focusing on concepts of computer technology and organization (hardware and software) and the use of applications such as spreadsheets, database and information retrieval tools for problem solving. The course requires extensive laboratory work. This course is designed for students who are not computer science majors.

Students who plan to major in computer science are advised to take AK/AS/SC/COSC 1020 3.00. Degree credit exclusions: AK/COSC 1200 3.00, AK/COSC 1210 3.00. This course is not open to any student who has passed or is taking AK/AS/SC/COSC 1020 3.00 or AK/COSC 2200B 3.00 or AK/COSC 2410 6.00 or AK/COSC 2411 3.00 or AK/AS/ITEC 1020 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 1520 3.00 and AS/COSC 1520 3.00 and SC/COSC 1520 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 1530 3.00 Introduction to Computer Use II. Concepts of computer systems and technology - e.g. software engineering, algorithms, programming languages, theory of computation. Practical work focuses on problem solving using a high-level programming language. The course requires extensive laboratory work. This course is designed for students who are not computer science majors, but may be used as preparation by those who wish to major in computer science but lack programming background. Students who plan to major in computer science must also take AK/AS/SC/COSC 1020 3.00 and AK/AS/SC/COSC 1030 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/AS/SC/COSC 1540 3.00. This course is not open to any student who has passed or is taking AK/AS/SC/COSC 1020 3.00 or AK/COSC 2200B 3.00 or AK/COSC 2410 6.00 or AK/COSC 2411 3.00 or AK/AS/ITEC 1020 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 1530 3.00 and AS/COSC 1530 3.00 and SC/COSC 1530 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 1540 3.00 Computer Use for the Natural Sciences. Introduction to problem solving using computers - top down and modular design; implementation in a procedural programming language - control structures, data structures, subprograms; application to simple numerical methods, modelling and simulation in the sciences; use of library subprograms. Degree credit exclusion: AK/AS/SC/COSC 1530 3.00. This course is not open to any student who has passed or is taking AK/AS/SC/COSC 1020 3.00 or AK/COSC 2200B 3.00 or AK/COSC 2410 6.00 or AK/COSC 2411 3.00 or AK/AS/ITEC 1020 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 1540 3.00 and AS/COSC 1540 3.00 and SC/COSC 1540 3.00

2000-Level Courses

General Prerequisites for Arts, Atkinson and Science students. All 2000-level computer science courses require the following general prerequisites:

- AK/AS/SC/COSC 1030 3.00 with a grade of at least C+;
- AK/AS/SC/MATH 1019 3.00.

AK/AS/SC/COSC 2001 3.00 Introduction to the Theory of Computation. Introduction to the theory of computing, including automata theory, formal languages and Turing machines; theoretical models and their applications in various fields of computer science. The emphasis is on practical applications of the theory and concepts rather than formal rigour. Prerequisites: General prerequisites. Degree credit exclusion: AK/COSC 3431 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 2001 3.00 and AS/COSC 2001 3.00 and SC/COSC 2001 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 2011 3.00 Fundamentals of Data Structures. A study of fundamental data structures and their use in the efficient implementation of algorithms. Topics include abstract data types, lists, stacks, queues, trees and graphs. Prerequisites: General prerequisites. Degree credit exclusions: AK/COSC 3501 3.00, AK/AS/ITEC 2011 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 2011 3.00 and AS/COSC 2011 3.00 and SC/COSC 2011 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 2021 4.00 Computer Organization. Introduction to computer organization and instruction set architecture, covering assembly language, machine language and encoding, addressing modes, single/multicycle datapaths (including functional units and controls), pipelining, memory segments and memory hierarchy. Three lectures hours and three laboratory hours per week. Four credits. Prerequisites: General prerequisites. Degree credit exclusions: AK/COSC 3411 3.00, AK/COSC 3412 3.00, AK/COSC 3460 3.00, AK/AS/ITEC 2021 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 2021 4.00 and AS/COSC 2021 4.00 and SC/COSC 2021 4.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 2031 3.00 Software Tools. Tools commonly used in the software development process: the C language; shell programming; filters and pipes; version control systems and “make”; debugging and testing. Prerequisites: General prerequisites.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 2031 3.00 and AS/COSC 2031 3.00 and SC/COSC 2031 3.00

SC/COSC 2501 1.00 Fortran and Scientific Computing. Covers computer-base problem solving in a variety of scientific and engineering settings. Introduces the FORTRAN programming language and its interface with scientific libraries. Applications are drawn mainly from scientific areas such as numerical methods, processing experimental data, simulation and data visualization. Prerequisite: AK/AS/SC/COSC 1020 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 1530 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/AS/SC/COSC 1540 3.00.

3000-Level Courses

General Prerequisites for Arts, Atkinson and Science students. Most 3000-level computer science courses require the following general prerequisites, in addition to or including any specifically stated in the course outlines below:

- AK/AS/SC/COSC 2011 3.00;
- at least one of AK/AS/SC/COSC 2001 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 2021 4.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 2031 3.00;
- a cumulative grade point average of 4.5 or better over all completed computer science courses;
- AK/AS/SC/MATH 1300 3.00 and AK/AS/SC/MATH 1310 3.00;
- at least one of AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 1090 3.00.

SC/COSC 3001 1.00 Organization and Management Seminar in Space and Communication Sciences. A seminar course taught by guest speakers from industry, government and the University. Content changes from year to year, but includes such topics as professional ethics, communications regulations, space law, space science policy, project management, privacy and security issues in computing. One lecture hour in alternate weeks. Two terms. Prerequisite: Eligibility to proceed in the Specialized Honours stream in Space and Communication Sciences beyond the 2000-level requirements, or permission of the course director. Degree credit exclusion: AS/SC/COSC 3002 1.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/COSC 3001 1.00 and SC/EATS 3001 1.00 and SC/PHYS 3001 1.00

AS/SC/COSC 3002 1.00 Organization and Management Seminar. A seminar course taught by guest speakers from industry, government and the University. Content changes from year to year, but includes such topics as professional ethics, communications regulations, project management, privacy and security, legal issues in computing. One lecture hour in alternate weeks. Two terms. One credit. Prerequisites: General prerequisites. Degree credit exclusions: SC/COSC 3001 1.00, SC/EATS 3001 1.00, SC/PHYS 3001 1.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/COSC 3002 1.00 and SC/COSC 3002 1.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3101 3.00 Design and Analysis of Algorithms. Review of fundamental data structures. Analysis of algorithms: time and space complexity. Algorithm design paradigms: divide-and-conquer, exploring graphs, greedy methods, local search, dynamic programming, probabilistic algorithms, computational geometry. NP-complete problems. Prerequisites: General prerequisites, including AK/AS/SC MATH 1090 3.00 and AK/AS/SC/COSC 2001 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/COSC 3432 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3101 3.00 and AS/COSC 3101 3.00 and SC/COSC 3101 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3121 3.00 Numerical Methods I. An introductory course in computational linear algebra. Topics include simple error analysis, linear systems of equations, non-linear equations, linear least squares and interpolation. Prerequisites: One of AS/SC/MATH 1010 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 1014 3.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 1310 3.00; one of AK/AS/SC/MATH 1021 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 2221 3.00; one of AK/AS/SC/COSC 1540 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 2031 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/COSC 3511 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3121 3.00 and AS/COSC 3121 3.00 and SC/COSC 3121 3.00 and AS/MATH 3241 3.00 and SC/MATH 3241 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3122 3.00 Numerical Methods II. Algorithms and computer methods for solving problems of differentiation, integration, systems of non-linear equations and matrix eigenvalues. Prerequisite: AS/SC/MATH 3241 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/AS/COSC 3121 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3122 3.00 and AS/COSC 3122 3.00 and SC/COSC 3122 3.00 and AS/MATH 3242 3.00 and SC/MATH 3242 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3201 4.00 Digital Logic Design. Theory and design of logic circuits used in digital systems. This is an intermediate level course that uses a Hardware Design Language to illustrate modern design techniques and is supplemented by hardware laboratory exercise (two hours per week). Prerequisites: General prerequisites, including AK/AS/SC/COSC 2021 3.00. SC/PHYS 3150 3.00 is strongly recommended.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3201 4.00 and AS/COSC 3201 4.00 and SC/COSC 3201 4.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3211 3.00 Data Communication. This course covers, in some detail, the first three layers in the OSI computer communication model. It concentrates on the data link and network layers. Examples of local area networks and wide area networks are presented in detail. Prerequisites: General prerequisites; including AK/AS/SC/MATH 2090 3.00 and AK/AS/SC/COSC 2021 3.00 or AK/AS/ITEC 2021 3.00. Degree credit exclusions: AK/AS/SC/COSC 3213 3.00, AK/COSC 3409A 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3211 3.00 and AS/COSC 3211 3.00 and SC/COSC 3211 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3213 3.00 Computer Networks I. This course introduces the basics of communications and networking. Topics include transmission media; fundamental limits; protocols and hierarchies; the OSI model; encoding of data as signals; error and flow control; medium access; routing; internetworking; transport services; high-level applications. Prerequisites: General prerequisites. Degree credit exclusions: AK/AS/SC/COSC 3211 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 3212 3.00, AK/COSC 3409A 3.00, AK/AS/ITEC 3210 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3213 3.00 and AS/COSC 3213 3.00 and SC/COSC 3213 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3215 4.00 Embedded Systems. Introduction to the design of embedded systems using both hardware and software. Topics include microcontrollers; their architecture, and programming; design and implementation of embedded systems using field programmable gate arrays. Lectures (three hours per week), laboratory (two hours per week); four credits. Prerequisites: General prerequisites; AK/AS/SC COSC 3201 4.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3215 4.00 and AS/COSC 3215 4.00 and SC/COSC 3215 4.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3221 3.00 Operating System Fundamentals. (formerly AK/AS/SC/COSC 3321 3.00 - before Summer 2000) Principles of operating systems. Concurrent processes, CPU scheduling, deadlocks, memory management, file systems, protection and security and case studies. Prerequisites: General prerequisites, including AK/AS/SC/COSC 2021 3.00 or AK/AS/ITEC 2021 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 2031 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/AS/SC/COSC 3321 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3221 3.00 and AS/COSC 3221 3.00 and SC/COSC 3221 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3301 3.00 Programming Language Fundamentals. Formal syntax: Backus-Naur form and extensions, syntax diagrams, grammars and parsing; elements of formal language theory; type theory and data structures of algorithmic languages; control structures and their composition. Subprograms: argument-parameter binding mechanisms. Prerequisites: General prerequisites, including AK/AS/SC/COSC 2001 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/COSC 3420 6.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3301 3.00 and AS/COSC 3301 3.00 and SC/COSC 3301 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3311 3.00 Software Design. A study of design methods and their use in the correct implementation, maintenance and evolution of software systems. Topics include design, implementation, testing, documentation needs and standards, support tools. Students design and implement components of a software system. Prerequisites: General prerequisites; including AK/AS/SC/MATH 1090 3.00 and AK/AS/SC/COSC 2001 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 2031 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3311 3.00 and AS/COSC 3311 3.00 and SC/COSC 3311 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3341 3.00 Introduction to Program Verification. (formerly AK/AS/SC/COSC 3111 3.00 - before Summer 2000) Application of logic to programs; weakest precondition; semantics of a simple programming language; correctness; development of correctness proofs from specifications; application to software design; performance bounds; transformation and synthesis. Prerequisites: General prerequisites, including AK/AS/SC/MATH 1090 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/AS/SC/COSC 3111 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3341 3.00 and AS/COSC 3341 3.00 and SC/COSC 3341 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3401 3.00 Functional and Logic Programming. Students, who are familiar with the procedural and object-oriented approaches offered by Java and C, learn about and contrast functional programming (using a language like Standard ML) and logic programming (using the language Prolog). Prerequisites: General prerequisites, including AK/AS/SC/COSC 2031 3.00; AK/AS/SC MATH 1090 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3401 3.00 and AS/COSC 3401 3.00 and SC/COSC 3401 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3402 3.00 Introduction to Concepts of Artificial Intelligence. The concept of artificial intelligence. Interpretation of learning and reasoning as computational processes; simulation using logic and inference rules; analysis of the structure of visual scenes; game playing by computer; natural language analysis and synthesis; domain-independent planning and problem solving. Prerequisites: AK/AS/SC/COSC 3401 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 1090 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/COSC 3551 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3402 3.00 and AS/COSC 3402 3.00 and SC/COSC 3402 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3408 3.00 Simulation of Discrete Systems. Introduction to simulating discrete-event systems and queuing problems. Use of probability distributions and random number generation. Model building, testing, use and validation. Application to case studies. Prerequisites: General prerequisites; AK/AS/SC/MATH 2030 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/MATH 2560 3.00. Degree credit exclusions: AK/COSC 3451 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 4930B 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3408 3.00 and AS/COSC 3408 3.00 and SC/COSC 3408 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3421 3.00 Introduction to Database Systems. Concepts, approaches and techniques in database management systems (DBMS). Logical model of relational databases. An introduction to relational database design. Other topics such as query languages, crash recovery and concurrency control. Prerequisite: General prerequisites. Degree credit exclusions: AS/SC/COSC 3412 3.00, AK/COSC 3503 3.00, AK/AS/ITEC 3220 3.00, AK/AS/ITEC 3421 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3421 3.00 and AS/COSC 3421 3.00 and SC/COSC 3421 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3451 3.00 Signals and Systems. (formerly AK/AS/SC/COSC 4242 3.00 - before Summer 2001) An introduction to the mathematical background in signals and systems required for computer vision and robotics; signal and image processing: sampling, discrete Fourier transform, filtering; linear system theory; Kalman filtering; feedback. Prerequisites: General prerequisites. Degree credit exclusions: AK/AS/SC/COSC 4451 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 4242 3.00, SC/EATS 4020 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 4130B 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 4830 3.00, SC/PHYS 4060 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3451 3.00 and AS/COSC 3451 3.00 and SC/COSC 3451 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3461 3.00 User Interfaces. This course introduces user interfaces and the tools and mechanisms to create and prototype them. Students work in small groups and learn how to design user interfaces, how to realize them and how to evaluate the end result. Prerequisite: General prerequisites. Degree credit exclusions: AK/AS/ITEC 3230 3.00, AK/AS/ITEC 3461 3.00. Not open to students who successfully completed AS/SC/COSC 4341 3.00 or AS/SC/COSC 4361 3.00 before Fall 1999.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3461 3.00 and AS/COSC 3461 3.00 and SC/COSC 3461 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 3900 0.00 Internship Co-op Term. Provides qualified students with the opportunity to work in the technology field as part of their Honours degree program. The Internship Co-op Office will coordinate placement of students with a specific internship position. Prerequisites: Successful completion of at least 12 computer science credits at the 3000 level including AK/AS/SC/COSC 3311 3.00 (Software Design) and an overall average of at least B in mathematics and computer science courses completed. To qualify, in the first instance, the student must be enrolled full-time in the computer science Honours program and attend all mandatory preparatory sessions as outlined by the Internship Co-op Office. Note: This course does not count for degree credit in any program. Registration in sections of AK/AS/SC/COSC 3900 0.00 while on an internship placement provides a transcript notation of the student's participation in the internship program. Students are required to register in this course in every term of their work term (internship co-op). Every student registered in the course will be assigned a faculty supervisor who will assess the student's performance during the internship.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 3900 0.00 and AS/COSC 3900 0.00 and SC/COSC 3900 0.00

4000-Level Courses

General Prerequisites for Arts, Atkinson and Science students. All 4000-level computer science courses require the following general prerequisites, in addition to or including any specifically stated in the course outlines below:

- AK/AS/SC/COSC 2001 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 2011 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 2021 4.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 2031 3.00;
- at least 12 credits in computer science at the 3000 level;
- a cumulative grade point average of 4.5 or better over all completed computer science courses;
- AK/AS/SC/MATH 1090 3.00.

SC/COSC 4001 6.00 Space and Communication Sciences Workshop. This course is intended to allow the student to carry out the development of a specific space project, under the supervision of a faculty member, a government scientist or an industrial associate. The equivalent of nine laboratory hours per week for two terms. Prerequisites: Satisfactory completion of the 3000-level courses in the space and communication sciences core. Degree credit exclusion: AK/AS/SC/COSC 4080 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/COSC 4001 6.00 and SC/EATS 4001 6.00 and SC/PHYS 4001 6.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4080 3.00 Computer Science Project. A project in computer science chosen in consultation with, and supervised by, a member of the department. Prerequisites: General prerequisites; permission of the course director. Normally restricted to students who have taken 36 credits in computer science. Degree credit exclusion: SC/COSC 4001 6.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4080 3.00 and AS/COSC 4080 3.00 and SC/COSC 4080 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4101 3.00 Advanced Data Structures. Amortized and worst-case analysis of data structures. Data structuring paradigms: self-adjustment and persistence. Lists: self-adjustment with the move-to-front heuristic. Search trees: splay trees, finger search trees. Heaps: skew heaps, fibonacci heaps. Union-find trees. Link-and-cut trees.

Multidimensional data structures and dynamization. Prerequisites: General prerequisites, including AK/AS/SC/COSC 3101 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4101 3.00 and AS/COSC 4101 3.00 and SC/COSC 4101 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4111 3.00 Automata and Computability. Introduction to more advanced topics in theoretical foundations of computer science, including the study of formal languages and automata, formal models of computation, and computational complexity measures. Prerequisites: General prerequisites, including AK/AS/SC/COSC 3101 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/COSC 4021 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4111 3.00 and AS/COSC 4111 3.00 and SC/COSC 4111 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4115 3.00 Computational Complexity. Study of time and space and other computational resources required for efficient solution of classes of computational problems, including P and NP, PSPACE. Proof techniques including diagonalization, simulation, reduction and completeness. Models of computation, nondeterminism, randomness. Intractability. Prerequisites: AK/AS/SC COSC 3101 3.00 and general prerequisites for fourth year.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4115 3.00 and AS/COSC 4115 3.00 and SC/COSC 4115 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4201 3.00 Computer Architecture. The internal structure and design ideas embodied in many computers and the techniques for evaluating them. Fast arithmetic algorithms, memory system designs, pipeline techniques, input-output subsystems and parallel computing structures. Future trends in computer architecture. Prerequisites: General prerequisites; including AK/AS/SC/COSC 3201 3.00 and AK/AS/SC/COSC 3221 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4201 3.00 and AS/COSC 4201 3.00 and SC/COSC 4201 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4211 3.00 Performance Evaluation of Computer Systems. This course introduces the concept of modelling a computer system, using queuing theory techniques and simulation techniques, then it examines the practical applications of these concepts in some case studies. These case studies are chosen to have a practical impact. Prerequisites: General prerequisites; including AK/AS/SC/MATH 2030 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 3211 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 3213 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4211 3.00 and AS/COSC 4211 3.00 and SC/COSC 4211 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4213 3.00 Computer Networks II. This course covers more advanced topics in networking and concentrates on higher-level protocols, security, network programming and applications. Prerequisite: General prerequisites, including AK/AS/SC/COSC 3212 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 3213 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4213 3.00 and AS/COSC 4213 3.00 and SC/COSC 4213 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4214 3.00 Digital Communications. Introduces fundamental principles underlying design and analysis of digital communication systems. Develops mathematical/physical understanding from the information source through the transmitter, channel, receiver and information sink. Topics include baseband transmission, matched filtering, modulation, channel coding and spread spectrum. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: AK/AS/SC/COSC 3213 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 3451 3.00 or SC/EATS 4020 3.00 or SC/PHYS 4250 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 2030 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4214 3.00 and AS/COSC 4214 3.00 and SC/COSC 4214 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4221 3.00 Operating System Design. (formerly AK/AS/SC/COSC 4321 3.00 - before Summer 2001) An operating system has four major components: process management, input/output, memory management, file system. This project-oriented course puts OS principles into action: design and implementation of components of an OS, interaction with existing system software (using C under Unix). Prerequisites: General prerequisites, including AK/AS/SC/COSC 3221 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/AS/SC/COSC 4321 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4221 3.00 and AS/COSC 4221 3.00 and SC/COSC 4221 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4301 3.00 Programming Language Design. Advanced features of algorithmic languages: modules (packages), exceptions and tasks. A survey of non-algorithmic languages: object-oriented languages, logic programming languages. Introduction to formal semantics. Recent developments in programming language design. Prerequisites: General prerequisites, including AK/AS/SC/COSC 3301 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4301 3.00 and AS/COSC 4301 3.00 and SC/COSC 4301 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4302 3.00 Compilers and Interpreters. Principles and design techniques for compilers and interpreters. Compiler organization, compiler writing tools, scanning, parsing, semantic analysis, run-time storage organization, memory management, code generation and optimization. Students implement a substantial portion of a compiler in a project. Prerequisites: General prerequisites; AK/AS/SC/COSC 3301 3.00 is recommended.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4302 3.00 and AS/COSC 4302 3.00 and SC/COSC 4302 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4311 3.00 System Development. A study of concurrency and communication in system development. Specification, design and implementation of computer systems which continuously interact with other systems. Topics may include object-oriented modelling, formal specification languages, CASE tools. Prerequisites: General prerequisites, including AK/AS/SC/COSC 3221 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 3311 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4311 3.00 and AS/COSC 4311 3.00 and SC/COSC 4311 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4312 3.00 Software Engineering Requirements. This course deals with the elicitation, specification and analysis of software requirements and provides a critical description of available methods and tools, and practical exercises on applying these methods and tools to realistic problems. Three lecture hours per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: General prerequisites, including AK/AS/SC/COSC 3311 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4312 3.00 and AS/COSC 4312 3.00 and SC/COSC 4312 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4313 3.00 Software Engineering Testing. An introduction to systematic methods of testing and verification, covering a range of static and dynamic techniques and their use within the development process; emphasizes the view that design should be carried out with verification in mind to achieve overall project goals. Three lecture hours per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: General prerequisites, including AK/AS/SC COSC 3311 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4313 3.00 and AS/COSC 4313 3.00 and SC/COSC 4313 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4351 3.00 Real-Time Systems Theory. Specification and verification techniques for real-time systems with many interacting components. Formal design of real-time systems using (a) programming languages with unambiguous semantics of time-related behaviour and (b) scheduling algorithms. Prerequisites: General prerequisites; including one of AK/AS/SC/COSC 3221 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 3311 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 3341 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4351 3.00 and AS/COSC 4351 3.00 and SC/COSC 4351 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4352 3.00 Real-Time Systems Practice. Introduction to the correct use and applications of real-time programming languages. Examples of real-time programming languages are studied in detail and applied to the solution of typical real-time programming problems (e.g. communication networks, avionic systems and process control). Prerequisites: General prerequisites; including one of AK/AS/SC/COSC 3221 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 3301 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 3311 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4352 3.00 and AS/COSC 4352 3.00 and SC/COSC 4352 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4401 3.00 Artificial Intelligence. Introduction to the main ideas of current machine learning research: induction, abduction, deduction; learning from examples and formal models, Bayes' rule, Solomonoff's idea, Gold paradigm, Valiant model of learning, Rissanen's minimum description length principle; distribution free and unsupervised learning. Prerequisites: General prerequisites, including AK/AS/SC/COSC 3402 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4401 3.00 and AS/COSC 4401 3.00 and SC/COSC 4401 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4402 3.00 Logic Programming. This course is an introduction to fundamental concepts of logic programming and logic programming languages. In the course, the logic programming language PROLOG is discussed and programming techniques and applications are studied. Prerequisites: General prerequisites; including AK/AS/SC/COSC 3401 3.00 and one of AK/AS/SC/COSC 3101 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 3341 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4402 3.00 and AS/COSC 4402 3.00 and SC/COSC 4402 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4411 3.00 Database Management Systems. A study of principles of database management systems. A thorough analysis of theory of normal, relational algebra and calculus and query languages based on these concepts. Other topics: security and integrity issues, concurrency control, distributed systems, query optimization. Prerequisites: General prerequisites; including one of AK/AS/SC/COSC 3421 3.00, AK/AS/ITEC 3421 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4411 3.00 and AS/COSC 4411 3.00 and SC/COSC 4411 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4412 3.00 Data Mining. This course introduces and presents basic concepts of data mining, data mining techniques, models and applications. Topics include association rule mining, classification models, sequential pattern mining and clustering. Prerequisites: General prerequisites for 4000-level courses, including AK/AS/SC COSC 3421 3.00 and one of AK/AS/SC MATH 2030 3.00 or AK/AS/SC MATH 1131 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4412 3.00 and AS/COSC 4412 3.00 and SC/COSC 4412 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4413 3.00 Building E-Commerce Systems. Technological infrastructure for electronic commerce on the Internet. Terminology and architectures. Security and cryptography. Content presentation. Web protocols. Adaptive, intelligent agents and data mining. Vertical applications. Prerequisites: General prerequisites; including AK/AS/SC/COSC 3212 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 3213 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 3221 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 3421 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/AS/ITEC 4020 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4413 3.00 and AS/COSC 4413 3.00 and SC/COSC 4413 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4421 3.00 Introduction to Robotics. An introduction to robot arms and autonomous vehicles. The course covers control and manipulator theory, robot sensors and navigation. Prerequisite: AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00. For computer science majors: General prerequisites for 4000-level computer science courses. For engineering or space and communication science majors: AK/AS/SC/COSC 2011 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 2031 3.00; corequisite: SC/ENG 4000 6.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4421 3.00 and AS/COSC 4421 3.00 and SC/COSC 4421 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4422 3.00 Computer Vision. An introductory course in computer vision: high- and low-level vision systems, the measurement and interpretation of visual data, static and dynamic scene analysis. Prerequisites: General prerequisites, including AK/AS/SC/COSC 3121 3.00 or AS/SC/MATH 3241 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4422 3.00 and AS/COSC 4422 3.00 and SC/COSC 4422 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4431 3.00 Computer Graphics. (formerly AK/AS/SC/COSC 4331 3.00 - before Summer 2001) Algorithms for the creation, manipulation and display of objects in an interactive graphical environment. Prerequisites: General prerequisites; AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/AS/SC/COSC 4331 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4431 3.00 and AS/COSC 4431 3.00 and SC/COSC 4431 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4441 3.00 Human-Computer Interaction. (formerly AK/AS/SC/COSC 4341 3.00 - before Summer 2001) This course introduces the concepts and technology necessary to design, manage and implement interactive software. Students work in small groups and learn how to design user interfaces, how to realize them and how to evaluate the end result. Both design and evaluation are emphasized. Prerequisites: General prerequisites; AK/AS/SC/COSC 3461 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/AS/SC/COSC 4341 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4441 3.00 and AS/COSC 4441 3.00 and SC/COSC 4441 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4461 3.00 Hypermedia and Multimedia Technology. (formerly AK/AS/SC/COSC 4361 3.00 - before Summer 2001) Design and application of computer systems which provide information resources for learning, online-help, conceptual exploration, visualization and entertainment; e.g. hypertext/hypermedia, networked information-servers, systems for collaborative work and virtual reality. One or two topics are discussed in depth using current research literature. Normally offered in alternate years. Prerequisites: General prerequisites, including AK/AS/SC/COSC 3461 3.00 or AK/AS/ITEC 3461 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/AS/SC/COSC 4361 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4461 3.00 and AS/COSC 4461 3.00 and SC/COSC 4461 3.00

AK/AS/SC/COSC 4471 3.00 Introduction to Virtual Reality. Introduction to the basic principles of virtual reality and its applications. The necessary hardware and software components of interactive 3D systems as well as human factors are discussed. The material is reinforced by practical assignments and projects. Three lecture hours per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: General prerequisites for 4000-level computer science courses, or SC/ENG 4000 6.00 taken as a corequisite; and AK/AS/SC/COSC 3321 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 3311 3.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/COSC 4471 3.00 and AS/COSC 4471 3.00 and SC/COSC 4471 3.00

Courses in Computer Science in Liberal Arts

Note: GL/CSLA 1620 3.00 and GL/CSLA 1630 3.00 are prerequisites for all computer science courses except GL/CSLA 1650 3.00, GL/CSLA 1925 3.00, GL/CSLA 1927 3.00, GL/CSLA 1960 3.00 and GL/CSLA 1970 3.00. Students intending to concentrate in computer science should normally take GL/CSLA 1620 3.00 in their first year. Students who have taken GL/CSLA 1620 3.00 may not take GL/CSLA 1960 3.00 or GL/CSLA 1970 3.00.

All mathematics requirements must be completed before enrolling in 3000- and 4000-level courses.

N.B. : GL/CSLA 1620 3.00 et GL/CSLA 1630 3.00 sont des cours préalables obligatoires pour tous les cours d'Informatique, sauf pour les cours, GL/CSLA 1650 3.00, GL/CSLA 1925 3.00, GL/CSLA 1927 3.00, GL/CSLA 1960 3.00 et GL/CSLA 1970 3.00. Les étudiants qui ont l'intention de se spécialiser en informatique devraient normalement suivre, durant leur première année, GL/CSLA 1620 3.00. Les étudiants qui ont déjà suivi GL/CSLA 2960 3.00 ne peuvent pas suivre GL/CSLA 1960 3.00, GL/CSLA 1970 3.00, GL/CSLA 1925 3.00 ou GL/CSLA 1927 3.00.

Toutes les exigences en mathématiques doivent être complétées avant de s'inscrire dans des cours au niveau 3000 ou 4000.

GL/CSLA 1620 3.00 Object-Based Programming. This is a first course on problem solving and algorithm development using Java. It introduces structured programming techniques using primitive data types and APIs to build and implement objects. This course also introduces the object-oriented design of applications using existing classes. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC/MODR/ITEC 2960 3.00. Course equivalency: AK/AS/ITEC 1620 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 1620 3.00 and GL/ITEC 1620 3.00

GL/CSLA 1620 3.00 Programmation par objets I. Ce premier cours sur la résolution de problèmes et la réalisation d'algorithmes à l'aide de Java introduit des techniques de programmation structurées à l'aide de types de données primitives et d'IPA pour construire et utiliser des objets. Ce cours introduit aussi la réalisation d'applications par objets à l'aide de classes existantes. Cours incompatible: GL/COSC/MODR 2960 6.00, GL/COSC/MODR/ITEC 2960 3.00. Équivalence de cours : AK/AS/ITEC 1620 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 1620 3.00 and GL/ITEC 1620 3.00

GL/CSLA 1630 3.00 Object-Oriented Programming. This course introduces class implementation either from scratch or by extending an existing class. Inheritance and polymorphism are discussed in detail. Focus on user-interface classes. Object-oriented design (with UML) using existing or newly created classes is further discussed. Prerequisite: GL/CSLA 1620 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC/MODR/ITEC 2970 3.00. Course equivalency: AK/AS/ITEC 1630 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 1630 3.00 and GL/ITEC 1630 3.00

GL/CSLA 1630 3.00 Programmation par objets II. Ce cours introduit la mise en application de classes, soit en partant des bases, soit en élargissant des classes existantes. Cette mise en application permet une étude approfondie de l'héritage et du polymorphisme et aussi de la réalisation par objets (en UML) à l'aide de classes existantes ou nouvellement créées. Condition préalable : GL/CSLA/ITEC 1620 3.00. Cours incompatibles : GL/COSC/MODR 2970 6.00 et GL/COSC/ITEC/MODR 2970 3.00. Équivalence de cours : AK/AS/ITEC 1630 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 1630 3.00 and GL/ITEC 1630 3.00

GL/CSLA 1650 3.00 Elements of Discrete Mathematics. The logic of propositions; truth tables; valid arguments; logic circuits. Set operations; relations on sets; Boolean functions. Counting principles; permutations; combinations; inclusion-exclusion principle; binomial and multinomial coefficients. Recurrence relations of order one and two; mathematical induction. Prerequisites: At least one OAC mathematics credit or its equivalent, or permission of the instructor. Degree credit exclusions: GL/MATH 1630 3.00 and GL/MATH 1640 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 1650 3.00 and GL/MATH 1650 3.00 and GL/MODR 1650 3.00

GL/CSLA 1925 3.00 The Elements of Logic for Computer Science. This course introduces the fundamental elements of formal logic and its applications in computer science. The subjects covered include: propositional logic, reasoning, automatic deduction, resolution, logic circuits, predicate logic, applications in programming logic. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC/MODR 2900 6.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 1925 3.00 and GL/ITEC 1925 3.00 and GL/MATH 1925 3.00 and GL/MODR 1925 3.00

GL/CSLA 1925 3.00 Éléments de logique pour l'informatique. Ce cours introduit les éléments fondamentaux de la logique formelle et ses applications en informatique. Les sujets abordés incluent: la logique des propositions, raisonnements, déduction automatique, résolution, circuits logiques, la logique des prédicats, applications dans la programmation logique. Cours incompatible: GL/COSC/MODR 2900 6.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 1925 3.00 and GL/ITEC 1925 3.00 and GL/MATH 1925 3.00 and GL/MODR 1925 3.00

GL/CSLA 1927 3.00 Mathematical Structures for Computer Science.

This course is designed to introduce and analyze some of discrete mathematical topics related to computer science. The subjects covered include sets, relations, recursive relations, mathematical induction, congruence, groups, graphs and trees, Boolean algebra, and complexity of algorithms and big Oh-notation. Prerequisite: GL/ITEC/CSLA/MODR 1925 3.00 or GL/MATH 1650 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC/MODR 2900 6.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 1927 3.00 and GL/ITEC 1927 3.00 and GL/MODR 1927 3.00

GL/CSLA 1960 3.00 Introduction to Computer Usage I. An introduction to computers and their applications for students with no previous background in the subject. Concepts of both hardware and software are discussed, and students are introduced to standard microcomputer-based applications packages. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC/MODR/SOSC 1960 6.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 1960 3.00 and GL/MODR 1960 3.00 and GL/SOSC 1960 3.00

GL/CSLA 1960 3.00 Introduction à l'application des ordinateurs I.

Ce cours a pour but d'initier les étudiants à l'application des ordinateurs. On y enseignera les unités matérielles et fonctionnelles de l'ordinateur. On apprendra aussi un système d'exploitation et un nombre de logiciels qui sont populaires sur les micro-ordinateurs. Cours incompatible : GL/COSC/MODR/SOSC 1960 6.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 1960 3.00 and GL/MODR 1960 3.00 and GL/SOSC 1960 3.00

GL/CSLA 1970 3.00 Introduction to Computer Usage II. Topics studied include information systems development and database processing, and a survey of common programming languages, including fourth generation languages and object oriented languages. Students will be introduced to programming in a high level language. The course will conclude with a discussion of some of the economic and social issues surrounding computerization. Prerequisite: GL/CSLA 1960 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC/MODR/SOSC 1960 6.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 1970 3.00 and GL/MODR 1970 3.00 and GL/SOSC 1970 3.00

GL/CSLA 1970 3.00 Introduction à l'application des ordinateurs II.

Ce cours introduit le développement de systèmes d'information et la gestion de base de données. On apprendra la structure et la conception des algorithmes et la programmation en langage de haut niveau. Le cours présente aussi les répercussions économiques et sociales des microprocesseurs. Condition préalable : GL/CSLA 1960 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 1970 3.00 and GL/MODR 1970 3.00 and GL/SOSC 1970 3.00

GL/CSLA 2001 3.00 Introduction to Theory of Computation.

Introduction to the theory of computing, including automata theory, formal languages and Turing machines, theoretical models and their applications. (Same as AK/AS/SC/COSC 2001 3.00) Corequisites: GL/CSLA/ITEC 1927 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC 3212 3.00.

GL/CSLA 2001 3.00 Introduction à la théorie de la computation.

Introduction à la théorie de la computation, incluant : théorie des automates, langages formels et machines de Turing; modèles théoriques et leurs applications. (Identique à AK/AS/SC/COSC 2001 3.00) Conditions concomitantes : GL/CSLA/ITEC 1927 3.00. Cours incompatible : GL/COSC 3212 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

GL/CSLA 2010 3.00 Analyse et conception des systèmes

d'information. Parmi les sujets abordés dans ce cours citons : système d'information d'organisation et système d'information informatisé, les différents types de systèmes d'information, le développement en cascade : le développement rapide et le prototypage, le développement orienté objet, modélisation des données, et modélisation des traitements. Conditions préalables : GL/ITEC 1010 3.00 et GL/ITEC 1011 3.00 pour ITEC. Condition concomitante : GL/CSLA 1620 3.00 pour CSLA. Cours incompatible : GL/COSC 3500 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 2010 3.00 and GL/ITEC 2010 3.00

GL/CSLA 2620 3.00 Fundamentals of Data Structures. This course presents elementary abstract data structures: stacks, lists and queues, and associated algorithms. It also introduces the files, data structure for external data storage and different file structures: sequential, index sequential and hashes (direct access files). Prerequisite: GL/CSLA 1630 3.00. Course equivalency: AK/AS/ITEC 2620 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC 3400 6.00 and GL/COSC 3400 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 2620 3.00 and GL/ITEC 2620 3.00

GL/CSLA 2620 3.00 Principes fondamentaux des structures de données. Ce cours présente des structures de données abstraites élémentaires : piles, queues et listes et les algorithmes associés. Il présente aussi une introduction aux fichiers, structures de données pour le stockage externe et leur organisation : séquentiel, séquentiel-indexé et fichiers à accès direct. Condition préalable : GL/CSLA/ITEC 1630 3.00. Cours incompatible : GL/COSC 3400 6.00 et GL/COSC 3400 3.00. Équivalence de cours : AK/AS/ITEC 2620 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 2620 3.00 and GL/ITEC 2620 3.00

GL/CSLA 3210 6.00 Data Processing.

GL/CSLA 3215 3.00 Introduction à l'analyse des algorithmes. Dans la première partie du cours on introduit les concepts fondamentaux de l'analyse d'algorithmes (les types de problèmes, les modèles d'algorithme et les moyens de définir et d'évaluer la complexité de coûts (moyen, meilleur, pire) ainsi que les techniques d'estimation (bornes supérieures et inférieures) sont présentés. Dans la seconde partie du cours, on applique ces techniques aux trois classes d'algorithmes : recherche, sélection, et sondage. Des algorithmes variés seront analysés et comparés dans différents modèles. Le cours va souligner l'application des concepts étudiés au moyen d'un grand nombre d'exemples et de deux travaux pratiques.

Language of Instruction: French

GL/CSLA 3411 3.00 Advanced Data Structures. This course presents advanced abstract structures: trees, search trees, sets, graphs, heaps and their implementation using object oriented programming language. Abstract data structures for external data storage will be correspondingly deepened. Prerequisites: GL/CSLA 1620 3.00, GL/CSLA 1630 3.00, GL/CSLA 2620 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC 3410 3.00.

GL/CSLA 3411 3.00 Cours avancé de structures de données. Ce cours présente des structures de données abstraites avancées: arborescences, arborescences de recherche, ensembles, graphes, tas (monceaux), et leur mise en application utilisant un langage orienté objet. Les structures de données abstraites pour le stockage externe seront corrélativement approfondies. Conditions préalables : GL/CSLA 1620 3.00, GL/CSLA 1630 3.00, GL/CSLA 2620 3.00. Cours incompatible : GL/COSC 3410 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

GL/CSLA 3461 3.00 Human-Computer Interaction. This course introduces the concepts and technology necessary to design, manage and implement interactive software. Students work in small groups and learn how to design user interfaces, how to realize them and how to evaluate the end result. Equivalent courses: AK/AS/SC/COSC 3461 3.00. Prerequisite: GL/COSC/ITEC 3400 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 3461 3.00 and GL/ITEC 3461 3.00

GL/CSLA 3510 3.00 Genie des logiciels. Validation des étapes du cycle de vie du logiciel. Gestion de projet. Estimation des coûts. Stratégies de conception, codage, test et maintenance. Techniques de vérification de programmes. Condition préalable : GL/CSLA 3500 3.00. Cours incompatible : GL/COSC 3500 6.00.

Language of Instruction: French

GL/CSLA 3610 3.00 Computer Organization. This course reviews the fundamental structures in modern processor design. Topics will include computer organization, instruction set design, memory system design and pipelining. Emphasis will be on a quantitative evaluation of design alternatives and an understanding of timing issues. There will be experimentation with LabVIEW (Laboratory Virtual Instrument Engineering Workbench), a graphical programming language for virtual instrumentation and simulation. Prerequisite: GL/CSLA/ITEC 1630 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC 3800 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 3610 3.00 and GL/ITEC 3610 3.00

GL/CSLA 3610 3.00 L'architecture des ordinateurs. Ce cours présente une revue des composantes fondamentales dans la conception des processeurs modernes. Les sujets inclus sont l'organisation de l'ordinateur, la conception des commandes, la conception de la mémoire et pipeline d'exécution, avec insistance sur l'évaluation quantitative de la conception et d'autres alternatives et compréhension des problèmes de synchronisation. Il y aura une expérimentation avec LabVIEW (Laboratory Virtual Instrument Engineering Workbench), un logiciel de développement d'applications d'instrumentation et de simulation. Condition préalable : GL/CSLA/ITEC 1630 3.00. Cours incompatible : GL/COSC 3800 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 3610 3.00 and GL/ITEC 3610 3.00

GL/CSLA 3620 3.00 DataBase Management Systems I. The course presents some models for the DataBase Management Systems (DBMS). IT concerns the study of the representation of the reality using the entity-relation model, and the relational DataBase Management System and its normalization. The course includes also an introduction to the SQL, a data definition, data manipulation and data control language, currently used in a relational database. Prerequisite: GL/CSLA 3411 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC 4510 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 3620 3.00 and GL/ITEC 3620 3.00

GL/CSLA 3620 3.00 Systèmes de gestion de bases de données. Ce cours présente différents modèles pour les systèmes de gestion de base de données (SGBD). On étudie la modélisation de la réalité utilisant le modèle entité - relation, le système de gestion de base de données relationnelle et sa normalisation. Le cours comprend aussi une introduction au SQL, langage de définition, manipulation et contrôle de données dans une base de données relationnelle. Condition préalable : GL/CSLA 3411 3.00. Cours incompatible : GL/COSC 4510 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 3620 3.00 and GL/ITEC 3620 3.00

GL/CSLA 3635 3.00 Computer Graphics. This course introduces many important data structures and algorithms to present data visually on a computer in order to provide background to write computer graphics applications. The first half of the course will cover two dimensional computer graphics, raster operations, imaging methods, and user interface design and construction. The second half will include topics related to the three-dimensional computer graphics, such as representation, illumination, shading, visibility determination, rendering and animation. Prerequisite: GL/CSLA/ITEC 2620 3.00. Course equivalency: SC/COSC 4331 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 3635 3.00 and GL/ITEC 3635 3.00

GL/CSLA 3635 3.00 Graphisme par ordinateur. Ce cours introduit de multiples structures de données et algorithmes essentiels à la représentation graphique de données sur ordinateur. L'objectif est de fournir suffisamment de bases pour écrire des logiciels d'applications graphiques. La première moitié du cours couvrira les applications graphiques à deux dimensions, les opérations "raster", les méthodes pour l'imagerie, ainsi que la conception et l'élaboration des interfaces utilisateur. La seconde partie inclura les sujets relatifs aux applications graphiques à trois dimensions, comprenant les techniques de représentation, d'éclairage, de traitement des ombres, de détermination des parties visibles, d'élaboration du rendu final, et d'animation. Condition préalable : GL/CSLA 2620 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 3635 3.00 and GL/ITEC 3635 3.00

GL/CSLA 3640 3.00 Computer Hardware. This course studies the design, structure and operation of digital computers. Topics include logic circuits and digital electronics, computer arithmetic, and machine language programming. Consideration of the design interactions between hardware and software system. Prerequisite: GL/CSLA/ITEC 3610 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 3640 3.00 and GL/ITEC 3640 3.00

GL/CSLA 3640 3.00 Le Matériel Informatique. Ce cours traite de la conception des composantes et de l'utilisation des ordinateurs numériques. Les sujets sont circuits logiques et électronique digitale, logique de Boole, programmation et interaction entre le matériel et le logiciel. Condition préalable : GL/CSLA 3610 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 3640 3.00 and GL/ITEC 3640 3.00

GL/CSLA 3710 3.00 Advanced and Practical Aspects of C/C++ and UNIX/LINUX. The purpose of the course is to present to the students an introduction to UNIX/LINUX operating system, programming in C/C++, and practical software design in the UNIX/LINUX environment using the software tools available under this system. Prerequisite: GL/CSLA/ITEC 1630 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC 3710 6.00.

GL/CSLA 3710 3.00 Aspects avancés et pratiques de C/C++ et UNIX/LINUX. L'objectif de ce cours est de familiariser les étudiants avec le système d'exploitation UNIX/LINUX, la programmation en C/C++, ainsi qu'avec les pratiques courantes de conception de logiciel dans l'environnement UNIX/LINUX en utilisant les outils de conception de logiciel disponibles dans ce système. Condition préalable : GL/CSLA/ITEC 1630 3.00. Cours incompatible : GL/COSC 3710 6.00.

Language of Instruction: French

GL/CSLA 3720 3.00 Object Oriented Programming. The course introduces object-oriented program design using, creating and extending hierarchies of program objects. Programming will be done in C++ and/or Objective C. Prerequisite: GL/CSLA 3410 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC 3710 6.00.

GL/CSLA 3830 3.00 Operating Systems. A discussion of the principles underlying the design of operating systems. Topics covered include the history of operating systems, user interfaces, memory management, process scheduling, file systems, concurrent processing, multiple processors and networks. Other topics addressed include; measuring system performance and assessing system security. Examples will be drawn from commonly used operating systems such as UNIX, MS-DOS and VMS. Prerequisite: GL/CSLA 3411 3.00 and GL/CSLA 3610 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC 4810 6.00(EF.)

GL/CSLA 3830 3.00 Les systèmes d'exploitation. Études des principes qui sous-tendent les systèmes d'exploitation. Histoire des systèmes d'exploitation; les interfaces usager, la gestion de la mémoire, l'ordonnement des processus, les systèmes de fichiers, les processus concurrents, les multi-processeurs, les réseaux. Autres sujets possibles - les mesures de performance du système, l'évaluation de la sécurité des systèmes d'exploitations couramment utilisés tels que UNIX, MS-DOS et VMS. Condition préalable : GL/CSLA 2620 3.00 et GL/CSLA 3610 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

GL/CSLA 4100 3.00 Directed Readings in Computer Science. Students at the third and fourth year of their studies who are specializing in computer science may do independent study under the direction of a member of the department and with the approval of the Chair of the department. To this end, he/she must submit to the Chair of the department, a detailed description of study and the evaluation criteria which have been previously approved by the faculty member who has agreed to supervise the course work. Prerequisite: GL/CSLA 1630 3.00.

GL/CSLA 4100 6.00 Directed Readings. Students at the third and fourth year of their studies who are specializing in computer science may do independent study under the direction of a member of the department and with the approval of the Chair of the department. To this end, he/she must submit to the Chair of the department, a detailed description of study and the evaluation criteria which have been previously approved by the faculty member who has agreed to supervise the course work. Prerequisite: GL/CSLA 1630 3.00.

GL/CSLA 4200 3.00 La logique floue pour les affaires, la finance et la gestion. Les concepts de base de la logique floue. Décision dans un contexte imprécis. Le contrôle flou pour les affaires, la finance et la gestion. Études de cas pratiques. Condition préalable : GL/CSLA 1927 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 4200 3.00 and GL/ITEC 4200 3.00

GL/CSLA 4250 3.00 Selected Topics in Computer Science. This course allows students and faculty to explore various topics in computer science which are not included in other course offerings. GL/CSLA 4250 3.00 may be taken more than once for credit with departmental approval. Prerequisites: GL/CSLA 1630 3.00 and nine additional credits depending on topic to be studied and approval from the Chair of department.

GL/CSLA 4300 3.00 Interactive System Design. A study of what makes an interactive system good or bad. The benefits of add-on user interfaces; the user's perceptual and cognitive requirements; an examination of appropriate hardware and software. Students design and implement components of an interactive system.

GL/CSLA 4520 3.00 Les réseaux informatiques. Le cours met l'accent sur l'étude des réseaux numériques à intégration de services (RNIS-ISDN) et sur les réseaux à communication des cellules (les réseaux ATM). Une autre partie du cours est dédiée à TCP/IP, à l'Internet, au Multimedia, au traitement des différents types de commutation, les passerelles et l'interconnexion des réseaux.

Language of Instruction: French

GL/CSLA 4570 3.00 Introduction to Compiler Design. Functions of compilers, processors, preprocessors and translators. Structure of compilers. Lexical and syntactical analysis. Semantic analysis and translation. Object code generation. Error. Diagnostics. (Same as AK/AS/SC/COSC 4302 3.00) Prerequisites: GL/CSLA 2001 3.00, GL/CSLA 3400 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC 3570 3.00.

GL/CSLA 4570 3.00 Introduction à la construction des compilateurs. Les fonctions des compilateurs, processeurs, préprocesseurs et traducteurs. Organisation d'un compilateur. Analyse lexicale et syntaxique, analyse sémantique et traduction. Génération du code objet. Détection d'erreurs. Les étudiants devront mettre en application ces principes dans un projet majeur le développement d'un compilateur pour un langage simple. (Identique à AK/AS/SC/COSC 4302 3.00) Conditions préalables : GL/CSLA 2001 3.00, GL/CSLA 3400 3.00. Cours incompatible : GL/COSC 3570 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

GL/CSLA 4590 3.00 Computer Simulation. This course introduces students to techniques involved in the simulation of both discrete-event and dynamic continuous systems. Major areas covered include: the generation and use of random numbers, a building of a model, special-purpose simulation languages such as GPSS, case studies. Prerequisite: GL/CSLA 2970 3.00.

GL/CSLA 4600 3.00 Informatique et traduction. Ce cours explorera trois domaines distincts: la traduction automatique (historique et fonctionnement), la traduction assistée (traitement de texte, contrôle orthographique, dictionnaires informatisés, réseaux d'information), l'analyse automatique et la génération d'énoncés en langage naturel. Condition préalable : GL/CSLA 1970 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 4600 3.00 and GL/TRAN 4600 3.00

GL/CSLA 4605 3.00 Issues in Information Technology. A study of the technical, economic and regulatory issues surrounding emerging information technologies. New developments in miniaturization, signal processing, video compression, digital switching and bandwidth capacity have led to the convergence of voice, video and data along what has come to be termed the information highway. These developments are examined from the perspective of the economic and social costs and benefits of alternative technologies and the effect of deregulation on competition and the delivery of services. Job creation and displacement, accessibility, and pricing are also discussed. Prerequisites: GL/CSLA 1960 3.00, GL/CSLA 1970 3.00, GL/ECON 2500 3.00, GL/ECON 2510 3.00 or equivalents and at least six credits at the third year level from one or more of the social sciences. Degree credit exclusions: GL/COSC/SOSC 4610 3.00, GL/ECON 3610 3.00 (Fall/Winter 1994-1995, Fall/Winter 1995-1996, Fall/Winter 1996-1997).

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 4605 3.00 and GL/ECON 4605 3.00 and GL/SOSC 4605 3.00

GL/CSLA 4620 6.00 Stage en informatique. Un stage à temps plein de 3 ou 4 mois dans une compagnie d'informatique ou de la technologie de l'information. Soumission d'un rapport technique qui lie des aspects de ce travail aux études d'informatique ou de la technologie de l'information que l'étudiant(e) a fait antérieurement. Conditions préalables : GL/CSLA 3830 3.00, GL/CSLA 2010 3.00 et une moyenne cumulative de B+.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 4620 6.00 and GL/ITEC 4620 6.00

GL/CSLA 4625 3.00 Data Communications and Networks. This course concerns the theory and applications of data communications; basic principles of telephony and switching; norms and protocols; algorithms used in data communications; LAN (local area network); ISO/OSI norms; SNA; hardware and software for communications. Prerequisite: GL/CSLA 2620 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC 4500 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 4625 3.00 and GL/ITEC 4625 3.00

GL/CSLA 4625 3.00 Télématique et réseaux. Théorie et applications des communications informatiques; principes de téléphonie et de commutation; normes et protocoles; algorithmes de contrôle de la circulation; réseaux locaux; normes ISO/OSI, SNA, et matériels/logiciels de communications. Conditions préalables : GL/CSLA 1630 3.00, GL/CSLA 3610 3.00 et GL/CSLA 3830 3.00. Cours incompatible : GL/COSC 4500 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 4625 3.00 and GL/ITEC 4625 3.00

GL/CSLA 4630 3.00 Internet Programming. This course introduces JavaScript to build dynamic interfaces on the Web, PERL language to construct and manipulate persistent objects on the Web, presents the Client-Server model and teaches the use of middleware to query a database on the Web. Prerequisite: GL/CSLA 1630 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC/ITEC 3010 3.00 (Fall 2001).

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 4630 3.00 and GL/ITEC 4630 3.00

GL/CSLA 4630 3.00 Programmation Internet. Le cours aborde le langage JavaScript et son utilisation pour construire des interfaces dynamiques sur le Web, ainsi que le langage PERL et à son utilisation pour la construction des objets persistants sur le Web, présente le modèle client-serveur et interroge une base de données utilisant une couche médiatrice. Condition préalable : GL/CSLA 1630 3.00. Cours incompatible : GL/COSC/ITEC 3010 3.00 (Automne 2001).

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 4630 3.00 and GL/ITEC 4630 3.00

GL/CSLA 4635 3.00 Computer Algorithms and Techniques for Imaging Cognition. This course offers an introduction to techniques and computer algorithms for functional brain imaging as well as recent development in cognitive neuropsychology. It examines how theories of normal cognitive functioning can be informed by evidence from brain-damaged patients and how converging evidence may be obtained from functional neuro-imaging techniques. Programming exercises will use data sets from current experiments. Prerequisites: GL/CSLA/ITEC 2620 3.00 plus six crédits at the 3000 and six crédits at the 4000 level in psychology or permission of the instructor.

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 4635 3.00 and GL/ITEC 4635 3.00 and GL/PSYC 4635 3.00

GL/CSLA 4635 3.00 Algorithmes et techniques informatiques pour l'imagerie cognitive. Ce cours offre une introduction aux techniques et algorithmes de l'imagerie fonctionnelle du cerveau aussi bien qu'une présentation des dernières réalisations en neuropsychologie cognitive. Il analyse les théories du fonctionnement cognitif normal et des mesures prélevées sur des patients atteints de lésions cérébrales, et la convergence avec les résultats obtenus à partir des techniques de l'imagerie fonctionnelle du cerveau. Les exercices de programmation prévus utiliseront les données d'expérimentations en cours. Conditions préalables : GL/CSLA/ITEC 2620 3.00 plus six crédits au niveau 3000 et six crédits au niveau 4000 en Psychologie ou la permission du professeur.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 4635 3.00 and GL/ITEC 4635 3.00 and GL/PSYC 4635 3.00

GL/CSLA 4640 3.00 Computer Networks. This course studies ISDN (Integrated Service Digital Network); the ATM (Asynchronous Transfer Mode) Protocol Reference Model; Internet and its networking protocol TCP/IP (Transmission Control Protocol/Internet Protocol); transfer of multimedia content; packet and data switching; gateways and network interconnections. Prerequisite: GL/CSLA 4625 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC 4520 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 4640 3.00 and GL/ITEC 4640 3.00

GL/CSLA 4645 3.00 Introduction to Bioinformatics A. The course introduces students to elements of computational molecular biology such as nucleotides, amino acids, DNA, proteins, transcription and translation. We will present DNA alignment algorithms such as pair wise alignment, local and global, as well as multiple alignments. The students will use the Internet to access biological databases and learn how these can be used for the molecular structure prediction. Prerequisite: GL/CSLA/ITEC 2620 3.00. Degree credit exclusions: GL/COSC/ITEC 4010 3.00 (Fall/Winter 2001-2002 and Fall/Winter 2002-2003).

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 4645 3.00 and GL/ITEC 4645 3.00

GL/CSLA 4647 3.00 Introduction to Bioinformatics B. The course introduces students to the use of Perl language for bioinformatics: to represent and manipulate DNA sequences, to build restriction maps using regular expressions to simulate the DNA mutations, to generate random DNA. We will present the implementation in Perl of data structures and algorithms for text processing that are used in bioinformatics. Prerequisite: GL/CSLA/ITEC 2620 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/CSLA 4647 3.00 and GL/ITEC 4647 3.00

GL/CSLA 4700 3.00 Programmation Logique (PROLOG). Ce cours est une introduction à la programmation logique et à la programmation logique par contraintes. Le langage de programmation PROLOG est présenté (prédicats prédéfinis, retour arrière, "coupure" etc.) et sont discutés divers techniques de programmation, des éléments de méta-interpréteurs en PROLOG et des applications. Condition préalable : GL/CSLA 1630 3.00. Cours incompatible : GL/COSC 4700 6.00.

Language of Instruction: French

GL/CSLA 4710 3.00 Éléments d'intelligence artificielle. Le cours fait un tour d'horizon des principaux problèmes actuels de ce domaine en pleine expansion; les concepts de base et les méthodes de l'intelligence artificielle, représentation des connaissances, inférence, systèmes experts, raisonnements et incertitude, compréhension du langage naturel etc. Condition préalable : GL/CSLA 4700 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

GL/CSLA 4715 3.00 Management of Uncertainty in Expert System Design. This course is a self-contained presentation of state-of-the-art methodologies and approaches to management of uncertainty in expert systems design. It deals with knowledge representation, search, inference and reasoning under uncertainty issues. Prerequisites: GL/CSLA 3411 3.00 or SC/COSC 2011 3.00 and GL/CSLA 4700 3.00 or SC/COSC 4402 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/COSC 4710 3.00.

Creative Writing – Arts

Creative writing is a delayed-entry Honours BA program, and may be pursued as a single major, double major or minor. Students who wish to apply for admission to the program are strongly advised to take one of the following courses among their first 30 University credits:

- AS/EN 1200 6.00
- AS/EN 1250 3.00
- AS/EN 1300 6.00
- AS/EN 1350 3.00
- AS/HUMA 1100 9.00
- AS/HUMA 1105 9.00
- AS/HUMA 1170 9.00
- AS/HUMA 1980 9.00

Note: A maximum of six credits from the courses listed above will count for creative writing major or minor credit.

Students wishing to major or minor in the Creative Writing Program should apply for admission to AS/HUMA 2900 9.00 at the end of their first year of study. For admission to AS/HUMA 2900 9.00 students should submit a 10-15 page portfolio of poetry and prose fiction (fragments of stories will suffice) by April. Students will be eligible to enrol in AS/HUMA 2900 9.00 only after portfolios have been accepted by the Creative Writing Committee.

Students must successfully complete AS/HUMA 2900 9.00 or its equivalent before applying for admission to the Creative Writing Program as a major or minor. Students taking AS/HUMA 2900 9.00 who wish to obtain full admission to the program as a major or minor should submit a 15-20 page portfolio of poetry and prose fiction following completion of AS/HUMA 2900 9.00. Students may also apply for full admission after their first 48 credits and before completion of their first 78 credits by presenting a portfolio containing work in both poetry and prose fiction as evidence of writing experience to that provided by AS/HUMA 2900 9.00. In either case, applicants must also fill out a Creative Writing Program application form. Acceptance of the portfolio by the Creative Writing Committee constitutes full admission to the Honours Major or Honours Minor program.

It is strongly recommended that students in the Honours BA program combine creative writing with another major or minor. Students admitted to the Honours Major or Honour Minor program should attend the advising session provided by the Creative Writing Program, which is normally held in the spring. Please consult the program office for more information.

For specific program requirements and the list of program courses, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

The interdisciplinary Program in Criminology focuses on the analysis of crime, criminality, social control and regulation and the criminal justice system. As well as providing students with a thorough grounding in the history, debates, issues and critiques of the field, the program curriculum is intended to encourage a critical interdisciplinary analysis of how crime, criminality and the criminal justice system have been constructed, represented and administered legally, politically, economically and culturally.

Students in the program are required to complete a series of core program courses that focus on areas or topics central to criminology, such as criminal law and procedure, criminological theory, the criminal justice system, policing, the court system, penology, corrections and alternative forms of justice. In addition to the program core, criminology majors select courses from a variety of departments and disciplines which address topics, issues and concerns relevant to criminology, and which allow students to explore particular stands of criminology based on their individual interests.

For specific program requirements and the list of program courses, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Courses in Criminology

Note: For purposes of meeting program requirements, all foundations courses will count as six credits towards the major.

AS/CRIM 1650 9.00 Introduction to Criminology. This course is an introduction to criminology through a critical investigation of the processes and structures that designate criminality and delinquency; the relationship between control and consent; the administration of justice, and; the contexts (cultural, political and economic) for legal contests. (This course is affiliated with McLaughlin College.) Degree credit exclusion: AS/SOCI 1011 6.00. Note: Students must achieve a grade of at least B (6.0) in this course (or equivalent) in order to be permitted to continue as a major in criminology, or to pursue additional criminology courses at the 2000, 3000 and 4000 levels. Under exceptional circumstances, non-majors who have not obtained a grade of at least B (6.0) may apply for special consideration to enrol in a criminology course for which AS/CRIM/SOSC 1650 9.00 (or equivalent) is a prerequisite. This application should be made to the Criminology Program coordinator.

Cross-listed to: AS/CRIM 1650 9.00 and AS/SOSC 1650 9.00

AS/CRIM 2650 6.00 Theories of Criminology. This course introduces students to competing theories of criminology and the history of criminology as a field of study. Biological, psychological and sociological theories of crime are compared and contrasted, as well as contemporary theories including symbolic interactionism and critical criminology. Prerequisite: AS/CRIM/SOSC 1650 9.00 (or equivalent), with a grade of at least B (6.0).

Cross-listed to: AS/CRIM 2650 6.00 and AS/SOSC 2650 6.00

AS/CRIM 2651 3.00 Criminal Law and Procedure. This course is an introduction to the fundamental and competing principles of jurisprudence and the Criminal Code of Canada. Consideration is given to the various steps in the judicial system, including investigation, indictment, adjudication, sentencing and corrections. Prerequisite: AS/CRIM/SOSC 1650 9.00 (or equivalent), with a grade of at least B (6.0).

Cross-listed to: AS/CRIM 2651 3.00 and AS/SOSC 2651 3.00

AS/CRIM 3651 3.00 Policing and the Community. This course moves from the historical roots of Canadian policing into the present. Canada's unique policing structure is discussed and compared with international policing structures. Political and economic forces behind policing and the symbolism of the police are also considered. Prerequisite: AS/CRIM/SOSC 1650 9.00 (or equivalent), with a grade of at least B (6.0).

Cross-listed to: AS/CRIM 3651 3.00 and AS/SOCI 3651 3.00

AS/CRIM 3652 3.00 Corrections and Alternative Forms of Justice.

This course explores the historical roots of corrections and alternative forms of justice. Topics include various philosophies of punishment and social control, as well as the influences that have helped to determine penal policies and practices, particularly in Canada. Prerequisite: AS/CRIM/SOSC 1650 9.00 (or equivalent), with a grade of at least B (6.0).

Cross-listed to: AS/CRIM 3652 3.00 and AS/SOCI 3652 3.00

AS/CRIM 4650 6.00 Criminology Honours Seminar. This course engages in an in-depth analysis of a particular topic or theme relevant to criminology. The focus of the course will vary from year to year, depending upon student and faculty interest in specific topics. Prerequisite: AS/CRIM/SOSC 1650 9.00 (or equivalent), with a grade of at least B (6.0).

Cross-listed to: AS/CRIM 4650 6.00 and AS/SOSC 4650 6.00

Programs of Study

The Department of Dance offers a comprehensive education in dance as a performing art leading to a BA (90 credits), BFA Honours (120 credits), or BA Specialized Honours (120 credits) degree. Throughout the program BFA students participate intensively in studio courses involving ballet and modern technique, conditioning for dancers, improvisation, music, composition/choreography, repertory, dance production, pedagogy and somatic education. Special performance opportunities are available through the York Dance Ensemble. Critical, analytical and writing skills are fully developed in the areas of dance studies and dance history, movement analysis, kinesiology and injury prevention, dance writing, dance ethnology and anthropology. BA Specialized Honours majors focus on dance studies, examining the role of dance in human societies, and in their final year undertake a capstone project. The BA Specialized Honours is particularly appropriate for those who wish to undertake a double major combining dance with another field. The program is enriched by distinguished guest lecturers, master teachers and choreographers, performances, films, workshops and the integration of new technologies. The emphasis in the department is to prepare people for careers and graduate work in dance and other fields.

A placement evaluation is required of all entering BFA students. Applicants for that degree must have had some training in either ballet or modern dance. See details in section on Faculty of Fine Arts evaluations. Advancement to second, third and fourth level dance technique courses is by juried audition only.

Through the joint five-year National Ballet School/York University diploma degree program students can combine study towards a BFA Honours in dance with the Teacher Training Program at the National Ballet School. Students interested in this joint program will be expected to declare their interest in the first year of study.

Dance majors are eligible to apply for the Concurrent Program of the Faculty of Education at the end of the first year of study.

A dance minor program is available for students who are majoring in another discipline in the Faculties of Arts, Environmental Studies, Fine Arts or Pure and Applied Science. The minor requires the equivalent of 30 credits in dance theory and practice.

Courses in Dance

FA/DANC 1205 2.25 Ballet Technique. Introductory course in ballet. Emphasizes integrated movement, alignment, classical ballet vocabulary, artistic expression, as well as the creative process. Required of all dance majors. Five hours. Corequisite: FA/DANC 1215 2.25.

FA/DANC 1206 2.25 Ballet Technique. Introductory course in ballet. Emphasizes integrated movement, alignment, classical ballet vocabulary, artistic expression, as well as the creative process. Required of all dance majors. Five hours. Prerequisite: FA/DANC 1205 2.25. Corequisite: FA/DANC 1216 2.25.

FA/DANC 1207 2.25 Ballet Technique. A continuation of work begun in FA/DANC 1205 2.25 in ballet. Emphasizes integrated movement, alignment, classical ballet vocabulary, artistic expression, as well as the creative process. Five hours. Note: Open by permission of the department only.

FA/DANC 1208 2.25 Ballet Technique. A continuation of work begun in FA/DANC 1206 2.25 in ballet. Emphasizes integrated movement, alignment, classical ballet vocabulary, artistic expression as well as the creative process. Five hours. Note: Open by permission of the department only.

FA/DANC 1215 2.25 Modern Technique. Introductory course in modern dance. Emphasizes integrated movement, alignment, modern dance vocabulary, artistic expression, as well as the creative process. Required of all dance majors. Five hours. Corequisite: FA/DANC 1205 2.25.

FA/DANC 1216 2.25 Modern Technique. Introductory course in modern dance. Emphasizes integrated movement, alignment, modern dance vocabulary, artistic expression, as well as the creative process. Required of all dance majors. Five hours. Prerequisite: FA/DANC 1215 2.25. Corequisite: FA/DANC 1206 2.25.

FA/DANC 1217 2.25 Modern Technique. A continuation of work begun in FA/DANC 1215 2.25 in modern dance. Emphasizes integrated movement, alignment, modern dance vocabulary, artistic expression, as well as the creative process. Five hours. Note: Open by permission of the department only.

FA/DANC 1218 2.25 Modern Technique. A continuation of work begun in FA/DANC 1216 2.25 in modern dance. Emphasizes integrated movement, alignment, modern dance vocabulary, artistic expression, as well as the creative process. Five hours. Note: Open by permission of the department only.

FA/DANC 1220 1.50 Improvisation. An introduction to theory and practice in improvisation with a focus on the creative process in dance. Required of all dance majors. Open only to dance majors and minors. Three hours. Corequisite: Enrolment in dance technique.

FA/DANC 1270 3.00 Dance Production. An introduction to the fundamentals of lighting design and stagecraft for dance, this course is taught with FA/THEA 1100 3.00 Stagecraft I. Continued work on issues of composition and form as well as increased focus on the development of individual choreographic interests. Creation of innovative choreographic material is the primary focus. Issues of performance, production and criticism as related to choreography is also addressed. Prerequisite: FA/DANC 2226 3.00.

FA/DANC 4280 3.00 Jazz Dance II. A continuation of work begun in FA/DANC 3280 3.00 Jazz Dance I, with emphasis on artistic expression. Styles of jazz dance that may be covered are Broadway, funk, street, lyrical, hip hop and theatre dance. A theoretical component will involve the study of historical and cultural aspects of the North American jazz dance vernacular. Four Hours. Prerequisite: FA/DANC 3280 3.00 Jazz Dance I or permission of the instructor. Open to non-majors.

FA/DANC 4285 3.00 Indian Dance: Movement, Repertoire and Fusion. An introduction to the practice and theory of classical East Indian dance with reference to various styles. The course presents an integrated approach to rhythmic and movements of Indian dance for those with previous movement training. Open to non-majors with permission of the course director. Four hours studio lab/lecture per week. Prerequisites: FA/DANC 1206 2.25 and FA/DANC 1216 2.25, or prior training in a classical Indian music or dance form and permission of the course director. Degree credit exclusion: FA/DANC 4390C 3.00.

FA/DANC 4310 3.00 Dance Writing. This seminar focuses on reading selected historical and contemporary writing about dance, and it provides practical experience in critical, journalistic and promotional writing. Four hours. Prerequisites: FA/DANC 1340 3.00 and FA/DANC 2340 3.00 or equivalents. Open to non-majors with permission of the course director.

FA/DANC 4320 3.00 Motor Learning and Motor Control for Dance. Examines motor learning and neuromuscular patterning for dance practice. Investigates current theories of motor development through childhood and adolescence, with a particular emphasis on pedagogical and training concerns. Explores the inter-relationship of creativity and motor development in dance. Prerequisites: FA/DANC 2320 3.00 Dance Kinesiology, or consent of instructor.

FA/DANC 4330 3.00 Anthropology of Dance in Canada. A survey of classical, folk, tribal and social dance traditions within the Canadian cultural context. Open to non-majors. Four hours. Prerequisites: FA/DANC 3330 3.00 or equivalent and third- or fourth-year standing, or permission of the course director.

FA/DANC 4340 3.00 Topics in Historical or Cultural Dance Style. Practical and theoretical studies in historical or cultural dance style from a historical or ethnological perspective. The study of style in movement as it reflects a culture or a period of history is a central issue in dance scholarship. Methodologies of describing, recording and interpreting movement patterns in context are emphasized. Topics are announced each year in the spring. Open to non-majors. Four hours. Prerequisites: FA/DANC 3330 3.00 or equivalent and third- or fourth-year standing, or permission of the course director.

FA/DANC 4345 3.00 Canadian Dance History. An investigation of selected periods, people, cultural, social and political events in the development of Canadian dance during the 19th and 20th centuries. Prerequisites: FA/DANC 2340 3.00, and third- or fourth-year standing, or permission of the course director.

FA/DANC 4370 1.50 Mentoring Practicum. A course for fourth-year dance majors designed to develop practical teaching skills through mentoring and coaching entering students in the Department of Dance. Students create and implement individual programs through observation, analysis and communication. For 2002-2004 only, students entering the dance program before 2001 may opt to take this course for 1.50 credits. Prerequisites: FA/DANC 3205 1.50 and FA/DANC 3206 1.50, or FA/DANC 3215 3.00 and FA/DANC 3216 3.00; and FA/DANC 3321 3.00 or FA/DANC 3320 3.00. Corequisite: Current enrolment in dance technique.

FA/DANC 4370 3.00 Mentoring Practicum. A course for fourth-year dance majors designed to develop practical teaching skills through mentoring and coaching entering students in the Department of Dance. Students create and implement individual programs through observation, analysis and communication. Prerequisites: FA/DANC 3205 1.50 and FA/DANC 3206 1.50, or FA/DANC 3215 3.00 and FA/DANC 3216 3.00; and FA/DANC 3321 3.00 or FA/DANC 3320 3.00. Corequisite: Current enrolment in dance technique.

FA/DANC 4375 3.00 Dance and the Child I. Theories, tools and applications for teaching dance to children (ages three-six). Three hours lecture/studio, two hours practicum. Prerequisites: FA/DANC 2206 2.25, FA/DANC 2216 2.25, and AS/PSYC 2110 3.00 or AS/PSYC 3410 3.00, or permission of the course director.

FA/DANC 4376 3.00 Dance and the Child II. Theories, tools and applications for teaching dance to children (ages seven-12). Three hours lecture/studio, two hours practicum. Prerequisites: FA/DANC 2206 2.25, FA/DANC 2216 2.25, and AS/PSYC 2110 3.00 or AS/PSYC 3410 3.00, or permission of the course director.

FA/DANC 4380 3.00 Creativity Studies and the Performing Arts. An integrated course examining current theories, methodologies and findings in creativity studies literature, applying them to individual or collaborative research projects on creativity in the performing arts, with a focus on dance. Open to fourth-year fine arts majors by permission of the instructor.

FA/DANC 4400 3.00 Senior Projects. Students develop one or a series of self-directed interlinked projects, which may consist of research or field studies on a topic of interest (theoretical or creative) leading to a major piece of writing, a performance, an internship or some combination of these activities. By application to the department. Adjudication of the credit weighting of each project will be made by the department, based on the proposal. A supervisory committee may be established for projects involving more than six credits. Prerequisite: Fourth-year standing.

FA/DANC 4400 4.50 Senior Projects. Students develop one or a series of self-directed interlinked projects, which may consist of research or field studies on a topic of interest (theoretical or creative) leading to a major piece of writing, a performance, an internship or some combination of these activities. By application to the department. Adjudication of the credit weighting of each project will be made by the department, based on the proposal. A supervisory committee may be established for projects involving more than six credits. Prerequisite: Fourth-year standing.

FA/DANC 4400 6.00 Senior Projects. Students develop one or a series of self-directed interlinked projects, which may consist of research or field studies on a topic of interest (theoretical or creative) leading to a major piece of writing, a performance, an internship or some combination of these activities. By application to the department. Adjudication of the credit weighting of each project will be made by the department, based on the proposal. A supervisory committee may be established for projects involving more than six credits. Prerequisite: Fourth-year standing.

FA/DANC 4400 9.00 Senior Projects. Students develop one or a series of self-directed interlinked projects, which may consist of research or field studies on a topic of interest (theoretical or creative) leading to a major piece of writing, a performance, an internship or some combination of these activities. By application to the department. Adjudication of the credit weighting of each project will be made by the department, based on the proposal. A supervisory committee may be established for projects involving more than six credits. Prerequisite: Fourth-year standing.

FA/DANC 4400 12.00 Senior Projects. Students develop one or a series of self-directed interlinked projects, which may consist of research or field studies on a topic of interest (theoretical or creative) leading to a major piece of writing, a performance, an internship or some combination of these activities. By application to the department. Adjudication of the credit weighting of each project will be made by the department, based on the proposal. A supervisory committee may be established for projects involving more than six credits. Prerequisite: Fourth-year standing.

FA/DANC 4401 3.00 Independent Studies. Students develop one or a series of interlinked self-directed research projects, which may consist of research on a topic of interest (theoretical or creative) leading to a major piece of writing, thesis or series of essays. By application to the department. Adjudication of the appropriate credit weighting will be made by the department, based on the proposal. May be repeated for credit.

FA/DANC 4401 4.50 Independent Studies. Students develop one or a series of interlinked self-directed research projects, which may consist of research on a topic of interest (theoretical or creative) leading to a major piece of writing, thesis or series of essays. By application to the department. Adjudication of the appropriate credit weighting will be made by the department, based on the proposal. May be repeated for credit.

FA/DANC 4401 6.00 Independent Studies. Students develop one or a series of interlinked self-directed research projects, which may consist of research on a topic of interest (theoretical or creative) leading to a major piece of writing, thesis or series of essays. By application to the department. Adjudication of the appropriate credit weighting will be made by the department, based on the proposal. May be repeated for credit.

Program of Study

The Honours bachelor of design program, which provides a professional education in a humanistic context, is jointly run by the design departments of York University and Sheridan Institute of Technology and Advanced Learning. Students in the joint bachelor of design Honours program enrol in courses at both institutions. The design degree (the first in Ontario) replaces the former bachelor of fine arts – design stream offered by the Visual Arts Department at York University and the Diploma in Graphic Design offered by Sheridan Institute of Technology and Advanced Learning. The joint program offers a comprehensive, intensive and professional education in communication design and a curriculum that reflects the distinct theoretical, research and practicum focus and needs of the design profession and the emerging standards of the Registered Graphic Designers of Ontario. Students in the program benefit from small studio/practicum classes, design studies classes and an internship program. The design practicum courses focus on three major areas of design: communications, information and interactive/multimedia design; the design courses provide an integrated approach to design history, research and theory, design management and critical issues in design.

For information on supplementary evaluation requirements and program requirements, please refer to the Faculty of Fine Arts section of this Calendar.

Courses in Design

FA/YSDN 1001 3.00 Visual Language. The elements and principles of design comprising our visual language are examined and explored on the two-dimensional level through various exercises and projects. This operational form language is developed via tactile and computer application processes. Required course for design major. For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply. Note: Students should have basic computer literacy skills as defined by the Faculty of Fine Arts.

FA/YSDN 1002 3.00 Design and Image. The processes of creating representational, graphic and abstract images in the context of visual communication design is examined. Different methods, tactile materials and computer application processes of generating and manipulating images are investigated with consideration given to form and content of images, as well as to their potential for the communication of ideas. Required course for design major. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply. Students should have basic computer literacy skills as defined by the Faculty of Fine Arts.

FA/YSDN 1003 3.00 3D Design. The elements and principles of three-dimensional design are examined and applied through various exercises and projects. Communication of three-dimensional concepts through two-dimensional representations and three-dimensional prototypes is introduced and developed. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply. Available to non-majors by permission of the Department of Design.

FA/YSDN 1004 3.00 Design and Colour. Colour perception, systems or classification and the nature of light, pigment and colour materials are studied through a series of tactile and computer exercises and projects. The creative use of colour using a variety of materials and processes, and the use of colour in various periods is investigated. Note: Available to non-majors by permission of the Department of Design. For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply. Students should have basic computer literacy skills as defined by the Faculty of Fine Arts.

FA/YSDN 1005 3.00 Typography 1. An introduction to the history and development of letters, letterforms and the typography system as practiced in contemporary print and electronic design. The typographic vocabulary, system of measurement, prioritization of information and issues of readability and legibility are introduced. Required course for design major. Prerequisite: FA/YSDN 1001 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Degree credit exclusion: FA/YSDN 2002 3.00. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 1006 3.00 Interactivity Design 1. The forms of interactivity are examined and explored through designing visual representations of the human computer interface based on the introduction of the developing theories and models of interaction. Required course for design major. Prerequisite: FA/YSDN 1001 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 1101 3.00 Critical Issues in Design. An introduction to the cultural, practical, technological and contextual issues facing designers today by examining works and readings from our day in the various fields of design. Required course for design major. Note: Available to non-majors by permission of the Department of Design. For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply. Students should have basic computer literacy skills as defined by the Faculty of Fine Arts.

FA/YSDN 1109A 3.00 Communications in the Urban Environment. This course will focus on the urban environment as a resource for developing and reinforcing a critical design vocabulary and awareness of visual and behavioural structural diversity - formal, stylistic and functional effects will be addressed. For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 2001A 3.00 Visualization Methods. This course offers an in-depth study of graphic visualization systems, mechanical drawing devices and visual theory. Supervised studio time will strengthen students' observation, rapid sketching and visualizing abilities. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 2003 3.00 Typography 2. A further investigation into the history, principles and application of contemporary typographic systems and issues of readability and legibility in print and electronic communication design. Required course for design major. Prerequisite: FA/YSDN 1005 3.00 (formerly FA/YSDN 2002 3.00), or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 2004 3.00 Communication Design 1. This practicum course concentrates on building skills in two-dimensional visual communication design. Various communication and learning theories are integrated into the design process assisting students to develop a multi-disciplined approach to design. Required course for design major. Prerequisites: FA/YSDN 1001 3.00, FA/YSDN 1002 3.00 and FA/YSDN 1005 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Degree credit exclusion: FA/YSDN 2004 3.00. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 2005 3.00 Interactivity Design 2. The introduction of a general system model to provide a theoretical foundation for systematic solving of design problems is developed. Research, analysis, synthesis and evaluation processes with related methods are employed to develop electronic based communications. Prerequisite: FA/YSDN 1006 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 2006 3.00 Design and Perception. An examination of the perception of visual information and communication on three distinct levels: representational, symbolic and abstract. Visual concepts of proximity, similarity and figure/ground relationships are examined. Introduction to basic communication models, perception theories and symbiotics provide a theoretical foundation for the studio problems. Prerequisites: FA/YSDN 1001 3.00 (formerly FA/VISA 2041 3.00) and FA/YSDN 1002 3.00 (formerly FA/VISA 2044 3.00) or permission of the course director. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 2007 3.00 Typography 3. A continued in-depth investigation into contemporary explorations and applications of typographic principles, information theories, history and various approaches to solving visual communication problems. Letterpress printing and digital processes are investigated. Required course for design major. Prerequisites: FA/YSDN 1005 3.00 and FA/YSDN 2003 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Degree credit exclusion: FA/YSDN 3002 3.00. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 2102 6.00 History of Design. Functional objects, past and present, and their relationship to the process of design, conditions of the time, the problems met, important influences and the importance to our time are examined. The primary focus is from the industrial revolution to today with required reading and much critical looking at our own environment. Required course for design major. Prerequisite: FA/YSDN 1101 3.00, FA/VISA 1040 3.00 or FA/VISA 1000 3.00 or permission of the Design Department. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

Cross-listed to: FA/VISA 2910 6.00 and FA/YSDN 2102 6.00

FA/YSDN 2103 3.00 Research in Design. An identification and examination of the various aspects of conducting original survey research in support of the problem-solving process utilized in contemporary visual communication design. Required course for design major. Prerequisite: FA/YSDN 1101 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 2104 3.00 Design Thinking: Creative and Critical Pathways. This studies course examines the similarities and differences between creative and critical thinking. Both types of thinking are required in the design process to provide the student with the theory and operational skills necessary to improve their design process and problem-solving abilities. This course counts as a free elective for BDes majors. Prerequisite: FA/YSDN 1101 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Degree credit exclusion: FA/YSDN 2101A 3.00. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 3003 3.00 Typography 4. This course furthers the students' knowledge of the typographic principles initiated in Typography 3. The investigation of typography in various media to communicate with impact on the audience is emphasized through font creation and type in motion. Required course for design major. Prerequisites: FA/YSDN 2007 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 3004 3.00 Communication Design 2. A continued investigation into two dimensional print-oriented design problems. Various communication and learning theories are integrated into the design process assisting students to develop a multi-disciplined approach to design. Prerequisite: FA/YSDN 2004 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 3005 3.00 Design and Systems. A continued investigation into complex problem solving which emphasizes the application of systemic design methods. Individual and team problem-solving techniques are utilized to identify and analyze problems, develop content, specify functions, evaluate solutions and produce prototypes at the system level. Prerequisite: FA/YSDN 3006 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 3006 3.00 Design and Information Architecture. Students broaden their knowledge and understanding of the conceptual principles of organizational structures and methodologies involved in the presentation of information in virtual environments. In a series of projects, students explore various types of data and structural organization models of information. Prerequisites: FA/YSDN 2005 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 3007 3.00 Information Design 1. The relevant theories and methodologies which allow the designer to prioritize, simplify and creatively visualize a wide range of complex textual and visual information are examined and applied. Prerequisite: FA/YSDN 2003 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 3008 3.00 Information Design 2. A further and extended investigation into the relevant theories and methodologies which allow the designer to prioritize, simplify and creatively visualize a wide range of complex textual and visual information. Prerequisite: FA/YSDN 3007 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 3009 3.00 Time-based Communication. This course focuses upon the visual grammar and language syntax of time-based communication and motion graphics and explores concepts and techniques involved in the integration of images, typography, digital video and audio into vibrant and persuasive communication environments. Prerequisites: FA/YSDN 1006 3.00 and FA/YSDN 2005 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 3010 3.00 Package Design. This specialized practicum course focuses on the principles, vocabulary and contemporary production of package design. An historical overview and current design strategies in the context of the retail environment will be investigated. Prerequisites: FA/YSDN 1003 3.00 and FA/YSDN 3004 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Degree credit exclusion: FA/YSDN 4001B 3.00. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 3011 3.00 Editorial Design. This course will focus on the design of print and electronic editorial documents. Students will investigate the relationship between type, illustration, photo and graphic imagery. Prerequisites: FA/YSDN 3004 3.00 and FA/YSDN 3003 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 3101A 3.00 History and Development of Typography. This course will explore the historic development of typographic form - the origins of alphabet from 3000 BC to the present. This includes the study of historical/cultural periods, typographic classifications and exploration of contemporary typography. For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply. Prerequisite/corequisite: FA/YSDN 2102 6.00 or permission of the Department of Design.

FA/YSDN 3102 3.00 Contemporary Problems in Design. An identification and examination of the various roles that design and designers play in the solving of visual and cultural problems in today's rapidly changing society. Prerequisite: FA/YSDN 2103 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 3104 3.00 Design for Public Awareness: Investigation, Identification and Integration in Design Communication. This design studies course focuses upon the contribution of design to public awareness of social issues. Students learn that responsible designers also have social responsibilities, and have the opportunity to be of service to marginalized populations. Students will be introduced to the role(s) of graphic agitation, interventions, major and alternative modes of public address and culture jamming. Prerequisites: FA/YSDN 1101 3.00, FA/YSDN 2102 6.00, FA/YSDN 2103 3.00.

FA/YSDN 3105 3.00 Self, Society and Design. Examines the practices, images and objects of graphic design in relation to issues of personal agency and wider social structure, and so places visual and material culture in the context of concerns which are central to the social sciences of (primarily) anthropology, sociology and social psychology. Prerequisite: FA/YSDN 2103 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 3106 3.00 Image and Influence: Graphics in the 20th Century. Explores the relationships between graphic design and art in the 20th century, with particular attention to the associations between pictorial Modernism and the use of image and text in graphic design. Prerequisite: FA/YSDN 2102 6.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 4001A 3.00 Advanced Package Design. A continued in-depth examination of the conceptualization and creation of effective package structures and graphics in relation to contemporary society and the realities of professional practice. For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply. Prerequisite: FA/YSDN 3010 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design.

FA/YSDN 4002 3.00 Type Explorations. A continued in-depth investigation into contemporary explorations and applications of typographic principles, information theories, history and various approaches to solving visual communication problems. Print, digital and environmental/broadcast distribution processes are investigated. Prerequisite: FA/YSDN 3003 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 4003 3.00 Interactive System Design. An advanced investigation into systems - intuitive and learned - that support human activities via interactive communication and distribution networks. An understanding of these communication/distribution methods working in reciprocal fashion from users to the computer and back, is presented. Prerequisites: FA/YSDN 3005 3.00 and FA/YSDN 3102 3.00, or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 4004 6.00 Design Workshop. Students develop a series of self-directed projects using a multidisciplinary approach in solving two-dimensional, three-dimensional and interactive digital design problems. The student proposal is adjudicated by a department committee. Required course for design major which can only be taken in their graduating year. Prerequisites: All required practicum and studies courses or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 4005 3.00 Book Design. This advanced level practicum course explores the structuring of bound, print-oriented long text information documents. The history, anatomy, structural dynamics and an investigation of the contemporary private and commercial press/publishing process of the printed book is examined. Prerequisite: FA/YSDN 3004 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Degree credit exclusion: FA/YSDN 4001A 3.00. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 4007 3.00 Corporate Identity Design. This course will focus on the design of a corporate identity system for an organization. The system will involve the design of graphic identifiers, typography, selected applications and supporting documents. Prerequisites: FA/YSDN 3004 3.00 and FA/YSDN 3003 3.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 4102 3.00 Design Management. This course examines the theories and practice of design management in contemporary organizations. Through case studies and presentations by visiting speakers, students learn to construct practical working models of management systems. Projects require students to demonstrate investigative, analytical, organizational and business-oriented communication skills. Prerequisite: Students must have fourth-year standing in the BDes program or permission of the Department of Design. Note: For students not in the BDes program, compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees apply.

FA/YSDN 4103 3.00 Design Internship. Lectures introduce students to current design business practices, legal requirements and ethics. Full-time participation is required for three weeks in an approved professional design environment. Required course for design major. Prerequisite: Third-year standing in the BDes or permission of the Department of Design.

FA/YSDN 4104 3.00 Professional Aspects of Design. The areas of professional responsibility, accreditation, presentation techniques, portfolio preparation, branding and promotion will culminate in the planning and mounting of a graduation exhibition. Required course for design major. Corequisite: FA/YSDN 4004 6.00 or permission of the Department of Design. Degree credit exclusion: FA/YSDN 3103 3.00.

FA/YSDN 4900 3.00 Independent Studies: Design Practicum. An individualized study program for highly motivated students in their final year of study who wish to pursue specific and intensive independent practicum projects under the supervision of a faculty member on topics not available in other courses in the department. No more than one independent study course may be taken in any given year. Compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees may apply. Prerequisites: A 4000-level studio practicum in the media area being proposed, an overall major average of 7.0 (B+) and permission of the department. Note: Applications are available in the spring for the following academic session. Applications must include written support of faculty supervisor prior to submission to the department for approval.

FA/YSDN 4900 6.00 Independent Studies: Design Practicum. An individualized study program for highly motivated students in their final year of study who wish to pursue specific and intensive independent practicum projects under the supervision of a faculty member on topics not available in other courses in the department. No more than one independent study course may be taken in any given year. Compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees may apply. Prerequisite: A 4000-level studio practicum in the media area being proposed, an overall major average of 7.0 (B+), and permission of the department. Note: Applications are available in the spring for the following academic session. Applications must include written support of faculty supervisor prior to submission to the department for approval.

FA/YSDN 4901 3.00 Independent Studies: Design Studies. An individualized study program for highly motivated students in their final year of study who wish to pursue specific and intensive independent studies projects under the supervision of a faculty member on topics not available in other courses in the department. No more than one independent study course may be taken in any given year. Compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees may apply. Prerequisites: Completion of at least 18 credits in design studies, an overall major average of 7.0 (B+), and permission of the department. Note: Applications are available in the spring for the following academic session. Applications must include written support of faculty supervisor prior to submission to the department for approval.

FA/YSDN 4901 6.00 Independent Studies: Design Studies. An individualized study program for highly motivated students in their final year of study who wish to pursue specific and intensive independent studies projects under the supervision of a faculty member on topics not available in other courses in the department. No more than one independent study course may be taken in any given year. Compulsory and voluntary supplementary fees may apply. Prerequisites: Completion of at least 18 credits in design studies, an overall major average of 7.0 (B+), and permission of the department. Note: Applications are available in the spring for the following academic session. Applications must include written support of faculty supervisor prior to submission to the department for approval.

Courses in Drama Studies

GL/DRST 2200 6.00 Smoke and Mirrors. An Introduction to Technical Theatre. This course aims to give students an introduction to the various aspects of theatrical production, including scenery, lighting, sound, properties, publicity and production stage management. Students will apply their new skills to support at least one Glendon drama studies production.

GL/DRST 2610 3.00 Western Theatre: Masked Beginnings. A performance-based study of major theatrical achievements, including their modes of presentation, from early Greece to the European Renaissance.

Cross-listed to: GL/DRST 2610 3.00 and GL/EN 2610 3.00 and GL/HUMA 2610 3.00

GL/DRST 2612 3.00 Western Theatre: From Early Modern to Naturalism. A performance-based study of major theatrical achievements, including their modes of presentation, from the early modern period to the early 20th century.

Cross-listed to: GL/DRST 2612 3.00 and GL/EN 2612 3.00 and GL/HUMA 2612 3.00

GL/DRST 2630 6.00 20th-Century Drama in Europe and North America. This study of 20th-century drama in Europe and North America relates the practice of theatrical production to the literary features of plays within historical and cultural contexts. In most years students must participate in a class production. Degree credit exclusion: GL/EN 2530 6.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/DRST 2630 6.00 and GL/EN 2630 6.00

GL/DRST 2645 6.00 Par delà le réalisme : l'art dramatique français au XXe siècle. Étude de la production et de la théorie théâtrale au XXe siècle en France et au Québec. La première partie du cours explore tout particulièrement des réalisations qui illustrent l'anti-réalisme à la fois dans les textes et dans la production théâtrale. La seconde partie du cours est consacrée à la production d'une pièce au Théâtre Glendon étudiée dans la première partie.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/DRST 2645 6.00 and GL/Fran 2645 6.00 and GL/HUMA 2645 6.00

GL/DRST 3100 3.00 Individual Studies. Students do independent reading and research together with written assignments under the guidance of a member of the college. All individual studies in drama studies at Glendon are subject to specific regulations which the program will supply on request. (Since there is no assurance that a proposed project will be accepted, students are encouraged to enrol in another course until a decision is made concerning the proposal.)

GL/DRST 3100 6.00 Individual Studies. Students do independent reading and research together with written assignments under the guidance of a member of the college. All individual studies in drama studies at Glendon are subject to specific regulations which the program will supply on request. (Since there is no assurance that a proposed project will be accepted, students are encouraged to enrol in another course until a decision is made concerning the proposal.)

GL/DRST 3100 6.00 Travail individuel. Tout étudiant choisit un programme d'étude individuelle qu'il mènera à bien sous la direction d'un professeur du collège. Attention : Tous les « Travaux individuels » offerts dans le cadre d'Études d'arts dramatiques à Glendon sont régis par des règlements précis, que le secrétariat du programme tient à la disposition des étudiants. (Étant donné qu'il n'existe aucune garantie que ce projet soit accepté, on conseille vivement à l'étudiant de s'inscrire dans un autre cours jusqu'à ce qu'une décision soit prise.)

Language of Instruction: French

GL/DRST 3600 3.00 La dramaturgie du XVIIe siècle. Ce cours porte sur le théâtre du « Grand Siècle ». Seront étudiées certaines oeuvres de Corneille, Molière et Racine aussi bien que quelques pièces baroques et les théories de Boileau sur le théâtre. Cours incompatible: GL/FRAN 3250 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/DRST 3600 3.00 and GL/FRAN 3600 3.00

GL/DRST 3602 6.00 Opéra et histoire. "L'opéra est la mise en scène de nos désirs." C'est aussi le lieu où s'affrontent des enjeux divers: politiques, sociaux, idéologiques. A travers l'écoute attentive — enracinée dans l'Histoire — de plusieurs opéras célèbres, on se propose d'étudier la relation existant entre cette forme d'art et nos fantasmes individuels ou collectifs.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/DRST 3602 6.00 and GL/HUMA 3602 6.00

GL/DRST 3610 3.00 Théâtre québécois. Étude structurale et thématique de certaines oeuvres des auteurs les plus marquants du théâtre québécois.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/DRST 3610 3.00 and GL/FRAN 3610 3.00

GL/DRST 3615 6.00 Contemporary Women Playwrights. This course studies selected plays by contemporary American, British and Canadian women playwrights. Primary methodology is close reading. Attention will also be paid to how theatrical and cultural contexts and material circumstances are embedded in the representations of gender. Degree credit exclusions: GL/EN/WMST 3011 6.00 (2000-2001), GL/EN/CDNS 3010 6.00/WMST 3800 6.00 (1998-1999), GL/CDNS/WMST 4012 3.00 (Fall 1995).

Cross-listed to: GL/CDNS 3615 6.00 and GL/DRST 3615 6.00 and GL/EN 3615 6.00 and GL/WMST 3615 6.00

GL/DRST 3620 6.00 Reading Shakespeare. A study of a representative selection of Shakespeare's playtexts, with particular attention to how we produce their meanings. Prerequisite: Six credits in literature or drama studies. Degree credit exclusion: GL/EN 3420 6.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/DRST 3620 6.00 and GL/EN 3620 6.00

GL/DRST 3625 3.00 Early English Drama: The Middle Ages. The early development of English drama from the Biblical cycles of the medieval craft guilds, and the moralities and interludes, through to the humanist drama of the early 16th century. Degree credit exclusion: GL/EN 3520 3.00(EN).

Cross-listed to: GL/DRST 3625 3.00 and GL/EN 3625 3.00

GL/DRST 3630 3.00 Early English Drama: Shakespeare's Contemporaries. Major comedies and tragedies from the flowering of the London professional theatre between 1576 and 1642. Prerequisite: GL/EN 2510 6.00 or equivalent, or permission of the instructor. Degree credit exclusion: GL/EN 3525 3.00(EN).

Cross-listed to: GL/DRST 3630 3.00 and GL/EN 3630 3.00

GL/DRST 3640 6.00 L'art dramatique : texte et production. Le but du cours est d'apporter des connaissances générales sur le théâtre et d'amener les participants à explorer leurs possibilités d'expression créatrice. Ils auront de plus l'occasion de se familiariser concrètement avec toutes les disciplines d'une production théâtrale lors d'un spectacle public.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/DRST 3640 6.00 and GL/HUMA 3640 6.00

GL/DRST 3650 3.00 Théâtre français du XXe siècle. Étude de la dramaturgie française au 20e siècle, des développements dans le théâtre et de la place du théâtre dans les grands mouvements intellectuels et culturels du siècle. Lecture de pièces choisies d'auteurs tels que Paul Claudel, Jean Anouilh, Albert Camus, Jean-Paul Sartre, Eugène Ionesco, Jean Genêt, Samuel Beckett.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/DRST 3650 3.00 and GL/FRAN 3650 3.00

GL/DRST 3950 6.00 English-Speaking Theatre in Canada. A study of the development and present state of the English-speaking theatre in Canada, focusing on the major companies and the emergence of contemporary Canadian drama.

Cross-listed to: GL/DRST 3950 6.00 and GL/EN 3950 6.00 and GL/HUMA 3950 6.00

GL/DRST 3955 6.00 Approaches to Theatre. This course will introduce students to theatre by the study of theoretical and practical approaches to production. First-term classes and workshops will culminate in a second-term production.

Cross-listed to: GL/DRST 3955 6.00 and GL/EN 3955 6.00 and GL/HUMA 3955 6.00

GL/DRST 4100 3.00 Individual Studies. Students do independent reading and research together with written assignments under the guidance of a member of the college. All individual studies in drama studies at Glendon are subject to specific regulations which the program will supply on request. (Since there is no assurance that a proposed project will be accepted, students are encouraged to enrol in another course until a decision is made concerning the proposal.)

GL/DRST 4612 3.00 Théâtre du XVIIIe siècle. Ce cours se veut une étude de l'évolution du théâtre au XVIIIe siècle : ses enjeux, ses querelles et ses tentatives de refléter des réalités nouvelles, comme la lutte philosophique, la montée de la bourgeoisie et les valeurs contestataires qui vont préparer la Révolution française. Condition préalable : GL/FRAN 2335 6.00. Cours incompatible : GL/FRAN 4600 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/DRST 4612 3.00 and GL/FRAN 4612 3.00

GL/DRST 4615 3.00 Théâtre du XIXe siècle. Étude du théâtre du XIXe siècle dans ses principales manifestations : le Romantisme qui conteste le code esthétique du classicisme; le théâtre sentimental et la comédie bourgeoise qui reflète la nouvelle classe dominante; le théâtre naturaliste et la farce, puis le renouveau du genre à la fin du siècle. Condition préalable : GL/Fran 2335 6.00. Cours incompatible : GL/Fran 4600 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/DRST 4615 3.00 and GL/Fran 4615 3.00

GL/DRST 4635 6.00 Cinema in Spain and Latinoamerica. The course studies major accomplishments in Spanish film, from the cinema of Luis Buñuel to the main trends in contemporary Spain. The course also studies a selection of Latin American cinema, including recent films from Mexico, Argentina and Cuba. Films with English subtitles. Prerequisite: GL/SP 2240 6.00 and GL/SP 2300 6.00 or permission from the Department of Hispanic Studies.

Cross-listed to: GL/DRST 4635 6.00 and GL/HUMA 4635 6.00 and GL/SP 4635 6.00

The Department of Earth and Space Science and Engineering offers interdisciplinary instruction in applied science areas dealing with the solid Earth and the atmosphere. Several distinct streams of instruction are offered.

In the Earth Science Stream, students obtain a strong background in the physics and chemistry of the solid Earth and the techniques of mineral and petroleum exploration. It is important for the earth science student planning a career in exploration to gain practical experience working in the area during summer periods prior to graduation.

In the Atmospheric Science Stream, students obtain solid grounding in the physics, chemistry and dynamics of the atmosphere.

The department offers a Specialized Honours Applied Science degree Stream in Space and Communication Sciences, developed to meet the needs of rapidly expanding technologies in these fields.

In cooperation with the Chemistry Department, the department offers an Honours Double Major Applied Science degree Stream in Atmospheric Chemistry that explores the interaction of chemistry and dynamics within the atmosphere and its impact on the global environment.

The course requirements of programs in Earth and Atmospheric Science are given in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar (for the Atmospheric Chemistry and Space and Communication Sciences streams, see separate entries in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar).

The department also offers certificates in Geographic Information Systems and Remote Sensing and in Meteorology, which are described in the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Undergraduate Degree and Certificate Programs section of this Calendar.

Courses in Earth and Atmospheric Science

The prerequisites and corequisites stated indicate the standard of preparation with which admission is usually automatic. Admission to any course should otherwise be determined in consultation with a program adviser.

SC/EATS 1010 3.00 The Dynamic Earth and Space Geodesy. An overview of modern geophysics: origin of the Earth, impact cratering, internal structure and rheology, earthquakes, plate tectonics, geomagnetism. Space geodetic positioning techniques such as VLBI, SLR and GPS are introduced as means of detecting and monitoring tectonic movements. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: One of OAC calculus, OAC algebra and geometry, 12U advanced functions and introductory calculus, 12U geometry and discrete mathematics, or AS/SC/MATH 1515 3.00; OAC physics or 12U physics or SC/PHYS 1510 4.00. Degree credit exclusion: SC/EATS 1010 6.00.

SC/EATS 1011 3.00 Introduction to Atmospheric Science. The origin, composition and vertical structure of the Earth's atmosphere and those of other planets. The present global atmospheric circulation. Weather systems, measurements and weather maps; atmospheric chemistry; the ozone layer and atmospheric pollution. Three lecture hours per week, five three-hour laboratory sessions. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: OAC calculus, OAC algebra and geometry, 12U advanced functions and introductory calculus, geometry and discrete mathematics or AS/SC/MATH 1515 3.00; OAC physics or 12U physics or SC/PHYS 1510 4.00. Degree credit exclusion: SC/EATS 1010 6.00.

SC/EATS 2010 3.00 Introductory Meteorology. An introduction to atmospheric radiation and thermodynamics, clouds and precipitation. Vertical soundings and an introduction to the analysis and interpretation of tephigrams. Atmospheric motion on the global, synoptic, meso- and micro-scales. Two lecture hours and three laboratory hours, or three lecture hours per week; one tutorial hour in alternate weeks. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: AK/AS/SC/COSC 1540 3.00; AS/SC/MATH 1013 3.00 and AS/SC/MATH 1014 3.00, or equivalents; SC/PHYS 1010 6.00 or SC/PHYS 1410 6.00.

SC/EATS 2030 3.00 Geophysics and Space Science. Seismic waves, earthquake fault plane solutions, tectonics on a sphere, geochronology, paleomagnetism, Earth's magnetic field, its origin and deformation by solar winds. VLBI measurements of fluctuations of Earth rotation, gravitational perturbations of satellite orbits, planetary exploration and communications issues. Three lecture hours and a one-hour computer laboratory. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: AS/SC/MATH 1014 3.00; SC/PHYS 1010 6.00, or a minimum grade of C in SC/PHYS 1410 6.00.

SC/EATS 2050 4.00 Mineralogy and Petrology. Introduction to the study of geology, minerals, rocks and structural geology. Physical and chemical properties of commonly occurring rock-forming minerals. Origin of commonly occurring igneous rocks. Interpretation of textures and geneses of these rocks. Three lecture hours and a laboratory session. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: OAC Chemistry or 12U Chemistry or SC/CHEM 1500 4.00, and OAC Physics or 12U Physics or SC/PHYS 1510 4.00; or AS/SC/GEOG 1400 6.00 or AK/GEOG 2510 6.00.

SC/EATS 2060 3.00 Economic Geology and Ore Genesis. Mining geology. Morphology of the principal types of ore deposits. Fluid inclusions, wall rock alteration, stable isotope and radioactive isotope studies, zoning and timing of mineralization, concepts of ore deposit formation, classification of ore deposits, metallogenic provinces and epochs. Three lecture hours per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/EATS 2050 4.00. Degree credit exclusion: SC/EATS 4040 3.00.

SC/EATS 2470 3.00 Introduction to the Mechanics of Fluids and Solids. (formerly SC/EATS 2470 4.00 - before 2000-2001) Introductory tensor algebra and calculus. Stress and strain analysis. Symmetry of stress tensor, equilibrium conditions. Lagrangian and Eulerian descriptions of strain. Physical interpretation of stress, strain and strain rate tensors. Conservation laws in continua. Consistency and compatibility considerations. Constitutive relations. Two lecture hours and a tutorial or problems laboratory session. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: AK/

AS/SC/COSC 1540 3.00; AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00; AS/SC/MATH 2015 3.00; SC/PHYS 1010 6.00, or a minimum grade of C in SC/PHYS 1410 6.00. Degree credit exclusion: SC/EATS 2470 4.00.

SC/EATS 2610 2.00 Introductory Geomatics and Space Engineering. Introduction to geodesy and geomatics engineering: surveying, geodesy, hydrography, space geodesy and geodynamics, photogrammetry and digital mapping. A survey of communications, remote sensing and geodetic satellites, their engineering characteristics, payloads, and use; features of Low Earth Orbiter (LEO) missions. One and one-half lecture hours per week, one and one-half laboratory hours per week. One term. Two credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 1010 3.00; SC/PHYS 1010 6.00; or permission of the course instructor.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 2610 2.00 and SC/ENG 2110 2.00

SC/EATS 2620 4.00 Fundamentals of Surveying. Coordinate systems, conventions and transformations. First and second geodetic problem: trig sections, traverses, eccentricities, areas. Distance measurements, angular measurements, heights. Topographic mapping and property surveys. Route surveying. Introduction to other surveys: alignment, deformation surveys for buildings, bridges, dams, tunnels, pipelines. Three lecture hours per week and three laboratory hours per week. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 1010 3.00; SC/MATH 1014 3.00; SC/MATH 1025 3.00; SC/EATS 2610 2.00 or SC/ENG 2110 2.00; or permission of the course instructor.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 2620 4.00 and SC/ENG 2120 4.00

SC/EATS 2630 3.00 Field Surveys. A two-week field camp comprising field and office work that simulate professional practice. Students participate in organizational, planning, scheduling and logistical aspects of field operations, instrument familiarization and testing, establishment of geodetic control, and land boundary, highway and construction surveys. Two-week field surveys. No lecture. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/EATS 2620 4.00 or SC/ENG 2120 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 2630 3.00 and SC/ENG 2130 3.00

SC/EATS 3001 1.00 Organization and Management Seminar in Space and Communication Sciences. A seminar course taught by guest speakers from industry, government and the University. Content changes from year to year, but includes such topics as professional ethics, communications regulations, space law, space science policy, project management, privacy and security issues in computing. One lecture hour in alternate weeks. Two terms. Prerequisite: Eligibility to proceed in the Specialized Honours stream in Space and Communication Sciences beyond the 2000-level requirements, or permission of the course director. Degree credit exclusion: AS/SC/COSC 3002 1.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/COSC 3001 1.00 and SC/EATS 3001 1.00 and SC/PHYS 3001 1.00

SC/EATS 3010 2.00 Introductory Applied Geophysics. Students are introduced to the theory and operation of the instruments of applied geophysics. As well as the traditional applications to mineral and petroleum exploration, the use of geophysical instruments in engineering and environmental monitoring is described. Two lecture hours. Second term. Two credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 2030 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 1540 3.00 or equivalent programming experience. Corequisites: SC/EATS 3020 3.00; SC/EATS 3180 3.00.

SC/EATS 3011 1.00 Applied Geophysics Field School. A one-week field school is held on campus (usually in May) and includes instruction in field geology and mapping, orienteering and practical exercises in the in-field use of geophysical instruments. One credit. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 3010 2.00; SC/EATS 3020 3.00; SC/EATS 3180 3.00.

SC/EATS 3020 3.00 Global Geophysics and Geodesy. Studies of isostatic equilibrium and glacial rebound; seismic tomography and spherical harmonic representation of gravity and the geoid; Earth rotation and geodesy; geothermal heat flow and mantle convection. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 2030 3.00; SC/EATS 2470 3.00 or SC/PHYS 2010 3.00; AS/SC/MATH 2015 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 2270 3.00; SC/PHYS 2020 3.00.

SC/EATS 3030 3.00 Atmospheric Radiation and Thermodynamics.

Applications of basic thermodynamic principles to dry and moist atmospheric situations. Solar (short wave) and terrestrial (long wave) radiation with respect to absorption and scattering processes involving atmospheric atoms, molecules, aerosol particles and clouds. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: AS/SC/MATH 2015 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 2270 3.00; SC/PHYS 1010 6.00, or a minimum grade of C in SC/PHYS 1410 6.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 3030 3.00 and SC/PHYS 3080 3.00

SC/EATS 3040 3.00 Atmospheric Dynamics I. Dynamics of large-scale weather systems. Development of the equations of motion, geostrophy, thermal wind, vorticity and divergence, Ekman layers and the quasi-geostrophic theory. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 2010 3.00; SC/EATS 2470 3.00 or SC/PHYS 2010 3.00; AS/SC/MATH 2015 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 2270 3.00.

SC/EATS 3130 3.00 Introductory Atmospheric Chemistry. An introductory course linking chemistry and atmospheric science. Topics include atmospheric evolution; biogeochemical cycles; sources, transformations and sinks of atmospheric species; human impacts such as acid rain, photochemical smog and depletion of the ozone layer. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/CHEM 1001 3.00; one of AS/SC/MATH 1010 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 1014 3.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 1310 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 1505 6.00. Degree credit exclusions: SC/CHEM 3160 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/CHEM 3060 3.00 and SC/EATS 3130 3.00

SC/EATS 3140 4.00 Sedimentology and Structural Geology.

Weathering, clastic rocks, diagenesis, mudrocks, carbonates, evaporites, orthographic construction, structural contours, stereographic projection, faults, folds, fabric analysis. Normally offered in alternate years. Three lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 2030 3.00; SC/EATS 2050 4.00.

SC/EATS 3180 3.00 Seismology. Theory and applications of the propagation of seismic waves in the Earth; laboratory and computer exercises where appropriate; practical exercises as required. Two lecture hours and a laboratory session. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 2030 3.00; SC/EATS 2470 3.00 or SC/PHYS 2010 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 1540 3.00 or equivalent FORTRAN programming experience; AS/SC/MATH 2015 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 2270 3.00.

SC/EATS 3280 3.00 Physics of the Space Environment. An introduction to the physical processes of the upper atmosphere, the ionosphere, the magnetosphere and the heliosphere, and the interactions that occur with space vehicles that traverse these regions of space. Prerequisites: SC/PHYS 2020 3.00; SC/PHYS 2040 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 3280 3.00 and SC/PHYS 3280 3.00

SC/EATS 3300 3.00 Geographical Information Systems (GIS) and Spatial Analysis.

The fundamental concepts and techniques of GIS are presented along with detailed discussion of computer implementation. The emphases include database management and map analysis/spatial modelling. PC ArcView with Spatial Analyst extension GIS programs are used for hands-on exercises. Normally offered in alternate years. Two lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: AK/AS/SC/COSC 1540 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 1030 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/COSC 1520 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 2560 3.00 or AS/SC/GEOG 2420 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/MATH 1131 3.00; AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00 or AS/SC/MATH 1013 3.00; both SC/EATS 1010 3.00 and SC/EATS 1011 3.00, or SC/EATS 2030 3.00, or AS/SC/GEOG 1400 6.00, or AK/GEOG 2510 6.00, or permission of the instructor.

SC/EATS 3610 4.00 Geodetic Concepts. Geodesy. Reference systems, frames and datums; time systems; the natural system of coordinates; terrestrial, celestial and orbital coordinate systems. Coordinate system transformations. Relative three dimensional positioning; the inertial frame of reference. Positions on the ellipsoid and mapping plane. Height systems. Three lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises per week. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 2610 2.00 or SC/ENG 2110 2.00; SC/EATS 2620 4.00 or SC/ENG

2120 4.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 2015 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 2501 1.00.
Corequisite: SC/EATS 3620 4.00 or SC/ENG 3120 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 3610 4.00 and SC/ENG 3110 4.00

SC/EATS 3620 4.00 Adjustment Calculus. Minima and maxima of functions, Weierstrass theorem, Lagrange multipliers. Quadratic forms. Observables, observations, parameters and mathematical models. The least squares principle; weight matrix and variance factor; parametric, condition and combined adjustments. Three lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises per week. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: AK/AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 2015 3.00; SC/EATS 2620 4.00 or SC/ENG 2120 4.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 2501 1.00. Corequisite: SC/EATS 3610 4.00 or SC/ENG 3110 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 3620 4.00 and SC/ENG 3120 4.00

SC/EATS 3630 4.00 Analysis of Overdetermined Systems. Hilbert space and statistics. Statistical testing and assessment of observations, parameters and mathematical models. Optimal design. Generalized adjustment, problems with constraints and singularities, step-by-step procedures, Kalman filtering, least-squares collocation. Three lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises per week. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: AS/SC/GEOG 2420 3.00, SC/EATS 3610 4.00 or SC/ENG 3110 4.00, SC/EATS 3620 4.00 or SC/ENG 3120 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 3630 4.00 and SC/ENG 3130 4.00

SC/EATS 3640 4.00 Geodetic Surveys. Instrument systems and procedures for high-precision geodetic surveys. High-precision surveys in engineering physics; geodetic network densification, adjustment and analysis; procedures for deformation surveys and strain analysis. Establishment and observation of control networks for construction and monitoring of large engineering structures. Three lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises hours per week. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 2620 4.00 or SC/ENG 2120 4.00, SC/EATS 2630 3.00 or SC/ENG 2130 3.00, SC/EATS 3610 4.00 or SC/ENG 3110 4.00; SC/EATS 3620 4.00 or SC/ENG 3120 4.00. Corequisite: SC/EATS 3630 4.00 or SC/ENG 3130 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 3640 4.00 and SC/ENG 3140 4.00

SC/EATS 3650 4.00 Photogrammetry. Image and object space. Direct and inverse problems of projective and similarity coordinate transformations. Collinearity and coplanarity. Orientation procedures. Measurement and correction of image coordinates. Stereomodel formation and error analysis. Analog, analytical, independent model, strip and block adjustments. Image rectification. DEM generation. Digital Mapping Applications. Project planning. Three lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises per week. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 2620 4.00 or SC/ENG 2120 4.00; SC/EATS 3620 4.00 or SC/ENG 3120 4.00. Corequisite: SC/EATS 3630 4.00 or SC/ENG 3130 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 3650 4.00 and SC/ENG 3150 4.00

SC/EATS 3660 3.00 Advanced Field Surveys. A two-week camp comprising field and laboratory work. It involves organizational, planning, scheduling and logistical aspects of high precision field operations related to engineering physics, establishment and observation of control networks for construction and monitoring large engineering structures. Two week field surveys. No lectures. Prerequisite: SC/EATS 3640 4.00 or SC/ENG 3140 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 3660 3.00 and SC/ENG 3160 3.00

SC/EATS 4000 3.00 Research Project. A major written report or thesis on field measurements, laboratory research or computer modelling in the Earth or atmospheric sciences. Work is supervised by a faculty member. Open to exceptional students. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: Written permission of the department Chair.

SC/EATS 4000 6.00 Research Project. A major written report or thesis on field measurements, laboratory research or computer modelling in the Earth or atmospheric sciences. Work is supervised by a faculty member. Open to exceptional students. Two terms. Six credits. Prerequisite: Written permission of the department Chair.

SC/EATS 4001 6.00 Space and Communication Sciences Workshop.

This course is intended to allow the student to carry out the development of a specific space project, under the supervision of a faculty member, a government scientist or an industrial associate. The equivalent of nine laboratory hours per week for two terms. Prerequisites: Satisfactory completion of the 3000-level courses in the space and communication sciences core. Degree credit exclusion: AK/AS/SC/COSC 4080 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/COSC 4001 6.00 and SC/EATS 4001 6.00 and SC/PHYS 4001 6.00

SC/EATS 4010 6.00 Applications of Geophysics and Interpretation Theory. Seismic, gravity and electromagnetic methods in applied geophysics and their interpretation. Mining and petroleum exploration, engineering, hydrological and environmental applications of geophysics are included. The laboratory involves instrumental surveys on campus and reduction and interpretation of previous field school measurements. Normally offered in alternate years. Two lecture hours and a laboratory session. Two terms. Six credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 3010 2.00; SC/EATS 3011 1.00; SC/EATS 3020 3.00; SC/EATS 3180 3.00.

SC/EATS 4020 3.00 Time Series and Spectral Analysis. Treatment of discrete sampled data by linear optimum Wiener filtering, minimum error energy deconvolution, autocorrelation and spectral density estimation, discrete Fourier transforms and frequency domain filtering and the Fast Fourier Transform algorithm. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: AK/AS/SC/COSC 1540 3.00 or equivalent FORTRAN programming experience; AS/SC/MATH 2015 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 2270 3.00. Degree credit exclusions: AK/AS/SC/COSC 4242 3.00, AK/AS/SC/COSC 4451 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 4130B 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 4930C 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 4020 3.00 and AS/MATH 4830 3.00 and SC/MATH 4830 3.00 and SC/PHYS 4060 3.00

SC/EATS 4050 3.00 Synoptic Meteorology I. Analysis of mid-latitude synoptic scale weather systems: an introduction to storm tracks, fronts and air masses, and diagnostic methods. Analysis and interpretation of surface weather maps and upper-air charts. Two lecture hours, three laboratory hours. Fall term. Three credits. Prerequisite or corequisite: SC/EATS 3040 3.00.

SC/EATS 4051 3.00 Synoptic Meteorology II. Synoptic and mesoscale weather systems with emphasis on prediction: focus on forecasting with emphasis on the interpretation of numerical weather prediction models such as the GEM, MC2 and SEF models. Satellite and radar image interpretation for nowcasting. Two lecture hours, three laboratory hours. Winter term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/EATS 4050 3.00.

SC/EATS 4120 3.00 Cloud Physics and Radar Meteorology. Thermodynamics of cloud processes. Buoyancy and convection. Weather radar. Storms and associated precipitation. Cloud droplet formation and growth of ice crystals. Snow, graupel and hail. Microphysical processes and climate. Normally offered in alternate years. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite or corequisite: SC/EATS 3030 3.00.

SC/EATS 4130 3.00 Atmospheric Dynamics II. The theory and behaviour of Rossby, baroclinic and internal gravity waves in the atmosphere, including their origin, structure and propagation. Barotropic and baroclinic instability and the global circulation of the atmosphere. Normally offered in alternate years. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/EATS 3040 3.00.

SC/EATS 4140 3.00 Numerical Weather Prediction. The development of computational techniques for the solution of problems in atmospheric dynamics. The construction of numerical models for the prediction of weather. Three lecture hours per week, eight three-hour laboratory sessions. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 3040 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 1540 3.00 or equivalent FORTRAN programming experience. Prerequisite or corequisite: SC/EATS 4130 3.00 strongly recommended.

SC/EATS 4160 3.00 Climate and Climate Change. The Earth's climate and the general circulation of the atmosphere. Climate models. Long-term stability of the Earth's climate. Anthropogenic impact on the climate, carbon dioxide and other climate change issues. Normally offered in alternate years. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/EATS 2010 3.00 or SC/EATS 3040 3.00 or permission of the instructor.

SC/EATS 4220 3.00 Remote Sensing of the Earth's Surface. Principles used in extracting physical information about the Earth's surface using remote sensing. Remote sensing in the visible, short-wave infrared, thermal infrared and microwave regions is discussed in terms of potential applicability to forestry, agriculture, water resources and geology. Two lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite(s): SC/PHYS 2020 3.00, or SC/PHYS 2060 3.00, or both SC/PHYS 2211 1.00 and SC/PHYS 2212 1.00.

SC/EATS 4230 3.00 Remote Sensing of the Atmosphere. An introduction to and summary of the area of remote sensing of the atmosphere from space platforms and from the ground. Topics include atmospheric radiation, atmospheric spectroscopy, inversion theory, instrumentation, satellites, space platforms and future technology. Three lecture hours per week, occasional laboratory sessions. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 2010 3.00 or SC/PHYS 2060 3.00; AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00; AS/SC/MATH 2015 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 2270 3.00. Prerequisite or corequisite: SC/EATS 3030 3.00 or permission of the course director.

SC/EATS 4240 3.00 Storms and Weather Systems. The study of mesoscale circulations and precipitating storm systems. Basic governing equations and instabilities. Nature and evolution of isolated convection, thunderstorms, mesoscale convective systems, precipitation bands, extratropical cyclones, fronts and frontogenesis, hurricanes, blizzards, polar lows and orographic storms. Normally offered in alternate years. Three lecture hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites or corequisites: SC/EATS 3040 3.00; SC/EATS 4120 3.00.

SC/EATS 4400 3.00 Geographical Information Systems (GIS) and Data Integration. Project-oriented geomatics course using GIS systems (Arc/Info and S-Plus or SPSS for UNIX) and various techniques (map algebra, statistical, fuzzy logic, AI, neural network and fractal/multifractal) for integrating diverse dataset (geological, geophysical, geochemical, remote sensing and GPS). Normally offered in alternate years. Two lecture hours, two laboratory hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: One of SC/EATS 3300 3.00, AS/SC/GEOG 3180 3.00, AS/SC/GEOG 4340 3.00, ES/ENVS 3520 3.00, ES/ENVS 4520 3.00, or permission of the instructor.

SC/EATS 4610 3.00 Global Positioning Systems. Positioning by space vehicles. Coordinate systems and transformations. GPS, GLONASS, GALILEO, Satellite Laser Ranging, Very Long Baseline Interferometry. Positioning of moving vehicles and platforms: marine, land, airborne and space vehicles. GPS/INS integration. Real time kinematic applications. Three lecture hours weekly and three hours of laboratory exercises every other week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 3020 3.00; SC/EATS 3610 4.00, SC/EATS 3620 4.00, or permission of the course director.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 4610 3.00 and SC/ENG 4110 3.00

SC/EATS 4620 3.00 Physical and Space Geodesy. Local treatment of the Earth's gravity field. Boundary value problems. Normal and disturbing potential, the normal gravity formula. Geoid, geoidal undulations, deflections of the vertical. Stokes and Vening Meinesz formulae. Gravimetry and gravity reductions. Height systems. Tides. Gravity space missions. Three lecture hours weekly and three hours of laboratory exercises every other week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 3020 3.00; SC/EATS 3610 4.00; SC/EATS 3620 4.00; SC/EATS 4610 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 4620 3.00 and SC/ENG 4120 3.00

SC/EATS 4630 3.00 Digital Imaging and Applications. Digital imaging from remote platforms. Image processing and analysis, including radiometric and geometric corrections and geometric enhancements, multispectral classification, digital photogrammetry fundamentals, workstations, photogrammetric processing. Two lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 3650 4.00; SC/EATS 4220 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 4630 3.00 and SC/ENG 4130 3.00

SC/EATS 4640 3.00 Digital Terrain Models and Lidar Applications. Digital Terrain Modeling concepts. Mathematical techniques in data acquisition, processing, storage, manipulation and applications. DTM. Surface representation using moving averages, linear projection and Kriging techniques. Grid resampling methods and search algorithms. DTM derivatives and applications. LIDAR systems and applications. Two lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 2620 4.00; SC/EATS 3620 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 4640 3.00 and SC/ENG 4140 3.00

SC/EATS 4650 3.00 Hydrography. Hydrography and its role in offshore management. Elements of oceanography, tides and water levels, seabed and sea water properties. Underwater acoustics. Bathymetric and imaging methods. Marine positioning and navigation. Three lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/EATS 4610 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 4650 3.00 and SC/ENG 4150 3.00

SC/EATS 4660 3.00 Cadastral Surveys and Land Registration Systems. Cadastral systems, survey law and the role of the professional land surveyor. The Dominion Lands Survey System and Land Surveys Acts and Regulations. Cadastral surveys, including surveys of Canada lands for aboriginal land claims and coastal boundaries. Land registration systems in Canada. Three lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/EATS 2620 4.00 or SC/ENG 2120 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 4660 3.00 and SC/ENG 4160 3.00

The East Asian Studies Program offers a broadly based approach to the study of the peoples and civilizations of East Asia. It is a rich and flexible program of study that brings together courses from the academic disciplines of the humanities, social sciences, languages and literature and fine arts. The East Asian Studies Program offers a number of undergraduate degree program choices: within the general guidelines and requirements of each, a student can choose from a rich array of course offerings every year to create a combination which best serves her/his academic interests and career aspirations. Students should consult the coordinator when designing their programs of study.

For specific program requirements and the list of program courses, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Undergraduate training in economics is intended to familiarize students with the discipline of economic thinking, and so equip them for intelligent appraisal of contemporary economic problems. It is also intended to make students aware of the nature of economic science and of directions in which economic theory is currently moving. The discipline of economic thinking has three related parts: identifying specifically economic problems; developing and applying economic theory to improve our understanding and ability to solve the problems; evaluating the adequacy of our theoretical understanding through the use of data and empirical testing.

Specifically, economic problems arise out of the conflict between apparently limitless human demand for goods and services and a limited supply of resources for satisfying those demands. Courses in economics expose students both to the wide range of individual and social problems that arise from this conflict and to the distinctive economic approach to their solution. Economic theory provides students with the analytical framework necessary for understanding and solving economic problems. Empirical work provides a basis for improving existing theories and for distinguishing between competing theories.

An undergraduate degree in economics prepares students for careers in business and government, for graduate training in economics and for professional training in business, law, public administration and other disciplines.

For specific program requirements, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Students planning to major or minor in economics must successfully complete AS/ECON 1000 3.00, AS/ECON 1010 3.00, AS/ECON 1530 3.00 and AS/ECON 1540 3.00. Students who fail to complete these courses may not be permitted to take AS/ECON 2300 3.00, AS/ECON 2350 3.00, AS/ECON 2400 3.00 or AS/ECON 2450 3.00. Admission to most 2000-, 3000- and 4000-level courses in economics is conditional upon satisfactory completion of AS/ECON 1000 3.00 and AS/ECON 1010 3.00.

Subject to program requirements and degree credit equivalent/exclusion and in-Faculty regulations, students may complete courses offered outside of the Faculty of Arts for credit in economics.

Courses in Economics

AK/ECON 1000 3.00 Principles of Microeconomics. The nature of the economic problem and economic goals; general and basic concepts of demand and supply; demand and utility analysis; production and costs; pricing in competitive and monopolistic markets and government regulation; factor pricing and income distribution. Degree credit exclusions: AS/ECON 1000 3.00, AS/ECON 1900 3.00. Note: Not open to students who have successfully completed AK/ECON 2410 3.00.

AS/ECON 1000 3.00 Introduction to Microeconomics. An introduction to the principles and methods of economics, with emphasis on microeconomic theory. Topics include the theory of markets, price determination and the theory of the firm. Note: Successful completion of this course, together with AS/ECON 1010 3.00, is required for all students who intend to pursue additional courses in economics at the 2000, 3000 and 4000 level and in order to pursue degree studies in economics.

AK/ECON 1010 3.00 Principles of Macroeconomics. The nature of the economic problem; basic models of national income and employment determination; fiscal policy, banking and monetary policy. Contemporary macro-economic issues including the unemployment inflation dilemma and the relative effectiveness of monetary and fiscal stabilization policies. Degree credit exclusions: AS/ECON 1010 3.00, AS/ECON 1900 3.00. Note: Not open to students who have successfully completed AK/ECON 2420 3.00.

AS/ECON 1010 3.00 Introduction to Macroeconomics. An introduction to the principles and methods of economics with emphasis on macroeconomic theory. Topics include the theory of money and banking, the theory of international trade and finance, and the economic analysis of such selected topics as unemployment, inflation and government budget policy. Note: Successful completion of this course, together with AS/ECON 1000 3.00, is required for all students who intend to pursue additional courses in economics at the 2000, 3000 and 4000 level and in order to pursue degree studies in economics.

AK/ECON 1530 3.00 Mathematical Analysis for Economists I. Elementary principles of mathematical economics. Micro and macro economic models; ordinary and partial differentiation with applications to marginal analysis and profit maximization. Exponential functions and integration with applications to growth theory and optimization over time. Prerequisite: AK/ECON 1000 3.00 and AK/ECON 1010 3.00 must be taken prior to entry to AK/ECON 1530 3.00 or taken concurrently with AK/ECON 1530 3.00.

AS/ECON 1530 3.00 Introductory Mathematics for Economists I. This course will introduce and develop topics in differential calculus, integral calculus, and their applications in economics. This course is required for all economics majors and minors; it will also satisfy the mathematics requirement for the Schulich School of Business. Prerequisite: AS/SC/MATH 1515 3.00 or OAC calculus or equivalent. Corequisite or prerequisite: AS/ECON 1000 3.00 or AS/ECON 1010 3.00. Degree credit exclusions: AS/SC/MATH 1000 3.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 1300 3.00, AK/AS/MATH 1550 6.00, AS/SC/MATH 1013 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 1505 6.00, or equivalent.

Cross-listed to: AS/ECON 1530 3.00 and AS/MATH 1530 3.00

AK/ECON 1540 3.00 Mathematical Analysis for Economists II. Static analysis and matrix algebra with applications to input-output models; comparative static analysis, unconstrained and constrained optimization with applications to micro and macro economic models; elements of linear programming with applications to decision making in economics. Prerequisite: AK/ECON 1530 3.00, or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics. AK/ECON 1000 3.00 and AK/ECON 1010 3.00 must be taken prior to entry to AK/ECON 1540 3.00 or taken concurrently with AK/ECON 1540 3.00. Note: Not open to students who have successfully completed AK/ECON 2570 3.00.

AS/ECON 1540 3.00 Introductory Mathematics for Economists II. This course will introduce and develop topics including matrix algebra, optimization, comparative statics of general function models and their applications in economics. This course is required for all economics majors and minors; it will also satisfy the mathematics requirements for the Schulich School of Business. Prerequisite: One of AS/ECON 1530 3.00, AS/MATH 1530 3.00, or AK/AS/SC/MATH 1300 3.00. Prerequisite or corequisite: AS/ECON 1000 3.00 or AS/ECON 1010 3.00. Degree credit exclusions: AS/SC/MATH 1505 6.00, AK/AS/MATH 1550 6.00. May not be taken by any student who has taken or are taking AK/AS/SC/MATH 1021 3.00 or AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00 or AS/SC/MATH 2021 3.00 or AK/AS/SC/MATH 2221 3.00 or equivalent.

Cross-listed to: AS/ECON 1540 3.00 and AS/MATH 1540 3.00

AS/ECON 1900 3.00 Introduction to Economics for Non-Majors. An introduction to both microeconomic and macroeconomic concepts, applied to public policy issues. Intended for students in other disciplines, this course provides concise economic fundamentals without the mathematical details of AS/ECON 1000 3.00/1010 3.00. This course serves as prerequisite for some 3000-level economics courses. Degree credit exclusions: AS/ECON 1000 3.00 and AS/ECON 1010 3.00, or equivalent. Note: This course will not count for economics major or minor credit, or for business and society major credit.

AK/ECON 3479A 3.00 Impact of the Internet on the Economy and on Economic Research. This course examines the impact of information and communication technology on economic structures and economic process as well as its effects on emerging forms of economic research.

AK/ECON 3479C 3.00 Economics of Free Trade Areas.

AK/ECON 3480 3.00 Introductory Economic Statistics II. Point and interval estimation; other statistical distributions and non-parametric tests; decision theory; index numbers; time series; regression analysis and forecasting. Prerequisite: AK/ECON 3470 3.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

AK/ECON 3490 3.00 Econometric Modelling and Forecasting I. Elements of econometric model building. Estimation and prediction techniques in simple and general regression models. Treatment of estimation problems in single equation models such as autocorrelation, colinearity and others. Econometric applications and case studies in estimation and forecasting. Prerequisite: AK/MATH 1710 6.00 or equivalent, AK/ECON 3470 3.00, AK/ECON 3480 3.00 or AK/ECON 3210 3.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

AS/ECON 3500 3.00 Introductory Mathematical Statistics for Economists. This course provides an introduction to mathematical statistical analysis. Includes distributions of random variables, conditional probability, independence, special distributions, distributions of functions of random variables, moment generating functions, the central limit theorem, estimation and hypothesis testing. Prerequisites: AS/ECON 1530 3.00, AS/ECON 1540 3.00 and AS/ECON 2500 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AS/MATH 2030 3.00.

AK/ECON 3510 3.00 Health Economics. Determinants of supply and demand in the health services industry; causes of medical cost inflation; economic models of physician and hospital behaviour; the influence of health insurance, reimbursement schemes and practitioners' discretion on the delivery system; case studies and policy implications in a Canadian context. Prerequisite: AK/ECON 1000 3.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

AK/ECON 3520 3.00 Economic Evaluation in Health Care. Introduction to the application of decision analytic models and economic analysis to health care evaluation; cost minimization, cost effectiveness, cost utility and cost benefit analysis; problems of identification, measurement and valuation of costs, outcome and quality of life; case studies and policy implications to health care management.

AS/ECON 3530 3.00 Intermediate Mathematics for Economists I. This course develops and demonstrates the mathematics commonly used in the analysis of static economic models. Topics range from concavity and convexity to constrained optimization and comparative static analysis including the implicit function and envelope theorems. Prerequisites: AS/ECON 1530 3.00/1540 3.00 or equivalents.

GL/ECON 3540 3.00 Economics of Labour and Manpower. A survey of the application of economic theory and analysis to labour markets. Topics considered include: competing theories of the labour market, labour supply and demand, human capital, wage structures, impact of collective bargaining and employment and unemployment. Prerequisites: GL/ECON 2500 3.00 and GL/ECON 2510 3.00.

AK/ECON 3550 3.00 Economics of Developing Countries I. An analysis of the economic problems of poor countries and poor communities. Topics explore the meaning of development; theories of development; growth and technological change and strategies for environmentally sustainable development. Prerequisites: AK/ECON 1000 3.00 and AK/ECON 1010 3.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

GL/ECON 3550 3.00 Labour Economics: Institutions and Policies. The Canadian labour movement; collective bargaining; experience in the labour market of women; francophone and other specific groups; government labour and manpower policies; unemployment amidst inflation-the stagflation problem. Prerequisite: GL/ECON 3540(EN) or permission of the instructor.

AK/ECON 3560 3.00 Economics of Developing Countries II. An examination of policy issues arising from development planning. Topics include agriculture versus industry; international trade; monetary and fiscal policies; foreign investment, foreign aid and self-reliance and global issues. Prerequisite: AK/ECON 1000 3.00, and AK/ECON 1010 3.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

AK/ECON 3570 3.00 International Economics I. A study of the micro-economic aspects of international trade, tracing its historical development from the theory of comparative costs to the theory of customs unions and tariffs. Included are such topics as trade patterns, trade barriers and free trade versus protectionism. Prerequisite: AK/ECON 1000 3.00 and AK/ECON 1010 3.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

GL/ECON 3570 3.00 Introduction to the Economics of the Public Sector. Introduction to the fiscal role of governments, the theory of public goods, the justification of public expenditure and the principles of taxation. Prerequisites: GL/ECON 2500 3.00 and GL/ECON 2510 3.00. Degree credit exclusions: GL/ECON 3012 3.00(EN) (1992-1993), (1993-1994) and (1994-1995) and GL/ECON 4240 6.00(EN).

GL/ECON 3575 3.00 Economics of Industrial Innovation. Innovation is an essential condition of economic progress and critical to firms and national economies. Economists have always recognized the central importance of innovation but it was only recently the subject of systematic economic analysis. The course addresses the recent advances in economics of science and technology. Prerequisites: GL/ECON 2500 3.00 and GL/ECON 2510 3.00.

AK/ECON 3580 3.00 International Economics II. This course is an introduction to international monetary economics. Both theoretical and applied aspects of international economics will be analyzed. Topics to be covered include: the exchange rate and exchange rate regimes, the automatic adjustment process, open economy macro-economics and policy, international financial markets and economic integration. Prerequisites: AK/ECON 1000 3.00 and AK/ECON 1010 3.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

AS/ECON 3580 3.00 Introductory Financial Accounting for Economists. An introduction to financial accounting. Focus on financial accounting concepts, principles and practices, with emphasis on questions of asset valuation, income measurement, and other issues of particular concern to economists. Prerequisites: AS/ECON 1000 3.00/1010 3.00 or equivalents. Degree credit exclusions: SB/ACTG 2010 3.00, SB/ACTG 2011 3.00, AK/ADMS 2500 3.00, SB/BFND 3200 3.00, GL/ECON 2710 3.00.

AS/ECON 3590 3.00 Introductory Managerial Accounting for Economists. An introduction to managerial accounting. Focus on managerial accounting concepts, principles, and practices, with emphasis on behavioural aspects of accounting control, performance appraisal, and other issues of particular concern to economists. Prerequisite: AS/ECON 3580 3.00. Degree credit exclusions: SB/ACTG 3020 3.00, AK/ADMS 2510 3.00, SB/BFND 3200 3.00, GL/ECON 2720 3.00.

AK/ECON 3600 6.00 Industrial Relations Systems. A comparative study of the industrial relations systems in various countries, the character of worker and employer organizations and their interrelationships in different industrial and social settings, with particular emphasis on the role of labour in economic development. Prerequisite: AK/ECON 1000 3.00 and AK/ECON 1010 3.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

AS/ECON 3609 3.00 An Introduction to the Economic Development of the People's Republic of China, 1949 to Present. This course studies Chinese economic planning and policy making from the founding of the PRC from central planning Soviet style, through Mao Zedong's Great Leap Forward and Cultural Revolution to Deng Xiaoping's Open Door Policy. Prerequisites: AS/ECON 1000 3.00, AS/ECON 1010 3.00.

AK/ECON 3610 3.00 Labour Economics. Applies economic theory to labour markets. Topics include: labour force participation, hours of work, investment in education and training, worker mobility; demand for labour; effects of market structure on wages and employment; theories of trade unions and collective bargaining. Prerequisite: AK/ECON 1000 3.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

AK/ECON 3620 3.00 The Economics of Unemployment. A study of post-war unemployment in Canada. The course includes an analysis of the effects of demographic changes, social security and minimum wage legislation, unions, technological change, cyclical changes and industrial restructuring on unemployment and discusses policy options to reduce unemployment. Prerequisite: AK/ECON 1010 3.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

GL/ECON 3620 3.00 The Economics of the Multinational Firm. An examination of the multinational firm in the world economy; topics include the theories of the multinational firm and the relations between multinational firms and governments. Prerequisites: GL/ECON 2500 3.00 and GL/ECON 2510 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/ECON 3620 3.00 and GL/ILST 3620 3.00

AK/ECON 3640 3.00 Urban Economics. Contemporary metropolitan problems as symptoms of various economic bases; urban poverty and welfare; local services and finance; housing and land use; transportation and traffic; pollution and environment. Prerequisite: AK/ECON 1000 3.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

GL/ECON 3642 3.00 Business Ethics. This course examines some contemporary issues in business ethics such as the ethical justification of the free market, corporate responsibility, deceptive advertising, business and the environment, preferential hiring practices and whistleblowing.

Cross-listed to: GL/ECON 3642 3.00 and GL/PHIL 3642 3.00 and GL/SOSC 3642 3.00

AK/ECON 3660 3.00 Canadian Economic Policy II. An examination of selected aspects of the Canadian economy, including foreign ownership in the industrial sector; agricultural subsidies; economic aspects of Quebec separatism; Canada's position in the global economy. Prerequisites: AK/ECON 1000 3.00 and AK/ECON 1010 3.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

GL/ECON 3670 3.00 Mathematical Statistics. Elements of probability, random variables, probability distribution, sampling theory, theory of estimation and tests of hypotheses, and regression analysis. Prerequisites: GL/MODR 1930 3.00 and GL/MODR 1940 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/ECON 3670 3.00 and GL/MODR 3670 3.00

GL/ECON 3672 3.00 Human Capital and Economic Growth. The sharp disparity between growth rates across OECD countries is one of the most striking economic phenomena. While human capital has been traditionally understood as being one important growth factor, economists are increasingly looking at the linkages between human capital and social capital to explain growth. Without sufficient social capital, human and physical capital are less effective. Recently, international organizations (OECD, the World Bank) provided a forum in which these questions have been analyzed and debated. Prerequisites: GL/ECON 2500 3.00 and GL/ECON 2510 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/ECON 3672 3.00 and GL/SOSC 3672 3.00

AK/ECON 3750 3.00 Industrial Organization: Theory and Evidence. Examines theoretical and empirical studies of firms and industrial organizations in imperfectly competitive markets. Monopoly, oligopoly and monopolistic competition are particularly studied in relation to pricing and non-pricing, advertising, investment, innovation, and strategic behaviour of firms and industry performance. Prerequisite: AK/ECON 1000 3.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

AK/ECON 3760 3.00 Industrial Organization: Policy and Application. Extends the theoretical material developed in AK/ECON 3750 3.00 and its application in Canada and other market economies, with emphasis on the practice of industrial organizations and the application of public policies towards business in imperfectly competitive markets. Prerequisites: AK/ECON 1000 3.00 and AK/ECON 1010 3.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

AK/ECON 3790 6.00 Women in the North American Economy. A study of women's economic activities and the economic position of women in the North American economy. The course includes an analysis of household work as well as labour force activity. Note: This course counts as a major course in women's studies and health studies. It is a multidisciplinary course especially for students in economics, health studies, women's studies and related disciplines.

AK/ECON 3800 3.00 Law and Economics. This is a course in the interrelationship of law and economics, emphasizing the institutional setting of the economic system and the concepts of property rights and transaction costs. Prerequisites: AK/ECON 1000 3.00 and AK/ECON 1010 3.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

AK/ECON 3810 3.00 The Economics of Project Appraisal and Feasibility. Prefeasibility and feasibility studies of proposed projects; forecasting demand and plant capacity; estimation of production, sales, costs and revenues; alternative commercial profitability criteria (net present value, rate of return) for project evaluation and selection; sensitivity analysis under risk and uncertainty; applications and case studies. Prerequisites: AK/MATH 1710 6.00 or OAC calculus; AK/ECON 1000 3.00 and AK/ECON 1010 3.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

GL/ECON 3920 3.00 Économie du développement. La première partie du cours est une revue générale des problèmes des pays en voie de développement. Cette partie couvre: i) les théories du développement; ii) les facteurs critiques du développement économique comme la mobilisation des ressources, démographie et capital humain, le développement agricole, l'industrialisation et les systèmes d'organisation; et iii) les politiques fiscales, monétaires et le commerce extérieur. La deuxième partie du cours traite des questions de planification économique et de stratégie de développement. Le cours se concentre sur l'évaluation des projets d'investissement (analyse des coûts et bénéfices) basée sur des cas d'études relevant de l'expérience d'organismes se spécialisant sur les problèmes du développement comme la Banque mondiale.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/ECON 3920 3.00 and GL/ILST 3920 3.00

AK/ECON 4000 3.00 Directed Reading/Special Study. Students will do supervised special study in one or two selected areas. Students wishing to enrol are to contact the coordinator of the Department of Economics. Prerequisites: 78 credits including AK/ECON 2300 3.00, AK/ECON 2350 3.00 and AK/ECON 2400 3.00, AK/ECON 2450 3.00, or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics. Note: Students must be accepted by a faculty supervisor before they can register in the 4000-level reading course. The course transaction form for this course must be submitted with a note from the supervisor stating his/her willingness to work with the student. Priority will be given to Atkinson economics majors.

AS/ECON 4000 3.00 Advanced Microeconomic Analysis. An examination of important contributions to economic literature. Prerequisites: AS/ECON 2300 6.00 and AS/ECON 2400 6.00, or equivalents or permission of the instructor. Recommended prior completion: AS/ECON 3530 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/ECON 4010 3.00.

AK/ECON 4000 6.00 Directed Reading/Special Study. Students will do supervised special study in one or two selected areas. Students wishing to enrol are to contact the coordinator of the Department of Economics. Prerequisites: 78 credits including AK/ECON 2300 3.00, AK/ECON 2350 3.00 and AK/ECON 2400 3.00, AK/ECON 2450 3.00, or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics. Note: Students must be accepted by a faculty supervisor before they can register in the 4000-level reading course. The course transaction form for this course must be submitted with a note from the supervisor stating his/her willingness to work with the student. Priority will be given to Atkinson economics majors.

AK/ECON 4000A 3.00 Directed Reading/Special Study. Students will do supervised special study.

AK/ECON 4010 3.00 Advanced Micro-Economic Theory. A selection of advanced topics from consumer theory, the economics of the firm, competitive and non-competitive markets, factor pricing and income distribution. General equilibrium and welfare economics are also addressed. Prerequisites: 78 credits including AK/ECON 1530 3.00, AK/ECON 1540 3.00 (or mathematics AK/MATH 1410 6.00 or equivalent), AK/ECON 2300 3.00 and AK/ECON 2350 3.00 or AK/ECON 2300 6.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

AS/ECON 4010 3.00 Advanced Macroeconomic Analysis. An examination of important contributions to economic literature. Prerequisites or corequisites: AS/ECON 2300 6.00 and AS/ECON 2400 6.00, or equivalents or permission of the instructor. Recommended prior completions: AS/ECON 3530 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/ECON 4020 3.00.

AK/ECON 4020 3.00 Advanced Macro-Economic Theory. This course surveys recent developments in macro-economic research. Among the topics covered are rational expectation models; consumption theory; new Keynesian models of staggering wages and prices, menu costs, efficiency wages and imperfect competition; new classical and new Keynesian business cycle theories. Prerequisites: 78 credits including AK/ECON 1530 3.00 and AK/ECON 1540 3.00 (or mathematics AK/MATH 1410 6.00 or equivalent), AK/ECON 2400 3.00 and AK/ECON 2450 3.00 or AK/ECON 2400 6.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

AS/ECON 4059 3.00 History of Economic Thought I. After brief attention to the methodology of economic theory, the course focuses on the theoretical development of classical political economy up to 1870 in the works of the Physiocrats, Smith, Ricardo and Marx. Emphasis on the contrasts and similarities between classical and neoclassical theories. Prerequisites or corequisites: AS/ECON 2300 6.00 and AS/ECON 2400 6.00, or equivalents, or permission of the course director.

AK/ECON 4060 3.00 The Development of Economic Thought and Analysis II. The development of economic thought from the mid-19th century to the present day. Prerequisites: 78 credits including AK/ECON 2300 3.00, AK/ECON 2350 3.00 and AK/ECON 2400 3.00, AK/ECON 2450 3.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

AS/ECON 4069 3.00 History of Economic Thought II. Primary focus on major developments in economic theory since 1870; the emergence of neoclassical general equilibrium theory (especially in the works of Jevons, Menger and Walras) and the development of Keynesian economics as a distinctive theory. Prerequisite: AS/ECON 4059 3.00 or permission of the instructor.

AK/ECON 4070 3.00 Economic Integration Between Unequal Partners. Examines the history and development of selected major trading blocs where unequal partners are involved, such as: the European Union (EU), the Canada-US Free Trade Agreement (FTA), and the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA). Prerequisites: 78 credits or, permission of the coordinator of economics. Not open to students who have completed AK/ECON 4080A 6.00. This is a multi-disciplinary course especially for students in economics, administrative studies, political science, social work and other related disciplines.

AS/ECON 4070 3.00 Public Finance I. Public Finance in Canada; the objectives of economic policy; theories of taxation; economic effects of taxation, with special reference to the Canadian economy. Prerequisites or corequisites: AS/ECON 2300 6.00 and AS/ECON 2400 6.00, or equivalents, or permission of the course instructor. Degree credit exclusion: AK/ECON 3450 3.00.

AS/ECON 4080 3.00 Public Finance II. Public finance in Canada theories of public expenditure; public expenditure policies in Canada; problems of multi-level governments including federal-provincial financial relations. Prerequisites: AS/ECON 2300 6.00 and AS/ECON 2400 6.00, or equivalents, or permission of the course instructor. Degree credit exclusion: AK/ECON 3450 3.00.

AK/ECON 4080B 3.00 Research Seminar in Economics.

AK/ECON 4080C 3.00 Financial Economics.

AK/ECON 4080D 3.00 The Economics of Information and Incentives. Examines how contracts and institutions can be designed to handle different incentive and control problems that arise from imperfect information. Applications will be studied in different contexts including insurance and credit markets, the internal organization of firms, product selection and pricing, wage contracts, tax systems and procurement.

Prerequisites: AK/ECON 1000 3.00 and AK/ECON 1010 3.00, AK/ECON 1530 3.00, AK/ECON 2300 3.00 and AK/ECON 2350 3.00 (or AK/ECON 2300 6.00), AK/ECON 3470 and AK/ECON 3480 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

AK/ECON 4080E 3.00 Topics in Industrial Relations. A selection of topics covering economic and legal aspects of unionization and collective bargaining. Topics include trends in unionization and industrial dispute, technological change and job rights, impact of trading blocks and globalization on industrial relations. Prerequisites: AK/ECON 1000 3.00 and AK/ECON 1010 3.00; AK/ECON 2400 3.00 and AK/ECON 2450 3.00, AK/ECON 3610 3.00; or, for students with equivalent preparation permission of the coordinator of economics.

GL/ECON 4100 3.00 Directed Reading and Research. This course listing provides a means by which the need of an economics student for a specially tailored course, impossible to arrange within any regularly scheduled course, can be accommodated.

GL/ECON 4100 6.00 Directed Reading and Research. This course listing provides a means by which the need of an economics student for a specially tailored course, impossible to arrange within any regularly scheduled course, can be accommodated.

AS/ECON 4129 3.00 International Trade Policy and Economic Integration. The course deals with current policy issues in international trade and economic integration, focusing on specific institutional settings such as NAFTA, the European Union, the World Trade Organization, new policy areas such as trade and the environment, trade, and labour rights. Prerequisite: AS/ECON 3150 3.00 or an equivalent. Degree credit exclusion: AS/ECON 4969A 3.00 (Fall/Winter 1995-1997).

AK/ECON 4130 3.00 Applied Econometric Modelling. Evaluation and comparison of some empirical micro and macro models with reference to structural specifications, estimation, validation and simulation techniques. Prerequisites: 78 credits including AK/ECON 1530 3.00, AK/ECON 1540 3.00, AK/ECON 3470 3.00, AK/ECON 3480 3.00, AK/ECON 3490 3.00, AK/ECON 3500 3.00, AK/ECON 4120 3.00, or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics. Note: Not open to students who have completed AK/ECON 4070 6.00.

AS/ECON 4130 3.00 Introduction to Game Theory in Economics. The course covers the idea of a game, of a solution, the extensive form, the concept of an equilibrium, games of incomplete information, backward and forward induction, repeated games, signalling and principal-agent models and bargaining models. Prerequisite: AS/ECON 1530 3.00/1540 3.00 or permission of the course director. Degree credit exclusion: AS/ECON 4970M 3.00 (Fall/Winter 1994-1997).

AK/ECON 4160 3.00 Theory and Practice of Arbitration. The historical and current rationale for arbitration as a form of third party intervention in labour management disputes. Processes and practices of arbitration. Economic criteria including incomes policy as applied to contract arbitration. The role and scope of arbitrators as defined by public policy, judicial review and industrial jurisprudence. Prerequisites: 78 credits including a 3000-level economics course, or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics.

AK/ECON 4170 3.00 Directed Research. Students conduct a research project under the guidance of a full-time faculty member in which emphasis is placed on research design, methodological issues and data analysis. Prerequisites: 78 credits including: AK/ECON 1000 3.00 and AK/ECON 1010 3.00, AK/ECON 1530 3.00, AK/ECON 1540 3.00, AK/ECON 2300 3.00, AK/ECON 2350 3.00, AK/ECON 2400 3.00, AK/ECON 2450 3.00, AK/ECON 3470 3.00, AK/ECON 3480 3.00, or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics. Note: Students must be accepted by a faculty supervisor before they can register in the course. Priority will be given to Atkinson economics majors in accordance with departmental guidelines.

AK/ECON 4170 6.00 Directed Research. Students conduct a research project under the guidance of a full-time faculty member in which emphasis is placed on research design, methodological issues and data analysis. Prerequisites: 78 credits including: AK/ECON 1000 3.00 and AK/ECON

1010 3.00, AK/ECON 1530 3.00, AK/ECON 1540 3.00, AK/ECON 2300 3.00, AK/ECON 2350 3.00, AK/ECON 2400 3.00, AK/ECON 2450 3.00, AK/ECON 3470 3.00, AK/ECON 3480 3.00, or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the coordinator of economics. Note: Students must be accepted by a faculty supervisor before they can register in the course. Priority will be given to Atkinson economics majors in accordance with departmental guidelines.

AS/ECON 4190 3.00 International Trade II. This course covers, at the advanced level, the theories of international trade specialization, gains from trade, commercial policies, and new approaches to trade theory. Prerequisites: AS/ECON 2300 6.00 or equivalent, and AS/ECON 3150 3.00 or permission of the instructor.

AS/ECON 4200 3.00 International Monetary Economics. International monetary economics including exchange rates, balance of payments accounts, theories of the balance of payments, monetary policy under fixed and flexible exchange rates, international monetary problems and possible solutions. Prerequisites or corequisites: AS/ECON 2300 6.00 and AS/ECON 2400 6.00, or equivalents, or permission of the instructor. Degree credit exclusion: AK/ECON 3580 3.00.

AS/ECON 4210 3.00 Econometrics. This first course in econometrics develops the inner regression model. Least squares and maximum likelihood estimators are derived for classical and generalized cases. Hypothesis testing is simultaneously examined. The course stresses theorem proving, diagnostic analysis and careful applied work. Prerequisites: AS/ECON 2500 3.00/3500 3.00 or equivalents, or permission of the course director. Degree credit exclusions: AS/SC/MATH 3330 3.00, AK/ECON 3490 3.00.

AS/ECON 4220 3.00 Econometric Theory. This course in econometrics examines multiple and simultaneous linear equations models. Time series analysis and other special topics are also considered. The course stresses theorem proving, diagnostic analysis, and careful applied work. Prerequisite: AS/ECON 4210 3.00 or equivalent or permission of the course director. Degree credit exclusion: AS/SC/MATH 3034 3.00.

GL/ECON 4230 3.00 Advanced Economic Theory. A survey of some of the recent developments in a small number of areas; capital theory, income distribution, theory of the firm, social welfare functions, non-market economics. Prerequisite: GL/ECON 3230 6.00 or GL/ECON 3240 6.00, preferably both.

AS/ECON 4239 3.00 Comparative Economic Systems. Comparative analysis of economic systems in terms of economic goals, organization of production and distribution, and economic performance. Prerequisites: AS/ECON 2300 6.00 and AS/ECON 2400 6.00 or equivalents, or permission of the course director.

AS/ECON 4240 3.00 Advanced Topics in Labour Economics. Trade unions and employers' organizations in the Canadian labour market; design and function of the institutions; worker and employer participation; the processes of conflict and agreement, the regulatory role of the state, the nature of collective agreements and their effect on the labour market and processes of production. Prerequisite: AS/ECON 2300 6.00 or permission of the instructor. Recommended prior completion: AS/ECON 3240 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AS/ECON 4249 3.00.

AS/ECON 4249 3.00 Advanced Topics in Labour Economics. Trade unions and employers' organizations in the Canadian labour market; design and function of the institutions; worker and employer participation; the processes of conflict and agreement, the regulatory role of the state, the nature of collective agreements and their effect on the labour market and processes of production. Prerequisite: AS/ECON 2300 6.00 or permission of the instructor. Recommended prior completion: AS/ECON 3240 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AS/ECON 4240 3.00.

GL/ECON 4250 3.00 Mathematical Economics. Selected topics from the classical theory of the consumer and the firm (Hicks and Samuelson), linear programming, game theory, input-output analysis, general equilibrium of multiple markets and the theory of economic growth. Prerequisite: GL/MATH 2650 3.00 or permission of the instructor.

AS/ECON 4259 3.00 Health Economics. Addresses major issues regarding the cost and quality of health care, using theoretical and quantitative techniques drawn from welfare economics, project evaluation, microeconomics and financial analysis. Prerequisites: AS/ECON 2300 3.00/2350 3.00 and AS/ECON 3210 3.00 or AS/ECON 3500 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/ECON 3520 3.00.

GL/ECON 4260 3.00 Introduction to Econometrics. Regression and correlation analysis are studied, including selected applications to economic problems with emphasis on statistical demand analysis and on estimation of production and cost functions. Prerequisites: GL/ECON 3670 3.00, or equivalent, and GL/MATH 2650 3.00, or equivalent, or permission of the instructor.

GL/ECON 4270 3.00 Forecasting Techniques in Economics and Business. The application of forecasting techniques to selected problems in economics and business. Topics covered include trend-line fitting, leading indicators, autoregressive models, Box-Jenkins models, regression and the evaluation of alternative methods. Considerable use will be made of one or more computer statistical packages. Prerequisites: GL/ECON 2500 3.00 and GL/ECON 2510 3.00. Corequisite: GL/ECON 4260 3.00.

GL/ECON 4275 3.00 The Economic Analysis of Law. An examination of the economic foundations of the legal system. Applications of the economic concept of efficiency to legal decision rules; equity issues will also be addressed. Emphasis will be placed on property law, contract, and tort; if time permits, we will also look at the application of economics to criminal law. Throughout, what is stressed is the economist's approach to the law, rather than the law itself. Prerequisite: GL/ECON 3230 6.00 or equivalent. Degree credit exclusions: GL/ECON 4010 3.00 (Winter 1997), GL/ECON 4011 3.00 (Winter 1998).

Course Numbering

Letter prefixes are used in each course to identify the Faculty of Education (ED) and the subject area of the course (PRJM – primary/junior math; VISA – visual arts). A typical course number reads as follows ED/PRJM 3030 3.00 – Teaching Mathematics in the Primary/Junior Divisions.

The majority of courses offered by the Faculty of Education are practicum/seminars. They involve teaching experience in schools as well as a weekly seminar on campus. For all practicum/seminars, the third digit of the course number denotes the school division level of the practicum:

3020 - junior and intermediate divisions

3030 - primary and junior divisions

3040 - intermediate division

3050 - senior division

All courses are numbered at the 3000 level other than the education I common year courses and ED/HEB 2030 3.00.

Note: The Faculty reserves the right not to offer courses in particular sessions without advance notice.

Course Descriptions

ED/AUCO 3550 3.00 Educational Audiology I. This course addresses practical and theoretical issues that relate to teachers as facilitators in developing communicative competence mainly through audition. Medical and educational models of assessment and intervention strategies used with deaf and hard-of-hearing students are examined with respect to legal and teaching implications. Particular attention is given to the contributions of the field of audiology to education.

ED/AUCO 3560 3.00 Educational Audiology II. This course focuses on issues related to the optimal use of residual hearing. Pedagogical implications regarding interpretation of audiometric data are examined. Particular attention is given to developing auditory learning techniques for use with deaf and hard-of-hearing students.

ED/AUDV 3590 3.00 Principles of Auditory-Verb Communication. This course introduces the basic principles of auditory learning, including diagnostic therapeutic intervention and methods for effective aural habilitation. It addresses development of listening skills, early diagnosis and intervention and the parent/teacher/therapist partnership.

ED/BIOL 3040 3.00 Teaching Biology in the Intermediate Division. Methods and materials suited to the teaching of science in the intermediate division are emphasized.

ED/BIOL 3050 3.00 Teaching Biology in the Senior Division. Methods and materials suited to the teaching of science in the senior division are emphasized.

ED/CHEM 3040 3.00 Teaching Chemistry in the Intermediate Division. Methods and materials suited to the teaching of science in the intermediate division are emphasized.

ED/CHEM 3050 3.00 Teaching Chemistry in the Senior Division. Methods and materials suited to the teaching of science in the senior division. Issues related to the chemistry curriculum are discussed.

ED/CMYR 2000 6.00 Common Year Practicum Seminar. This practicum/seminar, an introduction to education, gives an overview of school curricula with particular emphasis on the integration of various subjects. Investigation and observation of child development and teaching and learning styles are integral components. The practicum provides opportunities for candidates to apply and experience teaching techniques in classroom situations. Seminars include opportunities for discussion and application of both educational theory and practice.

ED/CMYR 2100 0.00 Practicum Seminar 1: Studies in Communities and Their Schools. This seminar explores debates about learning as it occurs in communities, schools and universities, differing perspectives on conflicts and values in learning, and knowledge construction within formal and informal contexts. It is required for all teacher candidates in their first year of the Concurrent Program. Successful completion is a prerequisite for all practicum seminars.

ED/CMYR 2400 3.00 Communication and the Education Process. This course focuses on the nature of communication in pluralistic societies, that is, in societal contexts characterized by linguistic and cultural diversity. Emphasis is on the social uses of speaking and writing and interpreting what is being communicated in school and classroom settings. Course content and organization are premised on a developmental and sociolinguistic viewpoint toward communication that recognizes the interdependence of language with cultural and social structures. Issues of bilingual and multilingual learners will be addressed.

ED/CMYR 2500 3.00 Socialization and Human Development. This course reviews modern theories of child development and developmentalism more generally as an approach to understanding thinking, learning and identity formation. Curricular and pedagogical implications for students and teachers as learners are explored. Issues in special education will be addressed. Complementary and/or alternative perspectives and critiques of developmentalism including those originating in sociology, feminism, indigenous and ecological world views, psychoanalysis and postmodernism may also be considered.

ED/COST 3040 3.00 Teaching Computer Studies in the Intermediate Division. An examination of the computer science curriculum of the Intermediate Division and of the methods, hardware and software used to teach it. Course design and evaluation are also considered.

ED/COST 3050 3.00 Teaching Computer Studies in the Senior Division. Building upon the knowledge and experience gained in ED/COST 3040 3.00 and the Intermediate practicum, this course examines methods and materials suitable for teaching computer science in the senior division.

ED/DANC 3040 3.00 Teaching Dance in the Intermediate Division. The philosophy, methods and materials associated with teaching dance in the intermediate division with a focus on lesson and unit planning and evaluation.

ED/DANC 3050 3.00 Teaching Dance in the Senior Division. The philosophy, methods and materials associated with teaching dance to the adolescent. The course focuses on developing skills in teaching technique in several dance forms.

ED/DEVO 2500 3.00 Human Development Through Fine Arts. The stages of human development are explained with respect to multiple intelligences, with emphasis on imaginal development through the fine arts. Issues in special education will be addressed. This course is a theoretical and practical study of how precepts and concepts of self and other are developed in adolescence through poetry, drama, dance, music and the visual arts. Required of all, and open only to, students in the Consecutive Program in Fine Arts Education (J/I).

ED/DRAA 3040 3.00 Teaching Dramatic Arts in the Intermediate Division. This course provides a theoretical/practical approach to the teaching of dramatic arts and the use of dramatic arts as a cross-curricular tool at the intermediate level. Through lecture, discussion, readings, workshops and classroom presentations, the course provides a theoretical basis for teacher candidates to understand how to teach drama as well as an understanding of the many uses of drama in other classroom situations. The issues covered include: process and product expectations in the classroom; the development of lesson plans for short and long-term units; theatre games and oral interpretation; the use of movement in the classroom; play construction, space, costume and acting styles; puppetry use, theory and construction; social issues.

ED/DRAA 3050 3.00 Teaching Dramatic Arts in the Senior Division. This course builds upon the theory and practice gained in ED/DRAM 3040 3.00. The course further emphasizes the teaching and use of drama in the classroom at the senior level and includes: music, text and improvisation; approaches to Shakespeare using plays in the prescribed curriculum; the theory, use and construction of masks; the theory and use of ritual in the classroom.

ED/EDUC 3000 3.00 Teaching Religious Education (Consecutive). Using a combination of theology and appropriate teaching processes. This course prepares candidates in the elementary and secondary levels to teach religious education in the Catholic schools. Candidates study and reflect theologically on the basic phenomenon of religion as a human search for the absolute and for meaning in life. An examination of Catholicism as revelation in history which replies to, challenges, criticizes and deepens one's own basic search involves candidates in a study of the core content of the Christian mystery which they are to teach in the classroom. Confluent educational methods and curriculum programs are examined and practiced in seminars.

ED/INDS 3541 3.00 Independent Studies - Working with the Deaf and Hard of Hearing in Mainstream settings.

ED/INDS 3542 3.00 Independent Studies - Introduction to Language and Literacy Development.

ED/INDS 3543 3.00 Independent Studies -Advanced Linguistics of ASL and Applications.

ED/INDS 3544 3.00 Independent Studies-Introduction to Working with Deaf and Hard of Hearing Students.

ED/INDS 3545 3.00 Independent Studies- Introduction to Bilingual/Bicultural Education.

ED/INDS 3900 3.00 Independent Studies. Provides supervised study at the senior level for candidates with a special interest in Latin.

ED/INDS 3900 3.00 Independent Studies. This course provides supervised study for candidates with a special interest. The course should be arranged with one's adviser and an appropriate course director, and is subject to the approval of the Curriculum Committee of the Faculty. Submissions of independent study course approval requests must be made to the Curriculum Committee by February 28 of the academic year preceding the intended year of enrolment.

ED/INDS 3900 6.00 Independent Studies. This course provides supervised study for candidates with a special interest. The course should be arranged with one's adviser and an appropriate course director, and is subject to the approval of the Curriculum Committee of the Faculty. Submissions of independent study course approval requests must be made to the Curriculum Committee by February 28 of the academic year preceding the intended year of enrolment.

ED/INDS 3900A 3.00 Independent Studies Latin, Teaching Latin in the Intermediate Division. Provides supervised study at the intermediate division for candidates with a special interest in Latin.

ED/INDS 3900A 3.00 Independent Studies Drama, Teaching Drama in the Intermediate Division. Provides supervised study at the intermediate division for candidates with a special interest in drama.

ED/INDS 3900B 3.00 Independent Studies Latin, Teaching Latin in the Senior Division. Provides supervised study at the senior level for candidates with a special interest in Latin.

ED/INDS 3900C 3.00 Independent Studies, Teaching Economics in the Intermediate Division. Provides a supervised study at the intermediate level for candidates with a special interest in economics.

ED/INDS 3900D 3.00 Independent Studies Economics, Teaching Economics in the Senior Division. Provides supervised study at the senior level for candidates with a special interest in economics.

ED/INDS 3900E 3.00 Independent Studies Japanese, Teaching Japanese in the Intermediate Division. Provides supervised study at the intermediate division for candidates with a special interest in Japanese.

ED/INDS 3900F 3.00 Independent Studies Japanese, Teaching Japanese in the Senior Division. Provides supervised study at the senior level for candidates with a special interest in Japanese.

ED/INDS 3900G 3.00 Independent Studies Law, Teaching Law in the Intermediate Division. Prepares for supervised study at the intermediate level for candidates with a special interest in law.

ED/INDS 3900H 3.00 Independent Studies Law, Teaching Law in the Senior Division. Provides supervised study at the senior level for candidates with a special interest in law.

ED/INDS 3900I 3.00 Independent Studies Political Science, Teaching Political Science in the Intermediate Division. Provides supervised study at the intermediate level for candidates with a special interest in political science.

ED/INDS 3900J 3.00 Independent Studies Political Science, Teaching Political Science in the Senior Division. Provides supervised study at the senior level for candidates who wish to study political science.

ED/INDS 3900K 3.00 Independent Studies Spanish, Teaching Spanish in the Intermediate Division. Provides supervised study at the intermediate level for candidates with a special interest in Spanish.

ED/INDS 3900L 3.00 Independent Studies - Teaching Spanish in the Senior Division. Provides supervised study at the senior level for candidate with a special interest in Spanish.

ED/INDS 3900M 3.00 Independent Studies Environmental Science - Teaching Environmental Science in the Intermediate Division. Provides supervised study at the intermediate level for candidates with a special interest in environmental science.

ED/INDS 3900N 3.00 Independent Studies Environmental Science, Teaching Environmental Science in the Senior Division.

ED/INDS 3900O 3.00 Independent Study German - Teaching German at the Intermediate Division. Provides supervised study at the intermediate level for candidates with a special interest in German.

ED/INDS 3900P 3.00 Independent Study German - Teaching German at the Senior Division. Provides supervised study at the senior level for candidates with special interest in German.

ED/INDS 3900Q 3.00 Independent Studies: Family Studies (Intermediate Division). Provides a supervised study at the intermediate level for candidates with a special interest in family studies.

ED/INDS 3900R 3.00 Independent Studies: Family Studies (Senior Division). Provides a supervised study at the senior level for candidates with a special interest in family studies.

ED/INDS 3900S 3.00 Independent Studies: Accounting (Intermediate Division). Provides a supervised study at the intermediate level for candidates with a special interest in business studies - accounting.

ED/INDS 3900T 3.00 Independent Studies: Accounting (Senior Division). Provides a supervised study at the senior level for candidates with a special interest in business studies - accounting.

ED/INDS 3900U 3.00 Independent Studies: Data Processing (Intermediate Division). Provides a supervised study at the intermediate level for candidates with a special interest in business studies - data processing.

ED/INDS 3900V 3.00 Independent Studies: Data Processing (Senior Division). Provides a supervised study at the senior level for candidates with a special interest in business studies - data processing.

ED/INDS 3900W 3.00 Independent Studies: Info Management (Intermediate Division). Provides a supervised study at the intermediate level for candidates with a special interest in business studies - information management.

ED/INDS 3900X 3.00 Independent Studies: Info Management (Senior Division). Provides a supervised study at the senior level for candidates with a special interest in business studies - information management.

ED/INDS 3900Y 3.00 Independent Studies: Marketing and Merchandising (Intermediate Division). Provides a supervised study at the intermediate level for candidates with a special interest in business studies - marketing and merchandising.

ED/INDS 3900Z 3.00 Independent Studies: Marketing and Merchandising (Senior Division). Provides a supervised study at the senior level for candidates with a special interest in business studies - marketing and merchandising.

ED/INLE 2200 3.00 Inquiries Into Learning. Drawing on several fields of study, this course explores two questions: What theories of learning influence pedagogical structures? How have theories of learning affected understandings of ourselves and others, thinking about conditions for learning, and the imperatives of institutions and communities.

ED/INSC 2300 3.00 Inquiries Into Schooling. Forms of schooling across a range of historical and contemporary contexts are introduced. Central considerations include what counts as school knowledge, the assumptions undergirding schooling conventions, and the ways these conventions are instantiated.

ED/INSO 3040 3.00 Teaching Individual and Society in the Intermediate Division. Methods and materials suited to teaching individual and society at the intermediate division level are examined along with the study of lesson and unit planning and evaluation.

ED/INSO 3050 3.00 Teaching Individual and Society in the Senior Division. Methods and materials suited to teaching individual and society at the senior division level are examined along with the study of lesson and unit planning and evaluation.

ED/INTG 3020 3.00 Integration Through Arts-Junior/Intermediate Division. This course provides a study of the pedagogy, theory and practice related to the teaching of integrated fine arts in the classroom. Candidates will study and apply in their practicum settings the teaching of a range of core subjects at the grades 4-8 level, with special emphasis on the role of arts as a resource for integrating and teaching a range of subject matter.

ED/IT 3040 3.00 Teaching Italian in the Intermediate Division. This course deals with the teaching of the four language skills at a beginner's level, with emphasis on developing communicative competence. Different theoretical and practical aspects of second language pedagogy are covered: various methods of language teaching, preparation of diversified teaching material, classroom techniques, integration of culture into the language program, testing and evaluation. Special attention is given to the problem of teaching standard Italian to dialect speakers. Candidates become familiar with Ministry approved texts. Intermediate level.

ED/IT 3050 3.00 Teaching Italian in the Senior Division. This course deals with the teaching of the four language skills at a beginner's level, with emphasis on developing communicative competence. Different theoretical and practical aspects of second language pedagogy are covered: various methods of language teaching, preparation of diversified teaching material, classroom techniques, integration of culture into the language program, testing and evaluation. Special attention is given to the problem of teaching standard Italian to dialect speakers. Candidates become familiar with Ministry approved texts. Senior level.

ED/JIAL 3040 3.00 The Adolescent Learner in the Elementary Intermediate Division. This courses addresses issues related to teaching and learning in an elementary school intermediate division. Integration of the subject areas using inquiry as a pedagogical model is addressed in the formation of a balanced and equitable curriculum. Required of all, and open only to, Consecutive students in the junior/intermediate program.

ED/JICO 3020 3.00 Teaching Curriculum in the Junior and Intermediate Divisions. Candidates study and apply in their practicum settings the teaching of a range of core subjects at the grades 4 to 8 level, with special emphasis on grades 7 and 8. Attention is given to the highlights of curriculum and pedagogy in various subject areas, with emphasis on the integration of subjects within the intermediate curriculum. Attention is also given to socio-emotional and cognitive issues in early adolescence.

ED/JILA 3020 3.00 Teaching Language in the Junior and Intermediate Divisions. This course is intended to develop an understanding of how students in the junior and intermediate divisions gain facility in reading, writing, speaking and listening. The focus is on exploring current thinking about the language processes and the implications of these insights for instructional practice.

ED/JIMA 3020 3.00 Teaching Mathematics in the Junior and Intermediate Divisions. A study of methods for teaching mathematics in the junior and intermediate divisions. Emphasis is placed on the use of materials, relating mathematics to the rest of the curriculum and developmental stages of students.

ED/JMST 3020 3.00 Teaching Mathematics, Science and Technology in the Junior Division. This course provides a practical and conceptual introduction to the teaching of mathematics, science and technology to students in grades 4 through 6. Emphasis is placed on the importance of students' mathematical and scientific understanding.

ED/MATH 3040 3.00 Teaching Mathematics in the Intermediate Division. The practicum is concerned with assessing students' needs, creating and implementing projects to satisfy these needs and evaluating their success. The seminar supplements the practicum by discussing materials, resources and methods suited to mathematics teaching.

ED/MATH 3050 3.00 Teaching Mathematics in the Senior Division. This course builds upon and extends knowledge and experience gained in ED/MATH 3040 3.00. In addition, various themes (e.g. applications, cultural aspects of mathematics) and their relation to the classroom experience may be discussed.

ED/MUSI 3040 3.00 Teaching Music in the Intermediate Division. This course examines the philosophy and methods of music education in relation to students in the intermediate division.

ED/MUSI 3050 3.00 Teaching Music in the Senior Division. Building upon ED/MUSI 3040 3.00 and the intermediate practicum, this course examines methods suitable for senior division music.

ED/ORCO 3530 3.00 Oral Communication I. This course introduces candidates to the physiological development of speech, examining the speech mechanism and consonant, vowel and suprasegmental development. Among the issues to be discussed are speech versus language development in deaf and hard-of-hearing children, speech errors typically made by deaf and hard-of-hearing people and the reasons for such errors.

ED/ORCO 3540 3.00 Oral Communication II. This course enables teacher candidates to facilitate the speech development of deaf and hard-of-hearing students. Among the topics to be addressed are: evaluation of speech production, lesson and development and sequencing and techniques for teaching speech in various communication environments.

ED/ORDE 3600 3.00 Orientation to Deaf Education. This course is a component of the Teaching and Learning Seminar. Its basic objective is to stimulate awareness of topics and issues related to the education of deaf and hard-of-hearing children. Orientation to Deaf Education is required of all candidates in the program.

ED/PHED 3040 3.00 Teaching Physical Education in the Intermediate Division. This course develops a point of view about the teaching of physical education by considering ways in which children learn, and stages in their growth and development. It relates these to the intermediate division curriculum and to program content and lesson planning.

ED/PHED 3050 3.00 Teaching Physical Education in the Senior Division. This course extends the philosophy developed in the Intermediate practicum to the senior division. In addition, it emphasizes psychological aspects of learning, the teaching of health, administration of classes and the use of a variety of teaching styles.

ED/PHYS 3040 3.00 Teaching Physics in the Intermediate Division. A survey of modern physics curriculum, selection of teaching aids, materials and resources in physics instruction, design of modern physics laboratory program and discussion of current research in teaching high school physics.

ED/PHYS 3050 3.00 Teaching Physics in the Senior Division. This course builds upon and extends knowledge and experience gained in ED/PHYS 3040 3.00.

ED/PJEP 3400 6.00 Teaching as Reflective Practice. This course provides an opportunity for candidates with Early Childhood Education diplomas within the Faculty of Education to generate a research project focused on teaching and learning. Using qualitative methods, the project will promote close examination of classroom practices as well as address issues of equity in the classroom as a route to expanding understanding and performance in teaching.

ED/PJFA 3500 3.00 Integrated Fine Arts. This course will examine how to incorporate mathematics, science and technology as basic dimensions of a balanced, equitable curriculum. The relationship of these disciplines to ecological literacy will be a major emphasis throughout the course.

ED/PJIE 3500 3.00 Inclusive Education in the Primary/Junior Division. An introduction to the policy and practice of inclusive education as it is presented in Ontario schools will be provided in this course. Candidates will have an opportunity to select a focus for inquiry and work directly with students to explore inclusive education in a broad sense.

ED/PJLC 3500 3.00 Language, Literacy and Culture.

ED/PJMS 3500 3.00 Mathematics, Science and Technology.

ED/PRIJ 3030 6.00 Teaching and Curriculum in the Primary/Junior Divisions. Building upon the extensive practicum experience of the preceding practicum courses, candidates study and practice the teaching of subjects in the elementary curriculum, such as music, physical education, science, social studies and visual arts. Integration of different subjects within the curriculum is emphasized. Further emphasis is placed on the improvement of the candidate's observation and enquiry skills.

ED/PRJL 3030 3.00 Teaching Language in the Primary/Junior Divisions. This course is intended to develop an understanding of how children in the Primary and Junior divisions gain facility in reading, writing, speaking and listening. The focus is on exploring current thinking about the language processes and the implications of these insights for instructional practice.

ED/PRJM 3030 3.00 Teaching Mathematics in the Primary/Junior Divisions. A study of methods for teaching mathematics in the elementary school. Emphasis is placed on the use of materials, relating mathematics to the rest of the curriculum and developmental stages of students.

ED/RELS 3040 3.00 Teaching Religion in the Intermediate Division. An examination of the religious study curriculum in the intermediate division and of the methods and materials available to support religious studies. Course design and evaluation are considered.

ED/RELS 3050 3.00 Teaching Religion in the Senior Division. Building upon knowledge and experience gained in ED/RELS 3040 3.00, this course examines methods and materials suitable for teaching religious studies in the senior division.

ED/SCIE 3040 3.00 Teaching Science in the Intermediate Division. An introduction to the philosophy, methods and materials of science instruction, with attention to the science curriculum, laboratory instruction and safe laboratory practices.

ED/SCIE 3050 3.00 Teaching Science in the Senior Division. This course extends the philosophy, methods and materials of science instruction developed in the intermediate practicum to the senior division.

ED/TESL 3200 6.00 Methodology of Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages. This course introduces students to key issues of curriculum design and implementation in the language learning classroom. Students will explore the interaction of teacher, student, subject matter and milieu in the generation, implementation, assessment and modification of the language curriculum.

ED/TESL 3300 6.00 Practicum in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages. The course provides an opportunity for students to understand the standards of practice in ESOL by observing and analyzing a variety of practicum placements, and exploring the experiences in an ongoing seminar series. Students are supported in the analysis of and preparation for language teaching experiences.

ED/URED 3300 6.00 Urban Education. This course focuses on issues related to schooling in settings characterized by diversity particularly related to socio-economic status, ethnicity, race, culture and citizenship (i.e. immigrant or refugee). It is intended for teacher candidates doing their practicum within the Westview family of schools.

ED/VISA 3040 3.00 Teaching the Visual Arts in the Intermediate Division. This course examines the philosophy and methods of art education in relation to students in the intermediate division. Curriculum development, the organization and evaluation of lessons, learning resources and materials, problems in art education, and strategies of art teaching are among the pertinent areas studied. Other areas of concern are determined by the interaction of the instructors, adjunct professors and candidates. Faculty lectures, candidate presentation, assigned readings, class discussions and visiting artists and educators contribute to the exchange of knowledge.

ED/VISA 3050 3.00 Teaching the Visual Arts in the Senior Division. This course examines the philosophy and methods of art education in relation to students in the senior division. Curriculum development, the organization and evaluation of lessons, learning resources and materials, problems in art education and strategies of art teaching are among the pertinent areas studied. Other areas of concern are determined by the interaction of the instructors, adjunct professors and candidates. Faculty lectures, candidate presentations, assigned readings, class discussions and visiting artists and educators contribute to the exchange of knowledge.

Course Substitutions

Approved course substitutions are outlined in the following table. Course substitutions should be discussed with Faculty of Education advisers prior to registration.

COURSE	SUBSTITUTION
CMYR 2500 3.00 (Human Development) (for P/J/I candidates)	EDUC 3310 3.00 (Adolescent and the Teacher) (for J/I/S candidates)
EDUC 3400 3.00 (Models of Education) and FNDS 3330 3.00 (Foundations of Education)	URED 3300 6.00 (Models of Urban Education)

Engineering – Pure and Applied Science

Department Office:
125 Petrie Science and Engineering Building, 416-650-8215

Director of the Program:
R.H. Prince

Professors:
K.D. Aldridge, E. Arjomandi, W.H. Cannon, M.R.M. Jenkin, J.R. Miller, R.H. Prince

Associate Professors:
M. Aboelaze, R. Allison, A. Asif, R. Hornsey, M. Mandelbaum, S.R. Menary, S.D. Pagiatakis, A.M.K. Szeto, V. Tao, J. Whiteway

Assistant Professors:

Senior Lecturer:
P.H. Cribb

The Faculty of Pure and Applied Science offers an Engineering Program leading to an Honours bachelor of applied science (BASc Honours). After a common first year, the program will branch into four streams: computer engineering, engineering physics, geomatics engineering and space engineering. For program details, see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Courses in Engineering

SC/ENG 1000 6.00 Engineering Design I. An introduction to design using case studies to illustrate the use of resources to meet stated objectives within constraints imposed by economic, health, safety, environmental, social and other factors. Emphasis is placed on written and oral presentation and critical analysis. Three lecture hours per week. Two terms. Six credits. Note: Open only to students in the Engineering program.

SC/ENG 2000 6.00 Engineering Design II. An extension of SC/ENG 1000 6.00 to include more advanced engineering concepts, such as strength of materials, basic structural mechanics and the fundamentals of the electronic properties of materials. Students will execute an engineering design from concept to working prototype within a variety of realistic constraints, such as economic factors, safety, reliability, human factors, ethics and others. Three lecture hours per week. Two terms. Six credits. Prerequisites: First-year engineering courses: SC/ENG 1000 6.00, SC/CHEM 1000 3.00, SC/PHYS 1010 6.00, SC/COSC 1020 3.00, COSC 1030 3.00, SC/EATS 1010 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 1013 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 1014 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 1090 3.00.

SC/ENG 2110 2.00 Geomatics and Space Engineering. Introduction to geodesy and geomatics engineering: surveying, geodesy, hydrography, space geodesy and geodynamics, photogrammetry and digital mapping. A survey of communications, remote sensing and geodetic satellites, their engineering characteristics, payloads and use; features of Low Earth Orbiter (LEO) missions. One and one-half lecture hours per week, one and one-half laboratory hours per week. One term. Two credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 1010 3.00; SC/PHYS 1010 6.00; or permission of the course instructor.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 2610 2.00 and SC/ENG 2110 2.00

SC/ENG 2120 4.00 Fundamentals of Surveying. Coordinate systems, conventions and transformations. First and second geodetic problem: trig sections, traverses, eccentricities, areas. Distance measurements, angular measurements, heights. Topographic mapping and property surveys. Route surveying. Introduction to other surveys: alignment, deformation surveys for buildings, bridges, dams, tunnels, pipelines. Three lecture hours per week and three laboratory hours per week. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 1010 3.00; SC/MATH 1014 3.00; SC/MATH 1025 3.00; SC/EATS 2610 2.00 or SC/ENG 2110 2.00; or permission of the course instructor.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 2620 4.00 and SC/ENG 2120 4.00

SC/ENG 2130 3.00 Field Surveys. A two-week field camp comprising field and office work that simulate professional practice. Students participate in organizational, planning, scheduling and logistical aspects of field operations, instrument familiarization and testing, establishment of geodetic control, and land boundary, highway and construction surveys. Two-week field surveys. No lecture. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/EATS 2620 4.00 or SC/ENG 2120 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 2630 3.00 and SC/ENG 2130 3.00

SC/ENG 3000 3.00 Professional Engineering Practice. An introduction to the legal and ethical frameworks of the engineering profession, preparing students for the Professional Practice Examination required for certification as a professional engineer. Also covered are associated professional issues such as entrepreneurship, intellectual property and patents. Three lecture hours per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: Second-year engineering courses (stream specific), including SC/ENG 2000 6.00 plus SC/ENG 1000 6.00.

SC/ENG 3110 4.00 Geodetic Concepts. Geodesy. Reference systems, frames and datums; time systems; the natural system of coordinates; terrestrial, celestial and orbital coordinate systems. Coordinate system transformations. Relative three dimensional positioning; the inertial frame of reference. Positions on the ellipsoid and mapping plane. Height systems. Three lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises per week. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 2610 2.00 or SC/ENG 2110 2.00; SC/EATS 2620 4.00 or SC/ENG 2120 4.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 2015 3.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 2501 1.00. Corequisite: SC/EATS 3620 4.00 or SC/ENG 3120 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 3610 4.00 and SC/ENG 3110 4.00

SC/ENG 3120 4.00 Adjustment Calculus. Minima and maxima of functions, Weierstrass theorem, Lagrange multipliers. Quadratic forms.

Observables, observations, parameters and mathematical models. The least squares principle; weight matrix and variance factor; parametric, condition and combined adjustments. Three lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises per week. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: AK/AS/SC/MATH 1025 3.00; AK/AS/SC/MATH 2015 3.00; SC/EATS 2620 4.00 or SC/ENG 2120 4.00; AK/AS/SC/COSC 2501 1.00. Corequisite: SC/EATS 3610 4.00 or SC/ENG 3110 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 3620 4.00 and SC/ENG 3120 4.00

SC/ENG 3130 4.00 Analysis of Overdetermined Systems. Hilbert space and statistics. Statistical testing and assessment of observations, parameters and mathematical models. Optimal design. Generalized adjustment, problems with constraints and singularities, step-by-step procedures, Kalman filtering, least-squares collocation. Three lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises per week. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: AS/SC/GEOG 2420 3.00, SC/EATS 3610 4.00 or SC/ENG 3110 4.00, SC/EATS 3620 4.00 or SC/ENG 3120 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 3630 4.00 and SC/ENG 3130 4.00

SC/ENG 3140 4.00 Geodetic Surveys. Instrument systems and procedures for high-precision geodetic surveys. High-precision surveys in engineering physics; geodetic network densification, adjustment and analysis; procedures for deformation surveys and strain analysis. Establishment and observation of control networks for construction and monitoring of large engineering structures. Three lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises per week. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 2620 4.00 or SC/ENG 2120 4.00, SC/EATS 2630 3.00 or SC/ENG 2130 3.00, SC/EATS 3610 4.00 or SC/ENG 3110 4.00; SC/EATS 3620 4.00 or SC/ENG 3120 4.00. Corequisite: SC/EATS 3630 4.00 or SC/ENG 3130 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 3640 4.00 and SC/ENG 3140 4.00

SC/ENG 3150 4.00 Photogrammetry. Image and object space. Direct and inverse problems of projective and similarity coordinate transformations. Collinearity and coplanarity. Orientation procedures. Measurement and correction of image coordinates. Stereomodel formation and error analysis. Analog, analytical, independent model, strip and block adjustments. Image rectification. DEM generation. Digital Mapping Applications. Project planning. Three lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises per week. One term. Four credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 2620 4.00 or SC/ENG 2120 4.00; SC/EATS 3620 4.00 or SC/ENG 3120 4.00. Corequisite: SC/EATS 3630 4.00 or SC/ENG 3130 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 3650 4.00 and SC/ENG 3150 4.00

SC/ENG 3160 3.00 Advanced Field Surveys. A two-week camp comprising field and laboratory work. It involves organizational, planning, scheduling and logistical aspects of high precision field operations related to engineering physics, establishment and observation of control networks for construction and monitoring large engineering structures. Two week field surveys. No lectures. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 3640 4.00 or SC/ENG 3140 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 3660 3.00 and SC/ENG 3160 3.00

SC/ENG 3310 3.00 Space Mission Design. This course covers the basic aspects of space mission design including: mission types, objectives, technical readiness, risk mitigation, subsystems and public outreach. Three lecture hours. Prerequisites: SC/ENG 2000 6.00 or permission of the instructor.

Cross-listed to: SC/ENG 3310 3.00 and SC/PHYS 3310 3.00

SC/ENG 3320 3.00 Microsystems Technology. The course covers the principles and implementations of miniaturised sensors and actuators in a range of physical domains, such as optical, magnetic, thermal and mechanical systems. Examples include electronic cameras, micro-electro-mechanical systems, thermal microsystems and display technologies. Three lecture hours. Prerequisite: SC/PHYS 2020 3.00; SC/PHYS 2211 1.00; SC/PHYS 2060 3.00 recommended; SC/PHYS 2212 1.00 recommended. Corequisite: SC/PHYS 3050 3.00 recommended.

Cross-listed to: SC/ENG 3320 3.00 and SC/PHYS 3320 3.00

SC/ENG 3330 3.00 Space Engineering Materials. This course covers the basic behaviour and processing of engineering materials. The emphasis is on metals and alloys plus discussion of ceramics, plastics and composites. Three lecture hours. Prerequisite: SC/ENG 2000 6.00 or permission of the instructor.

Cross-listed to: SC/ENG 3330 3.00 and SC/PHYS 3330 3.00

SC/ENG 4000 6.00 Engineering Project. The project will include significant elements of design and implementation. The format is intended to resemble engineering projects in practice, including specifications, background research, innovative solutions, analysis, testing and communication. Two terms. Six credits. Prerequisites: 21 3000-level science or engineering (SC) credits in the Engineering Program, exclusive of SC/ENG 3000 3.00. Prerequisite or corequisite: SC/ENG 3000 3.00.

SC/ENG 4110 3.00 Global Positioning Systems. Positioning by space vehicles. Coordinate systems and transformations. GPS, GLONASS, GALILEO, Satellite Laser Ranging, Very Long Baseline Interferometry. Positioning of moving vehicles and platforms: marine, land, airborne and space vehicles. GPS/INS integration. Real time kinematic applications. Three lecture hours weekly and three hours of laboratory exercises every other week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 3020 3.00; SC/EATS 3610 4.00, SC/EATS 3620 4.00, or permission of the course director.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 4610 3.00 and SC/ENG 4110 3.00

SC/ENG 4120 3.00 Physical and Space Geodesy. Local treatment of the Earth's gravity field. Boundary value problems. Normal and disturbing potential, the normal gravity formula. Geoid, geoidal undulations, deflections of the vertical. Stokes and Vening Meinesz formulae. Gravimetry and gravity reductions. Height systems. Tides. Gravity space missions. Three lecture hours weekly and three hours of laboratory exercises every other week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 3020 3.00; SC/EATS 3610 4.00; SC/EATS 3620 4.00; SC/EATS 4610 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 4620 3.00 and SC/ENG 4120 3.00

SC/ENG 4130 3.00 Digital Imaging and Applications. Digital imaging from remote platforms. Image processing and analysis, including radiometric and geometric corrections and geometric enhancements, multispectral classification, digital photogrammetry fundamentals, workstations, potogrammetric processing. Two lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 3650 4.00; SC/EATS 4220 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 4630 3.00 and SC/ENG 4130 3.00

SC/ENG 4140 3.00 Digital Terrain Models and Lidar Applications. Digital Terrain Modeling concepts. Mathematical techniques in data acquisition, processing, storage, manipulation and applications. DTM. Surface representation using moving averages, linear projection and Kriging techniques. Grid resampling methods and search algorithms. DTM derivatives and applications. LIDAR systems and applications. Two lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/EATS 2620 4.00; SC/EATS 3620 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 4640 3.00 and SC/ENG 4140 3.00

SC/ENG 4150 3.00 Hydrography. Hydrography and its role in offshore management. Elements of oceanography, tides and water levels, seabed and sea water properties. Underwater acoustics. Bathymetric and imaging methods. Marine positioning and navigation. Three lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/EATS 4610 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 4650 3.00 and SC/ENG 4150 3.00

SC/ENG 4160 3.00 Cadastral Surveys and Land Registration Systems. Cadastral systems, survey law and the role of the professional land surveyor. The Dominion Lands Survey System and Land Surveys Acts and Regulations. Cadastral surveys, including surveys of Canada lands for aboriginal land claims and coastal boundaries. Land registration systems in Canada. Three lecture hours and three hours of laboratory exercises per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: SC/EATS 2620 4.00 or SC/ENG 2120 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/EATS 4660 3.00 and SC/ENG 4160 3.00

SC/ENG 4330 3.00 Radio Techniques for Space Exploration. The theory and application of modern radio astronomy and radar techniques as they are currently used in deep space exploration and space exploration and space navigation. Three lecture hours per week. One term. Three credits. Prerequisites: SC/PHYS 3250 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/ENG 4330 3.00 and SC/PHYS 4330 3.00

SC/ENG 4350 2.00 Space Hardware Laboratory. A laboratory course with modules supporting various fourth-year space engineering courses. Three laboratory hours per week. Two terms. Two credits. Corequisites: SC/COSC 4421 3.00; SC/PHYS 4360 3.00; and three of SC/EATS 4220 3.00, SC/EATS 4230 3.00, SC/ENG 4110 3.00, SC/PHYS 3070 3.00, SC/PHYS 4330 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/ENG 4350 2.00 and SC/PHYS 4350 2.00

SC/ENG 4360 3.00 Payload Design. A survey of typical applications of spacecraft technology including communications systems, location systems, terrestrial applications and exploration missions. Prerequisites: SC/PHYS 3050 3.00; SC/PHYS 3150 3.00; SC/PHYS 3280 3.00 or SC/ENG 3310 3.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/ENG 4360 3.00 and SC/PHYS 4360 3.00

The English Department offers a variety of courses in the literature of the English language. There are courses in historical periods from medieval to modern, in the literature of several nations (Canadian and post-colonial as well as English and American), in the various literary genres such as poetry, fiction, drama, non-fictional prose and criticism and in literary theory. In addition, during their final 36 credits, Honours English majors may propose their own thesis (AS/EN 4160 6.00).

For specific program requirements, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

The department also offers an Honours BA in Professional Writing and a Specialized Honours BA in English and Professional Writing. For details, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Subject to program requirements and degree credit equivalent/exclusion and in-Faculty regulations, students may complete courses offered outside of the Faculty of Arts for credit in English.

Courses in English

1000-Level Courses

Note for Arts: Students who have passed 54 or more credits may enrol in 1000-level courses only if they have submitted an authorization form signed by the director of undergraduate studies in English to the undergraduate office.

Note for Atkinson: Open to any student for elective credit only.

AS/EN 1100 6.00 Major Authors in English Literature. A historical introduction to English literature, concentrating on major authors. The objective is not merely to impart information, but to give practice in useful ways of reading texts, thinking about them and writing about them.

AS/EN 1200 6.00 An Introduction to Literary Genres. An introduction to English literature through the concept of genre, that is, the grouping of literary works according to their form. Four principal genres will be discussed: poetry, drama, fiction and non-fictional prose.

AS/EN 1250 3.00 A Writer's Introduction to Literary Forms. An introduction to the fundamental principles governing the production and reception of four principal literary forms in English: poetry, prose fiction, prose non-fiction and drama. Extensive consideration is given to the form's ties to the parallel concept of genre.

AS/EN 1300 6.00 Literature and Theory: An Introduction. This course introduces students to literary studies in English through several systems of interpreting literature. By examining various possible relations among the text, the reader, the author and the world, the student will become familiar with differing strategies of interpretation.

AS/EN 1310 6.00 Literature and Theory: The Epic Tradition. Through the rubric of the epic, the genre of history, this course provides an introduction to the study of literature and to the development of the historical-critical vocabulary essential to the advanced reading of literary texts.

AS/EN 1350 3.00 A Writer's Introduction to Literary Theory. An introduction to essential ways in which key literary elements have been understood since Plato. The course considers language, discourse, text, author, productive conditions and audience with particular attention to ways in which these concepts help writers understand their work.

AS/EN 1400 6.00 Introduction to English Literary History. This course is an introduction to the materials and methods of historically oriented approaches to literature in English. It interrogates the various ways history and literature interrelate with emphasis on such concepts as period, tradition, development, canon and criticism. Degree credit exclusion: AS/EN 2160A 6.00 (Fall/Winter 1990-1992, 1996-1997).

AK/EN 1410 3.00 Writing University Research Papers. Research and writing in the humanities and social sciences through study of a designated theme which may vary from year to year as starting point for research. Areas covered include research tools such as libraries, the Internet, primary and secondary sources and proper citation practice.

GL/EN 1520 6.00 The Literary Text: Genres and Approaches. A study of the special characteristics and functions of literary texts. Examples of several literary genres are examined and students have the opportunity to develop their abilities to read and interpret, to discuss and write about literature in English.

AK/EN 1920 6.00 Reading Contemporary Fiction: An Introduction. Examines recent critically acclaimed fictional works. Considers technical questions such as characterization, form and narrative structure. All the texts are bound by a thematic focus on family/home. (formerly AK/EN 1000B 6.00) Note: Not open to students who have completed AK/EN 1000A 6.0Z in Fall/Winter 1998-2000, or AK/EN 1000B 6.0Z in Summer 2000.

AK/EN 1953 6.00 Canadian Writers in Person. Explores the works of 12 contemporary Canadian writers who give readings to the class and respond to questions about their work. (formerly AK/EN 1000A 6.00) Note: Not open to students who have taken AK/EN 1000A 6.00 in Fall/Winter 1999-2000, or in Fall/Winter 2000-2001.

2000-Level Courses

Note for Arts: A limited number of places in the following 2000-level courses are open to students in their first year of University study (0 to 23 credits successfully completed). Students who have passed 84 or more credits may enrol in 2000-level courses only if they have submitted an authorization form signed by the director of undergraduate studies in English to the undergraduate office.

Note for Atkinson: AK/EN 2000-level gateway courses. Open to any student for elective credit. English major students are required to take three gateway courses, including one of either AK/EN 2075 3.00 or AK/EN 2076 3.00.

AK/EN 2010 3.00 Poetry in English. Examines a selection of major poems written in English. The approach is both thematic and historical. Specific content and format will vary with the instructor. Note: Not open to students who have taken AK/EN 2430 6.00.

GL/EN 2010 3.00 Introduction to Rhetoric and Composition. This course is an introduction to the study of rhetoric and composition. Writing assignments will aim at developing skills in description, process description, exposition, persuasion and argument. Emphasis is on rewriting rather than simple production. Rhetorical consideration of audience, topic, topic development and cohesion is also provided.

AK/EN 2020 3.00 Prose/Fiction in English. Introduction to the rich variety of narrative and non-narrative prose-writing in English. The approach will include a historical survey, but specific content and format will vary with the instructor.

AS/EN 2060 6.00 The Grammatical Structure of English. An investigation of the grammatical structure of modern English, including phonology, morphology, syntax and semantics, within the framework of descriptive linguistics.

Cross-listed to: AS/EN 2060 6.00 and AS/LING 2060 6.00

AS/EN 2070 6.00 Approaches to Grammar. This course focuses on traditional, prescriptive and functional grammar. Traditional grammar developed in classical times and was later adapted to English. Prescriptive grammar describes accepted English usage. Functional grammar refers language structures to the meanings which they have in their human context.

AK/EN 2075 3.00 Literature and Criticism. As a preliminary foundation for further studies in English, this course outlines the main relations in English literary history between literature itself and the changing conceptions expressed by poets and critics alike, of what literature ought to be. Note: Not open to students who have taken AK/EN 2410 6.00.

AS/EN 2100 6.00 History and Principles of Literary Criticism. A study of major contributions to critical theory both past and present.

AS/EN 2110 6.00 Introduction to Poetry. Through the close study of poems and relevant critical material, the course aims to develop in the student the ability to read poetry with discernment and pleasure.

AS/EN 2120 6.00 Drama. An introduction to the study of drama, presented from a theatrical as well as a literary point of view, with the emphasis on the changing nature of dramatic convention and the relation of plays to their historical background.

AS/EN 2130 6.00 Introduction to Poetics. An introduction to the key issues in theoretical poetics including the social function of the poet, the nature of poetic language and the function of the image; together with surveys of avant-garde, feminist, ethno- and bio-poetics.

AS/EN 2210 3.00 Horror and Terror: Variations on Gothic. The course addresses Gothic as a popular genre eliciting and managing fear, whether accompanied by anticipation and dread (terror) or confrontation and disgust (horror). Attention is paid to Gothic's 18th-century origins, but the focus is on more recent texts.

AS/EN 2220 3.00 Coming of Age in Fiction: Novels of Maturation and Initiation. This course examines the sub-genre of prose fiction known as the Bildungsroman or novel of maturation and the variety of forms and approaches evident in examples from the 19th and 20th centuries.

AS/EN 2230 3.00 Comedy. The nature, powers and limits of comedy are explored through reading a selection of comedies from Elizabethan to modern times.

AS/EN 2240 3.00 Apocalyptic Science Fiction. This course surveys apocalyptic themes from the Bible to the present day. It focuses primarily on images of the end of the world in 19th- and 20th-century science fiction, and places the works studied in their cultural and historical contexts.

AS/EN 2250 3.00 "What is Real?" Asked the Rabbit": 20th-Century Children's Literature. This course is a historical study of children's literature written in the 20th century. It explores possible ways of reading that literature, taking into account such issues as its cultural context and its audience.

AS/EN 2251 3.00 "Come, Take this Book Dear Child": Children's Literature, 1590-1900. This course is a historical study of children's literature written between 1590 and 1900. It explores possible ways of reading that literature, taking into account such issues as its cultural context and its audience.

AS/EN 2260 3.00 "Going Far?": Travel Writing in English. Dealing with 19th- and 20th-century travel writing (British, Canadian, American, African, Asian and Caribbean), this course examines the construction of a travelling/narrating self, its representations of other landscapes, cultures and peoples and the writer's rhetorical strategies.

AS/EN 2270 3.00 Comics and Cartoons I: 1900-Cold War in the United States. From the Yellow Kid to Captain America (1900-Cold War) this course explores the growth of comics and cartoons: creative conflicts, contexts and themes (outsiders, war, ethnicity), Bugs Bunny, Superman, superheroes and Disney, and how they account for their times.

AS/EN 2271 3.00 Comics and Cartoons II: Cold War-Today in the United States. From Road Runner to The Simpsons, this course explores trends in post-war comics and cartoons: vigilantism, paranoia, national insecurity, normality and abnormality, Peanuts and MAD, the counterculture, R. Crumb, Spiderman, X-Men and new directions.

AS/EN 2330 6.00 Fiction of the United States Since 1865. A study of representative works by major American writers from the 19th century to the present.

AS/EN 2370 6.00 Post-Colonial Literature: Caribbean. A study of poetry, drama and fiction by writers of English expression from various Commonwealth countries, with the main emphasis on critical examination of these works as literature, but with some attention to their historical and cultural contexts.

AS/EN 2371 6.00 Post-Colonial Literature: African Literature. This course introduces students to some important literary works from the continent of Africa. Texts will be studied in the context of histories of decolonialization of African nation states and how African writers respond to this history.

AS/EN 2372 6.00 Post-Colonial Literature: South Asian. The course introduces students to the literature and theory currently categorized as Post-Colonial by means of a focus of texts written in English by authors originating in the geographical region known as South Asia (India, Pakistan, Sri Lanka).

AK/EN 2430 6.00 Setting the Stage: Theatre, History and Culture. Major periods of theatrical history from the Greeks to the modern day. Emphasis is on theatre design, styles of performance and the original social milieu of the plays and theatres. Includes source material and major works from each period. For elective credit only. Not a gateway credit for English majors except by special permission of the English coordinator.

Cross-listed to: AK/EN 2430 6.00 and AK/THEA 2430 6.00

AS/EN 4410 6.00 From T. S. Eliot to Missy Elliott: Cultures of Sampling, Plagiarism and Appropriation. Using a cultural studies framework, this course explores themes of copying, sampling, plagiarism and appropriation in contemporary literature, visual arts, film and music.

GL/EN 4450 6.00 Contemporary Canadian Literature. A study of modern and contemporary developments in the literature of English Canada. Prerequisite: GL/EN 2550 6.00 or permission of the instructor.

GL/EN 4560 3.00 Advanced Writing. In any particular year, this course will focus on one or more genres, allowing students to do advanced writing in poetry, prose, drama, media, non-fiction (e.g. criticism). Provision for English as a second language students may be made.

AK/EN 4600 6.00 Advanced Readings in Romanticism. Some of the longer works of the Romantics in the light of their own aesthetic and metaphysical formulations. (formerly AK/EN 4080 6.00) Prerequisite for all English courses at this level is registration in an Honours program and 78 credits. For students with equivalent preparation, permission of the Head of English must be obtained. In addition, students must have taken AK/EN 3625 6.00 (formerly AK/EN 3500 6.00). Note: Not open to students who have taken AK/EN 4080 6.00.

GL/EN 4605 3.00 Linguistic Theory. This course studies the major contemporary models of language and linguistic theories. Prerequisite: Nine credits in language selected from: GL/EN 2605 6.00, GL/EN 2606 3.00, GL/EN 2608 3.00, GL/EN 3607 6.00, GL/EN 3608 6.00, GL/EN 3610 3.00, GL/EN 3611 3.00 and GL/EN 3650 6.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/EN 4350 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/EN 4605 3.00 and GL/LIN 4605 3.00

GL/EN 4606 6.00 History of the English Language. The course provides an outline of both the cultural and the formal linguistic history of English, from its beginnings to the present. Prerequisite: Six credits selected from GL/EN 2605 6.00, GL/EN 2606 3.00 and GL/EN 2608 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/EN 4420 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/EN 4606 6.00 and GL/LIN 4606 6.00

GL/EN 4607 6.00 Functional Linguistics. This course will present the theory of functional linguistics developed by Michael Halliday. From context of situation to medium of expression: semantics, lexicogrammar, phonology and phonetics as the symbolic chain through which we produce meaningful sounds to carry on life in our various social contexts. Prerequisite: Six credits of introductory linguistics. Degree credit exclusion: GL/EN 4435 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/EN 4607 6.00 and GL/LIN 4607 6.00

GL/EN 4608 3.00 Discourse Analysis. This course analyzes theories and descriptive frameworks for the study of connected discourse. Linguistic structures beyond the sentence will be examined in both literary and non-literary texts. Integrated with: GS/EN 6840 6.00. Prerequisite: A minimum of nine credits in language selected from the following: GL/EN 2605 6.00, GL/EN 2606 3.00, GL/EN 2607 3.00, GL/EN 2608 3.00, GL/EN 3607 6.00, GL/EN 3608 6.00, GL/EN 3610 3.00, GL/EN 3611 3.00, GL/EN 3650 6.00 and GL/EN 4605 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/EN 4510 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/EN 4608 3.00 and GL/LIN 4608 3.00

GL/EN 4609 3.00 Advanced Phonetics and Phonology. Building on GL/EN 2606 3.00, this course will introduce detailed work in acoustic phonetics using our micro speech lab for computer speech analysis and display. We will then use the acquired techniques to study international meaning in spoken Canadian English texts. Integrated with: GS/EN 6880 3.00. Prerequisite: GL/EN 2606 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/EN 4530 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/EN 4609 3.00 and GL/LIN 4609 3.00

GL/EN 4610 3.00 Studies in Canadian English. This course examines literary and non-literary varieties of Canadian English. Integrated with: GS/EN 6870 3.00 and GS/LING 5550 3.00. Prerequisite: Six credits selected from GL/EN 2605 6.00, GL/EN 2606 3.00 and GL/EN 2608 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/EN 4550 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/EN 4610 3.00 and GL/LIN 4610 3.00

GL/EN 4615 3.00 Studies in the Hebrew Bible: Narrative. A study of selected texts from the Former and Latter Prophets. Prerequisite: GL/HUMA 3790 6.00(EN) or GL/HUMA 3890 6.00(EN) or GL/HUMA/EN 3600 6.00 or permission of the instructor. Degree credit exclusion: GL/HUMA 4795 3.00.

Cross-listed to: GL/EN 4615 3.00 and GL/HUMA 4615 3.00

GL/EN 4680 6.00 Medieval Comparative Literature. Epic and romance in English and in French provide a focus for the course. Texts from other literatures and in other literary forms will also be studied by way of comparison.

Cross-listed to: GL/EN 4680 6.00 and GL/HUMA 4680 6.00

GL/EN 4690 6.00 Teaching English as an International Language. This course surveys current principles and practices of teaching English in non-native settings outside Canada. Through background readings, case studies and video simulations, the course will explore theoretical and applied issues in the field of TEIL. Prerequisites: GL/EN/SOSC 3650 6.00/EN 3540 6.00 or permission of the instructor/department Chair. Corequisite: GL/EN/ILST 4695 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: GL/EN 4012E 3.00 (Fall 1993).

Cross-listed to: GL/EN 4690 6.00 and GL/ILST 4690 6.00

GL/EN 4695 3.00 English as a World Language. The course examines a number of varieties of English in the world today from three major standpoints: their historical development, their social and geographical deployment and their linguistic characteristics. Prerequisite: At least 12 credits in linguistics offered in English or another language, six credits of which must be from an introductory course in linguistics. Permission of the instructor required.

Cross-listed to: GL/EN 4695 3.00 and GL/ILST 4695 3.00 and GL/LIN 4695 3.00

AS/EN 4703 3.00 Theoretical and Ethical Aspects of Periodical Writing. The course considers the social/cultural role of journalism and of the journalist. What duties and responsibilities has the journalist to subjects, sources, stories, editors, employers, readers? What potential conflicts are there among these interests and how ought these to be considered.

AS/EN 4710 3.00 The Special Issue. The course is a long-term collaborative project among a team of students who take a story or an issue and develop from it a series of articles that speak with and to one another. Particular emphasis is placed upon examining the processes of a team-based project.

AS/EN 4751 3.00 The Rhetoric of Science. This course examines scientific texts as rhetorical creations, including how scientific authors seek to persuade by means of appeals to personal credibility, authority, community standards, forensic probability, ethics and utility, and emotion.

AK/EN 4752 6.00 Women Novelists of the 19th Century. The fiction of Jane Austen, the Brontës and George Eliot, in the perspective of their historical and social background. For students with equivalent preparation, permission of the Head of English must be obtained. (formerly AK/EN 4090 6.00) Note: Not open to students who have taken AK/EN 4090 6.00.

AS/EN 4803 3.00 The Ethics of Publicity. The course addresses the ethical and legal issues involved in making information public. How are the potentially conflicting demands of the institution and the public to be reconciled both within and without the organization?

AS/EN 4810 3.00 Practical Studies in Damage Control. A problem-based capstone course in which students work in teams to develop and construct institutional responses, both internal and external, to extraordinary circumstances.

AK/EN 4864 6.00 Major Canadian and American Novelists to mid 20th Century. The fictions of three or four storytellers who have produced a considerable body of significant works, such as Faulkner, Fitzgerald, Hemingway, Oates, Beattie, Callaghan père, Laurence and Munro. (formerly AK/EN 4060 6.00) Prerequisite for all English courses at this level is registration in an Honours program and 78 credits. For students with equivalent preparation, permission of the Head of English must be obtained. In addition, students must have taken a 3000-level English course in fiction or Canadian or American literature. Note: Not open to students who have taken AK/EN 4060 6.00.

AS/EN 4900 3.00 Substantive Editing. The course addresses the problems of developing a text to the point at which it is deemed publishable. It trains student to diagnose problems with voice, continuity and accuracy. It addresses cutting the too-long manuscript and the issues involved in rewrites.

AS/EN 4910 3.00 Two Problem Texts. The course examines two recently published books from the ground up, examining design, editing, marketing, reviews and other forms of audience response. The point is to examine what was done and what might, or should, have been done differently.

AK/EN 4950 6.00 Contemporary Canadian Women Writers. Poetry, drama and fiction by Canadian women writers of recent decades including works by French Canadian authors in translation. (formerly AK/EN 4070 6.00) Prerequisite for all English courses at this level is registration in an Honours program and 78 credits. For students with equivalent preparation, permission of the Head of English must be obtained. Note: Not open to students who have taken AK/EN 4070 6.00.

AS/EN 4951 3.00 Practical Poetics: A Workshop Seminar. The course is designed to explore in practical workshop conditions and in the forms of creative writing and theoretical debate, material covered in the second term of Introduction to Poetics, AS/EN 2130 6.00. Degree credit exclusion: AS/EN 2140 3.00. Note: Open to students who have successfully completed AS/EN 2130 6.00, or are currently enrolled in AS/EN 2130 6.00, or with permission of the course director. Note: This course requires Internet access.

C. Fraser, C212 York Hall, 416-487-6713

Students wishing or required to take English as a second language (ESL) courses must meet with an adviser in ESL before enrolling. Native users of English are not eligible to enrol in ESL courses except under special circumstances (e.g. English as a second dialect) and with the permission of the director of the ESL Program. Advanced students at the 3000 level normally take a minimum of three ESL credits and a maximum of 12 ESL credits.

ESL in the English major: No more than six ESL credits, to be taken at the 3000 level, may be counted towards a major in English. These ESL credits may be counted as part of the 3000-4000 level requirement in the bachelor of arts degree program but not in the Honours BA.

Courses in English as a Second Language

AK/ENSL 1450 6.00 Thinking about Contemporary Canada. Examines how writers, filmmakers, singers and philosophers understand Canada at the end of the 20th century. Emphasizes a range of voices, both rooted in Canada and immigrant, and on issues critical to arrival, belonging and the idea of nation. Note: This course comprises the English as a second language requirement for incoming English as a second language students. It may be counted as fulfilling the general education humanities requirement or as an elective credit.

Cross-listed to: AK/ENSL 1450 6.00 and AK/HUMA 1745 6.00

GL/ENSL 1500 6.00 Initial English as a Second Language. An introductory course in listening, speaking, reading and writing, for learners of English as a second language.

GL/ENSL 1800 6.00 Foundations in English Grammar. This course provides opportunities for English as a second language students at a beginning level of proficiency, to learn the fundamentals of English grammar. Individual and group written and oral practice is provided.

GL/ENSL 2310 3.00 English Non-Literary Texts.

GL/ENSL 2400 3.00 English in Performance: Dramatic Arts. A study of English as exemplified through plays, improvisation and role-play, for students of English as a second language. Particular attention will be given to stress, rhythm, intonation and speech styles.

GL/ENSL 2410 3.00 English in Performance: Media. A study of contemporary spoken English through selected exposure to various non-print media, for students of English as a second language.

GL/ENSL 2415 3.00 Print Media. A study of print media, mainstream and alternative, focusing on the selection, presentation and interpretation of information in articles from newspapers and periodicals. Aims to promote students' use of English and develop a framework for analyzing media.

GL/ENSL 2700 6.00 ESL: Academic Foundations. The goal of this course is to improve English language and academic skill proficiency to enable students on completion of the course to function adequately in academic courses given in English at the University.

GL/ENSL 3501 3.00 Varieties of English Writing. The course is designed for advanced English as a second language students, to develop their writing skills in English by juxtaposing creative writing assignments with other varieties of writing.

GL/ENSL 3502 3.00 Functional Writing. This course examines the main functions of written English outside literature-description, exposition, criticism, persuasion-in various modes (essay, opinion-piece, pamphlet, letter) and leads to the production by students of such texts.

GL/ENSL 3510 3.00 Modes of Communication. Study of processes in human communication (verbal/non verbal) to develop a framework for analyzing the language and social conventions underlying communication in such areas as interpersonal relations, business, the arts, academia, mass media. Focus on interpretative and productive expertise. Prerequisites: Advanced level placement on Glendon English Language Placement Test or equivalent.

GL/ENSL 3700 3.00 Studies in English Literature. The course gives advanced English as a second language students the opportunity to develop their experience of English language and culture through the study of literary texts.

GL/ENSL 3800 3.00 Dealing With Viewpoint. A course on the nature, construction and interpretation of argument, focusing on a broad variety of texts from different sources including academic and public documents and several kinds of media. Development of appropriate language resources for academic tasks.

AS/ESL 1000 9.00 Canadian Language and Culture. This course develops the linguistic/academic skills of students from English as a second language backgrounds, using themes such as language and communication, culture and identity, the immigrant/refugee experience, multiculturalism, Canada's aboriginal peoples and Quebec. A variety of course activities develop course themes and language proficiency. (This course is affiliated with Stong College.) Degree credit exclusions: AS/HUMA 1220 6.00, AS/ESL 1000 6.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/ESL 1000 9.00 and AS/HUMA 1220 9.00

AS/ESL 2000 6.00 English in Use. This course provides opportunities for students to develop their English language skills while learning more about the varieties of written and spoken English. Students learn to analyze both spoken and written texts as connected discourse and become familiar with some of the ways in which literary and non-literary texts can be examined. Prerequisite: AS/ESL 1000 6.00 or permission of the department.

Environmental science encompasses the study of the major natural interacting systems of climate, water, biota and landforms and the effects of human activities on these systems. The program provides students with a broad interdisciplinary education which is organized around the field of environmental science rather than being focused on a single academic discipline. It equips students with scientific knowledge and understanding of several environmental systems so that they can effectively analyze and deal with complex environmental problems.

Students are required to focus their studies on one of two streams (physical sciences and life sciences) and complete a set of core courses which provide a minimum breadth in both the physical and life sciences.

For specific requirements of the BSc Specialized Honours Program in Environmental Science and for the list of courses, see the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

The Faculty of Environmental Studies offers both the BES Specialized Honours program (120 credits) and the BES program (90 credits). Both of these programs introduce students to the links between the exploitation of the natural world and justice issues related to class exploitation, racism and gender inequity. Fully aware of the growing interdependencies of human and natural life-worlds in a globalized environment, the Faculty of Environmental Studies believes that an inclusion of non-Western perspectives is essential to a fruitful discussion of all environmental issues. To that end, the Faculty strives to include a broad range of perspectives in its course offerings. The York University BES program is designed to equip students with the knowledge and understanding to deal effectively yet sensitively with complex environmental and social problems arising at the local, national or global scale.

Note: A BES program supplemental calendar is available each spring in the FES Undergraduate Office of Student and Academic Services (352 Lumbers Building) or on the Faculty of Environmental Studies Web site at: <http://www.yorku.ca/fes/>.

Courses in Environmental Studies

For complete requirements of the BES program and BES Specialized Honours program, please consult the Faculty of Environmental Studies section of this Calendar. A proportion of the places in most BES courses is available to students in other Faculties. Please consult the BES supplemental calendar for details.

ES/ENVS 1000 6.00 Perspectives in Environmental Studies. This course is designed to provide students with a perspective or framework of understanding for environmental studies at the broadest level. The course introduces students to environmental issues, using the urgent, emerging prospect of the fate of the "Earth in our hands" as the organizing ethical, scientific and practical theme. Lecture and tutorial topics will range over a number of environmental approaches, drawing on a diversity of arts and sciences, including environmental history, environmental ethics, ecology, economics and planning, emphasizing the fact that environmental studies is fundamentally an attempt to integrate the study of the natural world with the study of the human dimensions of that world.

ES/ENVS 1050 3.00 Introductory Perspectives in Environmental Studies. In the context of interdisciplinary perspectives in environmental studies, this course focuses on the development of critical skills as they relate to the socio-political realities that inform the creation of knowledge in a university context. The course begins with a discussion regarding "What is education for?" and then applies this question to the global development/environment debate and the various policy strategies which have arisen out of the debate. Students will then develop group research projects which are informed by these discussions.

ES/ENVS 1200 6.00 Environmental Research and Action Workshop. Students learn to identify, research and act on local/global issues of environmental and social justice. Working in small groups, they develop basic skills in collaborative research, social analysis, action planning and creative communications. The workshop introduces them to the praxis pedagogy of the program, connects them to organizations addressing the issues and culminates in actions and presentations.

ES/ENVS 1500 6.00 Introduction to Environmental Science. The course provides an introduction to the elements of physics, chemistry, biology and ecology that are necessary for the study of environmental problems. It also acquaints students with techniques (including computer techniques) for the description, organization and display of quantitative data. Note: This course is not intended for students who have OAC's in both biology and chemistry.

ES/ENVS 1800 6.00 Environmental Writing / Writing the Environment. This course introduces students to a range of modes of writing in environmental studies. In the process of reading, discussing and practising different kinds of environmental writing, students will develop a variety of writing skills in addition to an appreciation of writing as an important form of environmental action. The course also considers writing in relation to oral traditions and newer technologies. Note: This course is not intended for English as a second language students.

ES/ENVS 2100 6.00 Foundations in Environment and Culture: Philosophy, Arts, Technology and Education. This foundational course enables students to develop a rigorous engagement with some of the complex dimensions of environmental culture, and to develop their abilities as engaged cultural actors in varied environmental milieu - as artists, critics, scholars and educators. In addition to learning how to read texts and situations critically and carefully, students will develop a cross-cultural, cross-disciplinary, environmentally-grounded array of creative skills. The course prepares students to address such issues as: the historical, conceptual and philosophical dimensions of environmental problems; the co-development of social, technological and ecological histories in particular places and globally; the cultural production of environmental issues in literature, the arts and popular culture; relations among nature science and technology in such areas as biotechnology or animal rights; the transformation of environments through literary, visual and performing arts; critical analysis of representations of nature and media literacy; and the contemporary range of environmental and social discourses in diverse cultural and disciplinary traditions and practices.

ES/ENVS 2150 3.00 Environment, Technology and Sustainable Society. This course introduces the various technical, socio-political and philosophical issues associated with the concept of sustainable society. Emphasis is placed on the analysis of the complex relationship between humans, technology, nature, ideology and the social infrastructure. Note: ES/ENVS 2150 3.00 is not open to environmental studies students who are enrolled in ES/ENVS 2100 6.00.

ES/ENVS 2200 6.00 Foundations of Urban and Regional Environments: Analysis, Planning and Design. This course focuses on the interrelationships of the ecological, social, built and organizational environments within the urban and regional setting. It provides a critical understanding of urban and regional environments along with a solutions-based approach to addressing urban and regional issues with an explicitly environmental perspective. Students will attain a thorough knowledge of the theories, histories and current issues of urbanization and regionalization and their effect on environments, but also learn practical methods of analysis and intervention in different human settlements. With the Greater Toronto Area as a field laboratory, there will be an emphasis on application and involvement.

ES/ENVS 2300 6.00 Foundations of Environmental Politics: Development, Globalization and Justice. The course examines how communities and environments are being dramatically transformed by the globalization of economies and cultures. It analyzes the reasons for this transformation as well as responses to them at local, regional, national and international levels. It explores competing approaches to environmental politics, development and justice that are being formulated and put into practice by a variety of governmental, non-governmental and international actors.

ES/ENVS 2400 6.00 Foundations of Environmental Management: Policy, Resources and Conservation. Drawing on the natural and social sciences, this course examines the role of policy and management strategies in addressing environmental, nature resource and conservation challenges, in ways supportive of sustainable development. It provides an overview of the concepts, knowledge and skills that are needed to be effective in environmental policy and management in government, business and not-for-profit sectors.

ES/ENVS 2410 3.00 The Science of Pollution: Impacts on the Environment and Human Health. The course introduces students to the major scientific concepts and principles that govern the origin, fate and effect of pollutants in the environment. Topics include fossil fuel and alternative energy sources, atmospheric pollution, heavy metal and pesticide toxicology, organic sewage and endocrine disrupters. Further objectives of this course are to develop students' ability to analyze, manipulate, present and interpret scientific data and to develop the students' ability to review and critique scientific reports on scientific problems.

ES/ENVS 2420 3.00 Ecology and Conservation Science. The purpose of the course is to present the main scientific concepts and principles of ecology and conservation science that are applicable to environmental problems frequently encountered in environmental studies. Topics include diagnosing species declines, conservation genetics, ecology of invasive species, habitat fragmentation, national parks and ecotourism. The more specific objectives of this course are to: give critical reflection on how these concepts are used; develop students' ability to analyze, manipulate, present and interpret scientific data; and develop the students' ability to review and critique scientific reports on scientific problems.

ES/ENVS 3000 3.00 Environmental Ethics and Epistemology. This course identifies, examines and compares ethical perspectives from diverse traditions with a particular focus on the interplay of ethics and epistemology, and metaphysical issues and their relationship to underlying cultural, environmental and spiritual values. Individual ethics and practical applications in "living a good life" will be explored.

ES/ENVS 3009 3.00 Quantitative Methods in Environmental Studies. An introduction to the skills necessary to pursue and understand statistical data analysis. Topics include: graphing, frequency distributions, measures of central tendency, an introduction to probability, statistical inference, hypothesis testing and bivariate regression. Statistical software will be utilized to perform data analysis on the computer.

ES/ENVS 3010 3.00 Qualitative Methods in Environmental Studies. After a discussion of the logic of qualitative research, selected qualitative methods will be examined in detail. Topics include: field research, participant and non-participant observation, interviews, oral history, field experiments, participatory action research, non-obtrusive research, grounded theory and the analysis of qualitative data.

ES/ENVS 3011 3.00 Introduction to Senior Honours Work. This course prepares students for their fourth year Senior Honours Work around selected interdisciplinary themes proposed by faculty members around their research interests. Sections organized by faculty members will explore appropriate methods and will help students develop proposal for major papers or major projects that relate to the theme. This course lays the groundwork for ES/ENVS 4000 6.00, Senior Honours Work Seminar.

ES/ENVS 3110 3.00 Science and the Environment. The course explores links between scientific research, the application of scientific knowledge, and environmental issues and policy. It starts with an overview of how scientific knowledge is generated and then explores how it influences environmental institutions and decision-making. Case studies critically examine controversies and conflicts in how scientific knowledge has or has not changed and affected policy and the state of the environment.

ES/ENVS 3120 3.00 Environmental History. The course examines the culture-environment relationship in historical perspective. The focus is on ways in which social change is triggered by environmental change and vice-versa. Case studies illustrate general patterns of change, such as those associated with the introduction of alien species, new modes of agricultural production. Prerequisite: ES/ENVS 2100 3.00 or permission of the instructor.

ES/ENVS 3130 3.00 Energy and the Environment. The course focuses on relationships between socio-economic development, energy use and the environment in Canada. Energy sources, energy end use, energy technology and energy institutions as well as the social and ecological impacts of energy use are examined. Energy systems supportive of sustainable development are explored. Prerequisite: ES/ENVS 2100 3.00 or permission of the instructor.

ES/ENVS 3140 3.00 Environmental and Sustainability Education. The course explores concepts and practices in environmental education in the widest sense, comprising formal, informal and aboriginal education ideas. The course takes a critical and historical and cultural approach to environmental education with an emphasis on developing and practising sustainable perspectives on how people learn about, think about and remember the natural environment.

ES/ENVS 3150 3.00 Human/Non-Human Animal Relations. This course will consider a variety of human relationships to other animals in science and technology, literature, ethics, art, education and law. The foundation of this course will be a contemporary, post-Cartesian vision of animals, with an emphasis on the relational knowledge that is made about and between humans and other animals. The course will cover topics about wild, feral, captive, domesticated and companion animals. Themes and issues to be discussed will include animal sociality, animal consciousness, animals and biotechnology, animals in human imagination and humane education. Students will develop a major research project on scientific and socio-cultural ideas and representations of an animal(s) of their choice.

ES/ENVS 3151 3.00 Environmental Politics and Advocacy I. This course introduces students to a range of approaches and issues in environmental politics and advocacy. Themes include: political dimensions of contemporary environmental problems; main currents in environmental political thought; and relations between governmental and non-governmental organizations in environmental advocacy.

ES/ENVS 3160 3.00 Race/Racism and Environmental Justice. The course examines the intersection of race/racism and environmentalism. It begins from the premise that environmental issues are always already racialized. Issues as diverse as toxic facility siting, environmental assessment practices, ecological philosophies and popular nature representations (re)produce powerful assumptions that turn on racist/racialized constructs. Discussion may include: the history and current practices of environmental justice movements; questions of race and representation in green politics; the significance of environmentalism's silence about race; cross-cultural and anti-racist environmental politics; and post-colonial perspectives on global environmental issues.

ES/ENVS 3225 3.00 Regional Governance. Regional governance includes the government and civic organization of all aspects of life in an (urban) region. This course introduces concepts of the region, regionalism, regional government and regional economic development. While the course has an international perspective, there will be a strong focus on historical and current regional governance in the Toronto urban region. Particular attention will be paid to issues related to environmental governance, bioregional issues and watershed planning and management.

ES/ENVS 3226 3.00 Planning Environmentally. This course considers the potential for planning environmentally both within and outside the formal planning processes, and by and planners and non-planners alike. The relationships between planning and environmental issues are explored at different scales ranging from the neighbourhood to the urban region.

ES/ENVS 3230 3.00 Ecological Landscape Restoration. This course explores the theoretical, biophysical and applied dimensions of ecological restoration. The course examines the circumstances surrounding policy, design and planning, and implementation of ecological restoration, and investigates a variety of approaches (techniques and methods) enhancing the ecological integrity of degraded sites and regions. The regional focus of the course is the Greater Toronto bioregion though lessons and experiences will relate to broader issues of ecological restoration. Sites visits and direct participation in several ecological landscape restoration projects on the York campus and in and around Toronto will contribute directly to student's learning.

ES/ENVS 3310 3.00 Tropical Conservation and Sustainable Development. This course is a study of the theory and practice of conservation as applied to sustainable development in tropical environments. Emphasis on the integration of ecological, cultural and institutional dimensions in conservation practice for sustainability.

ES/ENVS 3340 3.00 Global Environmental Politics. The course examines the interrelationship between globalization and environment. It analyzes the historical development of the global environmental system and theoretical approaches to understanding the global environment. It considers the main actors, institutions and legal instruments related to global environmental issues. The environmental impacts of, and political responses to, such phenomena as global warming, trade, structural adjustment, transnational corporate activity, foreign aid, environmental security and biodiversity depletion are studied.

ES/ENVS 3410 3.00 Environmental Policy I. The formulation of environmental policy is the focus its underlying scope, concepts, legal bases, methodologies. Case studies illustrate the interaction of environmental policy with other policy areas: foreign and trade policy, economic and social policy. Critical review of how policy is created participants, effects, burdens and benefits. Prerequisite: ES/ENVS 2400 3.00 or permission of the instructor.

ES/ENVS 3420 3.00 Environmental Law. Introduction to basic legal concepts: sources of law, legal remedies, common law, administrative law. Planning acts, environmental protection acts and environmental assessment acts. Litigation processes, hearing boards, and their operation. Critical review of environmental legal concepts and their social, economic and environmental effects. Prerequisite: ES/ENVS 2400 3.00 or permission of the instructor.

ES/ENVS 3430 3.00 Environmental Assessment. The course provides a critical overview of the theory and practice of environmental assessment (EA). Course objectives include gaining familiarity with the fundamentals of EA; exploring substantive and process-oriented issues through case studies; and practising methods and techniques. EA is examined broadly as a management and decision-support tool with applications at the project, planning and policy levels.

ES/ENVS 3440 3.00 Resource Management. Current theories of resource management, methods, information and decision-making are reviewed critically. Ethical, cultural, social and economic perspectives on resource management are explored through case studies. Prerequisite: Third-year environmental studies specialty or permission of the instructor.

ES/ENVS 3450 3.00 Environment and Health: Social and Political Dimensions. The overall purpose of this course is to develop a broader and critical framework that can be used to understand how human health is influenced by the larger cultural, ecological and political-economic forces at work in contemporary society. Topics include: socio-political aspects of toxicological risk management, environmental epidemiology, the precautionary principle and social movements and environmental health.

ES/ENVS 3510 3.00 Environmental Economics. The application of economic principles to environmental issues is introduced and critically reviewed. Linkages between economic factors, social processes and natural environments are explored. The use of economic principles in deriving solutions to issues of pollution control, resource depletion and environmental regulation is explored.

ES/ENVS 3520 3.00 Applications of Geographic Information Systems in Environmental Studies. This course provides students with an introduction to the application of Geographic Information Systems (GIS) as they are commonly used to address contemporary environmental issues. Various applications, techniques and theoretical frameworks are presented to provide a critical appreciation of this geo-spatial technology. Students gain hands-on experience using industry standard software products and associated technologies (i.e. global positioning systems) to increase their ability to apply these computer-based methods of geographic inquiry. A wide range of case studies, research projects and laboratory assignments are used to demonstrate the principles of the growing area of study.

ES/ENVS 3521 3.00 Environmental Remote Sensing. This course represents an introduction to the methods in which remote sensing data are collected, processed and analyzed. An emphasis is placed on environmental applications. The synergy between the technologies of remote sensing and geographic information systems (GIS) is also stressed. Two lecture hours, two laboratory hours. One term. Prerequisite(s): AS/SC/GEOG 2420 3.00, or ES/ENVS 2010 6.00 and one 2000-level environmental studies theme foundation course; or written permission of the course director. Degree credit exclusion: AS/SC/GEOG 4390T 3.00.

Cross-listed to: ES/ENVS 3521 3.00 and AS/GEOG 3440 3.00 and SC/GEOG 3440 3.00

ES/ENVS 3700 6.00 Introductory Design Studio. Studio examines environmental landscape theory and design principles as shaped by social, psychological and behavioural practices. Studios stress the development and coordination of various phases of the design process. Studio topics vary from semester to semester to develop real and hypothetical design projects of various themes, scales, actors, methods and complexity. Fall Studio (1) will focus on the theories and application of design theory and landscape analysis to a site-specific project. Using the basics of site analysis methods, the studio will develop proposals for a small-scale space (campus education garden). Spring Studio (2) will examine the theories and application of design theory and landscape analysis to an urban community project. Components, structures and meanings of the built environment will be assessed through visual surveys, spatial analysis and interview techniques. Attention is given to the complexity and dynamism of urban form and social experiences (community gardens).

ES/ENVS 3720 3.00 Computer Applications for Environmental Landscape Design. This course introduces students to the capabilities and applications of Computer Assisted Design (Auto-CAD), software used for design and drafting in landscape architecture, urban design and planning. The course emphasizes the production of design development and construction documents using CAD and other image processing (Photoshop) and graphic presentation (Quark or PageMaker) programs.

ES/ENVS 3730 3.00 Environmental Landscape Design Process and Practice. This course introduces theoretical, analytical, conceptual, design and communication skills in environmental landscape design. Studio exercises develop fundamental knowledge of landscape design principles, applications and phases of the design process. This course also examines important aspects of professional practice and is intended to broaden the student's understanding of the discipline and its interdisciplinary connections.

ES/ENVS 3740 3.00 Urban Natural Processes. This course examines the challenges and potentials of incorporating ecological factors in urban environments. Lectures, research, fieldtrips, readings and discussion provide the framework for the interpretation and understanding of natural processes and cultural patterns and practices in the urban landscape. Natural and cultural contexts are examined as a source of design as inspiration and expression. Types of urban environments and design projects will provide a framework of inquiry, criticism and interpretations.

ES/ENVS 3760 3.00 Native Plants Ecosystems. This course provides an introduction to a broad range of native plants through their natural relationships to plant communities, botanical and structural characteristics, environmental conditions and planting design applications. Intensive field course emphasizes plant identification (classification structure-family, genus, species- and terminology-scientific and common names) and plant dynamics (landscape habitats and opportunities).

ES/ENVS 3770 3.00 Ornamental Plants and Design. This course provides an introduction to a wide range of non-native ornamental plants suitable for use in Ontario landscapes. Intensive field trips emphasize plant identification, horticultural factors and environmental dynamics. Horticultural techniques for landscape plantings include plant selection (form and character), growth and development, soils and planting techniques, maintenance options, seasonal programming and design composition principles.

ES/ENVS 3900 3.00 Directed Reading. Directed reading and directed study courses are intended for enrolment by BES major students who wish to pursue intensive individual work with a particular Faculty of Environmental Studies faculty member on a specific topic of study.

ES/ENVS 3900 6.00 Directed Reading. Directed reading and directed study courses are intended for enrolment by BES major students who wish to pursue intensive individual work with a particular Faculty of Environmental Studies faculty member on a specific topic of study.

ES/ENVS 3900A 3.00 Directed Reading. Directed reading and directed study courses are intended for enrolment by BES major students who wish to pursue intensive individual work with a particular Faculty of Environmental Studies faculty member on a specific topic of study.

ES/ENVS 3900A 6.00 Directed Reading. Directed reading and directed study courses are intended for enrolment by BES major students who wish to pursue intensive individual work with a particular Faculty of Environmental Studies faculty member on a specific topic of study.

ES/ENVS 4000 6.00 Senior Honours Work Seminar. Course Team: Supervisors of individual students' Senior Honours Work as approved in ENVS 3011 3.00 Introduction to Senior Honour Work in previous winter term. Students develop their own interests in the context of a collaborative project around select themes led by a faculty member's research interests, connected with the areas of concentration, developed through a seminar. Senior Honours Work includes multiple approaches and outcomes within two broad categories: 1) major paper (research paper, synthesis paper, literature review, content analysis, literary work etc.) 2) major project (workshops, cultural productions, studio, field project etc. - accompanied by a reflection paper).

ES/ENVS 4041 6.00 Alternative Economic Firms and Arrangements.

This course investigates alternatives to capitalist corporations that are characterized by some degree of mutuality, such as co-operatives and worker-owned firms. Key issues examined include the competitiveness of alternatives and their desirability on other grounds, including contributions to local economic development.

Cross-listed to: ES/ENVS 4041 6.00 and AS/SOSC 4041 6.00

ES/ENVS 4100 3.00 Environmental Literatures. This course will explore the role of literature and literary criticism (including ecocriticism) in interpreting, creating and transforming environmental discourse and politics. It will take up questions concerning the historical development of environmental and nature writing, and will explore a variety of contemporary genres that call older traditions to account. Through the close reading of a diverse collection of literary texts (poetry, novels, short stories, plays etc.), we will examine and practice a number of different approaches to defining, reading and critiquing environmental literatures.

ES/ENVS 4111 3.00 Biodiversity. We do not know the number of species on Earth, even to the nearest order of magnitude. This course discusses the factors that influence the number of species in an area and the importance of biodiversity to humanity. Two lecture hours, three laboratory hours. One term. Three credits. Prerequisite: Completion of 60 credits towards a degree in biology or environmental science or environmental studies, or permission of the instructor.

Cross-listed to: SC/BIOL 4255 3.00 and ES/ENVS 4111 3.00

ES/ENVS 4120 3.00 Natural History. The course explores the beliefs, theories and practices of naturalists, through readings as well as visits to sites of natural history. It examines the ways in which current approaches to natural history are products of the historical development of the field, and reflect assumptions regarding scientific knowledge formation and practice.

ES/ENVS 4140 3.00 Environmental Thought. The course is an introduction to diverse ways of seeing and understanding nature. A historical perspective on the development of environmental thought leads to an exploration of various perspectives and critiques of the standard scientific and technological approaches to understanding nature, as offered by alternative schools of thought such as humanists, deep ecologists and ecofeminists. Prerequisite: ES/ENVS 2100 3.00 or permission of the instructor.

ES/ENVS 4151 3.00 Environmental Politics and Advocacy II. This course focuses on current developments in politics and advocacy on environmental issues. Topic may include: recent trends in political theory; the impact of globalization on environmental advocacy; and the rise of new social and environmental movements. Prerequisite: ES/ENVS 3151 3.00 or permission of the instructor.

ES/ENVS 4161 3.00 New Social Movements. This course examines new social movements that have arisen in response to the crisis of industrial culture, economic restructuring, shifting political formations and ecological disasters. The course focuses on current theories of social movements, contested issues and case studies of social movements in action and is intended to provide opportunities for students to gain first hand experience with social movement organizations through participatory research projects. Prerequisite: Fourth-year standing or permission of the instructor.

ES/ENVS 4210 3.00 World Population Issues and Problems. The course examines the trends, causes and consequences in population growth and movements across the globe. It studies the environmental impacts of rises in population, global refugee and immigration patterns and their socio-environmental consequences, and the influence of new immigrants and diasporas on national identity and culture. Case studies explore existing and alternative family planning policies, the enhancement of women's status through educational, health and employment strategies, and immigration and multicultural policies in developed and developing countries.

ES/ENVS 4220 3.00 Urbanization in Developing Countries. The key issues of cities in the Third World are addressed, including squatter settlements, rural-urban migration, urban agriculture, housing, urban transport, basic services (water, sanitation, waste management, health and education), urban governance, socio-cultural diversity and urban environmental planning. Case studies demonstrate public policies and their link to socio-economic, cultural and environmental issues.

ES/ENVS 4225 3.00 Urban Sustainability I. The course takes a conceptual approach to defining sustainability for urban areas, considering patterns of land use, human activities, natural systems and needed rehabilitation. Concepts such as urban ecology, social ecology, the ecological footprint etc. will be discussed. Social sustainability, environmental justice and urban governance are central to the course design. Case studies explore ways of making urban areas more sustainable.

ES/ENVS 4226 3.00 Urban Sustainability II. This course provides a pragmatic approach to the problems of urban sustainability. First, it looks at how urbanism shapes perceptions of nature and how environmental and social values are linked; second, how a broadly based ecological view of cities is necessary to their environmental and social health; third, the main part of the course is concerned with how the application of ecological processes to urban design can influence urban form and increase sustainability.

ES/ENVS 4312 3.00 Global Justice and Humanitarian Internationalism. In the context of international humanitarianism and advocacy, this course provides a general introduction to international justice, drawing on basic philosophical ethics. It begins with theoretical schools of thought to then enable students to apply ethical analysis to particular controversies.

Cross-listed to: ES/ENVS 4312 3.00 and AS/POLS 4212 3.00

ES/ENVS 4320 3.00 Gender and Development. The course presents an overview of gender and development analysis as a framework for considering the role of women in third world development. Consideration of theories and concepts leads to case studies illustrating issues and practices. Prerequisite: Fourth-year standing or permission of the instructor.

ES/ENVS 4410 3.00 Environmental Policy II. The course presents a theory of policy development, covering the roles of various groups such as the public, NGOs, the media and industry and applies the theory to the processes of international Conventions and Protocols. These include the Canada/US Boundary Waters Treaty, and the Canada/USA Air Quality Accord. This course covers some of the mechanisms that use environmental science to establish Convention on Substances that Deplete the Ozone Layer, the Convention on Biological Diversity, The Framework Convention on Climate Change and the Kyoto Protocol.

ES/ENVS 4411 3.00 Bioregional Field Course: Headwaters and Niagara Escarpment Area of Dufferin County. This field course seeks to contribute to a bioregionally based vision for the country side of the beautiful and ecologically important headwaters and Niagara Escarpment area of Dufferin County. There is an additional fee to partially cover the cost of food and accommodations at the Ecology Retreat Centre.

ES/ENVS 4420 3.00 Environment, Media, Culture and Communication. Media and communication technologies both shape and are shaped by cultural constructs, institutions and practices. This course will examine how the environment is framed and contested through dominant and alternative media, applying critical media, communication and cultural studies theories (such as political economy, textual analysis and audience reception). A variety of media forms will be explored (print and broadcast, photography and video, Web-based and digital media, spoken word and performance etc.) through active critique and creative cultural production.

ES/ENVS 4430 3.00 Impact Assessment Processes and Practice. The current processes and practices of environmental and social impact assessment are critically reviewed through case studies. Emerging conceptual and methodological issues in the field are explored in the context of actual practice situations. Prerequisite: ES/ENVS 3430 3.00 or permission of the instructor.

ES/ENVS 4440 3.00 Environmental Disasters. The overall objective of this course is to gain an understanding of the causes and responses to natural and technological disasters. An in-depth examination of various case studies of disasters will be used to illustrate the principles involved. Topics include the history of disaster research, emergency management, normal accidents and the psychosocial impacts of disasters.

ES/ENVS 4442 3.00 Environmental Monitoring and Auditing. Concepts of environmental monitoring and auditing are presented through lectures, projects and field trips. Emphasis is placed on understanding the categories and objectives of environmental monitoring that routinely provide much of the scientific understanding needed to resolve environmental problems. Students gain a detailed knowledge of national and international monitoring networks and how the results are being applied to current environmental issues such as climate change and biodiversity. Attention is given to the use of monitoring data in establishing environmental indicators.

ES/ENVS 4445 3.00 Environmental Conservation in Ontario: Policy and Applications. This course examines current and emerging conservation policy and conservation applications in Ontario, including the Greater Toronto Area. Examples of conservation in Ontario to be critically examined include: protected areas policy, regulatory frameworks, Ontario's Conservation Authorities, land stewardship, citizen engagement with conservation, heritage trusts, the Bruce Trail Association, ecotourism and protection of biodiversity in Northern Ontario.

ES/ENVS 4446 3.00 Protected Area Management. This course will explore protected area management, which is a form of environmental management focusing on an area of land and/or freshwater/sea especially dedicated to the protection and maintenance of biological diversity, and of natural and associated cultural resources, and managed through legal or other effective means.

ES/ENVS 4450 3.00 Environmental Management and Policy in Practice. This course explores the role, existing and future, of environmental policy and management to address environmental challenges through case study analysis of topical Ontario and Canadian environmental issues. Such issues include: Canada's response to the Kyoto Accord and global climate change; air quality in Southern Ontario; drinking water quality in Ontario. The course will include field trips and guest lectures.

ES/ENVS 4455 3.00 Information Technology: Applications in Environmental Management. This course examines the impact of information technology on various aspects of civil society with a special emphasis on environmental management and community sustainability. It focuses on how various software and hardware systems such as Geographic Information System (GIS), Global Positioning System (GPS), remote sensing, modeling and simulation, and broadband Internet communications are being applied to learn about, characterize and manage our physical environment. The course also explores how software tools such as MapReflections, QUEST, e-Dialogues etc., are also being used to enhance our social infrastructure by enabling community-based participation, knowledge-sharing and decision making.

ES/ENVS 4510 3.00 Ecological Economics. This course provides an introduction to the emerging field of ecological economics. Areas of focus include the appropriate scale of the economy in relation to the environment, the role of discount rates in mediating intergenerational and interspecies equity, environmental valuation, full-cost accounting, environmental risk assessment, and the application of thermodynamic and ecological principles in economic analysis.

ES/ENVS 4520 3.00 Geographical Information Systems Applications in Environmental Studies. This course focuses on advanced applications of geographic information systems (GIS) to topics related to planning and resource management. The technical aspects of GIS applications will be explored along with considerations related to database development. Students will gain hands-on experience with data input through scanners and digitizers, and with GIS analyses using both vector and raster data models. A significant part of the course will involve the development of a GIS database for analysis through group projects. Prerequisite: ES/ENVS 3520 3.00 or the permission of the instructor.

ES/ENVS 4521 3.00 Remote Sensing and Image Processing for Geographical Analysis and Environmental Monitoring. Sophisticated methods and techniques for collecting, processing and analyzing remote sensing data are examined. Special topics include image enhancement techniques (e.g. texture transforms), non-traditional image classification and data integration for incorporation of remote sensing data products into geographic information systems (GIS). One and one-half lecture hours, one and one-half laboratory hours. One term. Prerequisite: AS/GEOG 3440 3.00 or ES/ENVS 3521 3.00 or SC/EATS 4220 3.00 or written permission of the course director. Degree credit exclusion: AS/SC/GEOG 4390T 3.00.

Cross-listed to: ES/ENVS 4521 3.00 and AS/GEOG 4440 3.00 and SC/GEOG 4440 3.00

ES/ENVS 4522 3.00 Internet-Distributed Geographic Information System (GIS) for Public Engagement. This course examines the role of geo-spatial information technologies as applied public engagement activities. Students will review literature in areas of social theory, public participation and technology-mediated engagement techniques while developing applied knowledge through project design and implementation exercises.

ES/ENVS 4700 6.00 Advanced Environmental Landscape Design Studio. Building on ES/ENVS 3700 6.00, Introductory ELD Studio, Advanced ELD Studio expands on students' previous design experience by examining projects of greater breadth and complexity. Involves an intensive exploration of the design process in environmental planning and ecological design.

ES/ENVS 4750 3.00 Landscape Theory, History and Criticism. This course is structured around a critical analysis of historical and theoretical issues related to natural and urban landscapes. The emphasis of this course is on the development and transformation of landscapes as an expression of various social, cultural, physical, economic, political, artistic, technological and ecological forces through space and time.

ES/ENVS 4760 3.00 Landscape Materials and Applications. Lectures and studio exercises studying a variety of materials commonly used for landscape construction. The courses will focus on the visual and technical qualities of landscape material (organic and manufactured) and structures. Applications, methods of installation, limitations and potentials of materials are reviewed through design and construction details.

ES/ENVS 4770 3.00 Landscape Design Construction. Lectures and studio exercises on technical procedures needed to implement design processes. Construction processes include layout, grading and drainage, circulation design, landscape structures, special features, and planting plans and details.

ES/ENVS 4800Q 3.00 Urban Development Process. Critical investigation of approaches to, and topics in, processes of urban growth, decline, development, and redevelopment. Twentieth century theories of urbanization are examined and their relevancy for understanding selected recent urban problems are studied. Integrated with ES/ENVS 5021 3.0

ES/ENVS 4900 3.00 Directed Study. Directed reading and directed study courses are intended for enrolment by BES major students who wish to pursue intensive individual work with a particular Faculty of Environmental Studies faculty member on a specific topic of study.

ES/ENVS 4900 6.00 Directed Study. Directed reading and directed study courses are intended for enrolment by BES major students who wish to pursue intensive individual work with a particular Faculty of Environmental Studies faculty member on a specific topic of study.

ES/ENVS 4900Z 3.00 Directed Study. Directed reading and directed study courses are intended for enrolment by BES major students who wish to pursue intensive individual work with a particular Faculty of Environmental Studies faculty member on a specific topic of study.

ES/ENVS 4900Z 6.00 Directed Study. Directed reading and directed study courses are intended for enrolment by BES major students who wish to pursue intensive individual work with a particular Faculty of Environmental Studies faculty member on a specific topic of study.

GL/Fran 1740 3.00 Grammaire et rédaction I. Ce cours s'adresse aux étudiants francophones qui n'ont pas les connaissances grammaticales nécessaires pour s'exprimer de façon satisfaisante à l'écrit. Le programme comporte une révision grammaticale systématique, des analyses de textes, des exercices d'enrichissement de vocabulaire ainsi que des rédactions.

Language of Instruction: French

GL/Fran 1745 3.00 Grammaire et rédaction II. Ce cours a pour but de consolider les connaissances acquises en GL/Fran 1740 3.00. Le programme comporte des exercices de vocabulaire, de syntaxe et de composition. Condition préalable: GL/Fran 1740 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

GL/Fran 1800 3.00 Panorama historique de la littérature française I.

Ce cours a pour but de donner aux étudiants un aperçu de l'histoire de la littérature française, du Moyen Âge jusqu'à la fin du XVIIe siècle; et d'améliorer leur aptitude à lire et à analyser un texte littéraire ainsi que celle de s'exprimer oralement et par écrit sur des textes et des questions littéraires. Ce cours est destiné aux étudiants de première ou de deuxième année voulant se spécialiser en Études françaises et qui sont capables de s'exprimer en français (oralement et par écrit) et de lire des textes littéraires en français. Ce cours n'est pas offert aux étudiants qui ont terminé les cours GL/FRLS 2240 6.00(FR), GL/Fran 2210 3.00(FR) et GL/Fran 2212 3.00(FR).

GL/Fran 1810 3.00 Panorama historique de la littérature française II.

Ce cours a pour but de donner aux étudiants un aperçu de l'histoire de la littérature française du XVIIIe au XIXe siècle et d'améliorer leur aptitude à lire et à analyser un texte littéraire, ainsi que celle de s'exprimer oralement et par écrit sur des textes et des questions littéraires. Condition préalable : GL/Fran 1800 3.00(FR) ou cours reconnu par le département comme équivalent. Ce cours n'est pas offert aux étudiants qui ont terminé les cours GL/FRLS 2240 6.00(FR), GL/Fran 2240 6.00(FR) ou GL/Fran 2210 3.00(FR) et GL/Fran 2212 3.00(FR) (ou qui en ont été dispensés).

Language of Instruction: French

GL/Fran 2011 3.00 Les beaux arts au Québec. Ce cours porte sur ce qui s'est fait de plus représentatif et significatif dans les beaux-arts au Québec depuis l'arrivée des Français en Nouvelle-France jusqu'à nos jours. Étude historique, esthétique, sémiotique et idéologique. Condition préalable : Avoir suivi le cours GL/FRLS 1520 6.00 ou en avoir été dispensé.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/CDNS 2011 3.00 and GL/Fran 2011 3.00 and GL/HUMA 2011 3.00

GL/Fran 2210 3.00 Pratiques de rédaction : résumé et synthèse.

Ce cours a pour objectif le traitement synthétique de l'information. Il s'appuie sur une méthodologie ayant pour objectifs la sélection pertinente de l'information et l'utilisation optimale des outils linguistiques. Les étudiants auront à produire des synthèses et des résumés à partir de sources variées. Condition préalable : avoir obtenu une note minimale de C en GL/Fran 1745 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

GL/Fran 2212 3.00 Pratiques de rédaction : l'argumentation.

Ce cours a pour objet l'analyse et la rédaction de textes argumentatifs et s'appuie sur l'observation et la mise en oeuvre de la description, de l'explication et de l'argumentation dans la phrase, le paragraphe et le texte. Il inclut l'étude systématique des outils linguistiques nécessaires à la compréhension et à la production de textes argumentatifs. Condition préalable : avoir obtenu une note minimum de C en GL/Fran 2210 3.00.

Language of Instruction: French

GL/Fran 2214 3.00 Grammaire et lexique. Le cours propose une étude générale de la grammaire et du lexique français aux fins de la rédaction, mais aussi de l'acuité de lecture. On insistera sur l'utilisation efficace des ouvrages de référence.

Language of Instruction: French

GL/Fran 2335 6.00 Initiation à la méthodologie littéraire. Ce cours de méthodologie a pour objectif de familiariser les étudiants avec les techniques et la terminologie de la critique littéraire appliquée aux trois genres: roman, théâtre et poésie. Les étudiants seront initiés aux différentes démarches de la dissertation littéraire (recherche, bibliographie, références et plan) et à l'analyse littéraire proprement dite. Des approches diverses seront appliquées - l'analyse d'éléments littéraires tels que le personnage, l'organisation spatiale et temporelle, l'énonciation, l'intertexte, le style.

Language of Instruction: French

GL/Fran 2600 6.00 Introduction à la linguistique. On étudiera l'appareil conceptuel de la linguistique structurale, en montrant quel regard elle autorise sur les langues en général et sur le français en particulier. L'examen systématique des niveaux d'analyse (phonologie, morphologie, syntaxe et sémantique) permettra d'aborder les principales théories contemporaines : fonctionnalisme, générativisme, linguistique énonciative. Conditions préalables : Avoir terminé le GL/FRLS 1525 3.00 et GL/FRLS 1530 3.00 ou GL/Fran 1740 3.00 et Fran 1745 3.00. Cours incompatibles : GL/Fran 3220 3.00, GL/Fran 2220 6.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Cross-listed to: GL/Fran 2600 6.00 and GL/LIN 2600 6.00

GL/Fran 2645 6.00 Par delà le réalisme : l'art dramatique français au XXe siècle. Étude de la production et de la théorie théâtrale au XXe siècle en France et au Québec. La première partie du cours explore tout particulièrement des réalisations qui illustrent l'anti-réalisme à la fois dans les textes et dans la production théâtrale. La seconde partie du cours est consacrée à la production d'une pièce au Théâtre Glendon étudiée dans la première partie.

Programs of Study

York University's Department of Film & Video enables students to explore the media of film and video through a program of studio (film and video production) as well as critical, historical and theoretical studies. An undergraduate can specialize in any one of the previously mentioned areas, but must take some courses in each area. All Honours film and video majors must complete 12 credits in historical and theoretical studies, FA/FILM 1400 6.00 and FA/FILM 2400 6.00, and at least 24 credits at the 3000 level or above, of which at least half are within the student's area of concentration. Students concentrating in critical, historical and theoretical studies will receive an Honours BA degree. They are required to complete a minimum of 48 credits in the department and must include FA/FILM 1410 6.00 along with their upper-level requirements FA/FILM 3410 3.00, FA/FILM 4800 3.00, and at least three further credits at the 4000 level. They must also complete at least six credits in production, FA/FILM 2040 6.00.

Students concentrating in studio will receive an Honours BFA degree.

They are required to complete a minimum of 60 credits within the department, of which 27 additional credits in film and video must be at the 3000 or 4000 level at least 21 of which are from among the studio courses.

For studio students, the Film & Video Program encourages a blend of the conceptual areas of writing, directing and producing, while providing a professionally-oriented background in the creative crafts of cinematography, editing and sound. Our intention is to provide each student with a marketable skill in addition to a broad education in film and video. Studio students should be aware that the department does not provide a full subsidy for the sometimes heavy cost of film and video production. Some courses have additional fees which cover part of the general cost of the courses but in most film production courses students will be required to purchase additional supplies at their own expense and to pay damage deposits. Due to facilities available, spaces in upper-year courses are limited.

Courses in Film & Video

Some upper-year courses are not offered on an annual basis; some courses listed below may not be offered during the current academic session. Consult the Film & Video Department office for further information.

FA/FILM 1010 3.00 Introduction to Filmmaking I. Through lectures, screenings, workshops, and guest visits this course introduces the student to the concepts, formats and visual elements of the movie, and emphasizes ways in which film and videomakers translate ideas into moving images. Note: Required of all first-year film and video majors. Enrolment is limited to film and video majors.

FA/FILM 1020 3.00 Introduction to Filmmaking II. This course offers instruction in the fundamental concepts, procedures and techniques of visual and audio production as an idea is taken from the script to the screen. Course work includes the production of several short projects in various formats. Students are required to purchase production materials. Prerequisite or corequisite: FA/FILM 1010 3.00. Note: Required of all first-year film and video majors specializing in production and/or screenwriting. Enrolment is limited to film and video majors.

FA/FILM 1400 6.00 Film Art: An Introduction. An introduction to the aesthetics, theory and history of film. Lectures concentrate on the elements of film, including narrative structure, visual composition and the uses of sound and editing. Documentary, experimental and feature films are encompassed. Note: Required of all film and video majors and minors. Four hours.

FA/FILM 1401 6.00 Introduction to Film (for Non-Majors). This course is designed for non-majors and provides an introduction to the art and criticism of film. Students are introduced to some of the major films and movements that have come to define the evolution of cinema as a popular culture, political machine and art form.

FA/FILM 1410 6.00 Film History. This course introduces students to the major periods and technological developments in film history from its origin in chronophotography to present understanding of world cinema.

FA/FILM 1701 3.00 Hollywood: Old and New. This fully online introductory course will provide Web-based delivery of lectures and discussion groups complemented by the screenings and interviews of TVO's Saturday Night at the Movies. Key concepts in critical film analysis will be introduced and important themes in American film history will be examined.

FA/FILM 2010 6.00 Film and Video Production. The second-year course offers an intensive exploration of the techniques basic to film and electronic production. The emphasis is on producing several short subjects in both media for the widest possible experience and exploration of different forms in both media. Four hours. Prerequisites: FA/FILM 1010 3.00, FA/FILM 1020 3.00, FA/FILM 1400 6.00 and permission of the production committee. Corequisites: FA/FILM 2020 3.00 and FA/FILM 2170 3.00.

FA/FILM 2020 3.00 Post-Production. Step-by-step practical experience in creative and technical aspects of editing from the receipt of rushes to the final sound mix. Procedures and processes under discussion will include synching, cataloguing, picture and sound editing, music and sound effects lay-up and re-recording. Three hours. Additional fee required. Prerequisites: FA/FILM 1010 3.00, FA/FILM 1020 3.00 and permission of the production committee. Corequisite: FA/FILM 2010 6.00.

FA/FILM 2040 6.00 Video and Filmmaking. Theoretical and practical familiarization with small format video and filmmaking through lecture-demonstration and studio exercises. Working in groups, students will produce short projects in both media. Four hours. Note: Film students in the Specialized Honours BA program and the BA program must take either FA/FILM 2040 6.00 or FA/FILM 2120 6.00 as the required six studio credits. Not intended for students concentrating in film and video production. Prerequisite: Permission of the production committee.

FA/FILM 2120 6.00 Screenwriting Fundamentals. Introduces the craft of screenwriting, taking a general view of screenwriting and its relationship to filmmaking, storytelling and writing. This course is a prerequisite for all upper-level screenwriting courses. Prerequisites: Film and video majors: FA/FILM 1010 3.00 or permission of committee. Non-majors: permission of committee.

FA/FILM 2121 6.00 Introduction to Screenwriting. Provides a broad introduction to the art and craft of screenwriting. Designed for students with a strong interest in the subject, but who are not enrolled in the BFA program in the Department of Film & Video. Degree credit exclusion: FA/FILM 2120 6.00

FA/FILM 2400 6.00 Theories of Filmmaking. An intensive study of the theories of film, with particular attention to montage, mise-en-scene, auteur, genre and other classical and contemporary conceptions; relevant readings and screenings of key films. Four hours. Note: Required of film and video majors and minors. Open to non-majors. Prerequisite: FA/FILM 1400 6.00, and permission of the course director for non-film and video majors and minors.

FA/FILM 2401 6.00 Film, Television and Society. This course examines the interrelationship between film and television and the societies in which they are produced and consumed. Attention is paid to the social relations and ideological and political characteristics of contemporary societies, as well as contemporary criticism which has analyzed these media.

Cross-listed to: FA/FILM 2401 6.00 and AS/HUMA 2740 6.00

FA/FILM 2500 6.00 Stage and Screen. Drawing on dramatic texts and video resources, this interdisciplinary course examines the structural and interpretive processes involved in the reconception and adaptation for film and video of work originally created for theatrical performance. Note: Not open to theatre or film and video majors, except by special permission.

Cross-listed to: FA/FILM 2500 6.00 and FA/THFA 2500 6.00

FA/FILM 2600 6.00 Contemporary World Cinema. A cross cultural exploration and history of world cinema produced from 1960 to the present. The course will study the major auteurs, movements and manifestos of (among others) the 'cinema of garbage' and Cinema nuevo in Brazil, cinemas of liberation in Africa, magic realism in Latin America, cinema of exile, new social movements in developing world including new black cinemas in Britain, the Caribbean and North America and first nation aboriginal video and filmmaking.

FA/FILM 3001 6.00 Fiction Project Workshop I. Explores the practice, aesthetics and theory of fictional narrative filmmaking. Students engage in practical exercises as well as discussions to prepare them to direct the main project of the course, a short, sync sound, colour narrative film. Prerequisites: Film & Video BFA foundation program and permission of the Film & Video Department. Prerequisite or corequisite: FA/FILM 3170 3.00 Production Planning.

FA/FILM 3002 6.00 Documentary Project Workshop I. Explores the practice, aesthetics and theory of documentary film and video making, at an advanced level. Over the course of the year, students will engage in various preparatory practical exercises, culminating with the production of a short documentary on film and/or video. Prerequisites: Film & Video BFA foundation program and permission of the Film & Video Department. Prerequisite or corequisite: FA/FILM 3170 3.00 Production Planning.

FA/FILM 3003 6.00 Alternative Project Workshop I. Provides a workshop environment for the development, production and post-production of a range of film and video projects, with an emphasis on works which cross boundaries through the use of innovative subjects, processes and approaches. Prerequisites: Film & Video BFA foundation program and permission of the Film & Video Department. Prerequisite or corequisite: FA/FILM 3170 3.00 Production Planning.

FA/FILM 3120 6.00 Feature Screenwriting I. Focuses on the initial stages of writing a feature-length screenplay. Explores idea of development, story groundwork and principles of story structure. Leads students through craft challenges in the creation of a fully developed story outline. The first of two year-long courses. Prerequisite: Permission of committee.

FA/FILM 3125 6.00 Screenwriting for Production. Building on FA/FILM 2120 6.00 Screenwriting Fundamentals, this course explores in more depth the craft of writing screenplays for short film and video projects, in particular projects geared for student production. Prerequisite: FA/FILM 2120 6.00 and permission of committee.

FA/FILM 3130 3.00 Editing Technique I. Step-by-step practical experience in the editing of a synchronized dialogue sequence from the receipt of rushes to final mix including synching, edge-coding, cataloguing, picture and sound editing, music and sound effects recording and transfer and re-recording. Four hours. Additional fee required. Prerequisites: FA/FILM 2010 6.00 or equivalent and permission of the production committee.

FA/FILM 3135 3.00 Editing Techniques I. Explores the practice, aesthetics and theory of image editing. Over the course of the term, students will engage in a series of short exercises covering a variety of styles, genres and modes. Prerequisites: Film & Video BFA foundation program and permission of the Film & Video Department. Prerequisite or corequisite: FA/FILM 3170 3.00 Production Planning.

FA/FILM 3140 3.00 Film Editing: Theory and Analysis. Through readings, screenings, detailed analysis and discussion, students thoroughly review the principles of pictorial continuity and study the function of editing in outstanding films of various countries, periods and styles. Prerequisite: FA/FILM 2010 6.00 or equivalent and permission of the production committee.

FA/FILM 3155 3.00 Sound Techniques I. Explores all aspects of sound recording and design for film and video production, focusing on both theory and technique. The curriculum will cover techniques in location recording, and provide an overview of sound editing and sound mixing. Fine Arts Cultural Studies (FACS) welcomes students with wide-ranging interests across the fine, performing and new media arts, and offers an opportunity to explore them from various interdisciplinary perspectives set within the critical frameworks. Course options consider the arts through cultural histories and theory, issues in contemporary and popular culture, cross-cultural studies, studio practices—including FACS' new media stream—and arts administration.

Students pursuing Honours Major or Minor programs in Fine Arts Cultural Studies are required to take a minimum of 30 credits from the FACS offerings. For other Faculty of Fine Arts students, FACS courses count as fine arts or free electives. Some FACS courses are open to all students in the University as electives.

Courses in Fine Arts Cultural Studies

Please note: Not all courses are offered every year.

FA/FACS 1010 6.00 Fine Arts Cultural Studies: An Introduction. Explores the intellectual roots of cultural studies and their relationships to the fine, performing and new media arts. Examines themes, approaches, literatures and practices in the interdisciplinary field of fine arts cultural studies through projects undertaken in various media. Prerequisite: Open to fine arts cultural studies majors or non-majors with the permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 1900 6.00 Arts and Ideas. Organized thematically, this introductory course acquaints students with aspects of the fine, performing and new media arts from various interdisciplinary perspectives.

FA/FACS 1939 3.00 Interactive New Media Art: An Introduction. This course introduces students with little or no experience in the creation of new media works to the issues and techniques that will enable them to engage critically and creatively with the area.

FA/FACS 2400 6.00 Photography, Film and Popular Culture. Explores the inter-related histories of photography and film within the theoretical constructs of popular culture by examining the origins of these media, their documentation of quotidian life, influence on questions of gender and race and their place in cultural theory. Prerequisite: FA/FACS 1900 6.00 or permission of instructor.

FA/FACS 2500 3.00 Contemporary Arts and Technologies. Exposes students to intersections between arts and technologies reflected in the work of theorists, practitioners and critics. The focus in any given year will reflect instructor's interests and key developments in the field. Prerequisites or corequisites: FA/FACS 1900 6.00, FA/FACS 1010 6.00.

FA/FACS 2900 6.00 Rethinking Representation. This course considers the theories, conventions and politics of representation and their impact on the production and reception of the fine, performing and new media arts in both historical and contemporary contexts. Prerequisite: FA/FACS 1900 6.00 or permission of the course director. Degree credit exclusion: FA/FACS 2900 6.00 Arts, Societies and Histories.

FA/FACS 2920E 6.00 Special Studies in the Arts I: Arts, Cultures, Representations. This course will acquaint students with the central ideas and themes of the study of culture and representation as they relate to the fine arts. Topics include: cultural production and reproduction; aesthetic value; culture and identity; and, space, place and representation. Prerequisite: FA/FACS 1900 6.00 or permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 2930 6.00 The Electronic Landscape. This course offers hands-on experience in using the computer as a creative medium. Utilizing a variety of interactive technologies and software, students create interactive works of art in a range of formats. This course requires a basic knowledge of HTML, JavaScript and Photoshop. Students without this background should enrol in FA/FACS 1930 (3.00) or seek permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 2950 3.00 An Introduction to Career Planning and Management. An introductory course designed for students planning for a career in the cultural sector as employed or self-employed professionals. Students explore occupational possibilities and work towards a career plan. May not be taken as part of the FACS 30-credit major requirement.

FA/FACS 2960A 3.00 Creative and Critical Fictions. A course promoting critical and creative thinking and writing around specific themes in cultural studies. The course encourages a blurring of genres and refuses a necessary separation between creative and critical writing. Students produce a variety of short assignments and participate in online writing circles.

FA/FACS 3400 3.00 The Cabinet of Curiosities. This course takes as its point of departure the concept and construction of the encyclopaedic Wunderkammer or Cabinet of Curiosities or Wunderkammer and its more recent derivatives as a means of exploring a range of issues with a particular resonance for cultural studies. Prerequisites: FA/FACS 1900 6.00 and third-year standing in the Faculty of Fine Arts, or permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 3450 3.00 Leonardo Da Vinci and a Case Study in Multidisciplinarity. This course explores the ideas and production of Leonardo da Vinci - among other things, a painter, sculptor, architect and urban planner, musician and composer, costume and stage designer, anatomist, engineer, mathematician, botanist and natural scientist - as a case study in multidisciplinarity. Prerequisites: FA/FACS 1900 6.00 and third-year standing in the Faculty of Fine Arts, or permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 3900 3.00 Arts and Cultures. Cultural difference and social context are examined from the perspective of post-colonial discourse. Seminars focus on implications of the subaltern position of 'other' cultures relative to a dominant European episteme during colonialist expansion, entertaining emerging notions of world culture. Prerequisites: FA/FACS 1900 6.00 and third-year standing or permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 3900M 3.00 Arts and Cultures: Indigenous Cultures. This course will focus on issues of post-coloniality and art from two specific cultural contexts of aboriginal or indigenous peoples that are of North American First Nations cultures and Aboriginal peoples of Australia. We will take a close look at the uses and abuses of traditional art, culture and ritual as well as their more modern reformations and appropriations in the global community. Participation may include field trips to museums, art galleries, dance and music performances, cinemas or theatres. Prerequisites: FA/FACS 1900 6.00 and 3rd year standing or permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 3920D 3.00 Contemporary Theory Through Photography and Film. Making reference to a very small number of carefully selected photographic and cinematic texts, the course uses the mechanically reproduced image as a tool to focus theoretical discourse on either textuality or intertextuality. Prerequisite: Second-year fine arts cultural studies course.

FA/FACS 3920E 3.00 Canadian Arts and Culture. Prime Minister Wilfrid Laurier said that "the 20th century shall be the century of Canada." As the 20th century comes to a close, scholars, artists, critics and cultural practitioners continue to explore the nature of Canadian cultural identity. In this seminar, we examine Canadian arts and culture from the perspective of Canadian identity, myths, image, symbols, imagination, experience and values. We also explore the significance to the Canadian cultural and artistic experience of colonialism, nationalism, regionalism, imperialism and heroism. Prerequisite: Third-year standing.

FA/FACS 3920F 3.00 Arts and Cultural Policy. This course introduces students to the politics of arts and cultural policy-making and the civil society. It pays particular attention to the role of Canadian municipal, provincial and federal governments and institutions as well as the struggles that have emerged between the state and the cultural community. It reviews and assesses Canadian arts, heritage and cultural industry policies beside those of one or more other countries such as Australia, France, Great Britain and the United States with particular attention to the cultural, social, economic, political and technological factors that influence the policy process. May not be taken as part of the FACS 30-credit major requirement. Prerequisite: Third- or fourth-year standing or permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 3920H 3.00 Sexuality in Performance.

FA/FACS 3920I 3.00 The Metropolis Revisited.

FA/FACS 3920J 6.00 Selected Topics in Interdisciplinary Fine Arts: Memory and Place. Treatment of various topics in fine arts. Prerequisites: 2000-level fine arts courses and discussion with course director.

Cross-listed to: AK/F.A. 3010D 6.00 and FA/FACS 3920J 6.00

FA/FACS 3920J 6.00 Memory and Place. How do places contribute to shaping memory? What is it about objects, art and architecture, for example, that seem to capture memory? Why are certain places meaningful and others less so? This course explores objects and ideas all the while embedded in history to better formulate a notion of the power of place and its relationship to memory. Degree credit exclusions: AK/FA 3010D 6.00, FA/FACS 3920J 6.00.

Cross-listed to: FA/FACS 3920J 6.00 and FA/VISA 3710 6.00

FA/FACS 3920K 6.00 Special Studies in the Arts II: Cultural Production in an International Environment. Via Webct, this course will include students from six universities in Canada and Europe. Each university will focus on a different theme in response to the cultural geography in which it is situated. Drawing from the rich and complex diversity of cultural life in Toronto, the York University segment of the course will examine the topic The Arts in a Multicultural Environment. May not be taken as part of the FACS 30-credit major requirement. Prerequisite: Third- or fourth-year standing in the Faculty of Fine Arts or permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 3920M 3.00 Arts and the Law: Policies and Perspectives. This course explores the interaction between the arts and contemporary legal and social issues such as property rights in art, copyright and the moral rights of artists, freelance employment and labour relations in the arts, freedom of expression and censorship. May not be taken as part of the FACS 30-credit major requirement. Prerequisite: Third- or fourth-year standing or permission of the course director. Degree credit exclusion: FA/FACS 4920D 3.00.

FA/FACS 3930 3.00 Screen-Based Fluid Interfaces. This course looks beyond the vocabulary of the point-and-click gesture to fluid mouse gestures in interactive new media art. Fluid mouse gestures, those that involve reacting to movement, provide a vast array of possibilities to generate complex meaning. A course material fee is required; a lab user fee is optional. Degree credit exclusion: FA/FACS 3930 6.00: Interactive Multimedia II.

FA/FACS 3931 3.00 Interactive Installation and Performance I. (formerly FA/INFA 3931 6.00) This course gives students an opportunity to explore interactivity in public physical settings. Students create works where the performer and/or audience interact with media on the computer through means other than the keyboard and mouse. Prerequisite: FA/FACS 2930 6.00 (formerly FA/INFA 2930 6.00) or permission of the instructor. Degree credit exclusion: FA/FACS 3931 6.00 Multimedia Installation and Performance.

FA/FACS 3935 3.00 New Media Forms: The Database. This course will examine the database in new media art. Students will look at the database as a cultural object, evaluate art that uses databases, learn the mechanics of databases and create new media art that uses databases. Prerequisite: FA/FACS 2930 6.00 or permission of course director.

FA/FACS 3950 3.00 Arts Administration. This course provides an introduction to the skills and knowledge required for contemporary arts management. The management of the arts in Canada is illustrated and analyzed through a survey of the history and development of arts policy and administration practice. May not be taken as part of the FACS 30-credit major requirement. Prerequisite: Third- or fourth-year standing or permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 4400 3.00 The Sensorium. This seminar course considers the five senses (which give humans the potential to see, hear, smell, taste and touch) and their impact on the production and reception of the arts from a range of perspectives. Prerequisite: FA/FACS 1900 and fourth-year standing in the Faculty of Fine Arts or permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 4900A 3.00 Contemporary Issues in the Arts: Anatomy of Postmodernism. Explores postmodernism both broadly, in cultural terms (that is, as it relates to notions of postmodernity), and more narrowly, in terms of its relationships to the fine, performing and new media arts. Prerequisite: Fourth-year standing or permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 4900B 3.00 Hypermedia. A seminar course that examines contemporary critical issues in the fine arts. Topics vary from year to year, and may include ideas of modernism and postmodernism; the role of aesthetics; gender issues; performance theory; semiotics; and the influence of philosophy, sociology and psychology on current art practice. Where appropriate, visiting artists, critics and curators are invited for guest seminars. Prerequisite: Fourth-year standing in the Faculty of Fine Arts, or permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 4920C 6.00 Colonialism and Arts in Cross-Cultural Perspective. This course provides students with the analytical tools necessary to address the current debates in contemporary cultural theory by drawing on ethnographic case studies in Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Caribbean and Native North America. Student projects explore issues in gender and art; museums and representation; cultural appropriation; authenticity and tradition; Western views of the primitive; and consumption. Prerequisite: FA/INFA 3900 6.00, or a non-Western art history course or an introductory course in anthropology or ethnomusicology or permission of the instructor.

FA/FACS 4920E 3.00 Art, Music and Some Languages of Interdisciplinarity. This seminar course explores a variety of relationships which have been established between the visual arts and music during the 20th century. Students have the opportunity to (re)evaluate from an interdisciplinary perspective the production and cultural positioning of each discipline in light of the other, as well as to consider the transformative character of artistic productions which result from their marriage. In conjunction, students are able to address the politics and pleasures of interdisciplinary collaboration. Finally, they work toward refining a critical language which can both explicate, and mediate between, the visual and the aural. Prerequisite: FA/INFA 1900 6.00 and fourth-year standing in the Faculty of Fine Arts or permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 4920F 3.00 Special Studies III: Culture and Memory. The course explores the ways in which culture is based on the construction, manipulation and transmission of memories, the role played by memory in the formation of collective and individual identities, and the politics of memory. Prerequisite: Third and four year standing in the Faculty of Fine Arts or permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 4920G 3.00 Special Studies in the Arts III: Feminist Cultural Theory. A comparative study of the arts emphasizing a selected methodological, historical, geographic or cultural topic or theme. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.

FA/FACS 4920H 3.00 Special Studies in the Arts III: Art and Spectacle. A thematic study in which the history, function and production of spectacle will be examined in the light of its relation to the arts and to society. Contemporary relations between art and spectacle will be approached through various artists' works. Prerequisite: Fourth-year Faculty of Fine Arts standing or permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 4920I 3.00 Culture and Community in the Liminal City.

FA/FACS 4920J 3.00 No Place Like Home.

FA/FACS 4930 3.00 Cultural Theory Through New Media. (formerly FA/INFA 4930 6.00) This upper-level course in both multimedia art and contemporary cultural theory is designed for students who have already achieved a significant level of accomplishment in both these areas. Students will undertake extensive theoretical research using both traditional and online resources. The result of that research will be integrated into advanced multimedia projects. Prerequisite: At least six credits in the new media stream at the third-year level or permission of the course director. Degree credit exclusion: FA/FACS 4930 6.00: Cultural Theory and Interactive Multimedia Art.

FA/FACS 4931 3.00 Interactive Installation and Performance II. This advanced studio extends on the foundation laid in FA/FACS 3931: Interactive Installation and Performance I. Students will pursue advanced, self-directed individual and group projects. Prerequisite: FA/FACS 3931 3.00 and three additional credits in the FACS new media stream at the third-year level or permission of course director. Degree credit exclusion: FA/FACS 3931 6.00: Multimedia Installation and Performance.

FA/FACS 4932 3.00 Interactive Dance Studio: Explorations in electronically mediated performance. This interdisciplinary studio course explores interactive dance contexts. Through the creation of electronically mediated performance environments, students in dance and new media art collaborate to merge movement and technology. Prerequisite: FA/FACS 3931 3.00 or FA/DANC 3220 3.00 or FA/DANC 4220 3.00 or permission of the course director.

Cross-listed to: FA/DANC 4221 3.00 and FA/FACS 4932 3.00

FA/FACS 4935 3.00 New Media Forms: Virtual Communities. This course examines virtual communities in the context of doing creative work. We will examine the history of multi-user environments, explore systems that support such work, and pursue creative projects in a virtual environment. Prerequisite: Six credits in the FACS new media stream at the third-year level or permission of course director.

FA/FACS 4940 3.00 Art, Music and Interdisciplinarity. This seminar course explores a variety of relationships which have been established between art and music through the 20th century as well as some of the ways in which the disciplinary borders between them have been dissolved. Prerequisite: FA/FACS 1900 6.00 and fourth-year standing in the Faculty of Fine Arts or permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 4950 3.00 Independent Study. This course accommodates advanced students who wish to undertake an independent project based in the studies stream, studio stream, or a combination of both. Project content must be related to the mandate of the FACS program. Proposals and accompanying bibliography must be signed by a FACS faculty supervisor and approved by the FACS coordinator. Not available to students who have taken FA/FACS 4960 3.00: Internship (formerly FA/FACS 4960 3.00/6.00: Senior Project. Prerequisite: FACS majors with fourth-year standing who have already taken or are concurrently taking a minimum of three credits at the fourth-year level. Degree credit exclusion: FA/FACS 4950 6.00: Independent Study.

FA/FACS 4960 3.00 Internship. This course allows advanced students to undertake an approved internship at an arts or educational organization. Internship activity must be related to the mandate of the FACS program. Proposals must be signed by a FACS faculty supervisor and approved by the FACS coordinator. Not available to students who have taken FA/FACS 4950 3.00: Independent Study. Prerequisite: FACS majors with fourth-year standing who have already taken or are concurrently taking a minimum of three credits at the fourth-year level. Degree credit exclusion: FA/FACS 4960 3.00/6.00: Senior Project.

FA/FACS 4970 3.00 Interdisciplinary Seminar. A seminar which revisits relations between the arts and interdisciplinary through a theme selected by the course director. Prerequisites: Fourth-year standing and FACS 1900 6.00 or permission of the course director.

FA/FACS 4970A 3.00 Performance: Theory and Practice. While introducing performance studies as a new and encompassing scholarly field, this course will also focus on performance as an elaborated cultural form in both the Western and non-Western worlds. Prerequisite: Fourth-year standing in the Faculty of Fine Arts or permission of the course director.

Listed below are the 1000-level and 2000-level nine-credit foundations courses which are part of the Faculty of Arts general education requirement. These courses introduce students to interdisciplinary study and emphasize critical thinking, reading and writing skills at the university level, and reflect the academic mandate of the college.

AS/HUMA 1300 9.00 The Cultures of Resistance in the Americas: The African American Experience. This course examines oppression and the ways in which Afro-American, Amerindian and racially-mixed communities in the Caribbean, Latin America, Canada and the United States use cultural patterns - the oral tradition, religion and ethics - both to comment on that oppression and to express alternatives. (This course is affiliated with Founders College.) Degree credit exclusion: AS/HUMA 1300 6.00.

AS/HUMA 1400 9.00 Culture and Society in East Asia. Introduction to traditional East Asian civilization by examining daily life in 18th-century Peking and Edo (Tokyo), and their rural hinterland. Topics include the physical setting, social distinctions and occupations, arts and crafts, religion, literature and entertainment. (This course is affiliated with Founders College.) Corequisite: AS/HUMA 1401 0.00. Degree credit exclusion: AS/HUMA 1400 6.00.

AS/HUMA 1625 9.00 Fantasy and Topographies of Imagination. This course utilizes a variety of materials to explore fantasy in the West, not as the opposite of reality, but as how people imagine/give meaning to their experiences, thereby both shaping and resisting the realities of Western cultures. (This course is affiliated with Founders College.) Degree credit exclusions: AS/HUMA 1630 6.00, AS/HUMA 1630 9.00.

AS/HUMA 1960 9.00 Women, Family and Children in Europe, 1150-1800. This course examines ideas about, and practical realities concerning women, the family and children in Europe, 1150-1800. (This course is affiliated with Founders College.) Degree credit exclusion: AS/HUMA 1960 6.00.

AS/HUMA 1980 9.00 Professional Writing: Process and Practice. This course considers a wide range of written expression including fiction, nonfiction, poetry and technical/business writing, with an emphasis on the theory and practice of writing. (This course is affiliated with Founders College.)

Cross-listed to: AS/HUMA 1980 9.00 and AS/WRIT 1980 9.00

AS/HUMA 2310 9.00 An Introduction to Caribbean Studies. This course introduces students to the major cultural characteristics of the contemporary Caribbean through an examination of the writers, artists and scholars of the region. (This course is affiliated with Founders College.) Degree credit exclusion: AS/HUMA 2310 6.00.

AS/HUMA 2420 9.00 Introduction to Korean Culture. This course offers an introduction to the study of Korean culture through a historical survey of literary, social, religious and political trends from ancient times to the present. (This course is affiliated with Founders College.) Degree credit exclusion: AS/HUMA 2000D 6.00.

AS/HUMA 2430 9.00 The Asian Canadian Experience: Historical and Contemporary. This course examines the Asian Canadian experience as a lived reality and as constructed in works of the imagination. Issues such as community, otherness and boundary crossing are explored. Comparisons are made to the US experience. (This course is affiliated with Founders College.) Degree credit exclusion: AS/HUMA 2000B 6.00 (2000-2001 to 2001-2002).

AS/HUMA 2440 9.00 India: Life, Culture and the Arts. This course examines contemporary life and society in India as it is going through a process of all round development, reintegrating traditions and responding to new influences. (This course is affiliated with Founders College.) Degree credit exclusion: AS/HUMA 2000A 6.00.

AS/HUMA 2640 9.00 Modes of Fantasy. In this 2000-level foundations course students study some of the principle modes and models of fantasy. In the first term three major modes of fantasy – literary, historical and psychological – are examined in detail, drawing on appropriate theoretical materials and fantasy texts. In the second term, four major models of fantasy are examined: Romance and Horror, and Utopias and Dystopias. (This course is affiliated with Founders College.) Degree credit exclusion: AS/HUMA 2640 6.00.

AS/HUMA 2751 9.00 Aspects of Italian Culture. This course aims to present and analyze some of the most interesting themes underlying the development of Italian intellectual life from the 14th century to the 19th century. (This course is affiliated with Founders College.) Degree credit exclusions: AS/HUMA 2990A 6.00, AS/IT 2750 6.00, AS/IT 2751 6.00, AS/HUMA 2990A 9.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/HUMA 2751 9.00 and AS/IT 2751 9.00

AS/HUMA 2761 9.00 Italian Cinema, Literature and Society. The course focuses on 12 of the most significant films since the Second World War in the context of the radical changes that have taken place in Italy from the fall of Fascism to the present, and as critical statements on the phenomena connected with the rapid transformation of Italian society: industrialization and the economic miracle, urbanization, the crisis of traditional values, and postmodern fragmentation. (This course is affiliated with Founders College.)

Cross-listed to: AS/HUMA 2761 9.00 and AS/IT 2761 9.00

AS/HUMA 2930 9.00 On Women: An Introduction to Women's Studies. This course explores the social, political and economic institutions which shape women's lives, and introduces key theoretical approaches within feminist scholarship to investigate specific feminist issues in areas such as women's writing, visual representations, family, race, sexuality, women and work. (This course is affiliated with Founders College.) Degree credit exclusions: AS/SOSC 2180 6.00, AS/HUMA 2930 6.00, GL/WMST 2950 6.00, GL/SOSC 2950 6.00(EN), GL/SOSC 2950 6.00(FR), GL/WMST 2950 6.00, AK/WMST 2000 6.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/HUMA 2930 9.00 and AS/SOSC 2180 9.00 and AK/WMST 2510 9.00 and AS/WMST 2510 9.00 and GL/WMST 2510 9.00

AS/SOSC 1210 9.00 Human Rights and Canadian Minorities. This interdisciplinary course examines Canadian attitudes, institutional practices, and government policies affecting opportunities for full participation in Canadian society for various Canadian minorities, ethnic and religious groups, homosexuals, women, the aged, disabled and poor. Strategies for change are critically analyzed. (This course is affiliated with Founders College.) Degree credit exclusions: AS/SOSC 1210 6.00 and AS/SOSC 1210 9.00.

AS/SOSC 1430 9.00 Introduction to International Development Studies. This course introduces students to the field of international development studies, which has emerged as a result of efforts to bring about development in Third World countries. The Department of French Studies offers courses in three curricular areas enabling students to pursue interests in French language, linguistics, and literature. The language-skills courses form a prescribed language sequence designed to help students improve their proficiency in French. These courses constitute a curricular core, which is complemented by offerings in linguistics and literature. In addition to Honours BA and BA degree programs, the Department of French Studies offers Certificates of Language Proficiency in Basic French, Intermediate French and Advanced French.

For specific program or certificate requirements, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Courses in French Studies

A language placement questionnaire must be filled out by students prior to enrolling for the first time in the Department of French Studies.

In order to proceed from one level of French Studies to the next (the four levels being 1000, 2000, 3000, 4000), a student must obtain a minimum grade of C in each language course. In order to proceed to AS/FR 4090 6.00, a minimum grade of B must be achieved in AS/FR 3080 6.00 or AS/FR 3180 6.00.

Subject to degree credit exclusion and in-Faculty regulations, and with the approval of the program coordinator, students may take courses at Glendon for major or minor credit in French studies.

AS/FR 1020 6.00 Elementary French: Near Beginners. This course is designed for students who, although they are not complete beginners, have not studied sufficient French to be admitted to AS/FR 1030 6.00. The course involves the development of oral and written skills. Grammar and reading are also emphasized. Four class hours and lab sessions. Note: Students may only register in AS/FR 1020 6.00 through a language placement questionnaire.

Language of Instruction: French

AS/FR 1030 6.00 Intermediate French. This course is for students who have studied or had some contact with French, but not enough to enter AS/FR 1080 6.00. The aim of the course is to review, consolidate and develop oral and written skills. Special emphasis will be placed on grammar. Prerequisite: AS/FR 1020 6.00 (with a minimum grade of C), or through a language placement questionnaire.

Language of Instruction: French

AS/FR 1060 6.00 Management and Social Issues in French. Designed for students interested in business, this language course focuses on oral and, to a lesser extent, written French. The course also examines various components of business operations, including social issues such as the importance of work and the role of the government. Prerequisite: AS/FR 1030 6.00 (with a minimum grade of C), or through language placement questionnaire. Degree credit exclusions: AS/FR 1080 6.00, AS/FR 1180 6.00. Note: Internet access is required for this course.

Language of Instruction: French

AS/FR 1080 6.00 Language and Culture in the French Speaking World. An intensive course designed to improve the student's ability to speak, understand, read and write French. Guided and free conversation, grammar review, compositions and readings in French and French-Canadian literature. Prerequisite: AS/FR 1030 6.00 (with a minimum grade of C), or through language placement questionnaire. Degree credit exclusions: AS/FR 1060 6.00, AS/FR 1180 6.00.

Language of Instruction: French

AS/FR 2060 3.00 French for Management, Level II (A): Corporate Divisions. This course focuses on language development in a business context. Topics include sales, marketing, advertising, production, supplies, logistics and social issues. Prerequisite: AS/FR 1080 6.00 or equivalent, with a minimum grade of C. Degree credit exclusions: AS/FR 2080 6.00, AS/FR 2081 3.00, AS/FR 2082 3.00. Note: This course requires Internet access.

Language of Instruction: French

AS/FR 2061 3.00 French for Management, Level II (B): Capitalization, Decision Making Process and Management Styles. This course focuses on language development in a business context. Topics include sales, marketing, advertising, production, supplies, logistics and social issues. Prerequisite: AS/FR 2060 3.00 or equivalent, with a minimum grade of C. Degree credit exclusions: AS/FR 2080 6.00, AS/FR 2081 3.00, AS/FR 2082 3.00. Note: This course requires Internet access.

Language of Instruction: French

AS/FR 2081 3.00 Written Communication, Level II. This French-language course focuses on the techniques of written expression and on the development of reading skills. The unifying thematic framework for the various reading and writing assignments is that of the Francophone world. Prerequisite: AS/FR 1080 6.00 or equivalent, with a minimum grade of C. Degree credit exclusions: AS/FR 2060 3.00, AS/FR 2061 3.00, AS/FR 2080 6.00.

Language of Instruction: French

Geography is concerned with the spatial variations of human and physical phenomena, the processes which produce these variations and the interrelationships between people and their environments. Fields that have always been of importance to geographers are well represented in the department. Regional courses dealing with Canada, S.E. Asia and the Caribbean explore the past and present geography of these areas. Likewise there are clusters of courses relating to urban, economic, cultural, historical and physical geography. Combined with these offerings are specialties such as those dealing with water resources and resource management, urban and regional planning, ecological studies, landforms, arctic climates and environments and the social geography of cities and rural areas.

For specific Honours BA and BA program requirements please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar. For specific Honours BSc and BSc program requirements please consult the Faculty of Pure and Applied Science Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

The department also offers a Specialized Honours BA in geography and urban studies. For details, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Prerequisites: The specific course prerequisites listed for geography courses in this Calendar are intended to ensure that students do not unwittingly enrol in courses for which they have inadequate preparation. In some cases, students lacking the stated course prerequisite(s) may be permitted to enrol in the course by written permission of the course director.

Subject to program requirements and degree credit equivalent/exclusion and in-Faculty regulations, students may complete courses offered outside of the Faculty of Arts for credit in geography.

Courses in Geography

AS/GEOG 1000 6.00 Introduction to World Geography. This course explores geographic approaches to disparities of cultural, economic, political and environmental development in major world regions comprising developed capitalist and socialist countries and underdeveloped nations.

AS/SC/GEOG 1400 6.00 Physical Geography. A study of the physical-biotic environment through a consideration of the character and processes of its components - atmosphere, hydrosphere, biosphere and lithosphere - and of the spatial distributions which reflect interaction among these components. Two lecture hours per week, three laboratory hours normally every second week. Two terms. Equivalent and degree credit exclusion: AK/GEOG 2510 6.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 1400 6.00 and SC/GEOG 1400 6.00

AS/GEOG 1410 6.00 Human Geography. An introduction to the study of human geography which puts emphasis on geographical aspects of population, culture, society and economy. Detailed examples are studied in tutorials. Equivalent and degree credit exclusion: AK/GEOG 2500 6.00.

AS/GEOG 2020 6.00 Geographical Transformation of the Caribbean Islands. This course analyzes the geographic status of the Caribbean islands. It examines how interactions between natural-environmental factors and human activities since the beginnings of settlement account for the current appearance, character, problems and prospects for individual islands and for the region. Degree credit exclusions: AS/GEOG 3020 6.00, AS/GEOG 3020 3.00.

AS/GEOG 2050 6.00 Political Geography. This course deals with the reciprocal links between geography and political processes at the global, national and local levels. A secondary focus is on particular state policies and how they influence, and are influenced by, geographical patterns and processes. Equivalents and degree credit exclusions: AS/GEOG 3050 6.00, AK/GEOG 3450 6.00.

AS/GEOG 2060 3.00 Historical Geography. An exploration of the content of and approaches to historical geography, with a focus on major historical shifts in the geography and geographic knowledge of human beings, such as imperialism, mass migration and urbanization. Degree credit exclusion: AS/GEOG 2060 6.00.

AS/GEOG 2065 3.00 Cultural Geography. This course examines the evolution of cultural geography and its interaction with cultural theory, sociology, politics and economics, focusing on such issues as the relationship between identity, space and place. Degree credit exclusions: AS/GEOG 2060 6.00, AK/GEOG 3410 6.00.

AS/GEOG 2100 6.00 Economic Geography. This course provides a broad overview of how economic geographers understand both spatial patterns of economic activities, and the ways in which these patterns create and shape the places in which we (or others) live and work. Prerequisite: AS/GEOG 1410 6.00 or AS/GEOG 1000 6.00 or AK/GEOG 2500 6.00 or an introductory course in economics or written permission of the course director.

AS/SC/GEOG 2130 3.00 Fundamentals of Map Design and Interpretation. This course introduces the basic principles and conventions for compiling, designing, drafting and interpreting maps and other visual representations of geographic data. Two lecture hours, one scheduled laboratory hour. One term. Prerequisite: One of AS/SC/GEOG 1400 6.00, AS/GEOG 1410 6.00, AK/GEOG 2500 6.00, AK/GEOG 2510 6.00. Degree credit exclusion: SC/GEOG 2130 2.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 2130 3.00 and SC/GEOG 2130 3.00

AS/GEOG 2300 6.00 Social Geography. A study of social processes underlying spatial patterns, relationships and interactions within and among social groups. The course examines urban and rural social structures within their spatial settings, focusing on social and environmental problems and solutions. Prerequisite: AS/GEOG 1000 6.00 or AS/GEOG 1410 6.00 or AK/GEOG 2500 6.00.

AS/GEOG 2310 6.00 Introduction to Refugee and Migration Studies. An introduction to the problem of refugees: conceptual issues (definitions, refugee rights, ethical norms), the historical background, Canadian policy and the issues in specific areas of the world - Africa, Asia, Latin America, Eastern Europe and the Middle East. Prerequisite: A 1000-level social science course. Degree credit exclusion: AS/SOSC 1130 9.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 2310 6.00 and AK/SOSC 2000 6.00

AS/SC/GEOG 2350 3.00 Introduction to Geoinformatics. This course covers fundamental concepts and approaches of geographical information systems, remote sensing and global positioning systems. Students also acquire knowledge and skills in descriptive statistics, map design and interpretation, and basic computer cartography. Two hour lecture, two hour lab. Prerequisite: AS/GEOG 1410 6.00 or AS/GEOG 1400 6.00 or AS/GEOG 1000 6.00 or AK/GEOG 2500 6.00 or AK/GEOG 2510 6.00 or written permission of the course director. Degree credit exclusions: AS/SC/GEOG 2390G 3.00, SC/EATS 2610 2.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 2350 3.00 and SC/GEOG 2350 3.00

AS/SC/GEOG 2400 6.00 The Hydrosphere. This course examines the physical processes and the environmental factors that govern the movement of water and energy in lakes, rivers, oceans and the soil-plant-atmosphere continuum. Boundary-layer climates and mechanisms of water movement and storage are emphasized. Two lecture hours per week, 16 three-hour laboratories over two terms. Prerequisite: AS/SC/GEOG 1400 6.00 or AK/GEOG 2510 6.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 2400 6.00 and SC/GEOG 2400 6.00

AS/SC/GEOG 2420 3.00 Introductory Statistical Analysis in Geography. This introductory course aims to provide a working knowledge of several statistical techniques which are widely used in many branches of geography. Some attention is also given to broader questions concerning the nature of the scientific method. Two lecture hours per week, nine two-hour laboratory sessions. One term. Prerequisites: 24 credits successfully completed. This course is intended primarily for students majoring in geography and is normally taken during the second year of study. Degree credit exclusions: SC/BIOL 2060 3.00, AK/BIOL 3080 3.00, SC/BIOL 3090 3.00, AK/BIOL 3090 3.00, AS/ECON 2500 3.00, ES/ENVS 2010 6.00, ES/ENVS 2010 3.00, AS/SC/KINE 2050 3.00, AS/SC/KINE 3150 3.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 1131 3.00, AS/SC/MATH 1132 3.00, AK/MATH 2430 3.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 2560 3.00, AK/AS/SC/MATH 2570 3.00, AS/SC/PHED 2050 3.00, AS/POLS 3300 6.00, AK/AS/SC/PSYC 2020 6.00, AK/AS/SC/PSYC 2021 3.00, AK/PSYC 2510 3.00, AS/SOCI 3030 6.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 2420 3.00 and SC/GEOG 2420 3.00

AS/SC/GEOG 2500 3.00 Introduction to Vegetation and Soils. An introduction to the structure and functioning of vegetation and soil systems, emphasizing local patterns and processes, methods of description and sampling, dynamic processes, response to environmental change and human disturbance. Field work is emphasized in laboratories. Two lecture hours and two laboratory hours per week, a one-day field trip. One term. Prerequisite: AS/SC/GEOG 1400 6.00 or AK/GEOG 2510 6.00 or ES/ENVS 2500 6.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 2500 3.00 and SC/GEOG 2500 3.00

AK/GEOG 2500 6.00 Introduction to Human Geography. This course is an analytical introduction to geography. Attention is focused on the impact of human decisions and activities on geographical relationships. The development and present significance of major geographical themes are traced, including population, resources, the environment and occupation.

AK/GEOG 2510 6.00 Introduction to Physical Geography. Basic concepts in geomorphology, soils, biogeography, meteorology and climatology are discussed. The application of general systems theory to physical problems is considered. Laboratory work and field study are integral parts of the course.

AK/GEOG 2550 6.00 Conservation and Environmental Education. From a search for principles of conservation this course proceeds to evaluate conservation practices in the modern world, particularly in Ontario. It also investigates in detail the role of the outdoors as a laboratory, providing an introduction to field techniques of various kinds. There may be a field centre fee in addition to the course fee.

AS/SC/GEOG 2600 3.00 Geomorphology I. This course concentrates on basic principles and fundamental concepts in geomorphology, including energy flows in geomorphic systems, hill slope forms and materials, weathering and landforms, and drainage basin geomorphology and hydrology (with a particular emphasis on Canadian examples). Prerequisite: AS/SC/GEOG 1400 6.00 or AK/GEOG 2510 6.00 or SC/EATS 1010 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AS/SC/GEOG 2700 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 2600 3.00 and SC/GEOG 2600 3.00

AS/SC/GEOG 2610 3.00 Geomorphology II. This course concentrates on geomorphic processes and landforms (with a particular emphasis on Canadian examples). Five main areas are explored: fluvial forms and processes; the glaciation of Canada and glacial mechanics; periglacial; aeolian processes; and coastal processes and landforms. Prerequisite: AS/SC/GEOG 2600 3.00. Degree credit exclusion: AS/SC/GEOG 3600 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 2610 3.00 and SC/GEOG 2610 3.00

3000-Level Courses

Prerequisites for Arts and Science: Unless otherwise indicated, 3000-level geography courses are open only to students who have successfully completed at least 24 credits, including any specific course prerequisites noted in the following course outlines.

AS/GEOG 3010 6.00 Geography of Canada. A study of basic physical and human geographical patterns in Canada, stressing the processes which produced the latter, and selected characteristics of major Canadian regions. Tutorials require intensive reading in selected sources. Prerequisite: One of AS/SC/GEOG 1400 6.00, AK/GEOG 2510 6.00, AS/GEOG 1410 6.00, AK/GEOG 2500 6.00. Equivalent and degree credit exclusion: AK/GEOG 3540 6.00.

AS/GEOG 3050 6.00 Nature, Power and Society: An Introduction to Political Ecology. This course explores the role that politics and power play in shaping ecological problems and issues. International and domestic case studies are examined to understand the everyday realities of people and landscapes affected by environmental change, conflict and conservation. Prerequisite: 54 credits successfully completed including AS/GEOG 1000 6.00 or AS/SC/GEOG 1400 6.00, or permission of the department.

AS/GEOG 3060 3.00 Post-Colonial Geographies. This course examines the particular landscapes produced by colonialism and the struggles to move beyond it. Attention is paid to the use of space and place as mechanisms of control and liberation. Examples are international, and concern fictional and non-fictional landscapes. Prerequisite: 54 credits successfully completed.

AS/GEOG 3080 3.00 Reading Landscapes Through Time. Cultural landscapes change over time. This can result from changes in legal tenure, cultural adaptation, changes in the economic base or historical events. This course considers landscapes in various countries in chronological sequence. Prerequisite: 24 credits successfully completed. Open to non-majors. Degree credit exclusions: AS/GEOG 3080 6.00, AS/HIST 3890 6.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 3080 3.00 and AS/HIST 3890 3.00

AK/GEOG 3100A 3.00 Marketing Geography.

AS/GEOG 3120 6.00 Urban Geography. An introductory course in which past and present urban phenomena are examined. Attention is focused on the analysis of regional urban networks and the internal spatial structure of the city. Prerequisites: 54 credits successfully completed, including one of AS/GEOG 1410 6.00, AK/GEOG 2500 6.00, AS/SOSC 2710 9.00. Degree credit exclusion: AK/GEOG 3430 6.00.

AS/GEOG 3130 3.00 The Global Economy. This course examines the evolution of the world economy as well as the major institutions that have supported it, and interprets the new geography of investment, production and consumption that accompanies it.

AS/GEOG 3140 3.00 Retailing, Shopping, Society and Space. (formerly AS/GEOG 3390R 3.00 - before 1999-2000) This course provides an overview of consumer shopping behaviour, the structure and process of retail location, and various social and economic issues associated with the contemporary retail economy. The geographical perspective is emphasized. Prerequisites: 54 credits passed, including AS/GEOG 1000 6.00 or AS/GEOG 1410 6.00 or AK/GEOG 2500 6.00 or written permission of the course director. Degree credit exclusions: AS/GEOG 3390R 3.00 (Fall/Winter 1997-1998 and Fall/Winter 1998-1999), AK/GEOG 3100A 3.00.

AS/SC/GEOG 3180 3.00 Introduction to Geographic Information Systems (GIS). An introduction to the application of GIS to geographical/environmental problems. A broad conceptual overview of GIS approaches and their strengths and limitations. Students gain hands-on experience in the use of raster-based GIS technology with particular reference to resource management and planning topics. One and one-half lecture hours, one and one-half laboratory hours. One term. Prerequisite: AS/SC/GEOG 2420 3.00. Degree credit exclusions: AK/GEOG 3600 3.00, ES/ENVS 3520 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 3180 3.00 and SC/GEOG 3180 3.00

AS/SC/GEOG 3200 3.00 Terrestrial Ecosystems. An examination of the structure and function of vegetation and soil systems. The course focuses on such topics as the adjustment of ecosystems to human modification and the role of biogeography in conservation and resource management. Three lecture hours. One term. Prerequisite: 54 credits successfully completed, including one of AS/SC/GEOG 1400 6.00, AK/GEOG 2510 6.00, ES/ENVS 2420 3.00 or SC/BIOL 2050 4.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 3200 3.00 and SC/GEOG 3200 3.00

AS/GEOG 3250 3.00 Environmental Perception and Natural Disasters. This course assesses the way people perceive their environment. Initially the course considers the theory of environmental perception. Considerable emphasis is placed on appraisal of natural and technological hazards and cultural perception.

AK/GEOG 3310 3.00 Glacial and Periglacial Geomorphology. A systematic study of glacial and periglacial landscapes, climatic change and methods used in the study of Quaternary landforms. Special emphasis is given to the Quaternary landscape of Ontario. Prerequisite: AK/GEOG 2510 6.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the Chair of geography.

AK/GEOG 3360 3.00 Morphogenesis of Soils. A study of the influence of climate, vegetation, parent material, topography and time on the development, classification and chemistry of soils. Prerequisite: AK/GEOG 2510 6.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the Chair of geography.

AK/GEOG 3360 6.00 Morphogenesis of Soils. A study of the influence of climate, vegetation, parent material, topography and time on the development, classification and chemistry of soils. Prerequisite: AK/GEOG 2510 6.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the Chair of geography. Note: When offered as a full course, additional attention will be given to Quaternary soils.

AK/GEOG 3370 3.00 Methods of Sediment and Soil Analysis. An examination of methods of field and laboratory analyses of soils and sediments including soil sampling, soil mapping, mechanical analyses and data interpretation. Special emphasis is placed on soil and sediment research and field problems in Ontario. Prerequisite: AK/GEOG 2510 6.00 or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the Chair of geography.

AK/GEOG 3400 6.00 Gender Population and Migration. Characteristics and problems in growth and distribution of human populations, including birth, fertility and death rates, population growth and environment, globalization and migration and population control policies. Gender perspectives are emphasized. Note: Not open to students who have taken AK/SOCI 3880D 6.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/GEOG 3400 6.00 and AK/SOCI 3400 6.00

AK/GEOG 3410 6.00 Social and Cultural Spaces. Encompassing two core areas in human geography, this course discusses the ways in which places and identities are socially and culturally produced, the human impact on the landscape, and the diffusion and alteration of languages, religions and other cultural forms. Degree credit exclusions: AS/GEOG 2065 3.00 and AS/GEOG 2300 6.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/GEOG 3410 6.00 and AK/SOSC 3302 6.00

AS/SC/GEOG 3420 3.00 Research Design and Field Studies. This course begins with lectures on field research methodology. The second phase concentrates on defining a field problem, leading to data collection in the field. The final part of the course deals with data analysis, and reviews methodological implications. Two two-hour periods per week (including lectures, seminars and workshops), a three to four day field trip. One term. Prerequisites: Students must be registered as Honours majors in geography and must have successfully completed 54 credits, including AS/SC/GEOG 1400 6.00 or AK/GEOG 2510 6.00, AS/GEOG 1410 6.00 or AK/GEOG 2500 6.00, AS/SC/GEOG 2420 3.00 or a degree credit exclusion approved by the Geography Department. Degree credit exclusion: AS/SC/GEOG 3390B 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 3420 3.00 and SC/GEOG 3420 3.00

AK/GEOG 3430 6.00 Urban Geography. The pervasive impact of urbanization on human activities and their spatial expression will be the main theme of this course. There will be detailed study of the different types of urban places, considering both urban form and function. Also considered will be the relationships between urban, suburban and rural localities. Field studies, especially of urban land use, may be part of the course.

AS/SC/GEOG 3440 3.00 Environmental Remote Sensing. This course represents an introduction to the methods in which remote sensing data are collected, processed and analyzed. An emphasis is placed on environmental applications. The synergy between the technologies of remote sensing and geographic information systems (GIS) is also stressed. Two lecture hours, two laboratory hours. One term. Prerequisite(s): AS/SC/GEOG 2420 3.00, or ES/ENVS 2010 6.00 and one 2000-level environmental studies theme foundation course; or written permission of the course director. Degree credit exclusion: AS/SC/GEOG 4390T 3.00.

Cross-listed to: ES/ENVS 3521 3.00 and AS/GEOG 3440 3.00 and SC/GEOG 3440 3.00

AK/GEOG 3460 6.00 Medical Geography. This course examines world and regional patterns of disease and malnutrition. It considers the spatial association of environment and the way of life of its inhabitants in creating health problems.

AK/GEOG 3470 3.00 Geography of Nutrition. This course examines world and regional patterns of food consumption and their influence on health. It focuses on the concept that malnutrition is due to nutritional excesses as well as deficiencies. The roles of culture and environment as they influence nutrition, in a medical geographic context, are considered.

AK/GEOG 3480 3.00 Geography of Health Care Systems. This course examines the health care organization at provincial, national and international levels. It focuses on the locational interaction between health personnel, patient behaviour patterns and distribution of facilities.

AK/GEOG 3490 6.00 Making Canada: Two Centuries of Landscape and Social Changes. This course investigates transformation of the territory from a condition of Nature- to Human-dominance, including attitudes to environment, clearing land, spread of farming, regimentation of the landscape, and the organization of societal responses to occupying a new land. Emphasis is on the 19th and early 20th centuries.

AS/SC/GEOG 3500 3.00 Plant Geography. An analysis of the geography of higher plants, emphasizing processes that operate at the species population level, the origin and diversity of higher plant life, geographic patterns of diversity and floras, and dynamics of species populations at local and continental scales. Two lecture hours, two laboratory hours. One term. Prerequisite: AS/SC/GEOG 2500 3.00 or SC/BIOL 2050 4.00.

Cross-listed to: SC/BIOL 3500 3.00 and AS/GEOG 3500 3.00 and SC/GEOG 3500 3.00

AK/GEOG 3510 6.00 Conservation and Urbanization. This course clarifies the kinds of dilemmas that arise from growing and spreading urban populations demanding open space, air, water, wilderness. The focus is on how to interpret and assess such demands, and how to plan a true conserver approach to the natural environment.

AK/GEOG 3520 3.00 Quantitative Techniques and Application in Geography. This course is an introduction to fundamental descriptive and inferential statistics, and their use in geography.

AK/GEOG 3540 6.00 Geographical Interpretations of Canada. This course will explore the geographical complex of Canada through an examination of such themes as the physical base, resource base, resource use, population distribution and regional disparities. Field study and practical exercises will usually be part of the course.

AK/GEOG 3550D 3.00 Peopling of Ontario.

AK/GEOG 3550N 3.00 California: Land and Society. Analysis of the social spaces of California. An introduction to new regional geography. Focus will be on the four Californias: Los Angeles, San Francisco bay area, agricultural California, and recreational California. Prerequisite: AK/GEOG 2500 6.00 Introductory Human Geography.

AK/GEOG 3590 6.00 Conservation in Canada. The emergence of conservation concern is the focus of this course. Attitudes toward nature are traced through changing geographical knowledge, our role as steward of our habitat, prophets and prophetic actions, uncontrolled and controlled uses of the environment, from the 18th century to the dawning of the Spaceship Earth concept.

AK/AS/GEOG 3650 6.00 WiredCities: Community, Technology and Changing Urban Places. Examines the impact of technology on urban form, urban function and community. Emphasis is placed on the social, economic and political parameters of urban infrastructure, community formation, and everyday life in the wake of technological change.

Cross-listed to: AK/GEOG 3650 6.00 and AS/GEOG 3650 6.00

AS/GEOG 3730 6.00 Comparative Urban Development. Significant dimensions of urbanization and urban-rural relationships are examined comparatively across major world regions, with emphasis upon Africa, Asia and Latin America. Students may choose a regional focus for research papers, including North America. Migration patterns, socio-economic structure of cities, values and images of rural and urban life, employment and planning to meet the needs of growing cities are the principal topics covered.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 3730 6.00 and AS/SOSC 3730 6.00

AS/GEOG 3740 3.00 Qualitative Research Methods in Human Geography. This course examines qualitative research design and philosophical bases of qualitative approaches to knowledge, as well as practical techniques such as questionnaire surveys, participant observations, interview/focus groups, archival research and content/textual analysis. These techniques are applied in practical settings involving fieldwork.

AS/GEOG 3770 3.00 Housing Policy. The course studies Canadian housing policy using the approaches of economics, political science and public administration. The course examines models of housing markets, the effects of housing policies, the politics and process of policy formation and procedures for policy evaluation. Prerequisites: 54 credits successfully completed, including one of AS/GEOG 1410 6.00 or AK/GEOG 2500 6.00 or AS/SOSC 2710 9.00 or permission of the course instructor.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 3770 3.00 and AS/SOSC 3770 3.00

4000-Level Courses

Prerequisites: Unless otherwise indicated, 4000-level geography courses are open only to students who have successfully completed at least 54 credits, including any specific course prerequisites noted in the following course outlines.

AS/SC/GEOG 4000 6.00 Honours Thesis. An independent piece of research done under the supervision of a faculty adviser. The thesis must be submitted before the end of classes in the winter term; an exact date is established each year. There is an oral examination on the Honours thesis. One lecture hour per week at the beginning of the course. Two terms. Prerequisite: 84 credits passed.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 4000 6.00 and SC/GEOG 4000 6.00

AS/GEOG 4040 6.00 Urban Historical Geography. A course which examines the historical geography of cities, particularly those of 19th-century North America. The major focus of attention is the role of certain economic and cultural factors in the development of spatial arrangements within and among cities. Prerequisite: One of AS/GEOG 1410 6.00, AK/GEOG 2500 6.00, AS/HIST 2510 6.00, AS/HIST 2600 6.00, AS/HIST 3440 6.00, AS/HIST 3621 6.00.

AS/GEOG 4060 3.00 Women in North America: Historical Geographies of Gender and Sexuality. This course explores the changing geographies of women in Canada and the United States over the past three centuries, focusing on the historical and spatial construction of gender. Degree credit exclusion: AS/HIST 4050E 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 4060 3.00 and AS/HIST 4081 3.00

AS/GEOG 4090 3.00 Urban Identities: Historical Perspectives on Race, Ethnicity, Gender and Class in Canadian and American Cities. This course considers the historical and spatial construction of racial, ethnic, gender and class identities in the broader context of urban development in Canada and the United States in the 19th and 20th centuries. Prerequisite: AS/GEOG 3120 6.00 or AS/GEOG 4040 6.00 or AS/GEOG 4170 3.00 or AS/HIST 1000A 6.00 or AS/SOSC 2710 9.00 or AS/SOSC 3760 6.00 or AS/SOSC 3790A 3.00 or AS/SOCI 3830 6.00 or AS/SOCI 4055 6.00 or AS/SOCI 4120 6.00 or AK/AS/GL/WMST 3505 3.00 or written permission of the course director. Degree credit exclusion: AS/HIST 4050F 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 4090 3.00 and AS/HIST 4083 3.00

AK/GEOG 4130 6.00 Planned Communities. This course will study different forms of planned communities such as new towns, planned suburbs, expanded towns and sub-divisions. The relationships of social, ecological and economic factors will be considered. Prerequisites: 78 credits or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the Chair of geography.

Cross-listed to: AK/GEOG 4130 6.00 and AK/URST 4130 6.00

AK/GEOG 4150 3.00 Directed Reading. Students will select one or two specific areas in which to do extensive reading and writing. Prerequisites: 78 credits, and permission of the Chair of geography. Note: Students must be accepted by a faculty supervisor before they can register in this course. The course transaction form for such a course must be submitted with a note from the supervisor stating his or her willingness to perform this task.

AK/GEOG 4150 6.00 Directed Reading. Students will select one or two specific areas in which to do extensive reading and writing. Prerequisites: 78 credits, and permission of the Chair of geography. Note: Students must be accepted by a faculty supervisor before they can register in this course.

The course transaction form for such a course must be submitted with a note from the supervisor stating his or her willingness to perform this task.

AS/GEOG 4170 3.00 Geographic Perspectives on Immigration, Ethnicity and Race in Modern Cities. This course first discusses a number of conceptual issues concerning the residential segregation of ethnic and racial groups. The course then considers several case examples that exemplify the varied experiences of ethnic and racial groups in modern cities. Prerequisites: 84 credits successfully completed, including AS/GEOG 1000 6.00 or AS/GEOG 1410 6.00 or AK/GEOG 2500 6.00 or written permission of the course director. Third-year Honours students with 78 credits completed who are also taking summer courses may enrol.

AS/SC/GEOG 4180 3.00 Laboratory Analysis of Ecological Materials. This course introduces students to a comprehensive range of laboratory techniques for the analysis of plant, soil and water samples. Laboratory sessions and projects provide students with experience in analytical procedures and the operation of major items of laboratory equipment. Four scheduled lecture/laboratory hours, three additional laboratory hours. One term. Prerequisite: Six credits in physical geography at the 3000 or 4000 level or ES/ENVS 2410 3.00 or ES/ENVS 2420 3.00 or SC/EATS 1010 3.00 or SC/BIOL 2050 4.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 4180 3.00 and SC/GEOG 4180 4.00

AK/GEOG 4180 6.00 Advanced Urban Geography. This course will examine some current frontiers of research in urban geography. Settlement distribution models, spatial interaction, urban land-use theory, urban images and decision-making concerning spatial behaviour are some examples of possible subjects of study. Prerequisites: 78 credits or, for students with equivalent preparation, permission of the Chair of geography. Note: Not open to students who have taken AK/URST 4140 6.00.

Cross-listed to: AK/GEOG 4180 6.00 and AK/URST 4180 6.00

AS/SC/GEOG 4200 3.00 Water Quality and Stream Ecosystems. The course focuses on selected aspects of river water quality, including hillslope hydrology and the transport of pollutants, the impacts of human activities on water chemistry, nutrient transformations within stream ecosystems, and the effects of water quality on stream biological communities. Two lecture hours, one laboratory hour. One term. Prerequisite: One of AS/SC/GEOG 1400 6.00, AK/GEOG 2510 6.00, ES/ENVS 2410 3.00, or SC/BIOL 2050 4.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 4200 3.00 and SC/GEOG 4200 3.00

AS/SC/GEOG 4205 3.00 Climatology of High Latitudes. A study of the processes of energy and moisture exchanges in polar regions with emphasis on the Canadian north. Topics include atmospheric and oceanic transport of energy, surface microclimate and the sensitivity of high latitude environments to climate change. Normally offered in alternate years. Three lecture hours. One term. Prerequisites: 54 credits successfully completed, including AS/SC/GEOG 2400 6.00 or written permission of the course director.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 4205 3.00 and SC/GEOG 4205 3.00

AS/SC/GEOG 4210 3.00 Hydrometeorology. A study of the relationship between the atmosphere and the hydrosphere with the emphasis on the process of evaporation. The course includes an in-depth review of evaporation models and the instrumentation necessary for data acquisition. Normally offered in alternate years. Three lecture hours per week, one full-day laboratory session. One term. Prerequisite: AS/SC/GEOG 2400 6.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 4210 3.00 and SC/GEOG 4210 3.00

AS/GEOG 4220 3.00 Geographies of Industry. This course draws on various theories to interpret contemporary trends in industrial production and location, and examines their linkages with social and economic change. Particular emphasis is put on concepts of social regulation. Prerequisite: One of AS/GEOG 2100 6.00, AS/GEOG 3120 6.00, AK/GEOG 3430 6.00, AS/ECON 1010 3.00, AS/ECON 3230 3.00, or written permission of the course director. Integrated with: GS/GEOG 5320 3.00.

AS/GEOG 4240 3.00 The Planning of Urban Public Facilities.

Theoretical and practical problems concerning the supply and distribution of public goods and services in urban areas. Prerequisite: AS/GEOG 1000 6.00 or AS/GEOG 1410 6.00 or AS/SOSC 2710 9.00 or AK/GEOG 2500 6.00, or written permission of the course director.

AS/GEOG 4250 3.00 Imagined Landscapes. This course examines the representation of landscapes in fictional literature, film, visual arts and music. Emphasis is placed on the power, purpose and problems of metaphor, symbolism and representation.

AS/GEOG 4260 3.00 Applied Transportation Geography. This course focuses on urban transportation planning and policy analysis as an area of research. It discusses the theoretical principles governing movement and planning, and analytically examines approaches to policy problems. Prerequisites: 84 credits successfully completed, including one of AS/GEOG 2100 6.00, AK/GEOG 3420 6.00, AS/GEOG 3120 6.00, AK/GEOG 3430 6.00. Integrated with: GS/GEOG 5310 3.00.

AS/SC/GEOG 4290 3.00 Directed Reading. This course may be used for individualized study, in which case the student requires permission from a faculty member who agrees to supervise the program of directed reading and from the Chair of the department. Note: See the Faculty of Arts section of the Undergraduate Programs Calendar for Faculty of Arts regulations on "Independent Reading Courses."

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 4290 3.00 and SC/GEOG 4290 3.00

AS/SC/GEOG 4290 6.00 Directed Reading. This course may be used for individualized study, in which case the student requires permission from a faculty member who agrees to supervise the program of directed reading and from the Chair of the department. Note: See the Faculty of Arts section of the Undergraduate Programs Calendar for Faculty of Arts regulations on "Independent Reading Courses."

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 4290 6.00 and SC/GEOG 4290 6.00

AS/SC/GEOG 4310 3.00 Dynamics of Snow and Ice. This course examines the formation, distribution, structure and degradation of snow, as well as lake, river and sea ice. Two lecture hours and three lab hours every other week, one-day field experiments. One term. Normally offered in alternate years. Prerequisite: AS/SC/GEOG 2400 6.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 4310 3.00 and SC/GEOG 4310 3.00

AS/SC/GEOG 4340 3.00 Geographic Information Systems. Advanced course in geographic information systems (GIS), oriented around raster structures. Computer graphics for mapping introduced and work undertaken on finely divided surfaces. GIS considers both practical and theoretical questions of interpretation. Macintosh computers and raster-based software used for hands-on focus. Two lecture hours, two laboratory hours. One term. Prerequisite: AS/SC/GEOG 3180 3.00 or AK/GEOG 3600 3.00. Equivalent and degree credit exclusion: AK/GEOG 4220 3.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 4340 3.00 and SC/GEOG 4340 3.00

AS/GEOG 4370 3.00 The Geography of Third World Development.

Problems and patterns of rural and urban development in Third World countries are examined from a geographical perspective. Theoretical and practical aspects are treated, based on case studies drawn mainly from Africa and the Pacific and Indian Ocean basins. Prerequisite: One of AS/SC/GEOG 1400 6.00, AK/GEOG 2510 6.00, AS/GEOG 1410 6.00, AK/GEOG 2500 6.00.

AS/GEOG 4380 3.00 Urban Social Policy. A critical examination of the links between urban social problems and state policies. The course studies how policy makers, planners and geographers understand and deal with social problems in the contemporary city and evaluates selected planning policies. Prerequisites: One of AS/GEOG 1000 6.00, AS/GEOG 1410 6.00, AK/GEOG 2500 6.00; at least six additional credits in human geography at the 2000 or 3000 level. Integrated with: GS/GEOG 5370 3.00.

AS/GEOG 4395 3.00 Asia-Pacific Development: Geographical Perspectives. This course examines socio-economic development in the Asian-Pacific region from a Canadian perspective. In particular, the course focuses on geographical flows of migration, trade, investment and aid between Canada and Asia, and corresponding social, political and economic changes in Asian societies. Prerequisites: 54 credits successfully completed or written permission of the course director. Degree credit exclusions: AS/GEOG 3390K 3.00 (Fall/Winter 2001-2002), AS/GEOG 4390K 3.00.

AS/SC/GEOG 4400 3.00 Physical Hydrology and Water Resources. An intermediate course in the physical principles of hydrological and water resource systems. Topics to be discussed include groundwater storage and flow, deterministic hydrological models and physical hydrological aspects of current water resource problems. Normally offered in alternate years. Two lecture hours, two laboratory hours. One term. Prerequisite: AS/SC/GEOG 2400 6.00.

Cross-listed to: AS/GEOG 4400 3.00 and SC/GEOG 4400 3.00

AS/GEOG 4420 3.00 Project Experience in Geography. This course enables Honours students to apply work experience in geography to their degree program. It provides students an opportunity to put their classroom learning into practice in a non-academic environment. The objective is to encourage students to put geographic skills to work in the addressing of real world problems. Prerequisite: Permission of the course director. Students must be registered in an Honours Geography Program and must have successfully completed at least 84 credits, including AS/SC/GEOG 3420 3.00. Degree credit exclusions: AS/SC/GEOG 4000 6.00, AS/SOSC 4710 6.00.

AS/SC/GEOG 4440 3.00 Remote Sensing and Image Processing for Geographical Analysis and Environmental Monitoring. Sophisticated methods and techniques for collecting, processing and analyzing remote sensing data are examined. Special topics include image enhancement techniques (e.g. texture transforms), non-traditional image classification and data integration for incorporation of remote sensing data products into geographic information systems (GIS). One and one-half lecture hours, one and one-half laboratory hours. One term. Prerequisite: AS/GEOG 3440 3.00 or ES/ENVS 3521 3.00 or SC/EATS 4220 3.00 or written permission of the course director. Degree credit exclusion: AS/SC/GEOG 4390T 3.00.

Cross-listed to: ES/ENVS 4521 3.00 and AS/GEOG 4440 3.00 and SC/GEOG 4440 3.00

AK/GEOG 4500 3.00 Research Paper. The research paper, which is normally the last geography course of an Honours candidate, is a piece of work carried out under the supervision of a faculty adviser. The Specialized Honours BA Program in Global Political Studies (GPS) provides students with the skills required to analyze global political forces, as well as giving them a broad and liberal education. The GPS Program provides an excellent background for future public service work abroad, especially when combined with selected courses in the Public Policy and Administration Program. As well, the GPS Program is useful for anyone who hopes to find private sector employment in a job dealing with international issues, or for anyone who hopes to pursue graduate studies in international relations or comparative world politics.

Students may wish to specialize in areas such as development studies, post-communist studies, area studies, peace and security, or international political economy for the purposes of preparing for graduate school or for a particular employment goal. These students should consult the program coordinator to seek advice about appropriate course selection.

For specific program requirements and the list of program courses, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Health and society is a term used to denote a body of scholarship that has emerged over the past 20 years in response to perceived limitations in a strictly biomedical approach to health issues. The health and society concept embraces research conducted in a number of overlapping interdisciplinary fields including: history and philosophy of medicine; medical sociology; behavioural medicine; medical anthropology; social epidemiology; psychosomatic medicine; health psychology; community mental health; international development; family, the life course and gerontology; occupational health and safety; environmental health and women and health.

The program aims to meet the needs of students who wish to go on to work in health-related occupations, to enter graduate programs in health studies, or simply to enrich the experience of those who have general interests in health-related issues.

For specific program requirements and the list of program courses, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

The Department of History offers courses covering thousands of years of history in Africa, Asia, Europe and the Americas. At the 1000 level, students are introduced to the discipline of history through courses that emphasize theory, method and historiography, and that concentrate on fundamental reading, writing, research and analytic skills. At the 2000 level, students are introduced to major chronological and geographic fields of history. More specialized courses are offered at the 3000 level, while 4000-level seminars and colloquia enable small groups of Honours students to focus on specific historical topics.

Courses at the 1000 level have either a lecture/tutorial or seminar format. Courses at the 2000 level normally have two lecture hours and one tutorial hour. Courses at the 3000 level are taught as colloquia, lecture/tutorial or lecture courses. 4000-level courses will be offered as two- or three-hour seminars or colloquia. All courses are open to students studying in other units, unless otherwise indicated. Admission to 4000-level courses is by permission of the instructor or the instructor's representative. The department urges all students whose concentration is in history to contact the appropriate faculty adviser before choosing courses.

All history courses are numbered and grouped according to field. The thousands digit indicates the level at which the course is offered, the hundreds digit indicates the field (general 000, ancient 100, medieval and early modern Europe 200, modern Europe 300, Great Britain 400, Canada 500, United States 600, Africa, Asia, Latin America and Caribbean 700, comparative and interdisciplinary 800), and the tens digit indicates the number of the course within the field.

For specific program requirements, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Subject to program requirements and degree credit equivalent/exclusion and in-Faculty regulations, students may complete courses offered outside of the Faculty of Arts for credit in history.

"Nothing human is alien to me." (Terence)

Traditionally, the humanities include such fields as literature, philosophy, history, art, architecture, music and religion, and it is characteristic of courses offered in the Division of Humanities that they embrace more than one of these fields or disciplines. In short, the Division of Humanities provides a space for interdisciplinary studies in the area of humanities.

Further, it is characteristic of courses in the Division of Humanities that they pay special attention to what is unique, particular and unpredictable in human experience. They are concerned with all aspects of human creativity and thus with cultural expressions of a wide range. Finally, while questions of value are deliberately (and appropriately) set aside in most scientific investigations, questions of value — aesthetic, moral, religious or social — are focal in a humanities course. In other words, it is part of the concern of courses in the humanities to identify the values implicit in a particular society, a piece of literature, a social theory or a work of art.

For specific program requirements, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

The Division of Humanities also houses a number of interdisciplinary programs, including classical studies, classics, creative writing, East Asian studies, European studies, Hellenic studies, Latin American and Caribbean studies, religious studies, and science and society. For details, please consult the Faculty of Arts Programs of Study section of this Calendar.

Selected 1000- and 2000-level courses offered through the Division of Humanities are a part of the Faculty of Arts foundations program. These courses have a nine-credit value and as a part of the Faculty of Arts general education requirement introduce students to interdisciplinary study and emphasize critical thinking, reading and writing skills at the university level. (For purposes of meeting program requirements, all foundations courses will count as six credits towards the major or minor.)

Subject to program requirements and degree credit equivalent/exclusion and in-Faculty regulations, students may complete courses offered outside of the Faculty of Arts for credit in humanities.
